MINISTRY OF IRRIGATION & POWER

New Delhi, the 27th July 1965.

RESOLUTION

No. DW.V.516(4)/64.—The question of providing adequate waterways under the Railway bridges from the flood control point of view and the liability for the expenditure thereon has been engaging the attention of the Government for sometime past. It is generally agreed that if the additional waterways is necessitated due to natural causes the Railways would bear the cost of the widening of the waterways; but if it is necessitated due to some works undertaken by the State Government, then the cost should be borne by the State authorities. Cases, have, however, occurred where there have been difference of opinion between the State Government and the Railways as to the causes necessitating the widening of waterways and the incidence of the cost thereof. In order to settle such cases, it has been decided to constitute a Standing Committee.

2. The Committee shall consist of—

(1) Chairman, Central Water and Power Commission—Chairman.

(2) Chief Engineer of the Zonal Railway concerned—Member.

(3) Chief Engineer of the State Government in charge of Flood Control—Member.

(4) A representative of the Central Water and Power Commission—Member-Secretary.

3. The terms of reference of the Standing Committee shall be as follows:

The Committee will go into cases where there is a dispute between the State Government and Railways concerning the causes that have necessitated the provision of increased waterways (viz., modification of existing bridges or building new bridges) under railway track. The Committee will examine the details and decide in the case of each bridge whether the increased waterways has become necessary due to any one or a combination of the following causes:

(a) natural causes like an established increase in the intensity of rainfall, natural changes in the course of streams, etc.;

(b) change in the pattern of distribution of the run-off from a catchment area causing an increase in peak discharge through the concerned Railway bridge(s) due to flood control drainage and Road and Irrigation Schemes or other works undertaken by the State Government;

(c) original inadequacy of the bridge at the time of construction; and

(d) any other causes.

If the increased provision is necessitated due to a combination of more than one of the above causes, the Committee will also assess the proportion of the total increase in waterway attributable to each of these causes.

4. Whenever a difference of view arises between the State Government and the Railway, the Chief Engineer, Zonal Railway, or the State Chief Engineer concerned will submit a memorandum on the Railway's or State's case to the Chairman, Central Water and Power Commission, with a copy to the State or the Railway authorities concerned. The Chairman, Central Water and Power Commission, would then fix up a meeting to consider the matter. The decision of the Committee will be binding on the Railways as well as the State Government.

The Company appeared in response to the notice issued by the Tribunal and filed its written statement against the workman's petition.

After necessary preliminary proceedings and some adjournments, the case was finally fixed for hearing on the 22nd May1965. On that date, the parties filed a joint petition stating that the dispute had been settled out of court and so, praying for a "no dispute" award. I have heard the representatives of the parties and considered the joint application. The application is signed by the authorised representatives of both the parties, Shri A. L. Roy, General Secretary, Paharpur Steel Rolling Mills & Engineering Workers' Union, for the workman and Shri G. D. Aggarwal, Deputy Works Manager of the Company for the Company.

I have considered the terms of compromise. These appear to be quite lawful and fair. I am further satisfied after hearing the representatives of the parties that there has been a bona fide settlement of the present dispute between the parties and after the settlement, there is no dispute subsisting.

In the result, I accept the joint petition of compromise and dispose of the case by a "no dispute" award. A copy of the joint petition is made a part of the award as an Annexure.

This proceeding arises out of an application under section 33A, Industrial Disputes Act filed by Shri Sayamdeo Ram Jesowara, a workman of the Company O.P., Messrs. Mitra, Das, Ghose & Co., complaining of his alleged vindictive, illegal and wrongful dismissal from service with effect from 8th December 1963, during the pendency of the adjudication proceedings of another dispute between the Company and its workman, referred to this Tribunal by G.O. No. 3537-I.R., dated 6th August 1962, read with Addendum No. 9-I.R., dated 21st May 1963, and Corrigendum No. 2395-I.R., dated 7th June 1963, and in contravention of the relevant provisions of section 33, Industrial Disputes Act.

The Company appeared in response to the notice issued by the Tribunal and took some adjournments for filing its written statement. 21st May 1965 was the final date fixed for filing the Company's written statement. On that date, a petition was filed on behalf of the applicant workman by his duly authorised representative, Shri Keshab Pal, Secretary, Howrah District Engineering & Metal Workers' Union, stating that the applicant did not want to proceed with the application any further and hence he was withdrawing the application and the application might be disposed of accordingly. In view of this petition of the applicant, the case is disposed of as not pressed and withdrawn by the applicant.

AWARD

The above dispute over the issue given in the of reference and reproduced below was referred adjudication to this Tribunal by the Government West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. I.R./IR/9L-6/64, dated the 2nd March 1964.

Issue

Whether the dismissal of Shri Joseph Lak justified ? To what relief, if any, is he entitled ?

The concerned Union filed a very vague and written statement wherein it challenged the dism of the concerned workmen as illegal and vindi and against the spirit of the industrial truce spons by the Government without stating any material nnected with the impugned dismissal. The itten statement concluded with the statement that e concerned workman was an honest man and he is innocent and it was a got-up case made by the nager.

The Company, however, filed, its written statement sing a preliminary objection on the ground that it is not an industrial dispute because the concerned ion did not represent the majority or a substantial rtion of the workmen of this Company and then ting in details the facts leading to and connected th the dismissal. The Company also alleged that e written statement filed on behalf of the concerned orkman was vague and/or embarrassing and/or king in material particulars and did not disclose any se of action against the Company.

he relevant facts leading to and connected with dismissal of the concerned workman as narrated he written statement are briefly as follows: workman, Joseph Lakra, was employed as a her Spout Pump Attendant in Newra Nuddy Estate of this Company. For some time prior is dismissal, the management of the tea estate reason to believe that this workman had been osing of Company's property, especially G. I. pipes, is personal gain. On the morning of 24th April, 1, the Manager of the tea estate got some informa- that some Company's property was concealed he backyard of this workman's house. On the same rnoon, the Manager accompanied by some other kmen, inspected the backyard of this workman's se and found that a length of pipe had been kept ealed there. The workman could not give any sfactory explanation for the existence of the said which was the Company's property in such a tion. Thereafter the workman was served with a ge-sheet. The charge against him was being in ession of one 18" length of 1½" G. I. pipe which ad drawn from the Estate Store in 1961 for use in owera Line Pump, but which he did not use for that ose. The workman submitted his written ex- ation regarding the charge. Thereafter, a domestic iry regarding the charge against the workman was on 29th April 1964 by Shri A. C. Banerjee, Manager of another Estate of this Company. This kman attended the enquiry proceedings and was n every opportunity to defend himself by calling esses on his own behalf and cross-examining the pany's witnesses. The enquiry was adjourned two occasions to enable this workman to call his esses. After the enquiry, the enquiry officer d this workman guilty of theft or dishonesty in nection with the employer's business or property section 13 (c) (ii) of the Standing Orders appli- e to the Estate and recommended his dismissal. reafter, the Manager gave this workman an oppor- ty to make any representation to him (the Manager) ugh any official of any registered Trade Union which he might belong. This opportunity was n in accordance with section 13 (g) of the Standing ers. The workman availed himself of this oppor- y and an official of the Rastriya Cha Mazdoor ress made some representation on behalf of the before the Manager. The Manager having dered all relevant circumstances decided to dismiss workman from his service and accordingly he was ssed with effect from 10th May 1964, by a letter signed by the Manager, who was the only competent authority for such punishment under the Standing Orders. The dismissal was not illegal or vindictive and it was fully justified.

At the time of arguments, the representative of the Company, Shri S. K. Mullick, Solicitor, did not press the preliminary objection against the maintainability of the present reference on the ground of non-existence of any industrial dispute for the reason that the concerned Union did not represent the majority or a substantial portion of the workmen of this Company. Shri K. T. Chacko, the Organising Secretary of the concerned Union, Rastriya Cha Mazdoor Congress testified that about 40 per cent. of the workmen of this Garden were fully subscribing members of thier Union and there were also other workers who were members but not fully subscribing. He also testified that on 28th May, 1963, the dismissal of this workman was an item for consideration at a meeting of the Union held in this Garden and this meeting was attended by about 700 persons most of whom were workmen of the Garden, and it was decided with the consent of all the attending workmen that the Union should take up the matter of dismissal of this workman and accordingly, the Union referred the matter to the local A. L. C., who took it up for conciliation which, however, proved fruitless. There is no reason to disbelieve this testimony of the Organising Secretary and Shri Mullick also fairly submitted that he did not propose to challenge the aforesaid testimony of the Organising Secretary. It is also pertinent to note in this connection that there is not an iota of evidence from the Company's side in support of the contention that this Union does not represent the majority or a substantial portion of the workmen of this Company. There is even no denial by any of the witnesses on the Company's side to the effect that this Union is not competent to represent the workmen of this Garden and to raise any industrial dispute regarding the dismissal of the concerned workman. In view of all the aforesaid facts and circumstances, I reject the preliminary objection raised on behalf of the Company.

I now come to the merits of the case.

The following facts have been proved practically by the ex-parte evidence on the Company's side both oral and documentary. The workman was charge-sheeted on 25th April 1963 (Ext. A). The charge in the charge-sheet was as follows:

> (1) On 24th April 1963, at Nowera Nuddy Tea Estate you were found to be in possession of one 18" length of 1 1/2" G. I. pipe which you had drawn from the Estate Store in 1961 for use in a Nowera Line Pump but you did not use it for that purpose."

The workman submitted his reply to the charge-sheet (Ext. B). Then a domestic enquiry regarding the charge-sheet was held by one Shri A. C. Banerjee, the Manager of another Tea Estate of this Company, on 29th April 1963, in presence of the workman and he signed the recorded enquiry proceedings. Ext. 3 is the recorded enquiry proceedings. After the enquiry, the enquiring officer submitted his report with findings. Ext. D is the report. Thereafter, the Manager gave this workman an opportunity to make any representation to him before he passed final orders in the case and this opportunity was given in accordance with section 13 (g) of the Standing Orders applicable to this Company. Ext. E is the letter to the workman giving him this opportunity. An official of the concerned Union made some representation regarding the case to the Manager and after hearing this representative, the Manager decided to dismiss the workman and recorded an endorsement to that effect in the enquiry report [Ext. D (1)]. Thereafter, the workman was dismissed by the Company's letter, dated 10th May 1963. The Manager of the Tea Estate, O. P. W. 1 Shri G. B. Abel, has testified to the above facts and he is supported by the exhibited documents recorded above. The workman himself did not appear to give evidence before the Tribunal. The only witness examined on behalf of the workman was the Organising Secretary of the concerned Union, Shri K. T. Chacko, whose evidence was mainly confined to proving the representative character of the Union so as to make the dispute sponsored by it an industrial dispute. He did not speak a word in denial of the above facts. These facts were not also challenged at the time of arguments. The learned Advocate appearing for the workman practically accepted the above facts, but contended that the enquiry was absolutely unfair and against the principles of natural justice, because the enquiry proceedings show that the enquiry officer examined the charge-sheeted workman at length regarding his explanation to the charge-sheet before any witness for the Company was examined. According to the learned Advocate, this procedure vitiated the whole enquiry proceedings, because the workman was asked to put forward his explanation before he knew what evidence was there against him. In support of this contention he relied upon the Supreme Court decisions in the cases reported in L. L. J. 1963 (II) at pages 392 and 396. On a perusal of the enquiry proceedings, I find that really the concerned workman was asked to give "a more relevant verbal explanation for the enquiry * * * as the written explanation was not very clear. After this, the workman made a pretty long statement by way of explanation, which was recorded and then the witnesses for the Company were examined. It is clear that the enquiry officer started the enquiry by asking for a detailed explanation from the workman without first taking the Company's evidence regarding the charge and letting the workman know what evidence was there against him. This procedure has been clearly condemned in the two cases referred to above. It has been concurrently laid down in these two cases that one of the essential and basic elements of a fair and just domestic enquiry according to the principles of natural justice is that the charge-sheeted workman should not be subjected to a close examination in support of his explanation before the Company produces its evidence in support of the charge and the workman knows the evidence. The basic principle is that a charge-sheeted workman should not be asked to disclose and embark on his defence before he knows what the evidence is against him so that it may be possible for him to properly and suitably defend himself against the charge. In view of this position, I must reject the enquiry proceedings as not just and fair and in accordance with the principles of natural justice. Necessarily, the findings of the E. O. must also be rejected as not tenable and acceptable. Here, I should state that another objection raised by the learned Advocate for the workman is that there was practically no report by the E. O., because the purported report, Ext. D, does not bear his signature. Really, the report does not bear the signature of the enquiry officer. But, on that ground alone, I cannot reject the report as absolutely non-existent when it has been formally proved by the General Manager to be the report of the enquiry officer. He has identified the report as the one submitted by the E. O. containing his findings. So, I reject this technical objection against the enquiry report. But, in view of my finding that the enquiry proceedings were not fair and just and in accordance with the principles of natural justice, the report itself has no value and so, it cannot be considered against the workman. The result of the above findings is that the dismissal of the workman in so far as it is based upon the purported domestic enquiry and the report of the E. O. cannot be sustained.

But, this will not mean the end of the whole case. It is well settled that where the dismissal of an workman is based upon a charge-sheet and a domestic enquiry but the enquiry proceedings and the report cannot be accepted, the issue of dismissal is at large and open before the Tribunal to which the dispute over the dismissal has been referred for adjudication and the Tribunal should go independently into the merits of the dismissal upon the evidence produced before and decide whether the dismissal was justified. Accordingly, I would now consider this aspect of the case.

I have already referred to the precise charge against this workman. The evidence is that he was a Pump Mistri in this Tea Estate and his duty was to lay and fix up pipe lines in the Tea Estate when necessary and for this purpose, he used to get pipes from the store on requisitions signed by some clerical and medical staff. O. P. W. 1 Shri Abel, the Manager of this Tea Estate, has proved that on getting some information he went to this workman's house on the afternoon of 24th April 1963 and found one 18' length of 1 1/2" G. I. pipe kept in the backyard of his house, and he removed the pipe and on his asking how the workman had the pipe there, the workman stated that he had it there since 1961. The Manager was subjected to a long cross-examination. In the cross-examination the fact of recovery of the pipe from the backyard of this workman's house was nowhere challenged but it was suggested that this workman found this pipe on the street and took it to his house for the purpose of depositing in the store. The Manager denied this suggestion. As already stated above, the workman himself did not appear to give evidence and deny the fact of the charge against him. There is no reason why I should not accept the Manager's evidence and hold thereon that really the pipe in question was found in the backyard of this workman's house and the workman admitted before the Manager that he had it there since 1961. There is no dispute over the fact that the pipe was the Company's property. The Manager has also proved that in spite of this workman having the pipe in his possession since 1961, he got similar pipes in 1962 and 1963 for use on Company's work. Ext. H is a list of pipes drawn by this workman in 1962 and 1963, prepared by the Manager from the requisition forms. Considering the entire evidence and circumstances, I hold that it has been proved that this workman, who was a pump attendant, somehow got hold of the pipe in question which was the Company's operty and meant for Company's work but did not e it for work of the Company and kept it concealed the backyard of his house for about two years and is was detected on 24th April 1963 when the Manager getting some information went to his house and overed the pipe. The workman was not certainly titled to keep in his possession a Company's property such a length of time without using it on some mpany's work and practically no explanation has en offered before me about his unauthorised ssession of this Company 's property for such a len- t of time. It can quite safely and reasonbly be held m the facts proved that such possession of the pipe the workman was not consistent with honesty aling with Company's property and it clearly in- ated and implied dishonesty. It is true of course t he did not dispose of the pipe but continued to p it in his possession. But such unauthorised ssession may be taken to clearly imply a dishonest ension. Under section 13 (ii) of the Standing Orders ct. G), dishonesty in connection with the employer's siness or property is a misconduct for which a work- n may be dismissed. In my view, the facts proved e clearly made out such a misconduct on the part this workman in relation to the pipe which was overed from the backyard of his house on 24th ril 1963. The Company was, therefore, fully entitled dismiss him for such a misconduct. Upon the terials placed before me, I am unable to find that Company acted mala fide in the matter of this kman. There is no evidence to show that the nager had any previous grudge or animus against s workman for any reason. It is of course in evi- ce that the Store Clerk O. P. W. 2 Shri Jagadish ndra Chanda, previously brought a criminal case inst this workman and the case was ultimately com- omised. It was suggested that out of this grudge, is store clerk engineered this case against this work- an. O. P. W. 2 Shri Jagadish Chandra Chanda arly denied that there was any strained relations bet- en him and this workman after the criminal case. m unable to believe that simply because of the vious criminal case started by the store-keeper inst this workman which was ultimately compromised, s workman was falsely charge-sheeted and dismissed. find, therefore, that there were no mala fides on the t of the Company in the matter of the dismissal of s workman. In this view of the merits of the case old that the dismissal of the workman was justified'

In the result, I award that the dismissal of the kman was justified and he is not entitled to any of

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. K. B. Jethi and Co., 65 Benaras Road, Howrah, and their workmen represented by the Howrah Small Factories Workers, Union, C/o Shri Anadi Das, M.L.A., Dasnagar, Howrah. (Case No. VIII-18/65.)

AWARD

The Government of West Bengal, by Order No. 211-I.R./IR/10L-176(B)/64, dated the 16th January 1965, had referred to this Tribunal the industial dispute between Messrs. K. B. Jethi & Co., and their workmen represented by the Howrah Small Factories Workers' Union for adjudication.

Issues

1. Whether the termination of service of Shri Biswanath Bose is justified? To what relief, if any is he entitled?

2. Whether refusal of employment to Sarvasri Pulin Behari Paul, Ratan Chandra Paul, Banamali Paul, Gopal Chandra Patra and Biswanath Das is justified? To what relief, if any are they entitled?

After the service of the usual notice, the employer had filed a written statement. But though time was thrice granted to the workmen, no written statement was put in on behalf of the workmen. In the written statement put in on behalf of the employer it has been alleged that the dispute is an individual dispute and not an industrial dispute in terms of the provisions of the Industrial Disputes Act, that the Howrah Small Factories Workers' Union is not a trade Union of the establishment of the Company and is not the representative body of the workmen of the Company and therefore has no locus standi to represent the workmen, and that the order of reference is not maintainable in law. With regard to Shri Biswanath Bose, it has been alleged on behalf of the Company that Shri Bose was appointed as a temporary basis on 20th May 1946, that Shri Bose has been very irregular in this attendance and on account of his attendance normal working of the establishment had suffered a great deal, and that at times Shri Bose had absented himself without intimation and or sanction of leave. Between the period from June 1963 to May 1964 Shri Bose had absented himself without any intimation or sanction of leave on varying dates for more than two months. The Company, therefore, had served chargesheet, dated the 4th April 1964, on Shri Bose, but no reply to the chargesheet was given. Another chargesheet, dated 17th April 1964, was issued to Shri Bose, but again he did not reply to the same. Thereafter on the 24th April 1964 the Company by another letter which was sent by registered post intimated that Shri Bose was not regular in his attendance, though he was a temporary worker. By the letter, dated 24th April 1964, it was also intimated that the service of Shri Bose would be terminated if he is not regular in attendance and does not do his normal duty. In spite of this notice, dated the 24th April 1964, Shri Bose did not attend his duties since 24th April 1964 and did not also apply for leave and continued to remain absent. The Company therefore presumed that Shri Bose has abandoned his service and by the registered letter, dated the 6th May 1964, which was duly served on Shri Bose had terminated his service. Even after the receipt of this letter, dated the 6th May 1964, Shri Bose did not raise any objection either verbally or in writing. Thereafter the Company had made a new appointment. With regard to the alleged refusal of employment of Sarvasri Pulin Behari Paul, Ratan Chandra Paul, Banamali Paul, Gopal Patra and Biswanath Das, it is stated that excepting Biswanath Das, the other persons had absented from their duties, though the Company hand repeatedly asked them to resume their duties. It is further stated that the Company employs only about nine workmen of which most of the workmen are temporary workers, that at the instigation of certain outsiders the workers had resorted to unjustified strike between 17th February 1964 and 10th March 1964, that at the instance of the Conciliation Officer, the strike was called off and at his instance and for the same of maintenance of industrial peace, the Company paid on 24th March 1964 to each worker at the flat rate of Rs. 12.50 paise for the perid of unjustified strike. Subsequently, the Company had received a letter, dated the 4th April 1964, from the Conciliation Officer enclosing a copy of the charter of demands, dated the 18th February 1964, and the Company sent its comments to the charter of demands by its letter, dated the 20th April 1964. The Company also wrote another letter, dated the 29th April 1964, making the position of the Company quite clear regarding the alleged demands. It is further stated that the four workmen excepting Biswanath Das committed various acts subversive of discipline on 7th May 1964 and 8th May 1964 and had assaulted the other workers as a result of which Shri Biswanath Das, Hemanta Das and Gangadhar Bose had to lodge diary at the police-station. The Company also by its letter, dated the 9th May 1964, had intimated to the Labour Officer, Howrah, about the illegal activities of those four persons. On 7th May 1964 Banamali Paul and Gopal Patra had assembled at the gate of the establishment and when Biswanath Das and Gangadhar Bose came on 7th May 1964, they were threatened with assault and another worker Hemanta Kumar Das was assaulted by those persons when he was away from his duty. Thereafter on 7th May 1964 the Company had written a letter to those four persons asking them to resume their duties. It had also written another letter, dated 13th May 1964, for the same purpose, and a further letter was written to the Labour Officer on 19th May 1964 requesting the Labour Officer to direct those fo workers to resume their duties. In spite of this requ the four workers did not resume their duties and in t circumstances the Company treated those four work as having abandoned their respective servic The Company therefore had intimated by register post those four workers by the letter, dated 22th M 1964, that the Company accepted the position that tho four workmen had abandoned their service. T Company had employed new workers in their pla With regard to Biswanath Das, it is said that he still working under the Company and there is dispute.

As I have mentioned earlier the Union on behalf the workmen had not put in any written statemen though time had been granted. It would appear far Gopal Patra and Biswanath Das are concerned th they had filed petition on 31st March 1964 stati that they had no dispute with the Company. O 1st June 1965, Shri Sailendra Nath Bose who is contractor under K. B. Jethi & Co. made an endors ment on the petition stating that Gopal Patra is workin under him. So far as Biswanath Das is concerne he had himself made an endorsement in the petitio on 1st June 1965 that he is still working under th Company. So far as Biswanath Bose, Banamali Pau Pulin Behari Paul and Ratan Chandra Paul are con cerned, they had also filed petitions on 1st June 196 alleging that they had no dispute with the Company It would appear that Biswanath Bose had been pai Rs. 150 in full and final settlement of all claims agains the Company, that Banamali Paul had been paid Rs. 10 in full and final settlement of all claims against th Company, that Pulin Behari Paul had been pai Rs. 100 in full and final settlement of all claims agains the Company and that Ratan Chandra Paul had als been paid Rs. 100 in full and final settlement of al claims against the Company. It appears therefor that there is no dispute between the concerned work men and the Company. The terms of the settlemen appear to me to be reasonable, proer and bonafi and should be given effect to. I therefore pass "no dispute" award making the petitions of th concerned workmen as annexures to this award. Th is my award.

BEFORE THE THIRD INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present :

Shri J. N. MANDAL, Judge.

By Order No. 7812-I.R./IR/10L-263/61, dated the 15th December, 1961, the Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Orient General Industries Ltd., 6 Ghore Bibi Lane, Calcutta-11, and their workmen represented by Orient Fan Mazdoor Union, 139 Narikeldanga Main Road, Calcutta-11, regarding the matter specified in the schedule to the Third Industrial Tribnal, constituted under section 7A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by Notification No. 808-I.R./IR/3A-2/57, dated the 11th March 1957, for adjudication.

Issue

Bonus for the year 1960-61.

The Government of West Bengal made this reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, for adjudication of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Orient General Industries Ltd., 6 Ghore Bibi Lane, Calcutta-11 (hereinafter be referred to as the Company), and their workmen represented by Orient Fan Mazdoor Union, 139 Narikeldanga Main Road, Calcutta-11 (hereinafter be referred to as the Union).

As usual, immediately after receipt of the reference notices were issued to both the parties calling upon them to appear and file written statements of their cases which they complied. Subsequently, the Union took several adjournments on the ground of detention of the learned Advocate who was entrusted with the case. Ultimately however, the dispute has been amicably settled on the terms incorporated in a Memorandum of Settlement signed by the learned representatives of the parties on 31st of May 1965. On that very day, both parties have also filed a joint petition before this Tribunal, reporting the settlement and enclosing the Memorandum of Settlement. I have persued the terms of settlement which appear to be fair and reasonable. So the terms of settlement are accepted and an award is made on compromise in terms of the Memorandum of Settlement which, along with the joint petition of the date,do form part of the compromise award as annexures thereto.

AWARD

By Order No. 5038-I.R./IR/11L-349/63, dated the 4th December 1963, the Government of West Bengal, the Labour Department, referred under section 10 the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, the industrial dispute between Messrs. B. S. & Co., Nagrakata, P. Nagrakata, district Jalpaiguri, and their workmen employed in their Plywood Mill at Nagrakata, represented by (1) Shri Rathindra Kr. Issues

Whether transfer of Shri Pulish Singh is justified? what relief if any, is he entitled?

Whether the management was justified in stopping payment to Shri Pulish Singh from 6th April 1963 ? what relief, if any, is Shri Pulish Singh entitled to?

This is a reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act by the Government of West Bengal for adjudication of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs B. S. & Co., Nagrakata, district Jalpaiguri, (hereinafter be referred to as the company), and their workmen employed in their Plywood Mill at Nagrakata, represented by (1) Shri Rathindra Kr. Dey, (2) Shri. Naren Bhowmick, (3) Shri Mangra Bhagol and (4) Shri Ranjit Ghose, C/o the Rastriya Cha Mazdoor Congress, Jalpaiguri (hereinafter be referred to as the representatives of the workmen).

Both parties appeared in pursuance of notices issued by this Tribunal and filed their written statements. Subsequently the workman Pulish Singh sent a petition by post to this tribunal which was received on 5th April 1965, reporting that he has already amicably settled the dispute with the employer and he has since tendered resignation which has been accepted by the employer. He has prayed in that petition for a "no dispute" award. In spite of this petition the representatives of the workmen were given an opportunity to report the bona fides or otherwise of the reported settlement. But the representatives failed to appear and did not take any step whatsoever. On the contrary, the learned Advocate appearing for the Company has filed a petition to state that the dispute has already been settled with the workman out of Court and in terms of the settlement the workman has already received payment of Rs. 300 from the Company by granting a stamped receipt. I have perused the stamped receipt and also a copy of the petition by which he has prayed for a "no dispute" award in consideration of his amicable settlement with the employer. Therefore, I am convinced that the dispute under reference is no longer in existence and as such I make a "no dispute" award.

This is my award.

Issue

Whether the termination of employment of Shri Kashinath Bose is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

The parties appeared before the Tribunal in response to notices issued to them and filed their respective written statements in due course.

After necessary preliminary proceedings and some adjournments, the case was finally fixed for hearing on 29th May 1965. On that date, the parties filed a joint petition stating that the dispute under reference had been amicably settled and the dispute had thereby ceased to exist and accordingly praying for a "no dispute" award.

I have considered the joint petition. It is signed by the concerned workman himself and the President of the concerned Union and also a Partner of the employer Company. I am satisfied that the dispute has been amicably settled out of court and so the joint petition should be accepted and acted upon.

In the result, I make a "no dispute" award in the case in terms of the joint petition of the parties, a copy whereof is made a part of the award as an Annexure "A".

ANNEXURE A

Agreement between The Brahmachari Research Institute (Private) Ltd. (hereinafter to be called as the Company) and the workmen represented by The Brahmachari Research Institute Karmachari Samity (hereinafter to be called as the Union.)

From about the middle of 1962, the Union had been approaching the Management for the revision of grade and scale and D A. The present grade and scales were fixed up in 1949 and were confirmed by the Industrial Tribunal in 1954 in connection with another dispute. The D.A. was also revised in 1960 through an Award of Tribunal. As no settlement could be arrived at, the matter was referred to the Labour Directorate in 1963 and the Company informed the Directorate that it was not possible for them to change the D.A. and/or grade and scale.

In September 1963, the Company felt that they were not getting the maximum output from certain departments and the units of production for different departments were too low and could be completed within two to three hours. The Company had been so long paying extra wages for extra units of production in different departments. It was noted that the workers in certain departments were completing two units of work or more within the fixed working hours and were being paid one day's wages for the second units as overtime or extra wages. The Company informed the workers verbally that worker is supposed to give maximum production during the fixed working hours and any extra wages paid should be on the actual extra time worked. Certain departments accepted this principle but a few others did not. The Union, however, does not agree to this contention but maintains that the extra earnings in question were due to their extra efforts.

In course of a discussion with the Secretary of the Union over this matter, the Management pointed out that it is willing to increase pay and D A. of the workers to a reasonable extent if the working hours are increased from 30½ hours to 42½ hours per week. After prolonged discussion both the parties now agree to the following terms :

1. That the existing working hours will be increased from 30½ hours in a week to 42½ hours in a week and will be distributed as under for the present :

Thereafter the increase of 20 per cent. will be added to their wage but in no case the wages of any workmen will be fixed under this clause which would exceed the amount which he would have received on point to point adjustment in the present scale according to his years of service. If however, any workmen's wages thus fixed is found below the exact amount of the stage in which he is placed in new grade and scale, his wages will be pulled up to fit in the same. After fixation of basic wage in this manner, a workman whose service is more than 10 years will get one additional increment as per new grade and scale. In case a workman completes 35 years of service before reaching the maximum and if he is given extension he will enjoy the benefit of new grade and scale till he is retired.

7. That the existing D.A. will be revised as under—

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial disputes existing between Messrs. India Jute Co. Ltd. (Cotton Section), Serampore, Hooghly, and their workmen represented by India Jute Cotton Workers' Union, 18 Dharmatala Lane, Serampore, Hooghly. (Case No.203 of 1964)

Present :

Shri K. P. MUKHERJEE, Judge, Fifth Industrial Tribunal.

Present for the Company : Shri J. K. Ghosh, Advocate of Messrs. Orr. Dignam & Co., Solicitors.

Present for the Union : Shri Patit Paban Pathak, an officer of the Union.

The above industrial dispute was referred to the Fifth Industrial Tribunal under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by Government order No. 3194-I.R./IR/8L-5(D)/64, dated the 25th July 1964, for adjudication upon the following issue :

Issue

Is the refusal of employment to the following workmen from 1st July 1963 justified. What relief, if any, are they entitled to ?

(i) Saraswati, (ii) Sita, (iii) Gangama, (iv) Matialoo, (v) Surekha, (vi) Sabitri, (vii) Tarini Prodhan, (viii) Jokhan Saha, (ix) Siuratana, (x) Nemai Gopal, (xi) Padma, (xii) Hari, (xiii) Rani Roy, (xiv) Subasini and (xv) Bate Ram.

After receipt of the reference from Government, usual notices were issued to the parties and they entered appearance and filed their respective written statements. The case of the Union may shortly be stated as follows :

Messrs. India Jute Company Limited, hereinafter referred to as the Company, is one of the biggest Jute Mills in West Bengal, and it also runs a unit of Cotton Textile Industry known as India Jute Company (Cotton Section), in the same premises and under the same management. There are about 1,250 workmen employed in the Cotton Section, and the workmen mentioned in the schedule to the order of reference worked for more than two years in the Reeling Department of the Cotton Section. They were engaged in work of a permanent nature and, in terms of the standing orders framed under the Cotton Textile Omnibus Award, they are all permanent employees of the Company. The Company, however, without any notice, or assigning any reason refused work to these workmen and some others on and from 1st July 1963. This arbitrary lay off by way of refusal of employment to these emloyees amounted to an unfair labour practice on the part of the Company. The matter was taken up by the Union and conciliation meetings were called, but the Company failed to attend the conciliation meetings, and all attempts to settle the disputes by conciliation fail It is alleged that there was no reason whatsoever refusing employment to the workers mentioned in t schedule to the order of reference, and this illegal a unfair act on the part of the Company was actuated a desire to victimise them. The Union has prayed for award directing the Company to take back all the workmen to work and also to pay them f compensation for the period of their forc unemployment.

The case of the Company as set forth in the writte statement shortly put is as follows :

The Company maintains a Reeling Departme which is a purely temporary department in the Cott Section. The work of the Reeling Section fluctuat considerably. On account of this fluctuation in t volume of work in this department, this departmen manned by temporary workers who are given emplo ment by rotation by badlies. The fifteen work concerned in this case are all temporary workmen as appear from the relevant registers. They are employ intermittently in the Reeling Department since 19 as and when their services were required. They w never employed continuously and none of them h completed one year's service continuously under t Company. Some of the workmen were given wo after 1st July 1963, and some of them are still work as temporary workmen. It is pleaded that none of t workmen mentioned in the issue to the reference entitled to any relief claimed by him, and their cla should be rejected.

Decision

Out of the 15 workmen involved in this case, t Union did not press the claim of (1) Tarini Prodhan a (2) Hari as Tarini Prodhan is now in the employment the Company, and Hari is dead. The case of the Uni is that the workmen mentioned in the issue under refe ence worked for more than two years in the Reelin Department of the Cotton Section, but the Compan without assigning any reason refused to give them wo on and from 1st July 1963. The Union has examine 2 workmen, P.W. 1 Jokhan Show and P.W. 2 Rani Roy The evidence of P.W. 1 is that he was appointed 16th February 1962 and this is also corroborated by t employment history card, Ext. C. P. W. 2 Rani Ro has also stated that she worked in the Reeling Depart ment from 1962 and her service card shows that s was appointed on 1st March 1962. None of these tw workmen, on their own evidence, completed two year service when they were refused employment on 1s July 1963. None of the other workmen has been exa mined by the Union to prove that he completed mor than two years' service at the time of the alleged refusa of employment to him on 1st July 1963. There canno be any doubt that refusal to give work to these workme on and from 1st July 1963, as alleged by the Union must be held unjustified only if it is proved that thes workmen are permanent workmen of the Company. I these workmen are on the other hand not permanent then refusal by the Company to give them work on an from 1st July 1963 cannot be held unjustified paragraph 2 of the written statement of the Union it stated that these workmen were entrusted with wo of a permanent nature, and in terms of the standi ler framed under the Cotton Textile Omnibus Award, y are all permanent employees of the Company. is has, however, been denied by the Company in its tten statement. The Union wants to say that these kmen were employed in work of a permanent nature, they are all permanent employees under the Standing ers of the Company. It is therefore to be seen whether se workmen were employed in work of a per- nent nature, and whether they are permanent em- yees of the Company in terms of the Standing ers applicable to them. O.P.W. 1, Prafulla Kumar erji, the Chief Labour Officer of the Company, stated that the Reeling Department is a temporary artment and is liable to be abolished as soon as the becomes a composite one. This fact is also stated he written statement of the Company, and in view of evidence of O.P.W. 1, and in the absence of any lence on the side of the Union to the contrary, it be held that the Reeling Department is a temporary rtment. The next question to be considered and h is material in this case is whether these workmen permanent workmen of the Company. P. W. 1 an Show has admitted in his cross-examination there was no talk about the nature of his employ- t when he was employed in the Company. P.W. 2 i Roy has also not said that she was a permanent ker in the Company. The evidence of Jokhan Show, .1. is that during the period of his service he worked st continuously except for a day or two in some ths when no work was given to him. He has ver admitted that he did not receive any wages when he was absent on leave. P.W. 2 Rani Roy has admitted that she worked almost continuously pt for one or two days in a month when she was no work. She denied the suggestion that in som ths she worked for only seven or eight days during eriod of service. These two workers have admitted some times no work was given to them, and this indicates that they fare employed as temporary men The Company has produced the service cards ese workmen which have been marked Ext. C s. There cannot be any doubt about the genuine- of these documents, and it appears from these ments that P.Ws. 1 and 2 as also other workers in case were temporary workers, and they were oyed intermittently. The service records of these men show that they are temporary workmen not permanent workmen of the Company, ey allege. The Company has produced the dance registers for June 1963 (Exts. F and F-1) in these registers these workmen have been as temporay workers. The Company has produced the register of temporary and badli rs for 1964 (Ext. D), and this register shows that of the workmen involved in this case were given after July 1963, and also the number of days worked. P.W. 1 Jokhan Show has admitted he was employed for 2 months in October/Novem- 963 and this fact also goes to indicate that he was porary workman and was given work intermit- . The Union has mainly relied on the certified ing Orders of the Company to prove that these men are permanent workmen. A permanent man as defined in Appendix-8 to the Cotton e Award, published in the Calcutta Gazette, ordinary, on June 10, 1958, is a workman who en engaged on a permanent basis and includes e. According to the Standing Orders applicable in esent case, a workman can be treated as a perma- nent workman only if he has been engaged on a permanent basis. Thus, what is material to determine the status of a workman in this case is the nature of his appointment. There is much dispute about the number of days these workmen worked in a calendar year. But this fact is not material as a workman who is employed continuously for 240 days in a calendar year gets some benefits in the shape of Provident Fund, retrenchment compensation, leave, etc., but he does not automatically become a permanent workman. In the instant case the service records of these workmen show that they were employed intermittently, and there is no evidence to show that their appointments were made on a permanent basis. It is therefore difficult to accept the contention of the Union that these workmen are permanent workmen under the Standing Orders of the Company. I accordingly hold on a consideration of the materials on record that these workmen were not permanent workmen of the Company, but were temporary workmen who were given work intermittently. As these workmen have been proved to be temporary workmen, refusal to employ them on 1st July 1963 and subsequently, does not appear to be unjustified, and it cannot be said that the Company was actuated by any motive to victimise them. In the result, the workmen involved in this case are not entitled to any of the relieves prayed for.

This is my award.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Jessop & Co. Ltd., Central Labour Bureau, Dum Dum, Calcutta-28, and their workmen represented by Jessop Mazdoor Union, 8 Rishi Bankim Chandra Road, Dum Dum, Calcutta-28. (Case No. 162/1964.)

Shri K. P. MUKHERJEE, Judge, Fifth Industrial Tribunal.

Present for the Company : Shri J. N. Chatterjee, Deputy Labour Adviser, Indian Engineering Association.

Present for the Union : Shri Ram Sen, Secretary of the Federation of Metal Engineering Workers' Union.

This industrial dispute between Messrs. Jessop & Co. Ltd., and their workmen was referred to this Tribunal under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by Government Order No. 2168-I.R./IR/10L-18(A)/63, dated the 12th June 1964, for adjudication upon the following issue :

Issue

Whether the fixation of basic pay of Shri Ramesh Chandra Banerji after his promotion to the post of an Assistant Supervisor is justified ? To what relief, if any, is he entitled ?

After service of notices on the parties concerned on receipt of the order of reference, both parties entered appearance and filed their respective written statements. The case of the Union, shortly sated, is that Messrs. Jessop & Co. Ltd., hereinafter referred to as the Company, is a large and prosperous engineering concern, and it employs about 12,000 workmen in its factory. Shri Ramesh Chandra Banerji worked as a welder in grade III for about 21 years, and his record of service was also satisfactory. His basic pay as a welder in grade III was Rs. 157 per month in April 1961, and the maximum grade he could reach was Rs. 202 per month. The Company, in consideration of his record of service, considered him fit for promotion, and he was promoted as Assistant Supervisor, and his basic pay was fixed at Rs. 125 which was less than his existing wages. The arbitrary fixation of his basic pay has resulted in loss of his income after promotion. As per usual practice prevailing in the Company, Ramesh Chandra Banerji should have been promoted as Assistant Foreman in grade II and his pay should have been fixed accordingly. A dispute was raised by the Union, and conciliation meetings were called, but to no effect and hence the present reference. The Union has prayed for fixation of a higher wages for the workman and other facilities for him with retrospective effect.

The Company has filed a written statement in re to the written statement of the Union. The c of the Company as set forth in its written statem may shortly be stated as follows :

Shri Ramesh Chandra Banerji was working as hourly rated workman on a basic rate of 145 p per hour. It is denied that his basic pay in 1961 w Rs. 157 per month. Pursuant to a scheme formulat by the Company, Ramesh Chandra was promoted an Assistant Supervisor in consideration of his leng of service and average workmanship. Shri Ban was drawing a total wage of Rs. 192 per month at time of promotion, and on promotion his emolume were fixed at Rs. 214 which was more that what he drawing before his promotion. His emoluments w not adversely affected in any way on account of promotion when his basic pay was fixed at Rs per month. Shri Banerji is getting Rs. 185 per mo as basic salary plus Rs. 110 as D.A. per month wh he could never expect to get even at the time of retirement as a welder. It is alleged that Shri Ban did not deserve promotion to grade II as Assist Foreman, and it cannot be said that his basic pay the workman fixed on promotion is arbitrary in view the fact that there was increase of his total emolum after his promotion as Assistant Supervisor.

Both parties adduced evidence both oral and do mentary, in support of their respective claims.

Decision

The only questioned involved in this case is whet the fixation of basic wages of Shri Ramesh Chan Banerji after his promotion to the post of an Assist Supervisor is justified. Ramesh Banerji is an old ployee of the Company having worked for more th 20 years. He was an hourly-rated workman and w working as a welder in April 1961 on a basic rate of pies per hour. He was promoted as an Assistant Sup visor in May 1961 and his basic pay was fixed at Rs per month besides a dearness allowance of Rs. 89 month. It has been contended on behalf of the Un that the monthly basic wages of Ramesh Chand Banerji while he was working as a welder in grade was Rs. 157 per month besides Rs. 65 as dearness allo ance, and fixation of Rs. 125 as basic wages on his pro tion as an Assistant Supervisor is, on the face of it, i proper and unjustified. It is further contended that t promotion of the workman resulted in financial los to him, and considered from this point of view it w really a demotion for him. As against this contenti raised on behalf of the Union, it is urged on behalf the Company that the basic wages of the workman w not Rs. 157 per month before his promotion per mont as incorrectly alleged, and the fixation of his ba pay at Rs. 125 per month on promotion to t post of an Assistant Supervisor cannot be said to arbitrary and unfair inasmuch as there was an increa in his total emolument after his promotion. The dispu between the parties is, in the first place, with rega to the basic wages of the workman before his promotio As I have already said, according to the Union, basic wages of Ramesh Banerji was Rs. 157 per mon

; Rs. 65 as dearness allowance which is, however, del, by the Company. It is admitted on both sides that workman was an hourly-rated workman on a basic of 145 pies per hour, and calculated at this rate his thly wages would come up to Rs. 157. According he Union this amount should be taken as his basic es, and fixation of his basic wages at Rs. 125 month on his promotion is ex facie unjustified.
s admitted by the workman that the wages of hourly-d workers and also D.A. depend on the actual number ays they work. He has further admitted that could earn Rs. 157 as basic wages per month working 240 hours in a month. It, there, necessarily follows that his monthly earnings asic wages and dearness allowance would come down case he worked less than 240 hours in a month.
the basic wages of the wokman was variable, accord-to working hours, it cannot be said that his basic es was Rs. 157 per month. It can at best be said t he could earn Rs. 157 per month as basic wages he worked for 240 hours in a month. O.P.W.1, is the Deputy Personnel Officer of the Company, stated that the average basic wages earned by nesh Chandra Banerji during the period from 1st 1960 to 30th April 1961 was Rs. 136·48p. per nth, besides Rs. 56·8p. as dearness allowance month. His evidence stands unchallenged and it lear from his evidence that the workman did never Rs. 157 as basic wages per month during the year mediately preceding his promotion. It has been tended on behalf of the Union that the actual e wages earned by the workman before his promoshould not be taken into consideration in deciding question of fixation of his basic wages after promo-I do not accept this contention as sound. Even ming that Rs. 157 was the basic wages of the work-per month before his promotion besides Rs. 65
D.A., his total emoluments after his promotion short by Rs. 8 per month as there was a substantial ease in his dearness allowance after his promotion.
as been contended that as the issue under reference fers only to fixation of basic wages, the total emolu-nts of the workman after promotion should not be en into consideration. This contention does not ear to be well founded. The question whether a kman has been benefited by his promotion or not o be considered in terms of his total emoluments ore and after his promotion. The fact that the basic es of the workman in the instant case was fixed Rs. 125 per month, taken by itself, does not appear be justified, in view of the admitted fact that he ed Rs. 136 and odd per month as basic wages. If actual wages and dearness allowance earned by Shri erji during one year immediately preceding his motion is taken into consideration, then there was loss of his total emoluments after his promotion to post of Assistant Supervisor. If, on the other hand, total emoluments before his promotion is taken to be 157 as wages and Rs. 65 as dearness allowance, then total emoluments after his promotion which was fixed Rs 214 fell short by Rs. 8 per month from of total oluments before his promotion. The Company, vever, granted the workman a special increment of 15 at the time of the annual increment in the post. He was given an increment of Rs. 30 ead of Rs. 15 which was the annual increment for new post to which he was appointed, at the time annual increment fell due. This special increment ply compensated his anticipated loss. The workman concerned accepted the promotion to the new pos, though he made complaints about the basic wage fixed for the post. There is a scale of pay for the post to which he was promoted and this scale of pay could not be changed to suit a particular workman.
The Company obviously wanted to give the workman some pecuniary benefit and that is the reason why he was given a special increment of Rs. 15. It cannot therefore be said that the Company acted mala fide in any way or was unfair to the workman. By his promotion from an hourly-rated workman to a monthly-rated workman he undoubtedly became entitled so some benefits attached to the new post. He is now drawing Rs. 185 as basic wages and Rs. 110 as D.A. per month, and he could never earn this amount as a welder. Moreover, he stands a chance of being promoted as a Supervisor.
Thus in view of the fact that by his promotion the workman became entitled to some benefits which were not available to him as an hourly-rated workman, and also the fact that there was an increase of his total emo-lument by reason of a special increment given to him, it cannot held that the fixation of his basic wages at Rs. 125 per month is arbitrary or unjustified. I accordingly hold that the fixation of basic wages of the workman as made by the Company is justified, and he is entitled to no relief.

This is my award.

AWARD

The Government of West Bengal by order No. 1706-I.R.-IR-IIL-144/64 dated the 2nd May 1964, had referred the following industrial dispute between Messrs. Reckitt and Colman of India Ltd., 41 Chowringhee Road, Calcutta-16, and their workmen represented by Reckitt and Colman Atlantis (East) Karmachary Sangha, 32B Judges' Court Road, Calcutta-27, to this Tribunal for adjudication.

Issue

Is the dismissal of Shri Kalo Roy justified ? To what relief, if any, is he entitled ?

After the service of the usual notice, the Union, viz, Karmachary Sangha, had filed written statement and the employer had also filed the written statement. In the written statement filed on behalf of the workmen, it has been alleged that the Company had been carrying on business for the last 25 years, and had been manufacturing Robinson Barley, Robin Blue, Boot Polishes, etc., in its different units and factory and at the Chetla factory, and engages about 100 workmen. Though the Company is a reputed firm, it indulges in unfair labour practice and accordingly about a year ago, some workmen had formed a separate Union whose registration No. is 5454. The Company, however, did not like the formation of the new Union and had been recognising the other Union which was existing from before. Kalo Roy is a member of the new Union, and the Company had picked him up for the purpose of victimisation and also for the purpose of frustrating the workmen, so that they may not proceed with their demands. It is next alleged that on 4th April 1963 at about 9-15 p.m., Kalo Roy was going back home from the market and was intercepted by some workers belonging to the rival Union, and was severely beaten near the factory premises. He was rescued by local people and then he had reported the matter to the police-station. On the morning of 5th April 1963, Kalo Roy attended the factory and reported the matter of the previous night to the Personnel Manager Shri P. N. Chatterjee. At about 12 noon of that day the Company had issued a chargesheet to Shri Kalo Roy and had simultaneously suspended him on the alleged charge of assault and striking a fellow worker. Kalo Roy had given his reply on 7th April 1963 denying the allegations made in the chargesheet, dated 5th April 1963. By the letter, dated 8th April 1963, the Company asked Kalo Roy to attend the enquiry to be held on 10th April 1963. In that enquiry Kalo Roy was not allowed to be defended by the Union Vice-President and other witnesses and the Company however proceeded with the so called enquiry with picked men with a view to victimise Kalo Roy. The Company refused to give the copy of the enquiry report and was also unable to produce the enquiry report before the Conciliation Officer at a later date. The Company had dismissed Kalo Roy by its letter, dated 23rd April 1963. Thereafter, the Union wrote the letter, dated 29th April 1963, drawing the attention of the Hon'ble Minister of Labour and had also lodged protest against the action of the Company by its letter, dated 29th April 1963, which was addressed to the Assistant Mill Manager. As the conciliation proceedings failed due to the adamant and vindictive attitude of the Company the matter has been referred for adjudication to this Tribunal. It is prayed that Kalo Roy may be reinstated in service with all back wages for the period of forced unemployment.

The Company in its written statement had stated that the Company is all along been encouraging joint negotiation and collective bargaining through legal and constitutional means and had never indulged in unfair labour practice to frustrate the legitimate grievances of the workmen. The Company denies that it had tried to penalise the workmen in order to put a check on the normal activities of the workmen and alleges that the Company is not aware of the aims and objects or reasons for the formation of the new Union called the Karmachary Sangha. With regard to the alleged incident of 4th April 1963, the Company alleges that there was an altercation between 9-15 to 9-30 p.m. between Kalo Roy and Krishna Das (Kisto) and Kalo Roy had attacked Kisto on the pavement in front of the eastern gate of the mill causing bleed injury on his person. There was a preliminary enqui and, when it was found that there was a prima fa case for assault and riotous behaviour against K Roy, a chargesheet was issued to him and he was s pended pending enquiry. The Company further sta that there was a very fair and proper enquiry on 1 April 1963, that Kalo Roy was asked to appear the enquiry through a written notice, that Kalo R was given full opportunity to defend himself against charges at the time of the enquiry, and that the ent enquiry was conducted in his presence in strict com ance of the principles of natural justice. As there been a fair and proper enquiry and as the char had been brought home against Kalo Roy, Kalo R is not entitled to get any relief.

Decision

Before I proceed to discuss the evidence I shall re to the rulings to which my attention has been dra by the learned Advocate appearing for the workmen a by the learned representative appearing for the Co pany. The principle of law is well settled and it not necessary to refer in details to all the rulings this point. In the rulings reported in A.I.R. 19 S.C.-130-1958 (I) L.L.J., 260 (Indian Iron and St Co. vs. their workmen), A.I.R., 1963 S.C. 15 1963(II) L.L.J., 367 (Sur Enamel and Stamping Wo Ltd. vs. the workmen), 1963 (II) L.L.J., 452 (Khand Co. vs. its workmen), and A. I. R., 1964 S.C., 7 (Kesoram Cotton Mills Ltd. vs. Gangadhar), it has be held that in case of dismissal for misconduct, the t bunal does not act as a Court of appeal and will n substitute its own judgment for that of manageme and that in case of dismissal after enquiry by the dome tic tribunal, the industrial tribunal can interfere w such action of the management only on the followi grounds :

(a) where there has been want of good faith,

(b) where there is victimisation or unfair labo practice,

(c) where the management is guilty of basic err or violation of the principles of natural justic

(d) when on the materials, the findings are co pletely baseless and perverse.

Regarding the question of victimisation it has be held that the case of victimisation only arises wh the workman is innocent but is punished for dis ev the employer or where the workman is guilty of offence but the sentence is out of proportion and h been imposed only by reason of the fact that the e ployer was displeased [1960 (II) L.L.J., 175-Nation Tobacco Co. of India vs. Fourth Industrial Tribuna The finding is regarded to be perverse where it is finding which is not supported by any evidence or entirely opposed to the whole evidence adduced [19 (II) L.L.J., 772-Hamdard Dawakhana Wakf his workmen]. In the case reported in 1963 (I L.L.J., 367 it has also been held by their Lordsh of the Supreme Court that an enquiry cannot be sa to have been properly held unless-

(i) an employee proceeded against has been clear informed of the charges,

(ii) the witnesses are examined ordinarily in the presence of the employee in respect of the charges,

(iii) he is given a fair opportunity to examine witnesses including himself in his defence, if he so wishes on any relevant matter, and

(iv) the enquiring officer records his findings with reasons in his report.

It is also held that if there is no proper enquiry, the der of dismissal can be set aside and the tribunal can der reinstatement. In the case reported in 1963 (II) L.J. 371, it has also been held by their Lordships the Supreme Court that unless there are compelling asons to do so the normal procedure should be followed d all evidence should be recorded in the presence the workman. Their Lordships had referred to e previously decided case reported in 1963 (II) L.L.J., 2 In that case, it was observed that the statement witness in the presence of the workman charged th misconduct is likely to be cautious that in indus- al enquiries the question of bona fide and mala fide often at issue and this is the reason why domestic quiries must be held with scrupulous regard to the quirement of natural justice, that the enquiring officer so must record reasons for the conclusions and that e failure to record finding after holding enquiry would nstitute serious infirmity in the enquiry. In that se the Manager who held the enquiry did not record s finding. In that context, their Lordships had further served that if the enquiry is not found to be fair d proper, then the employer could lead evidence fore the tribunal and justify its action.

I shall now turn to discuss the evidence which had en adduced at the time of the domestic enquiry, and so the evidence regarding the finding of the en- uiring officer. But before I do so I shall notice a submission which has been made by the learned dvocate appearing for the workmen. It was urged Shri Chakraborty appearing for the workmen that e alleged incident between Kalo Roy and Kisto had ken place outside the factory premises at Chetla d therefore the management had no right to take any sciplinary action against Kalo Roy. Shri Chatterjee ppearing for the Company had submitted that the misconduct whether it was committed inside e factory or outside the factory, the mana ement is entitled to take disciplinary action against e concerned workman. Shri Chatterjee had referred e to the certified standing orders of the Company d has urged that even though the words "inside or tside the factory" are not specifically mentioned in e standing orders itself, still the management is titled to take action against the concerned workman garding the misconduct alleged against him. I all first of all refer to the standing orders to which y attention has been drawn by the learned representa- ve for the Company. Ext. G is the standing order d section 20 provides, inter alia, that assaulting, iking or threatening other workers is a misconduct d that drunkenness or riotous or disorderly behaviour ring working hours or any act subversive of disci- ne or efficiency is also a misconduct. I do not ree with Mr. Chatterjee that simply because the words nside and outside the factory" had not been mentioned, e management is authorised to take disciplinary tion even in case of a private quarrel and assault tside the factory. The learned lawyer for the mpany had referred me to the ruling reported in 961-62 (21 F.J.R., 93)—Dewan Badri Das vs. the dustrial Tribunal, Punjab. In that case, it was held that if the misbehaviour of responsible workmen even outside the premises of the concern or even when off duty, impaired the reputation of the concern, or was calculated to cause resentment against the same or unrest amongst the workers, the management is justified in treating that conduct as calculated to harm its reputation and as one being subversive of discipline. As there is no allegation in the present case that the alleged assault is calculated to cause resentment against the Company or to impair its reputation, or to create unrest amongst its workers, I do not think this ruling is applicable in the facts and circumstances of the present case. Incidentally, it may be pointed out that the incident there happened in the colony established by the employer for the employees. It was also observed that absence of the standing orders is not material, but the enquiry must be proper and impartial and that the hour and the place of incident are not very relevant matters in deciding the question as to whether a particular act of an employee is or is not within the ambit of the disciplinary jurisdiction of the employer. It appears to me that the alleged misconduct must have been some sort of relationship with the employment of the particular employee before the management can take disciplinary action against the concerned workman. I would refer to the ruling reported in A.I.R. 1965 S.C., 135 (Tata Oil Mills Co., Ltd. vs. their workmen). In that case, the standing orders itself provide for the fighting outside the factory, but their Lordships had said that the fighting must have rational relation with the employment of the assailant and the victim. I do not think that for any private quarrel which has no rational relation with the employment of the assailant and the victim the management is entitled to take disciplinary action against the concerned workman. Reference may also be made to the case reported in 1952 L.A.C. 337-1952 (II) L.L.J., 602 Air India Ltd. vs Lobo. The question now is whether there is such rational relationship with the employment of the assailant and the victim in the present case. The evidence before the domestic enquiry as recorded by O.P.W.1 Shri Manju Sen in the enquiry proceedings (Ext. H) shows that Kalo Roy demanded some loan from the Co-operative Society of the factory in respect of which Kisto was in-charge as his daughter was attacked with measles, and that as Kisto asked Kalo to come next morning, there was an altercation between them, and thereafter Kalo whipped out a knife from his trouser's pocket and plunged that knife on the left side of the belly of Kisto (vide evidence of Kisto Das and Sailen Chatterjee). It may be mentioned here that though Kalo Roy put certain question to Kisto Das, no question has been asked regarding the matters which had been referred to above. So far as Sailen Chatterjee is concerned, it would appear that Kalo Roy had put the specific question as to what was the subject matter of the quarrel between him and Kisto Das to Sailen Chatterjee, and Sailen Chatterjee had replied that the subject matter was a loan from the Co-operative Society which Kalo was insisting that Kisto should get it sanctioned. There was a further question by Kalo Roy to the effect that as no application for the loan from the Co-operative Society had yet been made, there could not be any question regarding the loan. The reply to that question of Sailen Chatterjee was that he did not know about the making of the application for the loan, but he had heard him (Kalo) insisting on Kisto's sanctioning the loan from the Co-operative Society. It would appear also that Kisto Das was subsequently recalled and had stated that he is a member of the Board of Directors and also a co-ordinator representing Chetla factory employees and that he has to attend the meetings of the Board and get the loan applications of the Chetla members sanctioned in deserving cases. It is his further evidence that Kalo Roy did not file any loan application before the incident on 4th April 1963, that he had one of his loan applications sanctioned on emergency basis about two months ago, that Kalo Roy was asking on that date to have another emergency loan sanctioned on account of his daughter's measles and that it is the usual practice that the Co-ordinator should investigate the circumstances before an application for emergency loan is made or entertained. It also appears that Kalo Roy had declined to cross-examine Kisto Das any further after he was recalled. Apart from this evidence before the domestic enquiry, it would appear from the evidence of Kalo Roy himself (P.W. 1) before this Tribunal that there is a Co-operative Credit Society, that the workers get loans from that Society after making applications and he had received some loans himself, that one of the workers is a member of the Society, that the worker-member has to recommend the application for loan, that he is unable to say if in 1962 and 1963 Kisto was a worker-member of the Society, that when he had obtained the loan from the Society, Kisto Das had recommended his application for loan, and that he had obtained the loan not two or three years ago, but four years ago. O.P.W.2 Kisto Das had stated in his evidence before this tribunal that he was in charge of all the transaction relating to the Co-operative Society including the checking up of forms and that Kalo Roy had borrowed money previously through him and became last on 4th April 1963 for loan. At the time of cross-examination O.P.W. 2 had said that there are nine Directors which constitute the Board, that the Directors are to decide whether the application for loan should or should not be granted, that it is only when he signs the application that the money can be paid out, and that he represented the factory in the Board, and therefore, he had to be satisfied whether the loan had to be granted or not before the matter was raised in the meeting of the Board of Directors. So far as the question of the demand of loan on 4th April 1963 by Kalo Roy is concerned it would appear that there has been no cross-examination by the learned Advocate for the workman. There is also no cross-examination regarding the previous granting of loan at the instance of kisto Das to Kalo Roy. In the facts and circumstances which I have mentioned above, it appears to me to be absolutely clear that the alleged incident has some rational relation with the employment of the alleged assailant and the victim. I have therefore come to the conclusion that the management is entitled to take disciplinary action against the concerned workman for the alleged misconduct. The contention of Shri Chakraborty therefore on behalf of the wokman is overruled.

I shall now turn to discuss the question whether there has been a fair and proper enquiry into the alleged misconduct of Kalo Roy. Before referring to the charge-sheet the evidence at the time of the enquiry and the finding of the enquiring officer, it is necessary to refer to the written statement filed on behalf of the workman. In paragraphs 13 and 14 of the written statement filed on behalf of the Union, it has been alleged that there has been a show enquiry on 10th April 1963 in the factory premises, where the Union Vice-President and other witnesses were not allowed to defend Kalo Roy that the Company proceeded with the so called enquiry with its picked men with a view to victimise the workman, that the Company had refused to give the copies of the enquiry report to the Union and that the enquiry report was not even produced before the conciliation officer when asked for at a later date. These are the objections to the domestic enquiry which have been urged on behalf of the concerned workman. There is no allegation in these paragraphs that there has been violation of the principles of natural justice, or that the management is guilty of basic error, or that there has been want of good faith or that on the materials the finding is completely baseless and perverse. At the time of the opening, the learned advocate Shri Chakraborty had stated that this is a case of victimisation by the management. But in paragraph 16 of the written statement, it has been stated that there has been unfair labour practice. Whether there was really any victimisation or any unfair labour practice would be considered later on.

At this stage I would only point out that except on the grounds of victimisation or unfair labour practice the concerned workman had not challenged the enquiry proceeding or the report or any of the other grounds mentioned above. It will be convenient at this stage to refer also the submission made by Shri Chakraborty on behalf of the workman. He had urged that certain statements were made in writing by Hirendra Manna Kisto Das, Asta Manty, Sarlen Chakraborty and the durwan Bhim Bahadur, and that the copies of these statements were not made over to Kalo Roy before he was asked to cross-examine during the enquiry proceedings. So far as this particular question is concerned Shri Chatterjee appearing on behalf of the Company had pointed out that the enquiry proceedings will itself show that the questions were put at the time of the enquiry proceeding to each of these persons, and thereafter the statements were placed and therefore there cannot be any question of prejudice of the concerned workman. The argument of Shri Chatterjee was that as the evidence of the witnesses were taken in presence of the concerned workman, the failure to give copies of the prior recorded statements which, however were produced at the time of the enquiry cannot vitiate the enquiry itself. It appears to me that there is no force in the contention raised by Shri Chakraborty on behalf of the workman. The witnesses were examined in presence of the concerned workman and it will appear later on that the enquiring officer had proceeded on the basis of the oral evidence given before him and not on the basis of the prior recorded statements. In the circumstances, the ruling reported in A.I.R. 1964 S.C., 708—1963 (II) L.L.J., 371 (Kesoram Cotton Mills vs. Gangadhar) is not applicable. In that case their Lordships of the Supreme Court had observed that the copies of the statements of witnesses who were not examined in chief fully at the enquiry should be made over at least two days before the enquiry is to begin and that the principle of natural justice is violated, where the prepared statements were read over to the workman charged and they were asked then and there to cross-examine the witnesses. As mentioned earlier, the facts are entirely different here. No reliance had been placed on the recorded statements themselves, but on the evidence which was adduced before the concerned workman. Therefore even if no copies of those earlier recorded statements had been given, I do not think that the principles of natural ice have been violated. I have already mentioned ier that the question of violation of nattural justice ot to be found in the written statement of the con- ed workman.

The next submission is that the finding of the en- ing officer is perverse and that the enquiring officer not give detailed reasons for his conclusions. The other submission of Shri Chakraborty is with regard unfair labour practice and victimisation. It would be venient to discuss this question after discussing what transpired during the enquiry proceeding. The rgesheet on the basis of which the enquiry proceed- started is dated 5th April 1963 (Ext. A on admission). would appear from Ext. A that it has been stated on 4th April 1963 between 9-15 and 9-30 p.m. owing an altercation Kalo Roy had attacked Kisto Tally clerk, on the pavement in front of the eastern of the mill with a knife, causing bleeding injury is person, that following this incident, on-the-spot stigation was carried out by Shri S. K. Das, Foreman later by the Assistant Factory Manager Shri oy Chowdhury on the same night and also by P. hatterjee, Personnel Manager and Shri D. Roy dhury in the morning of 5th April 1963, that prima facie case of assault, riotous and disorderly viour had been established against Kalo and that efore the management had decided to take disci- ry action against him in accordance with the isions of the standing orders. The charge as oned is for assault and striking a fellow worker r section 20(q) and for riotous behaviour which act subversive of discipline and efficiency under n 20(r) of the standing orders. I have already oned earlier the provisions of the stnding orders Company and I need not repeat what has already stated. It would be sufficient to mention n the standing orders, assault and strike are both ately mentioned and that the riotous behaviour g working hours and any acts subversive of disci- or efficiency have been separately mentioned. pears to me that the charges against the concerned man have not been very happily framed and the riotous behaviour is a distinct misconduct any act subversive of discipline and or efficiency. further of opinion that the allegations made in argesheet itself do not make out the case of riotous viour which is an act subversive of discipline and ncy. As I understand the learned representative e Company, he did not particularly rely on the d charge which I have mentioned above. The d enquiring officer in his report (Ext. I) has not to any conclusion regarding the second charge I have mentioned above. I had asked the learned ring officer that what he understood by the second ge The enquiring officer (O.P.W. 1) told me that riotous behaviour, he understood the shouting and ng of the persons concerned before the factory. learned officer had obviously overlooked the stading r itself and has also overlooked that the alleged us behaviour, according to the chargesheet, must n act subversive of discipline and efficiency. It uite obvious that the second charge has not been blished even at the time of the enquiry itself. Inci- ally it may be pointed out that the witnesses ex- ed by the Company before the enquiring officer ot say anything about the second charge and that evidence as laid before the enquiring officer related he alleged charge of assault with the knife following altercation between Kalo and Kisto. In the cir- cumstances, I do not think that I should accept the evidence of O.P.W. 1 that he had found that both the misconducts had been established by the evidence adduced before him.

I shall now shortly discuss the evidence which has been adduced before the learned enquiring officer at the time of the domestic enquiry. The enquiry proceeding had been marked Ext. H and it is not disputed that the concerned workman Kalo was present at the time the enquiry proceeding was held. It may be mentioned here that though there is an objection in the written statement that the Vice-President was not allowed to defend Kalo, this objection was not raised at the time of hearing before me. The enquiry proceeding itself shows that one Anil Ganguly was allowed to be present as an observer on belalf of Kalo but he was not allowed to take part in the proceeding. The first witness Hiren Manna had stated that while he was going on cycle, he had found crowd gathered at the eastern gate of the factory and amongst the crowd he found Kalo, Sailen and also found that Kalo holding the collar of Kisto and was abusing him in vile language. It is his further evidence that Kisto told Kalo that he would speak to him on the next day, as Kalo was drunk, that he heard Sailen shouting from the door- step "knife, knife", that he left his cycle and when was coming, he found Kalo had struck Kisto on his belly with the knife, that he and Sailen held the hand of Kalo and the upper portion of the knife dropped from his hand, that the knife actually broke into two pieces, when Kalo had struck Kisto, and that the lower porton fell on the ground and that after he had gone to fetch a police constable, Kalo had gone away. It is also stated that Kisto was taken to the dispensary of doctor Gour Hazra in a rickshaw and first-aid was given to Kisto there. Thereafter Kisto was taken to D. Roy Chowdhury and Sushil Das and thereafter he had left for home. With regard to the knife, he had said that it was a hacksaw knife. He had also mentioned the name of Bhim Bahadur as being one of the persons present. Kalo had cross- examined this witness and it appears that nothing had brought out in the cross-examination. At the time of hearing before this Tribunal, P.W. 1 Kalo had said that as the recorded statements were not given to him, he had left the place of enuqiry. This evidence certainly cannot be correct because the enquiry proceeding it- self shows that he had cross-examined. What I have said with regard to Hiren Manna applies to others also, excepting Kisto who was not cross-examined at all. The evidence of Kisto in substance is that when he was passing near the factory Kalo came in a rikshaw from the opposite direction and called him and told him that his daughter has got measles and asked him to arrange for a loan from the Co-operative Society. Kisto told him that he was going on his duty and Kalo should see him on the following day. Kalo was taken in a rikshaw to a certain distance, but he subsequently came back with that rikshaw, and then an altercation started between Kalo and the rikshawalla ; thereafter, Kalo came to Kisto and enquired whether he was going to give the money or not, and Kisto replied that Kalo should go home. At that Kalo held the hand of Kisto with his left hand and his right hand was in his trouser's pocket. Thereafter, Sailen who was standing in front of pumping room, shouted saying that Kalo has brought out a knife. Immediately therafter Kalo had struck on the belly of Kisto on the left side with the knife and thereafter Sailen came and held Kalo and was joined immediately thereafter by Hiren Manna, who also held the hand of Kalo. It is the further evidence of Kisto that the knife broke out into two pieces after Kisto was struck and two pieces fell on the ground. It is also stated that Asta Maity and Bhim Bahadur were near the factory gate at the time of the incident and and that Kalo fled away thereafter, and then first-aid was given to Kisto and the matter was reported to the authority and also a diary was lodged at the police station. There has been very little cross-examination of Kisto by Kalo. There is nothing which would show that any portion of the evidence of Kisto before the enquiring officer could not be accepted. The next witness Asta Maity had spoken about the quarrel between Kalo and Kisto and has also said that he saw Kalo striking Kisto on his belly with the knife. There is again nothing in the cross-examination of Asta to show that the evidence of Asta is not acceptable. Next witness Sailen Chatterjee has corroborated the evidence of Kisto. He has however mentioned the name of Bhim Bahadur and Sudhir Purkait who had also seen the incident, and nad said that the wound on the belly was about 2" in length and was slightly bleeding. There is again nothing in the cross-examination by Kalo which would show that the evidence of Sailen cannot be accepted. Kisto was further re-examined but there was no further cross-examination by Kalo. These are all the witnesses examined on 10th April 1963. On 11th April 1963 Hiren Manna was again recalled and had replied to certain questions. The only thing that he had said is that he had not seen Sudhir Purkait amongst the crowd and that he had narrated the occurrence to D. Roy Chowdhury. Bhim is other witness. His evidence shows that Kalo had demanded something from Kisto and was speaking in a loud tone. He had himsef not spoken about the incident or assault with the knife. On belalf of Kalo, he, Basanta Haldar, and Sk. Mohiuddin were examined as witnesses. Kalo had spoken about the assault on him nearabout the rikshaw stand by Kisto Das, Sailen Chatterjee, Sudhir Purkait and few others. Basanta Halder and Mahiuddin did not really support evidence of Kalo regarding his own assault. It however appears that Basanta heard Sailen shouting "knife, knife", and also heard Manna shouting "catch him (Kalo), catch him, he has stabbed". Mahiuddin had only heard about the incident. Klao was again examined by the enquiring officer towards the close of the proceeding, on 11th April 1963. But nothing material appears from the further evidence given by Kalo.

I shall now refer in short to the enquiry report (Ext. I). After considering the evidence which I have mentioned above, the learned enquiring officer observed that in spite of some minor discrepancies which are not relevant with the main charge of assault in the evidence of Manna, Kisto and Sailen, but he considered their evidence as having established beyond any reasonable doubt, that Kalo did attack Kisto on the pavement in front of the mill and assaulted Kisto with the knife causing bleeding injury on his person and is therefore guilty of all the charges brought against him. I have already mentioned above that the second charge has not been substantiated. The learned enquiry officer does not give any reason why he thought that the second charge had been substantiated. In view of all what I have discussed above, I do not agree with the learned lawyer appearing for the workman that the enquiring officer did not come at the reasonable conclusion or that the finding is at all preverse. I do not think therefore, that it has been shown that the princi of natural justice have been violated or there any basic error or that the finding was perverse or t the enquiry was for any reason not fair. My conclu therefore is that this Tribunal cannot interfere v the finding of the enquiring officer.

I shall now shortly discuss the evidence regarding alleged victimisation and unfair labour practice. evidence which has been adduced by P.W. 1 K Roy and P.W. 5 Basanta Maity is that at the time Chinese invasion of India. Kisto, Rabin Chatter Sitaram Medda, Gopal Dalui made some assert against the Government and that Kalo had objec and there was an altercation and that some of th persons had been arrested under the Defence of In Rules and had been convicted. As shri Chatter on behalf of the Company had pointed out the relev judgment of the learned Magistrate had not been in and therefore it has not been possible to find who been convicted for violation of the Defence of In Rules, but even supposing that some of the pers mentioned above who appear to belong to the or Union, had been convicted under the Defence of In Rules, I do not see that from that fact it can be arg that the management is guilty of victimisation and fair labour practice. The other Union was exist admittedly from before and had been recognised by Company. There is nothing to show that because s members of the o'd Union had been convict the management had sought to victimise Kalo I who had given evidence in the Defence of India Ru case. I do not also think that there is really anyth to show that the management had resorted to un labour practice. If any of the members of the n union is really guilty of contravention of Defence India Rules, the management certainly has nothing do in that matter. I do not believe that for t reason the management would pick out Kalo and wo victimise him and would also resort to unfair lab practice. I therefore cannot accept the submission Shri Chakraborty that the plea for victimisation a or plea of unfair labour practice had been substantia in this case.

Before I conclude the discussion, I would obse that even if it be supposed that the enquiry is defect in any respect, still there is quite cogent evidence bef the Tribunal which shows that at the time of quar over the demand for loan, Kalo had whipped out hacksaw knife and had inflicted a wound on the be of Kisto Das. The learned lawyer appearing for workman sought to argue that the evidence which h been given by Kalo and others would show that K himself was asaulted by Kisto. Sailen and othe I do not think that it is open to the learned lawyer the wokmen to substantiate his plea before this Tribun In this connection I would refer to the ruling report in A.I.R. 1965 S.C., 155 (Tata Oil Mills Co. Ltd their workmen). In that case, it has been held th the dismissed employee cannot lead evidence bef the Tribunal to substantiate the plea. It is therefo not necessary for me to discuss the evidence whi has been adduced before the Tribunal to sho that in fact Kalo was assaulted but even if it supposed that there is some evidence regarding t assault of Kalo, that evidence certainly would n show that Kalo himself did not assault Kisto D with the hacksaw knife inflicting the bleeding injur on his belly. The action of Kalo Roy certainly is misconduct under section 20 (q) of the Standing Orders of the Company. He is therefore liable to be dismissed by the management. The dismissal therefore was justified.

In view of my above findings, I am of opinion that Kalo Roy is not entitled to get any relief. This is my award.

AWARD

The Government of West Bengal, by Order No. 2069-I.R. IR/10L-106/64, dated the 5th June 1964, had referred the following industrial dispute between Messrs. Britannia Mechanical Works & Foundry, 34/35 Hurrogunj Road, P.O. Salkia, Howrah, and their workmen represented by Iron & Steel Workmen's Union, 172 Benaras Road, Salkia, Howrah, to this Tribunal for adjudication.

Issue

Whether the termination of service of Shri Dilbahadur and Shri Mahanta Kairi is justified? What relief, if any, are they entitled to?

After the service of the usual notice, the Union on behalf of the workmen had filed a written statement and the Company had also filed a written statement. In the written statement filed on behalf of the workmen by the Union, it is stated that the Company employs about 200 workmen including men under contractors and has been earning huge profits every year, and that Shri Dilbahadur and Shri Mahanta Kairi were permanent workmen working in the capacity of the durwan and the driver respectively. On the 20th September 1963, Mahanta Kairi was refused work by the Company and was told verbally that his services were no longer required. Similarly on the 23rd September 1963, Shri Dilbahadur was told that his service was no longer required from the 23rd September 1963, and he was refused work by the Company. No charge-sheet was served on either of them and no reason was given as to why work was refused to these permanent workmen. There was conciliation proceeding, but due to the attitude of the Company, the conciliation proceeding failed. As the workmen are not guilty of any misconduct or omission, the action of the management is wholly illegal, unfair and unjust and also amounts to victimisation because of the active participation in the work of the union by these two workmen. It is prayed that these two workmen might be reinstated with full compensation for the period of forced unemployment.

In the written statement filed on behalf of the Company it has been stated that the persons employed directly by the Company number only 40 to 50 and if orders are received from the customers which are not permanently executed in the factory of the employer these are given out on contract to individual contractors from time to time as and when required, and the employer is not aware of the number of persons employed by the independent contractor under them. It is further alleged that the Company is suffering from serious handicaps due to non-availability of the raw materials. It is further not disputed that Dilbahadur was the durwan and Mahanta Kairi was the driver and were permanent workmen. With regard to Mahanta Kairi it is stated that he had remained absent without any application for leave or sanction thereof from the 24th August 1963. As he continued to remain absent for more than 10 days in an unauthorised manner, he made himself liable for discharge under the relevant provisions of the Standing Orders. He was therefore discharged by the employer with effect from 20th September 1963 and a new driver had been appointed in the vacancy caused thereby. This workmen had reported on the 1st October 1963 and was then told that his service had been terminated on account of his unauthorised absence in excess of ten days in accordance with the Standing Orders of the Company. The Company denies that the workman Mahanta had reported on the 20th September 1963 and was then told that his service was no longer required. With regard to Dilbahadur, it is stated that while he was employed as a durwan of the factory, certain scrap materials belonging to the Company had been removed in collusion with Dilbahadur at about midnight of the 16th September 1963. Some five or six workmen had reported this matter and had also stated that Dilbahadur was present and did not take any action and then the Supervisor at once went to the spot; on seeing the Supervisor the thieves fled and when the Supervisor interrogated the durwan, he kept silent. In the morning of 17th May 1963, the Supervisor had reported to the Manager about the incident and the Manager then called for the durwan in his office and after hearing the durwan and the Supervisor, the Manager was prima facie satisfied about the charge of complicity in theft, and deliberate default in duty. Thereafter the durwan was asked to say regarding the charge of complicity, but the durwan kept silent. Then the durwan was told that the matter would be referred to the police and then the durwan broke down and pleaded guilty and prayed for mercy. Thereafter the durwan was never found in the factory premises and had fled for fear of prosecution. As no trace of Dilbahadur could be found, neither criminal case, nor disciplinary action could be taken. The management denies that Dilbahadur was informed verbally on 23rd September 1963 that his service was no longer required or that he was refused work and alleges that as Dilbahadur had voluntarily abandoned his service, there was no scope or occasion for criminal or disciplinary action. With regard to the conciliation proceeding, it is stated that the Conciliation Officer was satisfied regarding the grounds as stated by the employer. Lastly, the allegation of victimisation and the allegation regarding the alleged illegality are all denied, and it is stated that the workmen are not entitled to any relief.

During the pendency of this case before this Tribunal, there was a talk of settlement from 3rd May 1965 and finally on 31st May 1965 the dispute has been settled by the employer and the Union representing the worker. It has been provided that the Union will not press for reinstatement of the two workmen named Mahanta Kairi and Dilbahadur and that the employer will pay Rs. 700 to Mahanta Kairi and Rs. 500 to Dilbahadur and these persons will also get earned wages and wages for leave due together with bonus if any in the last week of June 1965. I have considered the terms of settlement and I am of opinion that the terms are reasonable, bona fide and proper and may be given effect to.

I therefore, pass a "no dispute" award in terms of the petition of compromise which should be marked as Annexure "A" to the award. This is my award.

Issue

Whether the dismissal of the following workmen is tified? To what relief, if any, are they entitled?

(1) Shri Habib Majhi, (2) Shri Ashek Majhi, (3) Shri Farasat Majhi, (4) Shri Hanif, (5) Asghar, (6) Shri Nawaji, (7) Shri Gafoor, (8) Shri Sk Shamsu, (9) Shri Sk. Alladdin, (10) Shri Sk. Tamiz, (11) Shri Sk. Kabir, (12) Shri Sk. Habib, (13) Shri Sk. Harman, (14) Shri Sk. Shevan, (15) Shri Sk. Salaiman, (16) Shri Sk. Umed Ali, (17) Shri Osman.

riefly put the case of the aggrieved employees is follows:

hri Habib and Shri Ashek and Sri Farasat are very employees of the employer opposite party. The Company took it that these three majhis were notorious for their trade union activities and so by its order, dated 6th January 1958, 13th January 1958 and 15th January 1958, it dismissed Shri Farasat, Shri Ashek and Shri Habib Majhi respectively with intent to do them harm. In utter violation of the principles of natural justice the aforesaid three majhis were dismissed without any reason or rhyme whatsoever. The remaining 14 persons who happened to be all dandees were similarly dealt with by the Company to their great prejudice. Hence the present move of the workers for redress of their grievance namely for their reinstatement for retrenchment compensation and for other dues to which they think they are entitled.

The aforesaid case of the workers has been challenged by the Company. With regard to Farasat Majhi the simple case of the Company is that Shri Farasat is an employee of a different Company altogether. All the 14 dandees also according to the company are not employees of Messrs. R. K. Chatterjee & Sons, they being all along employed and maintained by their respective majhis. The two majhis Habib and Ashek were dismissed by the Company because of their misconduct which was exposed in the matter of their dealings with the chain and anchor of their respective boats. The grievance of the Company in that respect is that these two workers had disposed of or rather misappropriated the properties of the Company, thus deserving the punishment which was inflicted upon them by the Company.

In view of the aforesaid mutual cases of the parties, their points of agreement and differences I am to consider first of all whether any relationship of employee and employee existent between the parties namely between Farasat and 14 dandees on the one hand and the Company on the other. I am also to consider whether their dismissal was justified in the facts and circumstances of the case. In fine, I shall have to decide as to what relief they are entitled.

With regard to Farasat the best evidence concerning the question as to whether he was at any time an employee of Messrs. R K Chatterjee & Sons is constituted by the deposition given by Farasat himself P.W.1 The first line of his deposition is as follows:

"I was an employee of Messrs. R. K. Chatterjee Bros." Such is the evidence of Habib P.W.6 (vide page 2 of his deposition). And this is also the case of the Company as adumbrated in their written statement at para. 10 thereof. As a court of law I think I am bound to accept this undisputed or rather the admitted fact elicited in course of the trial of the case. Farasat thus being an employee of a different company altogher namely of Messrs. R. K. Chatterjee & Sons, is not entitled in my judgment to any relief whatsoever in connection with the present dispute between him and Messrs. R. K. Chatterjee & Bros., the latter Company prima facie being a different Company altogether.

The fate of the 14 dandees as noted in the order of reference is not better than that of Farasat. Rightly the Company opposite party has raised the point namely that the dandees cannot be construed as employees of the Company, they being employed and maintained throughout by the majhis of their respective boats. The evidence of Juman O.P.W.1 is that the majhis are appointed by the Company whereas the dandees are appointed by the majhis. His further evidence is that the dandees never go to the office of the Company to receive their salary and when the dandees go to their native places they beg leave not of the Company but of their respective majhis. In this version Juman stands strongly and materially corroborated by the testimony of Salim Majhi O.P.W.2, Yusuf Majhi O.P.W.3 as also by the witnesses as on the side of the boateman themselves. Thus the evidence of Ashak Majhi P.W.1 as elicited by way of cross-examination is that he as a majhi used to select the danpees themselves and he used to pay the dandees their respective monthly salaries out of the total emoluments he received from the company in lump. He alone used to pay his left thum impression towards acquittance of the monthly salaries including the dues of the dandees (vide P.W.1 page 3). Such is also the evidence of Asgar P.W.5 at page 5 of his cross-examination.

The evidence of Shri Habib P.W.6 supports also to a great extent the case of the Company. His evidence is that thenames of the dandees were never noted in any book of the Company whatsoever. Indeed if there was as a matter of fact any relationship of master and servant between the Company and those dandees there would have been in all probability of the matter a tacit reference of the names of those dandees within the books of the accounts of the Company concerned. It is significant to note in this connection that the boatmen have filed their respective licence forms vide Ext 2 series. These licence forms show that they were granted to the majhi but never to the dandees. This means and implies that the dandees were never recognised by the Company opposite party to be their employees although it might be that they worked within the boats owned and maintained by the opposite parties. The 14 danees therefore in my judgment are not entitled to any relief whatsoever in connection with this case. It is true that the case of these poor dandees deserve every sympathy and consideration of this Labour Court and in that view of the matter I am in entire accord with Shri Anil Banerjee larned lawyer appearing for the Union before me. Take for example said Mr. Banerjee the case of Habib dandee who was a very old worker of the Company and who was driven out all on a sudden with no benefits of gratuity, etc. Mr. Banerjee indeed is very right in respect of this submission of his but I must also at the same time express my utter inability to oblige Mr. Banerjee's client for the reason already disclosed above It is high time for the legislature to cast its eyes in this sphere of law so that the poor dandees are not left out of consideration by courts of law equity and natural justice. Mr. Banerjee in course of his argument invited my attention to an agreement between the boatmen's Union and their members whereby the status of the dandees was sought to be raised to the level of the employees of the respective Companies. The original agreement however was never produced before me. What was produced was a certified copy thereof and that too long after the evidence was recorded in full by my predecessor in office. I think it would not be proper for me in the facts and circumstances of the case to consider this document supplied by the Union side. However, for ends of justice I have perused the contents of the agreement. It does not appear that the Company namely Messrs. R. K. Chatterjee & Sons was evera a party to that agreement. Nor does it appear in the facts and circumstances of the case as elicited in course of the trial that this agreement was acted upno or given effect to by the Union or the Company. As I have already disclosed the Company never recognise the dandees to be their employees. As a matter of fact the dandees were appointed by their majhis, and what is more they used to be maintained and paid in a sense by their respcetive dandees. Leave used to be sanctioned by the respective majhis teus imply, ing the fact that they were under the full control of their respective majhis. Such being the case I once more express my utter inability to grant any relief to these poor dandees.

Now remains the case of Ashek and Habib, both of whom admittedly were employed as majhis under the Company opposite party. The grievance of the Company is that these workers had disposed of and had misappropriated the chain and anchor of their respective boats and that they were therefore dismissed by the Company. This grievance in my judgement is more imaginary than real. Truly speaking there is not an iota of evidence on record to show as to how and in what circumstances these properties of the boats were disposed of by these two workers. None saw them selling or otherwise disposing of these properties. The case of the two majhis Ashek and Habib is that the chain and the anchor had been simply torn assunder by the tidal bore which had affected that area. I have believed this case of the two workers to be true because it fits in with the facts and circumstances of the case. Parts of the torn chains were shown to my predecessor in office. Company's own witness O.P.W.1 Shri Juman said in his cross-examination that the chains and the anchor of the boats of Ashek and Habib were swept away on the spot (vide page 5 of his deposition). I attach great importance to the aforesaid observation of Sk. Juman inasmuch as he appear to be on the spot witness of the subject under enquiry. It is no wonder that on the face of these facts and circumstances on record that Habib would be acquitted by the Criminal Court in connection with the charge of theft which had been levelled against him by the Company concerned.

There is still another reason why I should not justify the other of dismissal of the two majhis aforesaid. It is a fundamental proposition of law that principle of natural justice should be rigidly obeyed and observed while dealing with the fates of the worker of a particular Company. Was, natural justice observed in the case of these two workers? The answer to that question lies in the negative. It would transpire from the materials on record, that no domestic enquiry whatsoever was conducted before the punishment was inflicted upon the delinguent workers. It is true that Shri Taradas Mookherjee O.P.W.8 has tried to save the situation by saying that he had enquired into the matter and that he was satisfied to find out the guilt of the workers in that respect. This enquiry led by Shri Taradas Mookherjee is not however a enquiry worth the name. It is a shame transaction entered into between Taradas O.P.W.8 on the one hand and the Company on the other wherin I am afraid the workers joined never as parties. It would transpire from the evidence of Taradas Mookherjee that in connection with his enquiry again Habib was never present at all. Indeed the latter was never informed of the date of enquiry. In this connection Taradas Mookherjee submitted a report to his master. This report has not been filed before me o lea that the report was a verbal one. Considering e aforesaid facts and circumstances of the case l that the dismissal order of the company passed nection with the said two majhis namely Ashek Habib can never to justified.

st comes the question of granting reliefs to the said two men. Ordinarily reinstatement is said an appropriate relief in the matter of retrenched rs. The question arises whether Habib should reinstated. In my judgment Habib is not a rson to be reinstated.

comes out from the Company's documents [vide 3(f)] that majhis take recourse to their retire-at 60 years of age. Before me (at the time of nent) Habib said that he was on the wrong side years. So Habib will simply get in my judgment chment benefit plus gratuity because I also from the materials on record that the benefit

Nagar, district Burdwan, and (ii) Aluminium Corporations' Calcutta Employees' Association, 23A Netaji Subhas Road, Calcutta-1. (G. O. No. 980-I.R., dated 27th February 1961). (VIII.-82 of 61.)

BEFORE THE FOURTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present :

Shri R. BHATTACHARYA, M.A., LL.B., Judge, Fourth Industrial Tribunal.

For the Mazdoor Union : Shri Patit Paban Pathak.

For the Company : Shri D. Prokash.

The present industrial dispute between Messrs. Aluminium Corporation of India Ltd. (hereinafter referred to as the Company) and their workmen represented by (i) the Aluminium Mazdoor Union, J. K. Nagar, district Burdwan, and (ii) the Aluminium Corporation's Calcutta Employees' Association, 23A Netaji Subhas Road, Calcutta-1, arises out of the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 980-I.R. IR 10L-37 61, dated 27th February 1961, with the following issue :

What should be the quantum of bonus payable to the workmen for the year ended 31st March 1959 ?

After due notices the parties appeared and submitted their written statements. In short, the case of the Aluminium Mazdoor Union (hereinafter described as the Union) is that the Company is a prosperous and progressive concern. The Union raised a dispute regarding bonus for the year 1958-59 before the Pujas and the Company paid gratuity bonus at the rate of 1/16th of the net basic earnings during the 12tn months ending 31st March 1959. The company, according to the Union, made sufficient profit during the year to pay to each workman three months' earnings as bonus. The workmen demanded bonus equivalent to three months' wages but the Company refused to meet the demand. As no conciliation could be possible, the Governmnt referred this matter to this Tribunal to adjudicate upon the issue. The Union demands three months' wages as bonus. The Aluminium Corporation's Calcutta Employees' Association (hereinafter described as the Association) filed a similar written statement.

The Company in its written statement has stated that the workmen were not entitled to any bonus whatsoever but the Company of its own accord paid gratuity bonus at the rate of 1/16th of the net basic earnings during the 12 months ending 31st March 1959. It has been stated that although the Company was established in 1937, it suffered losses up to the year 1955-56, and that the ordinary share-holders did not as such get any divident during that period. The Company denies that it is a prosperous concern. The Company asserts in its written statement that the trading results of the Company do not warrant any payment of bonus to the workmen.

In this case the Union has produced several papers and documents to be used as evidence, and the Company has also produced a large number of statements and documents towards evidence. Those papers have been marked exhibits in this case. On the side of the wrokmen, the Secretary of the Association has been examined as P.W.1 and the Company has examined five witnesses on its side. O.P.W. 1 is the Assistant Secretary of the Company. O.P.W. 2 is the executive (technical) of the Company. He is a graudate in Chemical Engineering. O.P.W. 3 has been examined as an expert in the matter of machineries. O.P.W. 4 has been examined as an expert in the matter of Civil Engineering. O.P.W.5 is the General Manager of the Company.

Admittedly, in the present case the workmen got bonus for the year in question to the extent of 1/16th of the net basic earnings during the 12 months ending 31st March 1959. There is no dispute that the financial year of the Company is from 1st April to the end of March following. The Company described the bonus as gratuity bonus. The issue of bonus relates to the year ending 31st March 1959. The main question before me is whether according to the Full Bench formula there is any available surplus so as to declare bonus to the workmen more than 1/16th of the net basic earning already paid to them as bonus, and if the question is answered in affirmative, I am to decide about the quantum of bonus payable to each workman. The balance-sheet of the Company for the relevant year has been marked Ext. "P" in this case. Before me the Union wants to rely upon Ext. 3, a statement for calculating available surplus. At first the Company filed a statement to show the calculation about available surplus and that has been marked Ext. 6. Subseque however, at a very late stage of the case the Com filed another statement which has been marked Ex The Company now wants to rely upon this Ext.

There is no dispute that the profit made d the year 1958-59 as per balance-sheet is Rs. 35,89 This position is accepted. During argument both parties agreed before me that to the amount of p mentioned above, the sum of Rs. 57,020 should added back for provision for bonus for the year question. The admitted gross profit for the y therefore, comes to Rs. 36 46 884.

From the amount of Rs. 36,46,884, the amount notional normal depreciation is to be deducted. Ext. A the Company has given the amount as 8,40,168. P.W. 1, the Secretary of the Associat has stated that the amount of Rs. 8,40,168 tow depreciation is the normal depreciation for the y 1958-59. Exhibit 5 is the statement about rehabil tion submitted by the workman. At page 2 of said exhibit the amount of depreciation for the y has been shown as Rs. 8,40,168. P.W. 1 has sta "I accept the amount of depreciation in Ext. 5 as cor also.....The statements made in Ext. are accepted by us as correct." On the evidence record I accept the amount of depreciation given the Company in Ext. A. 1, therefore, deduct the amo of Rs. 8,40,168 from the sum of Rs. 36,46,884 wards notional normal depreciation. The amo after this deduction comes to Rs. 28,06,716.

The Company wants further deduction under the he "extraneous income". According to the Compa as shown in Ext. A a sum of Rs. 1,84,862 is the ext neous income. Exhibit B and Ext. B/1 are the sta ments filed by the Company to show extraneous inco Of course, original and reliable documents of accou have not been filed to support the statement. connection with this item O.P.W. 1, the Assista Secretary of the Company has stated, "electric charg extra furniture hire, colony realisations are alm regular features of receipt of the Company. They ha been mentioned in Ext. B/1. The Company maintai some buses and cars and it realises amounts from t workmen and officers for their use of the same. T amount stated in Ext. B/1 is the surplus left after t expenses of the buses and cars. This amount is short of profit out of the buses and cars. It is a regu feature of the Company. Share transfer fees, sha subdivision fees and duplication script fees are al regular features. They are mentioned in Ext. B. They are entered in the Account Books of the Compan The Accounts Department maintains all these pape The items mentioned in Ext. B are entered in o Account Books duly maintained by our Accoun Department." There may be instances of extraneo income due either to some part of the profits not havi been earned in the relevant year or to some part profits arising out of fortuitous circumstances not all connected with efforts of labour. A third categor may be the income arising out of sale of fixed or capit assets. Income arising during the year in the norm course of business of the concern cannot be called extr neous income merely on the ground that no direct co nection between the efforts of labour and the accrual the income has been established. The nature of th extraneous income has been indicated in the decisi of this case of Tata Oil Mills Company Limited reported in A.I.R.. 1959, SC, at page 1065. I have considered Exts. B and B/1 and I allow the sum of Rs. 9,088 towards profit on sale of car and machinery and the sum of Rs. 42·54 towards change in coinage as extraneous income. The sum of Rs. 9,130·54 should be deducted from the amount of Rs. 28,06,716. After this deduction we get Rs. 27,97,585·46.

The next items of deduction are income tax and wealth tax payable. The Union and the Association have agreed along with the Company at the time of argument that the income tax to be deducted amounts to Rs. 16,20,644 that the wealth tax payable is Rs. 1,44,327 and that these two amounts should be deducted in favour of the Company. After the said deductions we come to Rs. 10,32,614·46 P.

The next item is Return on paid up capital. On this head again there is no dispute between the parties before me. The accepted amount is Rs. 5,80,000. After this item we get Rs. 4,42,614·46 P.

The Company however fights hard on the questions of Returns on reserves used as working capital and rehabilitation charges. In Ext. A the Company has claimed Rs. 2,96,000 as retrun on reserve used. Previously, however, the Company claimed Rs. 2,70,176 in Ext. 6. The onus is upon the Company to prove its own claim to the statisfaction of the Tribunal by producing reliable materials. A huge number of documents in the forms of statements or claims will not be sufficient without reliable and acceptable materials or evidence to support them. The Company must prove how much amount of any reserve was available for using the same as working capital This only will not be sufficient. The Company must also prove satisfactorily how much of the available reserve was actually utilised as working capital in the year under cosideration If it is proved that any portion of the reserve was so utilised, then the Company will be entitled a reasonable rate of return on the reserve used. The mount thus ascertained should be deducted as a prior charge in finding out the available surplus for the purpose of bonus.

The present reference was received by this Tribunal on 9th March 1961. The Company filed its written statement on 18th July 1961. 1st August 1961 was fixed for filing documents by the parties. After about a year the Company filed a statement of prior charges on 6th July 1962. That statement has been marked Ext. 6. Schedule D to Ext. 6 is a statement of reserves alleged to have been utilised as working capital during the year ended 31st March 1959. According to this statement the amount of Rs. 67,54,410 was utilised as working capital. Exhibit A on which the Company now wants to rely was filed on 26th February 1964, when the case was teken up for hearing. At this stage the Company wants to say that an average sum of Rs. 73,99,985 was utilised as working capital during the year in question. Several statements have been filed by the Company. Exhibit 1 is a statement showing computation of working capital. It has been prepared by Chartered Accountants. None of them have been examined in this case. Moreover, it does not prove that any reserve was actually used as working capital. Exhibit 1/2 is another statement regarding working capital month by money. This statement is of no use as no book of account or other reliable material has been produced to support it. Exhibit 1/3 is a similar worthless document without any reliable basis. Similarly Ext. 1/4 is a document which is not supported by any book of account.

O.P.W. 1, the Assistant Secretary of the Company, has said that the amount of reserve used as working capital mentioned in Ext. A is higher than the amount of the same item mentioned in Ext. 6. The reason has not been satisfactorily given. The discrepancy has not been properly explained away. The claims in Ext. A and Ext. 6 have not been supported by satisfactory and reliable books of account or other materials. The Balance-Sheet and the Profit and Loss Account of the Company do not prove anywhere that any part of the reserve was actually utilised as working capital or how it was used. O.P.W 1 has stated that the whole of the general reserve, the whole of premium on shares, the whole of development rebate reserve and a portion of depreciation reserve were used as working capital. He has further stated that the position of the current assets and liabilities in respect of several months mentioned in Ext. 1/2 are based on monthly accounts of the Company. It is to be noted that the Company has withheld all papers of account lest they may go against it. O.P.W. 1 has further stated that there is no separate ledger maintained for the reserve. This is something strange. There must be some papers or books of account in respect of the reserves. But no such evidence has been produced before me. O.P.W. 5 is the General Manager of the Company. By his oral evidence he wants to support the claim made in Ext. A. On perusal of the statements and balance-sheets exhibited on the side of the Company, O.P.W. 5 has given evidence. His evidence is that the premium on share was utilised as working capital to the extent of Rs. 574,162 and that the general reserve was also utilised to the extent of Rs. 25 lakhs. His further evidence is that the Company used depreciation reserve as working capital to the extent of Rs. 44 lakhs. This witness does not, however, specifically speak about development rebate reserve. It is not difficult for a witness to make oral statements in support of his claim. It is also easy for a party to prepare statements in support of a claim. Such statements should not be accepted unless they are corroborated or supported by reliable necessary and satisfactory witness or material or evidence or any other reliable circumstances. In the present case the Company wants to rely upon some written statements and figures without any reliable basis or material produced before me. In the facts and circumstances of this case I cannot hold that any portion of the reserves of the Company was used as working capital during the year 1958-59. The claim of the Company for return on reserves used as working capital is rejected.

The last item I am to deal with is the claim of the Company towards Rehabilitation Charges. At the earlier stage of the case the Company's claim was Rs. 728,130 as would be evident in Ext. 6. At a very late stage, however, the Company filed a revised calculation which has been marked as Ext. A. In this statement the Company's claim comes to Rs. 25,00,351. The workmen have, however, contended that the Company is not entitled to any amount under this head. The Company has filed a large number of statements relating to this item. Some witnesses on the side of the Company have also deposed in connection with this claim. The onus is upon the Company, however, to prove the claim regarding prior charges. O.P.W.1, the Assistant Secretary of the Company, has stated that as he found that the prior charges statement, filed earlier, that is to say Ext. 6 was defective, he revised the same and prepared Ext. A. He has stated, "The increase in the amount of rehabilitation charges mentioned in Ext. A is due to the fact that the calculation in Ext. 6 was made according to A. C. C. formula, and the calculation in Ext. A is based upon actual quotations and expert's reports on the life." For the purpose of rehabilitation charges this witness relies upon the statements marked Ext. J series. He has stated the original cost of plant amd machineries and the cost of buildings are taken from the balance-sheets. Exhibits J(4) is a rehabilitation statement regarding boiler plant. Exhibit J(5) relates the statement relating to power house machinery. Exhibits J (6) and J(7) speak about colliery machineries. Exhibit J(8) relates to cell house. Exhibits J(9) to J(12) relates to other plants and machineries. These statements contain price of machineries, erection cost, replacement cost, and a calculation regarding amounts for rehabilitation claimed by the Company. O.P.W. 1 has stated that the total original cost mentioned in Ext. J(4) are taken from the balance-sheet and that the details of machineries of different departments are taken from departmental schedules. Additions after 1945, according to this witness, are taken from the Plant and Machineries Register. The witness has further said that Exts. J(5) to J(12) are parepared according to the departmental schedules and Plant and Machinery Register. According to the witness, the original vouchers are there and that they may be produced, if necessary. It is to be noted that the departmental schedules have not been produced before this Tribulal in support of the statements made. All relevant and original vouchers have not also been produced. The Assistant Secretary has stated during evidence that the replacement cost mentioned in Ext. J(4) to Ext. J(12) are based on quotations received by the Company and that the residual life of the machineries has been ascertained by Dr. Basu after his inspection. The witness has also stated that as the details of machineries were not available up to 1945, the maximum period was taken for their life during pre-1945 period. If the details could not be traced, I fail to understand on what basis the life can be ascertained. Moreover, how the maximum period was arrived at and on what basis has not been explained. According to O.P.W.1 this view has been taken in respect of all machineries mentioned in Exts. J(4) to J(12). According to the witness the actual life of machineries in respect of other periods the view of Dr. Basu was taken. The Plant and machineries, the witness goes on to say, mentioned in pre-1945 period were all in existence during the year 1958-59 and they were being used by the Company. Without reliable register of plants and machineries or other documents, it is difficult to accept that the palant and machineries during the period before 1954 were being used. There is no reliable evidence to prove when those machineries were acquired. O.P.W. 1 wants to say that the registers of plant and machineries up to March 1944 could not be filed as those were lost in the Income tax Office. There is no reliable evidence to accept this statement. It appears further from the evidence of this witness that the register for the year 1944-45 was not relied upon as it could not be completed. No reason has been given why it was not completed. The reason is not far to seek. Either no such register was maintained or the company did not maintain any such register in due course of business. Exhibit O is the plant and machineries register from April 1944 to March 1948. But the witness himself did not rely upon this register for the year 1944-45 as the statement for that year was not completed for want of details, because the details were not available. No explanation has been given as to why the details were not available. I have gone through the register and I find that some pages contain some amounts although descriptions have not been given. I fail to understand why some amounts were entered in this register without giving descriptions for the same. Several entries have been penned through without any intitial. Several pages have been left blank for best reasons known to the Company. According to the Assistant Secretary Ext. J(18) is based upon building register of the Company wherein the original costs are not available. This is strange and most objectionable. Why original costs were not entered has not been expalined by the Company. The witness has stated that Ext. J(18) is based upon original cost taken from departmental schedules. No departmental schedule has been filed. The reason is obvious. If really any such schedule is produced, it will go against the Company. By 'schedule' the witness means statements of details of machineries wherein original costs are given. The Assistant Secretary of the Company has clearly stated that he cannot say why the original costs of the buildings are not given in the Building Registers. We get from this witness also that the original costs in Exts. J(20) to J(25) are taken from the departmental schedules. In the absence of the departmental schedules they are worthless. O.P.W. 1 says in evidence that the multipliers given in the exhibits and statements are based on certificate given by Messrs. Ballardi Thompson & Mathews, Architecture & Engineers. These engineers, according to the witness, gave the residuary life of the buildings after inspection. None of Messrs. Ballardi Thompson & Mathews have come before this Tribunal to explain how multiples supplied to this company were arrived at. There is no convincing and reliable evidence either reagrding the residuary life of buildings. Exhibits J(13) is a statement regarding the cost of some machineries. In this statement some vouchers have been referred to. O.P.W. 1 has admitted that none of the vouchers mentioned in Ext. J(13) have been filed in this case in support of this statement. In cross-examination the witness has admitted that the Registers of machineries were not audited. Three such registers have been filed. They are Exts. O, O/1 and O/2. Of the registers Ext. O/1 bears some signature but the witness cannot say whose signature it is. The witness has admitted that the other registers do not bear any signature. With regard to the building register, Ext. O/3 filed by the Company, I must say that it is most unreliable like plant and machinery registers. On 19 March 1964 when my attention was brought to the fact that the Company filed copies of registers, I directed the Company to file the original ones. That very day the Company admitted through Shri Prokash, the officer, who was conducting the case, that the building register was a copy prepared only three months back that is to say in or about December 1963 and that the Company did not possess any other building register. Clearly, therefore, Ext. O/3, the building register, the original register. It was not maintained in course of business. No explanation has been given or on what basis this building register has been pre- for this case. The papers or materials out of h the register has been prepared have not been pro- before this Tribunal. I should say that this er. Ext. O/3, has been manufactured for the purpose s case without any reliable basis. I have comment- the plant and machinery registers, Exts. hall take one instance to see how unreliable V 1 is regarding his calculation for rehabilitation es. Let us take Ext. J(4), the rehabilitation state- in respect of boiler plant. According to the Com- the price of Lentges boiler mentioned in item 3 of Ext. J(4) has been taken from the Plant Machinery Register. The Company has given details in Ext. J(13). The erection cost of this t according to the Company, will be found in J(4) in item No. 13 amounting to Rs. 2,59,725 this erection cost of the plant has been arrived at he basis of the percentage of the original price of plant. According to Ext. J (4) the original of Lentges boiler was Rs. 1, 298, 614. How amount has been arrived at has been given in J (13). In this exhibit several amount had added up and the total comes to Rs. 1, 298, 614. descriptions of the amount have not been given. voucher numbers have been mentioned. Of se, the original vouchers have not been produced I must say purposely. This amount may be d in Ext. O/1 at page 84, we get two item and age 93 we get some other item. One of the at page 93 relates to services of fitters for the ion of the boiler plant in question and the nt against this item is Rs. 40,811. This amount nly relates, according to the company, to the ion cost of boiler but surprisingly this amount been included in the original price of the boiler. les inclusion of this amount for erection cost in riginal price of the boiler, the compny has in J (4) claimed erection cost of the boiler e extent of Rs. 2,59,725, and this amount een arrived at on the percentage basis. The any has avoided actual expenses incurred in ction with the plant and inflated the amount rection cost adopting percentage basis and this one most unreasonably and not honestly. I fail nderstand how erection costs appearing at page Ext. O/3 would be included in the original of the boiler and again without claiming actual erection cost of the Company adopted unfair basis of percentage. O.P.W. 1., fore, apears not only incorrect but I have no ution in my mind to say that his calculations ndeavours were unfair in order to show a heavy nt towards rehabilitation charges without any nable basis. The conduct of O.P.W.1 shows how ompany has been making attempts to make out se case of rehabilitation charges suppressing the tate of affairs and withholding reliable evidence. conduct would be evident from Ext. A. Even filing Ext. 6, O.P.W.1 has stated that the cal- on of the erection cost of the plant and machinery mentioned in Ext. J(4) was made on percentage basis mentioned therein and not according to the actual expenses incurred. The witness has not stated why the actual expenses were not considered. The reason is quite clear. The percentage basis has been adopted because in that case the Company will be able to show heavier amount for deduction from the gross profit. The witness has further admitted that balance-sheet would not show the details of the cost of machinery. I have found that the Registers of plant and machineries and buildings are unreliable and unacceptable. In these circumstances, therefore, the original costs of the machineries and buildings have not been proved before me. The dates of acquisition of plant and machineries and buildings have neither been satisfactorily proved. O.P.W.1 has stated clearly that some specimen vouchers have been placed before this Tribunal and not the main vouchers. Why has not the Company filed the necessary, important and reliable vouchers in this case ? The answer has not been given. From this witness of the Company we also get that the costs of buildings mentioned in Ext. J series are taken from the books of accounts of the Company. The Company deliberately suppressed the original books of accounts in support of the cost of buildings. O.P.W. 1 has revised the statement relating to the prior charges and he is the creator of Ext. A. It is significant to note as he has himself admitted that he has not seen any paper of the actual expenses incurred in connection with the erection of the buildings of the Company. He wants to say that he collected the material from the balance-sheet and the office notes. No further comment is necessary on the evidence of O.P.W.1. He is not a reliable witness His evidence, rather, shows how the Company has prepared papers and statements in support of claims which have no basis.

O.P.W. 2 calls himself an Executive (Technical) of the Company. He is a graduate in Chemical Engeering. He passed the Engineering examination in 1958 and he joined the Company before obtaining the degree. His evidence is that he obtained quotations for about 70 per cent. of the machineries of the plant. Only a list of the machineries and plants mentioned in Ext. J(4) to Ext. J(12) were prepared by him. His evidence is that he prepared the replacement cost of the machineries and plants on the basis of written quotations filed in this case and also on the basis of talks he held over phone with other concerns. He says that he prepared the calculations of the erection cost of the plant and machineries on the basis of percentage and according to his experience. It is to be noted that this young man who got his degree in 1958 is but a novice in the engineering line. His evidence further shows that for the calculation of the replacement cost he sometimes used multiplier factors when he did not get any quotation and that this multiplier is based upon information received from the suppliers over the phone relating to the boiler plant for the pre-45 period. The persons who supplied multipliers have not been examined in this case. He has not personally calculated the multipliers. With regard to other plant and machineries, the witness has stated, he received several quotations and learnt the general trend in the rise of prices and on the basis of rise in that direction he gave the multipliers for boiler plant for the period after 1945. At the same time the witness has stated that he does not know the labour cost for the period before 1958 except the record of the Company. He cannot also say in what proportion the labour cost has gone up after 1958. In cross-examination the witness has stated that the basis of the multiplier is the quotations. The genuineness of the quotation has not been proved in this case. During cross-examination at one stage he stated "in item A of Ext. J(4) the ultiplier is 4·4 although there is no original price indicated therein I ascertained the multiplier from different concerns orally. For the machineries after 1945 I obtained the original prices from the Accounts Department." It is needless to comment upon this evidence. Suffice it to say that the calculations or statements prepared by this witness on the questions mentioned are unreliable and without any sound basis. Towards the end of cross-examination O.P.W. 2 has stated that he does not know the original cost of the plant. It is strange that he did not make any attempt to know the original cost of the plant when, according to the Company, there are registers and departmental schedules. This witness also relied upon Exts. K and K(1) for multipliers which he gave in the statements Ext. J(20) to Ext J (24). The person who actually prepared these multipliers from Messrs. Ballardie Thompson & Mathews has not been examined before this Tribunal. This witness relied upon to the report of Shri Bose of Messrs. Ballardie Thompson & Mathews regarding the residuary life of buildings. It is clear from the evidence of O.P.W. 2 that his calculations are worthless.

O.P.W. 3 is Dr. J. N. Bose, who has been examined by the Company as an expert. The evidence shows that he was invited to inspect the machineries and plants of the Company and inspected them during the pendency of this case. He prepared a report and submitted to the General Manager of Company. The report will be found in Ext. J(26). He assessed the residuary life of machineries and plants. This witness charged Rs. 5,000 in lump as his remuneration and he got Rs. 1,000 up to the time he gave evidence. He was to get Rs. 1,000 more. This witness was engaged by the General Manager for inspection and report. The witness has not brought the field book with him. He says that he possesses the rough field book but he cannot say if he would be able to produce it. But, in fact, that field book has not been produced. The witness did not see any record of any machinery or plant to ascertain the year of installation. The years of installation were, however, supplied by the Company. The witness, it is stated, did not see machineries of new cell house and that he collected the materials of the new cell house from the records of the Company. The witness at a late stage of cross-examination stated that he saw the old and new cell houses in operation. The witness has admitted that he did not particularly study the machineries to ascertain their age and that he got the year of installation from the Company. In the case before me there is no reliable evidence as to the date of acquisition of the plant and machineries and the buildings. The expert witness, O.P.W. 3, ascertained the residuary life of machineries after considering the years of their installation from the Corporation. The years of installations supplied by the Company have not been proved before this Tribunal as corrected on the basis of reliable data. The calculations of this witness cannot, therefore, be acceptable as reliable. On consideration of the evidence and the circumstances I do not hesitate to say that the examination and the report of O.P.W. 3 relating to the machineries and the plants have not been thoroughly and realiably done on proper basis. The evidence of this witness is not at all helpful.

The next witness is O.P.W. 4, Shri Benoy Krishna Bose, a Civil Consulting Engineer of Messrs. Ballardie Thompson & Mathews. His evidence is that he inspected the buildings of the Company on the instruction of his firm to ascertain the residuary life of the buildings. His report is Ext. K(2). His evidence shows that the year of construction of the buildings were supplied by the Company. This witness has stated that Exts. K and K(1) were supplied to the Company by Messrs. Ballardie Thompson & Mathews. The source or basis of Exts. K and K(1) has not been proved. The evidence of this witness shows that during inspection he prepared no field book of his and that he had with him the previous report prepared by his Company in 1956. He has admitted that his findings were based upon the previous report. He has not, however, indicated as to the manner of calculations or the materials on which his finding was made regarding residuary life. In Ext. K(2) there is no mention of colony 'E' type quarters, Block No 3, mentioned in item No 24 at page 3 of the list of colony premises given in Ext 10. The witness cannot give any reason for their omission. This witness presumed the years of construction of buildings supplied by the Company to be correct. The witness was cross-examined at length and he could not explain certain discrepancy. It is clear from the evidence of this witness that his report was not purely independent. His report was prepared on the basis of the previous report prepared by Messrs Ballardie Thompson & Mathews in 1956. This witness did not prepare Exts. K and K(1). He did not verify whether Exts. K and K(1) will be applicable to the buildings at Jaykay Nagar. The witness has stated that in his report, Ext. K (2), he did not give entire life of any of the items. He only noted about the residuary life. In Ext. 10, however, he has noted the whole life in pencil. The witness has stated towards the end of his evidence that in his report he has given residuary life of the structures as was on 31st March 1959 and this estimate was but an approximate one. The witness has clearly stated that he did not personally see the state of construction in the year 1956 and that his estimate about that year cannot be safely relied upon. On perusal of the evidence of this witness I have no doubt about the fact that it is of no value whatsoever for ascertaining the residuary life of the buildings.

O.P.W. 5 is the General Manager of the Company. He has stated that the calculations and the accounts were prepared under his directions and supervision. He does not, however, say how he supervised in the matter of calculation or accounts or how he helped in their preparation. He has stated that he advised his Technical Assistant, Mr. Saraf, namely O.P.W. 2, to work out the calculations regarding the replacement cost. Dr. Basu was also instructed to find out the residuary life of the machineries. The witness has stated that he has got certain experience and knowledge about the residuary life of the machineries. Except this statement there is no proof that the General Manager has any knowledge as to how to ascertain the residuary life of the machineries. The witness had discussion with Dr. Basu in general about his report. Towards the end of his cross-examination the Genreal Manager has stated that the prior charges statements, Exts. A and 6, were prepared under his direction and supervision and that in or about October or November 1963 he directed for preparation of the prior charges statements which were subsequently filed in February 1964. This witness has not given any reason why he found it necessary to revise the prior charges statements filed previously or to prepare Ext. A and other statements. This witness does not help the Tribunal in any manner and he proves nothing in favour of the Company.

Another significant fact is to be noted in this case. In the present case the Company has claimed rehabilitation charges for the machineries acquired before 1944. In the previous case O.P.W. 5, Shri Bhasin, gave evidence in favour of the Company as Manager. The evidence given by him will appear at page 21 of Ext. 1, the paper book prepared in connection with an appeal before the Supreme Court of India. In that case Shri Bhasin stated that the factory had actually started production from 1944 and that it had started acquiring equipments since 1936 onwards. The life of machineries is affected considerably as soon as it starts work. If the factory really started production from 1944, the question arises whether the Company can claim rehabilitation charges for the machineries for the period before 1944.

In the present case I have gone through the evidence, both oral and documentary, and on consideration of the evidence, facts and circumstances of this case I find that the Company has failed to prove by satisfactory evidence the claim for rehabilitation and replacement charges. The Company has failed to adduce satisfactory evidence about the probable life of the plant and machineries and the buildings and their conditions in the year under consideration. It is not possible to make any finding as to the rehabilitation charges. There is no reliable evidence to show the age of the machineries, the years of their acquisition, the period during which they required replacement, and the cost of replacement. There is no evidence to prove the original cost of plant, machineries and the buildings. There is no reliable basis for ascertaining multipliers and divisors. Practically speaking, there is no reliable material before this Tribunal on which a proper calculation may be made for the purpose of rehabilitation charges. The Tribunal cannot allow any claim towards rehabilitation charges by guesswork or as a matter of grace. The amount of rehabilitation charge can be and should be determined on the light of evidence adduced by the employer and applying the principles laid down in the decision of the Supreme Court in the case of Associated Cement Co. Ltd. reported in A.I.R. 1959, S.C., at page 967. The Company in the present case filed a large number of statements but unfortunately the statements filed are of no value because they are not supported by any reliable basis or materials. The oral evidence of a large number of witnesses will not establish the claim for rehabilitation charges unless it is supported by convincing and reliable data and papers of the Company. In the present case there is nothing to prove the claim of the Company towards the rehabilitation charges. Nothing for rehabilitation charges should, therefore, be deducted from Rs. 4,52,614.46 previously arrived at. The available surplus, therefore, for the year 1958-59 comes to Rs. 4,52,614.46 P. P.W.1, the Secretary of the Association, has stated that the total amount of monthly wages paid by the Company for the workmen at its factory and the Head Office would be between Rs. 50,000 and Rs. 52,000. The statement, it is quite clear, is not precise. O.P.W. 1, the Assistant Secretary of the Company, has stated that the total amount of basic wages which have been paid to the workmen every month will be to the extent of Rs. 63,000. There is no convincing documentary evidence to prove that the amount of Rs. 63,000 was the total wages paid to the workmen. However, if I accept this amount as acceptable, in that case there is sufficient surplus as indicated above to pay for the bonus to the workmen for the year 1958-59 to the extent of two months' basic wages. The evidence shows that the workmen have already been allowed bonus at the rate of 1/16th of the net basic earnings during the 12 months ending 31st March 1959. The claim of the workmen is for bonus to the extent of three months' basic wages. In this case I allow further bonus to the workmen for the year ending 31st March 1959 amounting to two months' basic wages in addition to the gratuity bonus already allowed by the Company. This award shall be implemented within a month from its publication in the "Calcutta Gazette."

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Indian Health Institute and Laboratory Ltd., 1 Health Institute Road, Dum Dum, Calcutta-28 and their workmen represented by the Health Institute Mazdoor Union, 43 Narendra Nath Mukherjee Road, Calcutta-28. (G. O. No. 4168-IR, dated 11th September, 1964). (Case No. 9 of 64.)

BEFORE THE FOURTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present :

Shri R. BHATTACHARYA, M.A. LL.B., Judge,
Fourth Industrial Tribunal.

For the Union : Shri P. P. Pathak.

For the Company : Shri N. Das Gupta, Advocate, Shri D. K. Das Gupta, Advocate, and instructed by Shri H. K. Shome.

This is a reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act referred to this Tribunal by the Government of West Bengal. The parties are Messrs. Indian Health Institute and Laboratory Ltd. (referred to as the Health Institute), 1 Health Institute Road, Dum Dum, Calcutta-28, and their workmen represented by the Health Institute Mazdoor Union (described hereinafter as the Union), 43 Narendra Nath Mukherjee Road, Calcutta-28. The issues for decision are as follows :

1. Grades and scales of pay for the monthly paid workmen

2. Dearness allowance.

3. Whether the durwans are entitled to festival holidays? What alternative relief, if any, are they entitled to ?

4. Working hours.

In short, the case of the Union is that the Health Institute is highly prosperous having sound financial position. It has been making profit every year. The wages of the workmen and the dearness allowance are meagre and unjust. There are no grades and scales of pay of the workmen. The durwans are not allowed festival holidays. They are compelled to work on holidays and they do not get any compensation. They are not allowed festival holidays as enjoyed by other workmen. The Union wants raising of the wage structure with the introduction of grades and scales of pay and also an increase in the dearness allowance. They also want that the durwans may be allowed to enjoy equally with other workmen the festival holidays.

The Health Institute, on the other hand, wants that the working hours of the Health Institute should be increased to 48 hours per week. The management says that the Health Institute is not highly prosperous and that its financial position is not so sound as alleged by the workmen. The case of the Health Institute is that if the workmen work for 48 hours in a week the concern will produce more products and earn more. According to the Factories Act, the workmen are bound to work for 48 hours in a week. It is also alleged that the pays and the dearness allowance are adequate. With regard to durwans it has been stated that they are meant for security of the properties of the Health Institute and that they are required to attend their duties on festival holidays on such conditions as they have been employed in the Health Institute. The Health Institute has been making ex-gratia payment of basic pay to the durwans for such festival holidays.

At the very outset I must mention that there has been no dispute from the side of the Health Institute about the fact that this is an industrial dispute. The workmen in this case are properly represented by the Union and I hold that this is an industrial dispute. For the sake of convenience I shall take up the issue No. 4 which relates to the working hours. At the time of argument Shri Pathak from the side of the workmen has submitted that the workmen are not unwilling to work for 48 hours in a week but at the same time they claim increase in their wages and dearness allowance because at present they are working 37 hours in a week. According to the provision of the Factories Act, t employer is entitled to increase working hours to hours in a week. This issue No. 4 has been raised the instance of the Health Institute. The Secreta of the Union, P. W. 6, has stated that he is not awa of any factory in West Bengal where the duty hou of the workers are 37 hours in a week. Exhibit K is letter of the Union, dated 9th June, 1964, address to the Labour Commissioner. At page 2 of that lett the Union agreed to the proposal of the manage me for increase of the working hours. Of course, at t same time the Union demanded increased wag Exhibit P is a letter written by the Health Institu to the Assistant Labour Commissioner on 25th Ju 1964. At page 2 of this letter again the Hea Institute stated that it was prepared to consi the case for increment of pay if the worke were agreeable to accept increased working hou O. P. W. 2 is the Factory Manager of the Hea Institute. He has stated that the demand for t medicines of this concern in the market is very hi and that the Health Institute is unable to supp according to the demands. During cross examina this witness has frankly stated that if the worki hours are increased to 48 hours per week there wo certainly be more production and that the Compa will earn more. He has also agreed that if the worki hours are increased to 48 hours, there should be increa in the remuneration of the workers. From the eviden adduced in this case, I am satisfied that this is a case where the working hours should be increa to 48 hours in a week to avoid wastage of labour a also for raising national income. This will also be the Health Institute to pay more to the workers the form of wages and allowances. I, therefore, deci that the management of the Health Institute shall entitled to increase the working hours to 48 hou in a week.

I shall now take up the issue No. 1, which relates t grades and scales of pay for the monthly paid workme Several balance-sheets of the Health Institute hav been exhibited in this case and there is no dispute befo me that the Health Institute has been earning profi for the last few years. The Health Institute as we as the Union have filed several documents which hav been marked exhibits in this case. Some statement have also been filed from the side of the Health In titute regarding some calculations in respect of financ and accounts. I pay little importance to them becaus no papers of accounts or reliable evidence or witness had been produced in support of these statement Exhibits D, G, and O have not been properly prove and supported by reliable and acceptable records o accounts. Apart from the fact that the Health Insti tute is earning profit every year, we get the evidence of the Factory Manager, O. P. W. 2, that if the working hours are increased to 48 hours, there should be increas in the remuneration of the workers also. The ground for such increase is given by this witness when he says that there would certainly be more production and more earning on account of increase of the working hours. In the facts and circumstances of this case, therefore, the remunerations of the workers must be increased and on account of that increase the financial positio of the Health Institute will not be materially affecte Admittedly, there are no grades and scales of pay of th workers. O. P. W. 1, the Accountant of the Healt Institute, has stated that there are no grades and scale of pay. From the evidence it is clear that the Health Institute has not been regularly allowing increment to the workmen in their wages. Practically speaking, the wages of the workers are stagnant. Admittedly, there has been no appreciable revision in the wages of the workmen. It is highly desirable that the service conditions of the workmen should be improved by introduction of grades and scales of pay so that the workmen may work confidently with future expectation under security.

Unfortunately, the parties in this case have not adduced any detailed evidence regarding the categories of workmen working in this concern. However, I find some lists of workmen filed by the Health Institute as well as the Union. I also find designations of different workmen working in different concerns as would be evident by some agreements regarding service conditions filed in this case. I have considered all the evidence, both oral and documentary, adduced in this case including balance-sheets of different companies, the rates of remuneration of the workmen prevalent in other concerns as stated in different agreements and charts and also Exts. G and O referred to by the Company. I have already indicated earlier that the statements filed in this case by the Company without being supported by reliable papers of accounts and other evidence are of no importance. I have also considered Ext. 12, the letter of the Company stating the minimum monthly pay and dearness allowance paid to the time-rated employees. Giving my anxious consideration to the facts and circumstances of this case I fix the following grades and scales of pay for the Health Institute :

Unskilled workers like menials, coolies, peons, bearers, durwans and other general unskilled workers—Rs.36-2-96.

Semi-skilled workers like packers, checkers, etc.—Rs.40-2-100.

Skilled workers like carpenters, masons, motor drivers fillers and sealers, boilers attendants, gas attendants, etc. -Rs.48-3-138.

Laboratory assistants, supervisors, mechanics—Rs.60-5-210.

Junior chemists—Rs.70-5-120-6-240.

Senior chemists—Rs.85-6-145-8-305.

Junior clerks including typists, time-keepers, etc.—Rs 60-5-210.

Senior clerks and representatives—Rs.80-7-290.

Workmen, who are getting less than the minimum of the scales fixed by me, shall be pulled up to the minimum or the lowest stage of the scale, and those who are getting the minimum or more than the minimum in the scales shall be fitted in the next higher incremental stage in the relevant scales in relation to their existing basic pay. I make it clear that the scales I have fixed are on the basis of 48 hours work in a week.

Issue No. 2

I shall now consider the issue regarding dearness allowance. There is no dispute that the Company pays dearness allowance at the rate of 50 per cent. of the basic pay of the workmen with the minimum of Rs.25 and the maximum of the dearness allowance has been fixed at Rs.50. Admittedly also, there has been no revision in the rate of dearness allowance within recent time and that the cost of living has been rising by leaps and bounds. In these circumstances, it is just and proper that there should be some revision in the rates of dearness allowance. On consideration of the rates prevalent in other concerns as mentioned in different statements exhibited in this case on the side of the union, I fix the rate of dearness allowance at 60 per cent. of the basic pay with the minimum of Rs.35 and the maximum payable to the workmen is hereby fixed at Rs.80.

Only the issue no. 3 now remains to be decided. The question arises whether the durwans are entitled to festival holidays as allowed to other workmen. If the question is answered in negative, then the further question that arises is whether they are entitled to any other alternative relief. The union says that the durwans are not allowed festival holidays and that they are compelled to work and do their duties on such holidays. The Health Institute, on the other hand, says that the durwans being members of the security staff are to look after the Company's properties even on holidays and unless the properties are properly looked after, the Health Institute will suffer irreparable loss. The Health Institute has further stated that as the durwans are to do their duties on festival holidays, the Health Institute has been making ex-gratia payment of basic pay for such holidays. Mere payment of the basic pay for the festival holidays is not enough. There should be no unfair discrimination between one class of workers and another. Durwans are also normal human beings with human feelings and sentiments. It is not unusual for the employer to pay some allowance to the durwans if they are forced to work on festival holidays which are being enjoyed by other workmen. In addition to this allowance the Health Institute should further allow substituted holidays to the durwans in case they are required to be on duty on any festival holiday. This substituted holidays should be allowed to the durwans whenever they will claim for them provided that the durwans must claim the substituted holidays and enjoy them within a year from the date of the festival holidays in question. Such substituted holidays shall be with normal and usual remunerations.

This award must be implemented by the Health Institute with effect from the 1st of August 1965. The duty hours of the workmen for 48 hours in a week shall also start from the date fixed, but in case the Health Institute fails to fix the duty hours as mentioned by me, the grades and scales of pay already fixed by me shall not be affected thereby and the workmen shall be entitled to the benefits of the same.

ORDERS

No. 2314-I.R., IR 10L-176/64.—19th June 1965.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 1433-I.R. IR 10L-66, dated the 22nd September 1964, the industrial dispute between Messrs. K. B. Jethi and Co., 65 Benaras Road, Howrah, and their workmen represented by the Howrah Small Factories Workers' Union, C/o Anadi Das, M. L. A., Dasnagar, Howrah, regarding the issues specified in the said order being matters specified in the second and the third schedules to the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), was referred for adjudication to the Seventh Industrial Tribunal;

And whereas the said Seventh Industrial Tribunal has submitted to the State Government its award in the said industrial dispute;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

B. Jethi & Co., 65 Benaras Road, Howrah, and Their Workmen represented by the Howrah Small Factories Workers' Union, C/o Anadi Das, M. L. A., Dasnagar, Howrah. (Case No.VIII—286/64.)

BEFORE THE SEVENTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present

Shri S. K. RAY, Judge, Seventh Industrial Tribunal.

For the Union: None.

For the Company: Shri J. D. Mukherjee, Advocate.

AWARD

The above dispute over the issues given in the order of reference and reproduced below as referred for adjudication to this Tribunal by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 4433-I.R./IR 10L-176/64, dated the 22nd September 1964.

Issues

(1) Wages and dearness allowance.
(2) Leave.
(3) Holidays.
(4) Permanency.

The parties appeared before the Tribunal in response to notices issued to them and filed their respective written statements in due course. After necessary preliminary proceedings and some adjournments, the case was finally fixed for hearing on 29th May, 1965. On that date, there was no appearance on behalf of the Union, but the Company filed a Memorandum of Settlement of the dispute under reference concluded between the Company and the entire body of its workmen, and signed by the Company's representative and all the workmen of the Company numbering seven and praying for a compromise award in terms of the Memorandum of Settlement. As there was no appearance on behalf of the Union, I considered it necessary to put the Company to proof of the fact that the Memorandum of Settlement was signed by all the workmen of the Company and necessarily the workmen concerned in the present dispute. Shri B. K. Jethi, a partner of the Company, gave evidence and proved by his sworn testimony that this Company had only seven workmen and all the seven workmen had signed the Memorandum of Settlement. I see no reason to disbelieve his testimony. It is also significant to note that the Union has chosen not to make any appearance, though the final date of hearing was known to it and there is no opposition on behalf of the Union to the acceptance of the Memorandum of Settlement and the passing of an award on that basis. After considering all aforesaid facts and circumstances, I accept the Memorandum of Settlement as bona fide and genuine and hold that the dispute under reference has been amicably settled between the Company and the entire body of its workmen in terms of the said Memorandum of Settlement which has been signed by all its workmen and necessarily the workmen concerned in the dispute. I have also considered the terms of settlement and I accept them as quite fair and lawful. There should therefore be a compromise award in terms of the Memorandum of Settlement as prayed for by the Company.

In the result, I make a compromise award in terms of the Memorandum of Settlement, a copy whereof is made a part of the award as an Annexure.

S. K. RAY,
Judge, Seventh Industrial Tribunal.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of a complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, filed by one Sukumar Bose, an employee of the Indian Iron & Steel Co. Ltd., Burnpur, Asansol, against the aforesaid Company. (Address of the employee : C/o United Iron & Steel Workers' Union, Bari Smriti Bhawan, P. O. Burnpur, Dist. Burdwan). (Case No. 159/63 under section 33A).

BEFORE THE FIFTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present :

Shri K. P. MUKHERJEE, Judge,
Fifth Industrial Tribunal.

Present for the Company : Shri Lenin Roy, Advocate and Shri B. B. Ghosh, Advocate of Messrs. Fowler & Co., Solicitors.

Present for the workman : Shri Kalyan Roy, an officer of the United Iron & Steel Workers' Union.

This is a complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by the workman Sukumar Bose against his employer opposite party, the Indian Iron & Steel Company Ltd., alleging contravention of the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947. The original reference out of which this case has arisen was made under G. O. No. 3430/I.R./IR/10L-41(L)/60, dated the 4th July 1960, read with order No. 4507-I.R./IR/10L-41(L)/60, dated the 3rd October, 1962.

The case of the petitioner in short is that a charge-sheet was given to him on 27th July 1963 alleging theft of some materials belonging to the Company, and after a show of enquiry into the charge-sheet which was issued to him, he was dismissed from service with effect from 13th August 1963. It is alleged that the enquiry made against him was in violation of the principles of natural justice, and the finding of the enquiry committee is absolutely perverse. It is further alleged that there has been violation of the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947. The petitioner has prayed for his reinstatement with full back wages.

The application has been opposed by the opposite party by filing a written statement. The case of the Company as setforth in the written statement may shortly be stated as follows:

The petitioner was given a charge-sheet on 27th July 1963 for theft of the Company's materials, and an enquiry into the charge-sheet was held by two officers of the Company. Sukumar Bose participated in the enquiry and he was given full opportunity to defend himself. He was found guilty of the charge brought against him, and as a result of the enquiry he was dismissed from service. The enquiry, it is said, was held in conformity with the principles of natural justice and the petitioner was given full opportunity to cross-examine the witnesses examined on behalf of the Company and also to examine his own witnesses. It is also pleaded that there has been no violation of the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 and the present application is misconceived and not maintainable. It is further pleaded that the petitioner not being a workman concerned in any pending industrial dispute between the opposite party and its workmen, is not competent to file this application, and the application is not maintainable in law. The petitioner, it is said, is not entitled to any relief in this case.

Decision

A preliminary objection has been raised on behalf of the opposite party that the petitioner, not being a workman concerned in the pending industrial dispute between the opposite party and its employee Samar Sen, is not competent to file this petition under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act. It is clear from sub-section 2 of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, that a workman can file an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act duringt he pendency of an industrial dispute, if he is concerned in such a dispute. It is an admitted fact that a dispute is pending for adjudication before this Tribunal regarding the retrenchment of Samar Sen, a workman who was formerly the Secretary of this Union. The evidence of P. W. 1 Kalyan Roy, the Joint Secretary of the Union, is that the petitioner Sukumar Bose is a member of this Union since 1958 and he along with other workmen approached the Union for taking up the cause of Samar Sen after his retrenchment. He has further stated that the petitioner also contributed to the fund which was opened for meeting the costs of litigation of Samar Sen. He has however not produced any documents to show that the petitioner is a member of the United Iron & Steel Co. Ltd. Workers' Union or that he paid special subscriptions for meeting the costs of the case of Samar Sen, which is pending. It is stated by P. W. 1, the Joint Secretary of the Union, that a written representation was submitted to the Union by a large number of workmen for taking up the cause of Samar Sen, but that document has also not been produced and no satisfactory explanation has also been offered for its non-production. Had these documents been produced by the Union, it would have shown that though Sukumar Bose was not in the employment of the opposite party at the time when Samar Sen was retrenched, he, after his appointment, was one of the workmen who took up the cause of Samar Sen. It is also to be noted that in the petition it is nowhere stated that the petitioner Sukumar Bose is a workman concerned in the dispute which is pending between the opposite party and its workman Samar Sen before this Tribunal. There cannot be any doubt that in order to attract the provision of section 33A it must be proved that the employer has contravened the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, during the pendency of an industrial dispute and the petitioner is a workman concerned in such a dispute. If the petitioner is not a workman concerned in such a dispute, he cannot make an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act even in case of contravention of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act by the employer. The expression "workman concerned in such dispute" has been interpreted by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of New India Motors, reported in 1960, L.L.J. 555. It has been held that the expression 'workman concerned in such dispute' in section 33 should not be limited to workmen directly or materially concerned in such dispute, but includes all workmen who sponsored the dispute. In the instant case, the Union has not been able to establish by satisfactory evidence that the petitioner was one of the workmen who sponsored the dispute regarding the retrenchment of Samar Sen. He therefore cannot be regarded as a workman concerned in the pending dispute between the opposite party and its workman Samar Sen. In this view of the matter the preliminary objection raised on behalf of the opposite party that the present application is not maintainable in law should prevail. I accordingly hold that the petitioner not being a workman concerned in the dispute between the opposite party and its workman Samar Sen is not competent to maintain the application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act.

In view of my finding above, it is not necessary to consider the application on merits. The application is accordingly rejected as not maintainable.

This is my award.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, filed by Shri Rajeswar Pasman, C/o Automobile Engineering Workers' Union, 249D Bowbazar Street, Calcutta, as employee of Messrs. India Trading Co., 99 Grey Street, Calcutta-5, against the said Company in connection with G. O. No. 2343-I R./IR/15L-9/63, dated the 12th June 1963 (Case No. 63 of 1964 under section 33A).

BEFORE THE SIXTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri P. BASU, Bar-at-law, Judge.

Appearances:

For the workman — Shri Biswanath Ash, Advocate.

For the Company — Shri C. L. Ganguli, Advocate.

This application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act was filed on 13th May 1964 by Shri Rajeswar Pasman (hereinafter referred to as Shri Pasman) who was one of the employees under the Opposite Party-Company Messrs. India Trading Co., 99 Grey Street Calcutta-5 (hereinafter referred to as Opposite Party). It has been alleged that the applicant Shri Pasman had been appointed as an unskilled worker about the beginning of 1962 and was made permanent in service and was drawing Rs. 60 per month. On 28th October 1963

Shri Pasman obtained leave for a month on account of his illness and went to his native home in the district of Mazaffarpur where his illness aggravated. He therefore had sent an application on 25th November, 1963 for extension of his leave for the further period of one month. He had sent another letter for further extension of leave for about 2 1/2 months on the ground that he was suffering from serious illness. Inspite of these letters, no intimation was given by the Opposite Party. After recovering from illness the Petitioner came back to Calcutta in the first week of March 1964 and reported to his duty on 5th March 1964. At that time, the Petitioner was asked by the Opposite Party to bring the medical certificate showing that he was ill. The Petitioner thereupon brought the medical certificate from the doctor under whom he was getting his treatment and the medical certificate was shown to the Opposite Party on 23rd March, 1964. The Opposite Party, however, did not allow the applicant to join and had told him that he had been dismissed from service and the post had been filled up with new hand. It is further alleged that the Opposite Party did not issue any notice or any chargesheet and did not hold any enquiry with regard to the action taken against the applicant, that the order of dismissal is illegal, mala fide, vindictive and without jurisdiction, that the applicant had been victim of unfair labour practice, that he is an active member of the Automobile Engineering Workers' Union and that he had been really victimised for his trade union activities. In the circumstances, it is prayed that the applicant may be reinstated in service with full wages for the entire period of unemployment since 5th March 1964 till the date of reinstatement.

The Opposite Party in the written statement has raised a preliminary objection to the effect that as the applicant had not been dismissed or discharged for any misconduct and as there has been no violation of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act, the present application under section 33A of the Act is not maintainable. It is further alleged that the main dispute which was pending before this Tribunal related to the issue of "Grades and Scales of Pay", that dispute had no connection whatsoever with the present application of the complainant, that the complainant was employed as a coolie at the Kerosene Depot of the Opposite Party at No 1 Uttadanga Road, Calcutta, in 1962 and was paid Rs. 60 per month and that the complainant did not render continuous service for one year, i. e. 240 days in the year and in or about October 1963 the complainant all on a sudden started absenting himself from his duty. The Opposite Party had made enquiries and came to know that the applicant had left for his native place in the district of Mazaffarpur without applying for leave and without giving any information as to the reasons for his unauthorised absence. The Opposite Party had waited for more than two months and in January 1964 had written a letter to the complainant enquiring about the reasons for his unauthorised absence for such a long period. Inspite of this letter the applicant did not reply and did not also report to his duties and therefore the Opposite Party presumed that the complainant had left his service of his own accord. The Opposite Party denies all knowledge about the membership of the Union, and further denies that it has been pursuing unfair labour practice in order to victimise any member of the Union. The allegation of taking of leave, the allegation of the letters alleged to have been sent for extension of leave and the other allegations regarding the alleged production of the medical certificate are all denied. The applicant therefore, is not entitled to get any relief.

The following points arise for consideration in this case :

(1) Has the employer contravened section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act? Had there been dismissal of the applicant contrary to the provisions of that section?

(2) If there has been a contraventon, is the order of the employer justified of the merits?

Point No. 1

Before I proceed to consider the question formulated above, I would refer to the rulings reported in A I R 1958 S C., 761 = 1958(I) L L. J., 793 = 17 F. J R 184 (Equitable Coal Co Ltd vs Algu Singh), and 1959 (I) L L J , 410 (Oriental Textile Finishing Mill vs State of Punjab). In the first case, two workmen in a Colliery complained that the Appellant Company had illegally and unjustifiably dismissed them during the pendency of appeal before the Labour Appellate Tribunal, without obtaining the latter's permission and they alleged that they had been victimised for trade union activities. The employer contended that the workmen were dismissed under standing order on charges of riotious and disorderly behaviour and assault after due enquiry. It appears that there was a proceeding in the criminal court and the workmen were sentenced. The employer further contended that the contravention was purely technical and did not justify the claim for compensation. The Labour Appellate Tribunal held that it could not be said that the view taken by the Enquiring Officer was an impossible one, but nonetheless since the requisite permission was not obtained, the workers were entitled to compensation and this was awarded. It was held by the Supreme Court that in an enquiry under this section, two questions fall to be considered : (i) is the fact of contravention by the employer proved? and (ii) if proved is the order passed by the employer justified on the merits? If both these questions are answered in favour of the employee, the Tribunal would no doubt be entitled to pass appropriate order in his favour, If the first point is answered in favour of the employee but if on the second point the finding is that on the merits the order is justified, then the breach may ordinarily be recorded as technical breach, and it may not, unless there are compelling facts in favour of the employees, justify any substantial order of compensation. If the first issue is answered against the employer, nothing furhther can be done. It was further observed that what orders should meet the ends of justice in the case of a technical breach would necessarily be a question of fact to be determined in the light of circumstances of each case. In that case their Lordships held that the Labour Appellate Tribunal was not justified in passing an award for compensation. In the other case, a workman was dismissed during the pendency of an industrial dispute and he had filed a complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act. The Tribunal without going into the merits of the dismissal held in its award that he complainant would be deemed not to be dismissed discharged and he was entitled to wages. It was held the Panjab High Court that it was not open to the ribunal to quash the dismissal merely on the ground at the dismissal was contrary to section 33. The ribunal must go into two matters : (i) whether the dismissal has been made contrary to the provisions of ection 33, and (ii) whether the dismissal is unjustified the merits. Their Lordships had referred to the dings reported in A. I. R. 1955 S. C. 258 = 1955 (I) L. J., 316 (Automobile Products of India vs. Rukaji Bala) and A. I. R. 1953, Bombay 133 = 1952 (II) L. J., 178 (Batuk K. Vyas vs. Surat Borough Municipality) and had held that the Tribunal had not decided he complaint in a manner warranted by law and had nt back the dispute for adjudication on the merits.

I shall now turn to discuss the preliminary objection hich has been raised by Shri Ganguli appearing for he Opposite Party. Shri Ganguli had pointed out that ere has been no order either of dismissal or of discharge f the applicant and therefore it could not be said that ere had been any contravention of section 33 of the dustrial Disputes Act. I do not think that the ques on of contravention of section 33 of the Act can really e decided without going into the facts. If really there ad been no dismissal at all, as alleged in the petition of mplaint, during the pendency of the main dispute fore this Tribunal, then of course, there could not e no contravention of section 33 of the Industrial Disutes Act. As mentioned earlier, if the contravention f section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act is not proved d is decided against the applicant, then of course, he application under section 33A of the Act must fail. s therefore abundantly clear that the facts must be scertained before it can be said whether the applicaon under section 33A of the Act is maintainable or ot. I had therefore told the learned lawyer Shri Ganguli that I cannot decide the preliminary objection without deciding the disputed question of fact as to whether there had been dismissal or not. On this point, here is the allegation of dismissal by the applicant and here is the contrary allegation that the complainant as left the service of his own accord as alleged by the pposite Party. The important question therefore s whether the complainant has really been dismissed uring the pendency of the main dispute before the Tribunal or whether he has left service of his own accord. s has been provided in section 33(2)(b) that during he pendency of any proceeding in respect of any industrial dispute, the employer may, in accordance with he standing orders applicable to a workman concerned such dispute, for any misconduct not connected with he dispute, discharge or punish whether by way of smissal or otherwise that workman, provided that o such workman shall be discharged or dismissed unless there he has been paid wages for one month and an pplication has been made by the employer to the uthority before which such proceeding is pending for pproval of the action taken by the employer. Now, it is admitted by both parties that the applicant was workman under the Opposite Party, and that the ham dispute was pending before this Tribunal. The emaining question therefore is whether there had been discharge or punishment of the workman by way of dismissal for any misconduct not connected with the dispute. Shri Ganguli had alleged that in the facts nd circumstances of the present case, it is not necessary for the employer to file any application under section 33(2)(b) of the Act, or to comply with the proviso to that section. The employer is certainly not liable to file the application unless it is found that really and substantially the employer had dismissed the workman for a misconduct not connected with the dispute. I also do not agree with Mr. Ganguli that verbal order of dismissal is not enough, if there is really any order of dismissal, it may be verbal or in writing. The question, however is whether there was really any dismissal as alleged by the applicant or whether the applicant has really left the service of the Opposite Party of his own accord. It is the case that the applicant had obtained leave on account of his illness from 28th October, 1963 and had gone to his native home for his treatment and after about 4½ months, he had returned and sought to join but was prevented from joining unless he produced the medical certificate. It is his further case that he had brought the medical certificate and produced it on 23rd March 1964 and the medical certificate was not accepted and then the applicant was informed that he had been dismissed from service. Therefore, even according to the case of the applicant, he was told about the dismissal from service on 23rd March, 1964. In the circumstances, I do not see why in the prayer portion the date 5th March 1964 has been mentioned. The applicant in his evidence had stated that he had made an oral application for leave and had obtained leave from the Malik, namely Gyan Babu and Baldeo Babu and went on leave for a month. On this point, the applicant is silent (vide paragraph 3 of the written statement). It is not stated in that paragraph that the petitioner had made a verbal application for leave to Gyan Babu and Baldeo Babu and after his verbal application for leave had been sanctioned he had proceeded home. It may also be pointed out that if the applicant really fell ill in or about October 1963, he must have been treated by some doctor here. It may be further mentioned that it was suggested to P. W. 1 who is the applicant that if any worker wants to go on leave he has to inform the depot in-charge Shri Tewari and that he had denied the suggestion. O. P. W. 2 Shri Tewari has stated that if any leave is required by the person working in the depot the leave is granted by the depot in-charge. He has further stated that Shri Pasman had worked at the depot on 28th October 1963 and that oral application for leave is made to him and he gives leave orally. He has denied the suggestion that Pasman verbally prayed for leave from him and that he had granted that prayer. The suggestion to O. P. W. 2 that he had granted leave on the verbal prayer of the applicant is contrary to the evidence of P. W. 1 who had said that he had obtained leave from Gyan Babu and Baldeo Babu. I do not think there is any reliable evidence to show that actually the applicant was granted leave either from 28th October 1963 or from 29th October 1963, on account of his alleged illness. The Hazira Book (Ext. E.) shows that Shri Pasman had worked till 28th October, 1963. Therefore, the allegation in paragraph 5 of the written statement that Shri Pasman went on leave from 28th October, 1963 cannot possibly be true. It would appear that thereafter Shri Pasman had been marked absent by O. P. W. 2. It is the further evidence of O. P. W. 2 that when Shri Pasman was found absent he made a report to the Malik verbally and thereafter the Malik had written to Shri Pasman who, however, did not give any reply. O. P. W. 1 Shri Gyan had stated that O. P. W. 2 had submitted a report about the last week of November 1963 that Shri Pasman was not coming to duty for a month. The learned lawyer appearing for the workman had pointed out the discrepancy between the evidence of O. P. W. 1 and O. P. W. 2. Whereas O. P. W. 1 had said that O. P. W. 2 had made a report about the end of November 1963, O. P. W. 2 had said that he made the report about a week after he had found that Shri Pasman was absenting himself from his duty. There is no doubt some discrepancy but still the fact remains that there was a report fairly early about the unauthorised absence of Shri Pasman. If really leave had been granted either by the depot in-charge (O. P. W. 2) or by O. P. W. 1 and Baldeo Babu, surely there would have been some note in the Hazira Book regarding the period of leave. I do not think there is any cogent reason for not accepting the evidence of O. P. Ws. 1 and 2 regarding the unauthorised absence of the applicant from 29th October, 1963. The evidence of O. P. W. 1 further shows that the letter (Ext. C) was written on 17th January, 1964. In that letter, it has been quite clearly written that Shri Pasman had been absenting himself from his duty without permission and/or authority from 29th October, 1963 and had not applied for any leave and had not informed the management regarding the reasons for his unauthorised absence. The address given in the letter is the address mentioned by P. W. 1 in his evidence. Exhibit D is the certificate of posting and there is the presumption of service in due course of post. P. W. 1 had no doubt denied that he had received any letter from the Company which is alleged to have been written about the middle of January 1964 but in view of the facts and circumstances which I have mentioned above, I cannot accept his denial regarding the service of this letter (Ext. C). The applicant however, did not turn up even after receiving that letter and according to his own case he only came on 5th March, 1964. The facts and circumstances, which I have mentioned above, appear to me to indicate that really there was no application for leave and no leave was granted to Shri Pasman before he started absenting himself from 29th October, 1963. The learned lawyer appearing for the workman however urged that the evidence of P. W. 1 regarding granting of leave would be corroborated by the subsequent conduct of the workman in sending two letters to the employer asking for extension of leave.

I shall now shortly discuss this question. Regarding the application for extension of leave which is alleged to have been sent on 25th November, 1963, it appears to me that there is no cogent evidence. The learned lawyer for the workman had relied strongly on the postal receipt (Ext. 1) and also on the evidence of P. W. 1. No copy of the letter or application had been produced by the applicant, and the alleged original application has also not been called for from the Opposite Party. O. P. W. 1 has also not been asked any question about the receipt of the letter alleged to have been sent on 25th November, 1963. The learned lawyer Shri Ganguli had pointed out that even Ext. 1 does not contain the full address of Baldeo Babu who is one of the partners of the firm and that the address is "Baldeo Babu, Calcutta-5". He submitted that even if any such letter has been sent by the applicant, it could not have possibly been delivered to Baldeo Babu or to the Company at 99 Grey Street, Calcutta-5. In my opinion, there considerable force in this submission made by Sh Ganguli on behalf of the Opposite Party. It appe to me that there is absolutely no cogent evid to show that any application for extension of lea was at all sent by Shri Pasman on or about 25th Nov ber, 1963, or was ever received by Baldeo Babu anyone else on behalf the Company Oppos Party. With regard to the subsequent letter wh has been mentioned in paragraph 5 of the writt statement of the workman. The workman has has said that as he was short of fund, he has s posteard for further extension of his leave. It may point out that the persons who had written the le or the postcard on behalf of the applicant in his villa home in the district of Mazaffarpur had not be examined in this case. I have therefore come to t conclusion that the applicant had neither obtain leave originally and had also not applied for extens sion of leave on two occasions. There is also no cogent evidence regarding the alleged illness of Sh Pasman. The doctor who is alleged to have tre Shri Pasman in his native home had not been examin and the alleged medical certificate which was pro duced has not also been legally proved. My conclu sion, therefore, is that the applicant had absented himself from his duties in an unauthorised manner from 29th October, 1963 for a fairly considerable period and the employer therefore is justified in thinking that the workman has left his job of his own accord. The applicant has given some evidence as to what had happened in March 1964. It has been stated by him that he had at first seen O. P. W. 1 and O. P. W. 2 had asked him to see Baldeo Babu. His further evidence is that Baldeo said that when he was so long, that he told him that as he was ill he was in his home receiving treatment from his doctor, that Baldeo Babu told him that unless the medical certificate was produced, he will not give him his employment and that some 8/9 days later, he had shown the medical certificate to Baldeo Babu. This evidence cannot be accepted. If the medical certificate was really shown to Baldeo Babu some 8/9 days afterwards, then it was shown either on the 9th or 11th of March 1964. Therefore, there is no reason why the applicant would be told on 23rd March, 1964 that he had been dismissed from service. According to paragraph 5 of the written statement, the medical certificate was shown on that date and then the applicant was told that he had been dismissed from service. The learned lawyer appearing for the applicant was unable to reconcile the discrepancy which I have mentioned above. It appears from the evidence of O. P. Ws. 1 and 2 that Shri Pasman did not turn up at all in March 1964. In the circumstances which I have mentioned above, this evidence of O. P. Ws. 1 and 2 can be accepted. I have come to the conclusion, therefore, that there has been no dismissal or discharge of the applicant and that it cannot be said that section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act had been contravened by the employer. The learned lawyer appearing for the applicant somehow faintly urged that as Shri Pasman is a member of the union, he had been victimised for his Trade Union activities. Excepting the bare statement of P. W. 1 there is no other evidence that Shri Pasman was a member of the Union. The membership receipt has not been produced and the register of the union showing the name of Shri Pasman has also not been produced. I do not think there is ally any cogent evidence to show that the employer ad resorted to unfair labour practice, or had really ctimised Shri Pasman for his alleged Trade Union tivities. The learned lawyer appearing for the work-an had also submitted that the dismissal itself would mount to alteration in the condition of service. I not think this can be accepted. There is separate ovision regarding dismissal. In any case, the leged dismissal had not been proved. In my opinion e application under section 33A of the Indus-ial Disputes Act fails, as there has been no con-avention of section 33 of that Act.

In view of my above finding, it is not necessary for to discuss the second point as to whether the smissal is justified on merits. As there has been no smissal, the question of merits cannot possibly arise. the result these points are decided in the light of y above findings.

The application under section 33A of the Industrial sputes Act is dismissed and the petitioner is not titled to any relief. This is my award.

(Case No. 111 of 1963 under section 33A.)

BEFORE THE SECOND INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNA WEST BENGAL

Present:
SHRI AMBICA PADA BHATTACHARYA,
Judge, Second Industrial Tribunal.

This is an application under section 33A of the Indu trial Disputes Act. A reference was pending befo this Tribunal being order No. 1958-I.R./IR/11L-342/6 dated 15th May 1963, in respect of the following issu Is the termination of service of 39 workmen mention in the enclosed list justified ? To what relief, if a are they entitled? This was the reerence pendi between the Company and their workman. Durin the pendency of the said reference one workman Sh Haradhan Santra made a complaint that he was di missed from service. The applicant is a member Nepal Chandra Haluikar Employees' Union which disliked by the company. The company arbitrari reduced the weekly wages from 9 1/4 days to 8 1/2 da and the Union was agitating to reinstate this privile On 29th March 1963 as many as 52 workmen were di missed verbally.

On 19th July 1963 at about 10-15 a.m. the petitio was working in the shop as usual when he was physic assaulted by the partners and turned out of the sh The petitioner was picked up by police van and admit in Mayo Hospital as an indoor patient. There police case over it. The petitioner was in fact di missed on that day and such dismissal without a charge sheet or enquiry is illegal. The action was tal by the management in contravention of the provis of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act. T applicant according claims reinstatement under sect 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act.

The application was opposed by the Company on following grounds. The applicant Haradhan San is not a workman concerned in the dispute pend before the Tribunal under the above reference. Th was a case of 39 workmen and Haradhan's name d not appear in the list, on the contrary, in the not issued to the workmen the service of Haradhan San had been retained. Haradhan was originally appoint as an employee of 20 Armenian Street and during e ployment he was transferred to the shop situated 16/18 Vivekananda Street. The allegation of assa on 18th July 1963 is denied. A false criminal case l been instituted against the partners of the Compa on a false complaint; the partners were acquitted af a trial. Haradhan Santra who was originally appoint at 20 Armenian Street was transferred to the same sh by a letter, dated 24th June 1963. Santra refus to accept the letter which was sent by registered Inspite of the order of transfer Santra did not join his duties at 20 Armenian Street. The transfer orders sent to Santra through post office were returned with the postal endorsement 'not known' though the letters were correctly addressed. On 15th July 1963 Haradhan made a false complaint against the partners of the Company and threatened Shri Damodar Das Gupta, one of the partners of the Company. Again on 16th July 1963 Santra came to the shop at 16/18 Vivekananda Road and threatened Shri Damodar Das Gupta. He threatened Damodar Das Gupta by saying that unless the transfer orders were withdrawn he would cause havoc inside the shop. The present petition under section 33A did not lie and is not maintainable in view of the fact that the Company did not contravene the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act.

For the Company : Shri K. P. Mukherjee, Counsel
For the workman : Shri S. K. Dhar, Advocate

Decision

Admittedly Haradhan was a clerk who used to keep accounts for the Company. There was a reference to this Tribunal where the issue of termination of service of 39 workmen including clerks working in the Company. Shri Mukherjee on behalf of the Company urges that Haradhan is not a workman concerned in the dispute referred to this Tribunal and as such the provisions of section 33 could not be attracted to his case. Section 33, sub-section 2 provides that during the pendency of any proceeding in respect of an industrial dispute the employer may in accordance with the Standing Orders applicable to a workman concerned in such a dispute (a) alter..... the condition of service..... or for any misconduct discharge or punish, whether by dismissal or otherwise, that workman. It is therefore obvious that unless the workman applying under section 33A is a Concerned workman it is not incumbent on the company to apply for approval under section 33(2). Haradhan was a clerk working in the Company and the reference was in respect of workmen of the same company including clerks. It is true that his name does not appear in the list of workmen whose services had been terminated as mentioned in the order of reference. Even though his name does not appear in that list he is a workman concerned in the dispute of his co-workmen of similar category whose services had been terminated. By supporting that dispute he has become concerned in the same. The Company's objection that Haradhan Santra is not a concerned workman is not at all tenable and my decision in this respect is to the contray. Haradhan is a concerned workman.

The next contention is Haradhan Santra wants to say that on 18th July 1963 he was assaulted and turned out of the shop while he was on duty. Admittedly there had been a criminal case over that incident and the petition of complaint was lodged by Haradhan himself. The partners Damodar and others were accused in that case under sections 323 and 504 I. P. C. The judgment of the learned Magistrate (Ext. A) will show that the accused persons were acquitted at the trial. They were found not guilty of the offences with which they were charged. Shri Mukherjee on the side of the Company urges that in view of the judgment of the learned Magistrate, the Tribunal is not competent to enter into the complaint of Haradhan. I cannot accept this argument of Shri Mukherjee. With regard to the incident of assault the judgement of the Criminal Court is evident of the fact of acquittal of the accused persons. The question before the Industrial Tribunal is whether on 18th July 1963 Haradhan was virtually dismissed by being driven out of the shop. In paragraph 15 of the Union's written statement it is stated that the action of the Company amounted to dismissal of the workman on 18th July 1963. This is a matter which is within the competency of the Tribunal to decide.

Lastly on behalf of the Company it is argued that there have been no contravention of the provisions of section 33(2) (b) in view of the fact that Haradhan was neither discharged nor punished by dismissal or otherwise for any misconduct. Under section 33A the Tribunal derives jurisdiction primarily on the ground that the employer contravened the provisions of section 33 in taking the action against the workman. On the side of the workman it is argued that Haradhan was dismissed for alleged misconduct without any charge sheet and in view of the pending reference the Company ought to have applied to the Tribunal under section 33(2) (b) for approval of the action taken against the employee. Since the employer did not make any application as contemplated above, there had been contravention of provision of section 33 so that this Tribunal would decide upon the complaint.

In fact Haradhan did not receive any letter discharging or dismissing him. It is true that the petition filed by the workman does not mention in clear terms that this dismissal was for misconduct but the Company's written statement would prove the fact that Haradhan was virtually dismissed because he refused to carry out the order of transfer by which he was transferred from this shop to another shop at 20 Armenian Street. In this connection I may refer to the written statement of the Ccompany. In paragraph 14 it was alleged that Haradhan was originally appointed at 20 Armenian Street. He was transferred from this shop at 16/18 Vivekananda Road to 20 Armenian Street on 24th June 1963. Haradhan refused to accept the order of transfer. The Company thereafter sent him repeatedly transfer orders by post. They were returned with the postal endorsement "not known" on 25th June 1963, then again on 15th July 1963 and 16th July 1963. In paragraph 14 of the written statement clause (d) the Company alleges that Haradhan had been threatening the management on 15th and 16th of July 1963. Against the back ground of such order of transfer which was flouted by Haradhan according to the management, whatever action the Company would take against Haradhan cannot but relate to the aforesaid disobedience. It would be nothing but misconduct on the part of the workman and the punishment given to Haradhan must necessarily be connected with that misconduct. I will now consider the evidence.

Haradhan's evidence is that he was assaulted and dismissed without any charge sheet. In cross examination he stated that he was transferred to Armenian Street. He however denied that he got the transfer orders by post. He adds in his evidence that on 15th, 16th and 18th he was asked to go to Armenian Street but he refused. The evidence of O. P. W. 1. Shri Purusattam Das Gupta on the side of the Company is that Haradhan filed a false complaint against him on 18th July 1963. He stated that Haradhan was transferred but he did not care to join. He denies that Haradhan was dismissd on 18th of July, 1963. Mr. Mukherjee on behalf of the Company argued that Haradhan abandoned his post and he did not care to join Armenian Shop as ordered. Voluntary relinquishment of service or abandonment is not the clear case in the written statement of the Company. Even if I accept that there is such a case the evidence on record would not justify a finding of voluntary relinquishment of service. Abandonment cannot be presumed when a man is in employment. It is not a normal human conduct. When the plea of abandonment is taken, it must be proved by the Company on cogent and convincing evidence. Long absence without intimation may give rise to a presumption of abondonment. In the instant case the incident happened on 18th of July, 1963 and the workman came with a petition before the Tribunal on 31st of July 1963 alleging that he was dismissed by the Company. This very conduct will indicate that it was not a case of voluntary relinquishment of service but it is a case of dismissal from service in some manner or other. Haradhan was not allowed to work by the Company. This amounts to dismissal. From the circumstances of the case and from the evidence on record it is only reasonable to hold that because Haradhan refused to carry out the order of transfer he was dismissed on 18th July 1963. The fact remains that he was not allowed to work at Vivekananda Street shop where he had been working at the time of transfer. Haradhan did not care to join at Armenian Street where he was transferred. From these circumstances the only conclusion which one can draw is that Haradhan was dismissed or discharged by way of punishment because he refused to obey the order of transfer made by the management. Whether a particular workman has been dismissed or discharged or punished because of any misconduct is a question of fact depending on the circumstances of each case. The form of the order terminating the service of the employee is not always decisive. It is true that there is no letter of dismissal but from the circumstances the only reasonable conclusion would be that the management's action amounted to dismissal of the workman and this was by way of punishment for misconduct.

Admittedly, the management took the action against Haradhan without any charge sheet and without giving Haradhan any opportunity of meeting the charges against him. This is opposed to the principle of natural justice and the dismissal without charge sheet or enquiry cannot but be held to be illegal. As regards merits of the complaint since there is no specific charge brought by the Company against the workman there is no question of deciding the said charge on merits. What the Tribunal is called upon to adjudicate in a proceeding under section 33A is on the merits of the dismissal on the specific charges levelled against the workman. I have already found on evidence on record that the workman was dismissed without any charge sheet though such dismissal was not communicated in writing to the workman, it is a conduct which amounts to victimisation and it should be characterised as unfair labour practice. In fact the workman was victimised and the management took resort to unfair labour practice in doing so. That being the case the workman is entitled to reinstatement. The application under section 33A should therefore succeed. The application is accordingly allowed and the applicant Haradhan Santra is entitled to be reinstated with all back wages. This is my award which is to bei mplemented within 30 days of its publication in the "Calcutta Gazette."

AWARD

The Government of West Bengal, by order No. 1795-I.R./IR/10L-82/64, dated 11th May, 1964, had referred the following industrial dispute between Messrs. Wooma Churan Karmakar and their workmen to this Tribunal for adjudication.

Issue

Bonus payable in 1963

After the service of the usual notice, the workmen represented by the Union had filed the written statement and the employer had also filed the written statement. In the written statement filed on behalf of the workmen, it has been stated that the firm Messrs. Wooma Churan Karmakar is an old establishment firm and carries on business of manufacturing scales, etc., and owns a factory where some workmen are employed for the purpose of manufacturing scale and other articles for sale. It may be mentioned here that these allegations of the workmen are admitted by the employer. It is next stated that the firm had been accumulating huge profit every year to which 25 permanent workmen excluding clerical and other staff had contributed, that the actual rate of wages per diem are Rs. 1.50 paise, Rs. 2.00, Rs. 2.25, Rs. 2.50, Rs. 2.75, Rs. 3.00, Rs. 3.25, etc., and that the majority of workmen receive wages at the rate of Rs. 2 and Rs.2.25 per day. The wages therefore fall far short of the living wage and the workmen demanded bonus, namely, profit sharing bonus which was payable in 1963 before the Puja for the preceding accounting year. The firm had refused to pay on the basis of available surplus and offered a meagre amount most arbitrarily which was not accepted by the workmen. There was a conciliation proceeding but due to the adamant attitude of the firm, no settlement was arrived at. It is further alleged that in 1961-62 and 1962-63 the firm had made huge profit, that the available surplus for distribution of bonus would be not less than fifty thousand rupees, that at least 12 months, bonus at the consolidated rate of wages, or Rs. 50,000 whichever is higher, may be awarded for the relevent year, that the union does not admit the figures shown in the expenditure side of the balance sheets and puts the firm to strict proof to each of the items and that the documents including cash book, ledger, etc., should be produced by the firm. It is prayed that at least 12 months' wages as bonus or Rs. 50,000 whichever is higher should be paid as bonus. It is alternatively prayed that bonus might be determined according to the Full Bench Formula and 90 per cent. of the available surplus may be distributed as bonus to the workmen.

In the written statement filed on behalf of the firm, it is denied that the firm had been making huge profit each year, that the workmen had contributed a large portion in the profit, that in fact due to the insufficient production by the workers, the Company had to purchase articles from the outside to meet the demands and that the daily rate of wages are Rs. 5 per diem for the highly skilled workers, Rs. 4.50, Rs. 4.25 and Rs. 4.00 per diem for skilled workers, Rs. 3.87, Rs. 3.50, Rs. 3.25, Rs. 3.12, Rs. 3.00 per diem for semi-skilled workers and Rs. 2.27, Rs. 2.50, Rs. 2.25 and Rs. 2.00 for unskilled workers. It is said that only 4 of the workers get Rs. 2 per diem out of the 25 workers. The firm has further alleged that the workmen had adopted go-slow tactics for a pretty long time slowing down the production, even though it had been paid wages of near about Rs. 400 per week, that the workmen never demanded the profit sharing bonus, that the firm had already paid 10 days' bonus to the workmen with the consent of the Labour Officer as in the previous years and this system is in vogue for a number of years which has been accepted by all the workers without any protest, that the Company never earned huge profit in 1961-62 and 1962-63, that the relevant books of account and balance sheets for 1961-62 and 1962-63 would be produced in due course, that the Company had to purchase scales from outside the factory as the workmen neglected and failed to produce fully to meet the demands which came after the introduction of the new Scales and Weights Regulations in 1961, that the present reference is bad in law and cannot be entertained, as the issues regarding wages, bonus and leave had been referred to the Seventh Industrial Tribunal by the Government Order No. 3537-I.R./IR/10L 92/62, dated 6th August 1962 and that due to the faulty production of the workers after the introduction of the new system, the Controller of Weights and Measures had rejected many finished products causing enormous loss to the Company. It may be mentioned here that the question regarding the legality or otherwise of the present reference to this Tribunal was not raised before me by the learned Advocate for the Company at the time of the hearing. It is quite obvious that the question of bonus payable in 1963 had not been referred to the Seventh Industrial Tribunal by the Government of West Bengal.

Findings

It is admitted that the employer has got a factory in which some workmen are employed for manufacturing scales and others for the purpose of sale. It is further not disputed that the employer is a partnership firm and the partners are Balai Chandra Karmakar, Fatik Chandra Karmakar, Sankulal Karmakar, Pravat Karmakar, Bhutnath Karmakar and that the partnership firm had been carrying on business under the name and style of Messrs. Wooma Churan Karmakar. There is also no dispute that the income of the firm is derived from factory production, from production outside the factory of the firm and from sale of commodities purchased from the market. The exact proportions between these three categories are a matter of some difficulty and I shall have occasion to discuss this point later on. At this stage, I would only point out that no evidence has been given regarding the alleged go-slow tactics on the part of the workmen of the factory of the firm or regarding the alleged failure of the workmen to give full production in the factory of the firm or regarding the alleged rejection by the Controller of Weights and Measures of many of the finished products due to the faulty production of the workers causing enormous loss to the Company.

I shall now proceed to discuss the question whether the workmen of the firm are entitled to get profit sharing bonus for the year 1962-63. The learned Advocate appearing on behalf of the parties conceded that in view of the term of reference, there is no relevancy with regard to the accounting year 1961-62. It has been laid down that bonus is not a mere matter of bounty gratuitiously made by the employer to its employee and is also not a matter of deferred wages and that the employees may justly claim bonus at the end of a year's service based on two main considerations, viz (a) that there is a gap between their present wages and a living wage which bonus is bound to shorten, and (b) that there is an available surplus of profits of the year out of which the bonus may be paid [A. I. R. 1955 S. C. 170-1955 (II) L. L. J. 1,—Muir Mills Co. Ltd. vs. Suti Mills Mazdoor Union, Kanpur], A. I. R. 1958 S. C. 153-1958 (I) L. L. J. 239—Shri Minakshi Mills Ltd. vs. their workmen. It is also well settled that the available surplus providing for the purpose of calculation of the bonus must be determined according to the Full Bench Formula (A. I. R. 1959 S. C., 967-1959 (I) L. L. J., 644—Associated Cement Co. and ors. vs. their workmen), A. I. R. 1960 S. C. 1025 (Textile Machinery Corporation vs. its workmen), 1959 (I) L. L. J., 43 (Lipton Ltd. vs. their workmen). It has also been held by their Lordships of the Supreme Court that the working of the formula begins with the figure of Gross Profits taken from the Profit and Loss Accounts which are arrived at after payment of wages and Dearness Allowance to the employees and other items of expenditure, that as a general rule, the amount of gross profit thus ascertained is accepted without submitting the statement of the Profit and Loss Account to a close scrutiny that if, however, it appears that the entries have been made on the debit side deliberately and mala fide to reduce the amount of gross profits, it would be open to Tribunal to examine the question and if it is satisfied that the impugned entries have been made mala fide, it may disallow them, that it would likewise be to the parties to claim the exclusion of the items either on the credit or on the debit side on the ground that the impugned items are wholly extraneous and entirely unrelated to the trading profits for the year, and that in such matters, the Tribunal must take an overall practical and common sense view (A. I. R. 1959 S. C., 967). Therefore, the amount of gross profit has to be taken from the profit and loss Account. Some objections have been raised with regard to particular items and I shall discuss those objections later. However, during the pendency of this case before this Tribunal, Ordinance No. 3 of 1965 had been promulgated by the President of India on 29th May, 1965. Section 8 of the Ordinance provides as follows:

> "Every employee shall be entitled to be paid by his employer in an accounting year, bonus in accordance with the provisions of this Ordinance provided he has worked in the establishment for not less than thirty working days in that year."

Section 33 of the Ordinance provides as follows:

> "Where immediately before the 2nd September, 1964, an industrial dispute regarding payment of bonus relating to any accounting year ending on any day in the year 1962, and any subsequent accounting year was pending before the appropriate Government or before any Tribunal or other authority constitutedunder the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, or under any corresponding law relating to investigation and settlement of industrial disputes in a State, such dispute shall be decided in accordance with the provisions of this Ordinance.
> Explanation: A dispute shall be deemed to be pending before the appropriate Government where no decision of that Government on any application made to it under the said Act or such corresponding law for reference of that dispute to adjudication has been made or where having received the report of the Conciliation Officer (by whatever designation known) under the said Act or law, the appropriate Government has not passed any order refusing to make such reference."

Section 34 of the Ordinance provides as follows:

> "(1) Save as otherwise provided, the provisions of this Ordinance shall have effect notwithstanding anything inconsistent therewith contained in any other law for the time being in force or in the terms of any award, agreement, settlement or contract of service made before the commencement of this Ordinance:
>
> Provided that if in respect of any accounting year the total bonus payable to all the employees in any establishment under this Ordinance is less than the total bonus paid or payable to all the employees in that establishment in the base year under such award, agreement, settlement or contract of service, then the employees in the establishment shall be paid bonus in respect of that accounting year as if the allocable surplus for that accounting year were an amount which bears the same ratio to the gross profits of the said accounting year as the total bonus paid or payable in the base years bears to the gross profits of the base year:
>
> Provided further that nothing contained in the preceding proviso shall entitle any employee to be paid bonus exceeding twenty per cent of his salary or wage for the accounting year;
>
> Provided also that if in any accounting year the allocable surplus computed under the first proviso exceeds the amount of maximum bonus payable to the employees in the establishment under the second proviso, then the provisions of section 15 shall, so far as may be, apply to such excess.
>
> Explanation I. For the purpose of the first proviso to this sub-section, the total bonus in respect of any accounting year shall be deemed to be less than the total bonus paid or payable in the base year if the ratio of bonus payable in the accounting year to the gross profits of that year is less than the ratio of bonus paid or payable in the base year to the gross profits of that year.
>
> Explanation II.- In this sub-section, -
> (a) "base year" means—
> (i) in a case where immediately before the 2nd September, 1964, any dispute of the nature specified in section 33 was pending before the appropriate Government or before any Tribunal or other authority referred to in that section, the accounting year immediately preceding the accounting year to which the dispute relates;
>
> (ii) in any other case, the period of twelve months immediately preceding the accounting year in which this Ordinance becomes applicable to the establishment;
>
> (b) "gross profits" in relation to the base year or, as the case may be, to the accounting year means gross profits as reduced by the direct taxes payable by the employer in respect of that year.
> (2) Nothing contained in this Ordinance shall be construed to preclude employees employed in any establishment or class of establishments from entering into agreement with their employer for granting them an amount of bonus under a formula which is different from that under this Ordinance."

It is clear therefore that the previous law as enunciated by their Lordships of the Supreme Court is not to be followed now, at least with regard to matters in respect of which provisions have been made in this Ordinance. It is further clear that so far as the claim of bonus for the year 1962-63 which is payable in 1963 before Puja is concerned, the dispute is to be decided in accordance with the provisions of this Ordinance.

Before I proceed further, it is necessary to refer to certain other provisions of the Ordinance. The expression "accounting year" has been defined to mean, inter alia, the year commencing from 1st day of April, unless the context otherwise requires. The expression "allocable surplus" has been defined to mean, inter alia, 60% of the available surplus in the accounting year and includes any amount treated as such under the first proviso to sub-section (1) of section 34. The expression "available surplus" has been defined to mean available surplus computed under section 5. Section 5 provides that the available surplus in respect of any accounting year shall be the gross profits for that year after deducting therefrom the sums referred to in section 6. Section 6 provides for deduction as prior charges namely :

(a) any amount by way of depreciation admissible in accordance with the provisions of sub-section (1) of section 32 of the Income-tax Act, or in accordance with the provisions of the Agricultural Income-tax Law, as the case may be;

(b) any amount by way of development rebate or development allowance which the employer is entitled to deduct from his income under the Income-tax Act;

(c) subject to the provisions of section 7, any direct tax which the employer is liable to pay for the accounting year in respect of his income, profits and gains during that year; and

(d) such further sums as are specified in respect of the employer in the Third Schedule.

Section 7 lays down, inter alia, that for the purpose of clause (c) of section 6, any direct tax payable by the employer for any accounting year shall, subject to the following provisions, be calculated at the rates applicable to the income of the employer for that year, namely :

(a) in calculating such tax no account shall be taken of—

(i) any loss incurred by the employer in respect of any previous accounting year and carried forward under any law for the time being in force relating to direct taxes ;

(ii) any arrears of depreciation which the employer is entitled to add to the amount of the allowance for depreciation for any following accounting year or years under sub-section (2) of section 32 of the Income-tax Act;

(iii) any exemption conferred on the employer under section 84 of the Income-tax Act or of any deduction to which he is entitled under sub-section (1) of section 101 of that Act, as in force immediately before the commencement of the Finance Act, 1965.

It is not necessary to refer for the present purpose the other sections. The expression "direct tax" has been defined to mean any tax chargeable under (i) the Income-tax Act, (ii) the Super Profits Tax Act, 1963, (iii) the Companies (Profits) Surtax Act, 1964, (iv) the Agricultural Income-tax Law, and any other tax which, having regard to its nature or incidence, may be declared by the Central Government, by notification in the Official Gazette, to be a direct tax for the purpose of this Ordinance.

The expression "gross profits" means gross profits calculated under section 4. Section 4 provides, inter alia, 'in case of an establishment other than a banking company, the gross profits are to be calculated in the manner specified in the Second Schedule.' It is also necessary to refer in brief to the provisions of section 10 and 11 of the Ordinance. In section 10, it has been provided, inter alia, that the employer is bound to pay to every employee who has worked in the establishment for all the working days in the accounting year a minimum bonus which shall be four per cent. of the salary or wage of the employee for the accounting year or forty rupees, whichever is higher, whether there are profits in the accounting year or not. The provision of section 11, inter alia, is that where in respect of any accounting year the allocable surplus exceeds the amount of minimum bonus payable to the employees under section 10, the employer shall, in lieu of such minimum bonus, be bound to pay bonus to every employee who has worked in the establishment for all the working days in the accounting year which shall be an amount in proportion to the salary or wage of the employee for the accounting year subject to a maximum of twenty per cent. of such salary or wage. In the Second Schedule, the manner of computation of gross profits had been laid down, and in the Thrid Schedule, so far as it is material for the present purpose, it has been laid down that any other employer not falling under any of the above categories is entitled to get the deduction of 8 1/2 on the capital invested in his establishment as evidenced from the books of account at the commencement from the accounting year and that where such employer is a firm, an amount equivalent to 25% of the gross profit derived by it from the establishment in respect of the accounting year after deducting depreciation in accordance with provisions of section 6(a) by way of remuneration to all the partners taking part in the conduct of business of the establishment is to be deducted. These are all the relevant provisions of the Ordinance, so far as the present case is concerned.

I shall now turn to discuss the question of bonus for the accounting year 1962-63 which is payable in 1963. In the present case the accounts of the firm had not been audited and therefore the presumption under section 25(1) of the Ordinance does not apply. I also did not think that it was necessary that the account of the firm should be audited and therefore I had not passed any order under section 25(2) of the Ordinance.

Now, the first item is the amount of gross profits as shown in the profit and loss account (Ext. E) and in the basis for calculating the account (Ext. D) the same is Rs. 1,18,640. As I have mentioned earlier, the amount is the income from three sources, viz., the sale proceeds of the goods produced in the factory of the firm, the sale proceeds of certain goods produced in some other factory by other workmen, and the sale proceeds of certain articles of goods purchased in the market by the firm. As I have mentioned earlier also, there is some dispute regarding the proportions of these figures to the total amount. In Ext. D, the share of the Karkhana or factory of the firm is shown to be Rs. 31,040; the share of the goods manufactured in some other factory is shown to be Rs. 62,110 and the share of the sale purchase business is shown to be

Rs. 25,500. These figures make up the total of Rs. 1,18,640. It appears to me that there is no basis for calculation of the share of goods produced outside the factory and that the share of the sale purchase business is roughly about one-fouth of the total volume of business in the particular year in question. It is quite evident that the profits representing the sale purchase business cannot tbe taken into account. Therefore, the sum of Rs. 25,500 should be deducted from the gross profits. It is also evident that the workmen of the firm who are working in the factory of the firm cannot participate in the profits in respect of sale of goods prepared outside the factory, but as I have indicated above, the exact proportion cannot be ascertained even on the basis of the entries made in the Khatas which have been produced by the employer (Ext. A to A-3 and B). In the absence of such evidence, I think the only fair thing to do is to divide the amount into half and half. Therefore, the gross profits come to the figure 46,570. I may state here that I do not accept the evidence regarding disrtribution as given by O. P. W. 1 who is the accountant of the firm. It may also be stated here that there was no dispute between the parties that the actual net profit was Rs. 40,719 calculating on the basis which I have indicated above. The net profit would be Rs 15,269.60 paise, but in accordance with the provisions of the Ordinance, I have to proceed on the basis of the gross profits and I have to give some deductions from the gross profits. The first deduction is with regard to the depreciation. The learned Advocate appearing for the firm had admitted that there was no evidence regarding the depreciation and also unable to ascertain on the basis of the evidence as to what the depreciation admissible under section 32(1) of the Income-tax for the year 1962-63, would be. Therefore, I am unable to give any deduction on this head. Similarly I am also unable to give any deduction by way of development rebate or development allowance which the employer is entitled to deduct from its income under the Indian Income-tax Act. I may state here that though the hearing was concluded before the Ordinance was promulgated, I had heard afterwards Shri Sen appearing for the employer later and Shri Sen did not not make any further submission regarding this question. The firm, however, is certainly entitled to deduct from gross profits the Income-tax payable for the year 1962-63. The parties are agreed that for that year, the total sum of Rs.3,252 was payable as Income-tax by the employer. Therefore, this sum is to be deducted. The balance therefore is Rs. 43,318. The next item is the interest which the employer is entitled to deduct regarding the capital investment. There was some argument previously as to whether 6%or 8 1/2%interest should be allowed n the invested capital. It is unnecessary to refer the upreme Court rulings on this point. It would be sufficient to say that their Lordships of the Supreme Court ad laiddown that interest higher than 6%maybe allowed n case of risky ventures and that normally 6%interest hould be allowed on the capital. It has been provided in the Ordinance, as mentioned above, that the interest on the capital investment should be 8 1/2%. Calculated at that rate on the capital of Rs. 95,440.85 paise, the amount would be Rs. 8,112. The balance would be Rs. 35,206. Shri Banerjee appearing for the workmen, however, had pointed out that out of the invested capital of Rs. 95,440, the partners had withdrawn or taken out a sum of Rs. 32,293 in that year and therefore, the interest can only be granted on the balance of Rs. 63,147. I am unable to agree with the learned lawyer for the workmen. It is true that some amount had been withdrawn by the partners during the year in question, but as partners of the business they had the right to get certain amount out of the total income of the firm during the year. I do not think, this is really a question of reducing the total capital invested by the partners in the business. It rather appears that it is atemporary withdrawal by some of the partners. I therefore think that interest should be allowed on the total invested capital of Rs. 95,440. Shri Sen, however, had submitted that there was a loan capital of Rs. 15,000. It would appear that amongst the expenditure shown is the payment of interest of Rs. 1,350. This is certainly admissible deduction, as this is an expenditure made for the purpose of earning profits but I do not think the employer is entitled to get interest on the loan capital. There is no such provision in the Ordinance. It also appears to me that there is no such provision in the previous law. Therefore, I refuse that prayer of the learned lawyer for the employer. The last item is with regard to the remuneration of the four partners who are alleged to be working. On this point, there is the evidence of O. P. W. 3 Shri Prasanta Dalal. There is no contrary evidence on the side of the workmen. Therefore, it must be accepted that at least four of the partners had been taking part in the conduct of the business of the firm. However, as only one of the partners is looking after the production of the factory of the firm, I think that only 25'/. should be allowed to him and not to the other partners, who are looking after the establishment of the business. Therefore, the sum of Rs. 11,642.50 is to be deducted from the gross profits. The balance left is Rs. 23,553·50 paise. The total wage of the workmen of the factory for the whole year of the firm is Rs. 27,129 which the workmen are entitled to get. The allocable surplus therefore is Rs. 14,132.10 paise. The allocable surplus therefore is more than 20'/. of the total wage of the workmen of the factory in accordance with the provision of section 11 of the Ordinance. The workmen are only entitled to get 20'/. of the total wage i.e. to say a sum of Rs. 5,425.80 paise. Under section 17(a) of the Ordinance, the amount paid as Puja bonus for the accounting year 1962-63 will have to be deducted from the amount of bonus as found by me and the balance of Rs. 1,886.80 paise will have to be paid to all the workers of the factory as bonus for the accounting year 1962-63 which is payable in 1963.

I have therefore come to the conclusion that this is the amount which the workmen of the factory of Wooma Charan Karmakar are entitled to get as bonus for the accounting year 1962-63 which is payable in 1963. The said sum will be paid within a month of the publication of the award in the official gazette. This is my award.

Optical Glass Works, 64 Metcalfe Street, Calcutta-13, and their workmen represented by Optical Workers' Association, Calcutta, 19/2A Pitambar Bhatak Lane, Calcutta-27, regarding the issues mentioned in the said order being matters specified in the 3rd schedule to the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), was referred for adjudication to the Second Industrial Tribunal;

And whereas the said Second Industrial Tribunal has submitted to the State Government its award on the said industrial dispute;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Optical Glass Works, 64 Metcalfe Street, Calcutta-13, and their workmen, represented by Optical Workers, Association, 19/2A Pitambar Ghatak Lane, Calcutta-27. (Case no. VIII-217 of 1964.)

BEFORE THE SECOND INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL.

Present:

Shri A. P. BHATTACHARYA, Judge,
Second Industrial Tribunal.

Appearances:

For the Firm: Shri Jiten Banerjee, Advocate.

For the Union: Shri Hiralal Roy, Advocate.

The Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, by its order No. 3592-I.R./IR/11L-253/64, dated Calcutta, the 17th August 1964, referred an industrial dispute between Messrs. Optical Glass Works and their workmen represented by Optical Workers, Association for adjudication regarding the issues mentioned in the order of reference.

Issues

1. Wages.
2. Dearness allowance.
3. Bonus payable in 1963.
4. Retiral benefit.
5. Festival holidays.

This is a reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act. The workmen are represented by Optical Workers' Association. The case of the Union is that the firm known as Optical Glass Works and two other concerns such as Messrs. Ghosh & Co. and Messrs. Optical Stores are allied concerns and the ownership of all the three firms is common. The firm is earning huge amount of profit but the workmen are deprived of any share of it. The wages paid are low and even below the subsistence level. There is no payment of separate dearness allowance commensurate with the cost of living index. The firm does not allow the workmen festival holidays or any retirement benefit. The Union accordingly claims wages with minimum starting of Rs. 100, dearness allowance at the rate of Rs. 30 and bonus for the accounting year 1963. One month's total wages are claimed as pujah bonus. With regard to retiring benefit, provident fund is sought to be introduced A gratuity scheme for those who will retire from service is also claimed. 16 days in a year with full pay should be the festival holidays according to the Union. Annexure 'A' to the written statement of the workmen shows the existing pay of 11 workmen of Optical Glass Works and the existing pay of two workmen of Ghosh & Co. and Optical Stores. The charter of demand is Annexure B to the Union's written statement.

The company filed written statement denying that it was an industrial dispute and challenging the validity of the reference on that ground. It is denied that the three firms are common and joint in any sense. They are three distinct and separate firms with separate account and separate list of workmen. Optical Glass Works is a separate unit and it employs only seven workmen whose existing salrary is shown at page 4 of the written statement. The firm has no capacity to bear the burden of a pay structure. The status of the firm is not secured financially. Additional liability will result in total collapse of the business. Since the pay structure is consolidated, there is no scope for separate dearness allowance.

With regard to bonus the firm contends that there had been no payment of bonus at any time. The firm does not make any profit on the basis of which bonus can be claimed by the workmen. The workmen have no financial capacity to introduce a retiring scheme Festival holidays are allowed under the Shops and Establishments Act. Therefore the workmen are not entitled to any relief in this reference.

Decision

Both parties examined the witnesses and exhibited documents and addressed elaborate argument. I will take up the issues under reference seriatim Before I proceed to do so, I will dispose of the preliminary points which were raised one by the Union and another by the employer. The Union applied under section 18(3) (b) for addition of two parties, namely, Ghosh & Co. and Optical Stores. At the time of hearing the prayer for addition of parties of Messrs. Optical Store was not pressed. In a preliminary hearing the Union pressed their application for addition of Ghosh & Co. as a party on the plea that the two firms namely Optical Glass Works and Ghosh & Company are under the same proprietor and partners and they are not separate unit of business but they form two departments of the same business. In my order No. 19, dated 11th May 1965, I have disposed of this point and found it against the Union. That order shall form part of the award.

With regard to the employer's objection to the maintainability of the reference that it was not an industrial dispute which had been referred. I should consider the evidence on record. The Optical Workers' Association is a general Union of Optical Workers. The Secretary of the Union is P. W. 1 Shri Monoranjan Bhowmick. He stated that there are seven or eight members working in Messrs. Optical Workers and that they are all members of this Union. According to the evidence of Monoranjan Bhowmick all these members approached him and requested him verbally to raise the present dispute which is of common conc to all of them. Under that authority he submit the charter of demand which is annexure B to Union's written statement. This evidence of P. W is not successfully challenged in corss examinati On the evidence of P. W. 1, I can safely come to conclusion that the dispute of all the workmen of t firm was raised by these workmen and the Secret of Optical Workers' Association was duly authori to take up their cause. The Association which is a general nature has therefore the support and corrob tion from all the workers of this unit in respect of dispute and as such it is an industrial dispute wh has come up before the Tribunal. The objection accordingly over-ruled. Now I will turn to the iss one by one.

Issue No. 1 : Wages

This raises the question of wages. There are se workmen working in this firm and they are paid wa in consolidated form as shown in page 4 of the writ statement of the firm. The list will show that lowest pay is Rs. 55 for a helper and the maxim is paid to one workman who is paid Rs. 180. P nership deed. Ext. A. will show that the busin is of a small unit and the total capital invested is 5,000. Partnership deed is of the year 1957 T business was started in 1958. The business is of gri ing of optical lens. It has no retail shop nor a commercial side except that lens are grinded and s The business was started only in 1958 and it has barely six years. It is too early to impose regular w structure upon a firm which employs only seven wo men. Wage structure is a long term matter and should not ordinarily be imposed except where the bu ness is a very stable business and the propsect is assu and the financial position is very sound and satisfacto In view of the fact that the busniness is very sm and of very short duration, no wage structure shou be imposed upon it as it will have the effect of puttin a premium upon this growth. The claim for wag stands disallowed. The representative for the fi Shri Jiten Banerjee submits to the Tribunal that consideration of the fact that the pay of Rs. 55 is lo his client is willing to raise the minimum to Rs on the following terms. When a man will be appoint as an apprentice he will be paid Rs. 55 for six month Thereafter if his services be retained, he would entitled to a minimum of Rs. 65. Subject to th the claim for wage structure by the Union stands disall wed. This will have effect from 1st June 1965.

Issue No. 2 : Dearness allowance

Coming to the question of dearness allowance th Union has exhibited some papers of other firms w wages are paid at a higher rate and dearness allowanc is paid in some cases. Those firms are not purely dea ing with grinding lens. They have wholesale and re shop of spectacles. That being so, there is no com parable unit of a similar nature on the basis of whic the scheme for dearness allowance can be introduced Moreover the company has very limited sources a a regular scheme of dearness allowance linked wi the living index would be too much burden upon t existing position of the company. It is however significant fact that the wages being low the workm should get some ad hoc dearness allowance and in vie of the hardship, the company's representative Shri Jiten Banerjee agrees on behalf of the company to pay Rs. 5 to all the workmen on ad hoc basis as dearness allowance prospectively, irrespective of their pay. I accordingly allow the workmen Rs. 5 as ad hoc dearness allowance and this benefit will ensure to all the workmen irrespective of their wages. This dearness allowance is to be paid on and from 1st of June 1965. This issue is accordingly disposed of.

Issue No. 3 : Bonus payable in 1963

With regard to claim for profit bonus, the firm employs only seven workmen. It is not a factory as defined in the Factories Act. No profit bonus is payable by the firm. Moreover profit bonus is not the claim and the workmen who deposed for the Union stated that the Union's claim was for puja bonus only. It is admitted by the witness of the Union that no puja bonus had ever been paid. If that is so, puja bonus cannot be claimed either as a customary bonus or as condition of service. The claim for puja bonus or profit bonus is accordingly stand disallowed.

Issue No. 4 : Retiral benefit

With regard to the retiring benefit I am not in favour f introducing any scheme for retiring benefit n view of the fact that the company is only six ears' old and it is a small firm employing only seven orkmen. Such a business should not be saddled with ny gratuity scheme for retirement. The question f provident fund scheme does not arise in this case.

Issue No. 5 : Festival holidays

The Union's witness stated that the workmen are njoying 13 days' festival holidays. I fail to understand how the claim for 16 days' can be founded. The estival holidays of 13 days as are now enjoyed by the orkmen would satisfy the claim. Issues are accordingly answered.

This is my award which is to be implemented within 0 days of its publication in the "Calcutta Gazette".

Order

erial No. 19, dated 11th May 1965

This is an application under section 18, sub-section 1) of the Industrial Disputes Act. There had been eference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes t in respect of a dispute existing between Messrs. ptical Glass Works, 64 Metcalfe Street and their workn represented by Optical Workers' Association. e Union files a petition and in support thereof swears affidavit (affidavit is sworn by Haraprosad Banerjee) ting that there are two workmen working in Ghosh Co. at 14 Bepin Behari Ganguly Street. The oprietor of Optical Glass Works and Ghosh & Comay is the same person, namely, Panchanan Ghosh. Both the concerns do the work of grinding of lens. The accounts, cash and allied transactions as well as attendance, stock of material, stores, etc., of the two concerns are common and they are maintained at 14 Bepin Behari Ganguly Street under the name and style of Ghosh & Co. It is therefore considered essential that Ghosh & Company should be impleaded and summons should be issued to Ghosh & Co., for appearance in this proceedings.

The application is opposed on the side of Optical Glass Works. Shri Panchanan Ghosh swore an affidavit denying the allegations of Haraprosad Banerjee. It is stated that Optical Glass Works is a partnership concern while Ghosh & Co. is a proprietory concern. Ghosh & Company maintains separate register, salary book, attendance register, etc., and there is no common stock of registers, etc., as stated in the affidavit of Haraprosad Banerjee. The two are separate and independent concerns and there is no reason why Ghosh & Co. should be directed to appear in this proceedings.

I have heard both the parties on their respective petitions and affidavits and considered the affidavits as well. The law on this point is rather well settled. The Supreme Court decision reported in F. L. R., 1964, Volume 9, Page 101, may be cited for the principles involved. If the employer named in the reference does not fully represent the interests of the employer, as such other persons who are interested in the undertaking of the employer may be joined. Similarly, if the Union specified in the reference does not represent all the employees of the undertaking, it may be open to the Tribunal to add such other union as it may deem necessary. The test always must be, is the addition of the party necessary to make the adjudication itself effective and enforceable? In other words, the test may well be would the non-joinder of the party make the proceedings ineffective and unenforceable? In the instant case a dispute has been referred which is said to exist between Messrs. Optical Glass Works and their workmen. There are eight workmen working in that concern. It is an independent concern and Ghosh & Company is another concern, may be of the same proprietor. No dispute has been referred to this Tribunal between Ghosh & Company and the two workmen working there. Whetever adjudication I may make in this reference will be enforceable against the employer Messrs. Optical Glass Works. The employer named in the reference Optical Glass Works fully represents the interest of the employer and the award which may be passed would be enforceable against him. In the circumstances there is no justification in summoning Ghosh & Co. which is a different concern to appear in this proceedings. The application for addition of party made under section 18(3) (b) stands rejected. The Union does not press their application for addition of another party mentioned in the application.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Sen Raleigh Ltd., P. O. Kanyapur, district Burdwan, and their workmen represented by Sen Raleigh Cycle Factory Mazdoor Congress, P. O. Kanyapur, Asansol. (Case No. VIII—325 of 1964.)

BEFORE THE SECOND INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present :

Shri AMBIKA PADA BHATTACHARYA, Judge, Second Industrial Tribunal.

By Order No. 6130-I.R./IR/11L 157/64, dated Calcutta, the 11th November 1964, Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, referred an industrial dispute between Messrs. Sen Raleigh Ltd., Burdwan, and their workmen represented by Sen Raleigh Cycle Factory Mazdoor Congress, Asansol, for adjudication regarding the issue contained in the order of reference.

Issue

Whether the dismissal of Shri Sailendra Nath Das is justified ? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

This is a reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act. The Union is represented in its reference by Sen Raleigh Cycle Factory Mazdoor Congress. The written statement of the union discloses the following facts:

The Company is a manufacturer of cycle parts. This is a prosperous concern earning huge profits. The wage structure of the workmen is low. The workmen formed a Union for collective bargaining. The Union styled as Sen Raleigh Employees' Union indulged in activities prejudicial to the interest of the workmen. Some workmen being dissatisfied with that Union formed a new Union, namely, the Union named in the order of reference in the interest of the workmen. The formation of this Union annoyed the Company and the Company started victimisation with the abatement of the previous Union leader. Sailendra Nat Das was a permanent employee who served the Com pany for long 10 years. Shri Das took medical leav from 1st January 1964 to 10th of February 196 Shri Das joined his duties on 11th February 1964 On that very day he was served with a charge-sheet containing some false and malicious allegation of a incident of 25th January 1964. Shri Das submitte reply denying the allegation. On 21st Februar 1964 an enquiry was held but it was not fair and in th said enquiry proper scope of self-defence was denie to the workman. The enquiry suffers from serion infirmities. On 27th February 1964 a letter of dismissa was served upon the workman. The dismissal i challenged as unjustified.

The Company replied to the written statement of the Union and in the said written statement traversed all the salient allegations against the Company. The Company recognises Sen Raleigh Employees' Union because it is the only Union which represents substantial majority of the workmen. Shri Das was undoubtedly working for 10 years in the Company. He was dismissed for gross misconduct. In fact he absented from duty without previous intimation from 31st of December 1963. He submitted a medical certificate which spoke about his treatment for septic allergic dermatitis of the right leg. On 25th of January 1964 at 1-30 a.m Shri Das accompanied by another man entered the Co pany's building store attached to the clinic of the Company. He wanted to use Company's telephone installed in the building store and asked the guard on duty for the exchange number. The guard on duty informed him that it was an internal telephone from where Shri Das could contact the medical officer for any emergency call and that he was not aware of any exchange number. At this Shri Das became furious and abused the guard and broke the telephone to pieces and threatened him with a dagger. The guard shouted for help and Shri B. Sukla, another guard who was staying in an adjacent quarter, rushed to the spot. On arrival of the second guard Shri Das and his companion became very furious and Shri Das whipped out a dagger to assault the second guard. Shri Das attended the enquiry held on 25th February 1964 to which date it was adjourned at the request of Shri Das. The Company came to the finding that Shri Das was guilty of gross misconduct and accordingly dismissed him by the letter, dated 27th of February 1964.

For the Company : Shri J. N. Chatterjee.

For the Union : Shri Nikhilesh Das, Advocate, and Shri Balai Chatterjee, Advocate

Decision

Shri Sailendra Nath Das was admittedly a worke of the Company in the Hubs Department and wa working for the last 10 years. He was admitted on medical leave for the period from 31st Decembe 1963 to 10th February 1964. He was due to join o 11th February 1964, and he went to join on that da Immediately on joining he was served with a charg sheet which is Ext. A. The charge-sheet described th incident of 25th January 1964 at 1-30 a.m. inside th building stores adjacent to the Company's clinic. There was a telephone belonging to the Company. The guard on duty was Ram Moni Choudhury. Shri Das wanted exchange number from him and the guard, expressed ignorance. Sailen Das became furious, started abusing the guard, broke the telephone mouthpiece by pushing it on the ground with violence. The guard Ram Moni objected and shouted for help when the second guard B. Sukla rushed to the spot. Sailen became furious and threatened to assault both the guards. He also threatened them with a dagger and ultimately he managed to escape. The charge accordingly was for committing theft, riotous behaviour, threatening endangering life and safety of the guard on duty, committing damage and theft of Company's property. These are all commissions subversive of good behaviour and discipline. The workman admittedly received the charge-sheet and he gave reply thereto which is Ext. B. The Company filed a copy of the Standing Orders Ext. G. Though the charge-sheet does not quote the particular clauses of Standing Orders which were followed but it will appear that the Standing Orders is a duly certified one and the major misdemeanours are described at page 13. Under clause 10 riotous, disorderly behaviour is a major misconduct. Under clause 11 Commission of any act subversive of good behaviour or of the discipline of the Company another such misconduct. Under clause 14 wilful irresponsible action resulting in damage to any goods r property of the Company's premises is another misconduct. If the charge which is levelled against the workman can be proved against him, the act with which he workman is charged would certainly amount to major misdemeanour as defined in clauses 10, 11 and 14 page 13 of the Standing Orders of the Company. will now turn to the reply. In the reply the charge denied. In paragraph 5 of the reply it is stated at since the workman was suffering from ailment of pitic allergic dermatitis in his leg and was confined to d on the relevant date, it was not possible for him to dulge in such an act of riotous conduct as alleged the Company. In paragraph 6 it is mentioned at the charge was an absurd one and it was either case of mistaken identity or cunning mechanisation some designing persons.

An enquiry was held by Shri B. N. Bagchi, O. P. W. 1., 21st May 1965 and it was attended by the workman mself. One Shri Sukhendu Chatterjee also attended e enquiry as an observer at the request of the workman ncerned. This fact is noted in the proceeding Ext. and is also deposed to by the enquiring officer Shri .N. Bagchi. Sailen Das wants to say that he did not ke any observer with him. The evidence accordingly oath against oath of the two witnesses Shri Bagchi nd Shri Das. In view of the fact that the name of he observer is noted in the proceedins of enquiry I should ccept the testimony of Shri Bagchi that Shri Chatterjee s present as an observer on behalf of Shri Sailen Das. is significant to note that Shri Das admitted that he ok one observer, namely, Amrit Bose but the comy objected to his presence. No such witness s examined before the Tribunal. Moreover there no evidence either oral or documentary to corroborate statement of Shri Das on this point. In paragraph of the written statement of the Union the enquiry s described as "pretended and eyewash enquiry" a pre-planned manner without giving proper scope self-defence and in gross violation of the principles of natural justice, and that the enquiry was vitiated by serious informities. The written statement is therefore worded in vague terms. Turning to the evidence of Shri Das he said that he was not given opportunities of cross-examining the witnesses of the management, and that the Hindi evidence of witnesses was not read over and explained to him. He further added that the enquiring officer did not ask him to sign the enquiry proceedings nor did he sign the same. It will appear from the proceedings of the enquiry that the management's witnesses were examined first. P. K. Sarkar, Foreman of Hubs Department, was the first witness examined. It will appear from the proceedings that Shri Das was asked to cross-examine Shri Sarkar but he declined to do so. Then the Security Officer Shri R. M. Sarkar was examined-in-chief. At page 3 of the proceedings it is stated that the delinquent worker was asked to cross-examine Shri R. M. Sarkar. In fact he was cross-examined and the cross-examination was recorded in Bengali. J. Roy, Civil Engineer, was the next witness. He was also cross-examined by Shri Das. Thereafter Shri P. K. Sarkar, the foreman who was examined earlier, was wanted to be cross-examined by Shri Das and Shri Das cross-examined him at page 5 of the proceedings. Then the management examined Ram Moni Choudhury, the night guard. He was also cross-examined by Shri Das at page 7. The next witness was B. Shukla, another night guard. He was also cross-examined by Shri Das at page 10 of the proceedings. At the close of the enquiry, the enquiring officer asked Shri Das whether he wanted to examine any witness or make any statement in respect of the charge against him. He declined to examine any witness or to make any further statement. From the above proceedings and in the light of the evidence of Shri Bagchi, there is no scope for argument that Shri Das was not given proper opportunities of cross-examining the witnesses of the management or producing the evidence on his side. The enquiry had been fair. Two witnesses Ram Moni and Sukla gave evidence in Hindi and it was read out by Shri Bagchi in Bengali script. It was explained in Bengali to the workman concerned. This is the evidence of Shri Bagchi. There is no objection on the side of Shri Das to indicate that he had any difficulty in following the evidence to Ram Moni or Sukla. At the conclusion of the enquiry Shri Bagchi made an endorsement wherefrom it would appear that Shri Das and Shri Chatterjee were asked to give signature to the enquiry proceedings but they refused to do so. This endorsement is proved by Shri Bagchi in his evidence. It is significant to note that Shri Das stated that he did not sign the enquiry proceedings though he was present throughout. If that is so, the evidence of Shri Bagchi that Shri Das declined to sign is a believable piece of evidence. There is no serious informalities in the enquiry prodceedings nor it can be said that the proceedings is opposed to the principles of natural justice. When a fair and proper enquiry had been held the Tribunal would refuse to interfere or substitute its own judgment in place of that of the domestic tribunal except in the following cases :

(1) Where there had been want of good faith ;

(2) Where there is victimisation or unfair labour practice ;

(3) Where the management is guilty of basic error or violation of principles of natural justice;

(4) Where on the materials the finding is completely baseless and perverse.

Shri Das was a worker of the Company and a serious charge was levelled against him, namely, one of breaking the telephone belonging to the Company under the circumstances stated in the charge-sheet. There is nothing on record to show that the Company was actuated by mala fide intention in proceedings against Shri Das. Shri Das wants to say that he is an active member of the Union, namely, Sen Raleigh Cycle Factory Mazdoor Congress. It is true that he is a member of the Union but there is a rival Union, namely Sen Raleigh Employees' Union. There is nothing to show that Shri Das was taking any active part in respect of Mazdoor Congress. In the absence of any positive evidence on this point one should not presume that Shri Das was participated in Union activities in a manner which attracted the notice of the Company. It is not a case of want of good faith on the part of the Company nor it is a case of victimisation or unfair labour practice. The only point which is argued before me on the side of the Union is that on the materials on record the finding of the enquiring officer is completely baseless and perverse. The principle is well established that jurisdiction of the Tribunal is limited to the enquiry as to where a prima facie case has been made out by the employer against the employee, i.e., whereon the evidence led it was possible to arrive at the conclusion in question through it may not be the only conclusion. In the present case since I have held that there had been a fair enquiry, it would be enough for the employer to show that there was some evidence at the domestic enquiry on which it was possible for the enquiring officer to arrive at the conclusion that Sri Das was guilty of the charge. In this respect the evidence of Ram Moni Choudhury is important. He stated before the enquiring officer that on 25th January 1964 at 1-30 a.m., i.e., in the night while he was keeping watch over the housing project area he noticed two men entering through the fencing. One of them wanted to use the telephone which was lodged in that place under a shed. He demanded the exchange number. The guard could not give him the number. At this the telephone apparatus was thrown out by that man and it was broken to pieces. The man also abused the guard. He brought out a knife as well to thereaten the guard. The guard shouted and on hearing his shout another guard Sukla came to the spot. Sukla was also abused and threatened. He retreated inside his quarter to re-appear properly armed. Then the miscreants left. Shri Ram Moni further stated that he disclosed his name as Sailen Das. He shouted by saying "Hamara Nam Sailen Das Hai, Haramika Bachha Tum Hum Ko Chinta Nehi"? It is the evidence of Ram Moni who is the principal witness at the enquiry that he knew Sailen Das as a worker of the Company but did not know him by name. He came to know of the name from the disclosure made by Shri Sailen Das himself under the above circumstances. Sukla was also examined at the domestic Tribunal. The matter was reported to the Civil Engineer J. Roy shortly thereafter. On the above circumstances the enquiring officer came to his finding Ext. D. The plea of Shri Das at the enquiry was that since he was sick at the relevant period and completely bed ridden it would not have possible for him to figure in the scene as described by Ram Moni Choudhury. It is true that Shri Das was on leave for the period from 31st December 1963 to 10th February 1964. Thus on the relevant date, i.e., 25th January 1964 he was on leave. This plea was dis-believed by the enquiring officer and he relied upon the evidence of Ram Moni Choudhury as to identification of Shri Das and that of Shri B. Sukla who corroborated the story of Ram Moni in some material particulars and came to the finding that it was Shri Das who broke the telephone mouth piece and abused the guard on duty. It was argued before me that the enquiring officer ought not to have relied on the testimony of Ram Moni and that he ought to have enquired into the medical certificate which was filed by Shri Das in support of his application for leave. Now if the evidence of Ram Moni is believed, it cannot be said that there is no evidence at the domestic tribunal for coming to the conclusion which have been reached by Shri Bagchi. If Shri Bagchi believed the evidence of Ram Moni and others, the conclusion which he arrived at is quite a possible conclusion and the Tribunal should not substitute its own judgement in place of that of the enquiring officer. With regard to the medical certificates, those medical certificates were proved before me on the side of the Union by calling the doctor who granted them as a witness. He is P. W. 1. Dr. Gopika Ranjan Mitra. He proved Exts. 2 and 2 (a). Dr. Mitra wants to say that he examined Shri Das on three different dates between 21st January 1964 to 5th February 1964 and he found the patient not physically fit to move out. I will turn to the certificates Exts. 2 and 2 (a). Ext. 2 is dated 24th January 1964 and it states that the patient Shri Das was under the treatment of Shri Mitra from 21st January 1964 and was suffering from septic allergic dermatitis of the right leg. He was advised rest for another two weeks. The next certificate was granted on 9th February 1964 which was a fit certificate. Thus certificates which relied on by the Union is Ext. 2, dated 24th January 1964. The mere fact that the doctor advised rest for a patient would not help me in coming to the conclusion that he was physically unfit to move out. I cannot accept the testimony of Shri Mitra that in fact Shri Das was physically unfit for moving out. There is nothing mentioned about it in the certificate itself. On the contrary before the domestic tribunal Shri Das himself stated that he could move out slowly. (আমি আস্তে আস্তে মুভ করতে পারি) at page 11 of the enquiry proceedings. The evidence of Ram Moni Choudhury is not therefore thoroughly inconsistent with the physical ailment of Shri Das. Moreover the enquiring officer disbelieved the plea of Shri Das in view of the other evidence before him and came to the conclusion that Shri Das was guilty of the charge; the tribunal is compelled to say that it is quite a possible conclusion and the finding cannot be said to be perverse or not supported by any evidence. It is not therefore a case of perverse finding by the domestic tribunal. None of the grounds for interference is accordingly made out.

On the side of the Union it is argued that the foreman issued charge-sheet in the instant case and the employer must prove that the foreman had authority of issuing the charge-sheet. It is a question of fact and it was raised for the first time at the time of argument. It is not also mentioned in the written statement. The employer therefore has no opportunity of meeting the point as to how a foreman had authority of issuing the charge-sheet. Moreover charge-sheet is not unishment and there is no substance in the argument hat a foreman is not competent to issue charge-sheet.

For the foregoing reasons I hold that the dismissal f Shri Sachindra Nath Das is justified. He is entitled o no relief in this reference.

This is my award.

AWARD

The Government af West Bengal, had, by Order No.102-I.R./IR/13L-31/64, dated the 11th January 1965, referred the following industrial dispute between Messrs. The Basumati Press (P) Ltd. and their workmen represented by the Basumati Press Employees' Union to this Tribunal for adjudication.

Issues

(1) What retiral banefits, if any, the following workmen are entitled to for the period of their service not covered by the Provident Fund ?

(i) Shri Tarapada Halder, (ii) Shri Sarat Chandra Ghose, (iii) Shri Sadhu Ahir, (iv) Shri Jatindra Nath Ghose, and (v) Shri Panchanan Chatterjee.

(2) Is the retirement of the following workmen justified ? What relief, if any, are they entitled to ?

(i) Shri Ramraj Ahir, (ii) Shri Thakur Din Tewari and (iii) Shri Dhame Ahir.

After the service of the usual notice, the workmen represented by the Union had submitted its written statement, and the employer, The Basumati Private Ltd., which is said to have been wrongly described as Basumati Press (P) Ltd., had also submitted the written statement. In the written statement filed on behalf of the workmen, it has been said that all these workers mentioned above are permanent workmen of the Company and had put in long years of service and are also active members of the Union. A chart has been given showing the designation, the date of appointment, the period of service and the wages of these persons. It is further stated that the management had wrongly terminated the services by several letters, dated 30th July 1963, and 30th October 1963, that at the time of appointment of these eight workmen, there was no condition of service specifying the age of superannuation that these persons were to work as long as they were able to work and that the certified standing orders of the Company which came into existence in 1952 cannot apply to those workmen who had been employed before. It is also stated that the management cannot ask these workmen to retire unless they become physically and mentally unfit for work, that after the alleged-retirement, Tarapada Halder, Thakur Din Tewari and Panchanan Chatterjee had been taken back in employment, that in the circumstances, the question of the retiral benefit to the five workmen of the first group cannot arise and that as the workmen had really been retrenched, they are entitled to compensation under section 25F of the Industrial Disputes Act. The workmen had prayed for reinstatement of the eight workmen and for payment of all their wages and allowances for the period of forced unemployment and that the workmen of the first group might be given compensation under section 25F of the Industrial Disputes Act.

The Company in its written statement had alleged that it has been incorporated sometime in the year 1963 and had denied that the management had been pursuing anti-labour and anti-union policy and had been harassing and victimising the members of the Union, and it further denied that the workmen mentioned in the letter of reference are active members of the Union. It is further alleged that in the certified standing orders of the Company, dated 11th January 1952, it has been provided in section 14 that all the workmen should retire ordinarily on completion of 55 years of their age, that if any workman is considered fit even after the completion of 55th years of his age, he may, on his application, be given an extension not exceeding three years, provided no retrenchment is called for in the meantime, that no workman who is physically unfit (it should be physically fit) should be made to retire and that any workman completing 25 years of service has the option to retire even if he has not completed his 55th year of his age. With regard to retrenchment, it has been provided, inter alia, that a workman whose superannuation is overdue should be made to retire in the first instance, that if further retrenchment is called for, retrenchment should be effected according to the accepted principle "last come first go", that this should be the usual rule, that deviation from this accepted principle is permissible in consideration of comparative efficiency of the employee their conduct and other factors, that at the time fresh employment, retrenched employee should g the first preference, other things being equal, and th in re-employing retrenched employees, it is on efficiency and ability that counts, and not the princi "last come first go". It is a further case of the Compa that in 1963 all the eight workmen had attain the 55th year of their age, and therefore became liab to retire on account of their old age and, therefo the Company had addressed letters, dated 28th Fe ruary 1963, to each of them informing them that sin they had reached the age of superannuation, th services were terminated by the Company with effe from 1st April 1963 and each of these employees wa directed to settle their accounts with the accoun Department of the Company. After receiving the letters the workmen made representation to the manag ment of the Company and by the letter, dated 29 March 1963, the workmen were informed that it w decided to keep the order in the letter, dated 28 February 1963, in abeyance until further orde Thereafter, the matter was considered by the manag ment including the Board of Directors and it was decid that the services of the workmen should be t minated in accordance with the provision of clause of the certified standing orders. In accordance w the decision, seven letters all dated 30th July 19 were addressed to Tarapada Halder, Sadhu Al Jatindra Nath Ghose, Panchanan Chatterjee, Ra Ahir, Thakur Din Tewari, and Dhame Ahir intimat that their services were terminated with effect fr 1st September 1963 and by another letter, dated 3 October 1963, addressed to Sarat Chandra Gho the Company terminated his services with effect fr 1st December 1963. Therefore, the termination w not wrongful, as the certified standing orders of t Company are binding on all the workmen. W regard to the standing orders, it is said that the standi orders had been certified under section 5(3) of the I dustrial Employment (Standing Orders) Act, 19 that the terms and conditions contained in the standi orders are reasonable, justified and binding on all t workmen of the Company including the workmen wh names appear in the order of reference, that all t workmen of the Company had accepted the abo standing orders and acted on the basis thereof and h received diverse benefits from time to time the under. The Company therefore denies that it can terminate the services of the workmen on the grou of superannuation and alleges that in view of the age a physical and mental condition, Tarapada Hald Thakurdin Tewari and Panchanan Chatterjee are un to do the work for which they were previously employ that the Company, however, in consideration their long services had re-employed them in ord to render financial assistance, that the question of reti benefits so far as Tarapada Halder, Sarat Gho Sadhu Ahir, Jatindra Nath Ghose and Panchan Chatterjee are concerned does not arise at all and th there is question of retrenchment. The Compa in the circumstances states that the workmen are n entitled to get any relief.

Decision

Before I proceed to consider the questions as whether the first group of five workmen is entitled t any retiral benefit and as to whether the second oup of three workmen had been retired on justifi- le grounds, I shall notice a submission which has en made by Shri Nikhil Roy appearing for the Union. ri Roy had pointed out that real issue in so far as the st group of five workmen are concerned is also the stifiability of the retirement on the alleged ground superannuation. He further submitted that the estion of retiral benefits, so far as they are concerned the period not covered by the Provident Fund, es not, strictly speaking, arise in the circumstances the present case. I had pointed out to Shri Roy at I am bound by the order of reference made by the bour Department of the Government of West Bengal d it is not for me to travel beyond the order of refer- ce and decide that question, as it is a question which s not been referred to this Tribunal for adjudication. ave further pointed out that if the Union was not sfied with the order of reference made in this half by the Government of West Bengal, it could ve the Hon'ble High Court under Article 226 of Constitution. Shri Roy pointed out that the er of reference is an administrative order and refore the workmen could not possibly get any ef by instituting proceeding under Article 226 the Constitution. It is not for me to say whether y relief could or could not be obtained by filing application under Article 226 of the Constitution. would only point out that if really the question of justifiability of the retirement so far as the first oup of five workmen is concerned was really raised fore the Government of West Bengal and if really e Government of West Bengal refused to refer that estion to this Tribunal for adjudication, then the der might be set aside if the refusal was for extra- ous reasons In this connection I would refer to the ling reported in A. I. R. 1960 S. C. 1223 (State of mbay versus. H. P. Krishnan). This ruling has en referred to and relied in the case reported in A. I. R. 61 Orissa 256 (A. K. Roy versus. State of Orissa). eir Lordships had referred to the provisions of sec- n 12(5) of the Industrial Disputes Act and had been eased to observe that the order passed by the Govern- ent under that section may be administrative order d the reasons recorded by it may not be justifiable the sense that their propriety, adequacy or satis- ctory character may not be open to judicial security, at in that sense it would be correct to say that the urt hearing a petition of mandamus is not sitting appeal over the decision of the Government, at nevertheless if the Court is satisfied with the asons given for refusing to make a reference are traneous and not germane, then the Court can issue d would be justified in issuing writ of mandamus en in respect of such administrative order, and that hile passing the order under section 12(5), the overnment must consider not only the report under ction 12(4), but also other relevant factors. As I ve stated earlier, it is not for me to say whether the orkmen concerned could have obtained any relief by ing an application under Article 226 of the Consti- tion. It would be sufficient to state that if there s been refusal to refer on extraneous ground, the lief by filing an application under Article 226 of the onstitution is certainly possible. The effect, however, f the fact that there has been no reference regarding he justifiability of retirement on the ground of super- nnuation of the first group of five workmen is that his Tribunal cannot adjudicate on this question so far as these persons are concerned. But as the question had been raised by both the parties regarding all the eight workmen, I shall record my finding, on the ques- tion of the justifiability of the retirement of all the eight workmen on the ground of superannuation.

The learned lawyer appearing for the Company had strongly relied on the certified standing orders (Ext. C) and had urged that since 1952 the condition of service must be deemed to be governed by the provisions of the certified standing orders. Shri Roy appearing for the workmen had urged, on the other hand, that the provisions of the certified standing orders of the Company cannot apply in the case of these workmen who had entered service before the certi- fied standing orders of the Company came into force. My attention has been drawn by Shri Roy to the rulings reported in 1959 (II) L.L.J., 405 (Guest. Keen, William Pvt. Ltd. versus. P. J. Sterling) and 1964 (II) L.L.J. 146 (Workmen of Kettlewell Bullen & Co. versus Kettlewell Bullen & Co.). In the first case it was held that the age of retirement as fixed by the standing orders did not apply to the prior employees. That case was decided by their Lordships of the Supreme Court before the amendment of the Industrial Employ- ment (Standing Orders) Act, 1946, by Act 36 of 1956. In the context of law as it prevailed prior to the amendment by Act 36 of 1956, their Lordship of the Supreme Court had held that the workmen had a right to claim the modification of the standing orders on the ground that they are unreasonable or unfair by raising an in- dustrial dispute in that behalf. Their Lordships, however, discussed the effect of amendment of section 4 and sub-section 2 of the section 10 of the Industrial Employment (Standing Orders) Act, 1946, by Act 36 of 1956 and had observed that the position is substan- tially altered by these two amendments and that sub- sequent to the amendment of the Act, the workmen can raise the dispute referred to above before the certi- fying officer or before the Appellate Authority and may apply for modification of the standing orders under section 10 (2) of the Act. It appears to me that in view of the amendment of 1956, it is no longer possible for workmen to raise an industrial dispute regarding the unreasonableness or unfairness of the provisions of the standing orders. It may also be pointed out that in the Industrial Employment (Standing Orders) Act, there is a provision for appeal to the Appellate Authority by any person aggrieved by the order of the certifying officer. There is also further provision for reference of any question relating to the application or interpretation of the standing orders certified under this Act to any of the specified Labour Courts (vide the provisions of sections 6 and 13A of the Act). Under section 3(2) read with section 2 (g) of the Act, standing orders can be made, inter alia, for the termina- tion of employment and the notice thereof to be given by the employer to the workmen. It would appear from the ruling reported in 1960 (I) L.L.J., 187 (The Hindu, Madras versus The Hindu Office and National Press of Employees' Union) that the expression "ter- mination of employment" is wide enough to include retirement of employees at the age of superannuation. Therefore under the standing orders the employer is entitled to make provision regarding the retirement of of the employees or workmen on superannuation. If the workmen concerned felt aggrieved by reasons of the provisions made in the standing orders regarding retirement on superannuation, they could have certainly raised the dispute by filing the appeal or could have sought modification under section 10(2) of the Industrial Employment (Standing Orders) Act. They have not done so and it appears to me that they cannot now challenge the standing orders of the Company as being unreasonable and unfair so far as the employees who got their employment before the standing orders were enforced are concerned. With regard to the other case reported in 1964 (II) L.L.J., 146, it appears that the Company framed rules regarding retirement on completion of the 55th year in 1947 and 1951. It was held that these rules do not apply to employee who had entered service before it was pointed out that there was no age of retirement before and there was nothing to show that the employees had agreed to accept the new rules as part of their conditions of service. It appears to me that the position of the employees where new service rules have been framed is completely different from the position of those employees where certified standing orders had come into force. The certified standing orders are statutory conditions of service. With regard to the new service rules, it is possible to argue that they cannot apply with retrospective effect unless, of course, the employees themselves had accepted the new service rules as conditions of service. Where, however, there are certified standing orders, it appears to me, it is not possible to argue that they should not apply to the employees who got their employments before those standing orders were brought into force in accordance with the Act. The very fact that the workmen did not raise any dispute at the appropriate time would show that they had accepted the new condition of service embodied in the certified standing orders. Shri Sarkar appearing for the Company had also pointed out that there is some evidence to show that the leave facilities as granted by the standing orders had been availed of by these workmen. It would appear that section 12 of the standing orders provide that there is 15 days' privilege leave on full pay to be accumulated for three years, there is seven days' non-cumulative casual leave on full pay, there is ten days' sick leave on full pay to be accumulated up to three months and subject to a limit of six months in the whole service, there is ten days' gazetted holidays on full pay in a year excluding Sundays. P.W. 1 Sarat Ghosh who is one of the workmen mentioned in the first group had said that these leaves and holidays had been enjoyed by him; P.W. 2 Tarapada Halder had also admitted that he had enjoyed the leave and holidays like the other workmen all along ; P.W. 3 Jatindra Nath Ghosh had also given similar evidence ; similar evidences have been given by P.W. 4 Sadhu Ahir and P.W. 5 Dhama Ram Ahir. Panchanan Chatterjee and Thakur Din Tewari had not been examined in this case. It was suggested to O.P.W. 1 in cross-examination that these two workmen had not been released from the office for the purpose of giving evidence in this case. O.P.W 1 had been unable to say whether they had been so detained or not. Whatever that might be, it is absolutely clear that after the standing orders came into force, these workmen had been enjoying benefits conferred by the standing orders on the workmen. The learned Advocate for the Company had also pointed out that apart from the enjoyment of leave and holiday facilities, there is also some instance where workmen had been retired previously in accordance with the standing orders. The evidence of O.P.W. 1 certainly show that some persons have been so retired but the evidence is not definite enough specially as the service records and other do ments showing the retirement of other old employ had not been produced. I therefore do not place reliance on the evidence of O.P.W. 1 and I am there unable to accept that in accordance with the stand orders, there had been retirement previously of so workmen. Even if it be supposed that some workn had been retired previously on the completion of 5 year, I do not think it can be said that the workn as a whole and particularly these workmen had acce ed the condition that they are bound to retire on completion of the 55th year in accordance with certified standing orders. But whether they did or not, the very fact as mentioned above, that t did not raise any dispute previously and did not any appeal to the Appellate Authority, and did seek modification of this standing order appe to me to show that they had accepted the certif standing orders as the condition of serice. Therefo nothing would turn on the fact that these 8 employ get their employments before the standing ord were certified in 1952.

The next question now is whether there has really be termination of service in accordance with the cer fied standing orders. As I have mentioned earli this question, strictly speaking, does not arise in t case of the first group of five workmen. But as t evidence with regard to both the groups is more less same and as the learned Advocates appearing both the parties had made their submission, I sh record my finding. It is undisputed that the Compa gave notice to these eight workmen intimating that th are to retire on the ground of superannuation with eff from 1st April 1963 (Exts. A, A-1, evidence of P W 1,2,3,4, and 5). It further appears that thereafter t workmen made entreaties and wanted the manage me had allowed them to continue to work for some mo time. Thereafter the management had issued anoth notice (Ext. A-2 and B) asking seven workmen nam Tarapada, Jatin, Ramraj, Sadhu Ahir, Panchana Dhama Dhana Ahir, and Thakur Din to retire with eff from 1st September 1963. The Company also ask Shri Sarat Ghose to retire with effect from 1st Decer ber 1963. There is also the letter (Ext. F) on the Unic in which it has been stated that Tarapada and othe had served the management from 20 years to 55 yea but there was no provision for retiral benefits and gr tuity. There was demand for payment of gratui of one month of basic pay for each year of service a actually the demand was for 15 months' pay as gr tuity. There was no objection to the effect that tho seven workmen excluding Sarat Ghose cannot be retir from service as they had entered the services of t Company earlier than the date when the certifi standing orders were brought into force. On t side of the workemen, the relevant letters had be produced (Exts. 1 to 7). Exhibit 8 is a letter sign by the employees for reconsideration of the decisi to retire on the ground of superannuation. Exhil 9 is a letter from the Union in which it was pointed that the age of retirement had been increased with gard to the State employees from 55 to 58 years. would appear from the letters that it was accepted t all the concerned workmen had completed the age 55 years. In fact, Ext. 10 appears to show that the employees had completed the age of 55 years a that some of them were much more than 55 years in 1963 when they were asked to retire. As I under- d the learned Advocate appearing for the workmen, ld not himself dispute that the concerned work- had completed the age of 55 years in 1963 when were asked to retire. In the circumstances, it t necessary for me to refer in detail to the evidence .Ws. 1 to 5. P.W. 1 had said that he is now 75 s of age ; P.W. 2 had said that he is now 79 years ge ; P.W. 3 had said that he is now 80 years of ge ; P.W. 4 had said that he is now 90 years ge and P.W. 5 had said that he is now 60 years of In the circumstances, it cannot be said that workmen did not complete the age of 55 years e time they were asked to retire on the ground of nnuation. It therefore appears to me that ervices of all these workmen were duly and legally inated in accordance with the certified standing s, and therefore the termination of service was fied.

ere has been some argument as to retiral benefit regard to the first group of workmen, but the nce as adduced on behalf of the workmen s that there was no scheme for payment of gratuity hat some of the workmen had got their provident . In fact, the question of payment of gratuity not seriously urged by Shri Roy appearing for the men. Shri Roy, however, had argued that these men had been really retrenched and therefore are entitled to compensation under section 25F e Industrial Disputes Act. I do not think this ment can be accepted. It has been provided ction 2 (oo) that retrenchment means termina- by the employer of the service of a workman for reason whatsoever, otherwise than as a punishment ted by way of disciplinary action, but does not de (a) voluntary retirement of workman, or retirement of workman on reaching the age of nnuation if the contract of employment between mployer and the workman contains provision t behalf, or (c) termination of the service of work- on the ground of continued ill-health. It appears where a workman is retired on reaching the age superannuation in accordance with the statutory tion of service as embodied in the certified ling orders, there is no question of retrenchment consequently there is no question of payment y retrenchment compensation by the employer. refore cannot accept the submission of Shri Roy there had been retrenchment of the concerned men and that the concerned workmen or any of is entitled to get any retrenchment compensa- I therefore have come to the conclusion that the rned workmen are not entitled to get any relief.

his is my award.

AWARD

The Government of West Bengal, by Order No. 1466-I.R./IR/10L-43/64, dated the 15th April 1964, has referred the following industrial dispute between Messrs. Kedarnath Purushottamdas (P) Ltd., and their workmen represented by Iron & Steel Workmen's Union, to this Tribunal for adjudication.

Issue

Whether the termination of services of Sarbasree Sachindranath Mondal, Tribhuban Pathak, Brahmadeo Lall, Kishori Mohan Dey and Manindranath Rai is justified? To what relief, if any, are they entitled?

After the service of the usual notices, the Union through the Vice-President Shri Santosh Ganguly, had filed the written statement on behalf of the workmen and the company had also filed its written statement. In the written statement filed on behalf of the Union, it has been stated that all the workmen mentioned in the order of reference are workmen of the company, that Shri Sachindra Mondal, who was servicing as a tool mistry of the company was suddenly directed verbally not to attend to his duties on and from the 3rd November 1963, that Tribhuban Pathak who was serving as a durwan was similarly directed not to attend to his duty on and from 20th October 1963, that Brahmodeo Lal who was serving as a workmen had been granted leave for 3 weeks from the 13th July 1963, and came back on 3rd August 1963, that he was asked to wait, that though he had attended daily, he was not allowed to resume his duties, that Kishori Mohon Dey was asked to sit down from the 11th August 1963, that though he had daily attended to the gate, he was not allowed to resume his duty and that Manindranath Rai was suddenly directed not to attend to his duty on and from the 11th December 1963. These workmen were not given any written notice either regarding dismissal or regarding lay-off. Representation was made to the Labour Directorate, Howrah and several joint conferences were called, but none attended on behalf of the company. In the circumstances, it is prayed that these workmen may be reinstated in service with full compensation for the period of forced unemployment.

In the written statement filed by the company it has been stated that the union does not represent any workmen of the company and has no locus standi to sponsor any dispute in respect of the workmen of the company and that the alleged dispute cannot be an industrial dispute, unless the workmen of the company or the union representing the workmen of the company has not raised that dispute. Besides this preliminary objection it has been stated that the company was never called by the Labour Commissioner in respect of any conciliation and had therefore no opportunity to represent their views. The company does not dispute that these 5 workmen are the workmen of the company, but alleges that these workmen remained absent from their duties and did not return to their duties and therefore the company came to the conclusion that these workmen were no longer interested in their service under the company, and accordingly, the name had been struck off from the rolls of the register and their services stand terminated. With regard to Brahmadeo Lall, it is stated that he was granted leave, but he never returned from the leave, and, therefore, the Company came to the conclusion that he was no longer interested in his service, and accordingly, his name had been struck off. The workmen, therefore, are not entitled to get any relief.

Findings

Before I proceed to consider the question whether the five workmen had absented themselves from their duties without any authority or leave, and whether in such circumstances, their services were terminated as contended on behalf of the company, it is necessary to decide the preliminary objection which has been raised before me by the learned Advocate appearing for the company. The substance of the argument of the learned Advocate for the company is that there is no industrial dispute, and therefore, the industrial tribunal cannot adjudicate on the question whether the services of the concerned workmen came to an end or not. Before discussing the evidence bearing on the priliminary objection, it is necessary to refer to certain rulings to which my attention has been drawn by the learned Advocates for the workmen and the company. The learned Advocate for the company had referred me to the rulings reported in 1956(I) L.L. 489 (Murugappa Mudaliar vs. Raja Mudaliar), 1956(L.L.J., 95 (Nelli Cotton Mills vs. Labour Cou Madras). It has been laid down that the workme supporting the dispute must be workmen of the em ployer concerned at the date of the reference and th they should have a direct and substantital intere in the dispute raised. In the first case, it was he also that the union consisting of workmen having interest in the dispute between the employer a its only employee cannot convert the dispute in industrial dispute. In the other case, it was point out by his Lordship that the mere fact that a su stantial number of workmen from the establishme in which the concerned workmen was employed w also members of the union, would not by itself convert an individual dispute into an industrial di and it must further be shown that they particip in or acted to gather and arrived at a understan by resolution or by other means and collecti supported at the date of reference the demand or c of the individual workmen. It appears to me it is unnecessary to refer to the various author to which my attention has been drawn, because well settled that a dispute becomes an indust dispute when it is sponsored by the union or suppo by any group of workmen [A.I.R. 1957 S.C. 16 1957(I) L.L.J., 27—C.P.T. Services vs. R. G. Patv dhan], A.I.R. 1957 S.C., 532=1957 (II) L.L.J Newspaper Ltd. vs. S.I. Tribunal, U.P.). In latest case reported in 1965 (I) L.L.J., Notes XV XVII (workmen vs. Dharam Pal Premchand) t Lordships of the Supreme Court had held that a dis raised by dismissed employee cannot become an dustrial dispute unless it is supported by his un or in the absence of union, by number of workm In that case 18 out of 45 employees in a Commer Establishment were members of the Mercan Association Delhi, where membership was not confi to that establishment only. The 18 workmen were members of that union were all dismissed f service by the employer and the dispute was ra by the union of which the dismissed workmen w the members. In the industrial tribunal the pr minary objection was raised as to whether that un could represent the workmen, and convert the dis into industrial dispute. The preliminary objec was upheld by the tribunal. Their Lordships of Supreme Court held that the reference at the inst of that union is valid. Their Lordships had poi out that where there was no union of the workme a particular establishment, they might be mem of a union provided that the workmen who are m bers of that union are workmen of establishm relating to the same industry. Their Lordships had discussed section 36 of the Industrial Disputes regarding representation of the workmen by the u Therefore, it appears that where there is no unio the workmen of a particular establishment, the work can become the members of another union w membership is not restricted to the workmen particular establishment. The workmen, however, were members of that union, must be workmen same industry.

I shall now proceed to discuss the facts and cumstances of the present case in order to fin whether the present dispute can really be regard be an industrial dispute. It is not disputed there is no separate union of the workmen employed by the employer Messrs. Kedarnath Purushottamdas (P) Ltd., except one formed recently. The learned Advocate for the company had argued that as there is no such union, the alleged dispute could have been sponsored by other workmen who are working under the company. As the other workmen had not raised any dispute, the dispute cannot be regarded to be industrial dispute. It appears to me that this argument of the learned Advocate for the company cannot be accepted. It would appear from the evidence of O.P.W.2—Purusottam Sharma who is the Manager of the company that the total number of workmen in the various departments of the company varies between 70 to 80, and that sometime the number falls to 40. O.P.W.2 had also stated that there is a union called Kedarnath Purushottamdas Workers' Union which was formed either in January or February 1964, that nearly all the workers of the factory are members of that union and that some of the workers are also members of the Iron & Steel Workmen's Union. Regarding the other union mentioned by O.P.W.2 there is no allegation in the written statement filed on behalf of the company that there is really any union restricted to the workers of the establishment of the company. There is also no suggestion to P.Ws. 1 to 6 that there is really another union whose membership is restricted to the workmen employed by the company. Therefore, the evidence of O.P.W.2 in this regard cannot be accepted. In fact, the learned Advocate for the company did not place any reliance on the evidence of O.P.W.2 in this regard. As I have mentioned earlier, he had argued that even if there was no union whose membership is restricted to the workers of the company, still the dispute might have been raised by other workers and the Iron and Steel Workmen's Union has no locus standi to sponsor the dispute. I am unable to agree with the learned Advocate. Even from the evidence of O.P.W.2 it would appear that at least some of the workers are members of the Iron and Steel Workmen's Union. The evidence of P.Ws.1 to 6 shows that some 80/85 workers employed by the company are members of that union. It was urged that the membership register had not been produced and the subscription register had also not been produced to show how many workmen are really members of that union. It is true that these documents had not been produced, but I have no reason for not accepting the evidence of P.Ws.1 to 6 that a good number of workmen are members of the Iron and Steel Workmen's Union. The question now is whether the Iron and Steel Workmen's Union can sponsor the dispute. It was urged by the learned Advocate for the company that even if considerable number of workers are members of that union, still the union cannot sponsor the dispute unless the union is authorised by resolution or otherwise to do so. There is, of course, no resolution and it is not known whether any resolution was at all passed, but resolution is not the only way of authorising the union to sponsor the dispute. In the present case, there is a petition signed by various workers (Ext. A), dated the 12th December 1963, which is addressed to the President of the Iron and Steel Workmen's Union. The workmen had prayed that necessary action may be taken regarding the dismissal of these 5 workmen. Beside the concerned workmen named in the order of reference, P.W.6 Ram Ekbal Singh whose signature also appears in Ext. A, has given evidence and had stated that there was a committee meeting at first, and subsequently, he and others had appended their signatures to the petition and that the petition was submitted so that the case might be filed on behalf of the discharged workmen. It is true that he is ignorant of Bengali, but he says that there was the meeting, that the contents of the petition was read over and explained and thereafter the signatures were given. There is also some evidence to show that there were 4 meetings, which the workmen and the union representatives had attended, but in which none appeared on behalf of the company. It therefore appears to me to be abundantly clear that the workmen as a body had supported the case of the workmen whose names appear in the order of reference, and that the Iron and Steel Workmen's Union was really authorised to sponsor the dispute on behalf of the concerned workmen. I have therefore come to the conclusion that the dispute is really an industrial dispute and not an individual dispute, as contended by the learned lawyer appearing for the company. The preliminary objection is therefore over-ruled.

I shall now turn to discuss the evidence regarding the merits. Before discussing the case of each workman mentioned in the order of reference, I shall notice a submission which has been made by Shri Mukherjee appearing for the company. Shri Mukherjee had urged that the termination of service means putting an end to the relationship of master and servant and that the evidence of P.Ws.1 to 6 is that the concerned workmen had been refused employment. His argument was that the refusal of employment may amount to lay-off or lock-out and cannot be regarded to be termination of service. In this connection, the learned lawyer Shri Mukherjee had referred to the definition of lock-out in section 2(1) of the Industrial Disputes Act. The definition says that lock-out means the closing of a place of employment, or the suspension of work or the refusal by the employer to continue to employ a number of persons employed by him. It is also necessary to refer to the definition of lay-off under section 2(kkk) of Act. It has been provided that lay-off means the failure, refusal or inability of an employer on account of the shortage of coal, power or raw materials, or the accumulation of stock, or the break-down of machinery, or for any other reason to give employment to a workmen whose name is borne on the master roll of his industrial establishment and who has not been retrenched. I do not see how the alleged refusal of employment of the concerned workmen can really be regarded to be lay-off, because the alleged refusal is not on account of the grounds mentioned in the section itself. It is true that the expression "for any other reasons" had been used in section 2(kkk) of the Act, but it appears from the rulings reported in A.I.R. 1960 S.C., 893= 1960 (II) L.L.J., 275 that the expression "for any other reasons" means reasons similar to the other reasons mentioned in the section itself. With regard to the question whether there is really termination of service or a lock-out, the substance of the matter has to be looked into and if the action of the management amounts to termination of employment, it is not a lock-out—1952 L.A.C., 219, A.I.R., 1957 S.C., 82=1957 (I) L.L.J., 17, A.I.R., 1958 S.C., 130=1958(I) L.L.J., 260. It appears to me that merely because the witnesses P.Ws. 1 to 6 had stated that there was refusal of employment of the concerned workmen by the management, it cannot be said that the services of the concerned workmen are still continuing and had not really been terminated and that this is really a case of lock-out and not a case of dismissal, or termination of service. I would point out also that in the written statement which has been filed on behalf of the employer it has not been stated that there had really been no termination of service and that the allegation on behalf of the workmen really amounts to a lock-out. It is undisputed that in a lock-out the relationship of master and servant does not come to an end. The learned lawyer appearing for the workmen had also drawn my attention to paragraphs 4 and 5 of the written statement on behalf of the company in which it has been clearly stated that the services of the concerned workmen stand terminated. In these paragraphs of the written statement, it has been stated that the services of the concerned workmen stood terminated, because of the long absence the employer has presumed that the concerned workmen were no longer interested in their services that termination is certainly different from the termination on account of the dismissal. But that at any rate shows that so far as the employer was concerned there cannot be any question of lock-out. It appears from the evidence of P.Ws.1 to 6 that the employer had regarded that the services had already come to an end and therefore there was no question of giving further work to these concerned workmen. As this is a question of termination of service, I do not think the argument of the learned lawyer Shri Mukherjee that the alleged refusal of employment really amounts to lock-out can be accepted. This contention is also over-ruled.

I shall now take up for consideration the case of each concerned workman. So far as Shri Sachin Mondal is concerned, it appears that he has not been examined to say that while he was working as a tool mistry, he was suddenly directed verbally not to attend to his duty on and from the 3rd November 1963. P.W.1 Santosh Ganguly who is the Vice-President of the union had stated that Sachin Mondal came to him sometime in October-November 1963 and he wrote out a letter to be given to the Manager and Sachin Mondal gave that letter to the Manager. His further evidence is that Sachin Modanl complained to him that he had been refused employment on that particular date. Obviously the evidence of P.W.1 cannot be accepted in the absence of the evidence of Sachin Mondal. It is also not clear why the case of Sachin Mondal was not taken up in November 1963 by the union if he was really dismissed wrongfully and illegally by the company at that time. P.W.2 Brahmadeo Lall had not said anything regarding Sachin Mondal. P.W.3 Manindra Rai had stated in cross-examination that he cannot remember the date when Sachin Mondal was prevailed upon on one day to take his weekly wages before going away. The payment of wages register (Ext. D-16) shows that Sachin Mondal had worked up to 30th or 31st July 1963, and that his name does not appear thereafter in that register. The evidence of P.W.3 does not show that Sachin Mondal had actually worked up to 2nd November 1963, as stated in paragraph 3 of the written statement filed by the union. P.W.4 Kishori Mohon Dey has not said anything regarding the alleged refusal of employment to Sachin Mondal. The only thing that appears from his evidence is that Sachin Mondal used to work in the same department where he worked. He had then corrected himself and said that Sachin Mondal used to work in the tools department. P.W.5 Raghunath Jadav had not said anything about Sachin. P.W.6 had stated that Sachin Mondal worked as a fitter and that as he was a member of the union, he was prevented by the company and was discharged in November 1963. In view of the entries in the payment of wages register the evidence of P.W.6 regarding the alleged discharge of Sachin Mondal in November 1963 can hardly be accepted. On behalf of the employer, O.P.W.1, Shri Nirmal Kundu had said that Sachin Mondal had given up his job of his own accord and had gone away, but without looking into the records, he was unable to give the date when Sachin Mondal had given up his job. The learned lawyer appearing for the workmen had pointed that in the written statement filed on behalf of the company, it has not been definitely stated when Sachin Mondal or the other concerned workmen did not attend to their duties. It is true that the particular dates had not been mentioned in the written statement, but in view of the entry in the payment of wages register, and in view of the absence of evidence of Sachin Mondal, I do not think anything really turns on the non-mentioning of the particular dates when the concerned workmen had given up their work. At the time of cross-examination, O.P.W.1 had said that Sachin Mondal worked in the tools department and the Manager noted that he had left as he had not come to work to do the work and that no intimation was sent to Sachin Mondal. O.P.W.2 who is the Manager had said that Sachin Mondal had worked up to 31st July 1963 and had left thereafter, that the figure '8' appearing on 31st July 1963 indicates that Sachin Mondal had worked for 8 hours on that day, that there was no subsequent entry regarding him in the attendance register, that he was paid Rs. 20-6 in the week ending 3rd August 1963 and that the actual date of payment cannot be found out. The attendance register (Ext. C.4) shows that Sachin Mondal only worked up to 31st July 1963. O.P.W.2 had also denied that Sachin Mondal had worked till 3rd November 1963 and thereafter he was prevented from working. It appears to me that there is no cogent reason for not accepting the evidence of O.P.W.2 who is the factory Manager, specially as the evidence is supported by the documentary evidence which I have referred to above, and specially as Sachin Mondal himself had not been examined to say that he had worked up to 2nd or 3rd November 1963. It appears to me to be clear from the facts and circumstances which I have mentioned above that Sachin Mondal had left his job after taking money on 31st July 1963 and that he was not in employment from August 1963. Therefore, so far as he is concerned, there is no question of any wrongful termination of service on 3rd November 1963. In view of the long absence of Sachin Mondal, the employer is justified in thinking that Sachin Mondal has left his job of his own accord and had thereby terminated the relationship of master and servant.

I shall now take up the case of the concerned workman Tribhuban Pathak. He has also not been examined in this case to say that he was really prevented from working on and from 21st October 1963. However, it was not disputed on behalf of the company that Tribhuban Pathak who was really the durwan worked up to 21st October 1963. There is, therefore, no difference as to the date up to which Tribhuban Pathak had worked as a durwan under the company. There

however, no cogent and reliable evidence to show t Tribhuban Pathak had really been dismissed reafter. P.W.1 had said that Tribhuban Pathak ormed him in the evening of 21st October 1963, t he had been refused employment on that very and that accordingly he had written a letter l had asked Tribhuban Pathak to sign it before king it over to the Manager. There is no receipt show that the letter was made over to the Manager l there is also no copy of the letter alleged to have n signed by Tribhuban Pathak P.W 2 Shri ahmadeo Lall and P.W.3 Shri Manindranath Rai l not said anything regarding the alleged dismissal Tribhuban Pathak on 21st October 1963 There also nothing in particular in the evidence of P Ws 4 6 regarding Tribhuban Pathak. On the side of employer, O.P W.1 had said that Sri Tribhuban thak had given up the job of his own accord l had gone away. At the time of cross-examination, P W 1 had said that if any worker leaves without intimation to the employer, no letter is given any worker enquiring about the reasons why is not coming back and that the attendance gister would show whether any person is present absent or has gone on leave. O.P.W 2 who is the tory Manager had said that Tribhuban Pathak d only worked up to 21st October 1963, and did t attend after 21st October 1963, for the purpose working and that he had started working only in ptember 1963 It is his further evidence that bhuban Pathak had left saying that he had got other job. It would appear that there has been serious cross-examination of O.P.W.2 by the learned lvocate appearing for the workmen. The only ggestion in cross-examination is that Tribhuban thak was prevented from working after 21st October 963 and O.P.W.2 had denied that suggestion. It ppears that the attendance register in the particular se though filed, had not been proved by the employer.
owever the facts and circumstances which I have
st October 1963. I have already pointed out that had himself not been examined to say that he had en really prevented from working after 21st October 963 by the Manager. Of course, in the letter (Ext 2-A) ere is a reference to Tribhuban Pathak having been ddenly dismissed on 21st October 1963 but the idence regarding the alleged sudden dismissal is cking I have, therefore, come to the conclusion at Tribhuban Pathak had left the job of his own cord after working up to 21st October 1963 and ere was no dismissal at all so far as he is concerned the company.

I shall now take up the case of Brahmadeo Lall o far he is concerned, the learned Advocate who as appeared for the Company told me that there as been a mistake in the written statement which ad been put in one behalf of the company. The arned Advocate told me that actually no leave was anted to Brahmadeo Lall and that he had actually eft service of the company on 29th May 1962. How-ver, according to the written statement filed by the nion Brahmadeo Lall had been granted leave for weeks from the 13th July 1963 and was not allowed o join when he came back on the expiry of the leave n 3rd August 1963. Therefore, according to the case f the workman Brahmadeo Lall was in service for more than one year since the date when he is alleged to have given up his service of his own accord. The evidence of P.W.1 is that Brahmadeo Lall came to him and reported at the union office, that he had gone on leave on 13th July 1963, and came back from leave on the 2nd or 3rd of August 1963, but he was not allowed to resume his duties, and that he was, after two days, refused employment His further evidence is that he thereafter wrote a letter and asked Brahmadeo Lall to sign it and give that letter to the Manager. There is discrepancy between the evidence of P.W.1 and P.W.2 Brahmadeo Lall Brahmadeo Lall had said that he had filed an application for leave and after obtaining leave for 3 weeks, he had went home and came back on 3rd August 1963. His further evidence is that he was not allowed to join his duty on 3rd August, 1963, that he had gone to the company on several days, but was asked to come on the following day, that after about 10 days, he had informed the union regarding this matter, that he himself had written a letter after 4 5 days and made over that letter to the company for giving him employment and that some 8 10 days later, he had met Santosh Babu (P.W 1), and Santosh Babu had written a letter and that he had not received any reply to the two letters which were given to the company The learned Advocate appearing for the workman could not reconcile the discrepancy in the evidence of P W.1 and P W 2. The evidence of P W.2 in cross-examination is that he may have signed some khata in 1962 and that there are actually more than one Hazira Khatas and that the signatures in the entries of the register of wages from August, 1961 to May 1962 are his. His further evidence is that the entries in the Hazira Book correspond to the entries in the register of wages The Hazira Book or attendance register (Ext. C-2), shows that he actually worked up to 29th of May 1962 and the register of wages (Ext D-9) shows that he received the wage for one day in the week ending 2nd June 1962. The entries in these registers certainly support the contention of the employer. The register of wages would show that the name of Brahmadeo Lall do not appear in the entries of the subsequent months of 1962. It also appears from the evidence of P.W.2 that Brahmadeo Lall is working elsewhere. It was suggested to him that the had never been out of employment and had worked at different places after 29th of May 1962, but Brahmadeo Lall had denied that suggestion. The learned lawyer appearing for the workmen had pointed that O.P W.2 had admitted in cross-examination that the name of Brahmadeo Lall appears in the register from August 1957 till 1960, that his name does not appear in the entries from January to June 1961 and that the name again appears from the entry from July 1961 This at best would show that Brahmadeo Lall did not work continuously and had worked from time to time. This certainly cannot show that the registers which I have mentioned above were not kept in due course of business. The learned lawyer appearing for the workmen also relied on the evidence of P.W 3 Shri Manindra Rai who said that Brahmadeo Lall was in service for 2 years before he had joined in this factory and had worked till 1963. In view of what I have stated above, I do not think the evidence of P.W.3 regarding the period of service of Brahmadeo Lall can be accepted. It was next pointed out that O.P.W.2 had admitted that no leave register has been maintained in accordance with the Factories Act

My attention was drawn to Form No. 15 which is a register of leave with wages prescribed under the Factories Act. My attention was also drawn to Rules 88 and 89 regarding the maintenance of the leave with wages register and the leave book It might be that those provisions are not complied with, but in this reference we are not concerned with the question whether the provisions of the Factories Act regarding the maintenance of the leave register and the giving of leave book to the workmen had been complied with. Apparently the workers made no grievance to the fact that the leave book had not been supplied. It is not the evidence of Brahmadeo Lall that he had asked for the leave book and O.P.W.2 had refused to give him. There was a suggestion that if the rules had been complied with, the workman Brahmadeo Lall could have shown that actually he was granted leave and had gone on leave for 3 weeks The alleged leave application had not been called for from the employer and according to the evidence of O.P.Ws 1 and 2, the leave is orally applied for and orally granted if asked for In my opinion, there is no cogent and reliable evidence to show that really Brahmadeo Lall was in service up to 13th July 1963 and had gone on leave for 3 weeks Of course, there is also the evidence of P.W 4 regarding the leave of Brahmadeo Lall and regarding the refusal of employment after he had returned from the leave But the evidence, for the reasons explained above, cannot be accepted. P.W 5 had also given evidence in this matter. But he had also said that Brahmadeo Lal lost his job on 13th August 1963. This date roughly correspond to the date spoken of by Brahmadeo Lal himself. P.W.6 had also given similar evidence I do not think, for the reasons which I have explained, that his evidence regarding the period of service of Brahmadeo Lall or regarding his going on leave or regarding his ultimate discharge, can be accepted O.P.W.1 had said that Brahmadeo Lall had given up his job of his own accord. O P W.2 had said that Brahmadeo Lall did not apply for any leave and had only worked up to 29th May 1962 and had not worked thereafter, and that what has been stated in the written statement regarding him is wrong There is nothing in the cross-examination which would show that the evidence of O.P.W.2 cannot be accepted O P.W.2 was not asked about the 2 letters which Brahmadeo Lall is alleged to have given to the company after his return from the leave. Incidentally, it may be pointed out that in the letter Ext 2-A, it has been stated that Brahmadeo Lall had been laid off, but no compensation had been paid, though asked for. It has not been stated that Brahmadeo Lall had been dismissed from service. If Brahmadeo Lall was really laid off, or really dismissed on or about 13th August 1963, there is no reason why his case was not taken up earlier by the union. The date of the letter (Ext. 2-A) is 12th November 1963 In my opinion, there is no cogent and reliable evidence to show that Brahmadeo Lall was in service at all in 1963 under the company. It appears to me that he had given up his job under the company after the 29th of May 1962 and gone away of his own accord The allegation of dismissal, or even the allegation of lay-off of Brahmadeo Lall had not been substantiated

I shall now turn to discuss the case of Shri Kishori Mohan Dey. He has been examined in this case as P.W.4. His evidence is that he had served under the company till August, 1961 and that he lost his job on 11th August 1963 and that on 11th August 1963 he had gone to the union and Santosh Babu had written out a letter which he had signed and had made over to the company on 12th August 1963. His further evidence is that the company did not grant any receipt for the letter. In fact the company never grants any receipt for the letters made over by the workers and that he had gone to the company five or six times and each time he was asked to go later. At the time of cross-examination he had said that he had joined in October 1961 and had obtained his wages by signing the register in November and December 1961. He was signed the khata showing the entries for November and December 1961 and after searching the pages he was unable to find his own signatures in any of the pages The register of wages (Ext. D-7) does not show his name and the register of attendance (Ext. C-2) only shows that his name appeared for the first time in July 1962 (the number of the Insurance Card is 425853). It may be mentioned here that Ext C-2 further shows that the full name 'Kishori Mohon Dey' appears for the first time from November 1962 and that previously the name was only written as 'Kishori Mohon'. The name of Kishori Mohon Dey also appears in the attendance register (Ext. C-3) The register (Ext. C-4) does not show his name. This is somewhat strange, because it is a case of the company that Kishori Mohon Dey had worked up to 21st July 1963 and then left the service of his own accord. However, the register of wages (Ext. D-16) shows that Kishori Mohon Dey only worked for one day in the week beginning from 27th January 1963 to 27th July 1963 and had actually received the payment of the wage of one day after the deduction of insurance contribution. The signature 'Kishori Mohon' is admitted by him and has been marked Ext. B-17. He has also admitted in his cross-examination that he has received Rs. 2.50 paise. He has also stated that it might be that out of the total daily wage of Rs. 2/14/- annas six annas has been deducted on account of the State Insurance. P.W.4 has further admitted his own signature (Ext. B-18) in the week from 14th July 1963 to 20th July 1963. This shows that a sum of Rs. 11.1 paise had been paid to him on account of wages for that period. In view of these facts and circumstances I do not think the evidence of P.W.4 that he had worked up to 11th August 1963 can be accepted His evidence also regarding the writing of the letter and the making over of the letter in August 1963 cannot be accepted. I do not think that his evidence that sometimes the Asstt. Manager had noted the attendance in blank papers can be accepted in view of the attendance registers which had been produced before me on behalf of the Company. The only other evidence is the evidence of P.W.3 Manindra Nath Rai and P W Raghu Nath Yadav. P.W.3 had said that he had only heard from Kishory Dey that he one day called in the office and was told that there was no further service for him and he cannot work any further. P.W has not mentioned the time when he heard from Kishor Dey. In my opinion, no reliance can be placed on the evidence of P.W.3. P.W.5 had said that he himself had lost his job on 13th August 1963 and Kishori Dey had lost his job about 2 weeks later in that month This is contrary to the evidence of P.W.4 that he had lost his job on 11th August 1963. It is true that the letter (Ext. 2-A) shows that Kishori Mohon was very

shall now turn to discuss the case of the other kman named Manindranath Rai According to case in the written statement of the workmen, indra Rai was asked not to attend to his duties and from 11th December 1963 According to the loyer Manindra Rai gave up his work after working 29th September 1963. P. W. 3 Manindra Rai had that he had worked for 2 hours on 11th December 3 and then was called by the Malik and was asked ther he was a member of the union, and that when and that he was a member, the Malik informed him Manindra Rai could not be employed there and must talk to the union It is his further evidence he met Santosh Babu at about 7 or 7-30 p.m. on day and Santosh Babu had written the letter that on the following day after signing the letter, ad made it over to the Malik At the time of cross-mination P. W. 3 had said that he had got his wages o 6th December 1963 but did not sign any khata cknowledgement of the payment made to him and he may have sign slips at the time of receiving payment of wages. The register of wages (Ext 3) shows that Manindra Rai whose insurance card is 962939 had received payment up to 28th September 1963 and his name does not appear thereafter attendance register (Ext. C-1) shows that Manindra had worked up to 29th September 1963 and had left. It may be mentioned here that the insurance no. has been mentioned as 962037 in some entries as 962939 in some other entries. However that be, it appears that Manindra Rai had admitted ignatures (Exts. A and A-1) in the register of wages the period from 23rd December 1962 to 29th December 1962 and for the period from 20th January to 26th January 1963, and that he had admitted in 1961 and 1962 he had signed the khatas before ving the payments. It appears to me that there reliable and cogent evidence to show that Manindra had worked in the factory under the company 29th September 1963. In the circumstances, not accept his evidence about the writing of the r on 11th December 1963 and the making over at letter on 12th December 1963. The only other relevant evidence are the letters (Exts. 2 and 3-C) In the letter (Ext. 2) it has been stated by the union that since the management came to know of the membership of the union of Manindra Rai, it began to thereaten him with dismissal and this threatening was overt and that suddenly on 11th December 1963 he was directed not to attend to his duties and was informed that with effect from that date he would not be allowed to work under the company. Manindara Rai had not said anything about the prior threat by the management. It also appears that whereas Manindra Rai had said that he had worked for 2 hours on 11th December 1963 the letter does not show that Manindra Rai was called after part of the work done on that day. Ext. 3-C is the letter of the Labour Officer, Howrah, for a joint conference. By that letter the union's letter, dated 13th December 1963 (Ext. 2) and the union's letter, dated 28th November 1963 were sent for comments. The letter, dated 28th November 1963 had not been put in by the union itself. I do not think that the evidence which have been discussed above would really show that Manindra Rai had actually worked after 29th September 1963 and was really refused employment on 11th December 1963. Regarding Manindra Rai O. P. W. 1 had said that he had left the service of his own accord. This is also the evidence of O P. W. 2 It is true that O P W. 2 had said in cross-examination that the name of Manindra Rai appears in the entries of June 1958, that his name does not appear in the register from December 1960 till June 1961, that his name appears in the register for July 1961, that his name does not appear in the register again from July 1962 till November 1962 and that his name appears in the register from December It was sought to be argued that the registers had not been properly maintained. Therefore, not much reliance ought to be placed on the entries made in these registers. I shall discuss later on the question whether the registers had been properly maintained and also the other question as to whether the attendance was noted on plain paper and whether the receipts were sometimes obtained in slips or vouchers. At this stage I would only point out that neither in the written statement, nor at the time of evidence, it has been stated that P. W 3 Manindra Rai had been working continously from 1958 It appears to me on a consideration of the evidence and the facts and circumstances that Manindra Rai had left his job of his own accord after working on 29th September 1963 and that there was no dismissal or refusal of employment on 11th December, 1963.

I shall now shortly consider the allegation regarding the registers wich I have mentioned above. The evidence of P. Ws. 2 to 6 shows that sometimes the receipts of payments were obtained in slips or vouchers and sometimes the receipts were granted in the regular registers. The evidence further shows that sometimes the attendance was recorded on plain papers. I cannot accept this evidence in view of the voluminous documents which had been produced by the company. There are documentary evidences regarding the recording of the attendance, and also regarding payment of wages and these registers must be maintained in accordance with the provisions of the Factories Act. O.P. W. 2 had stoutly denied that any Kachha khata was ever maintained or that any payment had been made in vouchers or slips or that the attendance was recorded in plain paper. There is no sufficient reason for not accepting his evidence. There are also contradictory evidence regarding the time when the Kachha khata and vouchers were prepared. In the circumstances I cannot accept the evidence of P. Ws. 2 to 6 on this score.

In view of my above findings, I do not think it can be said that these workmen had been discharged for their union activities. Regarding the membership of the union, the membership register had been withheld and the concerned workmen had also not filed the receipts showing the payment of the union subscriptions. But even supposing that the concerned workmen are really members of the union it appears to me that there is no sufficient reason why only 5 workmen should be singled out for the alleged dismissal for their alleged union activities. As I have mentioned above, there has really been no dismissal of these five concerned workmen; I have therefore come to the conclusion that there has been no dismissal for the alleged union activities as alleged or at all.

In view of my above findings the concerned workmen are not entitled to get any relief. This is my award.

AWARD

This dispute between Messrs. Hindusthan Refractories & Ceramics (Private) Ltd. and their workmen represented by Hindusthan Refractories Ceramics Shramik Union, Hattola Road, Durgapur (Burdwan), was referred to this Labour Court, under Section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 3444-IR-11L-57/58, dated the 18th August 1958, for adjudication upon the issue reproduced below

Issue

Is the discharge of the following workers justified? To what relief by way of reinstatement and/or compensation are they entitled to?

(1) Shri Asoke Kumar Bhattacharjee
(2) ,, Provash Chandra Digar
(3) ,, Trilochan Goswami.
(4) ,, Ramkali Bagdi.
(5) ,, Baijnath Singh.
(6) ,, Das Munda.
(7) ,, Bechu Singh.
(8) ,, Baliram.
(9) ,, Mahavir.
(10) ,, Bishu Ram.
(11) ,, Ramji.
(12) ,, Chiranjilal.
(13) ,, Chitra Bhadur.
(14) ,, Rameswar Singh.
(15) ,, Shibram Paul.
(16) Srimati Jamuna Dasi.

Amongst the aforesaid 16 workers I need not consider in detail the case of Bechu Singh, Baliram, Mahavir Bishu Ram, Ramji, Chiranjilal Chitra Bhadur, Rameswar, Singh, and Shibram Paul and Srimati Jamuna Dasi (item no. 7 to 15) inasmuch as these workers so I am told have got no grievance at present against the Company, they being all employed and engaged in different establishments. I have heard Shri Maitra appearing for the company and I am satisfied to find from the facts and circumstances of the case as a whole that their discharge has been nothing illegal and unjustified. These nine persons, therefore, are not entitled to any relief whatsoever in my judgement.

The case of the seven contesting workers is however altogether different and I shall have to see now in the facts and circumstances disclosed in evidence on record as to whether their discharge was or was not justified and whether and to what extent they are entitled to the reliefs they have prayed for before this Court

Before, however, I deal with the merits of each the aforesaid 9 workers I think I should dispose of two law points which were pressed before me by learned lawyer Shri Maitra appearing for the mpany. Shri Maitra contended before me by invi- g my attention to rule 4 of the Regulation of the ion that most of the workers having defaulted in matter of payment of Union's subscription as per ms of the agreement between the Union on the one and the workers on the other were not entitled to the Company in the garb of the Union's name. This tention of Shri Maitra has however no legal basis. wordings used in Rule 4 show that the agreement ffected between the Union on the one side and members on the other. The Company being a gn party thereto has evidently no say in the ter. The right to seek protection in a court of and equity is a right which has been vested by ute of law. Indeed it requires a very stringent or at an expressed provision in law to debar a person taking recourse to that statutory benefit. Shri tra, I am sorry to state, has not invited my atten- to any express provision whereby the aggrieved kers can be placed out of Court altogether.

condly, Shri Maitra contended that at any rate Union ought to have filed the relevant registers in ordance with the order of the Hon'ble High Court. ave perused the order of the Hon'ble Court and I satisfied myself to see that by filing the member- registers the donation registers, the card register, the Union substantially complied with the order the Hon'ble Court. I may add in this connection that is not the Company's case anywhere within the r corners of their written statement that any person the 16 workers is a fake personality. As a ter of fact the workers deposed before this Court their names find place in the registers filed by Union.

Now to come to the merits of the case. The mpany's main grievance seems to have been direc- against two persons, namely, Provash Chandra and Bodhan Goswami and so I take up their case here and w In paragraph 12 of the written statement of the mpany it has been adumberated that these two per- s were discharged for their gross misconduct exhibited ught on 25th December 1957 within the precincts of Company's factory. To quote the words used therein On 25th December 1957 at 8 a.m. they created a ne in front of the factory office shouted at the top of ir voice by saying that unless three casual workers re removed, they will not allow other workmen to rk and by threatening they stopped the work of the tire factory for about two hours." The Company mpt to prove this allegation by citing and examining ree of its witnesses O.P.W. 1 Shri Manick Chand oy, O.P.W. 2 Shri Biswanath Bhattacharjee and P.W. 3 Shri Satya Jyoti Bhowmic.

The latter two witnesses however never supported h tory of written statement. Thus they never disclosed that Trilochan and Provash wanted to get id of three casual workers. The further case of the mpany as disclosed in the aforesaid para. is that in h domestic enquiry that followed soon after their guilt was established and proved and that they were discharged subsequently. This portion of the written statement also appears to me to be untrue for it would appear from the contents of Ext. 5 the letter of dismissal addressed to Provash that the incident occurred if at all on 27th December 1957 as alleged in the written statement. The relevant portion of Ext. 5 runs thus : "On 27th December 1957 at about 8 a.m. along with Shri Trilochan created a scene in front of the factory office shouting at the top of your voice that unless three casual workers were removed you would not allow any other persons to work." The contents of the dismissal letter addressed to Trilochan [vide Ext.4(a)] show that Trilochan was summarily dismissed and that no domestic enquiry could therefore be held in this case. It appears to me to be quite clear that no domestic enquiry whatsoever nothing of the sort did ever take place in connection with any of the seven workers in points. It is alleged by the Company in their written statement that the domestic enquiry was conducted by one Shri R. M. Thakur, the Manager of the Company (vide last but one sentence in cross examination of O. P. W.1). No attempt has been made whatsoever to bring this witness on the box. One Shri B. C. Chatterjee is alleged to have been the best witness of the occurrence. This B. C. Chatterjee was present within this Court room on 8th April 1965 (vide Company's petition filed on 4th May 1965). He was not examined. On 12th April 1965 the Company produced and examined two of its witnesses but the said Shri B. C. Chatterjee was never produced and the reason for this non-production is not far to seek. If that person would have been examined, perhaps he would have disclosed the defence case to be true.

The defence or better the Union's case is that all these workers were victimised for their trade union activities. All these workers deposed before this Court and it transpires from their evidence that their grievance is to a very great extent substantial. Shrimati Jamuna's case for example makes it quite clear that there was no good reason whatsoever for the Company for not allowing her to resume her duties after the expiry of her leave. Company's grievance is that along with her application for leave no medical certificate had been produced Shrimati Jamuna's evidence however will show that the M. C was produced and that she could not come because she had given birth to a child. Indeed it is strange that the Company would give maternity benefit but would deny at the same time maternity leave. I have accepted this part of the evidence of Shrimati Jamuna to be true because her evidence was never challenged far less successfully contradicted by any of the three witnesses of the Company.

The driving attitude of the Company came to be reflected also in its dealing with the other workers. Baijnath and Asoke for example were discharged on the false plea that they were inefficient. In the written statement the Company stated inter alia that these workmen were given many opportunities but in vain, that they were warned on repeated occasions with no fruitful result. This assertion of the written statement was never sought to be proved by an iota of documentary evidence on record. None of the three witnesses again dealt with this aspect of their inefficiency. Shri Maitra appearing for the Company contended before me that the Company got no opportunity for filing the requisite documents. This contention I am afraid is altogether baseless. It is true that on 8th April 1965 the Company wanted to prove certain documents and I disallowed that prayer (vide order sheet dated 8th April 1965). Indeed, I was conscious of the fact that the Union had closed their evidence early as on 27th April 1960 and that the Company had no step whatsoever for filing any claim for about four long years thereafter. Indeed, the Union was right when its leader grappled against this conduct of the Company by characterising these papers as false and fabricated.

In fact, the case is almost analogous to if not identical with the aforesaid case of Asoke and Baijnath. Again, I find that the principal allegation that has been made in the written statement of the Company was that of an alleged serious break-down and fault in the Comptometer Machine with which he was working. This is found in paragraph 13 of the written statement. But the story as set up in the written statement was one sought to be proved by oral evidence. The witnesses did not utter a single word about R. Jash nor the Disintregrator Machine was produced before the Court for its perusal and inspection. As I understand it is said a domestic enquiry had been conducted. But again the enquiry officer was not examined. The report of that officer also was not asked by the Company.

The case regarding Das Munda is a case of retrenchment. Some scrap of paper has been filed by the Company to prove that this worker was really retrenched on account of necessity for his retrenchment. Even, no retrenchment notice was admittedly served upon Das Munda nor one month's pay was offered to any of the workers. The non-observance of all these legal formalities or coverings has been conducive of the conduct of the company so much so that the conduct itself stands self-condemned. The crux behind all these irregularities is simply this that all the seven workers were hurriedly and summarily discharged by the Company for their union activities. I may mention in this connection that no charge sheet even was issued against Asoke Baijnath, Das Munda and Sm. Jamuna Dasi. Considering all the facts and circumstances of the case and the evidence placed on both sides before me I hold that there was no justification whatsoever for the discharge of the seven contesting workers and their dismissal is thus not justified.

As to the reliefs admissible to these seven employees namely, Asoke Kr. Bhattacharjee, Provash Chandra Digar, Trilochan Goswami, Ramkali Bagdi, Baijnath Singh, Das Munda and Srimati Jamuna Dasi, I do not see any reason as to why they should not get the normal relief of reinstatement with 30 per cent. of their back wages. I grant this percentage of wages considering the poor financial conditions of the Company as disclosed in the written statement and considering the overall facts and circumstances of the case and specially the fact of the long pendency of this case. Accordingly I further award that the Company shall reinstate these seven workers to their former posts on their reporting for duty within 15 days from the publication of this award and the company shall further pay their unpaid back wages (to the extent of 30 per cent.) within a month from the publication of the award, subject to their reporting for and joining duty within 15 days from the publication of this award.

AWARD

By order No. 24-I.R./IR/8L-29(A)/62, dated the 4th January, 1964, the Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Vidyasagar Cotton Mills Ltd. P.O. Sodepore, 24-Parganas and their workmen represented by Vidyasagar Cotton Mills Mazdoor Union, Auddy Bagan, P.O. Panihati, 24-Parganas, regarding the matters specified in the schedule, to the Third Industrial Tribunal, constituted under section 7A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by Notification No. 808-I.R./IR/3A-2/57, dated the 11th March 1957, for adjudication.

Issue

1. Whether the termination of service of the following workmen is justified? To what relief, if any, are they entitled?

Sarbasree (1) Radha Ram, (2) Ram Sagar, (3) Nabi Rasul, (4) Anwarul Haque, (5) Seo Bachan, (6) Ab. Satter, (7) Ram Dhani, (8) Rama Sankar Pandey, (9) Ab. Jalil, (10) Ahmed Hussain, and (11) Thakur Prosad.

This is a reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, made by the Labour Department of the Government of West Bengal for adjudication of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Vidyasagar Cotton Mills Ltd., P.O. Sodepore, 24-Parganas (hereinafter referred to as the company) and their workmen represented by Vidyasagar Cotton Mills Mazdoor Union, Auddy Bagan, P.O. Panihati, 24-Parganas (hereinafter be referred to as the union).

As usual notices being served upon the parties, they appeared and filed written statements and also supplementary written statements. They also filed their documents before the hearing of the case. At the hearing both parties examined their witnesses and tendered documents into evidence and advanced arguments.

The short case of the union is that the company is a Public Limited concern engaged in manufacturing cotton textile products. It is a fairly reputed cotton textile mill having started its business early in 1940 and has since been earning sufficient profit; that the mill was running 156 looms but subsequently in 1962 the company stopped working of 108 looms on the plea of heavy increase of excise duty by the Government in respect of power loom factories having 50 or more looms. Consequently, there was a lay off in the factory and quite a good number of workmen were laid off and ultimately retrenched by the company; that the Government of West Bengal set up an Omnibus Tribunal in Cotton Textile Industries in West Bengal in 1956. This company was a party to the reference and the award made by the said Tribunal was published in the Calcutta Gazette on the 10th June 1958. Thereafter the Government of India set up a Wage Board for Cotton Textile Industry. The recommendations of the said Wage Board came into force from January 1960 by which basic wages and D.A. of the workmen employed in composite type of cotton textile mills were considerably increased. The power loom factories were, however, left out of the scope of the Wage Board recommendations. So, the union submitted a charter of demands for the workmen before the management of the company. In the winding section of the Mill a group of workmen used to work on Pirn Winding Machines. They used to work on 10 spindles but the company in the year 1954-55 asked them to work on 15 spindles. On their refusal the management took action against the Pirn Winders who refused to work on 15 spindles. Subsequently, however, they agreed and continued to work on 15 spindles. Subsequently the company with a view to increase the workload still more directed the workmen by a notice, dated 5th/11th June 1963, to work on 25 spindles. But the workmen refused to comply and sent a written reply to the company, copy whereof was also sent to the Labour Commissioner. Thereafter the company terminated the services of 11 workmen by giving one month's notice on 30th July 1963, in accordance with the provisions of Rule 13 of the Standing Orders. The dispute was taken up by the Labour Directorate for conciliation but no conciliation was possible. Hence the present reference.

The company's case is that it was a small unit power loom factory depending on the supply of ya from spinning mills or composite mills. So, the marg of profit is very small. On the top of it in 1962 add tional excise duty was imposed on power looms. T amount was very heavy on the factories working w 50 looms or more. So, the company had to deci to reduce the number of looms from 108 to 48 o for the purpose of running the mill economically a with no other motive as alleged by the union. T Pirn Winders of the mill were previously working 10 spindles but since then the old hank system of ya supply was replaced by the most modern Cone syst and the quality of the yarn has also been improv by using finer and higher count of yarn. Previous coarse yarn was used. It was quite possible since t introduction of the Cone system to work on 25 spindl and some of the Pirn Winders were actually worki on 25 spindles but 11 permanent workers refused work at least on 15 spindles.

The company had to take action against them. Th action of the company was approved by the Tribunal before which a proceeding was, at that point of tim pending for adjudication. Thereafter the permanen Pirn Winders started working on 15 spindles. Sub then some improvements have been introduced the quality of yarn and in the system of supply ther Because of the improvements it has been quite poss for the Pirn Winders to work on 25 spindles or m Some temporary workmen and also a few female I Winders have since been working on 25 spindles the aforesaid 11 Pirn Winders have refused to w on 25 spindles. Repeated requests were of no av Therefore, the company had to terminate their servi after a requisite notice under the provisions of clause of the Standing Orders. But in the order of termi tion of their services it has been made very clear them that it is always open to them to come and joint duties provided they are willing to work on 25 spind as other workers have been doing including some fem Pirn Winders. One of the permanent Pirn Win has agreed to work on 25 spindles and has been co nuing his work. The company had denied all o allegations of the union. It is contended that it a bona fide action of the company against the calcitrant Pirn Winders who intentionally and del rately wanted to slow down work in spite of impro ments introduced to facilitate working on 25 spin or more. So, the bona fide action in accordance the provisions in the Standing Order is justifie no interference is called for by the Tribunal.

Decision

Both parties adduced evidence—oral and d mentry. The union examined five witnesses incl two workmen involved in the dispute under refe and the company examined two witnesses. Ther 11 workmen named in the order of reference wh concerned in the dispute under reference. Bu admitted by both parties at the time of the h of the case that one of them Ram Sagar who is has been continuing his service under the co as a Pirn Winder which he was before termi of his service by the company after one month's in accordance with the provisions of clause 13 Standing Orders. Ext. B/2 is the said notice. has also produced a copy of the notice Ext. 1/h.

he said notice the services of the 11 Pirn Winders vere not required by the company after 31st August 1963. Before that date the company issued another etter to all the 11 Pirn Winders on 29th of August 1963. By that letter the company made its position ery clear as to the circumstances which compelled the oncern to recourse to the action taken under clause 13 f the Standing Orders. Paragraph 4 of the letter vill show that the company informed the workmen that hey will be at liberty to resume their works provided hey are willing to work on more spindles as other 'irn Winders have been doing. One of the 11 Pirn Vinders whose services were terminated on their efusal to work on 25 spindles, agreed to work on 5 spindles and he was at once allowed by the com- any to continue his job. This workman is No. 2 Ramsagar. He made an application to the Manager f the Mill. It is dated 2nd September 1963, i.e., a day fter commencement of the termination of his service. le having agreed to work on 25 spindles as the other vorkmen have been doing, the company readily ermitted him to continue his service as a Pirn Winder. t will appear from this letter that due to intimida- ion of the leaders he did not work on 25 spindles. How- ver, there is no dispute that the said workman is still ontinuing as a Pirn Winder in the mill, and his dispute s not pressed by the union for adjudication. Ad- nttedly these workmen were permanent Pirn Winders nd the company terminated their services in accord- nce with the provisions of clause 13 of the Standing rders after giving one month's notice as required. s a matter of fact, it appears that more than a month's otice was given by the company. Admittedly this 'idyasagar Cotton Mill was one of the parties to the ndustrial disputes in the Cotton Textile Industry in Vest Bengal referred to the Second Cotton Textile lajor Tribunal. The company as such was bound y the award which also prescribed the Standing Orders. 'he award was published in the extraordinary issue f the Calcutta Gazette on the 10th June 1958. Clause 13 f the said Standing Orders provides for termination f employment after a notice in writing either by ie employer or by the workmen. The period of notice ill be one month in the case of monthly-paid per- anent workmen. In the instant case there is no spute that the workmen were permanent monthly aid employees. These workmen were originally ked by notice Ext. A to work on 25 spindles as other orkmen have been doing, failing which the manage- ent would take necessary step to terminate their rvices in accordance with law. This notice was ven on the 11th of June 1963. Then another letter llowed on the 2nd July 1963 by which the work- en were asked to explain their failure to work on 5 spindles like other Pirn Winders working in the me factory. It appears that Ramsankar Pandey ho is a member of the executive committee of the nion submitted explanations on 6th July 1963 [Ext. (f)] in which he pleaded that he has been working 15 spindles since 1954 and that has been the condi- on of his service. He has denied the allegation of owing down of work although he admitted in para. 3 the letter that a few temporary workers were working 20 to 25 spindles under pressure of the management. ie company thereafter gave notice of termination service under clause 13 of the Standing Orders. This tice was given on the 30th July 1963 (Ext. B/2). it before actual termination of the services of the rkmen another letter was given to the workmen 29th August 1963 (Ext. B/1) and a similar letter was addressed to the Assistant Labour Commissioner on that very date (vide Ext. B/3). The union's grievance is that before actual termination of the services of the workmen the company did not hold any enquiry and that it was a mala fide action on the part of the company and it amounted to unfair labour practice and victimisation. Therefore, the prayer is for setting aside the order of termination of the service of the workmen and to reinstate them in their old positions with all wages for the period of their forced absence.

It is well-settled by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Tata Oil Mills Co. Ltd. (1963-64 F.J.R. Vol. XXIV, page 472) that "contracts of employment or provisions in the Standing Orders may authorise an employer to terminate the services of his workmen after giving notice for one month or paying salary for one month in lieu of notice, and normally, an employer may, in proper case, be entitled to exercise the said power, but where an order of discharge made by the employer gives rise to an industrial dispute, the form of the order by which the workmen's services are terminated would not be decisive and industrial adjudication would be entitled to examine the sub- stance of the matter and decide whether the termi- nation is in fact discharge simpliciter or whether it amounts to dismissal which has put on the cloak of a discharge simpliciter. If the industrial court is satisfied that the order of discharge is punitive, that it is mala fide, or that it amounts to victimisation or unfair labour practice, it is competent to the industrial court to set aside the order and in a proper case to direct reinstatement of the workmen." In an earlier decision (1960 II L.L.J., 222), the Hon'ble Supreme Court was pleased to observe that "the form of the order of termination is not conclusive of the true nature of the order. For, it is possible that the form may be merely camouflage for an order of dismissal for misconduct. It is, therefore, always open to the tribunal to go behind the form and look at the substance and if it comes to the conclusion, e.g., that though in form the order amounts to termination simpliciter, it really cloaks a dismissal for misconduct, it will be open to it to set it aside as a colourable exer- cise of power." The Hon'ble Supreme Court similarly held in another case (1960 I L.L.J., 587) that "when validity of termination is challenged in industrial adjudication it will be competent to the industrial tribunal to enquire whether the impugned discharge has been effected in the bona fide exercise of his power. If the discharge has been ordered by the employer in bona fide exercise of his power, then the Industrial Tribunal may not interfere with it."

In the instant case the services of 11 permanent Pirn Winders were terminated by the management under the provisions of clause 13 of the Standing Orders on their refusal to work on 25 spindles as the other Pirn Winders who were temporary and some of them are female workers have been doing without any difficulty or complaint. The workmen refused to work on 25 spindles on the plea that to work on 15 spindles only is the condition of their service. It is not their plea that it is difficult to work on 25 spindles or that it involves extra heavy strain on them or that it is altogether impossible. The alleged condition of service as pleaded by the workmen is not a sub- stantial one. It is admitted by the union and also by some of the workmen who gave evidence before the tribunal that before 1954 they used to work on 10 spindles. There is no evidence to show if there was any agreement or understanding at the time of their joining the service of the company as to the number of spindles they will be working on. The machines they have been working remained the same Lessona Machines. Assuming for a moment that they were working on 10 spindles since they joined, how could it be the condition of their service to work on 10 spindles for all time to come. When they started to work on the Lessona Machines they had no expierence or skill which they subsequently gained by actual working for a number of years. Admittedly they were actually working on 15 spindles before the impugned termination of their services in 1963. After 1954 when the company asked them to work on 15 spindles these permanent Pirn Winders protested and refused to work. The company took action against some of them and the matter came up before a Tribunal in a proceeding under section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act. When the Tribunal accorded approval to the action taken by the company against the Pirn Winders, they, in their wisdom or under good advice agreed to work on 25 spindles as proposed by the company and as other Pirn Winders were doing. Since then they continued to work on 15 spindles. So, the story of working on 10 spindles as a condition of their service falls to the ground. There is hardly any dispute as to the developments and improvements since introduced by the company. Previously there was crude system of supply of yarn known as "hank" system which has since been replaced by the most modern "Cone" system. There is another improvement in the quality of the yarn used. The coarse quality of the yarn previously used has since been replaced by finer quality of yarn of higher counts. These improvements according to the company's weaving master have facilitated working of a larger number of spindles by a Pirn Winder than before and this fact is admitted by one of the Pirn Winders of the mill who are at present working on 25 spindles. D.W.2 Kanta Tewari is a Pirn Winder. He has recently been made permanent. It transpires in the cross-examination of this witness that there are four Pirn Windrs, who have been working for four years. They are: Dal Singh, Muzaffar, Kautaki and Ammai. The last two persons are female workers. The union's witness P.W.4 Md. Yusuf Khan, the Vice-President of the union, admits that there are 10 to 15 women working as Pirn Winders. Besides the oral evidence there are documents to show that the other Pirn Winders of the mill have been working on 25 spindles and 3 of the Pirn Winders are female workers. They are: Ketaki, Parbati and Ammai. The production registers, Exts. C, C/1 and C/2, will show that some of the Pirn Winders have been working on 25 spindles from December 1962 to March 1963. There is nothing to challenge the correctness of the entries in these important registers of the mill. The workman No. 2 Ramsagar tops the list of the Pirn Winders as he has been working for more than 12 years as a Pirn Winder in the mill. Therefore, there is no manner of doubt that since the improvements introduced by the management the Pirn Winders other than the present batch of permanent workers have been working on 25 spindles without a murmur or protest. The batch of Pirn Winders who are concerned in the present dispute under reference, previously refused to work on 15 spindles and similarly they have again refused to work on 25 spindles although it is admitted by them that temporary Pirn Winders including some females have been working on 25 spindles since the introduction of the improvements in the supply of yarn and the quality thereof. I have already observed that I do not find substance in the plea that to work on 15 spindles is a condition of their service. The union has not been able to place any materials to support the alleged plea of condition of service. Not only there is nothing in writing to show that it was their condition of service but at the same time it is opposed to the common sense view that a workman will be doing the same amount of work from beginning till end of his service. At the commencement of service he was a novice and naturally doing less work. With age and experience he will be more useful as a worker and will be giving more services as an experienced hand. If it is accepted that an experienced workman will give that amount of work which is expected of a raw recruit, then the experience will be of no value and there will be no point in offering higher wages to experienced workmen with better skill. These workmen sternly refused to work on more than 15 spindles in spite of repeated requests by the management. Some of them who deposed before this tribunal have informed the tribunal that they are not prepared to work on 25 spindles. Their leader Shri Rama Sankar Pandey who is said to be a member of the executive committee of the union, has deposed to that effect. Therefore, it is very clear that the workmen still remained adament. They will not be working on more than 15 spindles. Therefore, it was useless to hold an enquiry. It was a very simple matter. They were asked by the management to work on 25 spindles since the introduction of improvements in the system of supply of yarn and the quality of yarn. It is very clear from the company's production register Ext. C series that other Pirn Winders have been working on 25 spindles including some female workers. Therefore, there is no good ground for not working on 25 spindles by these experienced batch of workmen. The company, therefore, had in the circumstances no other alternative than to terminate their services. I do not find any mala fide in that action of the company against these workmen who took an unreasonable attitude to refuse to work on 25 spindles without any good ground. It may be pointed out that the company's attitude was very fair. While terminating the services of these workmen, the company made it plain to them that they will be at liberty to come and join and continue as Pirn Winder provided they are willing to work on 25 spindles as the other Pirn Winders have been doing in the same mill. This offer has been made in paragraph 4 of the company's letter Ext. B/1 to the workmen. One of the Pirn Winders Ram Sagar as soon as he expressed his willingness to work on 25 spindles he was at once allowed to continue to work and it is admitted that he has been continuing as Pirn Winder in the mill. Therefore, I find no mala fide in the company's action.

The union has further alleged that the company was following a policy of repression and victimisation by frequently laying off a number of workmen and some times by retrenchment of some of them. The union for instance, cited that in 1962 the company laid off a large number of workmen. Subsequently, however, they were allowed to join. But again in 1963

...e workmen were laid off and ultimately they ... retrenched. The company has admitted the off and retrenchment. Admittedly the company originally running 156 looms but in 1962 it was ...ced to 48 because to avoid heavy taxation. Accord- to the company there was an imposition of heavy ...se duty on the Power loom factories working with looms or more. The company found it difficult ...meet such a heavy taxation. Therefore, it took ...ision to reduce the number of looms to 48 and ...keep the mill going. Therefore, when the looms ... reduced from 156 to 48 only, naturally some ...kmen had to be laid off for want of sufficient work. ...fact finds admission in some of the correspondence letters exhibited on the side of the union [Exts. 1,]. The Government of India subsequently upon ...consideration reduced the excise duty on power ...ms and as soon as the excise duty was reduced, company at once took back the laid off workmen. ...again in 1963 the Government of India imposed ...ner taxation on power loom factories working ...50 looms or more. Therefore, the company to reduce the number of looms again to 48 and ...equently the workmen also were laid off and ulti- ...ely some of them were retrenched. But the com- ...y had to take that action for reasons beyond its ...trol. The Secretary of the union in his letter, dated ...of February 1963 [Ext. 1(e)], has admitted that ...g to imposition of heavy excise duty by the ...ernment of India by general notice, dated 27th ...uary 1963, the company reduced the number ...orking looms from 156 to 48 only. Hence there ... consequential reduction in the number of the ...kmen. Therefore, it is enough from the union's ...ument to show that there was no arbitrary or ...asonable action taken by the company without ...ficient cause and justification. So, I find no sub- ...nce in the allegation that the company was pursuing ...policy of repression and unfair labour practice. ...re is no evidence to show that any workman was ...ished for his trade union activities. There is ...hing to prove that all the 10 permanent Pirn ...ders were organisers of the union and they gave ...offence to the company by organising the union, they had any hitch with the employer in connec- ...with their trade union activities, if any. I have ...ady found that these workmen took a very stiff ...itude not to work on more than 15 spindles although ...is admitted that other workmen including some ...ale workers have been working on 25 spindles ...some developments made and introduced in the ...king of the winding section. The union's witness ...Roma Sankar Pandey who is said to be a member ...the executive committee of the union and who ...me of the discharged workmen, has admitted that workmen are working on 25 spindles and he ...so admitted that in the lay off in 1962 and 1963 ...of the Pirn Winders was involved. He has ...stated that they are not prepared to work on ...than 10 spindles. Therefore, in view of the ...de taken by these workmen, it was of no use ...ld an enquiry by the company. The company, ...fore, found no other alternative than to terminate ...services under clause 13 of the Standing Orders ...this action of the company I find was taken in ...fair exercise of the power provided in clause 13 ...Standing Orders. Therefore, I am led to the ...usion that the company was justified in terminat- ...the services of 10 Pirn Winders (excepting No. 2 who has since resumed his duties having agreed to work on 25 spindles). The workmen are, therefore, entitled to no relief.

This is my award.

AWARD

The Government of West Bengal, had referred by order No. 363-I.R./IR/11L-160(A)/64, dated the 30th January 1965, the following industrial dispute between Messrs. Plastic Moulders (P) Ltd., and their workmen to this Tribunal for adjudication.

Issue

(1) Whether non-payment of subsidy towards house-rent to Shri Jit Bahadur is justified ? To what relief, if any, is he entitled ?

After the service of the usual notice, the Secretary of the Workers' Union Shri Kali Pada Aich, had filed the written statement on behalf of the union, and the employer had also filed the written statement. In the written statement filed on behalf of the union, it has been stated that Jit Bahadur had been working as a durwan of the company since June 1961 and is drawing the salary of Rs.66 per month as fixed under the tripartite agreement, that from March, 1962, the company had introduced a system of house-rent allowance for durwans by virtue of which all the workmen, save and except Jit Bahadur have been drawing an allowance of Rs.6 per month in lieu of the house-rent expenses incurred by them and that this house-rent allowance is a condition of service enjoyed by the durwans. The company, however, arbitrarily and unfairly has not paid this house-rent allowance of Rs.6 per month to Jit Bahadur who had approched the company several times. There was negotiation with the company regarding this matter, but to no purpose. On 13th July 1963, an application was made by the union to the Assistant Labour Commissioner, Howrah, claiming the house-rent allowance for Jit Bahadur. The conciliation, however, had failed and a report under section 12 (4) of the Industrial Disputes Act, was submitted. It is further stated that the concerned workman Jit Bahadur is entitled to draw the house-rent allowance of Rs. 6 per month from March 1962 and it is prayed that an award for the house-rent allowance at the rate of Rs.6 per month with effect from March 1962 may be passed, as the payment of the amount is a condition of service.

The company in its written statement had admitted that Jit Bahadur had been working as a durwan since June 1961 and had been drawing Rs.66 per month as his salary under the tripartite agreement. The company, however, had denied that it had introduced any system of house-rent allowance for the durwans and it further denied that the durwans had been drawing the allowance of Rs.6 per month in lieu of house-rent expenses. It is stated that it had rented four quarters in the close proximity to the factory and it provides free accommodations there to the durwans to stay there without their families. It is said that Nageswar Singh is residing in one room at 4/2 Rajen Sett Lane, for which the company is paying Rs. 6 as the rent, that Kameswar Singh and Ram Swarup Singh each occupy one room at 51 Rajen Sett Lane and the company is paying rent of Rs. 6 per room and that Jaynarayan Pandey and Lakshmi Narayan are jointly occupying one room at 18/3 Rajen Sett Lane for which the company is paying Rs.16 per month as rent. The company provides free single accommodation to the above durwans in consideration that they will stay in the locality adjacent to the factory so that the company may avail itself of their services as and when required. The company, however, specifically has denied that any house-rent allowance is in force since March 1962 and is a condition of service enjoyed by the durwans. With regard to Jit Bahadur, it is said that he stays with his family at 2 Belur Road which is far away from the factory. As the company does not pay any house rent allowance to any of the durwans, the question of d priving Jit Bahadur of the house-rent allowance of Rs per month does not arise. As Jit Bahadur is stayi away from the factory with his family, the compa is not liable to provide him with free accommod tion and the company is also not legally liable to gi either the house-rent allowance, or the alleged subsi towards the house-rent. It is prayed that the pray of the union may be rejected.

Findings

Before I proceed to discuss the evidence, I wou point out that the learned union representative w unable to state definitely whether the house-re allowance as mentioned in the written statement of t union, is really a condition of service or not. In t written statement of the union (vide paragraphs 4 and 10), it has been quite clearly stated that the hous rent allowance is a condition of service enjoyed by t durwans employed by the company. If really t alleged house-rent allowance is a condition of servi I do not see at all how the question of subsidy towar the house-rent can at all arise. As I understand t learned union representative, he did not urge that Bahadur is entitled to any subsidy towards the hou rent. His contention was that Jit Bahadur is entit to get the house-rent allowance at the rate of R per month from March 1962. If Jit Bahadur is rea entitled to get that sum, then he is only entitled get the amount on the ground that the payment of t amount is a condition of service. In this connecti I will refer to the definition of wages in section 2 (of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947. It has b provided, inter alia, that "wages" means all remune tion capable of being expressed in terms of mon which would, if the terms of employment, express implied, were fulfilled, be payable to a workman in r pect of his employment or of work done in such emp ment and includes, inter alia, the value of any h accommodation. Therefore, if as the term of condi of service the employer was bound to provide for acc modation of the employee, and if the employer some reason or other could not provide for the h accommodation in terms of the contract of service, t the employee, in addition to the other amounts which he is entitled, is entitled to get the value of accommodation which the employer was to prov but failed to do so. The question now therefor whether there was really any contract of service provision of housing accommodation to the durw or for giving any house-rent allowance to the durw It would appear from the written statement i that the system of providing free accommoda to certain durwans was introduced by the comp in March 1962 and Jit Bahadur himself had ent into the service in June 1961. Therefore, at the when Jit Bahadur was employed by the com there was no contract for giving housing accomm tion or for giving house-rent allowance. It is undis that the durwans whose names have been mention the written statement of the company, are occupyi quarters at the different addresses mentioned in written statement. P. W. 1 Jaynarayan Pand one of the durwans mentioned in the written state of the company. His evidence is that he had resid 51 Rajen Sett Lane previously and at present residing at 18/3 Rajen Sett Lane, and that the in respect of the quarters is paid by the com

His further evidence is that there was 6 durwans serving under the company, that the company has provided free accommodation for 5 durwans and that no free accommodation has been provided for Jit Bahadur, who was employed by the company before he got the service. P. W. 1 does not say that the free accommodation provided by the company is really the condition of service. At the time of cross-examination, P. W. 1 admits that the quarters which he is occupying really belongs to the company, that the previous quarters occupied by him also belongs to the company, that the durwans do not get money in cash on account of the rent, and that he is unmarried. It would, therefore, appear that the company has provided free quarters to some of the durwans who are unmarried and remain singly in the quarters near the factory. P. W. 2 Jit Bahadur has said that there are 6 durwans and the other durwans got house-rent and the bills are made out in the name of the company. It is his further evidence that the other durwans had been provided with accommodation, that he was told by the company that as he has got his family, he will not get the house-rent allowance and that when he pointed out that other durwans had families with them, he was told that he should not envy them. He had said further that the wife of Nageswar Singh and the wife of Ram Swarup reside with them in their quarters. It appears to me from these evidences that the wives of some of the durwans casually came and stayed with the durwans in the quarters provided by the company. In my opinion, nothing turns on the casual residence of the wives of some of the durwans in the quarters. I am further of opinion that the evidence of P. W. 2 also does not show that the provision regarding free housing accommodation or the alleged house-rent allowance is not a condition of service. I do not see why the sum of Rs.6 has been claimed as house-rent allowance, because at least with regard to one room, the rent payable is Rs.16, i.e., for the quarters at 18/3 Rajen Sett Lane. P. W. 2 has admitted that the quarters at Rajen Sett Lane is situated on the same Lane where there is a factory of the company. On behalf of the company, O.P. W. 1 Shri Ghanashyam Das has said that the company had rented several quarters and some of the durwans reside there singly and that nothing is paid to the durwans as house-rent. It is his further evidence that the quarters had been provided to these durwans by the company, as the services of the durwans may be required from time to time. At the time of cross-examination, O. P. W. 1 has said that the quarters were rented for the purpose of giving accommodation to the durwans as their services might be required from time to time. This evidence shows that it is only for the convenience of the company that certain quarters had been rented by the company, and that some durwans had been allowed to occupy them. This shows that the provision of housing accommodation or the alleged house-rent allowance is not a condition of service. P. W. 2 Lachmi Narayan is one of the durwans who is occupying the quarters at 18/3 Rajen Sett Lane. He has also said that the company pays rent and all the durwans reside singly. His evidence also certainly does not show that the provision for housing accommodation is really a condition of service and it also does not show that as a condition of service, any of the durwans is entitled to get the alleged house-rent allowance. In fact the evidence shows that none of the durwans had ever obtained any house-rent allowance at all, or even any subsidy towards the house-rent. On a consideration of the entire evidence, it appears to me that the company only provides free accommodations to some of the durwans who reside singly in the quarters provided by the company, and that this free accommodation is provided only for the convenience of the company itself. Jit Bahadur admittedly resides far away from the factory with his family. The learned Advocate appearing for the company offered to give free accommodation to Jit Bahadur provided he lives without his family, but with another durwan. Jit Bahadur had declined to accept that offer and had said that as he has got his family, he cannot stay in one room with another person, and that it would be better for him to take some house-rent allowance.

I have therefore come to the conclusion that Jit Bahadur is not entitled to get either the house-rent or any subsidy towards the house-rent. He is also not entitled to get any free accommodation provided by the company and, therefore, Jit Bahadur is not entitled to get any relief. This is my award.

The above dispute over the issue given in the Order of Reference and reproduced below was referred for adjudication to this Tribunal by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 4585-I.R./IR/8L-30(B)/64, dated the 1st October 1964.

Issue

1. Is the suspension of Shri Sukumar Chakraborty with effect from 5th January 1963 justified ? What relief, if any, is he entitled to ?

I shall first state the undisputed background facts together with the respective cases of the parties on some disputed points.

This workman worked in a sizing machine in the Mill up to 4th January 1963. The workman's case is that on 5th January 1963 when he was working at his place, he was asked by the department incharge to stop his work and leave the Mill and when he wanted to know the reason for this action, he was forcibly turned out of the department and taken to the Manager who asked him to leave the Mill premises, saying that the reason for the action would be intimated to him. 5th January 1963 was a Saturday. 6th January 1963 was a Sunday and holiday. He was not allowed to work in the Mill after that and finally on 14th January 1963 he received the charge-sheet, dated 10th January 1963, by registered post. The Company's case, on the other hand, regarding the incident of 5th January 1963 is that while working in his sizing machine on that day, this workman broke the drying fan of the machine by his carelessness and negligence and when he was asked to explain the matter, he left his work place and since then he absented himself without permission and in these circumstances, the charge-sheet, dated 10th January 1963, relating to the incident of 5th January 1963 was issued to him by registered post and he received the charge-sheet on 14th January 1963 as admitted by him. After receiving the charge-sheet, the workman submitted his reply on 16th January 1963. In the charge-sheet, dated 10th January 1963, there was an order for his suspension pending enquiry. The Company issued a notice to the workman fixing 5th February 1963 for holding a domestic enquiry regarding the charge-sheet, dated 10th January 1963. He did not appear at the enquiry but filed an application under section 33/A of the I.D. Act, before this Tribunal on 4th February 1963 alleging that he was dismissed from service wrongfully by the Company with effect from 5th January 1963 in contravention of the relevant provision of section 33 of the I. D. Act which applied to the dismissal because the adjudication proceedings of another dispute between the Company and its workmen, referred to this Tribunal by G. O. No. 7089-I.R. dated 19th December 1962, were pending before this Tribunal, at that time. The Company appeared in the case under section 33A of the I. D. Act, upon getting notice thereof and necessarily, no further step for holding any enquiry regarding the charge-sheet, dated 5th January 1963 was taken. The Company contested the workman's application under section 33A of the I. D. Act. The case under section 33A of the I. D. Act was disposed of by an award, dated 22nd August 1963, which was published in the "Calcutta Gazette", dated 12th September 1963 (Exhibit 2). In that award the Tribunal held that there was no dismissal of the concerned workman on 5th January 1963 and he had not yet been finally dismissed by the Company in connection with the charge-sheet, dated 10th January 1963 and so, this application against his alleged wrongful dismissal was premature and not maintainable. After this finding, the Tribunal directed that the Company might proceed to take necessary steps to hold the domestic enquiry regarding the charge-sheet. Just on the publication of the award on 12th September 1963 the Company issued a notice of the same date to the workman informing him that in pursuance of the award in the case under section 33A of the I. D. Act, a enquiry regarding the charge-sheet, dated 10th January 1963, would be held on 24th September 1963 (Exhibit C). Subsequently, this date of enquiry was changed to 25th September 1963 as the Mill was to remain closed on 24th September 1963 (Ext. D). The enquiry was held on 25th September, 1963 and the workman attended the enquiry, But on 26th September 1963, the workman submitted a letter of protest against the enquiry held on 25th September 1963 alleging that the enquiry was not fairly and properly held and the proceedings were not correctly recorded, (Exhibit F.). On receipt of this letter of the workman, the Company decided to hold another enquiry on 10th December 1963 and accordingly issued a notice to the workman informing him of this date of a fresh enquiry (Exhibit E). The enquiry was taken up on 10th December 1963. The workman attended the enquiry. The Company's case here is that the enquiry could not be completed as in course of the proceedings, the workman left the place of enquiry in an angry mood ; whereas the workman's case is that the enquiry was completed but he was not thereafter informed of any result of the enquiry and he remained without work as before. Thereafter by a letter, dated 25th March 1964, the concerned Union first raised the present dispute regarding the suspension of the workman from 5th January 1963. The letter was written to the Assistant Labour Commissioner (Exhibits A and 1) copy of the letter was forwarded to the Company comments and the company furnished its comments a letter, dated 22nd April 1964, wherein it clearly ted that the enquiry was started on 10th December 3 but before the enquiry could be properly pro- ded with and concluded, Shri Chakravarty wrong- y left the place of enquiry and withdrew from the enquiry (Exhibit B). The dispute regarding the ged suspension of the workman from 5th January 3 raised by the Union Secretary's letter, dated h March 1964, is now covered by the present re- nce and the reference has evidently been made r the failure of the conciliation proceedings.

t is now seriously contended on behalf of the Com- y that there was no suspension of the workman n 5th January 1963 as alleged but he was suspended ding enquiry with effect from 10th January 1963, date of issue of the charge-sheet regarding the ged misconduct committed by him on 5th January 3 and as such, the suspension was quite legal and norised by section 14 (e) of the Standing Orders rning this Company framed by the Omnibus on Textile Award published in the Calcutta Gazette, d 10th June 1958 (Exhibit H), and in these cir- stances, the concerned Union and the workman absolutely no case against the Cmopany regarding suspension of this workman.

is clear from the background facts stated above particularly from the award, in the case under ion 33A of the I. D. Act, started by the workman nst his alleged dismissal from service with effect 5th January 1963, that the workman practically d the domestic enquiry which the Company osed to hold on 5th February 1963 in connection the charge-sheet, dated 10th January 1963, by ing an application under Section 33A of the I. D. and after the award in that case made on the that there was no dismissal of the workman on January 1963, the Union has raised a fresh ute practically over the same matter but in a ent form by calling it a dispute regarding sus- ion of the workman. So far as the present reference ncerned, the jurisdiction of the Tribunal covers the question of the suspension of the workman effect from 5th January 1963. The Union is ourse fully entitled to raise the dispute regarding suspension of a workman and can challenge it legal, wrongful and vindictive. The Tribunal go into the merits of the suspension and decide her the suspension was justified and bonafide. clear from the evidence on the record, that the pany did not pass any order of suspension on January 1963, and there was no suspension of the man with effect from 5th January 1963. The nce discloses that there was some incident on January 1963 and in connection with that incident workman was charge-sheeted for misconduct on January 1963 and was suspended pending en- with effect from 10th January 1963. It was inly a suspension pending enquiry into some ges of misconduct after issue of a charge-sheet. on 14 (e) of the Standing Orders framed by the d made in respect of the Cotton Textile Industry justifies such suspension pending enquiry. It ld be noted that the present employer, Bangodaya on Mills Ltd., was a party to Omnibus Cotton ile Reference and is covered by the award in which the Standing Orders were framed. In this connection it is to be noted that after the award passed by this Tribunal in the case under section 33A of the I. D. Act, the Company promptly took steps for holding the domestic enquiry regardng the charge sheet, dated 10th January 1963, and the en- quiry was finally held on 10th December 1963 and the workman attended the enquiry. Exhibit G con- stitutes the recorded proceedings of the enquiry. The Officer of the Company, who held the enquiry on 10th December 1963, Shri Bankim Chandra Chatterjee (O.P. W. 1) has given evidence in the present case. I am fully satisfied from his evidence considered along with the recorded proceedings that the enquiry proceedings could not be completed as the concerned workman left the enquiry in an angry mood and I do not believe the contrary evidence of the concerned workman Shri Sukumar Chakraborty (P. W. 1). It is significant to note in this connection that the facts and circums- tances already discussed above clearly indicate that the workman was not at all well disposed towards the Company's attempt to hold an enquiry regarding the charge sheet and he previously stalled the enquiry fixed for 5th February 1963 by filing a premature application under section 33A of the I. D. Act and it is quite natural that after the disposal of the case under section 33A of the I. D. Act by the Award, dated 22nd August 1963, and published in the Calcutta Gazette, dated 12th September 1963, he would adopt a similar attitute and his conduct also shows that in- spite of the best efforts of the Company to complete the enquiry, he stood in the way by raising one plea after another and the Company's case that in the final enquiry, dated 10th December 1963, he left the place of enquiry in an angry mood before it was completed, is quite consistent with his previous conduct. It is quite clear that after having baulked all attempts of the Company to hold the enquiry regarding the charge-sheet even after the award in the case under section 33A of the I. D. Act, the workman is now seek- ing to raise a new dispute regarding his suspension through the Union. As already indicated above, the facts and circumstances of the case clearly indicate that the suspension of the workman with effect from 10th January 1963 was nothing but a suspension pending enquiry into a charge-sheet of that date and it is fully permitted and justified by section 14 (e) of the Stand- ing Orders governing this Company.

The Union has, therefore, no case against the suspen- sion of the workman with effect from 10th January 1963 which is practically the subject matter of the present dispute. I have already indicted above that there was no suspension of the workman with effect from 5th January 1963 as stated in the issue.

In the above view of the relevant facts and circums- tances of the case and for the reasons recorded above, I hold and award that there was no suspension of the workman with effect from 5th January 1963 but he was suspended with effect from 10th January 1963 pending enquiry into a charge-sheet, dated 10th Janu- ary 1963, regardings ame alleged misconducts committed on 5th January 1963, and the said suspension was quite legal and bonafide and the workman is not entitled to any relief against the suspension.

I should add here that the Company should now promptly make a fresh attempt to legally conclude the enquiry regarding the charge-sheet, dated 10th January 1963, by giving a further opportunity to the workman to appear and take part in the proceedings of the enquiry and then pass a final order regarding the workman.

AWARD

The case put forward on behalf of the Union in written statement may be briefly summarised as follo

The concerned workman Shri Kapildeo Singh w a permanent workman in the Batching Department a was a leading member of the Bengal Chatkal Mazd Union. The Company did not not like his act association with the Union. On and from 10th M 1961, the workman was refused employment with any charge-sheet and without showing any reas On 11th May 1961 the workman applied to the mana ment for allowing him to resume his duties. Sub quently the Company sent a back-dated charge-sh to the workman and it was received by him on 1 May 1961 and was immediately replied to. The char were denied. Then on 24th May 1961 the workm again wrote to the Company stating that he did receive any communication whatsoever since his re to the charge-sheet and was being kept suspended wi out any enquiry vindictively. After this, an enqu was proposed to be held on 29th May 1961. But prac cally no enquiry was held and the workman was allowed to produce any witness or to cross-exam any witness of the Company. He was also asked sign a paper the contents of which were not explain to him. After this the Company issued a back-dat letter showing 30th May 1961 as the date of issue whe by the workman was informed that he was found gui of the charges and he would be allowed to resume duties provided he furnished a written bond for good behaviour. After receiving the letter, the wo man protested against the Company's order by letter, dated 20th June 1961. The Company did reply to this letter and he was not allowed to resu his duties. After this the Union took up the ca of the workman and raised a dispute regarding his c and made a representation to the Labour Directora The Labour Directorate took up the case for concil tion but no conciliation could be effected.

The relief claimed is reinstatement of the workm with full compensation for the period of unemployme

The relevant case put forward on behalf of the Co pany in its written statement is briefly as follo

On 9th May 1961 during working hours of seco part of 'B' shift, this workman committed some gr misconducts for which a charge-sheet was issued 10th May 1961 giving details of the charges. T charge-sheet was tendered to him personally but ıe refused to accept it, was was sent by by rgistered ɔost. The workman was suspended pending enquiry ınd this was intimated to him by the charge-sheet. The workman submitted his explanation and after this he Company by a letter, dated 18th May 1961, informed he workman that an enquiry regarding the charge-heet would be held on 24th May 1961. As this day vas declared as a general hartal day, the enquiry was djourned to 29th May 1961 and the workman was nformed of this adjournment by a letter, dated 25th Iay 1961. The enquiry was held on 29th May 1961 n presence of the concerned workman who attended he proceedings. The Company's witnesses were exa-ıined in his presence and their recorded evidence was xplained in the workman's own language and he was ɔiven opportunity to cross-examine the wintesses but ıe declined cross-examination. The workman him-elf was also examined and his statements were duly ecorded and the recorded statements were explained o him in his own language. The workman put his humb-impression in the recorded proceedings after hese were explained to him. He was also given oppor-unity to produce his witness, if any, but he did not ɔroduce any witness. After the enquiry, the enquiring officer submitted his report finding the workman uilty of all the charges. The management, after onsidering the report and accepting the findings of the nquiring officer, issued a letter, dated 30th May 1961, nforming the workman that though he was found uilty, a lenient view was taken of his case and he ight join his duties after furnishing a bond for future ood behaviour. The letter was duly received by him ut he did not act up to the terms of the letter and n the contrary, he wrote a letter to the Company, ated 20th June 1961, raising various false and baseless llegations against the Company. Thus, it was not a case of refusing employment to the workman but it was a case where the workman himself did not prefer to remain in employment after availing himself of the opportunity offered to him by the Company's letter, dated 30th May 1961. The Company acted quite bonafide in dealing with his case and there was neither victimisation nor unfair labour practice.

When the case was taken up for hearing, no evidence as adduced on behalf of any party but it was sub-nitted by the parties' representatives, Shri N. M. Das-gupta for the Company and Shri P. Pathak for the Union, that the workman having apologized to the Company and having given an undertaking to the Company to give an assurance in writing to maintain good behaviour in future, the Company had agreed to take him back to service without breaking continuity of service for the period of unemployment by treating him as absent during the period without any claim r pay or wages on his giving a written assuarance maintaining good behaviour in future. The parties' presentatives submitted that an award for reinstate-ent of the worker on the Company's terms might e made. In view of this position, I am to make award giving effect to the Company's terms for taking m back to service.

In the result, I make an award on the basis of the tatements made by the parties' representatives and irect that the concerned workman shall be taken ack to active service without breaking continuity of ervice by treating him as absent during the period f unemployment without any claim of wages on his reporting for duty within a month from the publication of the award with a written assuarance of maintaining good behaviour in future.

BEFORE THE SIXTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Shri P. BASU, Bar-at-law, Judge.

AWARD

The Government of West Bengal by Order No. 13-I.R./IR/10L-171/64, dated the 4th January 1965, had referred to this Tribunal for adjudication the following industrial disputes between Messrs. Steam and Mining Equipment (India) Private Ltd., and their workmen.

Issues

1. Ad-hoc increment in wages.
2. Revision of grade and scale of pay (consolidated) for the sub- ordinate staff.
3. Gratuity.
4. Rate of Provident Fund contribution.

After the service of the usual notice, the workmen represented by the union had filed the written statement and the company also had filed the written statement. In the written statement filed on behlaf of the workmen, it is stated that the company is one of the biggest importers of machineries in India and holds agencies of world-renowned principals, foreign and Indian, that its main line of business is installation of industrial machinery and plants in both public and private sector and that it manufactures high voltage machinery and equipments, such as, cable boxes, air circuit breakers, switchboards and other components in its factory at Narkeldanga, Calcutta. This company previously had the head office at 101 Park Street, but the head office was subsequently shifted to 207B Park Street. In the head office, there are 60 workers. The company is a very prosperous concern and financially strong and stable and had been earning huge profits every year. Though the company is a member of the Indian Engineering Association, Calcutta, it is paying consolidated wages to its workmen, unlike other members of the Association. The union at the request of the workmen presented the charter of demands, dated the 6th November 1963, regarding the ad-hoc increment of Rs. 15 per month in the wages of all categories of workmen with effect from the date of the receipt of the charter of demands, revision of grades and scales of pay (consolidated) of the subordinate staff, introduction of a gratuity scheme, recruitment and replacement, increase in the rate of Provident Fund Contribution. The company by its comments, dated 7th February 1964, had refused the demands in the charter of demands, and thereafter there was conciliation by Shri S. K. Banerjee, Labour Officer, West Bengal, but the conciliation failed. Then the company and the union separately applied under section 10(2) of the Industrial Disputes Act to the Government of West Bengal for reference of the dispute for adjudication. Pursuant to these applications, the order of reference had been made. It is further stated on behalf of the workmen that in view of the abnormal rise of the prices of the essential commodities, the workmen are entitled to an ad-hoc increment of Rs. 15 per month, irrespective of whether the workmen are in enjoyment of an incremental scale of pay or not and this ad-hoc increment should be granted with effect from the 7th November 1963, when the charter of demands was received by the company. With regard to revision of grades and scales of pay (consolidated), the present scales of pay had been mentioned and the grades and scales of pay as per charter of demands had also been mentioned regarding the different categories of workmen including the drivers and durwans. Regarding gratuity, it is stated that though the Contributory Provident Fund is in force, the workmen are entitled to the benefits of gratuity scheme as the employers are financially capable to meet the expenses of the gratuity scheme. The employers should pay 15 days' wages (consolidated as now), or 15 days' wages inclusive of D.A., if at any time the existing consolidated wages be split into basic wages and dearness allowance, or 15 days' total wages, any separate D.A. be given on top of the existi consolidated wages, for each completed year of serv to the workmen in case of retrenchment, dischar dismissal, retirement on medical grounds, terminati of service on superannuation and resignation. W regard to rate of Provident Fund Contribution, it stated that at present, the rate is 6 paise per rup that the rate of contribution in respect of clerical st is 12½ paise per rupee and that the rate of contributi regarding the subordinate staff is 12½ paise per rup with retrospective effect from the 7th November 19(

The company in its written statement has denied th it is one of the biggest importers of machinery in Inc and its line of business is installation of machine and plant both in the public and private sector, a had said that its main business is the sale of goo for which they are agents and that the company is very small unit employing about 84 clerks and oth staff and 47 subordinate staff in the head office. is also denied that it has a joint administration wi the International Combustion (India) Private Lt and had said that there is only one common Direct in the Board of Directors. It is further alleged th owing to increasing stringency of foreign exchang import quotas have been drastically cut down and t value of actual user's licence issued to its customers h also seriously declined. The fall has been so part cularly serious in recent months that the company prospects of import business are very bleak. Wi regard to the consolidated wages, the company stat that the consolidated wages are being paid in terms the agreement with the union, dated the 1st May 195 and that the other members of the Engineering Ass ciation are also paying consolidated wages. Wi regard to the revision of grades and scales of pay f the subordinate staff, it is stated that the questio was a subject matter of industrial adjudication b the Fourth Industrial Tribunal, and the said Awar continues to be binding between the parties that the company voluntarily entered into the interi arrangement with the workmen for improving th grades and scales of pay and went to the length o offering a long term agreement and that the grades an scales of pay now in existence in this company compar favourably with those in similar concerns in the vicinity There is therefore no question of revision of grade and scales of pay. With regard to the claim for gratuity it is said that the retiral benefit by way of Providen Fund is in accordance with the provisions of the Em ployees' Provident Fund Act, 1952, and that th company has neither the stability nor the ability t bear the expenses of gratuity scheme. With regard to the rate of Provident Fund contribution, it is sai that the rate has been fixed by the Government a 6¼ and the contributions for the old employees in th clerical grade continue to be at a higher rate as th said higher rate was the existing benefit for them at the time of the transfer of the fund to the Govern ment. The rate therefore cannot be enhanced except in accordance with the provisions of the Provident Fund Act, 1952.

After the suit came on pre-emptory hearing, time was taken twice for settlement and the petition of compromise was filed on 26th June 1965. In the petition of compromise there is a reference to the sub sequent reference, dated the 26th March 1965, but the present award would be limited only to the subject atter of the present reference. With regard to vision of grades and scales of pay for the subordinate iff, there had been some upward revision and with gard to ad-hoc increment, it has been agreed that ere would be ad-hoc increment of Re. 1 of the isting salary or wages in respect of all workmen. ith regard to rate of Provident Fund, it is agreed at the deduction and contribution to the fund will at the rate of 8⅓ per cent. from January 1965. With gard to gratuity, it is agreed that the union would t press for the demand now in view of the difficulties the employer. I have considered the terms of ttlement, and in my opinion the terms are fair, asonable and bona fide and should be given effect to. therefore pass an award in terms of the petition of mpromise which should be made annexures to the ard. This is my award.

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Gouri Charan Karmakar & Brothers, 213 Mahatma Gandhi Road, Calcutta-7 and their workmen represented by the Hindusthan Drivers' Union, 3 British Indian Street, Calcutta-1. (Case No. VIII-170 of 1964.)

For the Union: Shri S. R. Sarkar, Advocate.

By order No. 2274-I.R/IR/11L-185/62, dated Calcutta, the 19th June 1964, Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, referred an industrial dispute between Messrs. Gouri Charan Karmakar & Brothers and their workmen represented by the Hindusthan Drivers' Union for adjudication regarding the only issue contained in the order of reference.

Issue

Whether refusal of employment to Shri Gokul Chandra Nayak is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled to?

Award

This is a reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act. The employer named in the reference is Messrs. Gouri Charan Karmakar & Brothers, 213 Mahatma Gandhi Road. The workmen are represented by Hindusthan Drivers, Union, 3 British Indian Street, Calcutta-1.

The Union in its written statement submitted that Gokul Chandra Nayak was appointed a driver on permanent basis by the employer in 1938 and since then the workman had been serving the management efficiently. The workman fell ill and reported about the sickness praying for one month's leave on 12th October 1961. After he was cured he went to the proprietor for resuming his duties but the proprietor did not allow him to do so. The matter was reported to Labour Commissioner on 12th December 1962. The workman received a letter on 25th February 1963 from the Assistant Secretary, Government of West Bengal. The workman produced a fit certificate on 1st April 1963 and requested the proprietor to allow him to resume his duties but the proprietor refused to accept it. The workman accordingly prays for reinstatement, back wages and other reliefs.

Written statement was filed by Shri Gouri Charan Karmakar describing himself as owner of the car which used to be driven by Gokul. In the written statement it was objected that there is no firm of the name Gouri Charan Karmakar & Brothers. The workman was never employed by any such employer. Gouri Charan Karmakar owned and possessed a personal car which was driven by Gokul. He was a personal driver of Gouri Charan Karmakar and not an employee employed by any firm. The Union has no authority to represent the workman because it is a stranger union. Gokul used to drive the car belonging to Gouri Charan Karmakar and he was attacked with tuberculosis. Shri Karmakar arranged for his treatment and gave Rs.300 in lump to the workman on compassionate ground. Owing to his illness Gokul could not continue his service and left the job. It was not a case of termination by the owner. Gokul himself put an end to his employment as he was physically unfit to carry on his normal duty as a driver.

On the pleadings of the parties the point arises as to whether Gokul Chandra Nayak was a driver appointed by Gouri Charan Karmakar personally to drive his personal car or whether he was employed by any business firm by the name Messrs. Gouri Charan Karmakar and Brothers. This point should be dicided first.

Gokul gave evidence before the Tribunal. He is P. W. 1. He stated that he was employed by Gouri Charan Karmakar and Brothers. There is no existence of any firm by the name Messrs. Gouri Charan Karmakar and Brothers. A partnership deed is filed before me. It is Ext. F. and it shows that Gouri Charan Karmakar and his nephews Gopi Nath Karmakar and Abani Karmakar formed a partnership firm under a partnership deed in the year 1960. The name of the firm is mentioned in the partnership deed. It is Messrs. Nagendra Nath Karmakar at the premises No. 213 Mahatma Gandhi Road. A printed calendar has been filed which also shows the name of the firm as Nagendra Nath Karmakar, son of Uma Charan Karmakar. It is in evidence that Nagendra Nath Karmakar was father of Gouri Charan Karmakar. He is dead. It is further in evidence that the business is run at 213 Mahatma Gandhi Road and it is a partnership business of which Shri Gouri Charan Karmakar is one of the partners. It manufactures scales. The firm named in the order of reference i.e. Messrs. Gouri Charan Karmakar and Brothers is undoubtedly a wrong description of the firm and the real name of the firm is Nagendra Nath Karmakar. This fact is admitted by P. W. 3. Das, a witness for the union. Nevertheless from the description of the firm in the order of reference there is little scope for doubt that it is the industry located at 213 Mahatma Gandhi Road owned by Shri Gouri Charan Karmakar as one of the partners was the employer alleged in the order of reference. Since there is no ambiguity about the employer though not alleged properly described in the order of reference, award which may be passed is quite enforceable against the firm in question. I do not think that the wrong description in the order of reference as to the firm's name will render the reference invalid. It is the partnership of Gouri Charan Karmakar and other partners which according to the reference is the empoloyer. There is no defect fatal to the reference on this ground. Next, the question arises whether the driver Gokul was an employee of the firm of Gouri Charan Karmakar and his partners or he was in the personal employment of Gouri Charan Karmakar. This is the all important point for decision.

The pleadings have been already set forth. The evidence of P. W. 1. Gokul Chandra Nayak is that he was employed by the firm and not by Shri Gouri Charan Karmakar personally to drive his personally owned car. Shri Gouri Charan Karmakar denies this fact in his evidence on oath. Gouri Charan Karmakar stated that he had employed Gokul to drive his personal car and he had nothing to do with the firm. In support of his evidence he has filed the wage registers Exts. C and C(1). Ext. C is of the year 1958-59, while Ext. C(1) is of the year 1965-66. These are the wage registers which are endorsed by the workmen at the time when payment of salary is made. It is significant to note that Ext. C does not show the name of Gokul Chandra Nayak as a workman of the firm Nagendra Nath Karmakar though he was in service as driver at the relevant time. Wage Register Ext. C is admitted by P. W. 3 Das and P. W. 2 Suren, witnesses of Union themselves. There is no controversy about the genuineness of this document. If the name of Gokul does not appear in the list of workmen drawing wages from the firm, I should naturally conclude that he was not an employee of the firm. Gokul however wants me to rely on a certificate given by Gouri Charan Karmakar himself (Ext. 3) on 24th of May, 1954. Ext. 3 shows that in granting the certificate Shri Karmakar used the letter head of the firm. From the use of the letter head, I should not conclude that Gokul was an employee of the firm. The certificate only mentions that Gokul served Shri Karmakar as a motor driver for a number of years. This certificate was granted to Gokul so that he would get better employment elsewhere. This is the evidence of Shri Gouri Charan Karmakar. This certificate will not be enough on which a conclusion can be reached that Gokul was an employee of the business concern. I will turn to other documents now. Gokul admitted that he drove the car bearing No. WBC 6983. This is the blue book of the car Ext. G. That blue book shows that it was an Austin car purchased by Gouri Charan Karmakar himself. It was his personal property and the firm Nagendra Nath Karmakar or Messrs. Gouri Charan Karmakar and Brothers as named in the order of reference is not the owner of the car. It was a car personally owned by Gouri Charan Karmakar and Gokul admittedly drove that car. Gokul wanted to add that he drove other cars as well. He does not give the registration number of any of those cars. Shri Karmakar in his evidence denied this fact and added further that the Austin car which he owns is the only car he possesses in his life. That being so, I should hold that Gokul used to drive the personal car of Shri Gouri Charan Karmakar and as such he was not an employee of the firm, be it named Nagendra Nath Karmakar, or Gouri Charan Karmakar and Brothers. Gokul was not an employee of the firm. He was in personal employment of Gouri Babu and as such there could not have been any industrial dispute in respect of the termination of service of Gokul because Gokul was not employed in any industry. Industry has been defined in section 2(j) of the Industrial disputes Act. Unless a workman is employed in industry there cannot be an industrial dispute and on this ground alone a finding can be reached that it is not an industrial dispute and the reference is bad.

It is needless to discuss the other points or to enter into the merits of the case. The reference fails on that ground alone and the workman is not entitled to any relief before the Tribunal.

This is my award.

EFORE THE FIFTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Sri K. P. MUKHERJI, Judge, Fifth Industrial Tribunal.

Present for the Company: Shri J. Datta Gupta, Advocate of Messrs. Orr Dignam and Co., Solicitors.

Present for the workman : Shri Patit Paban Pathak, a Trade Unionist.

The original reference out of which thiscase has arisen as made under G. O. No. 572-I.R./I R/1/81-5(B)/64, ated 12th February 1964.

In this application under section 33A of the I. D. Act, 947, the petitioner Baidhar, a workman of the opposite arty Company, alleges that his services have been rminated by his employer, the opposite party, in ntravention of section 33 of the I. D. Act, 1947, nd also in violation of the standing orders of the ompany. He has prayed for his reinstatement with ll wages for the period of his non-employment.

The opposite party entered appearance and filed written statement in which it denied that it terminated e services of the petitioner in violation of the standing rders or in entravention of section 33 of the I.D. ct 1947. It is pleaded that the petitioner overstayed is leave, and under the provisions of the standing rders of the Company, he lost his lien on his post, nd his name was accordingly struck off the roll. He therefore not entitled to any relief.

The case was fixed for hearing on 3rd July 1965. n that date the parties filed a joint petition of comromise stating therein that the dispute between iem had been amicably settled out of Court, and ayed that an award might be made in terms of the int petition of compromise filed. The terms of comromise appear to be fair and reasonable, and I am tisfied that there has been a bonafide settlement of he dispute between the parties in terms of the joint etition of compromise. I, accordingly, accept the etition and pass a "no dispute" award in terms of he compromise petition filed. The petition of comromise do form part of the award.

BEFORE THE SIXTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Shri P. BASU, Bar-at-Law, Judge.

AWARD

The Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, by Order No. 12-I.R./IR/10L-171/64, dated 4th January 1965, has referred to this Tribunal for adjudication the following industrial dispute between Messrs. International Combustion (India) Private Ltd., and their workmen.

Issues

1. Ad-hoc increment in wages.
2. Revision of grade and scale of pay (consolidated) for the subordinate staff.
3. Gratuity.
4. Rate of Provident Fund Contribution.

After the service of the usual notice, the workmen represented by the Union had filed written statement and the Company had also filed the swritten statement. In the written statement filed on behalf of the workmen, it has been stated that at the Head Office, there are 125 workers and that this Company had joint administration with Steam and Mining Equipment (India) Private Ltd., that the Company is a very prosperous aoncern and financially strong and stable and had been ecrning huge profit every year and that though the Company is a member of the Indian Engineer Association, Calcutta, it has been unlike other m mb paying consolidated wages to its workmen, ' Union at the request of the workmen presented charter of demand dated 6th November 1963, rega ing the ad-hoc increment of R.s 15/- per mo in the wages of all categories of workmen with ef from the date of the receipt of the charter of dema revision of grades and scales of pay (consolidat of the subordinate staff, introduction of a gratu scheme, recruitment and replacement, increase in rate of Provident Fund Contribution. The Comp by its comments dated 7th February 1964, had refu the demands in the charter of demands, and thorea there was conciliation by Shri S. K. Banerjee, Lab Officer, West Bengal, but the conciliation fai Then the Company and the Union separately app under section 10(2) of the Industrial Disputes Act the Government of West Bengal for reference of the pute for adjudication. Pursuant to these ap cations, the order of reference had been made is further stated on behalf of the workmen that view of the abnormal rise of the prices of the essen commodities, the workmen are entitled to an ad-h increment of Rs. 15/- per month, irrespective whether the workmen are in emjoyment of an inc mental scale of pay or not and this ad-hoc increm should be granted with effect from 7th Novem 1963, when the charter of demands was received the Company. With regard to revision of grades a scales of pay (consolidated), the present scales of p had been mentioned and the grades and scales of p as per charter of demands had also been mention regarding the different categories of workers includ the drivers and durwans. Regarding gratuity, it stated that though the contributory Provident Fu is in force, the workmen are entitled to the benef of gratuity scheme, as the employers are financia capable to meet the expenses of the gratuity schem The employers should pay 15 days' wages (consc dated as now), or 15 days' wages inclusive of D. if at any time the existing consolidated wages be sp into basic wages and dearness allowance, or 15 da total wages, if any separate D. A. be given on top of t existing consolidated wages, for each completed ye of service to the wokrmen in case of retrenchme discharge, dismissal, retirement on medical groun termination of service on superannuation, and res nation. With regard to Rate of Provident Fu Contribution, it is stated that at present, the rate 6 paise per rupee, that the rate of contribution in respe of clerical staff is 12½ paise per rupee and that the ra of contribution regarding the subordinate staff is 1 paise per rupee, with retrospective effect from 7th No ember 1963.

The employer in the written statement has deni that it is the largest importer of machinery in India a making huge profits, and has said that the Company trading opeations are limited to importing of few ite including boiler equipments as agents of foreign pr ciples, that most of the equipments are imported again actual user's import licence and the Company rece very modest remuneration for the import and t the import restriction has seriously jeopardised the C pany's trading operations. The Company furt states that it has not got licence for manufactu spare parts for biolers, that it has got no branch

Madras and that it does not have joint administration with Steam and Mining Equipment (India) Private Ltd., but there is only one common Director in the Board of Directors of both Companies. The company only obtained the Industrial Licence in 1959 and commenced manufacture of boilers, boiler spares, stoker and spares, grinding, screening and filtering equipment, coal handling equipment, at its works at 257, G. T. Road, Baidyabati, Hooghly and that the Company also undertakes contracts for installation of power generating stations, but the very nature of the contract is indefinite and uncertain. With regard to the payment of consolidated wages, the Company states that consolidated wages are being paid in terms of an agreement with the Union dated 1st May 1959. With regard to the question of ad-hoc increment of wages, the Company states that the claim in this regard is not maintainable, as D. A. has been merged into the consolidated wages and cannot be segregated for any purpose. With regard to revision of grades and scales of pay for for the subordinate staff, it is stated that the question was a subject-matter of industrial adjudication by the Fourth Industrial Tribunal, and the said award continues to be binding between the parties, that the Company voluntarily entered into the interim arrangement with the workmen for improving the grades and scales of pay and went to the length of offering a long term agreement and that the grades and scales of pay now in existence in this Company compare favourably with similar concerns in the vicinity. There is therefore no question of revision of grades and scales of pay. With regard to the claim for gratuity, it is said that the retiral benefit by way Provident Fund is in accordance with the provisions of the Employees' Provident Fund Act, 1952 and that the Company has neither the stability nor the ability to bear the expenses of gratuity scheme. With regard to the rate of Provident Fund contribution, it is said that the rate has been fixed by the Government at 6¼% and the contributions for the old employees in the clerical grade continue to be at a higher rate as the said higher rate was the existing benefit for them at the time of the transfer of the fund to the Government. The rate therefore cannot be enhanced except in accordance with the provisions of the Provident Fund Act, 1952.

The parties after the case was fixed for peremptory hearing had applied for time to effect settlement and, in fact, had filed the joint petition of compromise after two adjournments, on 26th June 1965. In the compromise which has been filed, there is also reference to the subsequent reference dated 26th March 1965, but the award should only be limited to the subject-matter of reference in the present case. It would appear that with regard to the revision of grades and scales of pay, there had been some upward revision of grades and scales of pay of certain categories of workers. With regard to the claim for ad-hoc increment it would appear that the Union has withdrawn their demands. With regard to the rate of Provident Fund also, the Union has withdrawn the demand but with regard to gratuity there had been agreement regarding payment of gratuity on death, or on physical or mental incapacity or on medical grounds and also in the case of termination of service and superannuation. I have considered the terms and am of opinion that the terms are bonafide, fair and reasonable and should be given effect to.

I therefore pass an award in terms of the petition of compromise making the petition of compromise as Annexures to the award. This is my award.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Gestetner Duplicator (P) Ltd., 114 Middle Road, Calcutta-14, and their workmen represented by the Gestetner Workers' Union, 117-B Lower Circular Road, Calcutta-14. (Case No. 162 of 1963).

Present :

Shri K. P. MUKHERJEE, Judge,
Fifth Industrial Tribunal

Present for the Company : Shri R. Goswami, an officer of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce and Industry.

Present for the Union : Shri Nikhil Roy, Advocate.

The above industrial dispute was referred to this Tribunal under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by Government Order No. 3278-I.R./IR/11L-303/63, dated the 13th August 1963, for adjudication upon the following issue :

Issue

(1) Whether the demotion of Shri Gayaram Shaw from the position of a shift-in-charge to that of a workman is justified ? To what relief, if any, is he entitled ?

After service of notices on the parties concerned, they entered appearance and filed their respective written statements. The case of the Union as set-forth in its written statement, may be shortly stated as follows :—

Shri Gayaram Shaw has been working in the Company for more than 30 years with a clean record of service and in recognition of his services he was appointed supervisor at the Entally Works of the Company. Subsequently, when the post of supervisor was abolished, and the post of superintendent was created, Gayaram was appointed a shift-in-charge. The Company, however, did not like his Union activities, and decided to punish him for his active participation in the affairs of the Union as its Vice-President. He was given a charge-sheet on 28th June 1962 on some false allegations and he was asked to give his reply to the same. He submitted a reply on 30th June 1962, denying the charges brought against him. Thereafter, after a show of enquiry and without giving him any reasonable opportunity to defend himself at the enquiry, he was demoted from the post of a shift-in-charge to that of a workman with effect from 1st September 1962 on the plea that the charge brought against him had been proved. As a result of his demotion and reduction in rank, he suffered heavy financial loss. The act of the Company in demoting him is said to be unjust, unfair and mala fide, and in violation of the principles of natural justice. The Union has prayed for reinstatement of the workman in his former post and also for difference in wages from the date of his demotion up to the date of his reinstatement.

The Company has filed a written statement in reply to the written statement filed by the Union. It is denied that Gayaram Shaw has a good record of service or that he acted as a Supervisor in the Factory. He acted as a shift-in-charge only, and this post was given to him in view of his seniority in service, and he continued as such after Mr. Godfrey was appointed Superintendent of the Factory. Gayaram was given a charge-sheet for major misdemeanour and a full enquiry was held into the charge brought against him. He was given full opportunity to defend himself at the enquiry which was held in conformity with the principles of natural justice. The Company, in demoting him, acted bona fide and took a lenient view of the matter in consideration of his long service. It is denied that the workmen has been victimised for his trade union activities, or the Company, in demoting him, wa actuated by any unfair labour practice. The workman it is pleaded, is not entitled to any reliefs as claime by him in this case.

It is an undisputed fact that Gayaram was given charge-sheet on 28th June 1962, while he was workin as a shift-in-charge, and he submitted a reply on 30t June 1962, denying the charges brought against him It is also not disputed that an enquiry was held int the charge-sheet against him and as a result of th enquiry he was demoted from the post of shift-in-charg to that of a workman with effect from 1st September 19 62. The only question that arises for consideration i whether there is justification for the demotion of Gaya ram which admittedly caused a heavy financial loss t him. The fact that there was an enquiry held against Gayaram in respect of the charge-sheet which wa issued to him has not been denied. It has, however been pleaded in paragraph 11 of the written statement of the Union that no enquiry worth the name had been held, and the workman was not given reasonable opportunity to defend himself. If it is shown that the employer has held a proper enquiry the Tribunal would not be entitled to consider the propriety or the correctness of the conclusion reached by enquiring officer at such enquiry. The Tribunal would be entitled to consider the said conclusions if they appear to be perverse or if the Tribunal is satisfied that the enquiry was unfair or either the proceedings or the final order passed against the workman amounted to victimisation or adoption of an unfair labour practice. If none of these facts is established, then the findings made by the enquiring officer in the domestic enquiry should be taken to be binding against the employee. This principle has been laid down by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Tata Oil Mill Company Ltd. and its workmen and another, reported in 1963-II-L.L.J. 78.

It is now to be seen whether the enquiry which was held against the workman can be regarded as fair and proper and in conformity with the principles of natural justice. It is an admitted fact that Shri Vanderputt held the enquiry, and the workman was present at the enquiry. The enquiring officer has not been examined, but the proceedings of the enquiry and the report of the enquiring officer have been marked Ext. D. I have carefully gone through the proceedings of the enquiry, Ext. D, and I am of the view that the enquiry was not held in accordance with the principles which have been laid down by Hon'ble Supreme Court in several decisions. One of the accepted principles is that in a domestic enquiry the employer should take steps first to lead evidence against the workman charged, give an opportunity to the workman to cross examine the said evidence, and then should the workman be asked whether he should give any explanation about the evidence led against him. This principle has been laid down by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Associated Cement Co. Ltd., vs. their workmen (1963-II-L.L.J. 400). It appears from the proceedings of the enquiry that the enquiring officer Shri Vanderputt asked Gayaram at the outset if he wanted to say anything, and he made a statement. Thereafter Sudarsan Nayek was examined as a witness for the workman. Thereafter three witnesses were examined for the Company, and the enquiry was adjourned. After the enquiry was resumed, Ananta Chakraborty was examined as a witness for Gayaram, and the enquiry was closed on 16th August 1962. Thereafter one Md. Rahim was called as a witness by the enquiring officer, and the enquiring officer put questions to him, and obtained answers from him. There is nothing to show whether Gayaram was present when Md. Rahim was examine or that he was given an opportunity to cross-examine this witness. It was not open to the enquiring officer to examine any witness suo moto in support of the case of the Company after the workman has examined his witnesses, and without giving him any opportunity to cross-examine him. It also appears that Gayaram was not given any opportunity to cross-examine the witness Hiralal Paul. The evidence of Gayaram is that he was not given opportunity to cross-examine the witnesses for the Company, and there cannot be any doubt that Gayaram was not given any opportunity to cross-examine the Company's witness Hiralal Paul and also Md. Rahim, who was examined by the enquiring officer after the evidence of Gayaram was closed. The order in which the witnesses were examined, the non-examination of the enquiring officer taken along with the fact that Gayaram was denied the opportunity of cross-examining the Company's witnesses Hiralal Paul and Md. Rahim, leave no room for doubt that the enquiry was not a fair and proper one in accordance with the principles of natural justice. The order of demotion of Gayaram, so far as it is based on the domestic enquiry held against him, cannot stand.

It now remains to consider whether there is evidence before me which can be held as sufficient to prove the charge against Gayaram to justify the punishment meted out to him. The charge against him, as appears from the charge-sheet, Ext. 1, is that he shouted angrily in a loud voice at Mr. Godfrey and gave out that the management was resorting to 'zoolum'. It is not mentioned in the charge-sheet that this alleged act on the part of the workman amounted to an offence under the standing orders of the Company. In the written statement filed by the Company it has also been nowhere mentioned that the workman was guilty under a particular provision of the Standing Orders of the Company. The workman denied the charge brought against him, and his evidence is that he did not insult Godfrey on 26th June 1962, nor did he shout at him angrily. He has also examined one Sudarsan Nayek. He has also denied that Gayaram raised shouts and collected other workers on 26th June 1962. O.P.W.1, Godfrey, on whose report the charge sheet was issued to Gayaram, also does not state in his evidence that he misbehaved with him or insulted him. He has simply stated that the charge against Gayaram, was for indulging in disorderly behaviour, shouting, insubordination, etc. O.P.W.4 Md. Rahim has stated that he saw Gayaram talking to Godfrey in a loud voice, and Godfrey told him not to do so. O.P.W.5 Hiralal Paul has stated that there was an altercation between Gayaram and Godfrey in course of which Godfrey asked Gayaram to speak properly, and to which Gayaram said " জুলুম মৎ করনা ". The evidence of Md. Rahim and Hiralal Paul, even if accepted as true, only goes to indicate that there was an altercation between Godfrey and Gayaram in course of which Gayaram talked angrily in a loud voice. Being a workman, it is quite possible that he talked to Godfrey in a loud voice without any intention to insult him and he might have uttered the word 'zoolum' under some provocation. But his conduct does not amoun to an offence under the Standing Orders of the Compan so as to entail punishment of demotion to him causin a financial loss of more than Rs. 100 per month The evidence adduced by the Company before me ca hardly be regarded as sufficient to prove the charg brought against the workman Gayaram Shaw, an his demotion from the post of a shift-in-charge t that of a workman cannot be justified.

The Company is accordingly directed to put Gayaran Shaw to his former position as shift-in-charge and als to pay him the difference in wages from the date o his demotion up to the date of his reinstatement withi one month from the date of publication of this awar in the "Calcutta Gazette."

This is my award.

AWARD

The Government of West Bengal, by order No. 633-I.R./IR/11L-267/64, dated the 26th November 1964, had referred for adjudication to this Tribunal the industrial dispute between Messrs N. V. Industrial Private Ltd., and their workmen.

Issue

1. What should be the training period and wages of the following workmen—Sarbashri (a) Surendra Nath Ghose, (b) Buchan Kamptee, (c) Sankar Das Gupta, (d) Sankar Dutta and (e) Byomkesh Bhattacharjee ? To what relief, including permanent employment, if any, are they entitled ?

After the service of usual notice, the workman represented by the Union had filed written statement and the employer had also filed the written statement In the written statement filed on behalf of the Union it has been stated that the Company which is a very prosperous manufacturing concern employs about 32 employees, that the Company, however, has not Standing Orders and the workman has to depend on the sweet will and caprices of the management for redressing their just grievances, that the company had not yet fully implemented the award of the Third Industrial Tribunal published under G. O. No. 5783, dated 11th January 1960 though the award was a result of a compromise between the company and the workmen, that the Company has not yet implemented the award of the Second Industrial Tribunal published in the "Calcutta Gazette" dated 31st October 1963, and that a case for computation is now pending before the Second Labour Court, West Bengal. It is further alleged that the workmen mentioned above are all permanent workmen, but the company had denied them the benefit of minimum wages of Rs. 61 as per award of the Third Industrial Tribunal, that the Union had raised the dispute regarding the non-implementation of the award, that the Company also refused to grant them existing benefit of increment of wages according to the award of the Third Industrial Tribunal and that accordingly a complete schedule of the workmen showing their loss of minimum wages and annual increments up to 1963 was given to the Conciliation Officer, Labour Directorate, in response to his requisition regarding that matter. The union also had written the letter, dated 11th May 1964, clarifying its stand. Lastly, it is stated that the workmen mentioned above are not trainees but permanent workmen employed by the Company for a pretty long time. It is prayed that an award may be passed holding the workmen as permanent workmen and granting them benefits of permanent workmen namely, (i) minimum wages of Rs.61 as per award and (ii) annual increment granted to and enjoyed by the other workmen. It will be noticed that the case of the concerned workmen is at complete variance with the subject matter of the reference. I shall have occasion to discuss the matter later on.

In the written statement filed on behalf of the employer, certain preliminary objections have been raised regarding the reference itself. In the first place, it is alleged that there is no industrial dispute as defined in section 2(k) of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947. In the second place, it is stated that the persons named in the reference are not workmen as defined in section 2(s) of the same Act. Lastly, it is urged that the Governor of this State, under whose authority the order of reference has been issued, was not holding office at the meterial time in accordance with the provisions of the Constitution of India. On these grounds, it is contended that this Tribunal has no jurisdiction to decide the subject matter of the reference. It is further stated in the written statement that the workmen enjoy very fair and liberal terms and conditions of service in comparison with other similar industries, that the Company has unhasitatingly complied with the pronouncement and directions of the Tribunals, that the five persons mentioned are not permanent workmen as stated on behalf of the workmen, and that the Third Industrial Tribunal did not make any specific direction in regard to the quantity of increment. It is therefore prayed that the workmen are not entitled to get any relief.

Decision

Shri T. P. Chatterjee appearing for the Company had not pressed the third objection mentioned above. He conceded that after his Lordship Mr. Justice K. C. Sen and his Lordship Mr. Justice A. K. Das had differed as to whether the Governor of the State of West Bengal was functioning as such in accordance with the provisions of the Constitution; the matter was referred to his Lordship Mr. Justice Sinha and his Lordship Mr Justice Sinha had agreed with his Lordship Justice A. K. Das and had come to the conclusion that during the relevant time, the Governor was functioning at least as de facto Governor and hence, her orders cannot be questioned to the Court of Law. After this pronouncement by Mr. Justice Sinha, Mr. Chatterjee did not press the third objection which I have mentioned above. He, however, contended that there is no really any industrial dispute under section 2(k) of the Act, and that the persons whose names have been mentioned in the order of reference are also not workmen under section 2(s) of the Act. Shri Chatterjee invited me to decide this preliminary question. Regarding the question whether the dispute is an industrial dispute or not, it was submitted by Shri Chatterjee that these persons are really apprentices who have been taken in for the purpose of learning certain jobs. In this connection Shri Chatterjee had referred me to the ruling reported in 1963 (II) L.L.J., 335—A. I. R. 1963 S. C., 1873 (University of Delhi vs. Ram Nath). In that case, their Lordships of the Supreme Court had observed that in view of the definition of employer, industry and workmen under sections 2(g), 2(j) and 2(s), it must be held that the work of imparting education carried on by Educational Institutions (in the instant case by the University of Delhi and Miranda College of Women), is not an "industry" within the meaning of section 2(j) of the Act, that the absence of profit motive also points to the fact that the work undertaken by an Educational Institution differs from the normal concept of trade or business, that the education in its true aspect is more a mission and a vocation, rather than a profession or trade or business, however, wide denotation of the two latter words under the Act may be, and that in the main task of imparting education the subordinate staff employed by Educational Institutions, such as clerks, typists stenographers, accountants, drivers, peons, etc., play such a minor subordinate and insignificant part that it would be unreasonable to allow such work to render industrial colour to the principle activity of the Institution. In my opinion, this ruling does not really support the contention of Shri Chatterjee. It is undisputed that the employers are carrying on industry and even if it be assumed that the five persons mentioned above were taken as apprentices for learning jobs, the main activity of the employer is carrying on trade and business and therefore, the apprentices must be regarded to be workmen. In this connection, I would point out that in the definition of workman in section 2(s) of the Act, "workman" has been defined to include an apprentice. The present section 2(s) was substituted by the Amending Act 36 of 1956. Even in the original Act of 1947, in the definition of workmen, an apprentice was included. Of course, it would appear from the ruling reported in 1954 (I) L.L.J., 44 (Aryan Cinema, Poona vs. T B. Gaikawad), it has been held that an unpaid apprentice learning work as an operator in cinema is not a workman, but here it is not disputed that certain sums of money were paid to each of these persons by the employer. Therefore, I am unable to agree with the learned Advocate Shri Chatterjee that the dispute regarding these five persons cannot be considered to be an industrial dispute, or that these five persons, even if they are regarded as apprentices, are not workmen. The learned Advocate had also raised the contention that there is really no dispute with regard to the subject matter of the reference. In this connection, he had drawn my attention to the written statement on behalf of the workmen, and had pointed out that in the written statement, nothing has been said with regard to the period of training of the persons concerned, or with regard to the wages of those persons during the period of training, or with regard to the question of permanancy of those persons. Shri Roy appearing on behalf of these five persons did not dispute that no submission had been made regarding this point in the written statement filed on behalf of the workmen. He had urged that, in fact, the award of the Third Industrial Tribunal which was passed sometime in 1960, had not been fully implemented and that all these five persons had been taken in after the award, but they have been denied the benefit of that award. It would appear that the question whether these five persons are entitled to the benefits of the award of the Third Industrial Tribunal, is not a subject matter of reference to this Tribunal. It further appears from section 10(4) of the Act that the jurisdiction of the Tribunal is limited to the points of dispute referred for adjudication, and matters incidental thereto. I do not think it can be urged that this Tribunal must regard these five persons to be permanent workmen under the Company, and must decide the question whether they are entitled to the benefits in terms of the award of the Third Industrial Tribunal referred to above. Reference may be made in this connection to the ruling reported in A.I.R. 1960 S. C., 818=1960 (I) L.L.J., 808 (U.P. Electric Supply Co., Ltd., vs. Workers of Messrs. S. M. Choudhary and another). It would appear that there was disputes on four points, one of which was non-abolition of the contract system. After the failure of the conciliation proceedings, there was reference to adjudication, the parties thereto being Messrs. S. M. Choudhary and Co., and their workmen. The former was contractor to the U. P. Electric Supply Co. Ltd. The reference was with regard to three other points and did not include "non-abolition of the contract system". About two months afterwards another notification was issued by the Union Government by which the Electric Supply Co. was impleaded as a party, but the matters in dispute remained unamended. The Tribunal went into evidence and found that the workmen were, in fact and in reality, the employees of the Company. Their Lordships of the Supreme Court held that as the question of non-abolition of contract system had not been referred for adjudication, the finding of the Tribunal that these workmen are not workmen of the Company must be held to be beyond jurisdiction. I think, reference may also be made to the ruling reported in (1961-62) 20 F. J. R. 45 S. C. (Air Line Hotel Pvt. Ltd., vs. their workmen). In that case, the workmen had raised several demands, one of which was inspection of the Company's account bills and receipt books to ascertain the correct amount collected by the management, and due to the workers. The Government made a reference as regards all the demands excepting the one just mentioned. The Tribunal gave direction to the Appellant to give access to the workers to the account books. It was held by the Supreme Court that this direction was without jurisdiction as the Government had in terms of reference not referred to the dispute as regards the inspection of accounts. It was further held that there was no justification for the view that whatever could not be done directly because of the refusal of the Government to make a reference on this point could be done indirectly on the plea that it was incidental. Shri Roy, however, did not even urge that the matter raised in the written statement of the Union was really incidental to the matters mentioned in the order of reference. He had only urged, as stated above, that the award of the Third Industrial Tribunal which would apply to the case of the persons mentioned in the order of reference, who were employed later, had not been applied to them, and they had been denied the benefits of that award. I do not think, therefore, that there is really any dispute between the parties with regard to the matters mentioned in the order of reference. It is quite true that this point has not been specifically taken in the written statement filed by the employer. The point really arises out of the written statements which had been put in by the Union and the Company. As there is no question of prejudice, I had allowed the learned Advocates appearing for the parties to argue regarding that point. My conclusion is that there is really no dispute regarding the matters mentioned in the order of reference.

I have therefore come to the conclusion that a no-dispute award should be passed in the present case. I accordingly pass a no-dispute award. This is my award.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing between the Commissioners of the Hooghly-Chinsurah Municipality, Hooghly, and their workmen represented by the Hooghly-Chinsurah Municipal Employees' Association, Municipal Office, Hooghly. (Case No. 149 of 1964.)

BEFORE THE FIFTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Sri K. P. MUKHERJI, Judge, Fifth Industrial Tribunal.

Present for the Commissioners of the Municipality—Sri C. L. Ganguly, Advocate.

Present for the Employees' Association—Sri Biswanath Ash, Advocate.

The above industrial dispute was referred to this Tribunal under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, under G. O. No. 2054-I.R./IR/14L-7/64, dated 4th June 1964, for adjudication upon the following issues:

Issues

1. Is Shri Umapada Ghosh entitled to gratuity ?

2. What should be the retirement age of employees other than the teachers ?

Both parties to the dispute entered appearance after service of usual notices on them and filed their respective written statements.

The case of the Union as set forth in its written statement, shortly put, is as follows :

Shri Umapada Ghosh, the workman concerned in this dispute, was appointed as a Warrant Officer on 3rd December 1941 and after putting in service for about 19 years he tendered resignation of his office on 29th July 1960 on the ground of ill health. His resignation was accepted by the Commissioners in a meeting held on 30th July 1960. Subsequently, he was again appointed as Arrear Collecting Sircar in November 1961 by the Administrator who had been placed in charge of the Municipality on 29th June 1961 after the Municipality had been superseded by the Government. After his appointment as Arrear Collecting Sircar, Umapada Ghosh applied to the Administrator for payment of the gratuity which he was entitled to by reason of his service for about 19 years. The Administrator, however, refused to pay any gratuity to him on the plea that he having defalcated municipal fund during the period of his service as Warrant Officer as per report of a Sub-Committee appointed by the Commissioners at their meeting on 19th May 1958 was not entitled to any gratuity. Thereafter correspondences passed between the Union and the Administrator in which demand for gratuity was renewed by the Union and the Administrator having refused to revise his decision the matter was taken up with the Assistant Labour Commissioner, Chandernagore. The Conciliation Officer, however, failed to settle the dispute amicably and hence the present reference. The other issue in this case relates to the age of superannuation of the different categories of employees of the Municipality except the teachers. The Union has claimed that the age of superannuation for the employees should be fixed at 60 years or in the alternative, the age of superannuation be fixed at 58 years, and the employees should be allowed extension up to 63 years provided they are physically fit and mentally alert. The Union also filed a supplementary written statement after the Municipality had filed its written statement and denied certain facts which had been disclosed in the written statement filed by the Municipality. The case of the Municipality, as set forth in its written statement, shortly stated is as follows:

It is pleaded that the question of payment of gratuity to Umapada Ghosh was considered by the Administrator appointed for the Municipality by the State Government, and he passed an order that Umapada Ghosh was not entitled to any gruatuity for the reasons stated by him, and in view of the decision of the Administrator the workman is not entitled to any gratuity which is payable at the discretion of the Municipality, and for good record of service.

A Sub-committee was appointed to investigate into certain charges which were brought against the workman during his period of service as Warrant Officer and the sub-committee found him guilty of some irregularities and submitted a report accordingly and the Administrator on a consideration of the report of the sub-committee which was accepted by the Commissioners in their meeting held on 30th July 1960 and also the service record of the workman came to the decision that he was not entitled to any gratuity. The decision of the Administrator is to be taken as final and binding on the workman, and the matter cannot be reopened.

As rgards issue No. 2, it is pleaded that the age of retirement for employees of the Municipality other than the teachers has been fixed at 55 years in accordance with the relevant model rules regarding appointment of municipal officers and servants, as approved by the State Government and there is no justification for extending the age of superannuation for the employees of the Municipality other than the teachers. Both parties adduced oral evidence and also put in some documentary evidence in support of their respective cases.

Decision

Issue No. 1.—There is little dispute with regard to the facts which are relevant for a decision on this issue which relates to the question of payment of gratuity to Sri Umapada Ghosh, a workman of the Hooghly-Chinsurah Municipality. The workman was appointed as a Warrant Officer on 3rd December 1941 and he tendered resignation on 29th July 1960 on the ground of his ill health. His resignation was accepted by the Commissioners at their meeting held on 30th July 1960. He was again appointed as Arrear Collecting Sircar in November 1961 by the then Administrator of the Municipality, and he is still in service of the Municipality in the same capacity. After his appointment to the new post he applied to the then Administrator, Hooghly-Chinsurah Municipality on 1st May, 1962 for payment of gratuity as is admissible to him for his long service of about 19 years.

The Administrator by his order, dated 10th May 1963, refused payment of gratuity to him on the ground stated in his order on the application of the workman which has been marked Exhibit A. There cannot be any dispute that Shri Umapada Ghosh having put in service for about 19 years in the Municipality as Warrant Officer is entitled to gratuity as is admissible under the rules. The Municipality has not denied the fact that by reason of his long service in the Municipality the workman is entitled to gratuity. The claim of the workman is resisted only on the ground stated in paragraph 3 of the written statement filed by the Municipality. In that paragraph it has been stated that the workman is not entitled to any gratuity as decided by the then Administrator by his order, dated 10th May 1963. This appears to be only ground for refusing payment of gratuity to Shri Umapada Ghosh. The order passed by the Administrator on 8th May 1963 on the petition of Shri Umapada Ghosh for payment of gratuity to him runs thus. "Seen the service book and the report of the sub-com ittee appointed by the Commissioners at their meeting to hold enquiry into the serious irregularities committed by the applicant and the entries in the service book unfold a very serious offence that is defalcation of municipal fund and the report of the sub-committee reveals acts and deeds of the applicant which are condemnable. Therefore, his service record is far from satisfactory. As such no gratuity payment can be made to him" It is abundantly clear that the Administrator passed his order on a reference to the report of the sub-committee and also the service record of the workman which according to him is far from satisfactory. The basis of the order therefore is the report of the sub-committee and the service record of the workman. The Municipality has not produced the resolution of the Commissioners appointing a sub-committee to investigate into the irregularities alleged to have been committed by Shri Umapada Ghosh while he was working as the Warrant Officer of the Municipality. Be that as it may, the Municipality has produced a report which purports to be the report of the sub-committee appointed by the Commissioners on 17th May 1958 to investigate into certain irregularities committed by Shri Umapada Ghosh. This report was accepted by the Commissioners in their meeting held 30th July 1960 when the resignation submitted by Sl Umapada Ghosh was also accepted. Shri Umapa Ghosh has examined himself and he has denied kno ledge of any sub-committee which was appointed the Commissioners to investigate into certain ir gularites said to have been committeed by him. H evidence is that he was not aware of any such su committee, nor was he ever asked by the committ to appear and explain things appearing against hi There is no evidence worth the name on the side the Municipality to show that any opportunity was giv to Shri Umapada Ghosh by the sub-committee to plain the circumstances appearing against him at t enquiry. This enquiry by the sub-committee appe to have been made behind the back of Shri Umapa Ghosh and without giving him any reasonable oppo tunity to have his say before the Committee. Th sort of enquiry is clearly against the principles natural justice and the report of such an enquiry cann be allowed to be used against the workman, agair whom the enquiry was made. This report of t sub-committee which speaks of about some irregularit said to have been committed by Shri Umapada Gho in his capacity as Warrant Officer, cannot be us against him for the reason already stated. The repo of the sub-committee and also the resignation Umapada were accepted by the Commissioners their meeting held on 30th July 1960, but the Comm ssioners did not propose to take any action again him on the report of the sub-committee, and it decid to take action against him in case it was found that committed defalcation of municipal fund. It h however not be proved that he misappropriated a money of the municipality. The order of the Admini trator refusing payment of gratuity to Shri Umapa Ghosh so far as it is based on the report of the su committee cannot be sustained. The Administrat in refusing payment of gratuity also took into cons deration his service record which according to hi was not satisfactory. The service record of the workma has been produced and has been marked Exhibit I The service book shows that he was once warne for gross negligence for duty during the period of h service for about 19 years. It is thus difficult to hol that the entries in the service book unfold a very se rious offence as has been observed by the Administrato in his order, dated 10th May 1963. The service recor of the workman does not also justify nonpayment o gratuity to him. The order of the Administrato which is based on the report of the sub-committee an service record of the workman therefore cannot stand The workman by putting in about 19 years of servic earned gratuity and it is difficult to uderstand wh the benefit thus earned by him should not be availabl to him. It has been laid down by the Hon'ble Suprem Court in the case of Government Cleaning Works an its workman (1961-I-L.L.J., 513) that gratuity is no paid to the employee gratuitously or merely as matter of boon. It is paid to him for service rendere by him to the employer and when it is earned it is diffi cult to understand why it should necessarily be denie to him. In view of this decision and the facts prove in the instant case, there cannot be any reasonabl ground for nonpayment of gratuity to Umapada Ghosh I accordingly hold that he is entitled to gratuity as i admissible to him under the rules for the period o his service as Warrant Officer. This issue is according ly disposed of.

Issue No. 2.—This issue relates to the age of superannuation for the employees of the Municipality except the teachers. The age of superannuation for the employees other than the teachers of the Municipality at present is 55 years. This is in accordance with Government notification No. L. S. J. 175/47/38, dated the 26th February 1947. The Union has claimed that the present age of superannuation of the employees excepting the teachers should be fixed at 60 years in line with that of the employees of the Calcutta Corporation and the Municipality of Howrah or, in the alternative, the age be fixed at 58 years, and the employees should be allowed extension up to 63 years provided they are physically fit and mentally alert. The question of fixing the age of superannuation for industrial employees came up for consideration before the Hon'ble Supreme Court in several cases. It has been held by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Imperial Chemical Industries (P) Ltd., versus their workmen (21 F. J. R. page 428) that in fixing the age of retirement no hard and fast rule can be laid down. The decision on the question would always depend on a proper assessment of the relevant factor and may conceivably vary from case to case. The trend of decisions is that normally the age of retirement should be fixed at 58 years and it has been held by the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Hindusthan Times vs. their workmen (1963-I-L. L. J. 109) that in consideration of the present day circumstances in the country it would be fair to fix the retirement age at 58 years. The same view has been taken in the case of workmen of Balmer Lawrie and Co. versus Balmer Lawrie and Co. (1964-I-L. L. J. 381) and also in the case of workmen of Jessop and Co. versus Jessop and Co. (1964-I-L. L. J 455). In view of these decisions it is ony reasonable that the age of retirement of the employees of the Municipality except the teachers should be fixed at 58 years. I accordingly fix the age of retirement for the employees of the Municipality other than the teachers, at 58 years. This issue is accordingly disposed of. This is my award.

No. 3211-I.R./IR/11L-209/63.—19th July 1965.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 5147-I.R./IR/11L-209/63, dated the 17th December 1963, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Dominion Rubber Co.(P) Ltd., 1, Kundon Lane, Lillooah, Howrah, and their workmen represented by Dominion Rubber Co. Mazdoor Congress, 7B Rani Rashmoni Road, Calcutta-13, regarding the issue mentioned in the said order being a matter specified in the Second Schedule to the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), was referred for adjudication to the Seventh Industrial Tribunal;

And whereas the said Seventh Industrial Tribunal has submitted to the State Government its award on the said industrial dispute;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Dominion Rubber Co. (P) Ltd., 1, Kundon Lane, Lillooah, Howrah, and their workmen represented by Dominion Rubber Co. Mazdoor Congress, 7B Rani Rashmoni Road, Calcutta-13, referred under G. O. No. 5147-I.R./IR/11L-208/63, dated 17th December 1963. (Case No. VIII-316/63).

BEFORE THE SEVENTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL.

Present:

Shri S. K. ROY, Judge.

Appearances

For the Union: Shri Tarak Banerjee, Working President.

For the Company: Shri N. M. Das Gupta, Advocate, assisted by Shri D. K. Das Gupta, Advocate.

The above dispute over the issue given in the Order of Reference and reporduced below, was referred to this Tribunal for adjudication by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 5147-I.R./IR/11L-209/63, dated the 17th December 1963.

Issue

Whether the dismissal of Shri Tagore Das and Shri Subhas Lal is justified? To what relief, if any, are they entitled?

Award

After service of notices of the reference upon the parties, they appeared through their representatives and filed their respective written statements in due course. After necessary preliminary proceedings and some adjournments the case was fixed for hearing on 22nd February 1965. On that date, a joint petition of compromise in respect of one of the concerned workman Shri Subhas Lal was filed before this Tribunal. The joint petition set out the terms upon which the dispute in respect of Shri Subhas Lal had been settled and the parties prayed in the petition for a compromise award in terms of the settlement. As there was no settlement in respect of the other concerned workman

Shri Tagore Das, the case could not be at once partially disposed of by a compromise award in respect of Shri Subhas Lal and accordingly after recording the compromise petition in respect of Shri Subhas Lal, the case was adjourned to a further date for hearing in respect of the other worker Shri Tagore Das. On the adjourned date, the Union prayed for time and so the case was finally adjourned for hearing to 6th July 1965. On that date, another joint petition of compromise in respect of Shri Tagore Das was filed before this Tribunal stating that the dispute in respect of this worker had been amicably settled with the Company and this workman did not press his claim for any relief before this Tribunal in view of the settlement and the parties prayed for a 'no-dispute' award in respect of this worker. In this joint petition of compromise, the previous joint petition of compromise in respect of the other workman Shri Subhas Lal was also referred to and it was stated that Shri Subhas Lal had been reinstated and had been working under the Company in terms of the previous settlement.

I have considered both the joint petitions of compromise. Each of these is signed by the concerned worker and the authorised representatives of the Union and the Company. The terms set out in the petition of compromise appear to me to be quite fair and lawful. Shri Tagore Das in respect of whom a 'no-dispute' award is prayed for on the basis that the dispute regarding him has been amicably settled, himself appeared before me and confirmed the statements made in the petition. I am satisfied that there has been a bonafide settlement of the dispute concerning both the workmen in terms of the joint petition of compromise. Accordingly I would make a compromise award in terms of the joint petition of compromise.

In the result, I make a compromise award in respect of the concerned workman Shri Subhas Lal in terms of the joint petition of compromise filed on 22nd February 1965 and a 'no-dispute' award in respect of the other concerned workman Shri Tagore Das on the basis of the joint petition of compromise filed on 6th July 1965. Copies of both the joint petitions are made a part of the award.

Employees' Union, 249 Bepin Behary Ganguly Street, Calcutta-12, on the other, regarding the issues mentioned in the said order being matters specified in the second and the third schedules to the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), was referred for adjudication to the Sixth Industrial Tribunal;

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. (1) Steam and Mining Equipment (India) Pvt. Ltd., (2) International Combustion (India) Pvt. Ltd., both of 101 Park Street, Calcutta-16, on the one part and their workman represented by I. C. L. and S. M. E. Employees' Union, 249 Bepin Behari Ganguli Street, Calcutta-12. (Case No. VIII-68/65).

BEFORE THE SIXTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri P. BASU, Bar-at-Law, Judge

AWARD

The Government of West Bengal by order No.1210-I.R./IR/10L-15(A)/62, dated the 26th March 1965, had referred to this Tribunal the following industrial disputes between Messrs. Steam and Mining Equipment (India) Pvt. Ltd. and International Combustion (India) Pvt. Ltd., both of the same address as above, on the one part and their workmen for adjudication.

Issues

1. Leave.
2. House rent.
3. Service book.

After the service of usual notice, only the workmen represented by the Union had filed the written statement, and the employers did not file any written statement. In the written statement filed on behalf of the Union it has been stated that the workmen have been agitating for long regarding leave, house rent, service book, etc., and had pressed for amicable settlement regarding these disputes. The employers, however, did not agree to the demands and, therefore, there has been the reference. It is further stated that by the letter of the Assistant Secretary, Government of West Bengal, No. 529-I.R./IR/10L-15(A)/62, dated 17th February 1962, the management agreed to sanction 10 days' casual leave and 14 days' privilege leave in continuation and 14 days' sick leave with full wages, and further agreed to pay Rs.4 per month to each workman as house-rent and Rs.60 to meet the expenses of removal the belongings from the Company's houses. The Union therefore praved that the Company may be directed to grant 10 days' casual leave in continuation of the 14 days' privilege leave and 14 days' sick leave with full wages to all workmen, house rent at the rate of Rs.4 per month to each workman and Rs.60 to meet the expenses for removal of belongings from the Company's quarters and to issue service cards to all sub-staff workmen.

Both the parties have filed joint petitions of compromise on 26th June, 1965. The terms of compromise refer not only to the present reference, but also to the references made on 4th January 1965. The award, however, would only be in respect of the subject-matter of present reference. So far as the question of leave is concerned, it would appear that the parties had agreed that 10 days' medical leave with full pay and 4 days' further leave on half-pay would be granted. With regard to the house rent, the Union withdraw the demand in consideration of fixing a suitable scale. It was further agreed that those workmen occupying the quarters of the Company at 101 Park Street will leave those quarters and give vacant possession to the Company by 15th July 1965 and a removal allowance of Rs.60 would be given to each of the workmen. With regard to the service book, it was agreed that the service book had been prepared by the Company and accepted by the Union.

I have considered the terms of the petitions of compromise between the workmen and the two employers to be fair and reasonable and bona fide and should be given effect to. I therefore pass an award in terms of the two petitions of compromise which should form Annexures to the award.

This is my award.

There will be no other or further adjustment of pay for past services.

(Case No. VIII-133 of 1964.)

BEFORE THE SECOND INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present :

Shri AMBICA PADA BHATTACHARYA, Judge, Second Industrial Tribunal

By Order No. 1808-I.R./IR/11L-218/63, dated the 12th May 1964, Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, referred an industrial dispute between Messrs. F. Hussain & Bros. and their workmen represented by Iron and Steel Workmen's Union and Howrah District Engineering & Metal Workers' Union for adjudication regarding the issue contained in the order of reference for adjudication.

Issue

1. Whether the refusal of employment to Shri Mushardi Singh is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

This is a reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act. It raises the question of refusal of employment of Shri Mushardi Singh, a workman of this Company. The Union filed written statement wherein they alleged that the Company is an Engineering Concern employing 30 workmen. There was no system of granting leave on application by workmen. Mushardi Singh is a workman employed there for about 10 years. The workman applied for leave for one month on 9th June 1961. The prayer was neither confirmed nor rejected. The workman accordingly proceeded on leave and went to his native village. The workman came back after expiry of his leave during the period of strike which continued for about 3 months and he had no scope for resuming his duties. The strike was called off and normal work resumed but Mushardi Singh was not allowed to join. Originally the dispute was espoused by Iron & Steel Workmen's Union and subsequently the workman gave up that Union and joined the present Union, namely, Howrah District Engineering and Metal Workers' Union and that is how this Union took up the cause of Mushardi Singh. The remedies asked for are reinstatement of Mushardi Singh who was refused employment without any chargesheet or enquiry. Back wages are also claimed.

The order of reference shows that the workmen are represented by two Unions, namely, Iron & Steel Workmen's Union and Howrah District Engineering and Metal Workers' Union. Both the Unions are named in the order of reference.

The Company in their written statement alleged that F. Hussain is a partnership firm. Mushardi Singh was never refused employment but he voluntarily left the service. Shri Keshab Pal, General Secretary of Howrah District Engineering & Metal Workers' Union, has no locus standi to represent the workman who had been represented by H. L. Dutta, Secretary, Iron & Steel Workmen's Union. Shri Dutta agitated the matter before the Assistant Labour Commissioner, Howrah. The present reference accordingly does not lie. The workers of this Company are temporary and casual and they are employed on 'no work no pay' basis. The Company has no obligation to keep them in employment. Mushardi Singh was a casual and temporary workman. There is no system of application for leave and when one goes home on leave the appointment automatically terminates. In the case of Mushardi Singh in June 1961, he informed the management that he was going home. The management requested him not to go home as there was pressure of work. This request was ignored and the workman left. He never came back or offered himself for work. He is working in some other establishment. The Company admitted that the workmen called off an illegal strike on 10th March 1963, whereupon the Company closed his godown and after three months on the basis of a tripartite agreement executed on 11th June 1962, with Iron & Steel Workmen's Union, the strike was called off and normal work resumed. By this agreement all pending disputes were settled. Mushardi did not come back either before or after the strike. Mushardi has raised a false dispute. This is not a case of victimisation.

For the Company : Shri Sunil Kumar Kar, Advocate.
For the Union : Shri Saroj Ghosal.

Before I enter into the merits of the issue raised in this reference I will consider the question whether Howrah District Engineering & Metal Workers' Union has any locus standi to represent the case of the workmen of F. Hussain. The facts and the evidence in this respect should be considered. The Company admits that there had been a Union of workmen and it was Iron & Steel Workmen's Union. That Union took up the cause of Mushardi Singh. This will appear from Ext. 6, which is dated 14th of July 1961. Shri H. L. Dutta was the Secretary of that Union. The Company was intimated about the dispute by the Assistant Labour Commissioner and the Company replied to the dispute in their Memo Ext. C, dated 8th August 1961. It is therefore obvious that the dispute have been raised in 1961, by the then Union. The present Union, namely, Howrah District Engineering & Metal Workers' Union had no locus standi at that time because the workers of this Company were not members of that Union. Things changed however during the conciliation proceedings. Ext. 1 is a letter addressed to the Secretary, Iron & Steel Workmen's Union by a number of workmen of this Company. They renounced their membership of that Union and applied for becoming members of Howrah District Engineering & Metal Workers' Union. This will appear from Ext. 1(a). Assistant Labour Commissioner was also informed. The membership was withdrawn on 5th July 1963, and this application for withdrawal was received by the Labour Commissioner on that day. Membership of Howrah District Engineering & Metal Workers' Union was accepted thereafter on application submitted on 29th June 1963, which was received by the Assistant Labour Commissioner on 2nd July 1963. The list of workmen forms part of Ext. 1(a). Thus sometime in July 1963, the workers of F. Hussain became members of Howrah District Engineering & Metal Workers' Union. Immediately thereafter the new Union took up the cause of Mushardi Singh. It will appear from Ext. 2, dated 8th July 1963. It was received by the Labour Commissioner on 10th July 1963. Thereafter the Company was informed and conciliation having failed this reference had been made. On the side of the Company it is urged that the workers of F. Hussain are not members of Howrah District Engineering & Metal Workers' Union. Apart from documents I have placed membership register Ext. 8 shows that Mushardi is a member of this Union as well as his co-workers in the same unit of industry. The General Secretary of that Union Shri Keshab Pal gave evidence and he is P.W. 2. On the second day of his evidence he stated categorically that Mushardi Singh is a member of his Union as well as all other workers of F. Hussain & Bros. The subscription book Ext. 7 and the membership register Ext. 8 are among other documents relied upon by the Union in support of their claim of representation of the workmen of this Comapny. It is true that the order of reference names both the Unions but the reference cannot be characterised as defective on that score. Howrah District Engineering & Metal Workers' Union has a right to represent the workmen of F. Hussain as all the workers are members of that Union and those workmen are espousing the cause of Mushardi Singh. Though the dispute was at first raised by the then Union but it was subsequently carried over by the present Union having right of representation. In the aforesaid circumstances it cannot be said that the present Union has no right to represent the cause of the aggrieved workman. In this reference I decide this point against the Company.

I will turn to the merits of the case. Mushardi Singh was admittedly an employee of the Company. In the written statement the Company described him as a casual and temporary worker having no right to the continuity of employment or security of service. This was not pressed at the time of hearing. O.P.W.1 Shri F. Hussain gave evidence in support of the Company's case. He does not say that Mushardi Singh was either a temporary or casual worker. No record is produced to show that though he was serving for 10 years he was still temporary or casual. I will therefore accept the case of the Union that he was a permanent employee of the Company. The relevant facts are that on 9th July 1961, Mushardi Singh applied for leave. The Company admits in the written statement that there was no system of granting leave to the workmen. On that background the evidence is to be assessed. Mushardi Singh gave evidence that he applied for leave. F. Hussain further admitted the fact that Mushardi Singh approached him for leave but he denied that any application for leave was made. I take it that it was a verbal application for leave. According to Mushardi he was allowed leave on account of his marriage. F. Hussain stated that the leave was not granted and that the workman was asked not to avail of leave owing to pressure of work. F. Hussain further stated that Mushardi Singh abandoned his service. Written statement of the Union itself discloses the fact that leave was neither granted nor refused. That is the correct position inspite of the evidence of F. Hussain that leave was virtually refused. The Company in its own letter in reply to the dispute raised by Iron & Steel Workmen's Union Ext. C states that Mushardi asked for leave but without waiting for the consent of the management availed of leave but did not return to work on expiry of the leave. In that very letter it was mentioned that two other workmen Badri and Abad similarly availed of the leave but they reported for duty and they were allowed to join. From the tenor of ths letter it will be reasonable to conclude that leave had been granted to all the three workmen including Mushardi. The Company further contends that after expiry of the leave Mushardi never turned up for work. This is a question of fact which is to be decided on the materials on record. I will turn to Mushardi's own evidence. He is P.W.1. He wanted to say that after one month he came back and reported to the Company for work but the Company refused him employment. If that is so he should have reported for duty, in the second week of July 1961 after availing of one month's leave. F. Hossain in his evidence stated that he never turned up. The written statement of the Union may be looked into for a moment. Did the workmen really report for work on 12th of July 1961, as stated by him? In the written statement paragraphs 7, 8 and 9 it is alleged that the workman came to join during the period of strike upon a charter of demands and the strike continued for three months; so he had no opportunity of joining and after the strike was called off he wanted to join but he was not allowed to do so. Let us see what is the period of strike. It will appear from Exts. A and B. The period of strike is 10th March 1962 to 11th of June 1962. Ext. A is the letter written by F. Hossain to the Assistant Labour Commissioner, Howrah, in respect of the charter of demands raised by the workman. This is dated 12th of March 1962. The complaints about the illegal strike resorted to by the workmen. A list of workmen was enclosed therewith. It does not show the name of Mushardi Singh. The strike was over the charter of demands, dated 6th February 1961, and the workers resorted to strike on 10th of March 1962. The management as a counter measure declared a lockout. Obviously it was after 10th of March 1962 the dispute ended in a tripartite settlement. Ext. B is the settlement settling the disputes. This is dated 11th of June 1962. The list of workmen is enclosed therewith. It does not show the name of Mushardi Singh. On behalf of the Union Shri H. L. Dutta signed the settlement. It was Iron &

Steel Workmen's Union. According to the written statement of the Union the workman came to join after the strike was withdrawn, namely, in the month of July 1962. If he came to join during the period of strike it could not have been earlier than 10th of March 1962. Turning to the evidence of Mushardi Singh I find that he reported for duty on 12th of July after the strike was withdrawn. It must be 12th of July 1962. Now the workman went on leave for one month in the month of June 1961 and normally he would have to report for duty in July 1961, but he did not do so. According to the admitted case of the workman himself and the Union in their own written statement the workman came to join in July 1962. There is no earthly reason why the workman did not come to join in July 1961, and wanted for one year. It is not the case of the Union that in July 1961, there had been another strike. That is nobody's case. On the side of the Union reliance is sought to be placed on Ext. 6 wherein it will appear a dispute had been raised in the month of July 1961. Obviously if I accept the case of the Union and the testimony of Mushardi there could not have been a genuine case raised by the Union in respect of Mushardi Singh in 1961. It is significant to note that though the dispute was raised according to Ext. 6 in July 1961, there was no conciliation thereon and the matter was left there. It was not proceeded with I am therefore unable to place absolute reliance upon Ext. 6. Accepting the Union's own evidence that Mushardi reported for duty in July 1962, it appears about one year have past in the meantime. From his own conduct the only reasonable conclusion would be that he had abandoned the service of F Hosain & Bros. This is a circumstance which will support the case of the Company, that Mushardi Singh abandoned his service. I accept the story of abandonment raised on the side of the Company and hold that Mushardi Singh did not report for duty on expiry of his leave. The Company took the exact stand as far back as in 8th of August 1961 in their letter Ext. C. In reply to the Labour Commissioner's memo. the Company stated that Mushardi did not return from leave or turned up for duty as alleged by the Union in Ext. 6. There is no refusal of employment by the Company in the present case. The workman is not therefore entitled to any relief. This is my award.

This is a reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, made by the Government of West Bengal, in their Labour Department, for adjudication of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Balmer Lawrie & Co. Ltd., 21, Netaji Subhas Road, Calcutta-1 (hereinafter be referred to as the company) and their workmen represented by Balmer Lawrie & Co. Ltd. Employees' Union, 19, Strand Road, Calcutta-(hereinafter be referred to as the union).

Immediately after receipt of the reference notices were served upon both the parties who immediately thereafter entered their appearances and filed their written statements. They also complied with the intermediate steps. Then the case was taken up for hearing. Both parties adduced evidence and advanced arguments.

The union's case in short is that the company is a very old and well-established firm dealing in various kinds of business and also acting as Managing Agents. Its financial position is also very sound on account of regular profit earning from multiferious business activities.

That the transport section of the company which was originally located in the company's Head Office at 21, Netaji Subhas Road, Calcutta-1 was shifted from there to its Hastings Office at 12/13, Chapel Road, Calcutta on the 4th of November 1963, that since the transfer of the entire office all the workmen employed in the Transport Section have been involved in additional transport expenses and also additional loss of time to travel to and from the present place of work; that it has been the practice of the company that whenever a section or department of the said company was shifted from the Head Office to any other place in Calcutta, the workmen concerned were given one additional increment of pay in their respective grades in order to meet extra cost of travelling and that was done by the company in the year 1953 when this particular Transport Section was shifted from the Head Office to Hide Road Extension, Calcutta, but on this occasion the company refused to make any such concession or grant of financial benefit in order to defray extra cost of transport. Hence the present dispute.

The company's case in the written statement is that the Transport Section was shifted to the Company's Hastings Office at 12/13, Chapel Road, with effect from 4th November 1963 for better administration and accommodation and it was within the competence of the management to make such transfer of employees collectively or singly. The further contention of the company is that such transfer was made in accordance with the service rules of the company and as such the workmen's claim is unjustified. It is, however, admitted by the company that in the year 1953 when this Transport Section was transferred to Hide Road Extension, the workmen were granted an additional increment to defray additional cost of transport, but that was done by virtue of a special agreement and also in consideration of the circumstances then prevailing as a gesture of good-will. Therefore, the transfer in question being within the competence of the management and also in accordance with the Service Rules of the company the workmen are not entitled to claim any amount by way of compensation, so the claim should be rejected.

Decision

Both parties have examined witnesses one on each side. Some documents were also exhibited. It is the common case that the entire Transport Section of the company which was originally located in the company's Head Office at 21, Netaji Subhas Road, Calcutta-1 was shifted with effect from 4th November 1963 to Company's Hastings Office at 12/13, Chapel Road, Calcutta. The workmen concerned in the present dispute are all the employees working in that section. The company has, however, stated that one of the employees Shri R. K. Chatterji who is No. 1 in the list of workmen attached to the order of reference has since withdrawn his name from the joint petition of all the employees of the Transport Section addressed to the management demanding additional increment of pay to cover additional expenses of travelling to and from 12/13, Chapel Road. There is no denial to this fact by the union. Shri R. K. Chatterjee has not come to depose either for the union or for the company. Previously in the year 1953 the entire Transport Section was shifted from the Head Office to Company's Hide Road Office in Calcutta. On that occasion the company was pleased to give an additional increment in the grade pay to each of the employees in order to compensate the extra transport expenses. This fact is admitted by the company. Admittedly both the places—Hide Road and 12/13, Chapel Road are within the Municipal area of Calcutta. It has been the contention of Shri Ghosh, the learned Advocate appearing for the company that the Service Rules of the company provide for such transfer of an employee. Therefore, it was an authorised transfer permissible by the service rules of the company. Ext. A is the true copy of the service rules. Clause (5) of the Service Rules provides as follows :

TRANSFER "All employees are liable to transfer from one department or office of the company to another within the municipal limits of Calcutta, Howrah, Tallygunge and suburban areas." It further appears from the subsequent amendment that suburban areas are those areas which are contiguous to Calcutta, e.g., the South Suburban Municipality, Kidderpore or Metcabruz in the south or Cossipore or Chitpur areas on the north are clearly suburban. The union has not questioned the Company's right to transfer the workmen from one office to another within the municipal limits specified in the service rules. Admittedly the order of transfer was peacefully and promptly complied with by the employees, who immediately joined their new office and appealed to the management for consideration of the question of payment of additional travelling costs to which they have been involved by the transfer of the office, at a very hard and difficult time. The grievance of the workmen is that not only they suffer more loss of time than before for travelling to and from their new place of work but also they have got to spend more for transport charges. Therefore, they applied to the management for adequate compensation by granting an additional increment of grade pay as was previously done in the year 1953 when this Transport Section was transferred from the Head Office to Hide Road Office. But that prayer of the workmen was turned down by the management on the ground that the transfer was made in accordance with the provisions in the Service Rules. Annexure D to the union's written statement is copy of the company's letter, dated 9th February 1963. Annexure B and Annexure C are the two joint petitions of the employees to the company, in reply to which the workmen were informed by the Chief Personnel Officer by letter dated 9th November 1963 which is Annexure D to the union's written statement, of the company's unwillingness to pay any amount to cover the extra travelling expenses. The company has admitted in the written statement (para 7) the fact that in the year 1953 when this transport section was transferred to Hide Road, all the clerical staffs were given additional increment of grade pay and the subordinate staffs, a lump sum amount, to compensate the additional transport expenses to which the employees were involved as a result of the transfer. This fact is also abundantly clear from the company's letter, dated 20th August 1963, to the employees of the Transport Section by which the transfer took place. The transfer order was made by Mr. P. Nortonjones who was admittedly the then Chief Personnel Officer of the company. An additional increment of grade pay was given to the clerical staffs and the company's order of transfer clearly shows that it was given "to compensate for the extra transport expenses to which you may be involved as a result of the movement." The order of transfer further provided that "this increment is subject to the condition that your basic pay will be decreased by like amount if you are transferred back to the Head Office within 2 years." But although such condition was imposed in case of re-transfer within two years in fact that it was not given effect to and the company out of goodness allowed the employees to enjoy the additional increment of grade pay in spite of the fact that the Transport Section was transferred back to the Head Office within two years. The Company's only witness Shri Kamal Prosad Sarkar, who claims to be the Staff Officer tried to explain why the additional increment of pay was not withdrawn. According to him those workmen of the transport section had to work longer hours but he had to admit in the cross-examination that difference in the working hours did not last long and inspite of the same working hours for all, the Transport Section employees continued to enjoy the additional increment of pay, conceded to them on account of the transfer of the particular section to Hide Road in 1953. The company did not introduce the service rules recently but it appears to have been in existence from long before 1953. Some amendments appear to have been introduced as far back in 1951. Therefore, in spite of the provision for transfer in the service rules the company was quite generous and sympathetic towards its employees in granting additional amount by way of compensation to those employees who were involved in the transfer. The company has stated in para 7 of the written statement that the said increment was given to the workmen in consideration of the circumstances then prevailing as a gesture of good-will. The company knew the provisions for transfer from one office to another within the municipal area of Calcutta and suburbs and in spite of that knowledge found justification for granting financial help to the workmen involved in the transfer and were subjected to additional cost of transport. According to the written statement of the company it found justification in the prevailing circumstances. If that is true, the present circumstances are in no way better, rather worse than before. There is no mention of any special circumstances. It can hardly be denied that the economic condition has not apparently improved. People suffer greatly on account of high prices of essential commodities and increased transport charges. Not only one will have to pay more for essential things but also it is somewhat difficult to procure lem without unusual strain and effort. Therefor me is also an important factor in addition to one's rnings. Not only one will have to spend more money r absolutely necessary things but also it will require me time to procure them. Therefore, to a common an who is struggling for existence, time and money e, in present circumstances, of immense value. It common knowledge that middle-class people are ore economically hard hit than any other. The rkmen involved in the present dispute are 24. Out them 13 are clerks and the rest peons. One of them ri Prafulla Kumar Chatterji gave evidence before tribunal. He is a typist in the Transport Section. attends office from his residence in village Khardah the district of 24-Parganas. He has been in service the company for 18 years. He has narrated before s tribunal the difficulties experienced now-a-days travelling from his village Khardah. He travels train up to Sealdah and from there he takes a bus Dalhousie Square wherefrom he travels by tram attend to his office at 12/13 Chapel Road. The on has placed before the tribunal a chart (Ext. 1) wing the names of the employees involved in the sent dispute and also the residential addresses refrom they attend office. Extra time taken and extra amount of transport charges to be paid by workmen in order to attend their present office e also been mentioned in the chart. The company asked by the tribunal to furnish registered addresses he workmen involved in the present dispute from r service books but that was not complied with no explanation was offered for non-compliance. refore, in absence of any other piece of evidence, e no reason why this document will not be taken consideration for some limited purpose at least. company's witness has not denied or questioned correctness of the addresses of the workmen given his list. It will appear that most of them come distant places and by the transfer in question they been involved to cover longer distance than before. g distance means long time required to travel more amount to pay the travelling charges. So, employees' claim for reasonable monetary compensa- will be justified, specially when the company can d to pay and does not plead any financial stringency. company, as it appears, from the orders of transfer to the workmen of the Transport Section in the 1953, found justification for granting additional ment of grade pay to the clerical staff. There evidence to show that the circumstances have changed for the better. The company's witness not say that the circumstances have since improved he employees who mostly belong to the middle- group are now better off. One can hardly say so present circumstances when almost every common s to struggle hard for existence of self and family. fore, I find justification for workmen's claim for nsation. There is, however, no evidence before ibunal to show the grades and scales of pay of fferent employees involved in the present dispute. stead of granting an additional increment of grade s was given by the company previously in the 1953 when this Transport Section was transferred the Head Office to Hide Road, I direct that the ny should pay an additional amount of Rs. 8 per to each of the clerical staffs by way of compensa- r the additional transport costs and loss of time ed by the present transfer. The subordinate staffs will get at the rate of Rs. 5 per month as claimed. The company, as I believe, should not grudge this small payment which the management so generously offered to the employees of the Transport Section in the year 1953 when there was a general transfer of the section from the Head Office to Hide Road. This will take effect from the 25th of February 1964 when the reference was made by the Government of West Bengal.

This is my award.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act filed by Shri Samir Kumar Bardhan and three others, workmen of Messrs. Braithwaite & Co. (India) Limited, 5 Hide Road, Kidderpore, Calcutta-43, against the aforesaid Company. (Case No. 149 of 1964 under section 33A.)

BEFORE THE SECOND INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present :

Shri AMBICA PADA BHATTACHARYA,
Judge, Second Industrial Tribunal

The original reference out of which this present application under section 33A has arisen was made under Government Order No. 103-I.R./IR/10L-14(A)/63, dated 11th January 1964.

Four workmen Sarbasri Samir Kumar Bardhan, Sadhan Chandra Das, Hrishikesh Ghosh and Umapada Sarkar brought a joint complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act complaining that Messrs. Braithwaite and Co. (India) Ltd., dismissed them in contravention of the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act. A reference had been pending before this Tribunal being 103-I.R., dated 11th January 1964, regarding dismissal of a driver, Aditya Ghosal. During the pendency of that reference the employer dismissed all the petitioners by a letter, dated 22nd January 1964. It was obligatory upon the company to apply for approval under section 33(2) (b) but no such application was made nor approval granted by the Tribunal. It is also obligatory upon the company to pay one month's wages to each of the workmen before dismissal but this provision was not complied with. Accordingly the petitioners came with a complaint before the Tribunal under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act complaining of the alleged contravention and inviting the Tribunal to decide upon the merits of the dismissal. The workmen state that the dismissal was unjustified.

The company filed written statement in reply to that of the workmen. The main contention is that the applicants are welders, working in the welding department. The reference before the Tribunal was in respect of dismissal of an individual workman, namely, Shri Aditya Ghosal who was a monthly paid substaff (driver) in the employment of the company. The applicants who were welders are not concerned in the dispute of Shri Ghosal. The application under section 33A is misconceived inasmuch as the applicants are not concerned workmen and as such it is not obligatory upon the company to apply under section 33(2) (b) for approval of the Tribunal. The applicants were guilty of misconduct and they were charge-sheeted and subsequently dismissed after fair and proper departmental enquiry.

For the Company : Shri J. N. Chatterjee.

For the workmen . Shri Ram Sen.

Findings

The primary objection raised is to the maintainability of the application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act. The Company's stand is that the employer did not contravene the provisions of section 33 because no application under section 33 is necessa since the applicants are not concerned workmen with the meaning of the word "concerned" appearing section 33(2). The Tribunal need not therefore adju cate upon the complaint. I will consider this obj tion first. In my considered opinion the objection substantial and should prevail. The reference pendi before this Tribunal is admittedly the case of dismis of Shri Aditya Ghosal, a monthly paid sub-staff (driv in the employment of the company. The s question is whether the four applicants before who are workers of the welding departme are workmen concerned the dispute which pending in the reference within the meaning section 33(2) of the Industrial Disputes Act. T point is covered by several Supreme Court decisio Reliance is placed on behalf of the petitioners on t decision of the Supreme Court in the case of New Ind Motors Private Limited reported in 1960, I, L. L page 551. In that case the Hon'ble Supreme Cou held a view that the expression "concerned in suc dispute" should not be limited only to such of the wor men who are directly concerned with the dispute question and that the expression should include a workmen on whose behalf the dispute had been raise as well as those who would be bound by the awar which may be made in the said dispute. This was th view expressed by the Supreme Court in the reporte case. Subsequently however there are decisions of th Supreme Court which go to indicate that limitations ha been imposed on the word "concerned" to some extent In a case reported in F. L. R. 1962, Volume 5, page 377 (Upper Ganges Valley Electricity Supply Co., Ltd., Moradabad, versus Srivastava) it was held that the construction of section 23 of the Industria Dispute (Appellate Tribunal) Act is similarly worded as section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act and that the application was not maintainable as the applicant was not a workman concerned in the appeal which related to an individual dispute of one employee In a subsequent decision the Supreme Court held as follows: It was in the case of Digwadih Colliery and Ramji Singh, reported in 1964 2, L. L. J. page 143. At page 144 the relevant portion of the discussion appears.

> "Even if the broader construction of 33(2) is adopte it is necessary to enquire what was th subject matter of Reference No. 60 of 195 The respondent's case set out in this appl cation appears to be that, because ther was reference No. 60 of 1959 pending betwee the appellant and some of its employee section 33(2) applied, but, unless it is know as to what was the nature of the dispu pending in the said reference, it woul plainly be impossible to decide whethe the respondent is a workman concerne within the meaning of section 33 (2 In his application the respondent has mad no averment about the nature of the sai dispute ; and so the tribunal was clearly i error in holding that the broad constructio of section 33 (2) automatically led to th conclusion that the respondent was th workman concerned and could, therefor claim the protection of section 33(2).

On the other hand, the applicant denied before the tribunal that the respondent was concerned in the said dispute and in its statement of case the appellant has clarified the position by stating that the dispute in Reference No. 60 of 1959 was on behalf of the Chaprasis and Watchmen of Jamadoba and Digwadih Collieries for withdrawal of their overtime wages, and the respondent is a clerk, grade III, and it is urged he could not be said to be a workman concerned with this dispute. As we have just indicated, even without this clarification, it was necessary that the respondent should have satisfied the tribunal by proving the nature of the dispute ending in Reference No.60 of 1959, before asking the tribunal to make a finding in his favour under section 33 (2) and in the absence of any such evidence, the tribunal was not justified in holding that section 33 (2) applied and had been contravened. That being our view, we do not think it necessary to consider whether the alleged contravention is proved."

Thus the respondent is a clerk of Grade III and is not a concerned workman in a dispute of Chaprasis and and Watchmen complaining of withdrawal of overtime wages.

In the instant case the workmen were welders working in the welding department cannot similarly be said to be workmen concerned in the dispute of a dismissal of a monthly-rated driver of the company. It is significant to note that the Supreme Court went into the question as to who are concerned workman in Digwadih Colliery case and if the contention of the applicants that all the workmen must be deemed to be workmen concerned in the pending reference was accepted it would not have been necessary for the Supreme Court to go into the nature of the dispute pending in the reference in question. On the authority of the above decision I hold that the applicants are not concerned in the dispute of Aditya Ghosal, a driver, which was pending before the Tribunal.

That being my finding, it would be needless to enter into the merits of the case. The only way left to the applicants is to approach the Labour Department, Government of West Bengal, for a reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act.

This is my finding and award.

By Order No. 4694-I.R./IR/13L-15/64, dated Calcutta, the 7th October 1964, Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, referred an industrial dispute between Messrs. The Statesman Ltd., and their workmen represented by the Statesman Staff Association for adjudication regarding the issue contained in the order of reference.

Issue

1. Whether the termination of service of Shri N. F. Manuel is justified ? What relief, if any, is he entitled to ?

This is a reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act in which the issue involved is the termination of service of Shri N. F. Manuel, a clerk working in the establishment of Messrs. Statesman Ltd. His service was terminated on 4th February 1963. He preferred an appeal on 8th February 1963 to Mr. Harris, the Chief Administrative Officer of the establishment. The appeal failed and the decision was communicated to Mr. Manuel on 13th February 1963. On 2nd April 1963, one Union named Federation of Printing Press Union took up the cause of Manuel. Locus standi of that Union was challenged at the conciliation proceedings. The Federation took up the cause of Manuel on the basis of an authority executed by seven workmen of the company on 23rd March 1963. Subsequently on 1st October 1963, a Union was formed and registered by some workmen of this establishment known as Statesmen Staff Association. The Staff Association took up the cause of the dismissed workman on 7th October 1963. After conciliation Government made the reference on 7th of October 1964 and the workmen are represented by the Statesman Staff Association in this reference. These are the relevant facts which will be necessary for our present purpose.

The company filed written statement in which the impugned reference is challenged as invalid on the ground that the dispute referred is not an industrial dispute within the meaning of section 2(k) of the Industrial Disputes Act. Paragraph 3 of the written statement of the company is relevant for that purpose. It is contended that the Statesman Staff Association was not in existence when the service of Manuel was terminated. Manuel is not a member of the Statesman Staff Association. The Staff Association is therefore a Union which is not competent to represent the workmen of this establishment. Moreover the Association has no representative capacity from the employees of this company. Substantial number of such employees do not subscribe to the membership of this Union. At the relevant time when the employee was dismissed, i.e., on 4th February 1963, there had been in existence one Union for clerks, namely, Statesman Clerical Staff Union which represented the clerical staff. There was another Union known as Statesman Employees Union which represented other categories of workmen. None of these Unions espoused the cause of Shri Manuel. A preliminary objection is accordingly raised by which the reference is impugned as invalid.

There is a second preliminary objection that Manuel called at the office on 28th February 1963 and collected all his dues including one month's salary in lieu of notice and executed an appropriate receipt in full and final settlement of all his claims upon the company. In view of that the present reference is invalid as there is no dispute pending in respect of the termination of service of Manuel.

These are the two preliminary issues pressed and preliminary hearing was given in respect of the same. I will take up the first point, namely, the question of industrial dispute first.

The onus of proof is upon the Union. The Union claimed that it is an industrial dispute and the onus of proving the same lies upon it. I may refer to one case in this respect reported in 1965, 1, L. L. J. page 489. At page 496 this point has been discussed. It is for the workman to show that his cause has been sponsored by his Union or by a number of workmen of his class. Let us see whether the onus in this respect has been discharged. I have already set-forth the relevant facts. Shri Manuel was a clerk in the Statesman Limited. He was discharged on 4th February 1963. On that day Statesman Staff Association had no existence. Manuel could not have been a member of that Union at that time. He is not now even a member of that Union. This fact is admitted by the Union Vice-President Shri Tinkari Nath who admitted that Manuel is not a member of Statesmen Staff Association. He further admitted that it might be that none of the workmen listed in the membership register of the Union is a clerk in the establishment of Statesman Limited. The clerical staff of the establishment admittedly has a Union all along. It is known as Statesman Clerical Staff Union. This is the evidence of Sunil Kanti Guha Thakurta. That Union which is a Union of clerks did not sponsor the case of Manuel. Now the question is whether the Statesman Staff Association is a Union to which Manuel belongs or this Union has a representative capacity from workmen of this establishment. The law in this point had been elaborately discussed in the judgement reported in 1965, 1, L.L.J. 668. The Hon'ble Chief Justice Shri P. B. Gajendragadkar and his companion Justices of Supreme Court analysed section 2 (k) of the Industrial Disputes Act and the limitations introduced by the decisions of the Supreme Court in interpreting the effect of that section. At page 671 it has been observed as follows :

> "A complaint against wrongful dismissal should therefore be the subject-matter of reference, provided the workmen acting collectively take up the case of the dismissed employee and contend that the dismissal is unjustified or wrongful. It is on those grounds that this Court has held that an individual dispute arising from an alleged wrongful dismissal of an employee can be validly referred under section 10 only if it is supported by the Union of the workmen to which the dismissed employee belongs or by a group of his co-employees."

The Union can espouse the cause of dismissed Manuel provided Manuel is a member of that Union. In the instant case Manuel is not a member of that Union and when Manuel was dismissed this Staff Association had no existence whatsoever. A proposition is canvassed by Shri Nikhil Ranjan Roy, Advocate on behalf of the Staff Association, that when the Union takes up the case, it is not incumbent upon the Union to show its representative capacity and it would be enough to convert an individual dispute into an industrial dispute. Since Manuel was never a member of that Union, there is no force in that argument. It is not a Union to which Manuel belongs. It is still incumbent upon the Union to prove its representative character. None of the workmen of Statesman Limited was examined before me. There is not a single workman who comes to the box and says that he is a member of Statesman Staff Association or that the fellow workers of Manuel are espousing the cause of Manuel. The membership register Ext. 4 has been filed which shows a list of 62 workmen but the Vice-President of the Union Shri Tinkori Nath who is the only witness of the Union does not know any one of the list and he cannot say if the listed persons are workers of the Statesman Limited. He admits in evidence that he did not know anyone person of the membership register of the Staff Association personally. The list was handed over to him by the Secretary Shri Choudhury. It is only to be expected that Shri Choudhury would have knowledge about the actual membership. Shri Choudhury did not come to the box to depose in this case. It will appear from the evidence of Shri Sunil Kanti Guha Thakurta, Assistant in the Personnel Department of Statesman Limited, that there are 251 clerks and 900 other workmen in the establishment. There are two Unions, one for the clerks and another for the other categories of workers. The Staff Association according to Shri Guha Thakurta commands only 5 or 6 members but none from the clerical staff. The Vice-President of the Union cannot say that any clerk of this establishment is a member of this Union. In view of the fact that there are two other Unions, one for the clerical staff and another for the other categories and in view of the fact that actual membership of Statesman Staff Association could not be proved before the Tribunal, I am compelled to hold that this Union has no representative capacity. As has been observed in the judgment of Supreme Court referred to above (1965 I. L.L.J. 668) that in order that a dispute between a single employee and his employer should be validly referred under section 10 of the Act, it is necessary that it should have been taken up by the Union to which the employee belongs or by a number of his fellow workmen. In the instant case I have already held that the Union is not competent to take up the case of dismissed Manuel for the reasons given. It is still however open for the workmen to prove that a group of his fellow workmen had taken up his cause. Manuel did not give evidence himself. None of his fellow workmen was examined to prove that his cause have been taken up by a number of fellow workmen. There is no document either to prove that his case have been sponsored by a group of his fellow workmen.

The instant case is not one in which the individual dispute is sponsored by a trade union of which Manuel is a member. Had it been sponsored by such a union of which he is a member, that membership in the trade union must have been anterior to the date of the dispute and not subsequent to it, i.e. if the workman had been dismissed on a particular date and he became a member on a subsequent date that trade union could not have converted his dispute in respect of the dismissal into an industrial dispute. On this point a case reported in F. J. R., volume XXIII, page 209 has been cited. Since in the present case the cause is not sponsored by a trade union of which Manuel is a member that case law loses its importance. In the instant case the workman has failed to prove that the cause of his dismissal had been supported by a union to which he belongs or by a group of his co-employees, either of them being the pre-conditions for converting an individual dispute into an industrial dispute. The Statesman Staff Association has no representative character to represent the workmen of the Statesman Limited. The reference is accordingly invalid on that ground alone.

I will now turn to the second preliminary objection. Manuel's service was terminated on 4th February 1963. His appeal failed on 13th February 1963. Thereafter he collected his dues from the Company. He not only collected the arrears of pay but also his salary for the notice period. It will appear from Ext. D that he accepted one month's salary in lieu of notice, his arrear pay, some special payments, etc. Now the question is whether by this acceptance he is debarred from claiming any relief under this reference. On this point the law is laid down in a case reported in 1956, I, L.L.J. page 49. It is a decision of the Labour Appellate Tribunal. I may quote the following paragraphs of the judgement: It has been repeatedly held by our Tribunal that:

> "Considering the unequal position between an employer and a needy employee, acceptance by a workman of notice wages and wages due to the date of termination of service could not be a bar to get any relief by way of reinstatement, unless it is proved that the acceptance was voluntary and made with full knowledge of its consequence upon the dispute. In this case, there is nothing to show that they have accepted payment voluntarily with such knowledge as to present or estop them from disputing the propriety of the discharge.

In the instant case the acceptance may be voluntary as will appear from the letters written by Manuel to the Company Exts. E and E(1). In those two letters Manuel demanded payment of his dues as he was no longer in service and he had intention of leaving the the country. From those two letters I may conclude that the acceptance was voluntary but there is no evidence that he accepted the payment with full knowledge that by such acceptance he would be prevented from disputing the propriety of his discharge. There is no such evidence to impute such knowledge as to the consequences of the acceptance on the part of Manuel. He never expressed any where that he was giving up his right of challenging his discharge or that he accepted the payment in settlement of the discharge. From the acceptance itself I cannot therefore conclude that Manuel is debarred from claiming reinstatement or he is estopped from claiming reinstatement in view of his acceptance of all payments up-to-date. The objection on the ground will fail.

In view of the finding I have recorded with due regard to the first preliminary objection that Statesman Staff Association has no representative character and it is not competent to take up the cause of the workman, the reference must be held to be invalid. On this preliminary point the reference fails and this is my award.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Agnihotra Oil Mill (P) Ltd., 37/1 Canal West Road, Calcutta-4, and their workmen represented by Employees' Association, 1 Joy Bhattacharyya Lane, Calcutta-3 (Case No. 187/64).

BEFORE THE FIFTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL.

Present:

Shri K. P. MUKHERJI, Judge,
Fifth Industrial Tribunal.

Present for the Company: Shri A. Sarkar, an officer of the Association of Manufacturers and Traders.

Present for the Association: Shri Panchanan Bhattacharya, President of the Association.

The above industrial dispute was referred to this Tribunal under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 2593-I.R./IR-15L-10/64, dated the 3rd July 1964 for adjudication upon the following issue:

1. Whether the termination of employment of Shri Ramdhan, Shri Sasadhar Das and Shri Gazi Koiri is justified? To what relief, if any, are they entitled?

After receipt of the reference from the Government on 6th July 1964, usual notices were isued to the parties concerned fixing 25th July 1964 for their appearance and for filing of the written statement by the Union. The Union appeared and filed its written statement on 23rd July 1964. The Company entered appearance on 25th July 1964 and time was allowed till 13th August 1964 for filing written statement by it. The Company again took time for filing written statement and ultimately filed its written statement on 29th August 1964. After several adjournments on the prayer of the parties, the case was fixed for hearing on 15th July 1965. On that date the parties put in a joint petition of compromise stating therein that the dispute between them had been amicably settled out of Court and prayed for making an award in terms of the petition of compromise. The Company has agreed to give employment to the workmen concerned within a month from the date of publication of the award in the "Calcutta Gazette" and also to make an ex-gratia payment of one month's wages to them. The terms of compromise appear to be fair and reasonable, and I am satisfied that there has been a bona fide settlement of the dispute between them. In the result, I pass a 'no dispute' award in terms of the petition of compromise which do form part of the award as Annexure A.

This is my award.

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs The Indian Press Private Ltd., 93/A Dharamtalla Street, Calcutta-13 and their workmen represented by the West Bengal Press Workers' and Employees' Union, 84/1A Bepin Behari Ganguly Street, Calcutta -12, (G.O. No. 6806-I. R., dated the 29th December 1964). (V III 2/65)

BEFORE THE FOURTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL, CALCUTTA

Present :

Shri R. BHATTACHARYA, M. A., LL. B., Judge, Fourth Industrial Tribunal.

For the Union : Shri Biswanath Ash, Advocate.

For the Company : Shri B. K. Mukherjee, Advocate.

This is a reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act over disputes between Messrs The Indian Press (Private) Ltd. (hereinafter referred to as the Company), 93/A Dharamtalla Street, Calcutta-13, and their workmen represented by the West Bengal Press Workers' and Employees' Union (hereinafter described as the Union), 84/1A Bepin Behari Ganguly Street, Calcutta-12, arising out of the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 6806-I.R./I.R.-13L-35(A)/64, dated the 29th December 1964. The issues in the order of reference are as follows :

1. Whether Shri Subodh Chandra Das Gupta is a senior clerk ? To what scale of pay is he entitled since his appointment ?

2. Whether Shri Suresh Chandra Sircar is a Lino-in-charge ? To what pecuniary benefits, if any, is he entitled since his appointment?

In short, the case of the union mentioned in its written statement is that Shri Subodh Chandra Das Gupta having retired since after the reference and collected from the company all his dues, the Union is not interested in the Issue No. 1 and that the union does not press the said issue. It has been prayed that a no dispute award may be passed in respect of this issue. With regard to Issue No. 2 it has been stated that in 1935 Shri Suresh Chandra Sarkar entered into the service of the company, that he was promoted to the post of Lino Operator in 1936, that in 1944 he was promoted to the post of Lino-in-charge being put in charge of the Lino and the Composing Departments of the company, that in 1946 the company promoted Shri Sarkar to the post of Section Holder, Composing and Lino Departments and that since he has been continuing in that post. The union says that according to the Omnibus Press Award of 1948 Shri Sarkar is entitled to be placed in the incremental scale of Rs. 200—5/2 —225. It has been alleged that in spite of representation the company has refused to put him in that scale. It has been prayed from the side of the union that Shri Sarkar may be designated as Section Holder of Lino and Composing Departments and that he may be fitted in a suitable stage of the scale of Rs. 200—225.

The Company has filed a written statement denying the allegations made by the union. It has been stated that the reference is not maintainable and that tee matter in any case might have been referred to the Labour Court under section 33C (2) of the Industrial Disputes Act. The case of the company is that Shri Sarkar was taken in as an Apprentice in 1935 and ultimately he was appointed an Operator in 1947. He was not promoted to the post of Lino-in-charge and he was never put in-charge of Lino and Composing Departments of the company. He continued in the post of Lino Operator till May 1948 and then he worked as senior Lino-Operator up to November 1950. On account of failing health of Shri Sarkar and at his representations the management gave him the post of an office assistant in December 1950. In April 1951, Shri Sarakar was given the post of Section Holder Composing Department. The company has denied that Shri Sarkar was promoted to the post of Section Hol ler, Composing and Lino Departmens. It has been further stated that the Omnibus Press Award of 1948 has ceased to have any force after one year from the date of the award. The union, according to the company terminated the said award by notice. The Company has stated that Shri Sarkar was given the Service Card and he accepted his position as Section Holder, Composing and raised no objection to his designation or appointment. The company has fuather submitted that this Tribunal has got no jurisdiction to consider the claim of the scale of Rs. 200—225 for the post of section holder as the order of reference does not mention it in the issue.

The union has examined three witnesses on its side and got some documents exhibited in this case. The company has examined two witnesses and several documents have been exhibited on its side.

With regard to Issue No. 1 the Union has unequivocally and clearly stated in its written statem nt that Shri Subodh Chandra Das Gupta having retired in the meantime and collected all his dues from the company, neither the Union nor Shri Das Gupta is interested in the issue. The Union has stated that it does not press the issue No. 1 and prayed for a no dispute award. At the subsequent stage, however, a petition was filed by the Union for submission of an additional written statement in respect of issue No. 1. I heard the learned lawyer who moved the application and the Company. On the date of hearing nobody was present on the side of the Union and Shri Ash had no authority from the Union to move that application. Shri Ash was being instructed by Shri Das Gupta himself. I am satisfied that the prayer for additional written statement in order to support the case of Shri Das Gupta was not genuine and that the Union was not interested in it. I am not satisfied that there is any reasonable ground for submitting additional written statement. It appears that Shri Das Gupta was personally interested and that the Union was not interested in the Issue No. 1. Moreover, admittedly Shri Das Gupta at the time of retirement received all his dues from the Company including his retiral benefit of Provident Fund without any objection. In these circumstances, I find that there is no dispute with regard to this issue at present.

The issue No 2. is as follows :

> Whether Shri Suresh Chandra Sircar is a Lino-in charge ? To what pecuniary benefits, if any, is he entitled since his appointment?

First of all, I shall deal with the law point raised from the side of the Company. It has been first submitted by the Company that the present reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act should not have been sent to this Tribunal. The reason, according to the Company, is that the Union should have rsised a dispute for computation under section 33C (2) of the Industrial Disputes Act. I cannot accept this contention. First of all, there is no award or order in favour of Shri Sarkar giving any benefit to him so that there might be any opportunity for computation of such benefit accrued to him under the award in terms of money The Omnibus Press Award fixed some grades for some categories of workmen. In the present case the Union wants to say that Shri Sarkar belongs to a particular category of workmen and that he should accordingly get his wages according to the grades and scales of pay fixed by the Omnibus Press Award. The Company denies that Shri Sarkar belongs to such category as claimed by him. Therefore, it has got to be decided as to whether Shri Sarkar belongs to a particular category of workmen as claimed by the Union. Unless an award is passed deciding the status of Shri Sarkar no question of any benefit being computed in terms of money can arise. In the present reference the issue is whether Shri Sarkar belongs to a particular category of workmen and whether as such, he is entitled to any benefit. In these circumstances I hold that the contention raised from the side of the Company is unacceptable. The reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, is, therefore, maintainable.

The next point canvassed from the side of the Company is that the Omnibus Press Award of 1948 has ceased to have any effect after one year from the date of the said award, and consequently the claim of the Union is not maintainable because the claim of benefits is based upon the said award of 1948. The Omnibus Press Award has been marked Ext. 4. It is dated 28th April 1948. In the order of the Government itself it was clearly stated in Ext. 4 that the award would remain in force for a period of one year with effect from the date of the order. Admittedly, before the present amendment the award was to remain in force for a year according to the provision of the Industrial Disputes Act at the time when the award was passed. Another award was passed by the Industrial Tribunal on 1st February 1951. That has been marked Ext. 4(a). At the time of hearing, however, the Union wanted relief under this award. At page 489 in Ext. 4(a) it is clearly stated that the award of 1948 had ceased to have any force after a year. Admittedly as the award of 1948 became dead after a year, there was necessity of another award and consequently Ext. 4(a) was passed. However there is no manner of doubt that the Union can not get any benefit on the basis of the award of 1948 as it has no force now. For this reason, however, it cannot be contended from the side of the Company that no benefit can be given to Shri Sarkar if he is entitled to the same on the basis of the claims made in the issue No. 2. The parties may make different claims but the Tribunal will decide what benefit can be awarded, if at all, according to the circumstances and the present law irrespective of the demands made by the parties. This is not an instance of any third party's case. The case of a party includes the collection of facts on the basis of which any relief is claimed. In the present reference the story of the Union is that Shri Sarkar is a Lino-in-charge and the order of reference empowers the Tribunal to see if Shri Sarkar is entitled to any pecuniary benefit on the basis of the story that he is a Lino-in-charge. I am, therefore, to see in the present reference whether the status of Shri Sarkar as claimed by the Union is proved and in case the status is proved, whether Shri Sarkar is entitled to any pecuniary benefit. In this view of the matter, I hold, that it cannot be stated that the Tribunal will refuse to decide the first part of Issue No. 2 although the Omnibus Press Award of 1948 is not in force.

The next question that arises for consideration is whether Shri Sarkar is a Lino-in-charge. The first part of Issue No. 2 is "Whether Shri Suresh Chandra Sarkar is a Lino-in-charge ?" In paragraph 7(b) of the written statement it has been stated by the Union that Shri Sarkar was promoted to the post of Lino-in-charge in 1944 and that he was put in charge of the Lino and Composing Departments of the Company. Duties of Shri Sarkar have been mentioned in paragraph 7(c). According to the Union Shri Sarkar's dues were (i) over-all supervision of the work in the Lino and Composing Departments, (ii) distribution of work to the Lino Operators and to the Compositors, (iii) writing in the book kept for the purpose a daily report of the work done by the respective Lino Operators and the Compositors, and (iv) handling outside customers, discussing with them about their printing jobs, fixing the dates of delivery of 'proof', Lino or hand-composed and all works incidental thereto. P.W. 1 has stated that in 1944 he was appointed Lino Section Holder, that he was to distribute the works of Lino Department and that he was to get those works executed. He has further added that after some months he was also to look after the Composing Department. He wants to say that Lino Department and Composing Department are separate. In his evidence he continued to say that in 1946 he was designated as Section Holder, Lino and Composing Departments. He has denied the suggestion that he wasappointed Section holder, Composing, in 1951. From the reading of paragraph 7 of the written statement of the Union, it is clear that this office of Section Holder is superior to the post of Lino-in-charge. The Union wants to say in the written statement that in 1946 Shri Sarkar was promoted to the post of Section Holder from the post of Lino-in-charge. Ext. B is the copy of the letter, dated 14th March 1953, written to Shri Sarkar by the Company. It is clear from the reading of this letter that in a letter, dated 9th March 1953, Shri Sarkar wanted to describe himself as Section Holder of both Composing and Lino. The Company took serious objection in Ext. B and denied that Shri Sarkar was ever Section Holder, Lino. P. W. 1 has stated that he replied to Ext. B and that he did not keep any copy of that letter. I cannot believe him when he says that he replied to the letter, Ext. B. He has produced a copy of the letter written to the Company, dated 28th April 1953. Naturally Shri Sarkar was very keen to keep copies of his letters. No copy to the letter of Ext. B has been filed and I hold that no such reply was given. Ext. D shows that the Company on the application of Shri Sarkar for increment of his pay replied that Shri Sarkar was getting the maximum salary in the post of Section Holder, Composing, but still without prejudice allowed an increment of Rs. 5. P. W. 1 has stated that he gave a reply to the letter, Ext. D, and that the copy of the reply is with the Union. The copy has not been filed before this Tribunal and I cannot accept that Shri Sarkar gave any reply to this letter, Ext. D. Ext. H is the Service Card of Shri Sarkar who received a duplicate Service Card giving his signature on Ext. H. In this Service Card the designation of Shri Sarkar has been described as Section Holder, Composing, in the Department "Lino and Composing". Shri Sarkar in his evidence has stated that he objected to the Service Card with regard to the date of his joining the service but not in respect of his designation. The date of the Service Card is 1st January 1962. P. W. 1 has stated that he lodged a complaint in writing regarding his designation during the period from 1953 to the 1st of January 1962. The copies of the alleged written complaints have not been filed before this Tribunal and I hold that Shri Sarkar did not raise any objection regarding his designation mentioned in the Service Card simply because he knew that he had been properly designated in the Service Card. Shri Sarkar wants to say that there are two departments, namely, Lino and Composing, and that he was the Section Holder of both the departments. The Service Card shows that there is only one department--Lino and Composing, and it is clear that a section is a part of the department. If really there were two departments, there would have been no occasion for Shri Sarkar to be Section Holder of Composing Section alone. It is significant to note that in Ext. 1 Shri Sarkar did not raise any objection regarding his designation. The Company has filed Factory Attendance and Pay Registers for several years. They are marked Ext. L series. Ext. L(1) shows that Shri Sarkar was an office assistant till March 1951. His name has been entered under the heading 'office assistant'. Shri Sarkar received his salaries against his name every month. Ext. L(2), another Register, shows that in April 1951 his name was placed under the designation In-charge Operators and Section Holder, Composing Department. He received payment of his salary against his name. Ext. L(6), the Payment Register, also shows that even in 1955 and 1956 Shri Sarkar received his wages against his name described as Section Holder, Composing and Lino Departments, Ext. L(8), the Payment Register, also shows that even in 1958 Shri Sarkar received his salary giving his signature against his name described as Section Holder of Composing and Lino Department. As I have already stated, even in January 1962, he did not raise any objection regarding his designation when he got the Service Card although he raised specific objection regarding the entry relating to the date of his joining the service of the Company. Shri Sarkar in his evidence has stated that the Attendance and Pay Register produced before this Tribunal bear his signatures knowing the contents of the Registers, marked Exts. L to L(8). He has, however, added that he does not admit the particulars written in the Registers. At the same time he has stated that he lodged written protest to the Company against the entries of the Registers and that he has copies of the written protest with him. Curious to note that no such copy has been filed before this Tribunal showing that he ever protested regarding the wrong entries or particulars appearing in the Registers, Exts L to L(8).

The Union relies upon Ext. 3, the Statement of Account regarding Provident Fund of Shri Sarkar. The first page of this Exhibit relates to the accounts at 31st March 1952. Under name of Shri Sarkar he was described originally as Lino-in-charge. Of course, from the next page onwards for subsequent years he has been described as Section Holder, Composing. It has been admitted from the side of the Union by Shri Ash, the Learned Advocate, that there is nothing in writing to show that Shri Sarkar was ever Lino-in-charge except the designation given on the first page of Ext. 3 which, of course, was struck out in 1963. How the mistake in Ext. 3, kept in has been explained by O.P.W. 1, Shri Jitendra Bose, who was the Assistant Manager of the Press at the relevant time. He has, of course, retired in the meantime. Ext. J in the letter written by O.P.W.1 to the Accountant of the Press. This is dated 11th March 1953. O.P.W.1, it is clear from Ext. J, got a report from Shri Sarkar regarding the entry Lino-in-charge and as it was a mistake, he asked the Accountant to explain. The Accountant, it is admitted, is now dead. The Accountant gave a reply to the letter and that reply has been marked Ext. K, written on the same day. In this letter the Accountant expressed regret and stated that the mistake was due to oversight and that the correct designation ought to have been "Section Holder of Composing Department". The Accountant asked Shri Sarkar to return the Provident Fund Book for necessary correction. I hold that Exts. J & K are contemporaneous documents and they are genuine and not manufactured. In no Book of Accounts of the Company Shri Sarkar has been described as Lino-in-charge. O.P.W.1 gave his initial after correcting the designation of Shri Sarkar and there was a date. That date has been tampered with by Shri Sarkar with a different ink. However, it appears from the documentary evidence as supported by the evidence of O.P.W.1 and O.P.W.2 who are necessary important and reliable witnesses to hold that Shri Sarkar was never a Lino-in-charge and that he was Section Holder, Composing of the Lino and Composing Departments, which has two sections, namely, Lino and Composing. According to the story of the Union Shri Sarkar was Lino-in-charge in 1944 and thereafter he was promoted to the higher post of Section Holder, Composing and Lino Departments in 1946. Naturally Ext 3, when Shri Sarkar was designated, though wrongly as Lino-in-charge, he reported the matter to O.P.W.1 and it was rectified to describe Shri Sarkar as Section Holder, Composing, and subsequently Shri Sarkar himself accepted the position because he never raised any objection when he was described Section Holder, Composing, in the Provident Fund Book for subsequent years. According to the Union also Shri Sarkar could not have been Lino-in-charge in 1952 as mentioned in the 1st page of Ext. 3. It was clearly a mistake due to over-sight. The Registers of Wages and Attendance also described Shri Sarkar as Section Holder, Composings throughout. He was never described as Section Holder, Lino or Section Holder, Lino-Mono. I have given my best consideration to the facts and circumstances of this case and also the evidence and I am satisfied that Shri Sarkar was never Lino-in-charge at any point of time and that he was appointed Section Holder, Composing, in April 1953. Since then Shri Sarkar has been working as such. I am also satisfied that before his appointment as Section Holder, Composing, he was an office assistant and before he was appointed an office assistant, he had been working as senior Lino Operator.

The next question is whether Shri Sarkar will get any benefit in the present reference. According to my findings Shri Sarkar was never a Lino-in-charge and consequently Shri Sarkar is not entitled to any relief. Shri Ash on behalf of the union has submitted that the Issue No. 2 as framed by the government is not happy because the Union has claimed the grades of Rs. 200-225 on the ground that he was the Section Holder, Lino-Mono Department, because special grade has been fixed for such Section Holder. This reference has not authorised me to enquire whether Shri Sarkar was the Section Holder, Lino-Mono Department. The evidence shows that Shri Sarkar was Section Holder, Composing Department and it is clear that he is getting the maximum pay in the scale of pay fixed for Section Holder, Composing Department. Admittedly, the company has no Lino-Mono Department. O.P.W.1 has stated that Lino Department is quite distinct from Lino-Mono Department and that the company has no Lino-Mono machine. This point has not been challenged by the union. It is clear, therefore, that Shri Sarkar was never a Section Holder, Lino-Mono department, and therefore, he cannot claim the grades and scales of Rs. 200-225 as mentioned in the awards of 1948 and 1951. I have considered the evidence of P.W.1, P.W.2 and P.W.3 and I do not rely upon them for want of reliable and acceptable corroboration.

Lastly, Shri Mukherjee for the company has submitted that this Tribunal has no jurisdiction to decide if Shri Sarkar is Section-in-charge because in the order of reference the point for decision is whether Shri Sarkar is Lino-in-charge. I cannot accept the contention of Shri Mukherjee. Of course, according to the order of reference I am to decide whether Shri Sarkar was or is Lino in-charge but in this connection I am to see what the actual designation or position of Shri Sarkar is in the company. The company admits or, rather, the company's case is that Shri Sarkar is Section-in-charge, Composing and the company challenges the suggestion of the union that Shri Sarkar was ever a Lino-in-charge. I am, therefore, to see what the real fact is. I am to decide whether Shri Sarkar is Section-in-charge as alleged by the Company or whether he is Lino-in-charge as alleged by the Union. In this case, therefore, I have considered the evidence and the circumstances of this case and I find that Shri Sarkar was never a Lino-in-charge and that he is Section Holder, Composing. As Section Holder, Composing, Shri Sarkar cannot claim the scale of Rs. 200—225 and he cannot get any pecuniary benefit.

In the result, the claim of the union fails and the reference is decided against the workmen and in favour of the company. No relief can be given to the workmen.

Sixth Industrial Tribunal.

Appearances :

Present for the Narkeldanga Roller Flour Mills Workers' Union	Shri Madan Saha, Advocate.
Present for the West Bengal Flour Mills Mazdoor Congress	Shri N. J. Burman, General Secretary of the Union.
Present for the Company	Shri Mahadev Ghosh, Advocate with Shri S. K. Biswas, Manager.

The Government of West Bengal, by Order No. 1792-I.R./IR/11L-134/64, dated 11th May 1964, had referred to this Tribunal for adjudication the following industrial dispute between Messrs. Narkeldanga Roller Flour Mills, 17-4 Canal West Road, Calcutta-9, and their workmen represented by the Narkeldanga Roller Flour Mills Workers' Union, 1/1 Bipradas Street, Calcutta-9 and the West Bengal Flour Mills Mazdoor Congress, 109/Z Ultadanga Main Road, Calcutta-4.

Issue

1. Whether the termination of services of the five workmen named below is justified?

(1) Shri Sonakar Das,
(2) Shri Kedar Goala,
(3) Shri Rambhuj Mali,
(4) Shri Bhirgu Goala,
(5) Shri Vikari Routh.

What relief, if any, are they entitled to?

After the service of the usual notice, the Narkeldanga Roller Flour Mills Workers' Union, which represents the workmen Sonakar Das, Kedar Goala, Bhirgu Goala and Vikari Routh, had filed written statement and the West Bengal Flour Mills Mazdoor Congress which represents the workman Rambhuj Mali, had also filed a separate written statement. The employer had also filed written statement. In the written statement filed by the Narkeldanga Roller Flour Mills Workers' Union, it has been stated that the Union had been registered on 22nd March 1960 under the Indian Trade Union Act, that the Company employs about 110 workman including 80 operators, that there are certain written conditions of service and there are also some unwritten rules like giving employment to son or other relative on the retirement of a person. It is further stated that Shri Sonakar Das was appointed as a cleaner of the Company on or about 1st September 1962 on the retirement of his father Shri Biru Das, a cleaner, on 31st August 1962, that Shri Rambhuj Mali was appointed as a packer of the Wheat Products of the Company on or about 1st February 1963 on the retirement of his father Shri Muneshar Mali, on 31st January 1963, that Shri Kedar Goala, who is another packer of the Wheat Products was appointed on or about 16th August 1963 on the retirement of his father on 15th August 1963, that Bhirgu Goala was appointed as a Bran packer of the Company on or about 16th August 1963 on the retirement of his uncle Shri Mangal Goala on 15th August 1963, and that Vikari Routh was appointed on 4th August 1963 as a cleaner. These workmen were working in the permanent vacancies without any break but the Company had verbally terminated the services with effect from 1st February 1964. The Union made a representation to the Company before the said termination of their services, stating that according to the rules of the Company, six months service of any workman qualifies him for permanency and as such, the workmen should be made permanent and all benefits available to permanent hands should be given to them. However, in view of the illegal and unjustified action of the Company, the Union gave a strike-notice on 6th February 1964 demanding the reinstatements and all back wages of these workmen with a copy to the Labour Directorate for intervention. Shri A. C. Roychowdhury, Conciliation Officer, had convened joint conferences on 14th February 1964 and 20th February 1964, but the Company did not attend. Under the circumstances, the Union had prayed for reinstatement with continuity of service and full back wages including bonus. The written statement which has been filed by the West Bengal Flour Mills Mazdoor Congress is similar to the written statement filed by other Union. Therefore, it is not necessary to repeat what has already been stated.

In the written statement which has been put in by the Company, it has been stated that the workmen concerned were contractual labourers under the agreement with each of them and the services were duly terminated in terms of the agreement. It is further stated that the undertaking of the company became Public Utility Service with effect from 23rd October 1963 and that as there was no further conciliation pre-proceedings before the reference, the reference itself is incompetent and invalid and is bad in law. It is further stated that there was no unwritten rule that after retirement, posts were filled by either son or some relatives of the workmen, that in some cases, sons or sons' relatives had been given employment at the discretion of the Company and that as the services of the temporary workmen mentioned in the reference had been duly terminated according to the terms and conditions of the agreement, the termination are quite legal, valid and justified. The Company prayed that the reference might be held to be incompetent, invalid and bad in law and in the alternative it might be held that the workmen are not entitled to any relief.

After one adjournment which was taken by the Unions, the matter was compromised on 12th June 1965 between the Management and the workmen represented by Narkeldanga Roller Flour Mills Workers' Union. Subsequently, there was another adjournment as the talk of compromise was going on with the other Union, and today, a petition of compromise has been filed between the Management and the workmen represented by West Bengal Flour Mills Mazdoor Congress. In the first petition of compromise it has been provided that the Company will give appointments to Sonakar Das, Kedar Goala and Bhirgu Goala on and from 14th June 1965 at the existing rate of wages and the Management will make them permanent after completion of their six months service. With regard to Vikari Routh, it is provided that as he is not available, the Management agreed to consider his case if he approaches the Management within 3 months from 12th June 1965. In the other petition of compromise, the Management had agreed to give appointment to Rambhuj Mali if he approaches the Management for service within 6 months from date. I have considered the facts and circumstances and it appears to me that the petitions of compromise are valid, legal and bona fide and should be effect to. I therefore pass a 'no-dispute' award making the two petitions of compromise as annexures to the award. This is my award.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Calcutta Cloth Agency, P-10 New Howrah Approach Road, Calcutta-1 and their workmen represented by the Barrabazar Zamadar Sangh, 90 Lower Chitpur Road, Calcutta-7. (Case No. 336 of 1964.)

BEFORE THE FIFTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present :

Shri K. P. MUKHERJI, Judge,
Fifth Industrial Tribunal

Present for the Company : Shri A. Sarkar, an officer of the Association of Manufacturers and Traders.

Present for the Union : Shri Madan Mohan Saha, Advocate.

The above industrial dispute was referred to this Tribunal under section 10 of the Industrial Dispute Act, 1947, by Government of West Bengal, Labour Department Order No. 6201-I R./IR/11L-198/64, dated the 16th November 1964, for adjudication upon the following issue :

(1) Whether the refusal of employment to Shri Mata Prosad Tewari is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

After service of notices, the parties entered appearance and filed their respective written statements. The case of the workman who is represented by the Barrabazar Zamadar Sangh may shortly be stated thus :

Messrs. Calcutta Cloth Agency is a prosperous concern carrying on business in textiles. Mata Prosad Tewari was a permanent workman in the employ of the Company, and he worked as a bill collector for about 10 years with a clean record of service. The Company, however, without assigning any reason or giving him any notice terminated his services with effect from 3rd October 1963. The workman after termination of his services, approached the Barrabazar Zamadar Sangh of which he is an active member, and the Union took up his case. As the Union failed to persuade the Company to take back the workman in service, the matter was taken up with the Labour Commissioner, and conciliation meetings were held on 13th January 1964, and 13th February 1964. The Conciliation Officer made a request to the Company to take back the workman, but it refused to accede to that request. Hence the present reference. The Union has prayed for reinstatement of the workman with full back wages for the period of his non-employment.

The case of the Calcutta Cloth Agency, hereinafter referred as the Company, shortly stated, is that the workman Mata Prosad left the services of the Company voluntarily on 3rd October 1963 for better prospects elsewhere. It is denied that the Company terminated his services on 3rd October 1963. It is pleaded that the dispute is not an industrial dispute, but only an 'individual dispute', and the present reference is bad in law, and not maintainable. The workman, it is further stated, is not entitled to any of the reliefs claimed by him.

Decision

It is an undisputed fact that Mata Prosad Tewari is not in service of the Company since 3rd October 1963. He worked as a bill collector of the Company for about 10 years and rendered satisfactory service to his employer. A dispute was raised, as according to the Union, his services were terminated with effect from 3rd October 1963 without any justification. The case of the Company is that Mata Prosad voluntarily left the service of the Company, and it is denied that his services were terminated. A preliminary point has been raised on behalf of the Company regarding the maintainability of the present reference. In paragraph 12 of the written statement filed by the Company it is specifically mentioned that the dispute not being an industrial dispute, the reference is bad in law. The same plea has been raised in paragraphs 1, 2 and 3 of the written statement. It is admitted on both sides that there is no Union of the workmen of the Company. The workman Mata Prosad claims to be a member of the Barrabazar Zamadar Sangh, and this Union has raised the dispute which has been referred to this Tribunal for adjudication. It has been contended on behalf of the Company that the present dispute is only an 'individual dispute' and not an industrial dispute, and the present reference is incompetent inasmuch as the Barrabazar Zamadar Sangh is not competent to raise this dispute. In other words, the contention of the learned Advocate on behalf of the Company is that the individual dispute has not been converted into an industrial dispute inasmuch as it has not been proved that the workmen of Messrs. Calcutta Cloth Agency or at least some of them are members of this Union, and they have authorised the Union to take up the case of the workman Nata Prosad This contention appears to be well founded and must prevail. The evidence of P.W.1 Sachhidanand Pandey, who is the General Secretary of the Barrabazar Zamadar Sangh, is that Mata Prosad is an old member of the Sangh, and the other employees of the Company are also members of the Sangh. He has denied the suggestion that none of the employees of the Company is a member of the Sangh, and that Mata Prosad became a member of the Sangh after the termination of his services. Mata Prosad has also stated that he is a member of the Barrabazar Zamadar Sangh for the last 7/8 years and the other employees of the Company are also members of the Sangh. P.W.1 has admitted that there are registers of members of the Union, and also counterfoils of receipts showing realisation of subscriptions from the members of the Sangh. He has however not produced these relevant documents to prove that the workman Mata Prosad and also the other employees of the Company are members of the Barrabazar Zamadar Sangh. No explanation has also been given for the non-production of these relevant documents to meet the plea raised by the Company. O.P.W.1, Shri Srinath Upadhyay is an employee of the Company and he has stated that none of the employees of the Company is a member of the Barrabazar Zamadar Sangh. An Affidavit has also been swron by this witness in support of a petition filed by the Company's workmen except 3 or 4, stating that they are not members of the Barabazar Zamadar Sangh or any other Union, and they have not authorised any Union to take up the cause of Mata Prosad. No counter affidavit has been swron by the Union to deny the facts stated in the petition. The non-production of the relevant documents by the Union, taken along with the oral statement of O.P.W.1 and the Affidavit leave no room for doubt that the employees of the Company are not members of the Barabazar Zamadar Sangh. The question that arises for consideration is whether the Barabazar Zamadar Sangh is competent to take up the cause of Mata Prosad, and to raise an industrial dispute. The question as to when an outsider Union can take up the cause of an individual workman and convert a dispute into an industrial dispute, has been considered in several cases. Following the decision of the Hon'ble Supreme Court in the case of Bombay Union of Journalists versus 'Hindu', Bombay, (A.I.R. 1963 S.C. 318) it has been held in the case of Sriniwas Fatech Puria vs. N. C. Chatterji, reported in A.I.R. 1963, Calcutta, 549 that an outside Union can by supporting an individual workman convert an individual dispute into an industrial dispute only if a large number of workmen of the industrial unit concerned in the dispute or a majority of them are members of such a Union. It is absolutely necessary to show that a large number of workmen belonging to that particular industry or a majority of them are members of such a Union. It is only then that such a Union in taking up the cause of the dismissed workman can convert an individual dispute into an industrial dispute. It is thus clear that if there is no Union of workmen in any establishment a group of employees can raise a dispute, and the dispute then becomes an industrial dispute though it may relate to dismissal of an individual employee. The position in law is that if a stranger union takes up the cause of an individual workman, the onus is upon the Union to prove that it has the backing, sympathy or colaboration of a substantial number of workmen employed in the industry, as has been held in the case of Gobordhan Das Jeerambhai and Sixth Industrial Tribunal and others, reported in 1963-I-L-L-163. This being the position in law it must be held on the facts proved in the instant case that the present dispute cannot be regarded as an industrial dispute. The present reference is therefore not maintainable in law. In view of my finding that the present reference is incompetent, it is not necessary to consider the case on merits. The workman concerned is, therefore, not entitled to any relief.

This is my award.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, filed by one Baldeo Singh (C/o India Jute Cotton Workers' Union, 18 Dharmatala Lane, Serampore, Hooghly), a workman of Messrs. India Jute Co. Ltd. (Cotton Section), Serampore, Hooghly, against the aforesaid Company. (Case No. 132 of 1964 under section 33A).

BEFORE THE FIFTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL.

Present:

Shri K. P. Mukherjee, Judge, Fifth Industrial Tribunal

Present for the Company: Shri J. K. Ghosh, Advocate & Shri J. Dutta Gupta, Advocate, of Messrs. Orr Dignam & Co., Solicitors.

Present for the workman: Shri Patit Paban Pathak, a trade unionist.

The original reference out of which this case has arisen was made under G. O. No. 572.IA/1/81-5(B)/64, dated 12th February 1964.

In this application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, Shri Baldeo Singh, a workman employed under Messrs. India Jute Co. Ltd. (Cotton Section) complains that his services have been wrongfully and illegaly terminated by his employer in violation of the standing orders and also in contravention of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947. He has accordingly prayed for his reinstatement with full compensation for the period of his forced non-employment. The application has been opposed by the opposite party who has put in a written objection in which it is pleaded that the application is not maintainable in law as there has been no contravention of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947. It is stated that the petitioner was granted casual leave for 2 days, but he failed to report for duty on the expiry of his leave and lost his lien on his appointment in accordance with the provisions of section 9(c) of the certified standing orders, and his name was accordingly struck off the rolls. The petitioner, it is pleaded, is therefore not entitled to any relief as claimed by him.

Decision

The settled position in law is that in order to succeed in an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputet Act, 1947, the petitioner, in the first place, has to prove that there has been contravention of section 33 of the Inddustrial Disputes Act, 1947 and the impugned order cannot also be justified on merits. In paragraph 3 of the petition it is stated that the opposite party was under obligation to observe the formalities of the provisions of section 33 of the Act as the services of the petitioner were terminated for an alleged misconduct of overstaying his leave, and the opposite party has thereby contravened the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947. It is to be noted that nowhere in the petition it has been specifically stated as to which particular provision of section 33 has been violated. The grievance of the petitioner, as appears from the petition, is that he overstayed his leave which amounted to a misconduct, and the opposite party was required to ovserve the formalities under section 33 of the Act before his services could be terminated. It appears from Ext. A that the petitioner was granted leave for 2 days from the 2nd April to the 4th April, 3rd being a day of weekly rest, and it is an admitted fact that he did not report for duty on the 5th April, 1964. He reported for duty on 7th April 1964 with an explanation for his unauthorised absence, but he was not allowed to join his duty. The explanation submitted by him was considered unsatisfactory, and the management considered him to have left the service of the Company from 5th April 1965. The circumstances under which the petitioner lost his job do not attract section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act. It is an admitted position that the termination of service of the petitioner was not due to any misconduct on his part, and the opposite party was not required to hold an enquiry against him before terminating his services. The petitioner was given an opportunity to submit explanation for his absence, and the explanation offered by him was not found satisfactory, and in terms of clause 9(c) of the Standing Orders of the Company, the petitioner lost his lien for the post he was holding. The termination of the petitioner's service follows automatically from the Standing Orders by virtue of his absence without leave and such termination is not the result of any positive act or order on the part of the employer, and so to such termination of service the prohibition contained in section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act would be inapplicable. It has not been suggested, far less proved, that the action of the opposite party is mala fide or amounts to victimisation or unfair labour practice. The petitioner lost his job in terms of the standing orders of the Company which must be held binding on him, and he cannot therefore invoke the aid of section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act on the plea that there has been violation of section 33 of the Act. I therefore hold that the application is not maintainable inasmuch as the petitioner has failed to prove that there has been a violation of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947. The petitioner is therefore not entitled to any relief in this case.

This is my award.

Briefly at the case of the aggrieved workers is as follows :

The Company known as Messrs. Arabindo Kundu and Manik Kundu happen to be a leading Bidi Manufacturing concern at Bankura employing about 30 workmen. The Company not only manufactures bidis but sells them as well on open market thus earning a huge profit regularly month by month. Sometimes in June 1958 the minimum wages of bidi workers at Bankura was fixed at Rs.2 per thousand. The Company turned its deaf ear to the aforesaid fixation with the result that the aggrieved workers began to murmur over the matter so much so that the company locked out the factory on 18th May 1959 without showing the least reason as to why this illegal act was adhered to as against the poor workers. The company lifted lock out on 13th June 1959 and took back some of its workers but at the same time it refused to take back the workers mentioned in the Order of Reference without showing any reason. As a matter of fact, the workers were dismissed by the company illegally and unjustly. Hence this case of the workers who were refused employment and whose only prayer before this court is confined to reinstatement with all back wages plus compensation.

The aforesaid case of the workers has been seriously contested by the Company. The long and short of the company's case is that the workers mentioned in the Order of Reference did never work "qua" workers of the company. The workers thus not being employed by the company at any time before are not entitled to any relief whatsoever in connection with this case.

It has been conceded by both sides before me at the time of trial that if this court holds that the workers mentioned in the order of reference were never employed by Messrs Arbindo Kundu and Manik Kundu, the instant reference just then be condemned as bad in law. The aforesaid main case of the company is found to be adumbrated in paras 11 and 12 of its written statement. Indeed, if these workers did not at any time work under the company no question of any refusal to employment does arise in connection with this case. The workers who have chosen the instant forum before me must then necessarily bear the burden of proving the fact in dispute namely that they were bidi making workers under the company in point and that they were refused employment without any reason or rhyme.

Have the workers proved this fact ? The workers have produced only one witness namely P. W. 1 Shri Bijoy Kalindi to establish that fact. This witness however, stands thoroughly uncorroborated in respect of his version. It is needless to mention that he is also highly interested. The next witness P. W. 2 Shri Jagadish Dey who poses himself to be the Secretary of the Bankura District Bidi Karigar Union has not cared to produce the register of the Union showing or disclosing the name of the members. This register, which admittedly is being maintained throughout by the Union is not produced lest the pages thereof would show altogether different names of the members of that Union. Indeed, both in respect of the parole and documentary evidence the company's case appears to be qualitatively better. The company produced two of the workers mentioned in the Order of Reference itself. They are O. P. W. 1 Shri Manohar Malla and O. P. W. 2 Shri Guiram Gharai. These witnesses have placed their oath disclosing at the same time that at no time in the past did they work under the Company. I have believed the statements of these witnesses inasmuch as these statements were manifestly made against the interest of the witnesses themselves. The Proprietor or better the Partner of the Company in point namely Shri Manik Kundu, the O. P. W., 3 has similarly pledged his oath before this court swearing very convincingly that the workers mentioned in the Order of Reference did never work under them. O. P. W. 4 Shri Ram Kinkar Paul who has been working under the company for the last 7/8 years has also deposed strongly corroborating the statements of the three witnesses stated above in material particular.

The oral evidence adduced by the four witnesses is strongly backed by the documentary evidence filed by the company. The contents of the company's khata as exhibited by Ext. A would show that 11 to 13 workers only used to work under the company at the relevant time, i.e. April, May and June, 1959. The workers mentioned in the Order of Reference are not the workers mentioned in Ext. A. The company has also filed various other registers as well comprised by Ext. B series and C series. It is difficult to explain away all these registers by characterising them as manufactured documents. There is also no sufficient evidence adequate to saddle the company with any such imputation. Considering the weight of evidence on record I think I should uphold the stand taken by the company although its result may prove to be somewhat disastrous to the Union. It may appear to be rather unusual at the first sight that certain fake personalities would at all venture to come before this court to vindicate the case of others. Having given the case the anxious consideration that it deserves I have come to the conclusion so common in these days that the company was victimised in respect of its village politics. The evidence of Manik Kundu specially would show that at some point in the past they had incurred the displeasure of the local communist party with the result that the party brought in the present foreign union to teach a lesson to the company. The Union was foreign because the workers of the company were never members thereof and that is the reason why the Union has withheld its register from production and that is also the reason why none of the workers mentioned in the Order of Reference came before this court to place their grievance excepting P. W. 1 Bijoy Kalindi whose statements as I have already stated are not worthy of credence. Considering these overall facts and circumstances on record I hold that no relief can be given to the workers in point. The workers in point not being workers of the company in question are not entitled to any relief whatsoever in connection with this case. In that perspective the present reference made under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act should be and is hereby condemned as bad in law. This then is the award of this Court.

the matter of an Industrial dispute between Messrs. Hind Refractories Ltd., Durgapur, and their workmen represented by the Hind Refractories Workers' Union, Hattola Road, P.O. Durgapur 1, district Burdwan. (Case No. VIII—275/64).

AWARD

The above dispute over the issue given in the order of reference and reproduced below was referred for adjudication to this Tribunal by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department Order No. 4390-IR/IR./11L-277(A)/64, dated the 19th September 1964

Issue

1. Festival Holidays.

The parties filed their respective written statements in due course.

It is an admitted position that at present the Company grants 12 festival holidays, out of which 4 holidays, viz., the Republic Day, the Independence Day, Dol Jatra Day and Viswakarma Puja Day are with full wages and D. A. to permanent time-rated and piece-rated workers and the remaining 8 holidays, viz., Pous Parban 1, Chitra Sankranti 1, 5 days for Durga Puja and one day for Kali Puja are without wages but with D. A. to permanent piece-rated workers and time-rated workers. It is also an admitted position that all the festival holidays for casual and temporary workers are without wages and D. A. The Union claims that there should be at least 10 days, festival holidays with full pay and D. A. excluding two National holidays on Republic Day and Independence Day. The Company has pleaded in its written statement that it is not in a position to grant more festival holidays or to increase the existing number of festival holidays with wages and D. A. or with D. A. only on account of its present business and financial position. It is alleged that at present it owes debts to the West Bengal Financial Corporation and other banks amounting to more than Rs.12 lakhs and on account of increasing keen competition in the market and progressive decrease in the demands for the specific types of articles manufactured by this Company, the future prospects of this Company are bleak.

At the hearing, the parties did not adduce any evidence befefore the Tribunal. But their representatives, Shri S. C. Sen, Advocate, with Shri K. R. P. Nair, Works Manager and Shri A. C. Sen, Secretary for the Company, and Shri Patit Paban Pathak with Shri U. R. Das Gupta, General Secretary of the Union, made their submissions before the Tribunal, reiterating their respective cases as stated in their written statements.

The issue is a very limited one. It is strictly confined to festival holidays. The existing position regarding festival holidays has already been stated and the Union's demand as made in the present case, has been indicated above. When the parties' representatives made their submissions before me, I had a full and frank discussion with them and they ultimately left the matter to my discretion and judgment.

After considering the overall facts and circumstances and giving due weight to the submissions made by the parties' representatives, I consider it fair and equitable that the fully paid festival holidays should be increased by three more days and these days would be three of the five holidays for Durga Puja. I frankly placed my views before the representatives of both parties and had again frank and full discussions with them regarding this matter. Ultimately, both parties' representatives practically agreed to accept my views in the matter of increasing the festival holidays by three more days. In the aforesaid circumstances, I would make an award according to my views indicated above.

In the result, I decide and award that the existing number of holidays should be maintained but the number of fully paid festival holidays for permanent time-rated and piece-rated workers shall be increased by three days out of five days holidays for Durga Puja and for these three increased fully paid festival holidays, the permanent time-rated and piece-rated workers shall get full wages and D. A., but the other existing conditions regarding the festival holidays shall main in tact.

By order No. 1998-I.R./IR/11L-404(C)-62, dat Calcutta, the 1st June 1964, Government of We Bengal, Labour Department, referred an industri ispute between Shri Durgadutt Agarwalla and workmen, represented by Burrabazar Jamadar Singh for adjudication regarding the issue contained in the order of reference.

Issue

1. Whether dismissal of the following workmen is justified ? To what relief, if any, are they entitled ?

(1) Buddhu Koiri,
(2) Ramani Kahar,
(3) Shyamnath,
(4) Kashinath,
(5) Ritlal,
(6) Sukdeo,
(7) Sitaram,
(8) Ram Sundar,
(9) Sundar Ram,
(10) Baukelal.

This is a reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act. The employer is Durgadutt Agarwalla and the workmen are represented by Burrabazar Jamadar Sangh. It raises the issue of dismissal of 10 workmen named in the order of reference with serials. There is a short history of the reference. Originally the reference came to this Tribunal where the employer was wrongly described and the Tribunal held accordingly that the description of the employer was wrong and that Shri Durgadutt Agarwalla was the real employer. The present reference was received afresh where the employer has been correctly described as Shri Durgadutt Agarwalla. It was received on 1st June 1964. The workmen however were dismissed in 1962. The delay is accordingly explained. The workmen submitted written statement wherein they alleged that all the 10 workmen used to work in the Papad factory belonging to Shri Durgadutt. A chart is annexed with the written statement showing the length of service of each workman as well as his rate of pay. The employer insisted upon very rigid service condition and the workmen were made to work for 12 hours a day. Wages were also very low. The workmen in order to redress their grievances joined a trade union known as Burrabazar Jamadar Sangh. Various demands were placed by the Union on behalf of the workmen which outraged the company. Buddhu, Ramani, Shyamnath and Kashinath (serial Nos. 1 to 4) were dismissed from service on 10th September 1962 and the matter was immediately taken up by the Union with the Labour Commissioner. The workmen received the charge-sheets on 7th September 1962 and they replied to the same. Subsequently without holding any enquiry they were summarily dismissed. The other six workmen namely, serial nos. 5 to 10 were subsequetly dismissed on 14th September 1962. They received no charge-sheet before the letters of dismissal were served on them. The dismissal was arbitrary. All the workmen thus stood dismissed and this was done by the employer to crush the Union. It is an unfair labour practice and a clear case of victimisation. On 16th January 1964 a reference was made in respect of these very workmen. The Tribunal gave effect to the preliminary objection raised by the company that the employer was wrongly described. This is how the present reference came on 1st June 1964 after the name of the employer was corrected. The chart is annexure 'A' to the Union written statement.

The company answered the written statement of the Union in the following terms. Burrabazar Jamadar Sangh has no legal right to raise any industrial dispute inasmuch as not a single workman of this industry is a member of that Union. The dispute is not accordingly an industrial dispute and the Tribunal has no jurisdiction to try the reference. Four workmen namely, Kashinath, Shyamnath, Ram Sundar and Sundar Ram, serial Nos. 3, 4, 8 and 9, settled their disputes finally with the company after receiving payment in full. The reference in respect of these four persons is therefore untenable. Coming to the merits of the case serial Nos. 1 to 4 deliberately spoiled about 60 maunds of papad by not drying them properly and packing them up in wet condition. It caused damage to the whole lot. This is a gross misconduct and is a subject matter of charge-sheet, dated 31st August 1962. The charge-sheets were sent under certificate of posting.

The employer asked those workmen to dry up the papad in sun shine but they refused to carry out the said order. This is an act of insubordination and is a subject matter of second charge-sheet, dated 4th September 1963. It was sent under certificate of posting. A third charge-sheet was issued on 7th September 1962 because those workmen refused to render account of papad to the employer on demand. These charge-sheets were also sent under certificate of posting and some copies of the charge-sheets were posted on the wall of the factory. The workmen were asked to submit explanations but they did not. The third charge-sheet was however received by the workmen and their reply was received on 11th September 1962. It is not a fact that the Union took up the matter with the Labour Commissioner.

On 8th September 1962 three charge-sheeted persons, Buddhu, Ramani and Shyamnath obstructed entry of the employer into the factory and the others namely serial Nos. 5 to 10 of the order of reference assisted them in such illegal act. A dairy was lodged before the police. On 13th September 1962 serial Nos. 5 to 10 resorted to strike and stopped work. The employer issued a notice under certificate of posing asking them to withdraw the strike and resume work. On 14th September 1962 the employer sent his manager but he was assaulted. Then the employer Durgadutt Agarwalla went to the factory with police. Seeing him all the nine persons (excluding Serial no. 4 Kashinath) threatened him with assault and thereafter letter of dismissal was issued to serial Nos. 5 to 10 on 14th October 1962. No enquiry can be held due to the abnormal situation described above. The employer filed three criminal cases against the nine persons (excepting Serial 4 Kashinath). Some of the criminal cases ended in conviction.

Upon the above pleadings the issue mentioned in the order of reference is raised as to whether the dismissal of the 10 persons is justified. Before I enter into the merits of the order of dismissal there are certain preliminary objections which should be disposed of first. An objection is taken at the time of hearing to the effect that after all the 10 workmen had been dismissed the factory is not now functioning and the employer has given up manufacturing of Papad and is working as a driver. This is the contingency which happened after the written statement have been filed and even after the evidence was recorded in the previous reference,

Be that noted that evidence was recorded by this very tribunal in the reference that was received on 1st January 1964. Both the parties at the hearing of this reference adopted the said evidence which was recorded in presence of the respective parties and their representatives. The decision will be made upon the said evidence which had been adopted and accepted by both parties. There had been some additional evidence adduced thereafter which forms part of the record. Durgadutt Agarwalla, the employer, was examined during the hearing of this reference on 18th March 1965. He added that the monthly tenancy held in respect of No. 4, Sukhlal Johuri Lane under Umrao Tulshian had come to an end. That was the room which was tenanted for the purpose of manufacture of Papad. Certified copy of the plaint and the order-sheet showing payment of cost of the suit are filed in support of the oral evidence of Durgadutt Agarwalla. He further added that he is at present earning his leaving by working as a car driver and his business of manufacture of padad had been closed down. In view of the evidence of Durgadutt Agarwalla which is not seriously controverted by the Union I must conclude that the factory is not in existence and that manufacture of papad had been totally stopped by Durgadutt. Though this is a matter which happened after the reference was received there would be no point in passing order of reinstatement in case the workmen succeed in this reference. Since I hold that the industry has been closed, no order of reinstatement can follow but the workmen in the event of success would be entitled to compensation in lieu of reinstatement. The objection raised in this respect is thus disposed of. Next, I will turn to the other preliminary objection raised specifically in the written statement, namely, that the Union has no right of representation in this reference in view of the fact that the workmen of this industry are not members of that Union.

This is a question of fact which is to be decided upon evidence on record. The learned lawyer for the Union relied upon the case reported in 1965 1, L. L. J. page 668 and submits that in the reported case out of 45 workmen in an establishment 18 had been dismissed and it was observed that those 18 workmen would form a group of employees who can by themselves raise an industrial dispute. That observation has no bearing upon the instant case. It is true that all the workmen of the factory were dismissed but it is not a case where workmen themselves are converting the individual dispute into an industrial dispute. They have come through a particular Union, namely, Burrabazar Jamadar Sangh. Inspite of the fact that 10 workmen by themselves can raise an industrial dispute, the locus standi of Burrabazar Jamadar Sangh had got to be established. The learned representative of the company urges me to hold that the Sangh is not a representative Union, so far as these workmen are concerned. It is true that the company swore an affidavit on 9th March 1965 asking for a direction upon the Union to produce certain documents. Such a direction was given but the Union did not file any document in the instant case. That is an admitted position. Still however there is some evidence on which I can reasonably come to the conclusion that the Union has representative capacity. It has observed in the reported case which I have just now referred that industrial adjudication is generally reluctant to lay down any hard and first rule or adopt any test of general and universal application. The approach of industrial adjudication in dealing any industrial dispute has necessarily to be pragmatic and the test which would apply and the considerations on which it relies would vary from case to case and could not admit of any rigid or inflexible formula (page 672 of the reported case). In the instant case the Honorary General Secretary of the Sangh Shri Sachida Nand Pandey gave evidence. He stated that the workmen of the present company listed their names as members of his Union. This Union took up the cause of dismissal of the three workmen of serial Nos. 1 to 3. The letter Ext. 5 will prove this. Out of the 10 workmen at least two workmen were examined before the Tribunal. P. W. 2. is Ramani, serial No. 2. He says in his evidence that he is a member of the Union and that the Union has espoused their case. Charter of demands was submitted by the Secretary of the Union and the Union activities prompted the dismissal. Another witness is P. W. 3. Rital is serial No. 3. He stated that Pandeyji, namely Secretary approached the proprietor with the charter of demands and at a meeting of workmen the cause of dismissed workmen was espoused on 11th September 1962. He also stated that he is a member of the Union and he has receipts showing payment of the subscription to the Union. On this evidence I can reasonably conclude that Burrabazar Jamadar Sangh is a representative Union in the stated circumstances of the case and it has locus standi for the purpose of the present reference. Though the documents asked for by the company were not produced, I can rely upon the testimony referred to above in coming to my conclusion that it is an industrial dispute and Burrabazar Jamadar Sangh had been duly authorised by the group of workmen to espouse their cause in respect of the dismissal of all the workmen of the industry. I decide this preliminary objection in favour of the Union.

There is a third preliminary objection in respect of five workmen, namely, Serial Nos. 3, 4, 5, 8 and 9. It is the specific case in the written statement that serial Nos. 3, 4, 8 and 9 received payment and settled their disputes. Subsequent to the written statement filed by the company serial No. 5 Rit Lal settled his dispute on 12th March 1965. With regard to the settlement in respect of five out of 10 workmen I should discuss the evidence on record. The Union representative wants to argue that without the consent of the Union those individuals have no right to settle their disputes with the company. I cannot accept this as a broad proposition. It may be in respect of reference involve other issues. The issue involved is dismissal of particular workmen. If the aggrieved workmen received payment and settle their disputes with the company even without the consent of the Union they have every right to do so and such action cannot be challenged by the Union. The Union will have no further responsibility in running his case. Regarding individual cases of settlement, I will take up the case of serial No. 4 Kashinath first.

Kashinath (Serial No. 4)

In the written statement of the company a plea has been taken that Kashinath received payment and settled the dispute. In view of that written statement the Union ought to have examined Kashinath to refute allegation. The evidence on this point is that of P. W. 1 Durgadutt. He stated on oath that Kashi-h was not charge-sheeted. On 11th September 1962 came to his office and wanted to collect of his dues. wrote down a paper and endorsed his signature reon. It is Ext. H. It is written in Hindi. It bears mb impression purported to be that of Kashinath. English translation is Ext. H (1). The evidence of gadutt and the document Ext. H which he proved not challenged and there is no counter evidence of shinath or any other workman in this respect. H purports to show that he had no kind of dispute h Durgadutt. The statement was made on 11th tember 1962. This was of course long before the rence but since I believe the settlement alleged by company, Kashinath would not be entitled to any f. Kashinath's claim had been adjusted.

n Sundar and Sundar Ram (Serial Nos. 8 and 9).

ow I will take up the cases of serial Nos. 8 and 9, n Sundar and Sundar Ram. They swore a joint lavit Ext. M. A. joint affidavit is something singular. affidavit ought to have been sworn separately. hat as it may, there are other documents on which n rely namely, Exts. N and N (1). They are orted to have been executed by these two workmen. workmen are not examined to challenge these two uments. They purported to show that some pay-ts were made to these two workmen and this was in full and final settlement of all claim. There no other outstanding claim. They were executed th February 1963, i.e., before the reference. Since evidence in this respect is ex-parte and neither Sundar nor Sundar Ram comes to the box to deny allegations against them and as there is no other ence in this respect, I should uphold the company's ention that Ram Sundar and Sundar Ram adjusted claims individually, without the aid of the Union. ny opinion they are not entitled to any relief in reference.

xt I will turn to serial no. 3 Shyamnath. He e an affdavit Ext. M (1) before this Tribunal stating he received payment and he also filled up the full final settlement form Ext. N (2) wherein he on ving payment stated that he had no other claim anding. Shyamnath was not examined by the n to impugn his own affidavit Ext. M (1) or his d settlement proved by Ext. M (2). Having assessed entire evidence on this point I uphold the con-on of the company that Shyamnath received pay-and settled his dispute.

xt I will turn to serial No. 5 Ritlal. It is curious Ritlal gave evidence in the previous reference and ressed his claim under the reference but Ext. S ced before me and proved by Durgadutt upon it is contended that Ritlal settled the dispute g no further claim. Ext. S is written in English t bears thumb impression purported to be that itlal. It is dated 12th March 1965, i.e, long Ritlal gave evidence before Tribunal. The is proved by Durgadutt. He states that this Ext. S was signed by Ritlal. He does not that Ritlal was paid anything in consideration e settlement. He does not either say that the nts of the letter written in English were explained propriate language to Ritlal. There is no signature of Ritlal and instead there is a thumb impression purported to be that of Ritlal. There are some witnesses named therein but none of the witnesses was examined to prove the authenticity of the record of Ext. S. In the absence of any evidence that Ritlal thumb impressed this document after having comprehended the contents of the English document, I am unable to place any reliance upon Ext. S, as a document of settlement. Ritlal is illiterate as will appear from the fact that he thumb impressed the document. Unless contents of the document were explained to him, the document cannot be used against him as evidence. The settlement of Ritlal is not proved. I am discarding Ext. S. in due regard to the fact that Ritlal had already given his evidence before the Tribunal pressing his claim.

I am therefore accepting the settlement of Serial Nos. (3) Shyamnath, (4) Kashinath, (8) Ram Sundar and (9) Sundar Ram who are not entitled to any relief under the reference. With regard to Ritalal I disbelieve record of settlement.

Now I will turn to the merits of the case. The individual cases are to be treated in two separate groups. Serial Nos. 1, 2, and 3 will fall in one group while serial Nos. 5 to 10 would fall in another group. I will take up the case of serial Nos. 1, 2, and 3 first.

According to the company these three persons received three charge-sheets. The first charge-sheet was on 31st August 1962, Exts. D, D(1) and D(2). They mention that due to the negligence of these three workmen Papad was not properly dried and they were packed in wet condition and damage was suffiered. Damage to property is the essence of the charge. They were sent under a certificate of posting and it is Ext. D (3). The certificate of posting says the address of the three workmen as 4 Sukhlal Johuri Lane. The letters were posted on 31st August 1962. The Union however denied having received the charge-sheets. The second charge-sheet was issued to these three workmen on 4th September 1962. They are Exts. E(1), E(2) and E(3). The charge is that the damaged papad were ordered to be dried in sun shine but this order was not carried out. These charge-sheets were sent under certificate of posting Ext. E. It shows the address as 4 Sukhlal Johuri Lane and the date of posting is 4th September 1962. The Union denies having received these charge-sheets. The last charge-sheet is dated 7th September 1962. They are Exts. E(5), E (6) and E(7). They are to the effect that the workmen were asked to give account of the stock and handed over the books but they refused to do so, giving rise to the apprehension that money had been misappropriated. They were also sent by certificate of posting as will appear from Ext. E(4). Admittedly last charge-sheet was received by the workmen and was replied to. The explanation given by the workmen is Ext. 2, dated 8th September 1962. Thereafter admittedly no enquiry was held in respect of any of the charge-sheet. On 10th September 1962 dismissal letters were issued. The letters of dismissal are Exts. G(1), G(3) and G(5). They were sent by registered post Exts. G, G(2) and G (4).

Now the question is whether the said dismissal of the three workmen is justified. The Union submitted that the first two charge-sheets, dated the 31st August 1962 and 4th September 1962, were not received and that the only charge-sheet that was served upon the workmen is the charge-sheet, dated the 7th September 1962, which was replied to in Ext 2. I have already pointed out that the first charge-sheet was sent under certificate of posting. Admittedly the workmen used to reside at 4 Sukhlal Johuri Lane. It should be presumed accordingly that the charge-sheets which were correctly addressed reached the workmen. It is significant to note that though two of the workmen, namely, Ramani and Ritlal were examined before the Tribunal they did not say in their evidence that the first two charge-sheets were not received by them. There is no denial on oath as against the presumption of service which arises from the certificates of posting. There is no earthly reason why the management would suppress those two charge-sheets. I accordingly hold that all the three charge-sheets were received by the workmen. Nevertheless there was no enquiry into any of the charges and the dismissal which related to all the three charges specifically mentioned in the letters of dismissal was without holding any enquiry. The matter is therefore open before the Tribunal and it is open to the company to prove on evidence before the Tribunal that the three charges on which the orders of dismissal followed are substantiated. The first charge is regarding spoiling of papad. Shri Durgadutt Agarwala gave evidence about the spoiling of papad by packing them up in wet condition. His evidence corroborated by the evidence of Shri Nandalal Agarwalla who stated that he purchased papad from Durgadutt Agarwala which was packed in wet condition. That papad was returned to Durgadutt. O.P.W.2 Shri Satyanarayan Agarwala has also a papad factory at the same premises and he gave evidence to the effect that he saw some quantity of papad was returned by the customers as they were wet and damaged. On this evidence it may be concluded that some quantities of papad got damaged due to packing in wet condition. But this does not necessarily prove the charge against the three workmen, namely, Buddhu, Ramani and Shyamnath. There is no evidence as to how these three workmen were singled out for the charge-sheets. There is no evidence that these are the three workmen who were given exclusive charge of drying and packing. If papad was packed in wet condition it would be the general responsibility of all the workmen unless there is some division of work among them. In the absence of any evidence as to division of work when the company singles out three workmen for charge-sheet for an act which cannot be exclusively allotted to them, I cannot but hold that this is not bona fide act. Had all the workmen being charge-sheeted on this ground I would have understood the action of the management. Inspite of the evidence adduced by the Company I am unable to say that the charge has been proved against the workmen.

I next come to the second charge, namely, drying of the wet papad. The evidence is of Durgadutt, O.P.W.1, which was corroborated by the evidence of O.P.W.2. According to O.P.W.2 Satyanarayan Agarwala the workers refused to dry the wet papad as ordered. If that is so, it is strange to note that instead of all the workmen were charge-sheeting all the workmen, only three workmen were sigled out for the charge-sheet. This is an action on the part of the management which strictly speaks of malafide. The evidence is not enough to prove that the thre workmen refused to carry out the order of drying.

Lastly regarding the charge-sheet that the workmen refused to render accounts, I should consider the explanation Ext 2. The explanation shows that it was Buddhu Koiri who used to render accounts. There is no evidence on the side of the management as to who was responsible for rendering accounts. It cannot be that the three workmen were exclusively responsible for accounts. According to the evidence of O.P.W.2, Satyanarayan Agarwala, Durgadutt Agarwala asked the workmen (obviously all the workmen) to give the account of stock but the workmen refused to comply with it. Moreover he wants to add that Durgadutt was abused and threatened with assault. If that is a fact then all the workmen would have been charge-sheeted on the ground of non-compliance of the order of rendition of accounts and the last charge-sheet would have added the fact that Durgadutt was threatened with assault and abused. The action of the management in particularising three workmen for charge-sheet cannot be consistent with the normal conduct and it indicates that the management proceeded against three workmen in a vindictive manner. The hasty action taken by the management shows a note of annoyance. The management, as the evidence of the Union Secretary Shri S. N. Pandey discloses, was angry with the workmen for their joining the Union it was anxious to penalise the workmen. The management's action was hasty and dismissal was resorted to without holding any enquiry in respect of the charges and this is a conduct which will reasonably give rise to the conclusion that the management acted in a mala fide manner.

The charges on which the dismissal was based in the case of Buddhu, Ramani and Shyamnath are not proved before the Tribunal.

But in the case of Shyamnath the claim had been adjusted and I have already recorded my finding to that effect. Shyamnath's case therefore need not be considered. Buddhu and Ramani, serial Nos. 1 and 2 are entitled to some relief which will be considered hereinafter.

Now I will take up the cases of serial Nos. 5 to 10 i.e (5) Ritlal, (6) Sukdeo, (7) Sitaram, (8) Ram Sundar, (9) Sundar Ram and (10) Baukelal. They were dismissed by letters Exts. J(1), J(3), J(5), J(7), J(9) and J(11) on 14th September 1962. Ground for dismissal stated in those letters is that the workmen joined in an illegal and unjustified strike and as a result of which the management had to suffer severe loss. The case of the management is that for the period from 8th September 1962 to 13th September 1962, stay-in strike was resorted to by those workmen out of sympathy for the other three workmen who were dismissed Strike is a lawful weapon in the hand of labour for enforcing their claim upon the management. Any and every strike will not be characterised as unlawful and unjustified. There is no evidence to prove that the strike resorted to by the workmen had been illegal Attempts are being made to prove before the Tribunal that the workmen resorted to violance and as such the strike was illegal. If that was a fact the letter of dismissal would have mentioned the conduct of the workmen that they were violent or that they obstructed the employer in entering the premises or did some act of mischief. Notices were issued to the workmen Ext. J series and same of which were hung up in the notice board. They will show that the management regretted the action of the workmen in refusing to work. So the only allegation against the workmen up to the date of dismissal was that they refused to join work and did not resume normal duties. These are the documents on which I can rely and hold that the workmen were not violent in their attitude. Had they exhibited any act of violent, it would have been invariably mentioned either in the notices Ext I series issued on 13th September 1962, or in the letters of dismissals issued on 14th September 1962. The management was obviously impatient. If there was strike for six days, it could not have been ground for dismissing the entire body of workmen. There was no charge-sheet against the workmen for refusal to do work nor any enquiry but they were dismissed forthwith. The act of dismissal in such a case is an extreme step taken by the management and such an act cannot but be described as victimisation. The dismissal of these workmen should be held to be unjustified.

Shri Mantra, appearing for the Company has submitted before me that since the nine workmen were accused in criminal cases under sections 341 and 448, I.P.C. and they were convicted therein, the action of the management should be held to be justified. The judgments are Exts. K series. The judgments, Ext. K series, show that the case under section 341 was not proved beyond all shadow of doubt. The accused persons were convicted under section 448, I P C. on the finding that they were unlawfully occupying the room of 4 Sukhlal Johuri Lane and it was with intention to annoy the complainant Durgadutt Aagrwalla. Accordingly the learned Magistrate ordered that since the occupation of the rooms was unlawful the accused persons are guilty under section 448, I.P.C. for criminal trespass It is significant to note that the criminal trespass is not even mentioned in the letter of dismissal. That was no ground on which the workmen were dismissed I cannot therefore enter into the finding in that respect which was never the subject matter of charge, even if I try to gather the charge from the letter of dismissal I do not think that the judgment of the criminal court convicting the accused persons under section 448, I P.C. would authorise me to come to the finding that the orders of dismissal were justified. In my considered opinion the dismissal of these workmen is not justified. Out of the six workmen, I have already found that serial No. (8) Ram Sunder and serial No. (9) Sundar Ram got their disputes adjusted with the management. They are entitled to no relief. To other workmen such as serial Nos. (6) Ritlal, (7) Sitaram, (6) Sukdeo and (10) Baukelal are entitled to some relief in this case.

Now the question is what should be the relief granted to them. All the workmen have been dismissed and the papad industry have been closed. Against this perspective reliefs are to be assessed. There is no point in awarding order of reinstatement or arrears of wages since the factory had no existence and the workmen could not have been reinstated. The entire business was closed for dismissal of all workmen. The wages and their length of services are described in annexure 'A' of the Union's written statement. I will assess the amount of compensation with due regard to the fact that it is a papad industry and the financial capacity of Durgadutt Agarwalla cannot be expected to be very much. In consideration of the length of service and the amount of wages and with due regard to the fact as to the paying capacity of the employer and the nature of the business run by him, I assess the amount of compensation roughly as follows :

		Rs.
Sl. No. 1.	Buddhu Kori ..	200
Sl. No 2.	Ramani Kahar ..	55
Sl. No. 5	Ritlal	65
Sl No. 6.	Sukdeo	120
Sl No. 7.	Sitaram	60
Sl. No. 10.	Baukelal ..	80

This is relief which the workmen are entitled to under this award which is to be implemented by the employer within 30 days of the publication of the award in the "Calcutta Gazette."

This is my award.

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. National Sheet and Metal Works (P) Ltd., 36A Sahitya Parishad Street, Calcutta-6 and their workmen represented by National Sheet and Metal Majdur Union, 4 Jagdish Nath Roy Lane, Calcutta-6. (Case No. 215/63).

BEFORE THE FIFTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present :

Shri K. P. MUKHERJEI, Judge,
Fifth Industrial Tribunal

Present for the Company : Shri K. K. Moitra, Advocate.

Present for the Union : Shri Nilay Kumar Ghosh, Advocate.

The above industrial dispute was referred to this Tribunal under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by Government of West Bengal, Labour Department order No. 4004--I.R./IR/10L-27/63, dated the 20th September 1963, for adjudication upon the following issue :

(1) Whether the lay-off of the workmen in two batches by rotation with effect from 30th May 1963 to 8th August 1963 is justified ? To what relief, if any are the workmen concerned entitled ?

After receipt of the reference from the Government on 25th September 1963 usual notices were issued to the parties fixing 16th October 1963 for their appearance and for filing of the written statement by the Union. The Union entered appearance and filed its written statement on 16th October 1963. Thereafter the Company filed its written statement on 14th January 1964. After several adjournments on the prayers of the parties the case was finally fixed for hearing on 4th August 1965. On 19th July 1965 the parties put in a joint petition of compromise stating therein that the dispute between them had been settled amicably out of Court, and that an award might be passed accordingly. As the parties have settled their dispute amicably out of Court, there is no subsisting dispute for adjudication and I accordingly make a "no dispute" award as prayed for. The petition of compromise do form part of the award as Annexure A.

This is my award.

BEFORE THE SIXTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present :

Shri P. BASU, Barrister-Law,
Judge, Sixth Industrial Tribunal, West Bengal

The State of West Bengal, by Order No. 1233-I.R./IR/8L-13(A)/64, dated the 29th January 1965, had referred to this tribunal for adjudication the following industrial dispute between Messrs. Sodepore Cotton Mills Ltd., P.O. Sodepore, 24-Parganas, and their workmen represented by Sodepore Cotton Mills Mazdoor Union, Mishra House, Barasat Road P.O. Sodepore, 24-Parganas.

Issue

1. What relief, if any, the workmen are entitled to for the period of non-employment from 13th December 1961 to 26th December 1961?

After the service of the usual notice, I had directed the Company to put in their written statements and had granted time thrice to file the written statement. The Company of course, did not appear and accordingly I had also written a letter intimating to them that they had not filed written statement and that if they did not appear by 18th June 1965 it would be presumed that the Company does not contest the claim of the Union. The Union also had not filed any written statement and on 18th June 1965 prayed for time to compromise the matter. Time was allowed to 2nd July 1965 and on that date, a petition for further time was filed on behalf of the Union. Time was allowed till 17th July 1965. Today, an application has been filed signed by the learned Advocate Shri Madan Saha and also by Shri Bishnupati Shukla who is Assistant Secretary, Sodepore Cotton Mills Mazdoor Union. In that petition, it has been stated that the matter has been settled out of Court and payment has been made, and that in view of the settlement and payment, the Union does not want to proceed with the case. It has been prayed that a 'no-dispute' award may be passed.

I have considered the facts and circumstances and also the prayer made in the petition, it appears to me that in the facts and circumstances of the present case a 'no-dispute' award should be passed. I order accordingly. This is my award.

AWARD

By order No. 3708-I.R./IR/8L-9/63, dated the 3rd September 1963, the Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Fitwell Hosiery Corporation, 105/2 Ultadanga Main Road, Calcutta-4 and their workmen represented by Hosiery Workingmen's Union, 66 Sovabazar Street, Calcutta-5, regarding the matters specified in the Schedule to the Third Industrial Tribunal, constituted under section 7A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by notification No. 808-I.R./IR/3A-2/57, dated the 11th March 1957, for adjudication

Issues

1. Whether the dismissal of Sarbasri (1) Kesab Chandra Dey, (2) Benoy Kumar Chowdhury, (3) Harinarayan Das, (4) Sunil Kumar Dey, and (5) Sunil Kumar Das is justified ? To what relief, if any, are they entitled ?

2. Whether the retrenchment of Sarbasri (1) Gobindalal Das, (2) Loknath Basak, (3) Biswesswar Saha, (4) Birendra Chandra Das and (5) Anil Kumar Kundu is justified ? To what relief, if any, are they entitled ?

This is a reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, made by the Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, for adjudication of some industrial disputes existing between Messrs. Fitwell Hosiery Corporation, 105/2 Ultadanga Main Road, Calcutta-4 (hereinafter be referred to as the Company) and their workmen represented by Hosiery Workingmen's Union, 66 Sovabazar Street, Calcutta-5 (hereinafter be referred to as the Union).

Immediately after receipt of the reference notices were issued to the parties who duly entered appearance and filed statement of the case and written statement. Thereafter preliminary steps were complied with by the parties and the case was ready for hearing. The learned Advocates representing both the parties were heard at length. Ten workmen were involved in the dispute under reference. Five of them were retrenched by the company and the other 5 were dismissed from services. Gobindalal Das is a retrenched workman. According to the company that workman has already accepted his retrenchment compensation and other legal dues. (Paragraph 16 of the written statement). The union does not deny this fact. On the contrary, it has informed the Tribunal that it does not want to press the claim of this workman Gobindalal Das. The Union at the time of hearing of the case pressed the claims of the remaining 9 workmen excluding that of Gobindalal Das. Individual case of these 9 workmen was placed in detail before the Tribunal by the learned Advocates of both parties. Ultimately, however, the parties could come to an amicable settlement of the dispute in respect of all the workmen excepting Gobindalal Das whose claims no longer pressed by the Union. According to the company his claim has also been settled out of the Tribunal, and he has already accepted his legal dues from the company. Both parties have filed before this tribunal a joint petition of compromise on 31st July 1965 incorporating the terms of settlement.

I have gone through the joint petition of compromise and considered the terms of settlement. Regard being had to the facts of the case as presented before me by the parties, I have no hesitation to accept the terms as fair and reasonable. Accordingly I make an award on compromise in terms of the joint petition which is made a part of and an annexure to the compromise award.

This is my award.

BEFORE THE SECOND INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL.

Present:

Shri AMBICA PADA BHATTACHARYA, Judge, Second Industrial Tribunal.

By order No. 217-I.R.-IR-7L-48(A)/64, dated Calcutta, the 16th January 1965, Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, referred an industrial dispute between Messrs. Angus Jute Co Ltd., and their workmen represented by the Thomas Duff Group Jute Works Employees' Union for adjudication regarding the issue contained in the order of reference

Issue

Whether the termination of service of Sarbasri Apudu and Narsing is justified ? To what relief, if any, are they entitled?

This is a reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act. The case of two workmen, namely, Sarbasri Apudu and Narsingh are raised in the reference. They were permanent workmen of Messrs. Angus Jute Company. Their services were terminated on 15th February 1963 on the ground of misconduct.

The relevant facts alleged in the written statement of the Union are Apidu was the Secretary of the Works Committee and Narsingh was member of the Works Committee. Both of them are Assistant Secretaries of the Union. The two workmen were victimised by the company. They were arrested under Defence of India Rules on 21st November 1962 and detained in jail. On that very day both of them applied for leave. Subsequently on 31st January 1963 they put in fresh applications for leave for a period of four months of the fact that they were in police custody. The company instead of granting them leave, terminated their service on 15th February 1963. The absence of the two workmen was beyond their control and the termination is not justified. The Union submitted that the workmen were not guilty of the charges mentioned in the letter of termination. There was no charge-sheet given to the workmen nor any opportunity of meeting the charge. The action of the management was an act of victimisation because the two workmen were affiliated to All India Trade Union Congress which was not looked upon with favour by the management.

The Company filed written statement challenging the allegation of victimisation and up holding the termination on the ground that the workmen absented themselves from work for an indefinite period and their services have been terminated on the strength of the Standing Orders which provides that absence without leave for more than 10 days is a misconduct for which disciplinary action can be taken by the management.

Appearances of the parties are as follows—

For the Company. Shri N. Das Gupta, Advocate and Shri J. K. Ghosh, Advocate of Messrs. Orr Dignam & Co., Solicitors.

For the Union. Shri Patit Paban Pathak.

Decision

The facts are more or less admitted. Apudu and Narsing were permanent workmen of the company. Their services had been terminated on 15th February 1963 and the letter of termination will show the reason of termination. It was continued absence for an indefinite period. The admitted facts are both the workmen were arrested under Defence of India Rules on 21st November 1962. Both of them applied for leave on that very day on the ground that they were suddenly arrested by the police and taken into custody. The reason was not known to them. A further application for leave was submitted on 31st January 1963 wherein it was prayed that they might be granted leave of absence for four months with effect from 22nd November 1962. The Company refused the prayer contained in the application of leave and issued the letters of termination, dated 15th February 1963. Now the question is whether the said termination is justified. The parties exhibited documents but none of the parties adduced any oral evidence. Mr. Pathak on behalf of the Union argues with considerable emphasis the case of victimisation. It is argued that the two workmen were arrested under Defence of India Rules at the instance of the company and it was the Company which was instrumental in moving the machinery of law falsely against them. The written statement is however silent on this point. It is nowhere stated that the Company was instrumental in getting the two workmen arrested under Defence of India Rules. In paragraph 2 of the written statement it is simply stated that the two workmen became victims of a conspiracy in which Company was a party and the workmen were arrested under Defence of India Rules. Even if I accept that the pleading is one of victimisation in the manner argued before me, the onus is upon the Union to prove that there had been such a conspiracy in the matter of arrest as alleged. The Works Committee passed a resolution to the effect that one day's wages should be donated to National Defence. This was obviously a step for raising of funds for war effort for the Defence of India. This resolution is Ext. 1, dated 10th November 1962. A petition Ext 1(f) was filed subsequently by a number of men (22 persons) against several other persons (16) workmen of the Company wherein it was stated that those persons were indulging in Anti-State activities They were hampering war efforts. That is the allegation. From this application it cannot be said that this was an application made at the instance of the Company. No such argument can be found upon it in the absence of evidence to connect the Company with the said application. Besides Apudu alias Apru and Narsing many other persons were named in the petition. There had been Defence of India Rules cases. One of such cases was against Apru and Narsingh. The Judgement is Ext 1(f) of the learned Magistrate. The learned Magistrate acquitted them of the charges after an elaborate discussion of the evidence. In the evidence discussed by the Magistrate it transpired that some witnesses of the prosecusion belonged to Indian National Trade Union Congress while the accused persons belonged to All India Trade Union Congress. Those two Unions are rival Unions. From the judgement or from any other evidence I cannot conclude that the management had been responsible or instrumental in either starting the prosecusion or supporting the same. Victimisation by starting the prosecution is not proved on any evidence.

I will now proceed to discuss the law with reference to this particular case. The Staning Orders provide that a workman may be dismissed for misconduct and one of such misconduct is provided in section 14(e)(v). It runs thus-- "Habitual absence without leave or absence without leave for more than 10 days".

Admittedly these two workmen were absent without leave for more than 10 days. It is true that they applied for leave but the leave was not granted by the management. The leave was rightly refused by the management as the workmen were under police custody in connection with Defence of India Rules which can last for an indefinite period. The absence of the two workmen being for an indefinite period, the leave applied for was rejected for good reason. I cannot say that the action of the management had been unreasonable in that respect. It is true that the management did not issue any charge-sheet or give any opportunity to the workmen to answer the charge of absence for more than 10 days though the standing orders clause (e) of section 14 provides for such opportunities. In the present case this omission on the part of the management is not serious or fatal to the case. In a case reported in 1958, 1. L. L. J. page 260, Hon'ble Supreme Court on the strength of a previous decision reported in 1957, 1, L. L. J, page 235 came to the decision that the refusal of leave in such circumstances should be left to the discretion of the employer and the absence of charge-sheet or want of opportunities did not vitiate the decision. The relevant portion of the judgement may be quoted.

"The same principle should apply in the present case. It is true that the arrested men were not in a position to come to their work, because they had been arrested by the police. This may be unfortunate for them, but it would be unjust to hold that in such circumstances the company must always give leave with an application for leave is made. If a large number of workmen are arrested by the authorities in charge of law and order by reason of their questionable activities in connection with a labour dispute as in this case, the work of the Company will be paralised if the Company is forced to give leave to all of them for a more or less indefinite period. Such a principle will not be just; nor will be restore harmony between labour and capital or ensure normal flow of production. It is immaterial whether the charges on which the workmen are arrested by the police are ultimately proved or not in a court of law. The Company must carry on its work and may find it impossible to do so if a large number of workmen are absent, whether in such a circumstances leave should be granted or not must be left to the discretion of the employer. It may be readily accepted that if the workmen are arrested at the instance of the Company for the purpose of victimisation and in order to get rid of them on the ostensible pretext of continued absence the position will be different. It will then be a colourable or mala fide exercise of power under the relevent standing orders; that, however, is not the case here".

Similarly, in the present case I may say that workmen who were arrested under Defence of India Rules and kept in custody for an indefinite period cannot challenge the action of the management if they refuse leave for a long or indefinite period. If however the workmen were arrested at the instance of the Company for the purpose of victimisation and in order to get rid of them on the ostensible pretext of continued absence, the position would have been different In that case the termination would have been held to be mala fide. In the instant case there is no evidence to prove that the workmen were arrested under Defence of India Rules at the instance of the Company and the termination is more or less an ostentible pretext for getting rid of those two workmen. There may be rivalry between the Unions but the management cannot be readily connected with the same In the absence of any cogent evidence, I cannot say that the action of the management in terminating the service of two workmen was mala fide. It is true that eventually the workmen were acquitted but that is immaterial for the purpose of termination as has been pointed out very clearly in the above-quoted judgement of the Hon'ble Supreme Court.

In the result the termination of service of the two workmen must be held to be justified.

This is my finding.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Lakshmi Oil Mills, 242/1 Upper Circular Road, Calcutta-4 and their workmen represented by the Union of Oil Mill Workers, 12/13 Cowies Ghat Road, Sibpur, Howrah. (G.O. No. 3593-IR, dated 17-8-1964). (VIII—215/64).

BEFORE THE FOURTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL, CALCUTTA

Present :

Shri R. BHATTACHARYA, M.A., LL.B.,
Judge, Fourth Industrial Tribunal

For the Union : Shri N. Das, Advocate.

For the Firm : Shri S. C. Sen, Advocate.

The present dispute under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act arises out of Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 3593-I.R./IR/15L-13/64, dated the 17th August 1964. The parties are Messrs. Lakshmi Oil Mills, (hereinafter referred to as the Firm), 242/1 Upper Circular Road, Calcutta-4, and their workmen represented by the Union of Oil Mill Workers, (hereinafter described as the Union), 12/13 Cowies Ghat Road, Sibpur, Howrah. The issue for adjudication is as follows :

Whether the prolonged suspension of the workmen as per list attached is justified? To what relief, if any, are they entitled?

The copy of the list referred to in the issue has been made a part of this award as Annexure "A".

In short, the case of the union is that 60 workmen mentioned in the order of reference have been illegally suspended without any reasonable ground and without making any arrangement for holding any domestic enquiry. Out of the sixty persons only 49 workmen were charge-sheeted and the remaining persons were not at all served with any charge-sheet. It has been stated by the union that the long suspension from 1958 to upto the present time is a case of unfair labour practice and victimisation.

The case of the Firm, on the other hand, appearing in its written statement is that previously there was a reference by the government on the allegations that the workmen were dismissed but ultimately, in that reference both the parties agreed that, in fact, there had been no dismissal. Consequently, the Industrial Tribunal found that the reference as formulated was not maintainable. In the written statement it has been stated from the side of the Firm that after the said award by the Sixth Industrial Tribunal in 1962 the Firm passed the order of dismissal on the basis of the enquiry held against the charge-sheeted persons but as the addresses of the workers could not be traced, the copies of the letter of dismissal were sent to the Secretary of the Union. As the dismissal orders have already been passed, the question of alleged prolonged suspension of the workmen cannot be considered. In the written statement the Firm further has stated that the Union does not represent any workmen of the Firm. In short, the Firm wants to say that all the persons mentioned in the order of reference were charge-sheeted, that the enquiries were held against them and that they have been properly dismissed. Several documents have been exhibited on both the sides. Six witnesses were examined on the side of the Union and only one witness was examined by the Firm.

The main question is whether the long period of suspension of the workmen mentioned in the order of reference is proper and justified. In this case the previous award passed by the learned Judge of the Sixth Industrial Tribunal has been filed and it will appear in Ext. A, the "Calcutta Gazette" at page 3760. The date of the award is 19th October 1962. The names appearing in that order of reference are the same as mentioned in the reference before me. In the previous reference the issue was whether the management was justified in dismissing the workmen in question but at the time of hearing it was admitted that, in fact, no order of dismissal was passed against any of the workers. In the circumstances, the learned Tribunal disposed of the reference as not maintainable. The question of res judicata does not arise because in the present reference the issue is whether the prolonged suspension is justified. At the time of hearing Shri Sen, learned Advocate for the Firm, contended that in the meantime, however, after the disposal of the previous reference the Firm dismissed all the workmen. Shri Das, learned Advocate for the Union, however, contended that the union did not admit that any order of dismissal was, in fact, passed or whether any letter of dismissal was issued to or received by any of the workmen. Ultimately, however, it has been agreed by both the sides that the present reference is not affected by the alleged order of dimissal because I am to see whether the suspension of the workmen was justified. I will, however, not consider the case of dismissal on merits, but I may incidentally consider the facts and circumstances of this case and also the conduct of the Firm relevant for the purpose of and connected with the question of suspension.

It is to be noted at the very outset that in the list attached to the order of reference no name appears in serial No. 9. From the copy of the list of workmen appended to the previous reference it also appears that no name appears as serial No. 9. Ext. 6, the award of the learned Sixth Industrial Tribunal also shows that no name appears in serial No. 9. In fact, therefore, 59 names of workmen have been given. From the perusal of the written statement filed in the present reference and from the argument advanced from the side of the Firm at the time of hearing, it appears that the case of the Firm is that the persons mentioned in the order of reference were all workmen of the Firm and that they were all charge-sheeted and dismissed. In the previous reference both the sides filed their written statement and the copies of those written statement have been taken in evidence by Ext. D is the written statement filed on behalf of the union in the previous reference whereas Ext E was the written statement filed by the Firm in that case. In paragraph 3 of Ext. E the definite case of the Firm was given. It was stated in that case that out of 60 workers mentioned in the order of reference, those mentioned in serial Nos. 54, 55, 56, 57, 58 and 60 were not workers of the mill, that Dhanugopal Saha serial No. 46 in the list, was repeated in serial No. 59 of the list, and that, Harimati Dassi mentioned in serial No. 29 of the list though not charge-sheeted or suspended at any time, was removed from the Register of the mill on account of unauthorised absence. The clear case of the company in the previous reference was that the remaining 52 workers, serial Nos. 1 to 28 and 30 to 53, had been properly charge-sheeted and suspended. The case of the company in that reference further was that on the basis of the enquiry report they had been found guilty of the charges and decisions had been taken to dismiss them but as the reference was communicated to the Firm, no formal dismissal order could be passed. In the present case on perusal of the written statement of the Firm and upon hearing of the argument advanced from the side of the Firm, I find that the Firm wants to say before me that all the persons mentioned in the order of reference were workmen of the Firm, that they were all charge-sheeted and that they were all dismissed by letters issued by the Firm. The copies of the letter of dismissal will appear in Ext. I series, showing that 57 persons out of 60 were given dismissal letters. The witness appearing on the side of the Firm does not on oath say that the workmen mentioned in the order of reference were not employees of the Firm. On the evidence adduced before me, and the story set up by the Firm at present show that the previous story of the Firm that some of the workmen mentioned in the order of reference were not employees of the Firm is clearly false and unacceptable. On the evidence I am satisfied that the name Dhanugopal Saha appearing in serial Nos. 46 and 59 is a repeatation and that it is the name of the same person. This being my finding and in the absence of any name in serial No. 9 of the list attached to the order of reference, I hold that practically there are 58 persons before me and that I am to consider their case in the present reference. I find that these 58 persons were workmen of the Firm at the time of suspension. Admittedly, however, these 58 persons were not allowed to work on and from 25th January 1958. I shall now consider the propriety of the order of suspension passed against the workmen in some details. The first question arises as to the number of workmen who were charge-sheeted by the Firm. This fact becomes relevant in connection with the question of the order of suspension. The Firm's case is that the workmen were suspended in connection with the charge-sheet. The Union has filed several chargesheets marked Ext. 1 series, Ext. 6, series and Ext. 8 series. The Union wants to say that these were the charge-sheets issued to the workmen and that no other charge-sheet was issued to any other person. Some copies of the charge-sheet have been filed in this case by the Firm along with the written statement of the Firm marked Ext. E which was filed in the previous reference. These charge-sheets do not bear the name of any worker. They are not, therefore, the true copy of the charge-sheets alleged to have been issued by the Firm. Besides these copies of charge-sheet, no other copy of the charge-sheet has been filed by the Firm in the case before me. No postal acknowledgement receipts or the certificates of posting have been filed in this case to prove that any such charge-sheet was sent to all the 58 workmen mentioned in the order of reference. One witness has been examined by the Firm. He is the Assistant Secretary of the Firm. From the evidence of this witness it appears that he is a worthless witness. He got records in his office and he found Ext. F and Ext. I series but he cannot say anything about the important documents of the present case. He says that he wanted to find out old records of the case but he could not find them. At the same time he says that Ext. F and Ext. I series he found. He does not say anything about the copies of the charge-sheet. No competent witness has been examined on the side of the Firm to prove that in fact, all the 58 persons were charge-sheeted. No explanation has been given as to why the charge-sheets could not be produced in this case. There is no satisfaction and reliable evidence that those documents have been stolen away or that they are missing. It appears from the evidence of O.P.W. 1 that one Shri Banerjee has been appointed to look after the case but he does not appear and give any evidence. However, the absence of the copies of the charge-sheet not filed by the Firm will certainly go against the management. In the circumstances of this case I will accept the evidence of the Union which has filed same charge-sheets received by the workmen. In view of the evidence I am to hold that out of the persons mentioned in the order of reference only those mentioned in serial Nos. 3, 12, 22, 25, 28, 34, 35, 36, 39, 48 and 49 and some others and not all the persons mentioned in the reference were charge-sheeted. In the previous case the Firm stated that Harimati Dassi (serial No. 29) was not charge-sheeted and that her name was removed from the register as she was a regular absent worker. In the present case, however, the Firm wants to say that she was also charge-sheeted. In the previous reference the case of the Firm was that the persons mentioned in serial Nos. 54, 55, 56, 57, 58 and 60 were not the workmen of the Firm and that their names did not appear in the register. In the present case the Firm wants to say that they were also charge-sheeted. It is clear, therefore, that in the present reference the Firm made an attempt to give false story showing that all the persons mentioned in the order of reference were charge-sheeted. This attempt to set up a new story in the present reference shows the mala fide movement on the part of the Firm. The Tribunal has got to be very cautious to accept the evidence of the Firm when it has been made clear that the movements of the Firm are not bona fide in some direction and when it is making some endeavour to set up a false story to make up some latches observing in the previous reference. In view of my finding regarding the issue of charge-sheet without going to the further evidence, it may be stated that the order of suspension passed against the remaining workers, who were not charge-sheeted was unjustified. The company has failed to prove that all the persons were served with charge-sheets.

The next question is whether there is prolonged suspension. In this case the admitted position is, as I also find, that the workmen mentioned in the order of reference were suspended by the Firm on and from 25th January 1958. This suspension continued for a long period. The Union says that it is still continu ng whereas the Firm says that it has been terminated with the order of dismissal passed against the workmen. Of course, as I have already indicated, I am not going to decide the question of dismissal as alleged by the Firm on merits. But incidentally I can consider the conduct of the Firm in the matter of suspension. The Firm has filed several copies of order of dismissal marked Ext. 1 series. In the previous reference the Firm stated that some of the persons named in the list did not belong to the Firm but, according to Ext. 1 series, the Firm has accepted those persons as workmen and the Firm wants to say that the dismissal letters have been served on the Union. The Firm has produced a document alleged to be signed by some person on behalf of the Union showing receipts of sixty letters of dismissals The person whose signature appears on Ext. 2 has not been examined by the Firm. O.P.W.1 has stated that he has no personal knowledge about the service of letters. His evidence is that one Hafi Jamadar of the Firm served the order of dismissal on the workmen. Hafi Jamadar has not been examined in this case and no reason has been assigned why the Firm has not produced him before this Tribunal. Nobody has come to prove the genuineness of Ext. F(2). O.P.W 1 has stated that Hafi Jamadar served the order of dismissal on the workmen but Ext. F(2) shows that the letters were sent to the Union. Ext. G is a copy of the letter written to the Labour Commissioner by the Firm. In this letter it has been stated that the dismissal letters have been sent to the Union office as the addresses of the workers were not with the Firm. That this story that the addresses of the workers were not with the Firm is a falsehood would be evident from the charge-sheets exhibited on the side of the Union. In these charge-sheets the addresses of the workmen have been given. I hold, therefore, that the Firm knew the addresses of the workers and that there was no occasion of the Firm to send letters of dismissal to the Union. Charge-sheets were sent under certificate of posting. The orders of dismissal could have been sent in the similar way. It is very difficult for me to believe that the orders of dismissal were sent either to the Union or to the workmen. It is difficult for me to believe that the letters of dismissal were, in fact, issued.

The case of the Firm is that the charge-sheeted workmen were suspended pending enquiry. I will now consider whether, in fact, there had been any enquiry against any of the workmen. This question becomes very important to ascertain the conduct of the Firm in the matter of suspension. In the previous reference the Firm in its written statement stated that an enquiry had been completed before the written statement had been filed and that the workmen had been found guilty of the charges. It was further stated that the Firm had already decided to dismiss the workmen. Ext. E is the copy of the written statement of the Firm in the previous reference. It is dated 13th March 1959. In the present case also the Firm in its written statement has stated that on the basis of the enquiry the Firm passed the order of dismissal against the workmen. The Union in its written statement has stoutly denied that the Firm had held any enqu.ry at all. It is curious to note that the Firm has not filed any paper to show that, in fact, enquiry had been held. No records of the enquiry proceedings have been produced before this Tribunal. O.P.W.1, the only witness on the side of the Firm, has stated that he does not know about the documents on which the letters of dismissal were passed Nobody has come forward from the side of the Firm to explain the non-production of records of the enquiry in this Tribunal. In the circumstances of this case I have reasons to believe that, actually, there was no enquiry against the workmen and the story of holding the enquiry is unacceptable.

The argument from the side of the Firm is that the suspension of the workmen was prolonged due to the making of references to the Tribunals by the Government. It has also been argued that as references were long pending before the Tribunals, the Firm could not pass any order of dismissal against the workmen and, therefore, the suspension of the workmen was prolonged. I will now consider how far this argument is acceptable. Ext. A is the "Calcutta Gazette" containing the previous award, dated 19th October 1962. From the award it is clear that the dispute was at first referred to the First Labour Court by the Government by an order, dated 18th September 1958, and that the Labour Court was abolished by the notification, dated 11th July 1960. Thereafter the Government again sent a fresh reference to the Sixth Industrial Tribunal by an order, dated 25th July 1960. That reference was ultimately disposed of by the Sixth Industrial Tribunal by an order, dated 19th October 1962. Admittedly, in January 1958 the workmen were suspended. The first reference was made by an order, dated 18th September 1958. The Firm had sufficiently long period to complete the enquiry and dispose of the proceedings against the workmen within two or three months. In any view the enquiry proceedings could have been disposed of finally before the first reference was actually made. There is no evidence before me to show why the Firm took such a long time in the matter of enquiry or to dismiss the workmen if they were really guilty. It is to be noted that either in the written statement or in the evidence it has not been stated when actually enquiry took place. Rather, nobody has come from the side of the Firm to say on oath that, there had been an enquiry against the workmen. I have already stated that the previous reference was disposed of by the Sixth Industrial Tribunal on 19th September 1962. The present reference was made by Government by an order, dated 17th August 1964. According to the Ext. 1 series, the workmen were dismissed by a letter, dated 8th January 1963. Of course, I do not accept the genuineness of these letters of dismissal. A long period, more than two months, passed after the first award. It was published in the "Calcutta Gazette" dated 6th December 1962. The Firm did not immediately after the publication of the award in the Calcutta Gazette dismiss the workmen. All these circumstances mentioned above will clearly go to show that the conduct of the Firm in the matter of suspending the workmen was most unreasonable, improper and highly shocking to the conscience. The action of the Firm in suspending the workmen was mala fide and without any justification. This is a case of victimisation and unfair labour practice. The Firm wanted that the workmen should suffer for want of employment and earnings and the order of suspension was motivated by ill-feelings towards the workmen.

There is another fact which should be mentioned. The Firm has not adduced any evidence to show that there is any Standing Order of the Firm according to which order of suspension may be passed pending enquiry against any charge-sheeted workmen. Shri Sen, learned Advocate for the Firm, has submitted at the time of argument that the Firm does not possess any such Standing Orders. There is no evidence before me to show that any of the workmen before me was a source of even apprehension of danger in course of any enquiry or during work inside in factory or that there was any necessity for suspending any of the workmen especially in view of the fact that it took a pretty long time to dispose of the charge-sheet-proceedings against the charge-sheeted persons. If the Firm had the genuine apprehension that there was possibility of long delay in the matter of disposal of the proceedings against the charge-sheeted persons, the workmen could have been allowed very reasonably to continue their work in the meantime. I am convinced in this case that the Firm deliberately prolonged the order of suspension against the workmen with ulterior motive in order to harass the workmen. This act on the part of the Firm is undoubtedly illegal improper and unjustified.

After my finding that the prolonged suspension against the workmen in question was unjustified, the next question that arises relates to the relief to be given to the workmen. Admittedly, the workmen were suspended without wages. When the suspension order becomes unjustfied and liable to be set-aside the normal relief that should be awarded to the workmen is that they should all be entitled to their due wages for the period of suspension. In the case before me, I find that the previous references were pending before the Labour Court and the Tribunal for long periods. There is, of course, no evidence before me that in the meantime the workmen were doing any service elsewhere. On giving my best consideration to the facts and circumstances of this case, I hold that each of the workmen in question shall get from the Firm, for the period of suspension, one year's wages at the rate at which the wages were last drawn.

Before I finally dispose of this matter I shall mention that at the time of argument there was no challenge against or denial about the fact that the present dispute was an industrial dispute and that the Union had the authority to represent the workmen.

The award is accordingly passed.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Eastern Traders Syndicate, 6 Muralidhar Sen Lane, Calcutta-7 and their workmen represented by the Glass Blowers Union, 14/2C Nirode Behari Mullick Road, Calcutta-6. (G. O. No. 4301-IR, dated 17th September 1964) (269/64).

BEFORE THE FOURTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL. WEST BENGAL. CALCUTTA

Present:

Shri R. BHATTACHARYA, M.A. LL.B.,
Judge Fourth Industrial Tribunal

For the Company : Shri K. K. Moitra, Advocate.

The present dispute between Messrs. Eastern Traders Syndicate, 6 Muralidhar Sen Lane, Calcutta-7 and their workmen represented by Glass Blowers Union, 14/2C Nirode Behari Mullick Road, Calcutta-6, arises out of the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No 4301-IR/IR/1L-78(A)/64, dated the 17th September 1964. The issue for adiudication is as follows:

Whether the refusal of employment to the following workmen is justified? To what relief, if any, are they entitled?—

(i) Shri Gyan Ch. Saha.
(ii) Shri Dhirendra N. Sarkar.
(iii) Shri Gopal Ch. Sil.
(iv) Shri Santi Ranjan Das.
(v) Shri Sudhir Ch. Das.
(vi) Shri Bomkesh Saha.
(vii) Shri Kanai Kabachi.
(viii) Shri Probodh Ranjan Saha.
(ix) Shri Benoy Krishna Paul.

In short, the case appearing in the written statement of the Glass Blowers Union (hereinafter referred to as the Union), is that Messrs. Eastern Traders Syndicate (hereinafter described as the Company), issued a notice, dated 31st January 1964, to the nine workmen mentioned in the order of reference intimating that they would not be given further work until the aforesaid notice was satisfactorily replied to by the workmen and that the workmen were not permitted to join work on and from the 1st of February 1964. The workmen concerned replied to the notice on 3rd February 1964 denying the allegations made by the company. Thereafter the company on receipt of the reply issued letters to the workmen intimating that the company had nothing to do with them unless they apologised for their guilt. The company did not ultimately give any work to these workmen. It has been alleged by the union that the company did not hold any enquiry into the charges made against the workmen and that the workmen were not given any opportunity to place their case. The allegation of the union is that the said nine workmen have been thrown out of employment by the company most arbitrarily with mala fide intention violating the principles of natural justice. The prayer of the union is that the said workers may be reinstated in their position with all their back wages.

The Company has also filed a written statement. Its case is that the workers of the company are not members of the union, that the union does not represent a single worker of the company, that the present dispute is not an industrial dispute, that the present reference is not maintainable as the company had been closed down before the reference was made, that there was no refusal of employment as mentioned in the order of reference, that the workmen in question were dismissed from service as they had committed gross misconduct that charge-sheets were issued to the workmen and that as the workmen declined to express regret for their misconduct, their dismissal is justified. It has been alleged by the company that the nine workmen in question conspired together and following that conspiracy they assaulted the Manager, Shri Ajit Kumar Das, on 31st January 1964 inside the factory. They also abused Shri Das. Shri Das suffered from pain all over his body and received swelling on his left eye. On the very day the workers were charge-sheeted and put under suspension pending disposal of the case. The charge-sheeted persons denied the charges brought against them but they were given opportunity to express regret for what they had done. The workmen did not express any regret and ultimately the workmen were dismissed from service by a letter, dated 19th February 1964, without holding any enquiry. No enquiry could be held as there was high tension prevailing at that time inside the factory.

In this case the union has examined as many as nine witnesses whereas the company has examined five witnesses on its side. Several documents have been exhibited on both the sides.

The first point taken at the time of hearing from the side of the company is that the present dispute is not an industrial dispute. Shri Moitra on behalf of the company has submitted that the present union does not represent the workmen of the company. He has, of course, admitted that there is no substantive evidence on the side of the company to say that the workmen f the company do not belong to the Glass Blowers' Union or that there is no such union in the company. . W. 1 has stated that he worked in the company and hat he is a member of the union. He has produced ertain receipts showing payment of subscriptions given o the union. P. W. 2, another worker of the company, as stated that he is also a member of the union. He as also produced certain receipts showing his membership. P. W. 5 has also stated that he is a member of he union for several years. Similarly, P. W. 6, P. W. 7 nd P. W. 8 have stated that they are the members of he Glass Blowers' Union. P W. 9 is one of the workers nentioned in the order of reference. He has also stated hat he is also a member of the union. He has further tated that almost all the employees of the company were members of the union. P. W. 3 is the Assistant Secretary of the Union. His evidence is that the union epresents 44 Glass Blowers factories. Admittedly, he company before me is also a Glass Blowers factory. The evidence of this witness is that for the last 6 or 7 ears the union has been representing the workers of the company. From his evidence we get that 60 or 70 workers are employed by the company and hat out of those, about 58 or 60 workmen are members of the union. He has also produced a Membership Register of the union which has been marked Ext.6. O. P W. 3 is the Manager of the Company. Nowhere in his evidence does he say that no worker of the company belongs to the Glass Blowers' Union. O. P. W. 4 is an employee of the company. This witness does not also say that the union does not represent the workmen of the company or that none of the workers is a member of this union O. P W. 5 is another employee. He also does not challenge the status of the union. On consideration of the evidence on record adduced on the side of the union, both oral and documentary, and in the absence of any evidence to the contrary, on the side of the company, I hold that an appreciable number of workmen of the company were members of the union and that the union has authority and status to represent the workmen of the company. Shri Moitra, however, is conscious about the absence of evidence on the side of the company. His only argument on this point is that there were two previous references before this Tribunal wherein the union and the company were the parties and that in those two references this Tribunal held that the union had no locus standi to represent the case of the workmen of the company. The contention of Shri Moitra is that the question of representation by the union is hit by the principles of res judicata. The awards of the previous two references have been marked Ext. G and Ext. G(1). Admittedly, in those two references the company and their workmen represented by the union were parties. Ext. G(1) is an award relating to a different dispute between the company and their workmen and the said reference was made by an order of the Government, dated 30th September 1963. Ext. G is an award relating to a dispute between the company and its workmen in respect of a different issue arising out of an order of the government, dated 12th March 1964. The said previous two references related to two different issues over some occurrence that took place at two different points of time. There can be no doubt whatsoever that the present reference before me is concerned with a new issue over some event occuring at a subsequent time. Of course, in the previous two references in order to ascertain whether the disputes were industrial disputes, this Tribunal considered the evidence adduced on that point, and the finding was that the disputes were not industrial disputes as there was no sufficient and reliable evidence to prove that the union represented the workmen of the company. I think Shri Moitra's contention about res judicata in the present case is misconceived and unacceptable. First of all, the issues in the three references are quite distinct. Next, the occurrences for which the disputes arose for the three references are also quite different. Lastly, the Tribunal is to see whether at the relevant time when the alleged occurrences took place and for which the reference has been made, the union supporting the case of the workmen really represented the workmen and is still representing them in the present issue. It is not unreasonable to hold that a particular union represented the workmen of a particular company at some particular time, but it does not mean that the union should for all the time to come will represent the workmen. It may similarly happen that the union might not have represented the workmen of a particular company previously but subsequently it represented the said workmen. In this view of the matter it cannot be stated that as this Tribunal in earlier references found that there was no sufficient evidence to hold that the union represented the workmen of the company, in the present reference also without considering the evidence on record the Tribunal should blindly follow the earlier decision on the question of representation. The circumstances have changed and reliable evidence has been adduced in the present case. In this connection I am to consider Ext. 3, the copy of the memorandum of settlement on a dispute between Messrs. Eastern Traders Syndicate and their workmen represented by the Glass Blowers' Union. This settlement is dated 20th January 1965, two days before the filing of the written statement by the company in this case. From the perusal of this document it is clear that even in August 1964, the union raised a dispute on behalf of the workmen of the company and that the dispute was ultimately settled on 20th January 1965. There is no manner of doubt that the company admitted the union as the representative body on behalf of the workmen This settlement is admitted from the side of the company at the time of argument. It has not been denied from the side of the company during the evidence. The story of the company that the union does not represent the workmen of the company is unacceptable. Shri Moitra on behalf of the company has been asked by me to explain this Ext. 3. But he has avoided by saying that Ext. 3 should not have been considered by this Tribunal. In the facts and circumstances I, therefore, hold that in the present case the union has locus standi to represent the workmen of the company and that the workmen of the company are members of the union. I am also satisfied that the present dispute is an industrial dispute and that the question of res judicata does not arise in the present case. From the side of the company the case reported in 1961, F. L. R Vol. II, Part 7 at page 362 has been relied upon but that case does not apply in the facts and circumstances of the case before me.

The next point that has been canvassed from the side of the company is that the reference is not maintainable as the factory of the company is not in existence. It has been argued by Shri Moitra that the factory has been closed after the dismissal of the workmen in question in 1964. P. W. 3, the Assistant Secretary of the Union, has stated that the company is still functioning at 6 Muralidhar Sen Lane, Calcutta, and that it entered into an agreement with the union. The copy of the agreement is admittedly Ext. 3. As against the evidence of the union there is no reliable evidence on the side of the company to prove the non-existence of the company. O. P. W. 3 is Shri Ajit Kumar Das who was the Manager. Nowhere does he say that the company or the business has been closed down or that the factory is no longer in existence. O. P. W. 4 who was an employee of the company has made an attempt to say that the factory is not there. This statement has not been supported by any reliable corroboration. On receipt of this reference from the Government, notices were issued to the parties and it appears from the acknowledgment receipt that the company received the notice of this reference on 26th September 1964. The letter was admittedly addressed to the Eastern Traders Syndicate at 6 Muralidhar Sen Lane. There is no evidence to say when actuallly, if at all, the company was closed down or when the factory bacame non-existence. On the other hand, Ext. 3 clearly shows that even on 20th January 1965 the company entered into an agreement with the union representing its workmen and that in Ext. 3 the address of the company has been given. Ext. 3 clearly shows that even in January 1965 the company was in existence. I hold that the story of non-existence of the company or factory is unacceptable.

It has been next argued from the side of the company that the issue mentioned in the order of reference is not appropriate in the facts and circumstances of this case and, therefore, the workmen are not entitled to any relief. It has been contended that the nine workmen mentioned in the order of reference were dismissed from service but in the order of reference the issue does not relate to dismissal from service. Refusal of employment has been made the issue in the present case. Shri Moitra wants to say that dismissal is not the same as refusal, and as the workmen have been dismissed, this Tribunal cannot consider the question of refusal of employment because, in fact, no refusal of employment has been made by the company. I cannot also accept this line of argument of Shri Moitra. According to Chambers Dictionary "refuse" means "to decline to give or take". According to Oxford Dictionary "refuse" means "reject". The word "refusal" naturally means act of refusing. The word "employ" according to the Chambers Dictionary means "to give work to" and according to the Oxford Dictionary it means "to keep at work" or "use service of". The "employment", therefore, means act of employing. "Dismiss" according to the Oxford Dictionary mean "discharge" or "release". According to the Chambers Dictionary "dismiss" means "to remove from employment" or "reject". Let us now see the case of the parties before me. The union says that along with the notice, dated 31st January 1964, the nine workmen were intimated that they would not be given further work and since then the workmen were not given any work by the company. The company did not hold any enquiry into the charges and the workmen were not given any opportunity to defend themselves. It has been stated by the union that the workmen concerned have been thrown out of employment due to illegal and high-handed action of the company. The union has, therefore, prayed that the workmen may be reinstated with all back wages. The company, on the other hand, has stated in the written statement that the workmen committed misconduct and they were placed under suspension on and from 31st January 1964 pending disposal of the charge-sheets. Ultimately, the company dismissed them by a letter, dated 19th February 1964. It is clear that the case of the union is that the workmen have not been allowed to work and that they have been thrown out of employment. On consideration of the meanings given in the dictionaries and the stories set up by the parties before me, I do not find any distinction between "refusal of employment" and "dismissal from service". Practically speaking, they convey the same meaning in the facts and circumstances of the present case. I will certainly consider the cases of the respective parties with reference to the evidence adduced before me, and I will certainly consider whether the refusal of employment by the company in respect of the nine workmen either by way of dismissal or suspension or otherwise is justified. The issue as framed in the order of reference is in order, and the reference is maintainable.

The last submission from the side of the company is that on merits also the dismissal of the charge-sheeted persons should be held justified. Admittedly there was no enquiry. It has been contended by both the sides that in the absence of domestic enquiry this Tribunal should see whether the charges framed against the delinquents have been proved. Ext. 8 is the copy of the order of acquittal passed against the eight of the charge-sheeted persons by the Presidency Magistrate in a case started by Shri Ajit Das. The charges were under sections 323, 325 and 504 of the Indian Penal Code. The order relates to some offences under the Penal Code. Both the sides have agreed about the proposition of law that the charges framed against the delinquents may be enquired into in spite of the order of discharge or the order of acquittal passed by any Magistrate in any Criminal Court. In the present case the charge framed against the workmen involved in the case will appear in Ext. F. In short, the allegation is that the workmen entered into the office of the Manager, Shri Ajit Das, while the latter was on duty and abused and assaulted him. Ext. F is the letter of complaint signed by Shri Das. This is dated 31st January 1964, the date of occurrence. Ext. E also is dated 31st January 1964. The replies to the charge-sheet given by the workmen will appear in Ext. D series. Some of the delinquents alleged that it was Shri Das who had assaulted them when the workmen went to have discussion with him regarding some grievances. However, all the workmen denied the allegations that they committed any misconduct. O. P. W. 1 is the Assistant Sub-Inspector of Calcutta Police who on 31st January 1964 at about 3.20 p.m. recorded a General Diary about a telephonic information he received. The General Diary has been marked exhibit. This witness sent the Head Constable to the place of incident. This witness has further stated that at about 4.45 p.m. the Head Constable came back with Ajit Das and he recorded a further entry. That entry has also been exhibited. O. P. W. 2 is the Head Constable. He says that he went to the Company's office and found Ajit Das in his office. Several books were lying here and there. He also noticed broken glasses and he took Shri Das to the thana and an injury was found on the left eye of Shri Das. O. P. W. 3 is the Manager himself. He has named the workmen in question as the persons who entered into the office one after another and surrounded him. He has further stated that Gopal Sil abused him and slapped him on his left cheek. His further evidence is that Kanailal Kabashi fisted him near his left eye causing bleeding injury. He was unconscious for some time. Kishore Chakraborty, Girin Chakraborty and Ramani Dey gave first aid to him. He was taken to the thana and sent to the Medical College Hospital. He attended the Emergency Department and he has proved the hospital ticket, marked Ext. J. He was also examined by the Surgical Department and the relevant ticket is Ext. J/1. He was also examined at the Orthopaedic Department of the Hospital. The ticket is marked Ext. J/2. Ext. J/2 shows that Shri Das was advised strapping of chest. O. P. W. 3 has stated that plastering was done. O. P. W. 4 is Krishna Kishore Chakraborty who has supported O. P. W. 3 on material particulars. Similarly Girin Chakraborty has corroborated the story of Shri Das. On the side of the union eight of the workmen in question have been examined. P. W. 1 is Provat Ranjan Saha. He says that he does not know anything about any incident regarding Shri Das alleged to have taken place on 31st January 1964. His evidence is that Shri Das did not start any criminal case against him. Krishna Kishore Chakraborty and Girin Chakraborty have named Shri Saha as one of the miscreants. I find nothing to disbelieve them. In Ext. F, the letter of complaint written on the date of incident, shows that Shri Saha was one of the miscreants. He was charge-sheeted on the very day. I reject the evidence of P. W. 1 . P. W 2 is Gopal Sil. He has denied the allegation that he along with others surrounded Shri Das and assaulted him. No independent evidence has supported him as against the witnesses examined by the company. It is to be noted that in the reply to the charge-sheet he stated a story that Shri Das assaulted one Jnan Babu and abused him when Gopal Sil was discussing with Shri Das. During evidence, however, Shri Sil does not say anything about such story. P. W. 4 is Kanailal Kabashi. He has denied the allegations made in the charge-sheet. He does not say anything about any incident of 31st January 1964. P. W. 5, Santi Ranjan Das, has stated that the allegations appearing in the charge-sheet were false. He is also silent about the incident that took place on 31st January 1964. Bomkesh Saha, P. W. 6, has made similar statement. He has denied the suggestion that he surrounded Shri Das and assaulted him. Benoy Krishna Paul, P. W. 7, has given vague evidence like other workmen. P. W. 8, Sudhir Das, has made similar statement. The last witness of the Union is P. W. 9, Dhirendra Nath Sarkar, one of the charge-sheeted workmen. He does not now remember what he had stated in reply to the letter, dated 5th February 1964. He has, however, said that the allegations made in the charge-sheet were false. On consideration of the oral evidences of all the witnesses examined by the Union and the company, I am convinced that the witnesses on the side of the union have suppressed truth. Some of the workmen who set up a story of assault by Shri Das on some workmen on 31st January 1964 have now given evidence before me posing as if they are not aware of any incident taking place on 31st January 1964. They have given a good-bye to the previous story. They now want to say that they were not at all present in the office of Shri Das on 31st January 1964. I find that the injury of Shri Das was severe and the same would not have been caused by any scuffle. It has been proved that delinquents came in-a-body to the office of Shri Das with common intention and, in fact, the assault was made on Shri Das acting under the same and common intention of all the charge-sheeted persons. It is clear, therefore, that all the nine persons were guily of the charge. The witnesses wanted to say that they did not receive any letter of dismissal. The letter of dismissal is Ext. B. Ext. B-1, Ext. B-2 and Ext. B-3 will show that the letters of dismissal were sent under the certificate of posting. The correctness of the addresses given has not been challenged before me. I have no doubt that the letters of dismissal in due course reached to the charge-sheeted workmen.

On giving my best consideration to the facts and circumstances of this case, I hold that the dismissal of the nine workmen, that is to say refusal of employment to these persons by the company, was justified, proper and legal. The workmen, therefore, are not entitled to any relief. Before I part with this award I should mention one fact In the order of reference Probodh Ranjan Saha has been named in sl. No. 8 Provat Ranjan Saha is the correct name not Probodh Ranjan Saha. From the evidence of this witness it is clear that the name Probodh Ranjan Saha mentioned in the order of reference is a palpable mistake for Provat Ranjan Saha. The union has known this mistake and Provat Ranjan Saha has been examined before me. The company, however, has not raised any objection with regard to this name. In the circumstances I hold that this type of clerical mistake may be over-looked.

In view of my findings above, I decide the present reference against the workmen.

The relevant case of the Union as set forth in its written statement and pressed at the hearing is briefly as follows :

The concerned workmen were first appointed in the Motor Department of the Company's factory at Ghore Bibi Lane, Calcutta-11, on different dates in 1957, as shown in paragraph 1 of the written statement, and all of them excepting Barkhu (serial No. x) were piece-rated workers. Barkhu was a monthly-rated worker with daily wages of Rs. 2.87. The piece-rated workers were earning Rs. 7.00 to Rs. 8.50 per day as minimum. They were getting production bonus every month and also annual bonus amounting to not less than one month's wages before Durga Puja. They were also enjoying the privilege of annual increment according to the system of the factory. They were and are members of the Orient Fan Mazdoor Union. They were covered by an agreement, dated 30th August 1959, between Orient General Industries Ltd., 6 Ghore Bibi Lane, Calcutta, and their workmen represented by Orient Fan Mazdoor Union. In November 1959, the Management decided to shift the Motor Department to a new site at 111/1 Barrackpore Trunk Road, and all workmen of the Motor Department in the factory at Ghore Bibi Lane, including the present concerned workers were directed to report for duty at the new factory with effect from 1st December 1959. The workers accordingly reported for duty in the new factory and since then they are working here. All the workmen who were sent to the new factory for work remained the workmen of Orient General Industries Ltd., 6 Ghore Bibi Lane, for all purposes. They were granted a daily travelling allowance of 50 nP per head for the change of their working place from Ghore Bibi Lane factory to the new factory at Barrackpore Trunk Road. A new Management developed at the new factory and the new Management claimed itself to be completely separate from the Management conducting the business at 6 Ghore Bibi Lane. After the transfer of the workmen of the Motor Department to the new factory, certain existing privileges enjoyed by them were gradually curtailed inspite of protests from them. Piece-rated workers were put on daily rates, which resulted in reduction of their earning. They were deprived of production bonus. Moreover, bonus equivalent to one month's wages paid to them in the year 1960 was subsequently deducted from their wages. In view of this curtailment of their existing privileges, disputes were raised by the workmen and the present concerned workmen took initiative and lead in raising the disputes before the Labour Commissioner. This enraged the Management, which tried to get rid of the concerned workmen by way of victimisation. In pursuance of the policy of victimisation, the new Management charge-sheeted all the present concerned workmen, excepting serial Nos. (ix) Habibar Rahman and (x) Barkhu on 16th November 1961 for slowing down production. The charge was completely false, concocted and mala fide. The workmen replied to the charge-sheets denying the charge. Then on 19th February 1962 the new Management again charge-sheeted all the present workmen excepting serial No. (i) Jadulal Bhaumick, for sleeping on duty. This charge was completely false concocted and mala fide. The workmen replied to the charge-sheets denying the charge. Thereafter, the new Management dismissed all the concerned workmen with effect from 13th February 1962 on the basis of the aforesaid charges without any enquiry and in violation of the principles of natural justice. The dismissals were all illegal, mala fide, vindictive and without jurisdiction.

The Company has filed its written statement in reply to the Union's written statement. The relevant case put forward by the Company and pressed at the hearing may be briefly summarised as follows.

The concerned workmen were employed in the Motor Department of the factory at Ghore Bibi Lane and they were appointed in 1957. It is not denied that the concerned workmen are working in the new factory at Barrackpore Trunk Road since 1st December 1959, but it is alleged that this Management has no knowledge to under what circumstances the notice regarding ifting them to the new factory for work was given. is also denied that after they were shifted to the arrackpore Trunk Road factory for work, the conrned workmen also remained workmen of the factory Ghore Bibi Lane for all purposes. It is admitted at after the shifting they were given 50 paise per ad, but it is denied that this amount was given on ccount of travelling allowance and it is alleged that his amount was given as personal allowance for attendnce at the new factory. The factory at Barrackpore runk Road, Baranagore, started as a new establishnent for manufacture of motors, dynamos, etc. and he name and style of the factory is Orient General ndustries Ltd., Factory No. 2. The concerned workmen joined the factory as new employees so far as he present Management was concerned and they ccepted the terms offered to them by this Managenent, save and except that their past services were ecognised by giving credit for the period of their ervice in the Ghore Bibi Lane factory. So far as the lleged agreement between the Orient General Indusries Ltd., 6 Ghore Bibi Lane, Calcutta-11, and their workmen represented by Orient Fan Mazdoor Union is concerned, the execution of the agreement is admitted by the Company. It is denied that gradually a new Management developed in the present factory at Baranagore and it is contended that this establishment has no unity of management or control with the factory at 6 Ghore Bibi Lane and this factory functions separately and independently as a separate unit under Orient General Industries Ltd., 6 Ghore Bibi Lane, Calcutta. The Management of this factory is from the very inception of the factory a separate and independent unit from the management of the factory of Ghore Bibi Lane. There was no curtailment of the existing privileges of the workmen of the Motor Department, as alleged by the Union in its written statement. It is not correct to say that the workmen were put on daily rates with the result that their earnings were reduced. The allegation that the concerned workmen were deprived of production bonus is neither admitted nor denied. It is also contended that during the Puja holidays, some money was paid as advance, not as bonus, in order to provide the workmen with more credit facilities for the Puja celebration and this advance was realised from the workmen in accordance with the terms upon which it was paid. It is denied that the concerned workmen took initiative and lead in the matter of raising disputes before the Labour Commissioner regarding curtailment of their existing privileges. The Company was never motivated by any spirit of victimisation and had never recourse to anything unfair or illegal against the concerned workmen. The charges of slowing down production and sleeping on duty contained in the charge-sheets, dated 16th November 1961 and 19th February 1962, were not false, vindictive, mala fide and concocted, as alleged by the Union. The workmen were not dismissed without any enquiry and in violation of the principles of natural justice, as alleged by the Union and the dismissals were not illegal, mala fide and vindictive. The Management acted legally and within its authority in dismissing the workman and the dismissals were justified and bona fide. The Union and the concerned workmen are not entitled to any relief.

I first take up the case of 8 concerned workmen, serial Nos. i to vi, viii and xi, in connection with the charge of "going slow" against them. According to the Company one joint enquiry was held regarding the charge of "going slow" in respect of these workmen and two others, who are not covered by the present reference. I leave out for the present serial No. (vii) Sachin Nath Sarkar, who was admittedly not a party to the alleged joint enquiry of 24th November 1961. His case is to be dealt with separately. The charge-sheets for going slow are admitted by the workmen and they are covered by Exts. 2, 4, 6, 8, 10, 12, 14, 16 and 20 on the Company's side and Exts. C series on the Union's side. There was a joint reply to the charge-sheets by all the concerned workmen. The reply is Ext. 32/D1. The charge-sheets were dated 16th November 1961 and the joint reply was submitted on 20th November 1961. Each charge-sheet was accompanied by a comparative statement purporting to show slowing down of production by the concerned workmen during the period of slow down mentioned in the charge-sheet. In the joint reply (Ext. 32/D(1), the workmen denied that they had slowed down work and challeged the production figures given in the statements attached to the charge-sheets as completely incorrect and contended that the Company deliberately quoted false figures in order to make out cases against the workmen. Exts. F, F(2) to F(9) are the notices issued to the workmen for the enquiry proposed to be held on 24th November 1961. These notices have not been disputed. In the notices it was stated that Shri D. Mukherjee, Development Engineer, would hold the enquiry. In the written statement filed on behalf of the Union, there is clear denial of any enquiry on 24th November 1961. I am however, satisfied from the evidence that really an enquiry regarding the charge-sheets for going slow against the aforesaid 8 concerned workmen, and two others not covered by the present reference, was really held on 24th November 1961 by Shri Dilip Mukherjee. P.Ws. 4 to 6 Shri Bimal Kumar Chakravarty (Sl. No. iii), Shri Monilal Das (Sl. No. viii) and Shri Naresh Chandra Das (Sl. No. xi), are the only three concerned workmen covered by charge-sheetes for going slow who have given evidence in the present case and there are indications in their evidence that Shri Dilip Mukherjee held some enquiry concerning their charge-sheet for going slow. They have not, however, admitted that there was a thorough enquiry with opportunities given to them to defend themselves against the charges, as alleged by the Company. P.W.4 Shri Bimal Kumar Chakrabartty has made the following statements regarding the enquiry: "No enquiry was held regarding the charge-sheets. Only Shri Dilip Mukherjee, Engineer of our Department, came to us one day and asked whether we were giving less production and doing less work. Shri Birla and Shri Khemka came to our Department, but they did not give evidence. * * * Dilip Mukherjee wrote something in some papers in English and asked us to sign the papers saying that our matters would be settled. We signed the papers at his words, though we did not know English. * * * 10 workmen were present when Dilip Babu came. * * * Dilip Babu had some oral talks with us, but he did not record anything then. Subsequently, he came with some written papers." P.W. 5 Shri Manilal Das has made the following statements in his evidence: "After we submitted our replies, Dilip Babu came one day to the factory and asked us why the production was falling and we denied that we had slowed down work. After this, he came to us with a written paper and asked us to sign it saying that it would be for our benefit We signed the paper at his word." P.W. 6 Naresh Chandra Das has the following statements in his evidence: "Dilip Babu came to our Department for enquiry. No other worker of the Company gave evidence before Dilip Ganguly (?) Mukherjee that we had slowed down work. * * * I signed some papers produced by Dilip Mukherjee". It is clear from the statements of the aforesaid witnesses that Dilip Babu did hold some sort of enquiry and they put their signatures in some papers produced by Dilip Babu. As against this, there is the clear evidence of Dilip Mukherjee (O.P.W.1) and he has testified that he held the enquiry from 24th November 1961 to 27th November 1961 with a break on 26th November 1961, and all the 10 workmen attended the enquiry proceedings on these dates and the statements of witnesses and other proceedings of the enquiry were dictated by him to one Shri Sharma who recorded them in longhand, and then he (the E.O.) signed on every page and the workmen also signed the proceedings. He is supported by the recorded enquiry proceedings, Ext. H, which show that the 8 concerned workmen whose cases are now being discussed, attended the enquiry proceedings and put their signatures in the recorded proceedings and evidence, both oral and documentary, were produced on behalf of the Company and this evidence was recorded and the Company's main witness, Shri Durgadas Karmakar, the Supervisor of the concerned Department, was cross-examined by a number of concerned workmen. The recorded proceedings also show that the Company's evidence was recorded first and then the concerned workmen were examined and their statements were recorded and they were cross-examined by the Company's representative. It further appears that the Company's production books for the relevant period now marked Ext. I series were produced at the enquiry and were thoroughly checked by the E.O. with reference to the production statements supplied to the workmen along with the charge-sheets in presence of the concerned workmen and according to him, the production statements supplied along with the charge-sheets were correct except in respect of one item relating to Chakradhar Behara (Serial No. iv). Durgadas Karmakar, the Supervisor of the concerned department, was practically the main witness for the Company at the enquiry. He has also given evidence before this Tribunal. He has also stated in his present evidence that Dilip Babu held the enquiry regarding the charge-sheets for going slow. I have no hesitation to hold upon the evidence produced before this Tribunal concerning the holding of the enquiry from 24th November 1961 to 27th November 1961 in respect of aforesaid 8 concerned workmen regarding the charge-sheets for going slow that the enquiry was held after due notice to the concerned workmen and in their presence and with their participation and they were given full opportunity to defend themselves against the charges and it was a thorough and scrutinising enquiry fully in consonance with the principles of natural justice. The admitted signatures of the concerned workmen in the recorded enquiry proceedings is an important fact supporting the position that the enquiry was held as per the recorded proceedings. I am unable to believe the present explanation of the workmen that though no enquiry was held they put their signatures on some papers produced by the E.O. at his word. The plea is unnatural and highly improbable. Ext. H(1) is the enquiry report containing the findings of the E.O. According to the E.O the concerned workmen showed fall in production and they took considerably more time in doing some particular works than what they used to take before adopting 'go slow' tactics. He has given reasons in support of his finding in his report. This finding has been challenged as perverse and baseless on behalf of the workmen before me. My attention has been drawn to the statement of Durgadas Karmakar (O.P.W.3) the Supervisor of the concerned Department, in his evidence before this Tribunal to the effect that there is no circular or notice fixing the quota of production of the workers on daily rates, and it has been contended that when there is no fixed quota of production of the workers on daily rates, there was no ground whatsoever for accusing these workmen of going slow. Durgadas Karmakar has also made the statement that the standard of outturn is assessed by taking the average work done by each workman. It appears in the present case that the charge of going slow was preferred against these workmen on the basis that compared to their previous production, they were taking much more time in executing particular jobs during the period covered by the charges against them. In other words the basis of the charge of go-slow was increase in average time taken by the workmen in executing a particular job. In my view, if it is found that a particular workman is consuming much more time in executing a particular job for a particular period as compared with the time of execution of the same job by him for a previous period, there may be sufficient ground for saying that he has gone slow and if it is found that it is not an isolated case of a particular workman but a number of workmen have similarly gone slow, there may be reasonable ground for believing that a particular body of workmen has deliberately decided upon a "go slow" policy resulting in the lowering of production. Accordingly, I cannot dismiss the charge of going slow against these workmen straightaway as perverse and baseless simply because of the admission of Shri Durgadas Karmakar that there is no fixed standard of outturn of work for each workmen. As to the average time taken by the concerned worker in executing a particular job before and after the go-slow period, the Company has relied upon the production registers, Exts. I series. I have already indicated above that the E.O. checked the registers with reference to the production statements attached to the charge-sheets and found them correct, except in the case of one item relating to Chakradhar Behara. I see no reason to disbelieve the production registers, Exts. I series and the evidence of the E.O. The Union has made a strong plea that the production registers are not the only documents of production, but during the relevant period, a job card used to be maintained for each workman and the job card showed the day to day work of each workman but the Company has deliberately withheld the job cards, because if produced, the job cards would falsify the production registers. P.W. 3 Shri Bimal Chandra Chakrabarty has produced the job card (Ext. 50), stating that this is his job card signed by Jogneswar Mitra. Jogneswar Mitra is the Head Mistri of the Department. On behalf of the Company, it is strenuously denied that at the relevant period there was any system of issuing job cards to the workmen. In a joint letter, dated 23rd November 1961 [Ext. G(1)], the workmen demanded some documents from the Company including job cards. The Company replied in its letters (Exts.

G(2) to G(ii)) that all relevant documents would be produced at the enquiry. After this, job cards were first mentioned in the Union's affidavit for production of documents by the Company filed before this Tribunal on 15th July 1963. The Company, in its reply, denied existence of job cards during the relevant period. The affidavit was sowrn by one Brojomohan Prosad, who described himself as the Assistant Welfare Officer of this factory. The Union's affidavit for documents was sowrn on 15th July 1963 and the Company 's affidavit in reply was sowrn on 25th July 1963. There was no reference to the job card in their joint reply to the charge-sheet and there was also no reference to the job card in the written statement of the Union filed in the present case. This omission is, to my mind, very significant and takes away much ground from the strong reliance now placed by the workmen on the alleged job cards for the relevant period. The Union filed a long list of documents upon which it intended to reply on 23rd April 1963. But, there was no mention of any job card at all in this list, though now one job card is produced and relied upon as a very important document on the side of the Union and for the withholding of which the Company is charged with mala fide concealment of its won material document. I have examined the job card, Ext. 50, produced by Bimal Chakrabarty when he was giving evidence on 8th January 1964. It is very significant that no other job card has been produced by any other workman examined as a witness and there is no explanation for this. After having regard to all the aforesaid facts and circumstances, I am unable to accept the job card (Ext. 50) produced for the first time by Bimal Chakrabarty when he was giving evidence as a reliable and bona fide document and I am unable to hold on the basis of this job card that the Company has withheld the job cards which were really in vogue during the relevant period. In my view, the Company's documents of production cannot be held to be believed simply because of the production of the alleged job card, Ext. 50.

It appears from the evidence of Shri Durgadas Karmakar that the workers started to go slow in works since June or July 1961, and they were at first verbally spoken to about the matter by him and then when this produced no effect, warning letters were issued to them. Exts. G (12) to G (19) are the warning letters all dated 7th July 1961. The Company issued the charge-sheets for "going slow" on 16th November 1961. It cannot be said, therefore, that the Company suddenly and abruptly conceived the idea of issuing charge-sheets to these workmen for going slow in work. No doubt, it is an undisputed position that these workmen were formerly employed in the Company's Narkeldanga factory (Ghore Bibi Lane factory) and from there, they are transferred to Baranagore factory and some disputes arose between the Company and the Union about the applicability of all the terms and conditions of service in Narkeldanga factory to their service in Baranagore factory and some of these disputes were carried up to the Labour Directorate and ultimately referred for adjudicaton. In fact, one such adjudication is also pending before this Tribunal. Raising of industrial disputes is not an unnatural or abnormal matter nowadays and it cannot at once be said that the Company is actuated by a mala fide motive of victimisation simply because some industrial disputes are raised by workmen through their Union. Apart from this general position, there is no sufficient evidence before me from which I can hold definitely that the concerned workmen took any leading, active or aggressive part in relation to the disputes which arose between the Company and its workmen after their transfer from Narkeldanga factory to Baranagore factory. None of the concerned workmen appears to be occupying any responsible official position in the Union. There is, therefore, no sufficient ground for holding that the Company was actuated by any mala fide motive against the workmen because of the disputes which arose between the Company and its workmen after their transfer from Narkeldanga to Baranagore factory and so, the Company hit upon a plan of victimising these workmen and the charge-sheets for going slow were issued against them in line with this plan. The Company cannot be accused of want of good faith in respect of the charge-sheets or the enquiries held in respect of them. I have already held above that the enquiries were held in the presence and with the participation of the workmen and the procedure adopted was substantially in accordance with the principles of natural justice. The E. O. found the workmen guilty of the charges and this finding was materially based upon the production registers (Ext. I series). I have gone through the enquiry proceedings. I have already referred to the fact that the E. O. examined and verified the production registeres with reference to the copies of production statements issued with the charge-sheets and excepting the case of one item relating to Chakradhar Behara, he found agreement between the production statements and the production registers. After giving a careful consideration to the proceedings of the enquiry and the materials produced before the E. O. and also after carefully perusing his enquiry report I cannot but hold that he had sufficient materials before him for holding the charges as proved against the concerned workmen and his view of the materials placed before him or his final conclusion cannot be said to be baseless or perverse.

In consideration of all the facts and circumstances discussed above, I finally hold that the Company was not guilty of want of good faith or any motive or spirit of victimisation or unfair labour practice in issuing the charge-sheets for going slow against the workmen and following up the charge-sheets with a domestic enquiry and that the enquiries was held fairly and properly in accordance with the principles of natural justice without any basic error and the conclusion reached by the E. O. on the basis of the enquiry was not baseless or perverse. In view of these findings, this Tribunal must accept the result of the enquiry and consequently the dismissals of the concerned workmen on the basis of the enquiries as proper and and justified. This finding covers the cases of workmen who were dismissed as a result of the enquiry regarding the charge-sheets for going slow which started on 24th November 1961 and continued up to 27th November 1961 and these are all the workmen charge-sheeted for going slow, except Sachin Sarkar (sl. No. vii). In other words, the concerned workmen covered by the above finding are workmen bearing sl. Nos. (i) to (vi), (viii) and (xi).

I now take up the case of Sachin Sarkar (sl. No. vii) in respect of the charge of going slow against him.

Ext. T is his charge-sheet with production statements, Exts. T(1) and T(2). Ext. 32/D (1) is the joint explanation in respect of this charge submitted by him and 8 other similarly charged workmen whose cases have already been dealt with above. It is an admitted position that the notice to this workmen regarding the enquiry fixed for 24th November 1961 could not be served upon him and so he did not appear at the enquiry held on 24th November 1961 to 27th November 1961. Ext. A is a copy of the notice to this workman informing him that the enquiry regarding him would be held on 11th January 1962 by one Shri B. K. Bhattacharjee. Ext. P(2) is the workman's reply to this letter asking for postponement of the enquiry proposed to be held on 11th January 1961. The Company by its reply, dated 11th January 1962 (Ext. B), informed the workman that in compliance with his request, the enquiry was adjourned to 13th January 1962 and would be held on that day. The workman received this letter, but in reply [Ext. P(1)], he again asked for postponement of the enquiry. It is to be noted that this workman had been asking for postponement of the enquiry on the ground that he had not yet got necessary papers. The Company by its letter, dated 13th January 1962 [Ext. A (1)] finally informed the workman that it was not prepared to postpone the enquiry any further stating that the charge-sheet, dated 16th November 1961, had been received by him on 17th November 1961 and he would be given ample opportunity to scrutinise the documents and relevant papers in connection with the charge at the enquiry and to cross-examine the witnesses for the Company, if any, and accordingly advised the workman to attend the enquiry fixed for 13th January 1962. In these circumstances, the enquiry was held on 13th January 1962 by Shri H. R. Saboo (P. W. 5), an officer of the Company. The workman did not appear at the enquiry. The enquiry officer, Shri H. R. Saboo waited for the appearance of the workman who was at that time working in the factory and finally, he sent the slip [Ext. M (2)], to the Supervisor of the Department, Shri Durgadas Karmakar, requesting the Supervisor to send the workman to him for the enquiry. Durgadas Karmakar (O. P. W. 3) has testified that he got the slip from Shri Saboo, but the workman refused to attend the enquiry and so he returned the slip with an endorsement to that effect. Ext. M(2) contains an endorsement to the effect that the workman refused to attend the enquiry. After this, the enquiry was held ex-parte by Shri Saboo and was concluded on the same day. Ext. X is the recorded enquiry proceedings and Ext. X(1) is the enquiry report. By a letter, dated 15th January 1962, the workman protested against the conduct of the Management and asserted that if any enquiry was held ex-parte it would be illegal, mala fide, without justification and not binding upon him. It is now contended on behalf of this workman that the Company was not at all justified in holding the enquiry on 13th January 1962 ex-parte and the enquiry was not at all fair and proper and in consonance with the principles of natural justice. No doubt the holding of a domestic enquiry ex-parte is an exceptional procedure, but the Company has the right to hold an enquiry ex-parte if the concerned workman after being duly notified of the date of the enquiry fails to attend it without any sufficient reason. It is not the law that the Company cannot hold a domestic enquiry ex-parte in any circumstances whatsoever. It is to be judged from the facts and circumstances of the present case whether the Company was justified in holding the enquiry ex-parte. I have stated above facts preceding the ex-parte enquiry held on 13th January 1962. It is to be noted that this workman was not included in the domestic enquiry of 24th November 1961, which was held in respect of the other workmen charge-sheeted for going slow, because the notice of that enquiry was not served upon this workman. Thereafter, the Company fixed 11th January 1962 for holding the enquiry and this was more than two months after the first enquiry which was held on 24th November 1961. But, as the workman again asked for postponement of the enquiry, the Company adjourned the enquiry to 13th January 1961 with due notice to him, but the workman did not appear before the enquiry officer on 13th January 1962 inspite of being called by a slip sent through his departmental Superviser. The only reason urged by this workman for postponement of the enquiry from the beginning was that he had not got necessary papers. I think there is no substance in this reason. If all the other workmen charge-sheeted for the same offence of going slow could participate in the enquiry held more than two months earlier on 24th November 1961 without any objection or demur, I fail to understand why this workman was not in a position to be present and to participate in the enquiry held regarding him much later on 13th January 1962. In the letters asking for postponement, the papers non-receipt of which was put forward as the ground for postponement were not indicated and specified. In his evidence before this Tribunal also, the same workman Sachin Sarkar (P.W.1) has failed to clearly indicate and specify the papers for want of which he was not in a position to face the enquiry on 13th January 1962. After giving due consideration to the aforesaid facts and circumstances, I hold that this workman had no sufficient reason to stay away from the enquiry held on 13th January 1962, and his conduct amounted to daliberately abstaining from appearing at the enquiry inspite of being duly notified and also called for the enquiry and the Company was, therefore, fully justified and within its legal rights in holding the enquiry ex-parte and such an enquiry must be held to be not against any principle of natural justice. The enquiry, therefore, must be considered on its merits and its result, if accepted, must be binding upon this workman. The enquiry was held by Shri H. R. Saboo, an officer of the Company. I am fully satisfied from his evidence considered along with the recorded enquiry proceedings, Ext. X, that he adhered to the principles of natural justice in holding the enquiry by taking full evidence, oral and documentary, produced by the Company in support of the charge against this workman and this evidence was similar to and on the lines of the evidence produced at the enquiry held from 24th November 1961 to 27th November 1961 in respect of the 8 other similarly charge-sheeted workmen. Ext. X (1) is the enquiry report. I find that at this enquiry too, the production registers of the Company, Ext. I series, were produced and scrutinised by the E. O. with reference to the production statements annexed to the charge-sheet and he found agreement between them excepting in respect of two entries. According to him, the timings noted in these two entries in the production statements were not found incorrect, inasmuch as, the timings were noted as less than the actual timings [vide paragraph 2 of page 2 of the enquiry report, Ext. X (1)], I find on a scrutiny of the whole evidence bearing upon the enquiry that the E. O.

examined the Company's evidence critically before coming to his conclusion that the workman was guilty of the charge of going slow and his view of the evidence cannot be said to be perverse and his conclusion cannot be also said to be perverse or baseless.

In the result, I find that this workman was found guilty of the charge of going slow at a fair and proper domestic enquiry which conformed with the principles of natural justice, though it was held ex-parte and the result of the enquiry must be held to be binding upon him. Necessarily, this Tribunal must also accept the result of the enquiry. As he was found guilty of a gross misconduct arising out of deliberately adopting a "go slow" policy resulting in loss of production, his dismissal was certainly justified.

I have already dealt with the background facts and circumstances while dealing with the case of eight other similarly charge-sheeted workmen in respect of whom a domistic enquiry was held from 24th November 1961 to 27th November 1961, and I have already held and indicated that the background facts and circumstances cannot establish want of bona fides, victimisation or unfair labour practice, or any basic error on the part of the Company in issuing the charge-sheets for going slow and following it up by the domestic enquiry. These findings must also apply in the case of this workman also.

On all the above considerations and for the reasons given above, I find that the dismissal of this workman was justified and he is not entitled to any relief.

I now come to the charge of sleeping on duty against all the concerned workmen, except Shri Jadulal Bhaumick [sl. No. (i)].

It is an admitted position that the charge-sheets, Exts. C, J, O to O (7) for sleeping on duty between 1-30 a.m. and 4-30 a.m. on 17th February 1962 was served upon these workmen. On behalf of the Union 9 charge sheets have been produced and they are Exts. 22 to 30. It is also admitted that all the charge-sheeted workmen submitted a joint reply. Ext. D-34 is the joint reply. The domestic enquiry regarding these charge-sheets were fixed for 24th February 1962 and notices of the enquiry were served on 28th February 1962. Exts. B, F (1), J (1), U, and V to V(5) are the enquiry notices, which bear the signature of the concerned workmen. Shri H. R. Saboo was appointed as enquiry officer and this fact was stated in the notices of enquiry. The evidence of Shri H. R. Saboo (O. P. W. 5) is that he held the enquiry on 24th February 1962, but the concerned workmen were not present at the enquiry though he sent a note to the department for sending these persons to the enquiry giving their names. Ext. N is the note which he sent to the departmental head, one Shri Dutta Gupta, for sending the concerned workmen to the enquiry. The note shows that it was endorsed over to Shri Karmakar, the Supervisor, for compliance, but it was returned with the report that the workman refused to attend the enquiry. O. P. W. 5 Shri Durgadas Karmakar has clearly testified to this fact. He has stated that he got the note coming from his superior officer, Shri Dutta Gupta, for producing the workmen named therein and he sent it back with his endorsement that the workmen had refused to come. In these circumstances, this enquiry was also held ex-parte by Shri Saboo. As in the case of the enquiry regardng the charge-sheet for going slow against Sachin Sarkar [sl. No. (vii)] already dealt with and discussed above, I cannot find fault with the enquiry officer for holding the enquiry ex-parte. I am satisfied that the concerned workmen deliberately refused to attend the enquiry inspite of being served with the notices of enquiry on 22nd February 1962 and also further being asked to attend the enquiry on 24th February 1962 while they were all working in the factory. I have already referred to the enquiry notices above. P. W. 5 Shri Monilal Das (sl. No. viii) has clearly admitted receipt of the notce of enquiry in respect of the charge-sheet for sleeping on duty. P. W. 3 Habibar Rahman (sl. No. ix) has admitted that he and all other concerned workman worked in the factory on 24th February 1962. It is to be noted that after getting the notices of enquiry on 22nd February 1962, the workmen never protested against the holding of the enquiry on 24th February 1962 nor asked for any postponement of the enquiry. As the workmen wilfully and deliberately refrained from attending the enquiry inspite of the notices and also further attempts made by the E. O. to secure their presence at the enquiry on the date of an enquiry when they were working in the factory, the holding of the enquiry ex-parte was justified and within the legal rights of the Company.

I now come to the merits of the enquiry itself. The enquiry was held by Shri H. R. Saboo. Ext. K (1) is the recorded proceedings of the enquiry and Ext. K (2) is the enquiry report. I am satisfied from the evidence of O. P. W. 5 Shri H. R. Saboo and from the enquiry proceedings Ext. K (1), that inspite of the enquiry being held ex-parte owing to deliberate attention on the part of the concerned workmen from attending the enquiry a full and thorough enquiry was held and full evidence was produced by the Company both in regard to the fact of service of notice upon the workmen on 24th February 1962, when they were working in the factory asking them to attend the enquiry fixed for that date and also in regard to the merits of the charge of sleeping on duty. It appears from the evidence that even after the workmen refused to attend the enquiry on being sent for through the departmental head by the note of the E. O., Ext. N individual notices (marked Exts. 5 series by the E. O. and Ext. Q series in this proceeding) were issued and tendered to the workmen for attending the enquiry, but they refused to accept the notices. Witnesses Shri B. N. Banka, Shri D. P. Sharma, Shri D. Roberio, Shri J. Chakrabarty, Shri G. Roy, Shri A. K. Dutta Gupta and Shri Durgadas Karmakar were examined at the enquiry and they testified to the above facts. Before proceeding to hold the enquiry ex-parte, the E. O recorded the finding that he was fully satisfied that the charge-sheeted workmen were given every opportunity to represent their case before him, but they avoided doing so. The evidence already referred to above quite reasonably justifies this finding. As to the merits of the charge the direct evidence consisted of the statementes of Subedar Khan Singh, Head Jamadar of the factory, Shri Shew Mongal Tewari the durwan of the factory, who was on night duty on 16th/17th February 1962 from 10 p.m. to 2 a.m., Shri B. S. Ganguli, Assistant Chief Engineer of the factory who was in the factory on the night of 16th/

17th February 1962 from 10 p.m. to 4-30 a.m. and Shri T. N. Ghosh, another officer of the factory, who was on duty in the factory from 12 midnight to 4-30 a.m. on 17th February 1962. They all testified that they found the workers of coil setting, coil winding and motor assembly department sleeping within the factory during the duty hours on the night of 17th February 1962. The E. O. held upon their evidence that the concerned workmen were guilty of the charge of sleeping on duty on the night of 17th February 1962. Prima facie the evidence of these witnesses stands uncross-examined and unrebutted, because it was an ex-parte enquiry brought about by deliberate refusal of the workmen to attend the enquiry. It has been, however, strenuously argued by the Union representative that none of the aforesaid witnesses specifically named any of these 10 workmen as having been found sleeping during duty hours in their statements before the E. O. and so the E. O. was not justified in finding these workmen guilty of the charge and his finding was, therefore, baseless and perverse. I have given proper consideration to this argument. The fact remains, however, that there was no denial by any of these workmen in their joint reply to the charge-sheets that they were not on duty that night. It is not also in their written statement in this case, nor in the evidence of any of the concerned workmen, Sachin Sarkar, Habibar Rahman, Bimal Kumar Chakrabarty Manila Das and Naresh Chandra Das. On the contrary, almost all of them have admitted in their evidence that they were on duty during the relevant period of the night of 16th/17th February 1962 and they duly worked during the duty period. P. W. 1 Sachindra Nath Sarkar has stated that no supervisory officer came to their department from 1-30 a.m. to 4-30 a.m. and told them anything about their work and they were working during these hours. P. W. 3 Habibar Rahaman has also stated that no officer came during their working hours on the night shift of 17th February 1962. P. W. 5 Monilal Das has stated that on that particular night, they were on duty and they did their work. P. W. 5 Naresh Chandra Das has referred to the alleged job cards and has stated that the job cards would show that on the relevant night they did full production. It is clear from the aforesaid evidence of the witnesses among the concerned workmen that it was or is never their plea that they were not on duty during the night shift of 16th/17th February 1962, referred to in the charge-sheets for sleeping on duty. On the contrary, their clear case is that they were on duty during the relevant shift and they did their usual work and never slept. Considered in the background of this evidence, the evidence of the Company's witnesses examined before the enquiry officer cannot but refer to the concerned workmen who were on duty or during the night shift in question. Accordingly, the finding of the enquiry officer that the charge of sleeping on duty against all these workmen was established cannot be said to be baseless or perverse simply because the Company's withesses examined before him did not name the concerned workmen. Shri T. N. Ghosh, Chief Inspector of this factory, who gave evidence before the E. O., was also examined in this proceeding and he stated clearly in this proceeding that he saw all the charge-sheeted workmen sleeping in the factory.

On a consideration of all the above facts and circumstances, I hold that in respect of the charge of sleeping on duty, there was also a fair and proper enquiry and the concerned workmen were fairly and properly found guilty of the charge upon sufficient materials. In view of this findings, this Tribunal must accept the result of the enquiry and necessarily, the dismissal based upon the result of the enquiry. Sleeping on duty was certainly a major misconduct justifying the punishment of dismissal. In this connection, I would refer to the Company's Standing Ordes, Ext. Y, in which both slowing down in performance of work and sleeping on duty are major misdemeanours for any of which a workman is liable to be dismissed vide sections 2 (4) and (5) of Appendix D of the Standing Orders. I, therefore, finally hold that the dismissal of these workmen on a charge of sleeping on duty was also justified.

On all the above findings and for the reasons given above, I finally hold that the dismissal or termination of employment of all the concerned workmen named in the Issue was justified and none of them is entitled to any relief.

This is my award.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Shri S. K. Chatterjee, Suktara Bus Service, Bhanga Kutir, G. T. Road, Burdwan, and his workmen represented by Burdwan Zilla Motor Karmachari Samity, District Congress Office, Burdwan (Case No. VIII—240 of 1964).

BEFORE THE SECOND INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present

Shri AMBICA PADA BHATTACHARYA, Judge, Second Industrial Tribunal.

Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, by its Order No. 3819-I.R./IR/4L-37/64, dated Calcutta, the 27th August 1964, referred an industrial dispute between Shri S. K. Chatterjee and his workmen represented by Burdwan Zilla Motor Karmachari Samity to this Tribunal for adjudication regarding the issue contained in the order of reference.

Issue

Is the termination of service of Shri B. K. Tewari justified ? What relief, if any, is he entitled to ?

This is a reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act. The Union challenged the termination of service of Shri B. K. Tewari, a driver, employed in the transport business of Shri S. K. Chatterjee. His service was terminated on and from 10th of May 1963. The Company filed a written statement in answer to that of the Union in which it contends that Shri Tewari refused to work on the bus. So his service came to an end and his service was never terminated by the bus owner.

It was fixed for hearing on 13th August 1965. On that day both parties appeared before the Tribunal and the case was opened. A talk of compromise which was pending from before and again cropped up and it terminated in a settlement.

A joint petition of settlement was filed before the Tribunal by which the owner agreed to accept Shri B. K. Tewari in service on old terms of employment provided he joined his duty within a period of seven days from 13th August 1965. The settlement is quite fair and reasonable and is accepted. An award is accordingly made in terms of the said settlement which forms a part of the award.

No. 3586-I.R./1R/11/L-365(A)/63.—21st August 1965.—Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 4284-I.R./1R/11L-365(A)/63, dated the 10th October 1963, the industrial dispute between Messrs. H. P. AWARD

By order No. 4284-I.R./IR/11L-365(A)/63, dated the 10th October 1963, the Government of West Bengal in the Labour Department, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, the industrial dispute between Messrs. H. P. Sarkar & Co., 125A Bepin Behari Ganguly Street, Calcutta-12 and their workmen represented by Calcutta Gold Smithy and Jewellery Workers' Union, 16/17 College Street, Room No. 51, Calcutta-12, regarding the matters specified in the schedule to the Third Industrial Tribunal, constituted under section 7A of the Industrial Disputes Act, by notification No. 808-IR/IR/3A-2/57, dated the 11th March 1957, for adjudication.

Issues

1. Whether the retrenchment of Sarbasri Nirapada Kar, Dwijapada Ganguly, Prafulla Kumar Roy, Kalipada Nandy and Bireswar Karmakar is justified ? To what relief, if any, are they entitled ?

2. Whether the dismissal of Shri Ramjatan Sharma is justified ? To what relief, if any, is he entitled ?

This is a reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act made by the Government of West Bengal, in their Labour Department for adjudication of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. H. P. Sarkar & Co., 125A Bepin Behari Ganguly Street Calcutta-12 (hereinafter referred to as the Company) and their workmen represented by Calcutta Gold Smithy and Jewellery Workers' Union, 16/17 College Street, Room No. 51, Calcutta-12 (hereinafter be referred to as the union)

As usual immediately after receipt of the reference notices were served upon the parties who appeared but the union after considerable delay filed statement of its case and thereafter the company filed written statements On completion of intermediate steps by the parties, the case was ready for hearing when the parties talked of amicable settlement. Some opportunity was given and the matter was settled amicably between the parties and a joint petition of compromise was filed before this Tribunal on 10th August 1965.

I have considered the terms of settlement in the light of the facts and circumstances of the case and found them fair and satisfactory. So, on acceptance of the terms of settlement, I make an award on compromise in terms of the joint petition of compromise filed on 10th August 1965 which do form part of the compromise award as an annexure thereto.

This is my award.

AWARD

The above dispute over the issue given in the order of reference and reproduced below was referred for adjudication to this Tribunal by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 3504-I.R./IR/4L-28/63, dated the 22nd August 1963.

Issue

Whether the forced idleness of the workmen from April 1963 onwards is justified ? To what relief, if any, are they entitled ?

On being served with notice of the reference, the parties appeared before this Tribunal and filed their respective written statements in due course. When the hearing date was fixed after the necessary preliminary proceedings, the parties took some adjournments and some of the adjournments were taken on the ground that talks about amicable settlement of the dispute were going on. The case was finally fixed for hearing on 9th August 1965. On that date, the parties' representatives submitted before the Tribunal that the dispute had been amicably settled and they also filed a joint petition of compromise duly signed by the authorised representatives of the parties. The parties prayed in the compromise petition that an award in terms of the joint petition of compromise might be made. I heard the representatives of the parties. They also submitted that the case might be disposed of by a compromise award in terms of the joint petition

I am satisfied after having regard to the joint petition of compromise and after hearing the parties' representatives that there has been a bonafide amicable settlement of the dispute between the parties, as stated in the joint petition. The case is, therefore, to be disposed of by a compromise award, as prayed for.

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Mes The Indian Electric Works Ltd., Behala, Calcutt and their workmen represented by the Techn and Supervisory Staff Association of the I. E. Ltd., 1 Rishi Bankim Chatterjee Street, Calcutta (Case No. VIII-40 of 1965.)

BEFORE THE SECOND INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present :

Shri AMBICA PADA BHATTACHARYA, Judge, Second Industrial Tribunal

By order No. 717-I.R./IR/10L-2(A)/65, dat Calcutta, the 18th February 1965, Government

West Bengal, Labour Department, referred an industrial dispute between Messrs. The India Electric Works Ltd., and their workmen represented by the Technical and Supervisoy Staff Association of the I. E. W. Ltd., for adjudication regarding the only issue contained in order of reference.

Issue

1. Whether the management is justified in retiring the following four workmen? To what relief, if any, are they entitled?

1. Shri Banikanta Das.
2. Md. Ishaque.
3. Shri P. K. Majumder.
4. Shri U. Ghose

This is a reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act. The four workmen named in the order of reference were made to retire from service some on 1st July 1964, and some on 7th November 1963 on the ground of superannuation. The workmen belonged to Technical and Supervisory staff and those categories of workmen have a Union of their own known as Technical and Supervisory Staff Association. In the written statement, the Union contends that the company is an engineering concern engaged in the manufacture of electrical fans and goods. The company employed different categories of workmen such as, manual worker, clerical staff, technical and supervisory staff in the factory. The Technical and Supervisory Staff formed the aforesaid Union in May 1962 and it was registered on 16th of August 1962. The only representative of technical and supervisory staff is the aforesaid Union. The company entered into an agreement with the said Union on 10th June 1963 and the question of gratuity was discussed but no conclusion was reached. The question of gratuity stood over for a future decision. There is no age of superannuation in the category of technical and supervisory staff and that constitutes an additional attraction for the staff to continue in service of the company on comparatively low wages. The company did not retire any one of the above category on reaching of any particular age. There is no forced retirement in the said category. Employees are working there with age about 70, as the Annexure C of the Union written statement will show. Contrary to the established practice in the company four workmen named in the order of reference, namely, Banikanta Das and Md. Ishaque were made to retire on 7th November 1963 and P. K. Majumdar and U. Ghose were made to retire on 1st July 1964. The forced retirement of those four workmen is illegal and unjustified. The said retirement is mala fide. This is virtually a case of retrenchment in the garb of retirement and it is intended to deprive the workmen of retrenchment compensation. The workmen were made to retire on the basis of an agreement between the company and another Union known as I. E. W. Employees' Association, dated 27th July 1963, though it was to the full knowledge of the company that the said Union represented only clerical staff and manual workers. The technical and supervisory staff were not members of that Union and they were not covered by the said agreement.

In answer to the written statement of the Union, the company filed a written statement alleging that the industrial undertaking had been taken over by the Central Government by notification, dated 11th July 1960. In view of the fact that the industry which is engaged in the manufacture of electrical fans is included in the first schedule of the Industries Development and Regulation Act, 1951. The State Government has no jurisdiction to issue the order of reference and the Central Government is the appropriate authority for such purpose. The order is accordingly without jurisdiction. It is denied that the members of technical and supervisory staff are poorly paid. It is denied that the technical and supervisory staff association is the only trade union representing all members of the technical and supervisory staff. The certified standing orders of the company provide for age of retirement of all workmen on reaching 55 years. Under the Provident Fund Act, 1952, which is applicable to the industry in question, the age of retirement was statutorily fixed at 55. It is denied that there is no age of superannuation. The Union named in the order of reference is not the only Union of workmen. There are two other trade unions namely I. E. W. Employees Association and I. E. W. Workers' Union. They also claimed to represent the workmen of technical and supervisory staff. Paragraph 8 of the written statement of the company is important as having enumerated the substantial case of the company. There had been a tri-partite settlement with I. E. W. Employees Association on 27th July 1963 in which the age of retirement of manual workmen was revised and fixed at 57 in case of those who entered service prior to the Standing Orders, dated 10th February 1956. With regard to those who entered service after that date the age of retirement was fixed at 55. Besides the manual workmen the age of retirement for the other workmen was revised in the said agreement and fixed at 58 years irrespective of their dates of entry into the service. It was further provided that in the discretion of the management extension can be granted up to 60 years. The said tri-partite settlement is binding on all the workmen including technical and supervisory staff. The four workmen exceeded the age of superannuation as provided in Employees' Provident Fund Act and Scheme. They were served with notices of termination by way of retirement on superannuation in November 1963, except U. Ghosh who was served with similar notice in July 1964. The termination of service by way of retirement is perfectly legal and valid. In paragraph 12 of the written statement towards the end it is stated that the four workmen exceeded the age of superannuation fixed at 58 years in the tri-partite settlement, dated 27th July 1963. Their retirement accordingly was perfectly justified. The action of the management is not at all mala fide.

Appearances of the parties are as follows :

For the company : Shri N. K. Mukherjee, Advocate
For the union : Shri D. L. Sengupta, Advocate and
Shri Anil Das Choudhury, Advocate

The company raised an objection in the written statement that the appropriate Government to make this reference is the Central Government. The Industry had been taken over by the Central Government by notification, dated 11th July 1960. The copy of the notification is Ext. A. In the notification it is stated that I. E. W. Ltd. is an industrial undertaking in respect of which investigation had been made under section 15 of the Industrial (Development and Regulation) Act, 1951 and it was managed in a manner highly detrimental to the public interest. Under section 18(a) the Central Government authorised Shri S. C. Banerjee, Development Officer, to take over the management of the whole concern. Exhibit. A(1) is another notification of the Central Government appointing Shri P. C. Basu as the authorised Controller of I. E. W. Ltd, in place of Shri S. C. Banerjee. Exhibit A(2) is another notification by which the Central Government took over the management for five years in place of three years from 11th July 1960. Thus there is nothing in the notification to show that the Central Government is the appropriate Government for making reference in respect of section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act. There must be a further notification under the Act stating the Central Government would be the appropriate Government for the purpose of making the reference under the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947. In the absence of any such further notification, the mere fact that the Central Government took over the industry under the industries (Development and Regulation) Act, 1951 will not justify the argument that the appropriate Government is not the State Government but the Central Government. At the final hearing of argument the Learned Advocate, Shri M. K. Mukherjee, for the Company, did not advance any argument in this respect and I suppose that this point is not pressed by the Company. Having disposed of the preliminary objection I will not decide the issue on merits.

There are certain admitted facts in this case. Bani Kanta, P. K. Majumdar, Ishaque and U. Ghosh were forced to retire from the service by the Company and they were served with notices of termination. Exhibit 5 is the notice of termination of service on P. K. Majumder. Other notices were similar. It runs thus :

> "This is to inform you that since you have attained the age of superannuation you are retired from from service of the Company with effect from 1st July 1964."

The notice does not mention what is the age of superannuation. It is an admitted fact that there is no age of superannuation in this concern, so far as the technical and supervisory staff are concerned. Annexure 'C' of the written statement of the Union will show that persons who are still working in I. E. W. attained the age of 70 years. This statement is not challenged by the Company. Annexure 'B' will show that retired persons from other concerns were appointed in I. E. W. and they are above 60. Admittedly, there is no age of superannuation for technical and supervisory staff. It is the positive evidence of P.W. 2, Shri Harendra Nath Mukherjee, a foreman in I. E. W. factory, is that there was no case of forced retirement of any technical and supervisory staff prior to the termination of service of these four workmen. The standing orders Ext. B is not applicable to technical and supervisory staff and this is specifically provided at page 2 of the standing orders in section B, clause (e). The standing orders, Ext. B, need not therefore be considered for our present purpose. The standing orders provide for age of retirement of workmen on reaching the age of 55. Since technical and supervisory staff are specifically excluded from the purview of the standing orders it has no bearing at all in our present case. There is a Union known as I. E. W. Employees' Association with is a Union of manual and clerical staff. There is another union which is exclusively for technical and supervisory staff and it is known as I. E. W technical and supervisory staff association. Members of technical and supervisory staff alone are eligible for membership of this Union. With regard to the Employees' Association, all workers except technical and supervisory staff are eligible for membership P.W.1, Shri Arabinda Bose, is the President of both the Unions and this is his evidence. His evidence further is that there had been a bi-partite agreement executed on 10th June 1963 between technical and supervisory staff association and the company. The memorandum of settlement is Ext. C The Technical and Supervisory Staff Association raised certain demands and this is the memorandum of settlement in respect of the same. They raised a claim of gratuity and Ext. C will show that the question of gratuity was not settled but was kept pending for future. No age of superannuation was imposed by this settlement. The company wants to rely upon Ext. C(1) which should be closely looked into. Ext. C(1) is a settlement arrived at between the company and I. E. W. Employees' Association. It was signed for the association by the President Shri Arabindo Basu, Secretary and Vice-President. The Union states that this is a bi-partite settlement though Shri S. N. Roy, Deputy Labour Commissioner, signed it as a Conciliation Officer. The company contends that it is a settlement in conciliation. This is a point of controversy which is to be decided. The second point of controversy is that the company contends that this settlement is binding upon technical and supervisory staff as well. On the side of the Union it is contended that this was a settlement exclusively for manual and clerical workers and it has no application to technical and supervisory staff. The Union which signed was a Union of manual and clerical staff and not a single worker of technical and supervisory staff was a member of that Union. The technical and supervisory staff has another Union of their own, namely, I. E. W. Technical and Supervisory Staff Association, which entered into a separate Union which has already discussed, namely Ext. C. I will discuss both the controversies. First of all let me see whether Ext. C(1) is a bi-partite settlement or a tri-partite settlement, i.e. a settlement in the course of conciliation proceedings. There is a distinction between a settlement mutually arrived at under section 18(1) of the Industrial Disputes Act and a settlement arrived in the course of conciliation proceeding under section 18(3) of the said Act. The distinction has been elaborately discussed in a judgment of the Supreme Court reported in A. I. R. 1960, Supreme Court, page 1012 (Ramnagar Cane and Sugar Company's case). The relevant discussion appears at page 1015 beginning from paragraph 5 :

> "Section 18(1) provides that a settlement arrived at by agreement between the employer and the workmen otherwise than in the course of conciliation proceedings shall be binding on the parties to the agreement; whereas s. 18(3) provides that a settlement arrived at in the course of conciliation proceedings which has become enforceable shall be binding on all the parties specified in clauses. (a), (b), (c) and (d) of sub-section (3). Section 18(3)(d) makes it clear that, where a party referred to in clauses. (a) or (b) is composed of workmen, all persons who were employed in the establishment or part of the establishment, as the case may be, to which the dispute relates on the date of the dispute and all persons who subsequently become employed in that establishment or part, would be bound by the settlement. In other words, there can be no doubt that the settlement arrived at between the appellant and the Employees' Union during the course of conciliation proceedings on 25th February 1954, would bind not only the members of the said Union but all workmen employed in the establishment of the appellant at that date. That inevitably means that the respondents would be bound by the said settlement even though they may belong to the rival Union. In order to bind the workmen it is not necessary to show that the said workmen belong to the Union which was a party to the dispute before the conciliation. The whole policy of section 18 appears to be to give an extended operation to the settlement arrived at in the course of conciliation proceedings, and that is the object with which the four categories of person bound by such settlement are specified in section 18, sub-section (3) "

Subsequently at page 1015 it has been observed as follows :

"It would be another matter if the conciliation proceeding in question are confined to specific demands limited to a specified class of employees. In fact the conciliation settlement reached between the appellant and the employees' Union has benefited the members of the Workers' Union as much as those of the Employees' Union."

From the above comments of the Supreme Court it will thus appear that if the workmen of a company have more than one Union and if one of the Unions make a settlement in conciliation, the said settlement will be binding not only upon the members of that Union but upon all the workmen even though some of the workmen may be members of a rival Union. In the instant case even if it is assumed for the purpose of argument that the settlement was arrived at in conciliation, there is a point of distinction which can be drawn in view of the commots in the second paragraph quoted above. In the present case the evidence of Shri Arabondo Bose and Shri Harendra Nath Mukherjee is that the Employees' Association is a Union of two categories of workmen namely, workers and clerical staff. It has no membership from the supervisory or technical staff. The technical and supervisory staff have a separate union and a representative Union, namely, the Staff Association. Shri Arabindo Bose is the President of both the Union and his evidence goes unchallenged. The evidence of P W. 2 Shri Harendra Nath Mukherjee also corroborates the evidence of Shri Bose. The agreement Ext. C was arrived at between I. E. W. Employees' Union and the company. The agreement itself shows that in paragraph 4 where the short history of the case was stated it was in respect of the charter of demands for the clerical staff of the head office, dated 11th of May 1961, and it was referred to the Labour Commissioner for conciliation. It provides for the clerical staff, peons, bearers and manual workers. The retirement question comes in clause 3 at page 3. The first clause related to the retiring age for the manual workmen. The age was raised to 57 and the standing orders was varied to some extent. Clause (b) provides for the age of retirement for the other workmen. By the word "other" clerical staff had been meant. This is clear from the evidence of Sri Bose as well as from the fact that it was a demand of the clerical staff, the company wants to say that the word "other" would include supervisory and technical staff as well. This is not a fact in view of the position that there is no charter of demand for supervisory and technical staff and not a single member of technical & supervisory staff is a member of the Union which entered into the agreement. This is a distinction which can be drawn from the facts of the case and in this respect I should again point out the comment of the Supreme Court in the case of Ramnagar Cane and Sugar Mills as has been already quoted. The Supreme Court observed that it would be another matter if the conciliation proceedings were confined to specific demand limited to a specific class of employees. The entire paragraph has been quoted above. It was a case of specified class of employees, namely, manual workers and clerical staff and the demand was confined to them. It cannot therefore apply to all the employees of the company including technical and supervisory staff even though the settlement was arrived at in course of conciliation. In view of the above distinction this settlement will not cover the case of technical and supervisory staff. That is why there is a separate settlement in respect of the demand of technical and supervisory staff which is embodied in a separate settlement, Ext. C. That settlement is silent on the point of age of retirement. Exhibit C. (1) is a settlement which is not applicable to the case of technical and supervisory staff.

Moreover I am of opinion that Ext.C(1) is not a settlement arrived at in the course of conciliation proceedings. If that is so, it is a mutual agreement which is binding on the parties to the agreement alone and not to entire body of workmen It is true that the charter of demand was referred to the Labour Commissioner. It will appear from clause (4) which described the short history of the case. It is clearly recited that the Association withdraw the charter of demand from the office of the Labour Commissioner, Government of West Bengal. Now if the Association withdraw the charter of demand from the office of the Labour Commissioner, Government of West Bengal, it cannot be said to be a settlement arrived at in the course of conciliation. In the same paragraph it was further added that the matter was settled by mutual negotiations, namely by negotiations between the management and the Association without the aid of conciliation It is true that Deputy Labour Commissioner, Shri S. N. Roy, put his signature in the settlement describing himself as a conciliation officer but the evidence of Shri Bose the President of the Union, is that Shri Roy was a witness and by mistake he signed his name as conciliation officer. This evidence must be accepted in view of the clear recital that the Association had withdrawn the charter of demand from the officer of the Labour Commissioner. There is nothing to show that copy of the agreement was sent to the Labour Commissioner or to the Government. Rule 68 provides that a settlement arrived at in course of conciliation shall be in form J. Form J shows that in case of settlement effected by conciliation officer, copy shall be sent to the Labour Commissioner and to the Joint Secretary to the Government of West Bengal, Department of Labour. There is no evidence that any such copy had been sent. In a case reported in A.I.R. 1961 Supreme Court page 1158 at page 1161, in paragraph 7, this question was considered by the Supreme Court. What was really meant by the words in the course of conciliation proceedings was posed and answered. It postulates that such settlement was to be arrived at with the assistance of the conciliation officer and the settlement was considered by him to be a reasonable and therefore had his concurrence. Section 12(c) provides that if a settlement is arrived at in course of conciliation proceedings, conciliation officer shall send a report thereof to the appropriate Government together with a memorandum of settlement signed by the parties to the dispute. This section was considered along with section 18 of the Act. A settlement only when it is arrived at with the assistance and concurrence with the conciliation officer is a settlement in conciliation. It is the duty of the conconciliation officer to promote a right settlement and to do everything he can to introduce the parties to come to a fair and amicable settlement. It is only such a settlement which is arrived at while conciliation proceedings are pending under section 18. In the instant case the conciliation proceeding was not pending and as such even though Shri S. N. Roy signed and put his designation as conciliation officer, it should be read in the light of evidence of Shri Bose that Shri S. N. Roy signed as a witness and not as a conciliation officer. The settlement was arrived at by mutual agreement between the two parties without the assistance of the Deputy Labour Commissioner and the mutual agreement did not receive concurrence of the Deputy Labour Commissioner even though he was present as a witness. In view of the above circumstances, it was not a settlement arrived at in conciliation proceeding but it was a bi-partite agreement mutually agreed upon by the Union and the management. As such it is binding upon only the members of the Union and not upon any other workmen who is not a member of the said Union. In that view of the matter as well as the agreement Ext. C is not binding upon the technical and supervisory staff who are not member of the Union, which is party to the settlement. In my considered opinion the agreement Ext. C(1) is not binding upon the technical and supersupervisory staff. The very foundation of the case of the company is that the four workmen were made to retire under clause (b) of section 3 of the agreement. 58 is the age of retirement provided in that clause. Since this agreement is not binding upon the four workmen, they cannot be asked to retire on attaining the age of 58. That is not the age of retirement for technitechnical and supervisory staff. There is no specified age of retirement for supervisory and technical staff and I have already pointed out the evidence that there are technical and supervisory staff working in the company though they are more than 70 years old. It is not the case of the company that on ground of ill health or impaired efficiency owing to age the four workmen were forced to retire. P.W. 2 stated that the four workmen are physically fit. Their termination of service by asking them to retire on a particular date is without any justification and the act of the company in doing so must be considered as mala fide, specially, in view of the fact that no other workmen of this category had been forcibly retired on any previous occasion. The act of the management is therefore mala fide. P.W. 2 Shri Harendra Nath Mukherjee stated that in place of four men no substitute had been recruited. If that is so, there is no bar to their reinstatement. I answer the issue accordingly by saying that the forced retirement of the four workmen is not justified. They are entitled to be reinstated and back wages. This is my award which is to be implemented within 30 days of its publication in the "Calcutta Gazette"

AWARD

This is a complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, made by two workmen Shri Ram Mahesh and Shri Budhiman Thapa (hereinafter be referred to as the petitioners) against their common employer Messrs. Gladstone Lyall & Co. Ltd., (hereinafter be referred to as the company), alleging contravention of the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act by the said employer.

Their short case is that they were working as godown coolies for some period but all on a sudden on 18th January 1965 the company stopped to give them work. The allegation against the company is that because of the trade union activities of these two workmen, the company refused to give them work. But that was done at a time when a proceeding under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act was pending before this tribunal in respect of an industrial dispute in which these two petitioners are also interested. Therefore, the company has violated the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act by not obtaining approval of this tribunal and by making no payment of one month's wages as required. Hence the prayer is for reinstatement of the petitioners with full wages for the period of forced unemployment.

The company has resisted the application by filing written statement in which the company has questioned the maintainability of the present application in as much as there has been no contravention of the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act. It has been contended by the company that the two petitioner are casual workmen employed on "no work no pay" basis. Their employment depended on the availability of work in the godown. As there was no sufficient work for all the casual workmen, so they were given no work from 18th January 1965 in accordance with the normal practice. Therefore, the question of contravention of the legal provision does not arise.

The company having pressed the preliminary question of maintainability of this application, this point is taken up first. This is a complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act. Therefore, the petitioners will have to show how the company has contravened the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial DisputesAct. According to the company there was no discharge or dismissal of the two petitioners for any misconduct but they were purely casual workers and employed as godown coolies. They were employed only when there was sufficient available work in the godown. They were given no work from 18th January 1965 as there was no work at that time. This is not the only instance. On previous occasions also they had to go without work. One of the two petitioners has given evidence before this tribunal, he is Ram Mahesh. He admits that he worked as a godown cooly for loading and unloading purposes. There is nothing in his evidence to show that he as a permanent workmen. He himself admits that he used to work on "no work no pay" basis, and whenever he used to remain absent from work he used to get nothing. According to him he worked for six years and during which period he never remained absent from duty. But this is not correct. He has contradicted himself by saying that whenever he used to go to his native village and absented from duty for a couple of months or so, he used to get no remuneration for the period of absence. He also admits that he never applied for leave but he took oral permission of the godown Babu to go home. Therefore, it is abundantly clear from his evidence that he was a casual worker. No doubt he used to receive his daily wages at the end of every week but he had nothing to show that he was employed as a permanent cooly for the alleged period of six years. It is clear from his evidence that he was not directly employed by the management but he used to do the loading and unloading work at the instance of the godown Babu who used to give him work. He had no letter of employment or any scrap of paper to show his employment given by the management as a direct employee. He was casually employed by the Godown Babu whenever required for loading and unloading purposes. Therefore, there is no substance in the allegation of refusal of employment by the company by way of unfair labour practice or by way of victimisation. Question of compliance with the provisions of section 33(2) arises only when the employer alters, in regard to any matter not connected with the dispute, the conditions of service applicable to the workmen immediately before the commencement of such proceeding or for any misconduct not connected with the dispute discharged or punished, whether by dismissal or otherwise of that workmen. In the instance case there has been no order of dismissal or discharge for any proved misconduct and also there has been no alteration of the conditions of service. The petitioners are casual workmen. Therefore, they are not entitled to be retained even when there was no sufficient work in hand in the godown. It is admitted that there has been no order of dismissal or discharge passed against either of them for any misconduct. It is, however, admitted by the petitioners that the original proceeding under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act relates to refusal of employment of a number of workmen including these two petitioners. Therefore, the question of frequent refusal of employment to these casual workmen has already been referred to this tribunal for adjudication. That proceeding is still pending for consideration. Therefore, the present application is not only redundant but also without jurisdiction inasmuch as there has been no contravention of the provisions of section 33(2) of the Industrial Disputes Act by the employer. So, I reject the complaint on the finding that it is not maintainable in law. Accordingly the application is disposed of.

The Union on behalf of the workmen in their written statement has alleged that the Company is a big manufacturing concern and is earning high profit with the hard labour of the workers who are ill paid and even are denied minimum wages for their existence. After a good deal of agitation by the workmen for fixation of reasonable and fair rate of wages, an agreement fixing the rate of wages for the workers was executed on 22nd April 1958 between the Union of the workmen and 18 Biri Manufacturing Companies including Messrs. Ashok Biri Factory. Messrs. Ashok Biri Factory, however, did not abide by the agreement and tried to put off the agreement and to reduce the agreed rate of wages of the workers gradually. The Company thereafter made a plan to replace the existing workers with new recruits on lower rates and the workmen opposed the move on the part of the Company which suddenly closed the factory on 17th August 1958 without any reason and notice and shifted the manufacturing works to Durguriapal and Goaltoi where new men had been recruited at a lower rate. This was done in the second week of November 1958 and there only old workers had been employed. The main endeavour of the Company is to crush the lawful action of the workmen, to drive out the old workmen who secured increased rate and to reduce the rate of wages. The Union challenges the closure to be mala fide, unjustified and unlawful, and has prayed that the workmen should be granted full wages for the entire period of forced unemployment since the date of the closure and has further prayed for reinstatement of the workmen and restoration of the rate of wages agreed upon. The prayer really is in the alternative form; in the first place, the prayer as mentioned above has been made; in the next place, it is said that if it is held that the closure is justified, then relief to the workmen may be granted in terms of sections 25F, 25G and 25H of the Industrial Disputes Act.

In the written statement filed on behalf of the employer, it has been alleged that there is no industrial dispute, inasmuch as the employees mentioned in the list are not workmen within the meaning of section 2(s) of the Industrial Disputes Act. It is next stated that as a result of the settlement, the labourers are to get Rs. 1.12 to Rs. 2 per thousand, that the Company is to supply the tobacco and the employees are to prepare the biris either at their residence or at the premises of the Company. The workmen are free to come and go as they please. There is no attendance enforced and the Company has no control over them. The company has only to pay at the rate agreed upon, provided the goods are up to mark. The workmen are also not permanent workers and there is also no continuous service. It is further alleged that the list includes names of some persons who have long left and also the names of other persons who were never employees and full list would be supplied at the time of hearing. The Company had denied the allegation that it is a big manufacturing concern and it exploited the workers and that it tried to negative the effect of the agreement and reduce the rate of wages. It is further denied that it has opened a new factory by the second week of November 1958. It is also stated that about the middle of 1958, due to irregular traffic and also due to the absence of proprietor, the business had to be closed off and on and the industrial dispute which was raised by the Union had been amicably settled between the parties on 4th August 1958. Some 8 or 9 days afterwards, Shri Biren Chakraborty who is the Secretary of the Union came to the shop of the Company where Bhisram Babu, Manager of Messrs. Virjee Dharamshee who supplies tobacco leaves, was also present. Biren Babu highly insulted Bhisram Babu threatening him with assault whereupon the said firm wrote a letter to the Company that they would not be able to supply tobacco leave any more. The complaint was also made to the officer-in-charge about this incident. As that firm stopped supplying tobacco leaves to this Company the business had to be closed and intimation was sent to the Labour Commissioner, West Bengal. In the circumstances the closure was bona fide and as the employees were not permanent workers having put in continuous service for one year and are not workmen within the meaning of section 2(s) of the Industrial Disputes Act, the workmen are not entitled to any relief.

It may be stated here that after the dispute was referred to this Tribunal for adjudication, no fresh written statements were filed by the Union and the Company, and they had only accepted the written statements which were put in before the First Labour Court.

The dispute was heard by the then Learned Judge, Shri P.M. Lahiri who had passed the award on 22nd August 1962. His finding was that the closure of the Biri Manufacturing Business of the Company was justified and the workmen therefore are not entitled to any relief. The workmen had moved the Hon'ble High Court under Article 226 of the Constitution and His Lordship Mr. Justice B. N. Banerjee had made the Rule absolute. His Lordship made it clear that the finding of the Tribunal that the closure of the factory was justified need not be interferred with, regard being had to the limited grounds on which the Rule was issued. His Lordships, however, had set aside that portion of the award where it has been stated that the workers are entitled to no relief in respect of the closure of the factory. His Lordship had further observed that the Tribunal is, on evidence, to come to the conclusion whether the petitioners were workmen or not. The finding regarding that question is to be arrived on the evidence already on record, and also such other and further evidence as may be adduced by the parties to the dispute. It was also observed that if the Tribunal finds that the petitioners, that is to say, the 41 persons named in the order of reference, or any of them, were workmen within the meaning of the Industrial Disputes Act, the Tribunal shall further consider what compensation, if any at all, they should get under the law bearing in mind the provision of sections 25F and 25FFF of the Industrial Disputes Act [vide the judgment reported in 1964 (II) L.L.J., 340-F.L.R., Vol. I, page 56]. After the case came back on remand, only the President of the Union had been recalled and further examined. Shri P.

R. Mukherjee, appearing for the employer declined to adduce any further oral or documentary evidence.

The question, therefore, for consideration is whether the 41 persons named in the list are workmen as defined in section 2(s) of the Industrial Disputes Act and whether they are entitled to get compensation in terms of section 25F and section 25FFF of the Industrial Disputes Act and if so, what amount are they entitled to.

Findings

Before I proceed to discuss the evidence on the question as to whether the 41 persons mentioned in the list are or are not workmen as defined in section 2(s) of the Act, I would point out that if the closure itself is justified, then it can only be on the basis that the 41 persons mentioned in the order of reference are workmen as defined in section 2(s) of the Industrial Disputes Act. If they are not workmen at all, the question of justification or otherwise of the closure cannot possibly arise. Section 25FFF of the Act is as follows:

"(1) Where an undertaking is closed down for any reason whatsoever, every workman who has been in continuous service for not less than one year in that undertaking immediately before such closure shall, subject to the provisions of sub-section (2), be entitled to notice and compensation in accordance with the provisions of section 25F, as if the workman had been retrenched:

Provided that where the undertaking is closed down on account of unavoidable circumstances beyond the control of the employer, the compensation to be paid to the workman under clause (b) of section 25F shall not exceed his average pay for three months.

Explanation. An undertaking which is closed down by reason merely of financial difficulties (including financial losses) or accumulation of undisposed of stocks shall not be deemed to have been closed down on account of unavoidable circumstances beyond the control of the employer within the meaning of the proviso to this sub-section.

Section 25F is as follows:

"No workman employed in any industry who has been in continuous service for not less than one year under an employer shall be retrenched by that employer until—

(a) the workman has been given one month's notice in writing indicating the reasons for retrenchment and the period of notice has expired, or the workman has been paid in lieu of such notice, wages for the period of the notice:

Provided that no such notice shall be necessary if the retrenchment is under an agreement which specifies a date for the termination of service;

(b) the workman has been paid at the time o retrenchment, compensation which shall b equivalent to fifteen days' average pay fo every completed year of service or any par thereof in excess of six months; and

(c) notice in the prescribed manner is serve on the appropriate Government."

It appears that there must be closure of busines wherein the workmen were employed and it only where there has been such closure of bus ness that the workmen are entitled to certai monetary compensation in terms of the sectio which I have mentioned above. However, tha may be, I shall have now to determine the ques tion as to whether 41 persons mentioned in the lis are or are not workmen as defined in section 2(s of the Act. Section 2(s) of the Act is as follows

"workman" means any person (including a apprentice) employed in any industry to d any skilled or unskilled manual, supervi sory, technical or clerical work for hire o reward, whether the terms of employmen be expressed or implied, and for the pur poses of any proceeding under this Act i relation to an industrial dispute, include any such person who has been dismissed discharged or retrenched in connectio with, or as a consequence of, that dispute or whose dismissal, discharge or retrench ment has led to that dispute, but does no include any person"

The learned Advocate Shri P. R. Mukherjee had referred me to the ruling reported in 1958 (II) L.L.J., 252 (Chintaman Rao vs. State of Madhya Pradesh)=14 F.J.R. 103. There Lordship of the Supreme Court were considering the definition of 'workman' in section 2(1) of the Factories, Act, 1948, and were considering the question whether the Sattadars or the coolies employed by the Sattadars could be regarded to be 'workmen' under section 2(1) of the Factories Act. It appears that the agreement between the Sattadars and the manage ment was that the Sattadars should receive tobacco from the management, supply them rolled into biris for a certain consideration and that the management had no control as to the place or manner of work. Their Lordships of the Supreme Court came to the conclusion that the Sattadar or their coolies are not workers under section 2(1 of the Act, but are independent contractor Thei Lordships had applied to the ruling reported in 1957 (I) L.L.J., 477=11 F.J.R. 434 S.C. (Dharan gadhar Chemical Works Ltd. vs. State of Saurastra). There the question was whether the Agarias were 'workmen' under section 2(s) of the Industrial Disputes Act. Their Lordships held that a prima facie test of relationship of employer and employee was the existence of the right of the employer not merely to direct what work was to be done, but also to control the manner in which it is to be done, the nature and extent of control varying in different industries and being by itself from nature incapable of being precisely defined. It was found that the Agarias worked themselves with the members of their families and were free to engage extra labour of their own account, that no hours of work were prescribed, no master rolls were maintained and that the working hours are not controlled by the master. It was further found that there were no rules as regards leave or holiday and the Agarias were free to go out of the factory after making arrangement for manufacturing of salt. It was held that the Agarias were 'workmen' particularly as supervision and control was exercised by the master extending into all stages of manufacture from beginning to end. I think reference may also be made to the ruling reported in 1961 (II) L.L.J., 86 (Birdhi Chand Sharma vs. First Civil Judge, Nagpur). In that case, the workmen who rolled the biris had to work at the factory and were not liberty to work in their houses. Their attendance was noted in the factory and they had to work within the factory hours, though they were not bound to work for the entire period and could come and go away when they like. But if they came after mid-day, they were not supplied with tobacco and thus not allowed to work even though the factory closed at 7 p.m. Further, they could be removed from service if absent for 8 days and the payment was made on piece-rates according to the work done and the biris which did not come up to the proper standard could be rejected. In those circumstances, it was held that the workers were workers of the employer and not independent contractors. These cases and also the cases reported in 1962 (I) L.L.J., 119 (Sankar vs. State of Maharastra) and 1963 (I) L.L.J., 270 (P.Y.K. Ltd., vs. Union of India), had been referred to in the ruling reported in 1964 (II) L.L.J., 633 (B. C. Dewan Mohideen Sahib & Sons vs. United Biri Workers' Union). In the last case, it was found that the intermediaries were indigent persons and had been set up to evade the industrial law. The position of law is therefore well settled. In the present case, however, it has not been stated in the written statement that the 41 persons mentioned in the order of reference are independent contractors and are not workmen. Apart from this, it appears that it is admitted on both sides that there was an agreement on 22nd April 1958 between several Biri manufacturing concerns and their employees including the Ashoke Biri Factory (Ext. 1). Before discussing the other evidence, it is necessary to refer briefly to some of the terms of this agreement, which was entered into only about 4 months before the closure of the business on 17th August 1958. The agreement is between the workmen represented by the Union and the Biri manufacturing concern. It has been provided that as there are different classes of Biri workers and manufacturers and as the wages depend on the quality of work, the rates have been differently fixed and agreed upon by the Biri Mazdoor Union on one side and the Biri Merchants on the other, that the workmen have no grievance or claim for past years against the Biri Merchants of Kharagpur, that as the dispute was originated with the demand of higher rates by the Biri workers, the workmen and their employers met together several times and had come to an agreement so that both parties may smoothly carry on their respective duties and responsibilities without any further trouble, mischief or harm to any one and that so far as Ashok Biri Factory is concerned, it had agreed to pay Rs. 2 for binding thousand biris to the workmen. It has also been provided that if any worker refused to work or accept the rate, the Biri Merchants shall have a right to stop his work with due notice to him of not more than a week, but the workman is to be paid all his dues up to the date of his discharge, that the workmen further undertook that they or any of them would not do anything harmful or injurious to Biri Merchants and that the workmen can only be removed or discharged from service for their incompetence, incapability and injurious acts to the business of the first-party men. The terms of the agreement certainly show that there were the workmen on the one side and the employer on the other, and the service conditions of the workmen were defined as a result of the agreement entered into between the parties. It has been stated in paragraph 2A of the written statement that the Company is only to pay at the rate mentioned in the agreement provided the goods are up to wark. The evidence of O.P.W. 1 Radha Raman Karmakar who is the proprietor of the company at the time of cross-examination is that prior to August 1958, he had closed his Biri concern for a short period and has re-opened the business after having come to an agreement with the Union and that he used to abide by the terms of the agreement that was arrived in April, 1958. The agreement appears to me to show that the employees were really workmen. This conclusion is supported by other evidence. O.P.W. 1 had said that as he has not sufficient space for a number of Biri workers to sit in the shop, he used to make over Biri leaves to the workers who used to take them home and make Biris there and bring back the finished products the next day, that some of the workers used to sit in his shop and make Biris, that he used to make payments once a week, but had to pay small sums as their pocket expenses, that before giving work to the workers, he used to tell them what kind of Biri he wanted then to make, and they used to make Biri at home accordingly, and that he used to make payments to each workers at the rate of Rs. 2 per thousand made by each of them. His further evidence is that there was no attendance register and the attendance was not compulsory, and that the workers were never required to get holiday and leave because they are paid on the basis of their work. The evidence of O.P.W. 1 himself shows that he had control over the persons who are to bind the Biris. The learned Advocate had urged that as there was no attendance register and as the attendance was not compulsory, these persons cannot be regarded to be workmen. In view of the evidence of O.P.W. 1 taken as a whole, it appears to me that these 41 persons are really workmen under section 2(s) of the Act. Incidentally it may be pointed out, that O.P.W. 1 has not said anything regarding the persons who are not employees under him or regarding the persons who are alleged to have left. O.P.W. 1 has only said that he had only 10 workers at the time, he had closed the factory. But O.P.W. 1 had not mentioned the names of these 10 workmen. In my opinion, the making over of tobaccos and the direction given by O.P.W. 1 regarding Biris to be made and also the right of the employer to reject the Biris which are not up to the standard and the liability of the workmen who take the leaves home, to account for the tobacco taken, indicate that there was really a contract of service between the Company and the persons mention in the order of reference. The only other evidence is the evidence of P.W. 1 who is the President of the Union and P.W. 2 Pankaj Dutta whose names appear in the order of reference. P.W. 2 had said that the workers used to make Biris both in the godown, shop and the residence of the proprietor at Kharagpur and that the number of workmen at the different places varied on different dates and the majority of the workers used to work at the godown at Bhowanipur. His further evidence is that the workmen reported for duty at 8 a.m. in the morning and used to work up to 5 p.m. with an hours break between 11 a.m. and 12 noon, that either the proprietor or his Karmacharies used to make over the tobacco, the Biri leaves and cotton thread for making biris and that after the prepared biris are made over to the proprietor, he counted them and made entries in the register. He has referred to one Khata which appears not to have exhibited. It is his further evidence that if any workman fell ill, he used to make over the unfinished goods to the proprietor and that the workmen got 2 days holidays on Ganesh Puja day and 4 days holidays during Durga Pujas. There is nothing in the cross-examination which would show that the evidence cannot be accepted. P.W. 1 has spoken principally about the agreement which I have referred to earlier. At the time of cross-examination, he had admitted that he is not a worker in the factory and has said that the tobacco leaves, and cotton threads are supplied to the workers by the factory, that the workers make Biris out of the tobaccos and the leaves and the cotton threads supplied by the Company and after the Biris are prepared the workers are paid on the basis of thousand biris made by each of them. It is his further evidence that there is an attendance register and the workers cannot absent themselves from duty according to their will. It appears to me on a consideration of the evidence that the 41 persons mentioned in the order of reference are really workmen under section 2(s) of the Act, Shri Pathak appearing for the workmen had referred me to another award (Ext. 4) which was passed by the learned Judge, Shri S. R. Ghose; there the proprietor was different but the learned Judge had referred to the terms of the agreement which I have referred to above and had come to the conclusion that the employees in that case were really workers. I do not think that simply because in one case, some employees have been found to be workmen under section 2(s) of the Act, the 41 persons mentioned in the order of reference must also be regarded to be workmen. This is, however, a circumstance which can be taken into consideration along with the facts and evidence which I have mentioned above. The conclusion, therefore, is that all these 41 persons are workmen.

With regard to the question of relief to be granted to these workmen, it appears to me that as there has been no notice by the employer, the workmen are entitled to get one month's wages in lieu of notice and also the average wage for 3 (three) months as compensation, the rate being Rs. 2 per thousand biris. Though it has been stated in the written statement that these workmen are not in continuous service for one year, O.P.W. 1 himself had not stated anything at the time of deposition. In the order of reference itself, the approximate period of service before the date of closure has been mentioned and there is no denial on the part of the employer. In the circumstances, I have come to the conclusion that the workmen are entitled to get wages for one month, that is to say, for the period of notice and the average wage for 3 (three) months in the manner indicated above. The amount should be paid to these workmen concerned within one month from the date of the publication of the award in the "Calcutta Gazette". This is my Award.

By order No. 5846-I.R./IR/11L-338/64, dated Calcutta, the 26th October 1964, Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, referred an industrial dispute beteen Messrs. Himalaya Stores and their workmen represented by Burabazar Zamadar Sangh for adjudication regarding the only issue contained in the order of reference

Is dismissal of Sri Rajendra Singh Chowhan justified? To what relief, if any, is the entitled?

This is a reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act. The workmen of Messrs. Himalaya Stores are represented by Burabazar Zamadar Sangh. The Sangh complained about the dismissal of Rajendra Singh Chowhan and submitted in their written statement that the said dismissal is not justified. Rajendra was a permanent employee of the company since its inception. On 24-4-64 he as well as the Union filed a complained before the Chief Inspector, Shops and Establishment, to the effect that he was not paid wages since December 1963. When the management came to know about it, his service was terminated summarily with effect from 27-4-64. At that time his monthly wages were Rs. 90/- per month. The Union took up his case with the Labour Directorate and there had been conciliation. The workman was dismissed without any charge-sheet and without any enquiry whatsoever. As conciliation failed, the matter was referred to the Tribunal. The dismissal of Shri Rajendra Singh is challenged as unjustified, mala fide and an act of victimisation.

The company filed a written statement in answer to that of the Union, wherein it was stated that Rajendra Singh Chowhan was never a member of the Union and the Union is trying to harass the company by raising an industrial dispute out of his workmen after he had been dismissed. The Tribunal accordingly has no jurisdiction to adjudicate upon the said dispute. In para. 3 of the written statement it was contended that Rajendra was an employee but by his own misconduct he merited dismissal and was dismissed. The workman collected Rs. 383 from different customers on different dates and misappropriated the entire sum. The police was however not informed because the management did not like to take drastic step against him. The workman paid Rs. 25 to the company and the balance of Rs. 358 has got to be repaid. The dismissal of the workman is in the aforesaid circumstances justified

Before I proceed to discuss the case on merits I shall dispose of the preliminary objection raised with regard to the question that the reference is not maintainable in view of the fact that Rajendra Singh is not a member of the Union and as such the individual case of dismissal of Rajendra Singh cannot assume the character of an industrial dispute. The onus in this respect is upon the Union and the Union discharges the onus by examining Shri Ram Pandey, Assistant Secretary of the Sangh and producing some documentary evidence in corroboration of the said oral testimony. It is an omnibus Union and his evidence is that four or five workers of Himalaya Stores are members of that Union, including Rajendra Singh Chowhan.

The total strength of workers did not exceed five or six. If out of them four or five are members of the Union, including Rajendra Singh and that Union takes up the case of dismissal of Shri Singh, it becomes an industrial dispute. The Assistance Secretary of the Union was cross-examined and in cross-examination he gave out the names of the members of the Union. The membership register Ext. 1 corroborates his testimony. I can rely upon the aforesaid evidence and safely conclude that Rajendra Singh Chowhan is a member of this Union and the Union has representative capacity and it is competent to raise the dispute of Rajendra Singh Chowhan and the dispute becomes an industrial dispute by dint of the fact that the Union has espoused the cause of Rajendra Singh Chowhan. It is accordingly held to be an industrial dispute and the company's objection in this respect is negatived.

Decision

Admittedly the workman stands dismissed. In the written statement of the Union in para. 5 it is specifically stated that the management terminated his service on 27th April, 1964. It was further stated in the foregoing paragraph that the workman did not receive his salary since December 1963. Curiously enough in the written statement of the company there is no denial whatsoever in respect of the allegation that termination took place on 27th April 1964 and that wages since December 1963 remained unpaid. These facts which are of paramount importance are not challenged in the written statement of the company, nor does the company say that the workman was dismissed on any date other than the date alleged in the written statement of the Union. On the date of final hearing on 29-7-65 for the first time the company produced a letter Ext. A which is purported to be a letter of dismissal. It is dated 25th of June 1963. It is argued before me that on the strength of the letter Ext. A that the workman was dismissed on 25th June 1963 which had been at no stage the case of the company. The company did not even mention that any letter of dismissal was issued to the workman and the workman was dismissed on 25-6-63. Inspite of the categorical statement of the Union that the workman was dismised on 27th of April, 1964, the letter Ext. A filed by the company for the first time at the time of hearing is characterised by the Union as a forged document. The letter Ext. A cannot be relied in the peculiar circumstances and for the reasons stated above unless it is provied by some cogent and convincing evidence. The company examined O.P.W. 2 Shri Sharma, a jamadar, to prove that the letter Ext. A was sent by post. I cannot accept his testimony because the witness is a highly interested one. It is only to be expected that a letter of dismissal would be posted under certificate of posting or under registered cover. In the absence of any postal receipt, showing the posting of the letter I am unable to rely upon it as the letter of dismissal which had been issued to the workman on 25th of June 1963. The letter Ext. A is extremely unreliable. On the contrary, the Union has proved the following facts. On 24th April 1964 a letter was written by the Secretary of the Union stating that the wages of Rajendra Singh Chowhan remained unpaid since December 1963. Thereafter on 27th April 1964 the Secretary of the Union wrote to the Labour Commissioner drawing his attention to the fact that a permanent employee Rajendra Singh was not getting the wages since December 1963 and that his service had been terminated with effect from 27th of April 1964. It was further stated in the letter that the monthly wages of Rajendra Chowhan were Rs. 90 per month. Thereafter there had been some conciliation proceeding and ultimately the matter was referred to the Tribunal. Messrs. Himalaya Stores is the same concern as Himalaya Atta. This is admitted by O.P.W. 1 Shri Gopal Mundra, a partner of the firm. He admitted Exts. D, D(1) and D(2) as bills of Himalaya Atta. At first he said that they are genuine bills and those bills show endorsement of Rajendra Singh as having collected the amounts stated in the bills. The witness wanted to say that the bills were genuine but the amounts were misappropriated by Rajendra Singh Chowhan. Subsequently he corrected himself by saying that the bills were not genuine. The bills will show that even in the month of October 1963 Rajendra Singh Chowhan had been collecting bills from various customers. If those documents can be relied upon, Rajendra Singh Chowhan was in the employment of the company even in the month of October 1963. These documents will negative the belated plea of the company that Rajendra Singh Chowhan was dismissed in June 1963. Even apart from those documents it stands proved that the termination of service of Rajendra Singh Chowhan took place on 27th of April 1964. Upto the present day that was the only case before the Tribunal and it is supported by the documents of the Union, namely, Exts. 2 and 3.

Obviously therefore Rajendra Singh Chowhan was dismissed from service on 27th April 1964 and he complained about the non-receipt of wages since December 1963. Once it is proved that he was continuing in service up to the month of April 1964, the non-payment of wages becomes a proved fact because the company's case is that Rajendra Singh Chowhan was not in employment of the company during that period and as such the question of payment of wages to him did not arise.

Now the question is whether the company can justify the dismissal of Rajendra Singh Chowhan by evidence before the Tribunal. Admittedly there was no charge-sheet issued to Rajendra Singh Chowhan. No enquiry had been held. There is no letter issued to Rajendra Singh Chowhan dismissing him from service on a particular head of charge. For the first time in the written statement of the company filed in answer to the written statement of the Union it was disclosed that Rajendra Singh Chowhan had misappropriated Rs. 383 and it may be presumed that that was the ground of dismissal. Since there is no charge stated anywhere, I am afraid, the matter cannot be looked into by the Tribunal and the management would not be in a position to prove a charge which had no existence whatsoever. Even if I accept the contention of the management that the charge can be invoked and proved before the Tribunal, the onus is heavily upon the management to prove the fact of misappropriation. The written statement of the company simply mentions the fact that the workman collected Rs. 383 from customers and disappropriated the same. There is no mention of the names of those customers nor the dates of misappropriation. The allegation is of a vague and general nature and the particulars of the misappropriation cannot be found in the written statement. In para. 6 of the written statement it was added that since the workman's brother approached the company for a settlement of the misappropriation it was decided that the workman would pay back the misappropriated amount to the company in regular instalments and that the workman had paid Rs. 25 and the balance remained still unpaid. In support of this allegation Ext. B is produced before me for the first time at the time of hearing upon which it is argued that Rajendra Singh Chowhan executed the document on acknowledgment of his guilt on 10th Oct. 1963 and gave a written undertaking in Hindi for repayment of the same in instalment of Rs. 25. In the pleading of the company there is no mention at all about this document. Since the company wants to rely upon this document it was the bounden duty of the company to disclose this document which was the pivot of their case. The written statement was silent even on the point that Rajendra Chowhan gave a written acknowledgment or undertaking. There is no whisper in the written statement about the existence of any such document. It is filed after the Union closed their evidence, and it is sought to be utilised in support of admission of guilt by Rajendra Singh Chowhan. I cannot rely upon Ext. B specially because it was not mentioned in the written statement and no copy thereof had been supplied to the Union and it is put in evidence after the Union closed their evidence. If Ext. B is a document of acknowledgment of any liability the management can proceed against the workman according to law. I cannot accept it as evidence of misappropriation of money. The persons named in Ext. B were not examined before the Tribunal. The documents which will disclose the fact of misappropriation are not also produced before the Tribunal. The only evidence is the oral testimony of one of the partners supported by oral testimony of a servant. Both are extremely interested witnesses and the grave charge of misappropriation cannot be founded from such testimony. I have already observed that in the absence of any charge-sheet or mentioning even of the charge of misappropriation at any stage p to the time of dismissal of the workman it ould not be open to the management to canvass harge of misappropriation before this Tribunal. he charge of misappropriation is not also been oved by satisfactory evidence before the Tribual. It is significant to note that inspite of misppropriation of a substantial amount, the anagement did not inform the police or even odge a diary at the thana. No prosecution was aken out against the workman in respect of the ame misappropriation. The dismissal of the orkman without any change-sheet and enquiry ust be held to the unjustified.

The next question is whether the business had een closed down. There is no such plea in the ritten statement. O.P.W. 1., one of the partners in his oral evidence states that Messrs. Himalaya Stores is not running at present. I am nable to accept his oral testimony. P.W. 1. Ram andey, Assistant Secretary of the Union, on the ther hand, states that Himalaya Stores is still unning its business. The evidence is oath gainst oath. The onus of closing down of the usiness is on the management. The management has not produced any satisfactory evidence o prove the closing down of the said business. cannot therefore accept the contention that Himalaya Stores is not a running business. The orkman is accordingly entitled to reinstatement nd back wages.

This is my award which is to be implemented within 30 days of its publication in the "Calcutta Gazette".

No. 3906-I.R./IR/11L-379/63.—1st September 1965.—Whereas an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Spencer Aerated Water Factory (P) Ltd., 87 Dr. Suresh Sarkar Road, Entally, Calcutta-14 and their workmen represented by Spencer Mazdoor Union, 5 Dr. Suresh Sarkar Road, Calcutta-14, relating to the matter specified in the Second Schedule to the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), was referred by the employer and the workmen to arbitration of of the Arbitrator named in the Arbitration Agreement published under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department order No. 4572-IR/IR/11L-379/63, dated the 30th September 1964;

And whereas, the arbitration award on the said industrial dispute given by the said Arbitrator was received by the State Government on the 16th August 1965;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of the sub-section (1) of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

Whereas an industrial dispute existed between Messrs. Spencer Aerated Water Factory (P) Ltd., 87 Dr. Suresh Sarkar Road, Entally, Calcutta-14 (hereinafter referred to as the employer) and their workmen represented by Spencer Mazdoor Union, 5 Dr. Suresh Sarkar Road, Calcutta-14 (hereinafter referred to as the workmen), relating to the matter specified in the Second Schedule to the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947).

And whereas the employer and the workmen have under sub-section (1) of section 10A of the said Act referred the said dispute to arbitration by an Arbitration Agreement and have submitted to the State Government under sub-section (3) of the said section a copy of the said arbitration agreement;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of sub-section (3) of Section 10A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947(XIV of 1947), Government of West Bengal, Labour Department vide order No. 4572-IR, dated 30th September, 1964 referred the said dispute to me to act as an Arbitrator in pursuance of the Arbitration Agreement submitted by the parties to the State Government under the aforesaid Sub section of the Industrial Disputes Act.

As per order of the Government stated above I took up the dispute between Messrs. Spencer Aerated Water Factory (P) Ltd. and their workmen represented by Spencer Mazdoor Union and give my decision as follows:

Shri Amar Datta, Director of Messrs. Spencer Aerated Water Factory represented the management and Shri Narayan Das Gupta represented the union. Shri Das Gupta opened his case with the preliminary incidents that occurred at Spencer Aerated Factory that led to this present dispute. In 1962, a charter of demands was submitted by Spencer Mazdoor Union, 7B Rani Rashmoni Road, Calcutta-13. With the submission of the charter of demands, management of the factory suddenly became overzealous to settle the dispute with the workmen. Failing to do so, the matter was referred to the Labour Directorate for conciliation. Shri Das Gupta complained that the management instead of cooperating with the Conciliation Officer did not appear before him when their presence was necessary for such meetings. Quite a number of times, the Conciliation Officer had to rebuke the management for failure to attend the conference. The matter went on for sometime and ultimately management complained about partial strike on 10th October and 11th October in 1963 and complete strike from 12th of October 1964. On 15th of October management declared lockout and issued charge-sheets to five men whose arbitration case is before me.

The five persons are viz. Sarvashree Jadunandan Rai, Narain Das, Hari Das, Prichon Rai and Bramdeo Rai. The charges against these men were incitement and instigation to the workmen to adopt go slow tactics on 10th October 1963 and 11th Ocober 1963 and stay-in-strike on 12th October 1963.

The facts of the case are as follows:

On 10th October 1963 Jadunandan Rai, Prichon Rai and Bramdeo Rai, all delivery coolies approached the General Supervisor Shri S. N. Chatterji for inclusion of one by the name of Prakash Rai in the Delivery Section. Shri Chatterji refused to comply with the request of these coolies as the listing of workers for the day was already prepared but promised that Prakash Rai's case would be considered the following morning. I learnt during the hearing that gangs who worked in the Delivery site were alternately kept for the delivery work both inside the factory and outside of it. Outside delivery coolies get some extra money from the customers, places. So the management in order to allow this benefit to all the workmen gave work alternately to everybody. Shri Narayan Das Gupta maintained that Shri Prakash Rai was doing outside delivery work for three consecutive days and hence being a union leader, he (Prakash) approached these men to speak to the General Supervisor for allotment of his duties inside the factory. When the requests of the workmen were turned down by Shri Chatterji, General Supervisor , it was alleged that these men went inside the factory and spoke something to the machinemen Narain Das and Hari Das. After this alleged conversation, the workers adopted slow-down tactics both in the production unit and delivery section on 10th October 1963 and 11th October 1963 and subsequently stay-in-strke on 12th October 1963. Hence the works both at inside the factory and outside delivery were affected. Along with the inclusion of Prakash in the Delivery Section the machinemen demanded that number of men in the machine be increased from 4 to 5 persons. Management waited till the 15th of October and thereafter declared lockout and issued order of suspension against these five persons on charges mentioned above.

I have seen the records and inquiry proceedings. Shri S. N. Chatterji, General Supervisor, was examined on behalf of the company. In his statement I find that Jadunandan, Prichon and Bramdeo worked in the Delivery Section of the company. It was evident from his statement that these delivery men worked both inside the factory and outside. It is also found in the record that these men asked Shri Chatterji for giving work to Prakash inside the factory. When this request was disallowed, these men went inside the workshop and talked to two machinemen Narain Das and Hari Das. After this conversation, these two machinemen demanded five men per machine instead of four. He also stated that this incident followed slow-down both in respect of devlivery of finished articles as well as production of articles inside the factory both on the 10th and 11th of October 1963 and also followed by a stay-in-strike on the 12th October 1963. The accused persons did not challenge the statement by way of contradiction. Another prosecution witness was examined and he was Arun Gupta, Delivery Clerk. Shri Gupta corroborated the statement made by Shri S. N. Chatterji. [Have again nothing was challenged by the accused persons.] The accused persons when examined did not admit that they approached the machinemen Narain and Hari and instigated them to stop work or slow down production. From the prosecution witness Shri Prakash Rai who is said to be a union leader I find that Prakash Rai did not admit to have told these three men, viz. Prichon, Jadunandan and Bramdio to approach the Supervisor for giving him work inside the factory. Jalim Rai, another prosecution witness also did not confirm that Prakash Rai approached these three men for his work inside the factory. He also admitted that there was no work on 12th October 1963.

Shri Subal Datta, the machineman, was examined in the enquiry proceeding in respect of Haridas, the machineman. I find from his statement that he worked in the workshop in the Machine Section for nearly 13 years and he had always seen 4 men operating the machine. He admitted that he never saw 5 men in the machine. He also admitted that Jadunandan, Bramdeo and Prichan came inside the factory and talked to Hari and Narain but could not say what was the talk about. Shri S. N. Chatterji, General Supervisor, was also examined. His statement corroborated with that of the previous witnesses. In the statement of accused Hari Das I find he has admitted that 4 men could run the machine and that this was the practice but stated that with an extra man 'work becomes easier'. The defence produced a witness by the name of Ghanasyan Rauth. He admitted that the machine did not require 5 men but 4 and also admitted that the machine did not work on 12th October 1963 and that there was no production. This witness of course suddenly became hostile and gave evidence against Hari in favour of whom he appeared. He was not of course cross-examined by the defence. Similarly, other witnesses were examined in the case of another machineman Shri Narain Das. It was stated that there was slow down as well as strike on the aforesaid days and also it was admitted by Narain, the accused, that the machine ordinarily requires 4 men but one extra man could make the work easy.

From the evidence I find the defence did not put up evidences by way of contradiction about instigation or incitement to the workmen for slow down on 10th October 1963 and 11th October 1963. They did not produce any reliable witness nor did they obtain contradiction by way of cross-examination of the prosecution witnesses. So it is a fact that slow down tactics were adopted and also it was an admission of the accused persons that there was strike on 12th October 1963. These tactics plus the strike on 12th October 1963 were held during the pendency of conciliation proceedings.

There were no extenuating circumstances in support of the action taken by the workmen nor there were evidences of provocation from the side of the management. The inclusion of Prakash in the Delivery Section inside the factory, in my opinion, was purely management's function. Similarly the demand for an extra man in the machine section seems to me that the men were bent upon picking up some quarrel with the management and hence the unilateral action which ultimately resulted in strike was not proper and onducive to the maintenance of industrial peace nd harmony in a factory. The strike may not be legal but the circumstances show that the strike was ot only unjustified but uncalled for as the conciliaon proceeding was pending. The Conciliation Officer rther asked the Union not to adopt any action which ight precipitate the crisis. The slow-down and the ltimate strike clearly shows insubordination on the art of the workmen. I am, therefore, of the opinion hat the action taken by the Company was justified.

After looking into the records and evidences I am nclined to believe that the three delivery coolies, iz. Jadunandan, Prochan and Bramdeo did speak omething to the machine men Hari Das and Harain as who immediately effected stand-still position in ne machine by asking one more additional man. his sudden demand made by the men reveals the xistence of the influence of the delivery coolies on ne machine men who in their turn brought out a osition whereby there were reduction of production nd also strike.

I have in detail mentioned my reaction to the idences and records and after hearing both the parties am convinced that the accused persons were guilty f the charges levelled against them. I, therefore, phold the decision of dismissals of the aforesaid 5 ersons by the management.

Present

Shri R. BHATTACHARYA, M.A. LL.B,
Judge, Fourth Industrial Tribunal.

Three references under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act have been taken up today for consideration and analogous hearing at the request of all the parties concerned and for the sake of convenience. This award shall govern all the three cases.

The first reference was sent to this Tribunal by the Government of West Bengal, under Labour Department Order No. 2049-I.R.I R/11L/334(B)/-64, dated 7th June 1965. The parties to this reference are Messrs. Hind Ceramics Ltd. (hereinafter referred to as the Company), 147 Nilgunj Road, P. O. Belghoria, 24-Parganas and (ii) Hind Ceramics Workers' Union, 22/1 Kali Charan Ghosh Road, Calcutta-50. The issue in the order of reference is as follows:

1. Whether the management was justified in suspending the work with effect from 20th October, 1964 and whether such suspension is tantamount to closure or lock-out? What relief, if any, are the workmen entitled to?

This case has been registered in my file as Case No. 136/65.

The second reference was originally sent to the First Industrial Tribunal by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 6131-I.R./IR/ 11L-334/64, dated 11th November 1964. The parties to the reference are Messrs. Hind Ceramics Ltd., 147 Nilgunj Road, P. O. Belghoria, 24-Parganas, and their workmen represented by Hind Ceramics Workers, Union, 22/1 Kalicharan Ghosh Road, Calcutta-50. The issue in this reference is as follows:

1. Whether the dismissal of Sarvashri Pabitra Kumar Das, Balai Kanjilal and Rabindra Chandra Neogi is justified? What relief, if any, are they entitled to?

Subsequently, however, this reference was transferred to this Tribunal by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 3252-I.R/IR/11L-334/64, dated 23rd July 1965. This case has been registered as case No. 196/65.

The other reference was sent to the First Industrial Tribunal by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 808-I.R./IR/11L-215/63, dated 26th February 1964. In this reference the employer is Messrs. The issues in this reference are as follows:

1. Bonus for the years 1962 and 1963.

2. Whether the lock-out for the period from 20th October 1963 to 8th December 1963 was justified? To what relief, if any, are the workmen entitled?

Ultimately, however, this reference has been transferred to my file by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 2317-I.R./IR/11L-334(A) 1964, dated 21st June 1965. It is registered as case No. 165/65.

Today the parties to the disputes appear before me with compromise petitions and submitted that all the disputes of these three references have been amicably settled on the basis of an agreement signed by all the parties mentioned in the three references. It has been prayed before me that all the three references may be taken up together and a compromise award may be passed on the basis of the agreement filed governing the three references. I have heard the parties. I have considered the agreement filed before me. The compromise is voluntary, legal and reasonable. As prayed for by the parties, I pass a compromise award on the basis of the memorandum of settlement marked Annexure 'X' to this award including annexures 'A' & 'B' referred to in the memorandum of settlement which shall form part hereof.

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Tollygunje Tant Silpa Pratistan, 163/18, Moore Avenue, Calcutta-40, and their workmen represented by Tollygunge Tant Silpa Pratistan Workers' Union, 5/73 Bejaygarh Colony, Calcutta-32. (G. O. No. 1705-I.R. dated 13th May 1965). (VIII-8/64) II

Present

Shri R. BHATTACHARAY, M.A., LL.B.,
Judge, Fourth Industrial Tribunal.

For the Union: Shri M. M. Saha, Advocate.

For the Silpa Pratistan : None.

This is a reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act over a dispute between Messrs. Tollygunge Tant Silpa Pratistan, (hereinafter described as the Silpa Pratistan) 163/18 Moore Avenue, Calcutta-40 and their workmen represented by the Tollygunge Tant Silpa Pratistan Workers' Union (hereinafter referred to as the Union), 5/73 Bejoygarh Colony, Calcutta-32. The issue for adjudication is as follows:

1. Whether the closure of Tollygunge Tant Silpa Pratistan is real and bona fide? Whether the closure is beyond the control of the management and in the circumstances justified? To what relief, if any, are the workmen entitled?

In spite of due notice the Silpa Pratistan has not appeared in this case. The union has, however, appeared and filed written statement in support of the workers' claims. In short, the case of the union is that the Silpa Pratistan failed to pay the due wages of the workers on 17th March 1965 and 18th March 1965. There was a representation of the workers to the proprietor of the Silpa Pratistan. The sons of the proprietor assaulted the workers. Thereafter the workers demanded justice from the proprietor. The proprietor, however, did not take any step but, on the other hand, with mala fide intention he declared the closure of the factory from 20th March 1965 without any justification. The union referred the matter to the Labour Directorate challenging the closure of the factory. Ultimately, however, the factory was again opened on 23rd April 1965 and since then the factory has been working. The case of the workmen is that the closure of the factory was malafide and that the workers are entitled to get full wages for the period of closure. The workers also pray for other benefits including statutory leave for the period of closure. The Silpa Pratistan did not appear and file any written statement. The case has been heard ex-parte today.

The Union has examined Santi Ranjan Ganguly as P. W. 1. He is the Secretary of the Union. His evidence is that the workmen of the Silpa Pratistan has formed the union and that the union represents the workmen. We get from this witness that the workmen demanded their weekly due wages but the sons of the proprietor assaulted the workmen on 18th March 1965. The workmen demanded justice from Shri Basanta Lal Saha, proprietor. The proprietor thereafter closed the factory from 19th March 1965. The copy of the notice is Ext. 1. This is dated 20th March 1965. The proprietor wants to say in this notice that he had been suffering loss for three years, that the workers indulged in disorderly and riotious conduct, that the proprietor has been suffering from illness for the last one year and that it was not possible for him to manage the factory. On these grounds the proprietor wanted to close down the factory. P. W. 1 has denied the allegations made in the notice. He has stated that the grounds mentioned in the notice of closure are false and that the closure of the factory is not bona fide. Ext. 2 is the letter written by the union to the Labour Commissioner protesting against the closure of the factory. The evidence further shows that on and from 23rd April 1965 the factory has been running and that the workmen have again been working there. On consideration of the evidence of P. W. 1, the Secretary of the union and the circumstances of this case, I am convinced that the closure of the factory from 19th March 1965 to 22nd April 1965 was not genuine or real. The factory was closed down by the proprietor with ulterior motive to harass and victimise the workmen. There was no justification for closing the factory during that period. This closure of the factory was illegal and unjustified. This is a sort of unfair labour practice. The closure of the factory was not beyond the control of the management.

In view of my findings above, the question of relief comes in. The evidence is that the workmen work at piece-rates. They are entitled to their normal earnings during the period of closure. I hold that the workmen of the Silpa Pratistan who were on the roll of its register on 18th March 1965 shall be entitled to their average earning during the period of closure. The said earning will be equivalent to the amount which they received as their remuneration during the month just preceding the closure of the factory. They will also be treated as in service during the closure and shall be entitled to other normal benefits of service, if any, for the servicial of closure.

Shri Sudhan Ram Rajbhar operated the pirn-winding machine and Shri Chhedilal operated the winding machine and Shri Makhan Lal Das worked as a twister. Besides these pirn-winders, there were 4 employees named Sarbasree Biswanath Ganguly, Arabinda Manna, Panchu Gopal and Ram Nagina Gowala who exclusively did the work of bobbin distribution. In order to increase the work-load on the pirn-winders and to retrench those who would thus be declared surplus to requirement, the Manager had given a general notice, dated 7-11-63 calling upon 12 pirn-winders to express their opinion in writing as to whether they were prepared to do whatever job they were given from time to time. It was further stated in that notice that if they refused to comply with the notice, they would be retrenched. On behalf of the workmen, the Union made a representation on 19-11-63, disclosing the actual state of affairs and requesting the Company to hold a bipartite discussion for the purpose of amicable settlement. A copy of the representation was sent to the Assistant Labour Commissioner, Barrackpore. The Company, however, did not give any reply to the representation made by the Union on behalf of the workmen. The Assistant Labour Commissioner held the conciliation proceedings on 26-11-63, 12-12-63, 19-12-63 and 27-12-63, but the matter could not be settled due to the adamant attitude of the employer. Thereafter the Conciliation Officer made his report and the issues had been referred by the Government to the Tribunal for adjudication.

With regard to the issue No. 1, the workmen had stated in their written statement that in the interest of effective utilisation of labour-power, productive efficiency, standardised and smooth production, industrial peace and good relation, the job of the 12 workmen should be specified. It has been further stated that the specification of jobs depends upon correct assessment and evaluation of labour power to be required for a particular job, skill, efficiency, suitability and adaptibility, experience and length of services, education both academic and technical, durability of job, etc. It is also stated that in view of the improvement in the technique of production by way of rationalisation, there should be no retrenchment of workmen, but they should be absorbed in suitable alternative employment, so that the fruits of rationalisation can be equitably distributed to the concerned workmen. Lastly with regard to issue No. 1 it is said that the workmen required to operate the automatic and the old pirn-winding machines in 2 shifts are doing permanent jobs and the work of bobbin distribution is also permanent job.

With regard to issue No. 2 it has been stated that the Company runs 210 looms in two shifts and each weaver had been running two looms since its inception and the working in two looms was the condition of service of the weavers. The Company, however, recruited a large number of weavers to remain temporary and/or casual or so-called badli workers without making them permanent inspite of permanent vacancies. The Company in November 1963, intended to run 3 shifts instead of two shifts by the existing permanent weavers by running 4 looms per weaver and had thereby increased the work-load on the weavers by changing their condition of service prejudicially. No notice of this change in the condition of service was served on the workers as required by law. The Company also had not effected any change and/or improvement in the other factors of production, viz., quality of yarn and other products, working conditions, developed looms and/or modernisation of the machines and techniques there by way of rationalisation. At the beginning, the so-called casual workers were forced to operate 4 looms per head under threat of coercion and loss of employment, when the permanent workers refused to run the same. The permanent workers were transferred prejudicially to the other looms and when the permanent workers refused, they were charge-sheeted and threatened with dire consequences. The Union made a representation to the Assistant Labour Commissioner on 20-11-63 and the Assistant Labour Commissioner, Barrackpore, held a tripartite meeting on 26-11-63. In view of the attitude of the Company, no settlement was arrived at. In fact, an interim agreement was arrived at between the Company and the Union that the former would maintain status quo. The Company, however, did not abide by the agreement or even did not agree to the proposal of the Conciliation Officer. There was a further representation on 7-1-64 to the Deputy Labour Commissioner, Government of West Bengal, for intervention and he had convened a meeting with the parties on 20-2-64 to settle the dispute through conciliation proceeding. This conciliation also failed due to the attitude of the Company. Accordingly the Officer had made a report to the Government which had made the reference. With regard to issue No. 2 it is stated on behalf of the workers that the work-load of the workmen should not be increased in the existing set-up in India except by way of rationalisation. The increased work-load will entail retrenchment and loss of employment of a section of weavers and will also tell upon the health of the workmen.

Regarding issue No. 2, the Union had prayed that the work of the workmen mentioned in the reference should be specified primarily on the basis of seniority in service and that after providing the jobs the workmen in automatic and old pirn-winding machines, the other workmen should be entrusted with bobbin distribution work. With regard to issue No. 2, the Union had prayed that it might be held that the introduction of 4-loom operation is not justified and if it is held that the operation of 4-loom operation is justified, then it might be held that the workmen who run 4 looms, are entitled to get basic earning and double the rate of the dearness allowance from the Company.

In the written statement filed on behalf of the Company, certain preliminary objections have been taken. In the first place it has been stated that issues mentioned in the order of reference, do not come within the purview of the second schedule of the Industrial Disputes Act, that both the issues are matters relating to rationalisation and the issue of rationalisation has been provided in clause 9 of the Third Schedule and that as in the order of reference Second Schedule is mentioned, the reference is defective, bad in law and illegal. The Tribunal, therefore, has no jurisdiction to adjudicate the issues. It has also been stated that the issue of specification of jobs and the issue regarding the justification or otherwise regarding 4-loom operation, can be decided only by technical experts, having technical knowledge and experience of the subject and that the Industrial Tribunal has not been constituted for giving decisions on technical and scientific matters. Regarding issue No. 1, it is stated that the matter was never raised with the Conciliation Officer and the dispute regarding the matter was never raised by the Union. Therefore the Government had acted wholly without jurisdiction in referring that issue to this Tribunal for adjudication. Regarding issue No. 2, it is stated that the workers themselves agreed to work 4 looms and there was no dispute on this point by the workers who are running the 4 looms. Therefore the Government had acted beyond its jurisdiction in making the reference. It has therefore been prayed that the reference might be rejected on those grounds. Regarding the merits of the issues which had been referred to this Tribunal for adjudication, the Company had stated that it had informed by the notice, dated 7-11-63, the 20 pirn-winders that due to introduction of automatic hacoba pirn-winding machines, the normal requirement of the Company is 8 pirn-winders and therefore, the 12 pirn-winders are surplus. The Company wanted to absorb these 12 pirn-winders in the alternative jobs of Weft cleaning, distribution, collection, hank winding, bobbin winding, twisting, etc. Though the jobs are ancilliary jobs done in the preparatory department, the prin-winders were not inclined to do those ancilliary jobs. Therefore the notice was given by the Company on 7-11-63 to the pirn-winders, as the Company wanted to get consent letters to the effect that they will agree to do the alternative jobs as would be required from time to time. In case of refusal, the Company may have to retrench these pirn winders. The Union had misguided these persons and asked those pirn-winders not to do those ancilliary jobs. The Company further alleges that in view of the nature of work only 8 pirn-winders can not be given permanent jobs and the other pirn-winders can be provided with particular jobs always, that if the pirn-winders agree to do the connected ancilliary jobs in the preparatory department, then they can be kept absorbed, that these are all jobs which have been done by the pirn-winders in the past without any protest and that it is not correct that the Company wanted to increase the work-load of pirn-winders and wanted to retrench some of the pirn-winders. The Company has now 80 spindles of hacoba automatic pirn-winding machines and the Company submits that according to the experts' opinion, one pirn-winder can operate 40 to 48 spindles of hacoba automatic pirn-winding machines. Regarding these automatic machines it has been stated that many of the operations which are done in non-automatic machine, are not required to be done at all. In spite of the fact that a pirn-winder can easily look after 40 to 48 spindles, the Company by the notice dated 7-11-63, had asked the pirn winders to look after only 20 spindles of automatic hacoba pirn-winding machine. With regard to the question of job specification, the Company submits that if this question is to be decided at all, it must be decided after taking into consideration amongst other things, the availability of the jobs, that the Company at present does not require more than 2 pirn-winders in the bobbin distribution work and that regarding the other ancilliary jobs, there is no fixity of the time when the jobs would be required as the jobs are determined by the market conditions and that it is not possible that all the surplus pirn winders should be given the bobbin distribution work as suggested by the workers in their written statement. Lastly it is stated that the Company has the right to assign particular jobs to the workers and no dispute can be raised regarding the question whether the pirn-winders should be given particular jobs or not. Regarding issue No. 2, the Company states that it is not correct that it is a condition of the service of the weavers that they are to work on 2 looms only, that the Company had worked 4 looms for several years according to the requirement of the Company, that the Company never increased the work-load by prejudicially changing the service condition of the weavers, and that it is not necessary to give the notice of change for 4 loom working, because this was done on the consent and willingness of the weavers. The Company has also denied the other allegations made in the written statement of the workmen and had stated that the question whether the management would operate 4 looms is purely management's function and the management of the Company has every right to organise its own business on sound and efficient lines. It is also stated that the 4 looms operation has been re-started on the initiative of the weavers themselves who had made request in writing and that the Company itself never asked any weaver nor issued any order to any weaver to work on 4 looms. As a result of 4 looms operation, the working condition of the weavers has improved considerably and there is a rush from the weavers in spite of Union's opposition to work on 4 looms. The Company had also given a notice to the weavers to the effect that those weavers who are working on 4 looms may at any time withdraw from 4 loom working if they so like. There is also a demand for increased wages, but the determination for increased wages can not be made without increased production. In the written statement, a chart has been given showing the financial benefit to the management and the workers as a result of the 4 looms operation. Lastly it is stated that the Company is absolutely justified in re-introducing 4-loom operation and the 4 loom weaver should get 75 per cent. of the basic wages than that of 2-loom weavers instead of 80 per cent. as now being given and also should get Rs. 35 as dearness allowance. If, however, n the opinion of the Tribunal, the Company is not ustified in introducing the 4-loom operation the 'ompany is agreeable to withdraw the 4-loom peration by giving 3 months' notice. Lastly it s prayed that the claims of the workmen may be ejected.

Decision

Before I proceed to discuss the issues, I shall onsider the preliminary objections raised before ie by Shri K. K. Maitra appearing for the mployer. The first objection of the Learned dvocate Shri Maitra is that substantially the ubject matters under reference relate to the uestion of rationalisation which is to be found i item No. 9 of schedule 3 of the Industrial Disutes Act and that in the order of reference to iis Tribunal it has been stated that the issues re maters specified in schedule 2 of that act. he Learned Advocate had further pointed out hat mainly economic matters are mentioned in chedule 3 and that the order of reference must e construed strictly and as a whole. For the itter proposition, the Learned Advocate had lied on the ruling reported in A.I.R. 1965 S.C. 5 (Commissioner of Police, Bombay, Versus loverdhandas Bhanji). In that case it was eld by their Lordships of the Supreme Court nat public orders, publicly made, in exercise of statutory authority cannot be construed in the ght of explanations publicly given by the officer aking the order of what he meant, or of what as in his mind, or what he intended to do. ublic orders made by public authorities are eant to have public effect and are intended to fect the actings and conduct of those to whom ey are addressed, and must be construed objecvely with reference to the language used in the der itself. It is well-settled that the order ade by public officer in the discharge of public ities must be construed as a whole and strictly ving regard to the language used in the order elf. But I do not see how this ruling is applible in the facts and circumstances of the present se. According to the contention of the Learned awyer, issues referred for adjudication to this ibunal, relate to the question of rationalisation hich is mentioned in item No. 9 of the 3rd hedule of the Industrial Disputes Act. It is ite true that the issues under reference do not late to any of the items mentioned in schedule 2 the act except perhaps item No. 6 of schedule . But even if the order is to be construed as a hole and objectively, I do not think it can be said at merely because there is a reference to hedule 2 of the order of reference, the order of ference must be regarded to be invalid and bad. this connection, I would point out that the ibunal has jurisdiction to decide the disputes lating to any matters specified in schedule 2 or hedule 3, provided of course, the dispute regardg that matter is referred to the Tribunal. The earned Lawyer had referred to the ruling eported in A.I.R. 1950, Madras 835-(1950-51) II .J.R. 65. (in re S.S.N) Laxmanan Chettiar and hers) and had urged that there has been a vague reference and the Tribunal should not adjudicate such a vague reference. This specific objection has not been taken in the written statement filed by the employer. The Learned Advocate submitted that there had been incorrect specification. I do not agree with the Learned Advocate. So far as the issues are concerned, they are quite specific and clear and so far as the reference to schedule 2 is concerned, there is at best a mistake but having regard to the issues which had been actually referred to this Tribunal, and also having regard to the fact that issues themselves are specific and clear, I do not think it can be said that there has been a vague reference. With regard to the case cited by the Learned Advocate, it would appear that the management of a concern was prosecuted under section 29 of the Industrial Disputes Act for not implementing an award. The accused pleaded inter alia that the award was without jurisdiction as the reference was invalid. The reference in that case did not mention the specific dispute between the workmen and the management and did not also specify the firms in respect of which the disputes existed. In the circumstances, it was held that the notification was illegal and the award was invalid and that as the prosecution was launched on the basis of the illegal award, the complaint was not sustainable. As I have mentioned earlier, the issues referred to this Tribunal for adjudication are absolutely specific and clear, it cannot be said that the order of reference itself is vague. I have also pointed out earlier that this specific objection is not to be found in the written statement of the employer. In the circumstances mentioned above I cannot accept also this submission made by the Learned Advocate for the employer. The last preliminary objection which Shri Maitra, for the employer, has raised is that very technical matters have been referred to this Tribunal for adjudication and this Tribunal should decline to enter into a discussion regarding the issues. In particular, the Learned Advocate submitted that the issue of job specification (issue No. 1) is a very technical matter. He had drawn my attention to the observation made by another Learned Tribunal Judge, Shri G. Palit in the Omnibus Tribunal Award which was published in the "Calcutta Gazette" on 6-11-1958. There the Learned Judge was discussing the question of fixation of grade and scales of pay and incidentally the Learned Judge had to consider the question of classification of workers with the reference to skill. After referring to the first Omnibus Engineering Tribunal Award, the Learned Judge had stated that though he may have a will, like the First Omnibus Engineering Tribunal, yet he did not find the way, that to make the matter more complex, not only skill is involved, but length of service, physical and mental strain, effect, etc., are required to be studied, that the matter becomes wellnigh impossible when he found that the same worker finds his place among the semi-skilled and the skilled groups; for instance, a turner, a fitter, a moulder, etc., finds a berth in any of these categories, that there are also varieties of skill in different industries, and perhaps, in the same industry and that even for an expert body the work of classification may very well be taken to be an impossible task, let alone for a non-technical Tribunal like himself. The later observation of what I have mentioned above, has been quoted in paragraph 3 of the written statement of the employer. The Learned Judge, however, had fixed the grades and scales of pay of the clerical staff, supervisory staff and the subordinate staff. I do not accept the contention of the Learned Lawyer for the employer that a non-technical Tribunal like myself should not decide the question of job specification which has been referred to this Tribunal for adjudication. It appears to me that in the present case at least there is really no complication or complexity regarding the question of job-specification of 12 workers whose names had been embodied in the order of reference. This contention is also therefore, over ruled.

The next contention of the Learned Lawyer for the employer is that as the dispute regarding issue No. 1 was not raised by anyone, the Government acted wholly without jurisdiction in referring that issue to this Tribunal for adjudication. This specific objection in this regard has been taken in paragraph 4 of the written statement of the employer. There it has been stated that issue mentioned in issue No. 1 was not a subject-matter of any dispute before the Conciliation Officer and the Union also never raised any such dispute. Therefore, by referring issue No. 1, the Government has wholly acted beyond its jurisdiction. The Learned Advocate has referred me to Ext. A which is a notice of the Company to the pirn winders dated 7th November 1963, Ext B is the reply of the Union to the notice dated 7th November 1963 and is dated 19th November 1963 Both these Exts. A and B had been marked on admission. The Learned Advocate had referred to this exhibits and submitted that the question of job specification regarding the 12 workmen mentioned in the order of reference is not raised there. I shall have occasion to refer to these 2 documents in greater detail later on, but at this stage, I would only point out that there are discrepancies regarding the particular work which a particular worker is doing. For example, whereas Ext. A shows that Babulal Bharati is not working as a pirn-winder in the automatic machine, Ext. B shows that Babulal is one of the 8 pirn-winders who are running the automatic pirn-winding machine. What have been stated about Babulal also applies to the case of Janardan Mahanti, Rajgiri Singh and Arabindo Ghose. According to Ext. A, these 4 persons, whose name have been mentioned above the others are surplus to the requirement, as the normal requirement is only 8 pirn-winders and as there are 20 pirn-winders. I do not think it can be said that the Union did not raise a dispute regardng the job of these pirn-winders. It appears to me that there was a serious dispute regarding the specification of jobs of the 12 workmen mentioned in the order of reference. In the circumstances, I cannot accept the submission of Shri Maitra that as there was no dispute regarding the issue as to the job specification, the reference of issue No. 1 to this Tribunal must be held to be without jurisdiction. The contention of the Learned Advocate in this regard must be overruled.

Before I proceed to consider the other contention which has been raised by the Learned Advocate as to the invalidity of the reference of issue No. 2 which relates to the justifiability of the introduction of 4-loomo. operation and before I consider the question of justifiability of the 4-loom operation, I shall discuss issue No. 1 at first with reference to the evidence which has been adduced before me. It is admitted on both sides that there is a preparatory department where various types of work such as, pirn winding, weft cleaning, bobbin distribution and bobbin cleaning, hank winding are done. It is also not disputed that there is another department called weaving department where the yarns are weaved into fabrics. It is further undisputed that in 1961, the Company had introduced the automatic machine called Hacoba pirn winding machine and that before the notice of the Company, there were 20 pirn-winders. The Union had stated that though some of the workmen did not do the actual pirn winding work and were engaged in different other jobs, they were all known as pirn-winders. Some support regarding the contention of the Union can be had from the notice (Exhibit A) itself. That notice is headed pirn-winders. It is necessary to mention the 20 names which, according to the notice, were arranged in order to seniority. The names are:

1. Budhan Ram Rajbhar
2. Ram Krishna Rajbhar
3. Bideshi Routh
4. Natabar Barik
5. Makhanlal Das
6. Kanailal Dosad
7. Jiban Nandi
8. Madan Routh
9. Sukdeo Khatua
10. Sunil Sarkar
11. Chedi Lal
12. Janardan Mohanty
13. Babulal Bharati
14. Rajgiri Singh
15. Arabinda Ghose
16. Nikunjo Haldar
17. Sudhan Ram Rajbhar
18. Akhil Ch. Roy
19. Chanaiya
20. Dino Bandhu Majhi

In the notice it is further stated that the normal requirement is 8 pirn-winders and therefore, about 12 pirn-winders are surplus, that at present one pirn-winder is looking after only 20 spindles of automatic Hacoba pirn-winding machine, that normally 40/48 spindles are looked after on such machines by one operator, that besides this, the management sometimes require one or two pirn-winders on old pirn-winding machine, that the rest of the pirn-winders are engaged in bobbin distribution and other works and that there had been trouble regarding the other works which are to be done by the remaining pirn-winders and, therefore, the management wanted the last 12 workers to express their willingness in writing by 30th October 1963 as to whether those workers were prepared to do the other jobs of weft cleaning, distribution, collection, Hank winding, bobbin winding and twisting, and that the jobs are to be offered when available. It is also stated that if by the date fixed, the consent letters are not given by the last 12 workmen, the management will have no alternative but to retrench them, that the management had no intention of retrenching these workers but would be forced to retrench them unless the consent letters are sent, that the workmen would not be prejudicially affected either financially or in the continuity of service or other conditions of service and that once retrenchment is notified and done, the management will not accept that those workmen are prepared to do the above jobs. I have quoted nearly the whole of the notice, because much of the contentions of the Learned Advocates turn on the interpretation of this notice Ext. A. The notice is signed by O.P.W. 1 Shri S. K. Gupta who is the manager. O.P.W. 1 has said that as there were more pirn-winders than the Company requires and as sometimes the surplus workers did the other works and sometime did not, and as the Company required the consent in writing before giving them particular jobs, this notice was issued. He has denied that the intention of giving the notice in November 1963 is to increase the work-load of the workmen and had stated that at the time the written statement was filed, the management required some pirn-winders on twisting and winding work, and therefore it was stated that fixed jobs can be given for 8 pirn winders and that as requirement had gone down, 4 pirn-winders can be provided as pirn-winders and 4 other pirn-winders can be provided in ancilliary jobs. It is the further evidence of O.P.W. 1 that after the introduction of automatic machine, the work of a pirn-winder has gone down by 70 per cent. that the main function of the automatic and non-automatic pirn-winding machine is to feed and non-automatic to put starting thread on each pirn and to remove full pirn from each spindle, that this entire function is not done by the operative on the automatic machine and these were done by the automatic machine itself, that the job of pirn winding requires very little skill, that there was a strike in the pirn-winding department when one of the operatives was asked to do some other work, that then all the 80 spindles were worked by mazdoor and clerical staff within no time for about 2 days continuously, that so far as the bobbin distribution work is concerned, there is work only for 1½ operative per shift, that at best, there can be 4 operatives in 2 shifts and that there are permanent bobbin distribution job for only 2 workers. At the time of cross-examination, O.P.W. 1 has said that at present moment, 4 pirn-winders are working 80 spindles per shift, that the output of full bobbins per hour per spindle would be 20 to 30 depending on the denier (thickness) of the yarn, that the more thick the yarn is, the number of full bobbins would be more, that in the old pirn-winding machine, the output of the full bobbin would be 5 to 6 bobbins per spindle per hour, that as the pirn-winders are time-rated, no record of the production are maintained, that there is also no record to show the place of the work of the individual pirn-winder on any particular date or to show that any particular workman is working in a particular job in the preparatory department and that the supervisor allots the different jobs there. It is his further evidence that the speed of the Hacoba pirn-winding machine is faster than the speed of the old pirn-winding machine, that it is not correct that as a result of the speed, the pirns are very often broken and that the pirn-winder has to move faster than previously, that in fact, the pirn winders are much more idle, that the quantum of bobbins which the pirn winders have to collect is about twice the number of bobbins which they had to to collect previously and that it is also incorrect that due to the high speed of the automatic machine, the spindles get jammed. He added when they do get jammed, 4 spindles are stopped at a time and then the fitter has to attend to the jamming. It appears that so far as the notice is concerned, no question has been urged excepting as to whether the names had been arranged in order of seniority. This is one of the contentions which the Learned Advocate for the workmen sought to raise. As it appeared to me that in view of the order of reference, the question of seniority amongst the workmen does not arise, I had not allowed him to put any question regarding that point of P.W. 5 Shri Lakhindar Biswal who is the Secretary of the Union. It is therefore clear that the evidence of O.P.W. 1 regarding the reasons for giving the notice Ext. A, has not been challenged in cross-examination. The Learned Advocate appearing for the workmen had pointed out that in view of the process of work in the automatic machine and in view of the process of work in the non-automatic machine, there must be some increase to the work-load of the workmen who are operating the automatic machines. I do not think this submission can be accepted. In the first place, the automatic machine admittedly, was introduced in 1961 and no dispute was raised in 1961 regarding the question of justifiability of the introduction of the automatic machine. I have been referred by the Learned Advocate to the Tripartite Conclusions (1942-1962), (published by Government of India, Ministry of Labour and Employment, page 45) wherein certain principles had been emphasized. They are: —

(i) there should be no retrenchment or loss of earnings of the existing employees, i.e., the full complement required for the operations before rationalisation should be maintained except for cases of natural separation or wastage. Workers could, however, be provided with suitable alternative jobs in the same establishment or under the same employer, subject to agreement between the employer and his workers;

(ii) there should be an equitable sharing of benefits of rationalisation as between the community, the employer and the worker; and

(iii) there should be a proper assessment of work-load made by an expert or experts mutually agreed upon and also suitable improvement in the working conditions.

It has been further observed that subject to these conditions, certain broad procedure was suggested to smoothen the progress of rationalisation. The Union or the Unions in an undertaking and the employer could enter into a working arrangement on the following lines:—

(i) the company may seek to make such changes in machinery, lay-out and organisation as it deems necessary for efficient operation of machinery and rational use of labour and material without prejudice to the provisions of any law for the time being in force and subject to the provisions of the working arrangement;

(ii) before any such change is effected, the company shall give reasonable notice, ranging from three weeks to three months, to the union(s) of its intention to effect the change. The notice shall be in a form mutually agreed upon and shall contain full information regarding the nature of the proposed change, approximate date of such change, proposed duties for workers concerned and their job assignment and the expected earnings. Where, however, an appropriate procedure for notice of change exists under the current legislation, the same should be observed in preference to the above;

(iii) the employer shall also furnish information regarding the change and the reduction in the number of jobs and also the effect of the change on the number of jobs in other departments affected but the same change;

(iv) the employer and employees shall meet and discuss the proposal as soon as possible after the notice has been given under para (ii) above. The employer shall furnish all information necessary for a complete understanding of the proposed change and shall explain the contemplated change to the union(s);

(v) the union or unions shall, within a week after the discussion with the employer, present its views or proposals to the employer. If there is agreement between the parties, the employer may introduce the change on the due date in accordance with the agreement;

(vi) the union or unions shall be given adequate opportunity to study the new change so as to enable it to gauge the work-loads and the earnings of the employees engaged in the new operation; and

(vii) if there are differences between the parties on any matter covered by this working arrangement, the matters in dispute shall be referred for arbitration or adjudication.

It is quite evident from what has been mentioned above that these relate to the stage of the proposed change and cannot, therefore, relate to a stage when the proposed change has already been effected. It may be pointed out that the question which has been referred by the Government of West Bengal is whether the work of the workmen whose names had been mentioned in the order of reference should be specified or not. The issue itself shows that those workmen were doing certain works and the Tribunal has to decide whether the works of these workmen should or should not be specified. After discussing the other evidence, I shall give my decision regarding that question. The evidence certainly does not show that there has been an increase in the work-load after the introduction of the automatic machine in 1961. If there had really been increase in the work-load after the introduction of the machine in 1961 there would have been a dispute and there would have been a reference to some Tribunal regarding the question of justifiability of rationalisation consequent upon the introduction of the automatic machine. It may also be mentioned here that even in Ext. B, there is no allegation of any increase in the work-load. For the present purpose it is not necessary to discusss the question of increase in work-load any further specially having regard to the terms of the reference. Turning now to the evidence it would appear that only P.W. 6 Shri Arabinda Ghosh and P.W. 7 Shri Natabar Barik had been examined in the present case and that the others have not been examined. The substance of the evidence of P.W. 6 and P.W. 7 is that some of the workmen numbering 8 are working in the new automatic machine in 2 shifts and that in respect of the old machine, there are 4 workers in 2 shifts. P W. 7 has also stated that the remaining workmen attend to the bobbin distribution work. There is some discrepancy to the evidence of P.W. 6 and P.W. 7. For example, whereas P.W. 6 has said that Chedilal is now working in the old machine and previously did the work of a bobbin binder. P.W. 7 has said that Chedilal did the hank winding work and that even when there was only the old machine, he did the hank winding work. The evidence of P.W. 6 and P.W. 7 regarding the workers operating the new and the old pirn winding machine is corroborated to a certain extent by the evidence of O.P.W. 1. O.P.W. 2 has however said that there are 13 pirn winders in 3 shifts, A, E and C and that having regard to the loom capacity of the Mill, 2 pirn winders per shift are required. He has further said that so far as the bobbin distribution work is concerned, there are 2 permanent bobbin distributors and actually the requirement is 1½ persons per shift, and therefore, in all, jobs can be provided for 4 pirn winders only and fixed jobs can be offered to 2 pirn winders in pirn distribution work, that the remaining 7 pirn winders cannot be given fixed jobs and that the Company can offer different types of employment at different times to the 7 persons in the Preparatory Department and that some times, they may be given hank winding work and sometimes, they may be given twisting work. His further evidence is that providing of work really depends on the quality of production the Company engaged in particular time, that it is not possible that the remaining 7 pirn winders can be given the bobbin stribution work, that if this is done, other work ll suffer, that the winding processes are all the me and the jobs therefore are of the same type d that the pirn winders working in the establishent know all types of jobs, and they are still do g these works. As O.P.W. 2 is the Departmenl -in-charge, his evidence is certainly valuable. this stage, it may be pointed out that out of e 12 persons, whose names appear in the order reference, No. 1, Sukdeo Khatua had given up ork and gone away, No. 8, Nikunja Halder had t, Madan Routh had also left, No. 9, Sudhan m Rajbhar had been dismissed by the Company, . 10, Akhil Chandra Roy had left service and d gone away and No. 11 Chanaiya is now doing e weaving work. Therefore, out of 12 persons, e workmen No. 1, No. 8 and No. 10 had left rvice and gone away and the workman No. 9 had en dismissed by the Company and the workman . 11 has been transferred to the Weaving Departent where he is working now. The workman . 11 has been examined as P.W. 1 in this case. nerefore, we are now left with 7 workmen out of workmen whose names appear in the order of ference. It appears to me that out of 15 pirn nders who are still in service of the Company, pirn winders are engaged in 2 shifts in the new tomatic machine and 4 pirn winders in 2 shifts o are engaged in the non-automatic old machine d the remaining 3 may be engaged in any of the orks in the Preparatory Department. Having gard to the fact that the nature of work in the eparatory Department is likely to change from ne to time, according to the quality of produco, the Company engaged at a particular point of ne, it is not necessary for this Tribunal to specify e jobs of the 7 workmen who are still in service the Company. The Learned Advocate Shri aitra had submitted that the inter-departmental nsfer is management function and the Tribunal nnot interfere. I think it is unnecessary to diss this question because the question of justifiabiy of inter-departmental transfer has not been ferred to this Tribunal for adjudication. I need ly say that as a general proposition of law, it undoubtedly correct that the transfer is manageent function and that unless mala fide nature of nsfer is established, the Tribunal has no jurisction to interfere. Shri Maitra has also subtted that though it was stated in the written tement that 8 pirn winders are required for the rpose of working in the new automatic machine, e evidence on the side of the Company show that e requirement of the Company has gone down. do not think also that it is necessary for me to cide this question having regard to the term of reference. It would be for the Company to cide how many workmen can be employed in the l and the new pirn winding machines and how e remaining workman should be engaged. As e Company does not want to retrench any of the orkmen who are now in service, the Company can itably employ the workmen who are not engaged the old and the new pirn winding machine. nerefore, I have come to the conclusion that it not necessary to specify the work of the workmen o are still in service of the Company out of the orkmen whose names appear in the order of reference. Regarding the duties I can only say that if some of these workmen are not engaged in the new or the old pirn winding machine, they can be engaged in bobbin distribution and other works as may be required from time to time. The issue No. 1 is decided accordingly.

I shall now turn to discuss issue No. 2 relating to the justifiability of the introduction of 4-loom operation. It is undisputed on both sides that 4-loom operation started in November 1963. I have already referred to the notice Ext. A and also to the reply Ext. B. It is not necessary to repeat what has already been stated regarding these 2 documents. In the written statement of the workmen (vide paragraphs 17 to 19) it has been stated that the Company used to run 210 looms in two shifts and each weaver had been running two looms since its inception, that working in two looms was the condition of service of the weavers, that the Company subjected a large number of weavers to remain temporary and/or casual or so-called badli without making them permanent inspite of permanent vacancies and that the Company on or about November 1963, intended to run 3 shifts instead of two shifts by the permanent weavers by running 4 looms per weaver and thereby increased the workload on the weavers by changing their condition of service prejudicially for wrongful gain and extra profit. It is also stated that no notice of change in the condition of the service had been served upon the workmen as required by law. Therefore according to the written statement of the workmen, 2-loom operation is the condition of service of the weavers and the Company wanted to increase the work-load by the introduction of 4-loom operation. As I understand, the Learned Advocate appearing for the workmen, did not contend that the evidence adduced on behalf of the workmen really establishes that 2-loom operation is a condition of service. He had however added that since the inception, there had been 2-loom operation and without serving the notice of change, the Company is not entitled under the law to increase the work-load of the workmen by introducing 4-loom operation. On behalf of the employer, it has been stated (vide paragraph 15) that the Company had carried on 4-loom operation for several years according to the requirement of the Company and it was never the intention of the Company to increase the workload by prejudicially changing the service condition of the weavers for wrongful gain and extra profit. It has further been alleged that no notice of change is required to be given for 4 loom working, as the 4-loom operation has been started with the consent and willingness of the weavers. It is admitted that if really the 4-loom operation had been introduced sometime in November 1963 with the consent of the workmen, then no notice under-section 9(A) of the Industrial Disputes Act is required. Section 9(A) of the Industrial Disputes Act provides as follows:—

> "No employer, who proposes to effect any change in the conditions of service applicable to any workman in respect of any matter specified in the Fourth Schedule shall effect such change without giving to the workmen likely to be affected by such change a notice in the prescribed manner of the nature of the change proposed to be effected; or within twenty-one days of giving such notice: Provided that no notice shall be required for effecting any such change—

(a) where the change is effected in pursuance of any settlement, award or decision of Appellate Tribunal constituted under the Industrial Disputes (Appellate Tribunal) Act, 1950 (XLVIII of 1950) or

I think reference may be made to the ruling reported in 1962 II, L.L.J. 136 (Tamilnad Electric Federation versus M/s. Electricity Board). In that case before the expiry of the period of duties, given by the concerned workmen, terminating a settlement, the employer proposed changes which were not prejudiced to the workmen. The workmen were given option to choose the change of service condition or to continue to be governed by the prevailing service conditions of such option was to be exercised by the concerned workmen after the notice period. It was held that section 9(A) of the Industrial Disputes Act does not apply, where the workmen agreed to the change or where the employer offers better terms. It was further held that section 33 of the Act also did not apply where the changes are not prejudicial to the workmen.

I think reference may also be made to the earlier ruling reported in 1960(1) L.L.J., 580 (S.C.) (North Brook Jute Co. versus their workmen). This earlier case has been referred to in the ruling reported in 1962(11) L.L.J., 136 which I had referred earlier. In the earlier ruling, it has been stated that after notice of change for introducing a scheme of rationalisation was given by the employer, the dispute relating to the justifiability of the proposed scheme was referred to adjudication, that pending such adjudication, but after the expiry of 21 days mentioned in the notice of change, the employer attempted to introduce the scheme of rationalisation which was likely to increase the work-load and likely to render some workmen surplus, and that the workmen refused to work as per the scheme and the Company consequently declared lock-out. It was held that the employer's lock-out was illegal and the employer is bound to pay wages for the period of lock-out. My attention has also been drawn to the ruling reported in 1955(1) L.L.J., 48 at page 53 (Kemp & Co. Ltd. versus their workmen). There the question was whether the agreement of the workmen's representatives on the Works Committee to the introduction of a scheme of rationalisation resulting in increased work-load and likely to render some of the hands surplus, was binding on the workmen or their union. It was held that the agreement is not binding either on the union or on the workmen. This ruling was approved by their Lordships of the Supreme Court in the ruling reported in 1960(1) L.L.J., 580. In the present case, it appears to me that there has been really no settlement as defined in section 2(p) of the Industrial Disputes Act. It has been, inter alia, laid down in section 2(p) that "a settlemei includes a written agreement between the employ and workmen arrived at otherwise than in course conciliation proceeding where such agreement h been signed by the parties thereto in such manne as may be prescribed and a copy thereof has bee sent to the appropriate Government and the Conc liation Officer". Therefore, the agreement mu be in writing and signed by the parties in th maner prescribed. It is also necessary to send copy of the agreement to the appropriate Gover ment and to the Conciliation Officer. It has als been laid down in rule 68 of the West Beng Industrial Disputes Rules, 1958, that the settl ment shall be signed by (a) in the case of a employer, by the employer himself or by his auth rised agent, or when the employer is an inco porated company or other body corporate, by th agent, manager or other principal officer of th corporation; (b) in the case of workmen, eith by the President or Secretary of a trade union workmen or by 5 representatives of the workme duly authorised in writing in this behalf by representative meeting of the workmen held f this purpose. It has also been laid down tha where a settlement is arrived at between a employer and his workmen otherwise than i course of conciliation proceeding before a Boar or Conciliation Officer, the parties to the settl ment shall jointly send a copy thereof to the Stat Government in the Department of Labour, an the Labour Commissioner, and the Conciliatio Officer concerned. In the present case, there no written agreement between the employer an the workmen regarding the introduction of the 4 loom operation and naturally the question o signature by the parties in the manner prescribe and the further question of sending copies to th Labour Department, to the Labour Commissione and to the Conciliation Officer concerned, do no arise. Therefore, the alleged consent in writin by some of the workmen expressing willingnes to operate 4 looms, cannot amount to settlemen as defined in section 2(p) of the Act and as pro vided for in rule 68 referred to above. Th employer therefore is required to give the notic under section 9A of the Industrial Disputes Act This has admittedly not been done. The intro duction of the 4-loom operation therefore appear to me to be not in accordance with the law.

The question, however, which has been referred adjudication is not regarding the legality of th introduction of the 4-loom operation, but regard ing the justifiability of the introduction of the 4 loom operation. It has been submitted by Mr Moitra appearing for the employer that the intro duction of the 4-loom operation is benefitial not only to the interest of the employer and work men, but also to the interest of the consume public. He laid particular stress on the fact that the workmen who are operating 4 looms are earn ing higher wages and stated that the company also is receiving some profits and the consumer public would be getting the products at lesser cost. He also contended that the management has given the option to the workmen either to operate 4-looms or to operate 2-looms and had not forced that 4 loom operation on all the workmen of the establishment. I would first of all consider the question whether the 4-loom operation has resulted in benefits all round as contended by the Learned Advocate Shri Moitra. But before I do so, I shall discuss the evidence on the side of the management regarding the 4-loom operation prior to November 1963. It is necessary to discuss that question because in paragraph 17 of the written statement it has been stated that working in 2-looms is the condition of service of the weavers. As I have mentioned earlier, the Learned Advocate for the workmen did not contend that the evidence has established that 2-loom operation was a condition of service to the weavers. He only contended that there had been 2 loom operation all along prior to the introduction of the 4 loom operation in November 1963. I shall now turn to discuss the evidence. P.W. 1 S. Chandraiya who is now working as a weaver had stated that it is not correct that there was 4 loom operation in 1957, 1958 and 1959. He, however, admits that he had been operating the 4 looms for 6/7 months now. P.W. 2 Shri Ram Gosai had stated that the 4 loom operation was going for over 7 years, but he cannot give the year when 4 loom operation started. Evidently P.W. 2 was referring to the earlier period when there was 4 loom operation, because it is the admitted case of both sides that at least from 1960 up to November 1963 there was only 2 loom operation. P.W. 3 Shri Bhaskar Nayak has not said anything about the prior 4 loom operation. P.W. 4 Dukhishyam Jana is now operating the 4 loom, but it is not his evidence that there was no prior 4 loom operation. P.W. 5 who is the Secretary of the Union had stated that the workmen had filed joint petition to the Union regarding the 4 loom operation and that he had sent the letters Ext. 1, the letter Ext. 10, the letters Exts. 11, 11-A and 11-B to the Deputy Labour Commissioner. It is further his evidence that he had received various complaints from the workmen (Exts. 13 and 13-A, 6 and 9). In Ext. 7 which is a petition to the Union Secretary and is dated 18th November 1963 it is stated that the weavers have been operating 2 looms for a long time and that the Company had asked the weavers to operate 4 looms with effect from 20th November 1963. I have already referred to Ext. B which is the same exhibit as Ext. 1 and I need not mention what has already been stated. Exhibit 10 is the latter, dated 20th November 1963, to the Assistant Labour Commissioner by the Secretary of the Union, complaining about the introduction of the 4-loom operation without any notice of change, from 20th November 1963. Exhibit 11 is the letter, dated 7th January 1964. In the letter, it has been stated by the Union Secretary that each weaver had been running 2 looms since the inception of the concern and very recently the management had been forcing the weavers to run 4 looms instead of 2 looms and thereby changed the condition of service of the weavers prejudicially and that the status quo should be maintained pending conciliation. Exhibit 11-A is dated 10th March 1964 and is another letter by the Secretary of the Union. It is stated therein that as the conciliation proceeding held on 3rd March 1964 failed, the matter might be referred for adjudication. Exhibit 12 is the only letter from the Deputy Labour Commissioner, regarding the joint conference to be held on 20th February 1964. Exhibit 13 is dated 2nd March 1965 that is to say long after the reference to this Tribunal. Exhibit 13-A is dated 15th March 1965 which is again long after the reference. Exhibits 6 and 9 are dated 20th November 1964 and 3rd December 1964 respectively, that is to say, long after the reference to this Tribunal. These are really letters from the individual workmen complaining of the increased work-load and praying operation all along, these documents do not throw any light on the question whether there was prior 4 loom operation or not. Regarding P.W. 5, it may be pointed out that he had been dismissed by the Company after the issue of the charge-sheet and enquiry. He has, however, admitted at the time of cross-examination that there was 4 loom operation for a few days either at the end of 1958 or the beginning of 1959 for production of glass Nylon quality. He has denied that there were 4 loom operations in 1957, 1958 and 1959 and had stated that he had not checked the documents in which the Company had shown the working regarding the 4 loom operation in 1957, 1958 and 1959. These are all the evidence on the side of the workmen regarding the prior 4 loom operation. On behalf of the management, O.P.W. 1 had said that from the records he found that there had been 4 to 6 loom operation from part of 1957 to 1959. The evidence is corroborated by the entries in wages register (Exts. G-12 to G-17) and also by the abstract (Ext. J). The Learned Advocate appearing for the workmen, as I understand him, did not dispute the entries in the registers. He had, however, drawn my attention to the fact that Ext. J shows that sometimes there had been 4 loom operation and sometimes there had been 5 loom operation and there had been sometimes 2 loom operation, but it is the case of the Company that 2 loom operation was also carried on along with 4 loom and 5 loom operation and Ext. J shows that there had been 4 loom and 5 loom operations. I am of opinion that the evidence of the register together with the evidence of O.P.W. 1 certainly shows that there had been 4 loom operation in part of 1957 and in 1958 and in 1959. The contention of the workmen, therefore, that there had been 2 loom operation all along, cannot possibly be accepted.

I shall now turn to discuss the question whether the introduction of the 4 loom operation in November 1963 is or is not justified. The evidence O.P.W. 1 is that as a result of 4 loom operation, the wages of the weavers had gone up by Rs. 35 to Rs. 50 per month, that if a person is operating 2 looms, he would be getting 1 as his basic wage and if the same person is operating the 4 looms, he would be getting 1.6 as his basic wage, that there would be an increase to the extent of Rs. 35 to Rs. 40 per month of each worker, that the approximate increase by operating 4 looms, would be Rs. 35 to Rs. 50 per month, that the increase in wage is very substantial and the workmen could not have hoped for the increase otherwise even in 20 years of service, that by working the 4 looms, the company is saving partly in D.A. and partly in 20 per cent wages, that this is the gross saving against which the company has to incur some losses, that the company has to take at extra labour from 10 or 12 four-loom weavers, that the yarn waste percentage is higher by about ½ per cent. that the defect percentage would be comparably higher, that the efficiency in 4 loom operation would be comparably less than the efficiency in 2 loom operation under similar conditions and that as a result of the 4 loom operation, both the Company and the workers are benefited. Therefore, the evidence of O.P.W 1 shows that as a result of the 4 loom operation, the workers are financially gainer and that the Company is also to some extent financially gainer. Further evidence of O.P.W. 1 shows that starting from the Warp the Company had increased the work length of the Beam which has resulted a lesser Beam changes over a period, that they have kept exclusively one warping, sizing incharge for preparation of warps, that they have erected the latest Beninger Automatic Warping Machine at a cost of about 3½ to 4 lacs of rupees, that they have changed to better sizing materials, i.e., from Glue Flakes to Gelatine Flakes, that the Company has increased substantially the number of warped and sized Beam stock which has reduced the Beam change divisions, that the Company has overhauled several looms and had ordered about a year ago an Atmospheric Conditioning Plant, that they had appointed two Assistant Head Jobbers to give more attention and supervision on 4 loom line, and that the Company has kept much more stock of weft bobbin to avoid weft shortage. It would appear that there had been no serious cross-examination of O.P.W. 1. The only cross-examination is with regard to the income of the workmen and O.P.W. 1 had said that it is possible to show with reference to the registers that the income of a workman had increased by 50 to 60 per cent. per month by the 4 loom operation. The only other cross-examination is with regard to work study and job evaluation work by an expert body. O.P.W. 1 had said that the Company had not got the work study and job evaluation work done in this factory by any expert body. It might be that the work study or the job evaluation work has not been done scientifically by an expert. I do not think it requires an expert to find out if the workmen operating 4 looms are financially gainer as a result of that operation. Before I discuss the other evidence on the side of the Company, I would point out that even according to the evidence on the side of the workmen, the income of the workmen operating 4 looms is higher than the income of the workmen operating 2 looms (vide the evidence of P.Ws. 1 to 4). It is true that these persons had said that the increase is only to the tune of Rs. 10 or so, for the same period of 15 days; I do not think the entries in the wage register would support the evidence of the witnesses for the workmen mentioned above. Incidentally, it may be pointed out that P.W. 4 Dukhishyam Jana had said in cross-examination that when he was operating 2 looms, he was getting income varying from Rs. 39 to 46 and that when he was operating the 4 looms, he obtained Rs. 63 for the period of 15 days. In order to verify I have consulted the registers—Exts. G-23, G-29 and G-30. The total amount for the period from 16th January 1964 to 31st January 1964 is Rs. 51.51 paise. The same person earned the total sum of Rs. 48.61 paise for the period from 1st October 1963 to 15th October 1963 and earned the total sum of Rs. 43.81 paise for the period from 1st December 1963 to 15th December 1963. I do not think, it is necessary for me to consider the entries regarding each of the workmen who are now carrying the 4 loom operation. The learned Advocate for the workmen was unable to draw my attention to any entry showing that the estimate of O.P.W. 1 regarding the income of the workmen operating 4 looms is incorrect. It is necessary at this stage to refer to the evidence of O.P.W. 2 who is the departmental in-charge of the weaving department. His evidence is that the workmen who are now operating 4 looms are getting 40 per cent. extra than the amount he used to get previously, that the Company is saving Rs. 15 per month per loom as a result of the 4 loom operation and that this only applies in respect of the looms now being worked in the 4 loom operation. As O.P.W. 2 is in-charge, he is likely to know about the increase in wages of the workmen concerned. At the time of cross-examination, O.P.W. 2 had said that previously there was an office in the weaving department where the wages were calculated and hence he knows that the wage increase would be to the tune of 40 per cent. extra. He has next referred to the helper engaged by the Company in connection with the 4 loom operation. O.P.W. 3 is the Accountant and has said that the average basic wage of a workman operating 2 looms, is Rs. 50 per month, that the D.A. comes to Rs. 35; whether the workman is operating 2 looms or operating 4 looms, that the incentive wage of a workman operating 2 looms is Rs. 7 and the incentive wage of a workman operating 4 looms is Rs. 14, that the average increase of wages of 4 loom worker is Rs. 37 per month and that the Company gets profit of Rs. 55 as a result of 4 loom operation. He has added that in calculating Rs. 55 he has taken into account the fact that the D.A. is the same in 2 loom operation and in 4 loom operation and that with regard to basic wages, the Company gives double less 20 per cent. which is the profit and that the average wage of the helper is Rs. 140 per month. He has further stated that the wastage is ½ per cent. more in operating 4 looms than in operating 2 looms and loss to the tune of Rs. 195 is incurred in respect of 40 looms, that there is loss of efficiency to the tune of 6 per cent. while operating 4 looms than while operating 2 looms, that the loss comes to the tune of Rs. 500 per 40 looms, that losses suffered to the tune of 7 per cent. more in the cloth produced while operating 4 looms than in operating 2 looms, and the loss to the tune of Rs. 700 per 40 looms is borne by the Company and that after deducting these losses, the net gain of the Company is Rs. 16.60 paise per loom. In this connexion, reference may also be made to the charts (Exts. J and 1). As I understand the learned Advocate appearing for the workmen, he did not dispute the correctness of the entries in those charts with reference to the entries of the wage register. Certainly it does appear that there had been increase in wages of the workmen who are operating 4 looms. My attention has been drawn by the learned Advocate appearing for the workmen to the cross-examination of O.P.W. 3. O.P.W. 3 has not been able to say exactly the month of whose average has been taken, but he had said that it would be either September or October 1964. If the monthly average has been taken, I do not think the average income as mentioned would be far wrong. There might be some discrepancy, but I do not think the discrepancy would be material. Regarding the chart, O.P.W. 4 had said that he had prepared the chart with a reference to the wages registers. There is no serious cross-examination of O.P.W. 4. Apart from this, there is also the evidence of O.P.W. 5 that he is getting Rs. 65 to 72 per fortnight when he began to operate 4 looms, and he was getting between Rs. 35 to Rs. 40 per fortnight when he was operating 2 looms. Nothing has transpired in cross-examination of O.P.W. 5 to show that his evidence cannot be accepted. In my opinion, it is established that at least so far as the Company and the workmen operating 4 looms are concerned, both are financially gainer, as a result of the 4 loom operation. The learned Advocate appearing for the workmen had submitted that when the 4 loom operation had started at first, the workmen had been forced to work 4 looms under threat of transfer or loss of jobs. Some of the witnesses for the workmen had certainly stated that they had been compelled to operate 4 looms under threat, but there is no written document in this regard, except, of course, certain letters written by the Union Secretary. It appears to me to be more probable that at first the workmen had refused to operate 4 looms, and when they subsequently found that by operating 4 looms, their income would be higher than when they were operating 2 looms, they had agreed to operate the 4 looms. There are certain documents (Ext. H series) indicating that some of the workmen are willing to operate 4 looms. This is also the evidence of O.P.W. 1. I do not agree with the learned Advocate appearing for the workmen that really there is no option to the workmen who had been asked to operate 4 looms and they had to agree to the demand made by the Company in that behalf. There was certainly initial unwillingness on the part of the workmen, but when they found that the wages would be higher, more and more workers became willing to operate the 4 looms. The evidence of O.P.W. 1 further shows—this is also stated in the written statement filed on behalf of the Company—that the Company is only willing to engage those workmen who agree to operate 4 looms and that if any workman is unwilling to operate 4 looms, the Company is willing to allow them to operate 2 looms. The matter, therefore, has been left to the option of the workmen. If this is so, I do not think, it can be said that the introduction of the 4 loom operation is unjustified as contended by the learned Advocate appearing for the workmen. Regarding the second part of issue No. 2, it appears to me that the conditions should be that the Company should only engage those workers who express their willingness in writing to operate 4 looms. The other condition is that the wages of the workmen should be 80 per cent. of the production rate as the Company is now giving and not 75 per cent. of the production rate, as suggested in the written statement put in on behalf of the Company. Before I conclude, I will notice a short point which has been somewhat faintly urged by the learned Advocate for the workmen. He has referred to some evidence on behalf of the workmen to the effect that 4 loom operation is injurious to the health of the workmen concerned. I do not think, there is really any satisfactory and cogent evidence in this regard. As I have mentioned earlier the Company will only engage those workmen in 4 loom operation who express their willingness in writing to the Company. The Company will also allow any workman who wants to operate 2 looms to do so after operating 4 looms for some time. In the result, I hold that the Company was justified in introducing the 4 loom operation and the 4 loom operation should be continued subject to the condition which I have mentioned above.

To sum up, I have come to the conclusion that it is not necessary in the facts and circumstances of the present case to specify the jobs of the workmen whose names appear in the order of reference. I have also come to the conclusion that the introduction of the 4 loom operation by the Company is justified on financial ground and also on the larger ground of better and higher production. The conditions are that the Company will engage only those workmen who express their willingness in writing regarding the 4 loom operation and that if some workmen after operating 4 looms are desirous of operating 2 looms, they should be allowed to do so.

This is my award.

ANNEXURE

the matter of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Benra Engineering Work3, P.O. Rajpur, district 24-Parganas, and their workmen represented by the Benra Engineering Workers' Union 19/2 Russa Road South 3rd Lane, Calcutta-33. (Case No. 4 of 1965).

BEFORE THE FIFTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri K. P. MUKHERJEE, Judge Fifth Industrial Tribunal.

Present for the Company: Dr. J. K. Bose. Labour Adviser of the Company.

Present for the Union: Shri Biswanath Ash, Advocate.

The above industrial dispute was refered to this Tribunal under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by Government order No. 22-I.R./ IR/10L-152/64, dated the 4th January 1965, for adjudication upon the following issue:

Issue

Whether refusal of employment to Shri Sushil Kumar Das is justified? What relief, if any, is he entitled to?

After receipt of the reference from Government on 8th January 1965, usual notices were issued to the parties fixing 3rd February 1965, for their appearance and filing written statement by the Union. The parties entered appearance on 3rd February 1965, and, on the prayer of the Union, time was allowed till 20th February 1965, for filing its written statement. The Union again prayed for time for filing written statement, and filed its written statement on 5th March 1965. The Company filed its written statement on 14th May 1965, and, after several adjourments, the case was fixed for hearing on 17th August 1965. On that date the parties put in a joint petition of compromise stating therein that the dispute between them had been amicably settled out of Court on terms setforth in the petition of compromise, and prayed that a 'no dispute' award be made by the Tribunal. The terms of settlement appear to be quite fair and reasonable, and I am satisfied that there has been a bona fide settlement of the dispute between the parties, and there is no subsisting dispute between them for adjudication. I accordingly make a 'no dispute' award in terms of the joint petition of compromise which do form part of the award as Annexure A.

AWARD

By order No. 2382-I.R./IR/11L-195/64, dated the 24th June 1964, the Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Rupali Cinema, Chinsurah, Hooghly and their workmen represented by Bengal Motion Picture Employees' Union (Hooghly District Branch), Sanskriti Sangha, Kamarpara Road, Chinsurah, Hooghly, regarding the matter specified in the schedule to the Third Industrial Tribunal constituted under section 7A of the Industrial Disputes Act, by notification No. 808-I.R./IR/3A-2/57, dated the 11th March 1957, for adjudication.

Issue

Is Srimati Dhira Devi entitled to the status of a full time lady gate-keeper? What relief, if any, is she entitled to?

This is a reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, made by the Labour Department of the Government of West Bengal for adjudication of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Rupali Cinema, Chinsurah, Hooghly (hereinafter be referred to as the Cinema Company) and their workmen represented by Bengal Motion Picture Employees' Union (Hooghly District Branch), Sanskriti Sangha, Kamarpara Road, Chinsurah, Hooghly (hereinafter be referred to as the Union).

Both parties appeared on receipt of notices and filed their written statements.

The case of the union in the written statement is that Rupali Cinema is 'A' Class Cinema in the district of Hooghly and in its employ there are 18 permanent workmen including a full time ladies' gate-keeper, that Srimati Dhira Devi was employed as ladies' gate-keeper on 4th July 1962 on a consolidated monthly pay of Rs. 35 (thirty-five), that she has got to attend all the three daily shows without any rest or recess right up to 10-30 p.m., but still she has been treated as a part-time gate-keeper and is not recognised as a whole-time employee, and that she is also not being paid properly and is not allowed to avail of other amenities and leave facilities. Hence the present dispute was raised for determining her status as a full-time lady gate-keeper

The company's case is that previously Sm. Kalidasi was employed as a part-time lady gate-keeper in the Cinema House and on her death, Dhira Devi was appointed in her place. The company has denied the allegation of her employment continuously from 1-30 p.m. to 10-30 p.m. The company's contention is that she being the wife of a durwan of the cinema house, at her request and also at the request of her husband she was allowed to work intermittently and not continuously in order to enable her to do her domestic duties but for better management of work another part-time lady gate-keeper has since been appointed to work from 6 p.m. to 10 p.m. She was all along working as a part-time lady gate-keeper with full knowledge and there will be no justification to give her the status of a full-time employee.

Decision

The union has examined five witnesses and the company has examined one. Some documents have also been tendered into evidence by both parties.

Admittedly Dhira Devi has been working as lady gate-keeper since she was appointed on 4th July 1962, excepting for a brief period of one month or so in May/June 1963, when she remained under suspension for some misbehaviour with the Manager but she having tendered unqualified apology (vide Ext. A/1) was allowed to resume her duties on 1st July 1963, [vide Ext. 1(g)]. Narbahadur is a durwan whose duty is to guard the cinema house. Dhira Devi lives with him as his wife. Previously one Kalidasi was the lady gate-keeper. She being ill went to hospital for treatment when Dhira Devi was given the job as stop-gap arrangement. Kalidasi could not recover. She died. In that vacancy Dhira Devi was appointed as part-time lady gate-keeper. Kalidasi was getting wages at the rate of Rs. 35 per month. (vide award of 1958 given by Shri M. N. Gan—Ext. 2). Dhira Devi was given wages at the rate of Rs. 26 per month during the brief officiating period and since the death of Kalidasi, she has been given the same wage as of Kalidasi. (vide Ext. B series—vouchers). Her case in the written statement (para. 7) is that she used to attend all the three cinema shows at 2 p.m., 5 p.m., and 8 p.m., and she used to remain on duty from 1-30 p.m. to 10-30 p.m. at a stretch without any rest or recess. The company has denied this allegation. According to the company she used to attend at 1-30 p.m., but she never worked full hours. She used to work intermittently. She was allowed to go at intervals in order to do her domestic duties as she was living in the quarters of the durwan as his wife. It was reported by the company to the Labour Officer that she used to do her duties from 1-30 p.m. to 3-20 p.m. and again from 4-45 p.m. to 5-20 p.m. and again from 6 p.m. to 8-15 p.m. (vide Ext. A/9). It is admitted by Dhira Devi that she has been living as wife of the durwan Narbahadur. So, she was readily available for duty whenever required. It is difficult to believe that every day she used to perform her duties from 1-30 p.m. to 10-30 p.m. without any break as alleged by her. She is not the only gate-keeper working in the Cinema House but there are few others. It is admitted by P.W. 4 Nirod Kumar Saha that there are four more gate-keepers. They are—Nritya Gopal Banerji, Sobodh Rakshit, Md. Yasin and Samiiaddin. They are full-time workers and as such they are being paid wages at the rate of Rs. 70 per month. This fact is known to Dhira Devi from the very beginning. She admits this fact in her cross-examination. Why then she did not raise any question about her own wage when other gate-keepers were being paid double the wages she was getting? Her evidence is that she became a member of the union 3 months after joining the service of the cinema company. Again P.W. 3 Nripen Chatterji who is the Secretary of the Hooghly Branch of the Bengal Motion Pictures' Employees' Union has deposed that about six months after her appointment by the cinema company, she informed the union about her wages. If that is true why the union preferred to remain silent over the matter till November 1963? Dhira Devi was appointed on 4th July 1962. Neither Dhira Devi nor the Secretary of the Union can offer any satisfactory explanation as to why they remained silent over the matter without raising a dispute regarding her wages, specially when it was well-known to them that the four other gate-keepers of the cinema house were being paid double the wages she was getting. Dhira Devi's long silence over the matter can only be explained by the fact that she knew very well that she was appointed a part-time lady gate-keeper in place of Kalidasi and as such she was not entitled to full amount of the wages which the other full-time gate-keepers were being paid.

She cannot deny the fact that she was appointed a part-time lady gate-keeper. In her own application to the Manager she has clearly admitted her employment as a part-time worker (vide Ext. A, Ext. 1). Therefore, there is no getting away from the fact that she was appointed a part-time lady gate-keeper and as such she was being paid the wage of a part-time worker.

It is in evidence that part-time workers are not entitled to certain privileges and rights enjoyed by the whole-time employees of the cinema house. It is admitted by union's witnesses Nos. 2 and 4 (Sailendra Saha and Nirod Kumar Saha) that besides Dhira Devi there are three others part-time workers. That is also the evidence of the Manager D.W. 1 Tripurari Mullick. These part-time workers are: (1) Gopal Das, (2) Narayan Paramanick alias Khandu, and (3) Netai Dey. According to the cinema company the names of the part-time workers are not entered in the attendance register and their signatures are not taken on the attendance register. The union's witness No. 4 Nirod Kumar Saha has admitted this fact. This is also corroborated by the attendance register Ext. D. Dhira Devi cannot deny this fact. She does not claim to have signed the attendance register on any day. She can sign her name, as she did, on her petitions to the Manager Ext. A, 1 and 1(a).

It is also the case of the cinema company that part-time workers were being paid wages on vouchers. Their names were previously not entered in the pay register. But since the introduction of the Employees' Provident Fund Scheme, the names of the part-time workers are also entered in the pay register for the purpose of showing the deductions by way of contribution to the said fund. This fact is also borne out by the register Ext. E. The Secretary of the union also signed in this register on 11th September 1961 (vide Ext. E/1). Dhira Devi received payment on vouchers Ext. B series. But since the introduction of the Employees' Provident Fund Scheme, her name has been entered in the pay register Ext. E. Dhira Devi admits her signature on the vouchers Exts. B to B/12.

It is also the case of the company that full-me employees frequently used to make demands for better wages and amenities but part-time workers were not entitled to raise such demands, and, therefore, in none of the demand letters given by the workmen to the cinema company will appear signature of any of the part-time employees including Dhira Devi. Exts. A/3, A/4, A/5 and A/6 are such demand letters of the whole-time employees made time to time to the management of the cinema house but the signature of Dhira Devi or any other part-time workers does not appear on any one of them.

It may be noted that there was a notification by the Labour Department of the Government of West Bengal regarding minimum rates of basic wages payable to the employees in the cinema house. That notification was published in the 'Calcutta Gazette, Extraordinary" issue on 8th May 1960 [Ext. 2(b)]. Shortly after notification here was an agreement reached between the management of the cinema company and its employees regarding the basic wages and Ext. C is the said agreement signed by the proprietor of the cinema house and also by the employees concerned. The Vice-President and the Secretary of the Union also signed as witnesses to the agreement. It was signed by the parties on 11th September 1961. At that point of time Dhira Devi was not in the picture. Kalidasi was the then lady gate-keeper. As she was a part-time lady gate-keeper, her signature does not appear on this document. So, also the signatures of other part-time workers. According to the union there are 18 employees but according to the company their number is 20 including the four part-time employees and it is admitted by some of the union's witnesses that all the employees are not members of the union. About 4 or 15 of them are members. The part-time employees, even they are members of the union, have no status as employees of the cinema house. So, their signatures do not appear on the demand letters. The Vice-President of the Union wrote another letter to the proprietor of the cinema house on 30th October 1961 for further implementation of the minimum wages as notified by the Government. In this letter Ext. A/8 the names of the workmen have been mentioned. But there is no name of any part-time employees of the cinema house. Kalidasi was then a part-time lady gate-keeper. Her name also does not appear although the names of other gate-keepers are there. So, it seems very clear that the part-time employees were not included in the list of employees of the cinema company and the union also admitted that position and that is why the alleged discrimination regarding wages of Dhira Devi as a lady gate-keeper was not questioned either by herself or by the union for a long time. This question was taken up some time after she was placed under suspension on ground of her misbehaviour with the Manager for which of course, she offered unqualified apology and the management at the request of the union accepted and allowed her to resume her duties.

I have already found from her own writing Ext. 1=A) her admission that she has been working as a part-time worker. I have also considered the other circumstances which I have just discussed and I am led to the conclusion that she has been a part-time lady gate-keeper. It is also admitted that the company has engaged another lady gate-keeper whose duty hours are from 6 p.m. to 10-30 p.m. and Dhira Devi now works from 1-30 p.m. to 6 p.m. The other part-time gate-keeper is Parulbala. Therefore, undoubtedly Dhira Devi performs her duty as a part-time worker and there would be no justification in the circumstances of the present case to call her a full-time lady gate-keeper. She is, therefore, not entitled to any relief now.

This is my award.

After due notice the parties to the dispute appeared and submitted their respective claims. When the case became ready, there was a talk of compromise between the parties. The case was, therefore, fixed today for hearing in case of failure of compromise. Shri P. BASU, Bar-at-Law, Judge, Sixth Industrial Tribunal.

This is an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act filed by the durwan Shri Ram Benoy Singh of 207/B Park Street against Messrs. Steam and Mining Equipment (India) Private Ltd., of the same address. It has been stated in the petition that the petitioner is concerned with the pending dispute referred to this Tribunal for adjudication under G. O. No. 13-I.R./IR/10L-171/64, dated 4th January 1965, that while he was serving as a durwan the opposite party served the charge-sheet on 2nd February 1965, and he had given a written reply denying the charges on 4th February 1965, that the opposite party had dismissed the petitioner with improper motive by its letter, dated 19th February 1965, without holding any enquiry, that the opposite party tried to make a show of enquiry after passing the order of dismissal and the petitioner had challenged the validity or legality of any such enquiry, and that the charges against the petitioner are all baseless and there has been clear violation of the principle of natural justice. The opposite party also did not make any application to this Tribunal under section 33(2)(b) of the Industrial Disputes Act. The petitioner had prayed for reinstatement with full wages and compensation for the period of unemployment.

After service of notice upon the Company Shri J. N. Chatterjee and also Shri A. C. Majumdar had appeared and had taken time to file the written statement. Subsequently on 31st July 1965, an application was put in stating that there was a talk of compromise and further time may be granted to effect settlement. Accordingly time was allowed till 18th August 1965. On that day the petition of compromise was not actually filed but I was requested to grant two days' time for filing the petition of compromise. Accordingly I had directed the record to be put up on 20th August 1965. This day the applicant was present and the petition of compromise has been put in. It appears that the petitioner had been offered a sum of Rs. 600 (Rupees six hundred only) as retrenchment benefit and the petitioner had accepted the same in full and final settlement of his claims against the Company and that there is no other or further dispute between the Company and the petitioner with the reference to his termination of service by the Company. In my opinion, the terms of settlement are fair, reasonable and bona fide and should be given effect to. I accordingly pass a 'No-dispute' award making the petition of compromise as annexure to it.

This is my award.

BEFORE THE SIXTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri P. BASU, Bar-at-law, Judge

The workmen whose names are given in the list below, have jointly applied on 19th December 1964, under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947. The applicants claimed to be permanent employees of Messrs. Shree Biswanath Ayurved Bhawan (P) Ltd., and alleged that the total minimum wage was fixed at Rs. 60 per month by virtue of an agreement in 1962, that due to abnormal rise of price of essential commodities the applicants demanded Dearness Allowance and later on, on the expiry of the period of operation of the existing agreement, presented a Charter of Demands on 4th November 1964, and that after the presentation of the Charter of Demands, all the applicants were verbally threatened with dismissal, unless they withdrew the Charter of Demands and signed bonds. It is alleged that thereafter on or about 10th November 1964, a notice was served by the Opposite Party on the applicants directing them to attend at 6 a.m. instead of 9 a.m., that the applicants wrote a letter on 17th November 1964 to the Secretary of the Opposite Party-Company complaining of the illegal action and requesting the notice to be withdrawn, that on 20th November 1964, charge-sheets were handed over by the Opposite Party to the applicants who were asked to give their reply by 21st November 1964, that the factory-in-charge refused to accept the joint reply to the charge-sheets, dated 20th November 1964 and on Monday, 23rd November 1964, the applicants found that the factory was closed and that at 5-30 p.m. the applicants went from the factory to the post office to send their joint reply by registered post, but was informed by the postal authority to come on the next date, and therefore, the joint reply could not be posted earlier than 24th November 1964. Later on, the Opposite Party had issued fresh charge-sheets on 25th November 1964 and the applicants sent their joint reply on 28th November 1964. But in the meanwhile by the charge-sheets, dated 22nd November 1964, the Secretary of the Company-Opposite Party has suspended all the 16 workmen who had sent their joint reply. The Company issued another charge-sheet on 1st December 1964 and stated therein that the enquiry was going to take place in the Head Office of the Company on 7th December 1964. The applicants wrote a letter on 4th December 1964 stating that they would require numerous goods and articles, books and documents in the custody and possession of the Company for the purpose of their defence and that they would have to examine large number of witnesses. The applicants further requested the Secretary of the Company to fix the factory premises at 34 Canal East Road, Calcutta-11, as the venue of the enquiry and to let the applicants know whether he was going to produce the articles and the documents necessary for the purpose of defence and also to arrange for the sitting accommodation of 30 witnesses. By the letter dated 11th December 1964, the Secretary of the Company informed the applicants that they had been dismissed on the basis of the enquiry held on 7th December 1964. It has been alleged that the principle of natural justice had been violated, that the applicants had been victimised and the Company is guilty of unfair labour practice and hat the suspension and dismissal of the 16 workmen tantamount to illegal lock-out. The list of workmen is as follows:—

List of workmen

1. Priyatosh Bhattacharya
2. Shasthi Charan Chakraborty
3. Purander Mishra
4. Kashinath Jha
5. Ramchandra Mishra
6. Rajdeo Jha
7. Tarani Jha
8. Harinarayan Mishra
9. Ramkishore Jha
10. Muneshwar Yadab
11. Chandradeo Singh
12. Dukhmochan Jha
13. Jogi Thakur,
14. Bijoy Bahadur Singh,
15. Tribeni Jha,
16. Chhotu Guala

The Opposite Party (Company) had put in the written statement. As the matter had been settled between the parties, it is not necessary to state all the defences in the written statement. It has been alleged that section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, is not applicable in the facts and circumstances of the present case, that the Opposite Party-Company had filed on 11th December 1964, the application under section 33(2)(b) of the Industrial Disputes Act, that the applicant had indulged in various serious misconducts for which the Company was obliged to issue various charge-sheets to them, than the various misconducts amount to making many false statements against the Opposite Party-Company, and the threat by the 16 workmen to set fire to the factory and that the police had to be informed. With regard to the enquiry, it is said that a telegram was sent to Shri Panchanan Bhattacharjee who is the President of the Union requesting him to send the applicants for enquiry, and the charge-sheets and the notice of enquiry were sent by registered post. On 7th December 1964, the specially appointed enquiry officer found that none of the 16 workmen was present and he waited till 10-30 a.m. Even then, the workmen did not come and the enquiry officer had taken the evidence of 5 witnesses and before him, all necessary papers and documents were produced. The enquiry officer gave his findings on 9th December 1964 and the findings were accepted by the Company. Thereafter on 11th December 1964, the letters of dismissal of the 16 workmen were issued and the application under section 33(2)(b) of the Act was filed. The Opposite Party-Company also sent one month's wages to each of the applicants together with other dues. The application, therefore, under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act is liable to be rejected.

The Opposite Party had filed the application under section 33(2)(b) of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, on 11th December 1964 and the allegations therein are substantially the same as the defences in the other case under section 33A of the said Act. Therefore, it is not necessary to repeat what has already been stated. The defences of the 16 workmen are also substantially same as their allegations in the application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act. Therefore, it is not necessary to repeat what has already been stated.

During the pendency of these two proceedings under sections 33A and 33(2)(b) of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, an application was filed on 6th May 1965 by Dukhmochan Jha stating that he had settled the matter with the Opposite Party-Company out of Court and praying for passing of a 'no-dispute' award. A 'no-dispute' award accordingly was passed in terms of the petition and affidavit filed on 6th May 1965, in case No. 166 of 1964 under section 33A of the said Act. Similarly the application under section 33(2)(b) of the said Act so far as Dukhmochan Jha is concerned was rejected as not pressed on 6th May 1965, vide order No. 17, dated 6th May 1965, in case No. 522/64 under section 33(2)(b) of the Act Subsequently on 17th August 1965, the application of compromise as was filed between 13 workmen excepting Dukhmochan Jha, Chhotu Guala and Kashinath Jha, and the Opposite Party. As the compromise petition so far as Chhotu Guala and Kashinath Jha was not filed on 17th August 1965, the matter was not disposed of on that date. Subsequently, on 24th August 1965, two petitions had been filed by Sew Kumar Sharma, who is the Secretary of the Opposite Party-Company, together with the English translations of the receipts granted by Kashinath Jha and Chhotu Guala. It would appear that so far as Chhotu Guala was concerned, the matter was settled on 7th January 1965 and Chhotu Guala was paid a sum of Rs. 142.39 paise. So far as Kashinath Jha is concerned, the matter was settled on 5th February 1965 and Kashinath Jha was paid a sum of Rs. 122.40 paise. So far as the other 13 workmen are concerned, it would appear that the Opposite Party had paid the amount offered to each of them at the time of termination of employment and had also paid two months' wages in addition to each of the workmen. I have considered carefully the terms of settlement and it appears to me that the terms of settlement are bona fide, legal and reasonable, and may be given effect to. I therefore pass a 'no-dispute' award making the petitions of 15 workmen excluding Dukhmochan Jha as annexures to the award. This is my award.

So far as the proceedings under section 33(2)(b) of the Industrial Disputes Act is concerned, the Opposite Party had filed a petition on 17th August 1965, stating that as the matter under section 33A had been settled, the Opposite Party did not wish to proceed any further with the application. In view of the settlement which I have mentioned abo the application under section 33(2)(b) of the said Act by the Opposite Party is rejected as not pressed.

The case No. 166/63, under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, and the case No. 522/64, under section 33(2) (b) of the said Act are disposed of.

Present:

Shri R. BHATTACHARYYA, Judge.

This reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act over a dispute between Shri P. K. Dutta Roy, owner of Bus No. WBR 1144, Route No. 85 of No. 9, Murgi Mohal, Barrackpore, 24-Parganas and his workmen represented by Barrackpore Bus Employees' Union, B. T. Road, P. O. Khardah, 24-Parganas, arises out of the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 2313-I.R./IR/4L-20/65, dated 19th June 1965. The issue for adjudication runs as follow:—

Whether the termination of services of Sri Gota Singh and Sri Mohan Chandar Paul is justified? What relief, if any, are they entitled to?

In the present case, notices were duly issued to both the sides. The Barrackpore Bus Employees' Union appeared through an advocate and prayed for time on two dates for filing written statements. The prayer was allowed but still the Union did not file any written statement on 30th August 1965, the last date fixed for submission of the written statement. The Union did not take any step either. It appears from the records that the notice issued by this Tribunal to Shri P. K. Dutta Roy, was not claimed by him. In this case it is therefore clear that neither Shri Dutta Roy, nor the Union has any interest in the present dispute. On 30th August 1965 I passed orders to put up the case today for passing final orders but still nobody has appeared. In the result, I find that there is at present no dispute between the parties.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Calcutta Steel Co. Ltd., B. T. Road, Khardah, 24-Parganas and their workmen represented by National Union of Engineering Workers, Subhas Path, Titaghar, 24-Parganas. (Case No. VIII-158/65.)

BEFORE THE THIRD INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present :

Shri J. N. MANDAL, Judge,
Third Industrial Tribunal.

AWARD

By order No. 2729-I.R./IR/10L-117/65., dated the 28th June 1965 the Government of West Bengal, in their Labour Department referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Calcutta Steel Co., Ltd., B. T. Road, Khardah, 24-Parganas and their workmen represented by National Union of Engineering Workers, Subhas Path, Titaghar 24-Parganas, regarding the matters specified in the schedule to the Third Industrial Tribunal, constituted under section 7A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by notification No. 808-I.R./IR/3A-2/57, dated the 11th March 1957 for adjudication.

Issue

Is the retrenchment of Sarbasree Panchoo, Manai, Parsuram Basant, Ballam, Dukri, Bipath, Changur, Ramharak, Coly, Sewnondon, Kanta, Baburam, Chotelal, Ramchander and Nermahi justified? To what relief if any, are they entitled?

This is a reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act made by the Government of West Bengal, in their Labour Department, for adjudication of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Calcutta Steel Co. Ltd., B. T. Road, Khardah, 24-Parganas, (hereinafter be referred to as the Company) and their workman represented by National Union of Engineering Workers, Subhas Path, Titaghar, 24-Parganas (hereinafter be referred to as the union).

Immediately after receipt of the reference notices were given to both the parties. They were duly and properly served. The company promptly entered appearance but union did not. However, fresh notice was given to the union directing to make appearance and to take proper steps. This time the union appeared and filed a petition stating that the workmen involved in the dispute under reference had ceased to be members of the union. Moreover, there is no relevant paper with the union. Therefore, it was not possible for them to proceed with the dispute any further. Hence, they prayed for disposal thereof in accordance with law.

None of the workers has appeared or taken any steps. The company has, of course, appeared through authorised representatives. Therefore, in the circumstances, it is useless to drag the matter any further. Consequently, the case is disposed of and I make a "no dispute" award.

This is my award.

n the matter of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. R. C. Ghosh & Sons, 285-4 Bowbazar Street, Calcutta and their workmen represented by the R. C. Ghosh & Sons Employees' Union, 19/2A Pitambar Ghatak Lane, Calcutta-27. (Case No. 349/64).

BEFORE THE FIFTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present :

Shri K. P. MUKHERJI, Judge,
Fifth Industrial Tribunal.

resent for the Company: Shri P. R. Mukherji and Shri Nikhil Roy, Advocates.

resent for the Union : Shri Hiralal Roy, Advocate.

The above industrial dispute was referred to this ribunal under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes ct, 1947, by Government of West Bengal, Labour epartment, order No. 6378-I.R/1R/11L-366/64, dated e 30th November 1964, for adjudication upon the ly issue which is as follows:—

Dearness Allowance.

After receipt of the reference from Government, ual notices were issued to the parties concerned, and ey entered appearance and filed their respective ritten statements.

The case of the Union, shortly stated, is as follows:—

Messrs. R. C. Ghosh & Sons, hereinafter referred to the Company, is a prosperous concern, engaged in the anufacture of spectacles, lens, frames and other allied oducts, and it employs about 32 workmen in running e business. By an award, dated the 12th May 1955, ade by the Sixth Industrial Tribunal, the Company as directed to pay dearness allowance of Rs. 10 per onth to all the workmen, and the Company is paying e same to the workmen. That since 1955 there has en a considerable rise in the cost of living index, but e Company did not consider it proper to increase the arness allowance of the workmen although it earned ofits in the last few years. The Union took up the use of the workmen for increase of dearness allowance th the Assistant Labour Commissioner, but the matter uld not be settled amicably on account of the unband- g attitude of the Company, and hence the present ference. The Union has claimed a minimum D. A. Rs. 45 per month for the workmen.

The Company has put in a written statement in reply the written statement filed by the Union, and the case the Company, shortly put, is as follows:

The Company is paying wages to the workmen which mpares favourably with the wages paid by similar concerns in the said region. There is also a system prevailing in the Company for payment of an annual increment of Rs. 5 to each workman, and taking the total pay-packets of the workmen there is no justification for further increase of the dearness allowance for the workmen. The financial position of the Company is not at all brilliant, and in view of the present competitive market its future prospects are not very much encouraging. The Company is not in a position to bear any additional financial burden by way of increase of dearness allowance. It is pleaded that there is no case for revision of dearness allowance and to grant increased dearness allowance to the workmen, and the claim of the Union for giving the workmen Rs. 35 per month as additional dearness allowance is liable to be rejected.

Decision

The only issue for adjudication is dearness allowance for the workmen employed by the Company. The Company employs about 32 workmen for carrying on business in the manufacture of spectacles, lens, frames etc. in Calcutta. It is an undisputed fact that by an award, dated the 12th May 1955, made by the Sixth Industrial Tribunal, the Company was directed to pay Rs. 10 as D.A. to all the workmen, and the Company has been paying D. A. to the workmen at that rate since then. It has been contended on behalf of the Union that since 1955 there has been a considerable rise in the cost of living index, and this fact alone justifies an upward revision of D. A. for the workmen. The Union has accordingly claimed an additional D. A. of Rs. 35 per month for the workmen. The claim of the Union has been resisted by the Company on two grounds. In the first place it is said that there is a system of annual increment of Rs. 5 in the wages of the workmen of the Company, and the wages paid to the workmen are fair and equitable, and there is no justification for a further increase of dearness allowance. The second contention on behalf of the Company is that the financial position of the Company is not very sound and the Company is not in a position to bear any additional burden of increase of dearness allowance for the workmen.

The object of granting dearness allowance to the workmen is to neutralise a portion of the rise in the cost of living index, and the Company has been paying dearness allowance to its workmen at Rs. 10 per month under an award made by the Sixth Industrial Tribunal in May 1965. There cannot be any dispute that there has been a considerable rise in the cost of living index since May 1955, and it cannot be reasonably urged that the dearness allowance should remain the same when there has been a considerable rise in the cost of living index. The fact that since May 1955 there has been a considerable increase in the cost of living index is a sufficient ground for an upward revision of dearness allowance subject, of course, to the financial capacity of the Company to bear the additional burden of an increased dearness allowance. It is contended that the Company is paying an annual increment of Rs. 5 to the workmen irrespective of the question of profit earned or loss suffered by it, and this being a recurring liability of the Company, there should not be any more increase of dearness allowance for the workmen. It has also been urged that the Company is paying fair wages to its workmen and they, therefore, cannot claim any larger amount on account of dearness allowance. Considering the length of service put in by some of the workmen it cannot be said that the wages paid to them are fair and reasonable. The annual increment which is given to the workmen is to be taken into consideration in fixing the quantum of dearness allowance, but it cannot be reasonably said that because the workmen get annual increment they are not entitled to any increase in dearness allowance. If the object of dearness allowance is to nautralise a portion of the rise in the cost of living index, then the claim of the workmen for an increase of dearness allowance is fully justified as there has been a steep rise in the cost of living index since 1955. The fact that the Company is paying D. A. goes to indicate that the workmen are not paid fair wages. The claim of the Union for some increase in the dearness allowance of the workmen is fully justified.

The next question for consideration is what should be the amount of dearness allowance for the workmen. This depends upon the financial position of the Company as increase of dearness allowance can only be made when the employer is in a position to bear additional financial burden by reason of such increase. It is therefore necessary to examine the financial position of the Company. The Company has filed the audited balance-sheets and the profit and loss accounts for the years 1963 and 1964 ending on 31st March. The balance-sheets have not been challenged and these are to be accepted as showing the trading results of the Company for the years 1963 and 1964. In both these years the Company earned profits after deducting all expenses and the drawings made by the Directors of the Company. The Company is therefore in a position to pay a sum to the extent of Rs. 2,000 per year as additional dearness allowance to the workmen when the Company earned profit to the extent of over Rs. 15,000 in those two years. There are about 32 workmen employed in the Company, and an additional dearness allowance of Rs. 10 for those workmen who are drawing basic wages of less than Rs. 100 per month, and Rs. 5 for those who are drawing basic wages over Rs. 100 per month will not entail a financial burden exceeding Rs. 2,000 per year on the Company, and it will not be difficult for the Company to bear this burden in view of the overall financial position of the Company. I accordingly direct the Company to pay an additional dearness allowance of Rs. 10 per month to those workmen who are getting less than Rs. 100 as basic wages per month, and Rs. 5 to those workmen who are getting over Rs. 100 per month as basic wages. This will take effect from the 1st September 1965.

This is my award.

After receipt of the reference No. 1128-I.R./IR/4L-11/64, dated the 12th March 1964, from Government usual notices were issued to the parties concerned on 8th March 1964 fixing 21st April 1964 for their appearance and for filing written statement by the Union. The Union entered appearance on 21st April 1964 and prayed for a month's time for filing its written statement. No written statement was however filed by the Union on 28th May 1964 as fixed for the purpose, and after several adjournments it filed its written statement on 4th October 1964. All the employers concerned in this case except Satyanarayan Shaw (serial No. 3 in the list attached to the order of reference) filed their written statements on 11th January 1965. After several adjournments the case was fixed for hearing on 23rd August 1965. In the meantime on 26th July 1965 the workmen of some of the employers, viz., Allied Transport Company (Sl. No. 3), Shri Sibdas Paul Sl. No. 1), Sm. Amala Banerji (Sl. No. 2), Shri Hawaldar Singh (Sl. No. 11) and Shri Anwar Khan (Sl. no. 6), filed petitions supported by affidavits stating that they had no subsisting industrial dispute regarding bonus for 1963 with their employers, and a 'no dispute' award might be made, so far as they were concerned. The petitions were directed to be put up on the date fixed for hearing of the case, i.e., 23rd August 1965. On that date Shri A. K. Sarkar was present for the Companies, but none of the workmen involved in this case was present. The representative of the Union was also not present, and no steps were also taken by the Union. I waited till 1 p.m., but none appeared on behalf of the Union. From the aforesaid facts and circumstances it is clear that the Union is not taking any interest in the dispute though it was raised by it, according to the nature of the issues referred for adjudication, and the Union and the concerned workmen are not pursuing the dispute, and have given up the same which has thereby become non-existent. It is clear from the conduct of the Union and the workmen concerned that they do not want adjudication of the dispute. The dispute is therefore to be deemed to be non-existent, and an award is to be made accordingly on the basis that at present there is no subsisting dispute for adjudication. In the result, I make a 'no dispute' award in the case.

AWARD

This is a complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, filed by Shri Lalita Kahar alias Lalta, a workman complaining of contravention of the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act by his employer Messrs. Gladstone Lyall & Co. Ltd. (hereinafter be referred to as the company). His allegation against the company is that during the pendency of a proceeding under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act in this tribunal relating to some industrial disputes in which the workman himself is interested, the company wrongfully refused to give him employment with effect from 7th February 1965. He was a coolly employed in the company's godown at Kidderpre since June 1963. But all on a sudden on 7th February 1965 he was told by the Godown-in-charge that he would not be given any further work. Therefore, by removing him from service without obtaining the tribunal's permission the company has contravened the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act. Hence the complaint.

The company has opposed the application by filing a written objection in which it has vehmently challenged the maintainability of the present application is as much as there has been no contravention of the provisions of section 33 as alleged by the applicant. The company's contention is that the applicant was a casual worker employed as a godown cooly whenever there was work. There was no question of wrongful dismissal or discharge of the workman who was purely a casual worker.

The workman has given evidence before the tribunal. He says on oath that he was in service of the company continuously for 3 1/2 years. The company has denied the alleged continuous service. Hardly there is any truth in this evidence of the workman because his own application shows otherwise. In para. 2 of his application he has stated that he was working as a daily labour since June 1963, and he was refused employment on 7th February 1965. So, he has contradicted his own case in the application. He is a young boy does not appear to have attained majority but he says that his age is 21 years but he cannot say who told him or in which year he was born. He admits before the tribunal that he does not know the contents of his application. None cared to read over or explain the contents to him. Therefore it is very difficult to believe the case as alleged in the application which is not even supported by the applicant himself. However, it is very clear that there has been no dismissal or discharge of the applicant as a workman for any misconduct by the company. Therefore, the company is under no obligation to comply with the provisions contained in the proviso to section 33(2) (b) of the I. D. Act. The allegation is that because of his trade union activities, the company has punished him by refusing employment. Such a story can hardly be relied upon in consideration of the fact that the workman is a young boy still in his teens and he cannot say when he became member of each of the two unions. He admits that he was never warned for his alleged trade union work. It is only on the day of refusal of employment he was told that because of his trade union activities he would be given no work. Therefore, in the circumstances, as disclosed in his evidence it is difficult to believe such a story. The workman further admits that he is one of the workmen whose dispute is pending before this tribunal for adjudication for refusal of employment to them. Therefore, the present application is uncalled for and without jurisdiction in view of the fact that the applicant has failed to satisfy the contravention of the provisions of section 33 by the company. So, I reject the applicant as not maintainable in law. The case is accordingly disposed of.

The management thought it adviseable not to pass any final orders till the conclusion of the criminal case which is still pending before S.D.O., Serampore. In May 1964, the management received a letter from the D.L.C. and in their reply this fact was intimated to him. On account of the criminal case instituted by Shri Kapildeo the management refrained from passing the final orders in the enquiry proceedings. There is no mala fide in the action of the management. The suspension accordingly should be held to be justified.

The appearances of the parties are as follows:

For the Company: Shri S. Sen, Advocate with Shri Rabin Mukherjee, Advocate.

For the Union: Shri Nikhil Roy, Advocate.

Decision

The facts are not in controversy. All the four workmen were suspended after issue of charge-sheets to them on 12th September 1963. I will at once refer to the charge-sheets Exts A(19), A(23), A(24) and A(25). The charge against all the four workmen stands thus:

"On 10th September 1963 at about 1-45 p.m. all the four workmen assaulted Sunil Kar and Mintu Bose, two other workmen outside the mill gate."

The cause of assault is also stated. Parameswar refused to accept the warning slip issued to him and Sunil and Mintu were witnesses to the same. That is why Mintu and Sunil were assaulted by Parameswar and the other three workmen.

This is said to be a gross misconduct and that is the charge against all the four workmen. Exts. A (23) to A(25) are the charge-steets against Bullu, Ramasankar and Kapildeo respectively. Exts. A (16), A(17) and A(18) are also copies of the same charge-sheets. (Ext. A(19) is the charge-sheet against Parameswar. It contains several heads of charges, causing damage to cloth on 5th September 1963, 6th September 1963, 7th September 1963, 8th September 1963 and various other charges. Lastly he was charged with assault of Sunil and Mintu on 10th September 1963 at 1-15 p.m. Shri Anjaria enquired into the charges against Kapildeo Ext. A(4), Bullu Rajbhar Ext. A(8), Ramasankar Ext. A(7). The enquiry against Parameswar was held by Shri A. K. Home Choudhury, Spinning Master and the proceeding is Ext. A(5). The workmen submitted explanation on 16th September 1963. The enquiry against Ramasankar was held during the period from 20th October 1963 to 18th November 1963, against Kapildeo between 29th October 1963 to 30th December 1963, against Bullu Rajbhar from 21st October 1963 to 11th November 1963. The enquiry against Parameswar was held during the period from 31st October 1963 to 31st December 1963 but the enquiry was not completed. This reference was made on 19th of January 1965. No final orders have been communicated to the workman at any time. There had been conciliation but it failed. Now the question is whether this long suspension without communcation of the final orders to the workmen is a mala fide action on the part of the company.

The company contends that they are justified in not passing the final orders in view of the criminal case filed by Kapildeo against Shri H. N. Sanyal and nine others. That is the reason for not passing final orders. Now let us see whether it is a just reason or it is just a cloak for keeping the workmen under suspension for a long period and causing great hardship to them. The Tribunal can interfere only if it is found that the action of the management in keeping the workmen suspended without final orders is a mala fide act. I will turn to the question raised before me on the side of the management that they were prevented from passing orders because of the criminal case filed by Kapildeo. The company filed all relevant papers in respect of that case. Kapildeo filed a petition of complaint Ext. A(12) to the S.D.O. Serampore. There are 10 accused named and accused No. 1 is Shri H. N. Sanyal, Labour Officer, Bengal Luxmi Cotton Mills. It states about the incident, dated 9th September 1963, at 3-30 p.m. and 10th September 1963 at 2 p.m. The substance of contention is that Kapildeo was assaulted by all the nine persons under the instigation of Labour Officer Shri H. N. Sanyal. The other accused were workers of the mill. That criminal case is pending. The deposition of all the four workmen were put in evidence. Ext. A (22) is the initial evidence of Kapildeo on the date of filing of the complaint. Ext. B is the deposition of Parameswar, Ext. B(1) that of Kapildeo, Ext. B(2) Bullu Rajbhar and Ext. B(3) Ramasankar. Those depositions were put to the witnesses and they stated that they deposed in the manner recorded. All the four workmen stated that on 10th September 1963 at about 1-45 p Shri H. N. Sanyal, Labour Officer, as well other wrokmen assaulted Kapildeo, Bullu, P meswar and Ramasankar with [illegible] and flo Now the charges against the four the kmen that on 10th September 1963 at about 1-45 p near the mill gate those four workmen assau Mintu and Sunil. Thus the incident of ass on which charge-sheet was issued was assault Sunil and Mintu by the four workmen. T complaint before the learned Magistrate is ab assault of the four workmen by Shri H. N. S yal and nine others. The two incidents are al gether different. But the time mentioned in charge-sheet is the same as the time mentioned the evidence of the prosecution witnesses bef the learned Magistrate. On behalf of the m agement Shri Sen argues that since an inciden alleged in two different manners but at an id tical time, the management thought it advisa to wait for the decision of the criminal co It is true that the incident of assault Sunil and Mintu by the four workmen will be the subject of decision by the learned Mag trate, the incident alleged in the charge-sheet w have to be decided by the management inspite whatever decision is recorded by the learn Magistrate in respect of the petition of complai Since the time alleged is exactly identical 1-45 p.m. on 10th September 1963, it is not reasonable on the part of the management to w the decision of the criminal court. If the Mag trate decided that the incident alleged by Kap deo was true and if that incident is proved bef the learned Magistrate, the incident alleged in charge-sheet is bound to be false. That may a reasonable plea induced the management thou it is quite clear that the subject of the charg sheet is different from the subject-matter of de sion before the learned Magistrate. I cann blame the management if they thought in th manner, namely, if they wanted to stay fu orders awaiting decision of the criminal co regards being had to the incident as alleged Kapildeo. If Kapildeo's story before the Mag trate succeeds, it is very much unlikely that t facts stated in the charge-sheet would stand. T incidents of a different nature cannot take pla at an identical time. I must say that in view the facts and circumstances of the case it w open to the management to pass final orders a communicate the same to the workmen but view of what is stated above if the manageme was induce to believe that the decision of t criminal court should be waited, I cannot real blame them. The management might have be wrong in the way they thought but I am unab to say that the management was influenced b any other ulterior motive. The managemen believed bona fide that their hands should stayed till the learned Magistrate decided th matter. I am unable to read in the act of th management any motive of victimisation or ma fide. There is no hard and first rule as to unde what circumstances the management should sta final orders pending decision of a Court. Th management is not bound to stay their hands i passing final orders even though a criminal cas might be pending over the self-same inciden But if the management does stay their hands i the circumstances as the present one, I cannot at once characterise their action as wanting in bona fide. The Deputy Labour Commissioner wrote to the management enquiring about the charge-sheets. In reply to the said query Shri B. C. Mukherjee, Superintendent of the Mills wrote to the Deputy Labour Commissioner that final orders have been postponed, in view of the criminal case over the same incident. Subsequently on 24th August 1964 the management wrote to the Deputy Labour Commissioner stating that since the criminal case was still pending it was thought advisable to wait the passing of the final orders till the decision of the criminal case. In the above circumstances suspension of the workmen though for a pretty long time cannot be said to be unjustified. The case is still pending before the criminal court and that is why the management refrained from passing the final enquiry, though the enquiry had been concluded. I do not think that the action of the management is mala fide. The suspension of four workmen is justified in the present circumstances. The management has authority to suspend and such authority is derived from clause (e) of section 14 of the standing Orders which is framed in terms of Omnibus Award published in the "Calcutta Gazette", dated 10th June 1958. A workman may be suspended forthwith on being charge-sheeted on commission of any misconduct enumerated above. The order of suspension may take effect immediately. In the peculiar circumstances of this case the management had to refrain from passing the final orders and that is why the period of suspension has become long. Unless criminal case is finished the management thought it advisable to wait final orders. I hold accordingly that the suspension of the four workmen is justified. The workmen are not entitled to any relief in this reference. This is my award.

Taken at my dictation and corrected by me.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Associated Indian Enterprisers (P) Ltd., 1 Mahatma Gandhi Road, Thakurpukur, Behala, 24-Parganas and their workmen as represented by the Indian Enterprise Mazdoor Sabha, Q-313A Umesh Niogy Road, Calcutta-14. (Case No. VIII—290 of 1964.).

BEFORE THE SECOND INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL.

Present :

Shri AMBICA PADA BHATTACHARYA, Judge,
Second Industrial Tribunal.

By order No. 4479-I.R./I.R/10L-33(1)/64, dated the 24th September 1964, Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, referred an industrial dispute between Messrs. Associated Indian Enterprisers Ltd., and their workmen represented by the Indian Enterprise Mazdoor Sabha for adjudication regarding the only issue mentioned in the order of reference.

Issue

Whether the dismissal of Sarvashri Madan Halder, Manik Karar and Kamal Patra is justified ?

To what relief, if any, are they entitled ?

This is a reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act in respect of the dimissal of three workmen, namely, Sarbasri Madan Halder, Manik Karar and Kamal Patra. They were dismissed from service. In view of a pending reference before the Tribunal the company applied for approval of the action of dismissal taken against them under section 33 (2) (b) of the Industrial Disputes Act. In respect of Madan Halder approval was not granted while in respect of Manik and Kamal, the Tribunal accorded approval under section 33 (2) (b). Thereafter this reference was received in respect of the self-same dismissal of the three workers.

The workmen are represented by Indian Enterprise Mazdur Sabha. The case of the Union is that Messrs. Associated Indian Enterprises (P) Ltd., is the sole agent of Leyland and Albion trucks and their spare parts in Eastern India. They have also factories at Thakurpukur with branches at Patna, Mozaffarpur, Ranchi and other places. It is a prosperous concern. The company however has little respect for the provisions of the Indian Factories Act, particularly the provision of section 79 of the Factories Act which provides for granting of annual leave with wages to the workmen. The company was extremely reluctant to grant such leave. Sarbashri Kamal and Manick individually served 15 day's notice upon the company praying for annual leave with wages in terms of section 79 of the Factories Act, 1948. They also asked for payment of leave wages in advance under section 81 of the Act. Copies of those notices were forwarded to the Chief Inspector of Factories. On receipt of the said notices the company handed over to the workmen two orders on 12th July 1963 though the letters were back dated as 10th July 1963, transferring them to Patna Branch on purely temporary basis and they were directed to report there on 15th July 1963. The two workmen wrote to the company on 13th July 1963 protesting against the transfer and pointing out to the company the fact of their application for annual leave. The company assured the workmen that they would be brought back to Calcutta before the commencement of their annual leave. The annual leave of Kamal Patra was to commence on 25th of July, while that of Manick on 27th of July 1963. The workmen however reported to Patna on 15th July 1963 and from there they were transferred to Mozaffarpur. The in-charge of Mozaffarpur sent them back to Calcutta head office on 23rd July 1963. Sealed letter was handed over to them. They reached Calcutta on 24th July 1963 and proceeded to the head office direct and handed over the letter to the Accountant Secretary. They were called at the head office again on 27th July 1963 for their leave wages but they did not receive payment of the same They were asked to report on 30th July 1963. On 25th July 1963 the company addressed two letters to the workmen asking them to show cause in respect of their unauthorised absence since 23rd July 1963 The workmen were not allowed to resume their duties on expiry of their annual leave. On 11th September 1963 the company framed a separate charge-sheet against the two workmen. The substance of the charge being unauthorised absence since 23rd July 1963. A further charge was to the effect that they came back from Mozaffapur without the permission of the in-charge of Mozaffarpur. Shri A. Sankaran, the General Sales Manager, held an ex parte enquiry and the workmen were not allowed to attend the enquiry on the appointed dates. Manick and Kamal were thereafter dismissed from service without any proper enquiry. They have been victimised because they applied for annual leave with wages. Manick and Kamal became victims of unfair labour practice and the action of the management is mala fide. The management felt outraged by the applications for annual leave with wages insisted on by the two workmen.

Another workman is Madan Halder. He was dismissed with effect from 18th October 1963. The company filed an application under section 33 (2) (b) for approval of the action in view of a pending reference before the Tribunal. The Tribunal rejected the application of the company. The order of dismissal accordingly became null and void and Madan should be treated as continuing in service. The company is not however allowing him to resume his duties. The dismissed workmen should be entitled to not only reinstatement, back wages but the benefit of the increase in wages should also given to them.

The company filed a written statement denying the Union's allegation of company's want of bona fide in the matter of dismissal of the three workmen. It is denied that the company has no respect for the provision of Factoris Act. It is admitted that Manick and Kamal were to go home on earned leave with effect from 27th July 1963 and 25th July 1963 respectively as per their own requisition in writng. There is necessity for notices being sent to the Chief Inspector of Factories. It is denied that the company issued the transfer orders on receipt of the notices of annual leave with wages. The orders were issued on 10th July 1963. It became necessary for sending the two workemen to Mozaffarpur branch via Patna office. Accordingly the two workmen were asked to proceed to Patna and reported there on 15th July 1963. Their services were required at Muzaffarpur. The two workmen raised protests in their letter, dated 13th July 1963. The company did not give any assurance to them that they would be brought back to Calcutta before the commencement of their annual leave. The workmen proceeded to Patna and then to Mozaffarpur. They worked at Mozaffarpur up to 22nd July 1963. Thereafter both of them were determined to leave work and come away to Calcutta without any permission of the local incharge and inspite of definite direction to the contrary. The local in-charge gave a letter to the workmen addressed to the head office stating that the two workmen left without his permission. It is completely untrue that Mozaffarpur in-charge sent the two workmen back to Calcutta on 23rd July 1963. The letter which was carried by the two workmen were delivered to the head office on 24th July 1963. On 25th July 1963 the two workmen were asked to show cause. From the letter of the Mozaffarpur in-charge it transpired that the two workmen committed acts of gross indiscipline and insubordination. By their letter, dated 25th July 1963, the company charged the two workmen with the said offence. Finally on 11th September 1963 the company issued charge-sheets to the workmen on four charges, viz., failure to report from 23rd July 1964 and remaining absent since that date, having left Mozaffarpur without permission of the in-charge and making false statement to the amanagement. Enquiries were held on 18th September 1963 and 19th September 1963. The workmen did not care to attend the enquiry. The workmen thereafter on 20th September 1963 complained that they were not allowed to attend the enquiry. Thereafter fresh enquiry was held on 8th October 1963 and 9th October 1963 for giving another opportunity to the workmen. On those days also the workmen did not attend and the enquiry was held by Shri Sankaran exparte. On 18th October 1963 the two workmen were dismissed. On that very date approval was applied for under section 33 (2) (b) of the Industrial Disputes Act and the learned Tribunal granted approval,

With regard to Madan Halder the case of the company is as follows :—He was a semi skilled electrician at Behala factory. On 11th July 1963 he violated the order of the company not to open any machinery except under the advice of his departmental in-charge. He opened some machineries inspite of the advise to the contrary and quarrel with his departmental in-charge. Later it was found that he wilfully caused damage to company's property such as heavy duty drilling machine, two motors of lathe machine, compressure machine and amplifier set.

He also remained absent without leave from 15th July 1963. In a letter, dated 23rd July 1963, the workman came out with a false story that he had an employment injury on his left foot and charged the company with neglect of treatment for the same. On 13th

August 1963 the workman was charged by the company for remaining absent without leave from 15th July 1963, giving false story of his injury in course of employment and causing damage to company's property. The workman denied the charges. Subsequently on 9th September 1963 fresh charge-sheet was issued to workman by registered post. The registered letter was correctly addressed but came back with a postal endorsement not known. This was a manupulation of the workman. A second letter was issued containing the charge-sheet under Certificate of Posting: that letter did not come back to the sender. It may be presumed that the said letter reached the addressee Madan Halder. Thereafter the enquiry was held on 4th October 1963 but still however, the workman did not attend the enquiry. The enquiry was held by Shri A. Sankaran, General Sales Manager, ex parte on 4th October 1963. By an order, dated 18th October 1963, Madan Halder was dismissed. Application for approval to the Tribunal was made but the learned Tribunal refused to grant approval to the said action. Madan was rightly dismissed for misconduct.

For the Company : Shri Jagadindra Nath Bhattacharjee, Advocate.

For the Union : Shri Narayan Das Gupta, President.

Decision

A preliminary point has been agitated on the effect of orders passed under section 33 (2) (b) of the Industrial Disputes Act in the adjudication of the industrial dispute in respect of the 3 workmen. The identical facts of dismissal of Sarbasree Madan, Manik and Kamal came to be considered in the applications under section 33 (2) (b) filed by the management praying for approval of the said action. In the case of Madan, approval was not granted by the Tribunal while in the case of Manik and Kamal, approval had been granted in terms of section 33(2)(b) of the Industrial Disputes Act. Those applications had to be made by the management in view of the fact that a reference was pending before the said Tribunal. Now the question is whether the decision recorded by the Tribunal in these two applications would influence the industrial adjudication which has been now referred to under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act. In my considered opinion the finding of the Tribunal recorded in the applications under section 33(2)(b) will not in any way influence the industrial adjudication of the dispute under reference. The view of the Supreme Court has been expressed in this matter in a case reported in 1959 I. L. L. J., page 285. In the reported case the question arose as to the application of the principles of res judicata in respect of the findings of the Industrial Tribunal in proceedings under section 33 standing as a bar to the right of the management to start a fresh enquiry in respect of the self-same incident which forms the subject-matter of the previous enquiry. In considering that point the scope and nature of section 33 was discussed at page 291 of the reported case. It has been observed as follows :

> "That section namely section 33 does not confirm any jurisdiction on a Tribunal to adjudicate on a dispute but it merely empowers the Tribunal to give or withhold permission to the employer during the pendency of a industrial dispute to discharge or punish a workman concerned in the industrial dispute. And in deciding whether permission should or should not be given, the industrial tribunal is not to act as a reviewing Tribunal against the decision of the management but to see that before it lifts the ban against the discharge or punishment of the workmen, the employer makes out a prima facie case. The object of the section is to protect the workmen in pending industrial dispute against intimidation or victimization. As said above, principles governing the giving of permission in such cases are that the employer is not acting mala fide, is not resorting to any unfair labour practice, intimidation or victimization and there is no basic error or contravention of the principles of natural justice. Therefore when the Tribunal gives or refuses permission, it is not adjudicating an industrial dispute ; its function is to prevent victimization of a workman for having raised an industrial dispute. The nature and scope of proceedings under section 33 shows that removing or refusing to remove the ban on punishment or dismissal of workmen does not bar the raising of an industrial dispute when as a result of the permission of the industrial tribunal the employer dismisses or punishes the workmen.

Thus, the order under section 33 was intended for giving or withholding permission and not to adjudicate upon industrial dispute. In the instant reference, industrial disputes have been referred to the Tribunal for adjudication and as such the findings under section 33 for the purpose of giving or withdrawing permission will not influence the decision of the Tribunal and there is no question of applying principles of res judicata.

Having disposed of the preliminary point, I will proceed to consider the individual cases of dismissals of the 3 workmen. I will take up the case of Manik and Kamal together because the evidence is identical in respect of both of them. Kamal gave evidence in this reference, but Manik did not. The learned Advocate for the management raised an objection as to case of Manik because he was not examined as a witness before the Tribunal. The learned Advocate contends that Manick's case must automatically go out of record as Manik was not put in witness box. I cannot accept this proposition. The workmen are represented by the Union and the Union is prosecuting the case of all the three workmen. The Union may rely upon documentary evidence in support of the case of Manik and may not choose to put Manick in the witness box. It cannot be said that Manick is withheld from the witness box. The Union does not consider his testimony necessary. I cannot presume that Manick is not interested in the dispute. The Union is representing Manick and Kamal and their cases are canvassed before me by his representative, namely, Mazdoor Sabha. I am not prepared to throw out the case of Manick over board, simply because he was not put in witness box. The dismissal of Manick and Kamal should be considered in the light of evidence disclosed before the Tribunal. They were permanent employees of the company. The Union's case is that Manick and Kamal applied for annual leave with wages under Indian Factories Act and the company was served with 15 days' notice. This notice of leave infuriated the management and prompted their action in dismissing the two workmen on false charges. The action of the management is characterised as mala fide. The relevant facts disclosed in evidence are as follows:- Exts. 2 and 2(a) are the two applications of Kamal and Manick, dated 10th July 1963 and 9th July 1963 respectively, applying for annual leave with wages. The leave of Kamal was to commence from 25th July while that of Manick to commence on 27th July 1963. Kamal applied for 28 days leave while Manick for 25 days leave. Notices of leave were forwarded to the Chief Inspector of Factories. It is the Union's case that this company was reluctant to grant annual leave with wages to its workmen and the leave notices outraged the company and prompted their future action. The transfer orders were the first steps towards victimisation, according to the Union. Exts. 3 and 3 (a) are orders of transfer, dated 10th of July 1963. Both of them were transferred on temporary basis to Patna branch and were asked to report on 15th July 1963. The workmen reacted against those orders of transfer adversely and they lodged their protest by letters Exts. 4 and 4 (a), dated 13th July 1963. Eventually inspite of those protests the two workers had to go to Patna and they in fact reported Patna on 15th July 1963. From Patna they were transferred to Mozaffarpur. They reported at Mozaffarpur on 17th to the in-charge Chaturdan Singh. The workmen remained at Mozaffarpur for five days i.e. from 18th to 22nd. This is an admitted fact. On 23rd they started from Mozaffarpur and reached Calcutta on 24th. A letter was handed over to them by Shri Chaturdan Singh, in-charge of Mozaffarpur branch. Ext. D is the said letter. This was handed over to the Accountant Secretary Shri Guha, on 24th July 1963. This is also an admitted fact. The charge-sheets against the two workmen are Exts. F (4) and F (5). They are dated 11th September 1963. The following were the charges :—

(1) The workmen failed to report for duty on and from 23rd July 1963 ;

(2) The workmen left Mozaffarpur without permission of the in-charge, Mozaffarpur ;

(3) The workman Manick remained absent from duty without leave from 23rd July 1963 to 26th July 1963 and the workman Kamal remained absent from duty for two days, namely, 23rd July 1963 and 24th July 1963 ;

(4) The workmen made patently false statement.

Those are the charges. Both the workmen denied the charges. They contended that the work at Mozaffarpur had finished and they were sent back to Calcutta head office by the Mozaffarpur in-charge. They reported to the Accountant Secretary on 24th July 1963. At first there was an ex parte enquiry on 18th September 1963 against Manick and 19th September 1963 against Kamal but the two workmen protested against the ex parte enquiry on the ground that on the dates of enquiry they were not allowed entries to the place of enquiry. Thereafter second enquiry was held in the case of Manick on 9th October 1963 and in the case of Kamal on 8th October 1963. The enquiry proceedings in respect of Manick is Ext. G (1) and in respect of Kamal is Ext. G (3). On those days the workmen were absent and the enquiring officer Shri A. Sankaran adopted the proceedings of enquiry recorded on the previous dates, namely, 18th September 1963 and 19th September 1963. On those days enquiry was adopted ex parte and at the enquiry among others Shri Chaturdan Singh, in-charge of Mozaffarpur branch and Shri Guha, Accountant Secretary were examined. They are also identical witnesses at the second enquiry. Shri Sankaran submitted a report and in terms of the same dismissal orders follow. On behalf of the workmen it is argued before me that they were not allowed entry into the head office for attending the same. In the absence of cogent evidence I am not willing to accept it. The date of enquiry was duly notified to the workman and on the complaint of the workmen a second date of enquiry was fixed on 8th October 1963 and 9th October 1963. It is highly improbable that the workmen were not allowed entry. Shri Sankaran gave evidence before me ; he is O. P. W. 5. He stated that the notice of second enquiry was duly given. This will appear from Exts. F (2) and F (3). There was no cogent reason for workmen for not attending the enquiry. On the second date of enquiry Chaturdan Singh was examined. As Shri Guha was ill he could not be examined on that date. From the evidence of Shri A. Sankaran it can be safely concluded that the enquiry was held by him after due notice to the two workmen and the two workmen did not choose to attend the said enquiry. The two workmen were dismissed on the finding of Shri Sankaran resulting from the said enquiry. The law is well settled on the point that in case where a fair enquiry is held in respect of the charges framed against the workmen, the Industrial Tribunal will refuse to interfere except in the following cases :

(1) Where there had been want of good faith ;

(2) Where there is victimisation and unfair labour practice;

(3) Where the management is guilty of basic error or violation of the principles of natural justice;

(4) Where on the materials the finding is clearly baseless or perverse.

In the instant case on the side of the Union it is urged that the finding of the enquiring officer is insupportable and is perverse and that the two workmen were victimised because they gave notices of annual leave with wages to the management. I have already referred to the transfer orders, Exts. 3 and 3 (a). The two workmen were transferred to Patna wherefrom they were sent to Mozaffarpur on temporary basis. They applied for annual leave with wages and I have already referred to the two applications, Exts. 2 and 2 (a). Manick's leave would commence on 27th while that of Kamal on 25th of July. Shri Guha, the Accountant Secretary admitted at page 3 of his evidence that his idea was that the two workmen would be brought back to Calcutta before the commencement of the leave. The two workmen were working in the Painting Department and they were deputed to Mozaffarpur for painting a truck of Shri R. N. Pandey (vide evidence of Chaturdan Singh, P. O. W. 4).

The transfer orders thus were opposed by the two workmen in their letter Exts. 4 and 4 (a), dated 13th July 1963. The company wanted to contend that the transfer orders were communicated to the workmen on 10th July 1963 but there is no cogent evidence in support of the same. Kamal stated that he received the order on 12th July 1963. The company could have filed record to prove that in fact the transfer orders were communicated to the workmen on 10th of July 1963. In view of the evidence of Kamal that he received the transfer order on 12th July 1963 it follows that the leave applications were received earlier and the transfer orders followed the leave applications. It is significant to note that the Union had been ventilating a grievance against the management on account of non-granting of annual leave by this company. It is a statutory leave which the workmen are entitled under section 79 of the Factories Act. Ext. 12 is a letter written by the Union as far back as 25th July 1962 where it was complained to the Chief Inspector of Factories that the company was not expecting the provision of annual leave with wages. This is item No. 8 of that letter. This matter was persued thereafter Ext. 12 (it is a letter, dated 1st September 1962) complaining about issue of leave books to the workmen. There had been series of correspondence as will appear from Exts. 12 (c), 12 (d), 12 (e) letters written by the Union to the Chief Inspector of Factories. Ext. 12 (f) is a letter written by the Union to the said Chief Inspector on 14th of May 1964 where satisfaction was expressed because the management was then granting annual leave rather freely but this was in May 1964, while the applications were made by the two workmen in July 1963 at a time when the company was not reluctant to grant annual leave with wages to its workmen. Against the said perspective the entire course of events should be judged. The management knew that the two workmen who are ordinary painters would go on annual leave on 25th and 27th July respectively and inspite of that they were deputed to Patna and then to Mozaffarpur for painting a truck. There is no evidence that they are very expert painters. It will appear that they had been drawing wages at the rate of Rs. 2- per day while there were others in the Painting department drawing higher rates of wages. There is no special reason in selecting these workmen for expert painting of a truck at Mozaffarpur. This is another factor to be considered. Then I will proceed to consider whether the finding of the enquiring officer is perverse. Shri Sankaran obviously relied upon the evidence of Chaturdan Singh and held that the two workmen left work at Mozaffarpur without permission of the in-charge. Chaturdan Singh gave evidence before the Enquiring Officer. It was not his evidence that the two workmen left work unfinished at Mozaffarpur. Work had been finished but since he had no instruction from Calcutta Head Office he was hesitating to release the workmen from Mozaffarpur. He sent a forwarding note along with the workmen, Ext. D, will speak for itself. This note will show very clearly that he was at first hesitent in view of the fact that no orders have been received from the head office or from the Patna branch. In the same letter Branch Manager Chaturdan Singh admits that the workmen could go from Mozaffarpur on commencement of their leave. Thereafter Chaturdan Singh proceeds to say that as the workmen wanted to receive payment from the head office he was sending his letter through Manick Karar. Chaturdan Singh did not say that the workmen left Mozaffarpur leaving the work unfinished. If the work of Mozaffarpur had been finished there is really no point at all to detain them in Mozaffarpur and the in-charge of Mozaffarpur has no such instruction from the head office of Calcutta. The transfer order did not mention anywhere that Kamal and Manick should stay at Mozaffarpur up to any particular date. That is not the point. The point is that the two workmen would do a special job at Mozaffarpur. If the special job was finished there was no purpose at all in detaining them at Mozaffarpur. The workmen's contention that it was Chaturdan Singh who sent them to Calcutta with a sealed letter is the only cogent story which can be reasonably believed. Chaturdan Singh gave evidence before me. He does not say that the painting work at Mozaffarpur was left unfinished by the two workmen. His evidence is that as he had no advice from the head office the two workmen should stay at Mozaffarpur. He wants to add further that he did not give permission to the workmen to leave Mozaffarpur. If really he did not give any such permission how was it that he was sending a note to the head office through them ? From the tenure of his evidence it is evident that since there was no order from the head office he was hesitating and when the workmen pointed out that their leave would commence shortly and they would receive payment from the head office at Calcutta in respect of their advance leave wages, he was persuaded to send them back to Calcutta but he sent a forwarding note in sealed cover. It is not a case of the workmen disobeying the orders of Chaturdan Singh. One significant fact cannot be ignored. Since painting work at Mozaffarpur had been finished why Chaturdan Singh would detain them at Mozaffarpur and go on paying them outstation allowances for keeping them at Mozaffarpur. It is only natural for Chaturdan Singh to sent them back to Calcutta or at least give its permission to the workmen to leave Mozaffarpur, may be on their own seeking but it can never be a case of disobedience of any order of Chaturdan not to leave Mozaffarpur. There cannot be any such order in view of the fact that the two workmen were not deputed to Mozaffarpur for a particular period but they were deputed for a particular job which had been finished. Chaturdan Singh knew full well that the leave of Kamal was to commence on 25th according to the assurance of the management and Kamal was to be brought to Calcutta before commencement of his leave. If that is so, Kamal must start from Mozaffarpur on 23rd as is done and reach Calcutta on 24th and report himself to the Accountant Secretary Shri Guha He would except to Calcutta for his advance leave wages on 24th of July 1963 and go on leave with effect from 25th July 1963 as scheduled. I fail to understand how Kamal is at fault, in view of the positive evidence of Shri Guha that Kamal and Manick both reported to him on 24th July 1963. He wanted to add that it was 4 p.m. but there is no record to show this. It is the evidence of Kamal that they started from Mozaffarpur on 23rd and reached Calcutta on 24th and went to the head office and handed over the letter to Mr. Guha. Even if I assume that Ext. D is the said letter Mr. Guha would find at once on opening it that the in-charge, Mozaffarpur branch, sent away the workmen without taking the responsibility of doing the same. He did not consider it necessary to proceed against the two workmen then and there. Obviously because either the letter that was delivered to him was not Ext. D but some other letter or he construed the letter Ext. D as constituting no misconduct on the part of the workmen. The charge-sheet was issued to two workmen on 11th of September 1963. From the evidence I have discussed it would be perverse to conclude that the two workmen left Mozaffarpur disobeying any lawful orders of in-charge of Mozaffarpur. In fact the circumstance would show that they were permitted to leave Mozaffarpur for very good reasons in order that they might avail of the annual leave at Calcutta. The in-charge, Mozaffarpur, Sri Chaturdan Singh was not a party to company's adverse attitude to these two workmen but he had to give evidence in a manner to suit the requirement of the management to penalise the two workmen. With regard to charge (a) it is clear that so far as Manick is concerned he started from Mozaffarpur on 23rd very rightly to enjoy his leave from Calcutta and reached Calcutta on 24th and reported to the management on that very day. His leave was to commence on 25th July. The charge (a) that he failed to report from 23rd July 1963 is clearly a false charge. With regard to charge (b) I have already answered that the two workmen left Mozaffarpur with the permission of the in-chrage and they did not disobey any lawful order of Chaturdan Singh. The essence of the four charges is embodied in the two charges mentioned above. So far as Kamal is concerned none of the charge is proved and the domestic Tribunal fell in error of judgement and the finding is obvisouly perverse. In fact Kamal is victimised because of his application for annual leave with wages and demand for the same. With regard to Manick he reported to the head office on 24th. At most it can be said that he ought to have reported for duty on 25th and 26th. On 27th his leave commenced. It is significant to note that the management did not charge him for two days absence but charged him for continuous absence with effect from 23rd July 1963 which is a false charge. The charges against both Manick and Kamal are palpably false and they are machinations resorted to by the management in order to vicitimise the two labourers in consequence of the demand for earned leave with wages and their demand of advance payment of wages which the statute provides for them. The dismissal of Manick and Kamal is mala fide and this is an instance of unfair labour practice. I hold accordngly that the dismissal of Manick and Kamal are unjustified. They are entitled to reinstatement with all back wages. They should also be entitled to theincrement in wages which their fellow-workmen of the same occupatoin earned during the period of their unemployment.

Next I will take up the case of Madan Halder. He was dismissed from service on the same day that is on 18th October 1963. In view of a pending reference the management applied to the Tribunal for approval of the action under section 33 (2) (b) of the Industrial Disputes Act. That application was disallowed by the Tribunal and the application for approval under section 33 (2) (b) stood dismissed on contest. The Tribunal held that the notice of enquiry was not duly served upon the workman Madan Halder and the enquiry was held by Shri A. Sankaran in his absence and this was opposed to the principles of natural justice. Accordingly the Tribunal did not approve the action of the management. It is first of all argued before me by the Union that since the action of the management was not approved the position is that Madan continues in service and it was open to the company to proceed with the charge afresh against him in due compliance of law and principles of natural justice. But since the company does not do it, there is no dismissal against Madan. In support of this view the Union relies upon a case reported in 1962, A. I. R. page 1500. In delivering the judgement Mr. Justice Wanchoo laid down the following principles. "If the Tribunal does not approve of the action taken by the employer, the result would be that the action taken by him would fall and thereupon the workman would be deemed never to have been dismissed or discharged and would remain in the service of the employer. In such a case no specilific provision as to remstatement is necessary, and by the very fact of the Tribunal not approving the action of the employer, the dismissal or discharge of the workman would be of no effect and the workman concerned would continue to be in service, as if there never was any dismissal or discharge by the employer. In that sence the order of discharge or dismissal passed by the employer does not become final and conclusive until it is approved by the Tribunal under section 33 (2)."

That is no doubt the position but the self-same dismissal in respect of which the Tribunal refused its approval has come in the form of referere under section 10 where for the first time an industrial dispute has been raised on the said issue for adjudication. In view of the principles which I have already discussed I hold that inspite of the said position the reference has got to be adjudicated upon according to law, because this is an industrial dispute which should be adjudicated upon while the order passed by the Tribunal under section 33 (2) (b) was only for the purpose of approving or withholding approval of the action. It is true that the Union pleading is not exhaustive on the point as to how the dismissal of Madan is not justified. Still however both parties adduced evidence at large before the Tribunal on which it is possible to decide the contentions which are primarily raised by the Union in assailing the order of dismissal. The Union places the same contentions as have been urged in the case of Manick and Kamal. Since Madan made an application for annual leave with wages which the company was reluctant to grant, he was victimised on false charges and the action of the management is not bona fide. I will forthwith come to the charges.

There are four charges against Madan Halder. Ext. N. (2) setforth the charges. The charge-sheet is dated 9th September 1963.

(a) Absence without leave from 15th July 1963 ;

(b) giving false story of employment injury,

(c) causing damage to company's proprety such as drilling machine, lathe machines, amplifier set, etc. by neglecting work on 11th July 1963.

Those charge-sheets according to the company were served upon the workmen both by registered post as well as under certificate of posting. The registered notice was issued on 9th September 1963. It is Ext. R.

The envelope is Ext. R (1). It was returned unserved and the postal endorsement is "not known" dated 10th September 1963 and 11th September 1963. Now the question is what would be the effect of this registered notice. On the side of the company it is urged that since it was correctly addressed it must be presumed that it was served upon the workman. This is a astonishing proposition. The registered envelope was not served and it came back to the company but still however I am asked to draw a presumption that it was served upon the workman. The very endorsement "not known" shows that at the relevant time that was not his address. That endorsement must be presumed to be correct and the position is that the workman had no notice of the date of the enquiry, and the charge-sheet was not served upon him. Next, the company alleged in the wirtten statement very clearly that the charge-sheet was sent under certificate of posting and that letter was duly served upon the workman and it did not come back to the company. This is a false statement and the company's Secretary had to admit that it came back to the company unserved. The letter, under certificate of posting is Ext. N. dated 25th of September 1963. It was not served it came back to the company, obvisouly because the workman could not be traced at the address. It is therefore conclusively proved that the workman was not served with the copy of charge-sheet and the workman had no notice of enquiry. If the address of the workman was not known to the management in view of the return of the two letters it was the duty of the company to ascertain the address from the Union or at least make a publication in widely circulated paper in the language understood by Madan before any equiry could be held against him. The enquiry which was held by Mr. Sankaran on the above notice, is opposed to the principles of natural justice and it must therefore be held that the enquiry has no legs to stand upon. Charges are therefore to be proved before this Tribunal by the management by proper evidence. The matter is opened at large before the Tribunal. Now let us see whether the company proved the said charges before me. There are three charges which I have already mentioned. The last item of charge is clause (c) namely, causing of damage to certain machines mentioned in the charge-sheet. I will discuss it first The charge-sheet is dated 9th September 1963 in which the alleged damage is said to have been made on 11th July 1963 i.e. approximately two month's earlier to the date of charge-sheet. This delay was not properly explained. It is the allegation against the workman that he was aksed not to handle such machines by the in-charge of the electrical section but he violated that order on 11th July 1963 and handled some machineries without the permission of the in-charge. The evidence of the in-charge O. P. W. 1. Shri N. Basak, is that on 11th July 1963 Madan opened some machines, grinding and drilling and Shri Basak found that the armature of the two machines were spoiled. The amplifier set was also damaged. His evidence further is that he reported it to Shri Charls Chakraborty who was in-charge of Thakurpukur factory where Madan used to work in the electrical department. So the entire story was brought to the notice of Shri Chakraborty on that very day. O. P. W. 2 Shri Noor Ali was examined to say that Madan opened the drilling and grinding machines and spoiled the armature and some other articles were missing. Now I will come to the evidence of O. P. W. 3, Shri Charls Chakraborty. His evidence is that on 11th July 1963 Shri Basak reported to him in the forenoon that some machines were damaged by Madan Halder. He made an enquiry in the absence of Madan and found the armature of the grinding machine damaged and also noted some other damages. According to him a memo, was issued on 11th July 1963. I will at once turn to the memo, Ext. A. It was issued by Shri Chakraborty after he had received a full report of the damage done by the workmen, but the report will ecleanly show that there was no mention of any damage done to any machines by the workman. This was issued directly to the workman and it is expected to contain all the particulars of the charge and at least the fact of damage to machineries which is the all important matter. Ext. A states that the conduct of Madan was objectionable and that he was instructed not to open any machinery but he violated that order and that he quarrelled with his departmental in-charge. The note is silent on the point of damage to any machinery which is the subject matter of charge-sheet issued two months after. This very circumstance would show that the management bolstered up a false story of damage to machinery at a subsequent stage. If there was any damage to machinery it would have found place in the letter Ext. A Charls Chakraborty endeavoured to make up matters by proving another letter Ext. A (1), dated 26th of July 1963 wherein he admits that he got report of damage on that very day but he was sorry he kept it under the table pad and forgot to send the report to the Accountant Secretary. This note written by Shri Charls Chakravorty to Accountant Secretary will show that there had been a report either from Shri Basak or prepared by himself which was kept on his table pad but this report was sent to the Accountant Secretary much later i.e. on 26th July 1963. That report has not seen the light of the day. It has not been filed before the Tribunal. The existence of such a report is also challenged. This shows that Ext. (1) is an unsuccessful attempt to patch up at a subsequent stage. The charge of damage is a false one and the company attempt to support it by fabricating documents. The Union's case is that Madan applied for annual leave with wages on 15th July 1963. The application is Ext. N (5). Though it is not dated still both parties admitted that it is dated 15th July 1963. Leave was to commence from 31st July 1963 for 22 days. The leave application was in a particular proforma and the company received it admittedly. It is significant to note that the damage to property were alleged to have been committed on 11th July 1963 but the company remained silent. This application for annual leave was not liked by the company and accepted in good grace. A copy of the application was sent to the Chief Inspector of Factories. The company's attitude towards this leave application was positively hostile. This will appear from Ext. L. The company got this memo. Ext. L signed by Madan Halder. The memo. was written by an employee of the company & Madan simply signed it. It is dated 17th July 1963. In this note Madan states that the registered application for leave which he submitted was at the instigation of other persons and that he withdrew that application. He also apologised to the company for having committed the offence and gave an undertaking that he would thereafter continue to serve the company in all good spirit and he would not do anything detrimental to the interest of the company. This is the purport of the letter. The evidence of Shri Guha, Accountant

Secretary before whom this writing was given should be looked into in this connection. Ext. L was written by Shri B. K. Sen of the office of Shri Guha. Shri Guha states that Madan came to him (it is more probable that Madan was called for the purpose) one day and he asked Madan as to why he sent a copy of appliation to Chief Inspector. Madan regretted the action and added that this was done at the instigation of the Union. Madan was asked to sign the written memo. Ext. L and he signed it. It is true that Madan was not examined in this case but the note itself will speak out very loudly the fact that the management was outraged by the application of leave with wages and the management took exception to the same and under pressure of the management Madan withdrew his application for leave. This shows at least the attitude of the management towards the application for leave. It is a hostile attitude. Thereafter Madan wrote a letter Ext. N (7) on 23rd July 1963 which gives out the whole story. He discloses the fact that he was injured on 12th July 1963 in the course of employment and that he went to the factory on 13th July 1963 asking for medical help. He suffered injury in the left foot. 14th was a Sunday. He reported to the factory on 15th and 16th July 1963. On 16th July he was called from his residence. On 17th July he saw the Accountant Secretary. On that day the letter Ext. A, dated 11th July 1963, was made over to him. He signed the document on that day before Accountant Secretary and he was told that he was granted 10 days' leave. He did not know the contents of the letter. On 22nd July 1963 he was called at the factory for drawing his wages. All the facts were stated in his letter. On receipt of this letter the Accountant Secretary addressed a letter Ext. K to Madan on 25th July 1963 charging Madan that he was absenting without information or sanctioned leave with effect from 15th July 1963. He was asked to show cause. In reply to the above letter Madan denied the charge of absence from 15th July 1963 and reiterated the stand which he took in his letter, dated 23rd July 1963, already referred to. He further added that he went to report for with a fit certificate on 30th July 1963 at the Behala Factory. That letter is Ext. N6, dated 31st July 1963. I have already referred to all the correspondence to show how the company moved in the matter. With regard to the charge mentioned in clause(c) I have already discussed the evidence which shows that the company did not disclose the fact of damage to property in the note issued to the workmen on the occurrence, namely, 11th July 1963. The story of damage was introduced for the first time in the charge-sheet on 13 i.e. long after the incident. This very circumstances show that the story of damage is false. It was invented the purpose of penalising the workman. With regard to the other two charges it in respect of absence without leave from 15th July 1963 and giving out a false story of injury. The management has produced the accident register to show that there was no report of the injury sustained by the workman on 12th July 1963 as alleged by the workman. The accident register is maintained by the management and unless there is a case of serious accident the management may not care to enter the same in it. If a labourer sustained an injury in the foot it may not find place in the accident register. It is significant to note that it was the workman who intimated all about the injury in the letter Ext. N (7), dated 23rd July 1963. If the workman was absent from 15th July 1963 without leave the company would have taken steps against him earlier, and would not have waited for receipt of the letter from the workman. The workman alleged about an injury in his foot and further explained his absence owing to the said injury. If the company considered that it was not an employment injury but it was an injury suffered in any other manner, it was open to the company not to grant him leave under the Factories Act but the workman would have been entitled to some other leave. The workman admits his absence but has taken the plea of injury. This is a quite plausible plea. I cannot say that the story of injury is a false one. From the conduct of the management and circumstances to which I have referred, the company was out to victimise the workman and I have already given my comments with regards to the most important charge, i.e. charge of causing of damage to certain machinery of the company. If that charge is false, then the major charge against the workman fails and the cumulative punishment of dismissal which follows from the three should also be held to be without any substantial foundation. The absence of the workman is not without leave or intimation. The workman was called to the head office on 17th July 1963 and an undertaking was taken from him in Ext. L which I have thoroughly analised. He intimated the fact of absence by his letter, dated 23rd of July 1963. His absence cannot therefore be without intimation, as alleged in the charge-sheet. The management resorted to framing charges against the workmen, being outraged by the application for annual leave with wages. In the circumstances I have elaborately discussed, it is a case of victimisation and unfair labour practice. The action of the management is not at all bona fide and charges were framed with the calculated design of dismissing the workman. I hold accordingly that dismissal of Shri Madan Halder is not justified. He is entitled to reinstatement and back wages. He is also entitled to the benefit of increase in wages which have been earned by his fellow workers in the same department doing the same type of work.

In conclusion, my award is that the dismissal of the three workmen, viz., Sarbasri Manik Karar, Kamal Patra and Madan Halder is not justified and they are entitled to reinstatement with back wages with the benefit of increased wages which is enjoyed by their fellow-men in the same department. This award is to be implemented within 30 days of its publication in the "Calcutta Gazette".

BEFORE THE SEVENTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present :

Shri S. K. RAY, Judge, Seventh Industrial Tribunal.

AWARD

This proceeding arises out of an application under section 33A, Industrial Disputes Act made by Shri Hukum Chand Agarwal, a workman of the Company O.P., Messrs. Shree Hanuman Industries, complaining of his alleged illegal and wrongful discharge from service in contravention of the relevant provisions of section 33, Industrial Disputes Act, during the pendency of the adjudication proceedings of another dispute between the Company and its workmen, referred to this Tribunal by Government order No. 3537-IR, dated 6th August 1962.

After service of notice of the application upon the Company O.P., it appeared and filed its written statement after necessary preliminary proceedings and some adjournments taken by the parties, the case was finally fixed for hearing on 30th August 1965. On that date, neither party appeared and no step was taken. The Tribunal suo motu adjourned the case to 6th September 1965 in order to give the parties another opportunity to appear and participate in the hearing. But, on 6th September 1965 also, there was no appearance by either party and no step was taken. The absence of both parties on two successive dates of hearing clearly indicates that neither party is keen on and interested in adjudication of the dispute covered by the application under section 33A and they have given up the dispute. Accordingly, the case is to be disposed of by a 'no dispute' award on the basis that the dispute has ceased to exist.

In the result, I make a 'no dispute' award in the case.

This is an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act. The workman Parashnat complained that he was victimised by dismissal violation of the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act on 21st May 1963. The petition was objected to by the company. On 26 August 1965 both parties filed a joint petition signe by Shri Singh, Factory Manager on behalf of the company and on behalf of the workman by h representative Shri A. Sen. In the joint petition was stated that the workman would report for du and there would be a no dispute award. The peri of absence of the workman would be treated without wages without affecting his continuity service. A 'no dispute' award is accordingly mad

AWARD

The above dispute over the issue specified in the order of reference and re-produced below was referred for adjudication to this Tribunal by Government of West Bengal, Labour Department order No. 7089-I.R./IR/8L-11/62, dated the 19th December 1962.

Issue

Are the employees entitled to any profit and/or customary bonus for the years ending 31st March 1961 and 31st March 1962? If so, at what rate and on what basis?

After service of notices upon the parties, they appeared before the Tribunal and filed their respective written statements in due course. After necessary preliminary proceedings and some adjournments taken by the parties, including some adjournments for effecting an amicable settlement of the dispute, the case was finally fixed for hearing on 4th September 1965. On that date, the parties' representatives, Shri N. Roy, Advocate for the concerned Union, and Shri P. K. Sanyal, Advocate, with Shri T. P. Chatterjee, Advocate for the Company, appeared before the Tribunal and intimated that after difficult and protracted negotiations, the parties had ultimately succeeded in reaching a compromise in respect of the dispute under reference and they filed a joint petition setting out the terms upon which the dispute covered by the issue under reference had been amicably settled.

I have considered the terms of compromise. These appear to be quite fair and lawful. It is to be noted that the issue relates to profit and/or customary bonus for the years ending 31st March 1961 and 31st March 1962. The bonus for the year 1962 comes under the purview of the recent bonus ordinance. I find from the terms of settlement that the dispute relating to bonus for this year has been settled by providing for a production bonus in lieu of profit bonus and this settlement is in no way repugnant to the provisions of the new ordinance and so, it may be accepted and acted upon. The bonus for the year 1961 does not fall within the purview of the bonus ordinance and the parties are free to make any amicably settlement in respect of this dispute. The terms of settlement in respect of this dispute as embodied in the joint petition appears to me to be quite fair and reasonable. I am satisfied that there has been a bona fide settlement of the entire dispute between the parties upon the terms set out in the joint petition. According, I would make a compromise award in terms of the joint petition, as prayed for.

In the result, I make a compromise award in terms of the joint petition filed by the parties on 4th September 1965, a copy whereof is made a part of the award as an Annexure.

Issue

Whether the termination of service of Shri Rabindranath Sur is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

This is a reference under section 10 of the dustrial Disputes Act, 1947, made by the bour Department of the Government of West ngal, for adjudication of an industrial dispute isting between Messrs. Jardine Henderson mited, 4 Clive Row, Calcutta (hereinafter be erred to as the company) and their workmen resented by Jardine Henderson, Triton & Atlas ployees' Association, 23A Netaji Subhas ad, Top Floor, Calcutta (hereinafter be referred as the Association).

Immediately after receipt of the reference tices were issued to both the parties who peared and filed their written statements. After mpletion of the intermediate steps by the parties, e case was ready for hearing. When the case s taken up for hearing the parties negotiated amicable settlement. They partially succeed-and left certain minor points of difference to e discretion of the tribunal.

The short case of the union is that Shri bindranath Sur was employed by the company a typist by a letter of appointment, dated 3rd rch 1953. He was confirmed in that job after the iod of probation of six months was over and he s doing his work satisfactorily till he had an ack of T.B. in May 1959. On that ground he s unable to attend to his duties and was granted the company leave with pay for a little over o years. Thereafter his service was suddenly minated by the company with effect from 31st tober 1961. The said workman was subse-ently on 22nd January 1962 declared fit by the M.O., Mayor's Chest Clinic, but the company refused to reconsider the order of termination of his service in the light of the subsequent medical report. Hence the dispute was raised.

The company in its written statement has admitted the service of the concerned workman Rabindranath Sur as a typist till the date of termination of his service for reasons stated in the letter of termination, dated 25th October 1961. The company's contention is that the said workman was granted leave with pay for two years four months as he was suffering from T.B. He was not declared medically fit even after long leave of more than 2 years. So, his service had to be terminated. There was no other motive for terminating his services. Union's allegations have been denied by the company.

Decision

As I have observed, parties were anxious to settle the dispute amicably. They discussed the matter threadbare but they could not successfully settled the dispute completely. They agreed on the whole that the concerned workman Shri Sur be given fresh employment as soon as suitable vacancy occurs. But the union could not agree as to the unlimited and uncertain time when such a vacancy would occur. Therefore, both parties agreed to leave the matter to be decided by the tribunal as to the time limit for giving employment to the concerned workman. The company terminated the service of the workman after granting him leave with full pay for two years 4 months as he was till then found medically unfit to resume his duties. Subsequently, however, after a few months he has been found in a fit state of health. Therefore, the company has agreed to give him fresh employment. After careful consideration I came to the conclusion that about 3 months time will be the reasonable period within which the company should offer him a suitable employment carrying the same wages and D.A. that the workman was drawing at the time of termination of his service. To be precise, I say that the company should offer him a suitable employment with total remuneration not less than what he was actually getting at the time of termination of his service by the company before the Christmas Day of this year (1965).

Another point was raised by the union but the learned representative of the company could not agree to that without consultation with the management. So, both parties agreed to be bound by the decision of the tribunal on this point as well. The union pressed for consideration of the past service period of the workmen in the matter of calculating his gratuity, or any other benefit to which any other employee of the company of that particular category is ordinarily entitled. Admittedly the workman rendered satisfactory services to the company since his appointment by letter, dated 3rd March 1953 (Annexure A to the union's written statement). He was confirmed by the company after the period of probation was over. His service was terminated by the company with effect from 31st October 1961. (Vide Annexure E to the union's written statement). This is not disputed. Prior to the termination of his service he was granted leave with full pay for a period of about 2 years and 4 months i.e. from 20th May 1959 up to the date of termination of his service. So, the workman actually rendered useful service to the company for nearly six years. There is nothing to show that he was guilty of any misconduct during the said period. Therefore, in consideration of his good service to the company for such a long period of nearly six years, I direct the said period of his service be counted for the purpose of calculating compensation, if any, gratuity or any other financial benefits to which an employee of his category is entitled in accordance with the service rules or standing orders of the company.

This is my award.

In the matter of a complaint under section Industrial Disputes Act, by Shri Manm Nath Ghosh, an employee of Santipur Mu pality, care of Shri Bala[illegible]jee, LL General Secretary, West Bengal Muni Employees' Federation, 213KL T Quarters, Asansol, against the Commissio of Santipur Municipality, district Na (Case No. 12 of 1964, under section 33A)

For the Complaint : Shri Bajai Chatterjee, L

For the Municipality : Shri S. Roy, Advocate

Award

This proceeding arises out of an applica under section 33A, Industrial Disputes Act, by Shri Manmatha Nath Ghosh, an employee Santipur Municipality, complaining that Municipality illegally, unjust[illegible] and vindictiv took the decision of dismissing him from ser at a meeting of the Commissioners, dated March 1963 and communicated the said decisio him through the Vice-Chairman by a letter, d 1st April 1963, and thereafter he made sev approaches for reinstatement in service without effect and this action on the part of the Mu pality was unjust, unfair and vindictive, and also a clear violation of the principles of nat justice. It is also faintly complained that Municipality illegally, unjustly and vindictiv altered his conditions of service by transferr him from the post of Law Clerk to that of Con vancy Sub-overseer by an order, dated December 1962. The aforesaid specific compla are set forth in paragraphs 14 to 16 of the appl tion. The previous paragraphs of the applicat contain statements of some background fa which are mostly undisputed. The pres application has been made because the decision his dismissal from service was taken and alleged alteration in the conditions of service w effected during the pendency of the adjudicat proceedings of another dispute between t Municipality and its workmen, referred to t Tribunal by G.O. No. 3623-IR. dated 19th J 1960.

The Municipality has filed a long written sta ment in reply to the almost equally long appli tion of the applicant. The most precise and re vant contention of the Municipality is that at t meeting of the Commissioners held on 23rd Mar 1963, there was no decision for dismissal of t applicant, but by the resolution, it was decid that he should be asked to show cause why should not be dismissed from service and as th was no actual dismissal of the applicant, th application under section 33A against his alleg dismissal is not maintainable. With regard t the other complaint about alteration in the conditions of service, the specific contention of the Municipality is that there was no change in the conditions of his service by his transfer from the post of Law Clerk to that of Conservancy Sub-overseer.

After having broadly outlined the relevant specific complaints and the relevant specific replies to the complaints, I proceed at once to discuss the relevant facts and circumstances of the case for the purpose of decision of the two precise complaints and in course of these discussions, all the material and relevant facts will be recorded.

It is an undisputed position that by an order of the Vice-Chairman, dated 31st December 1962 (Ext. A), he was transferred from the post of Law Clerk to that of Conservancy Sub-overseer with effect from 3rd January 1963. It is also undisputed that he joined as C.S.O. on 3rd January 1963 without raising any objection about alteration in the conditions of his service. There is absolutely no evidence before me to prove that there was any prejudice change in his emoluments by his transfer from the post of Law Clerk to that of S.C.O. or that such a transfer was unwarranted, irregular, unfair or vindictive. In view of this position, I have no hesitation to reject at once his complaint that the service conditions of the applicant were altered by his transfer from the post of Law Clerk to that of Conservancy Sub-overseer.

It is further to be noted that after having joined as C.S.O. on 3rd January 1963, he submitted an application for leave on 4th January 1963 on medical certificate but without any medical certificate (Ext. O) and the Municipality, by its letter of the same date, informed him that no leave could be granted till alternative arrangements were made (vide Ext. 1). After this, the applicant made another application for leave with a medical certificate, dated 5th January 1963 (Ext. B). This application was considered at a meeting of the Commissioners of the same date and the decision was that he must join his duties as C.S.O. by 11th January 1963 (Ext. N). It appears that he ceased to work after making the first aplication for leave on 4th January 1963. On 9th January 1963 the applicant made another application for leave with a medical certificate from some private medical practitioner (vide Exts. 2 and 2(a), but the Municipality did not accept the medical certificate as sufficient and asked him to produce a medical certificate from the District Medical Officer or Chief Medical Officer of Health, Nadia, by a letter, dated 12th January 1963 (Ext. N). No certificate from any of the aforesaid Medical Officers was produced by the workmen, but he continued to be absent from duty. Finally, he reported back for duty on 4th February 1963. The fact of his rejoining his duties on 4th February 1963 must be taken to mean that he did not consider it proper to flout the Municipality's directions any longer and accepted the Municipality's directions to rejoin his duties. On 6th February 1963, the Conservancy Overseer, his immediate superior officer, made a report against him stating that though he rejoined his duties formally on 4th February 1963, he did not actually do any work (vide Ext. L). Inspite of the clear report, the Municipality did not take any drastic disciplinary action, but by a resolution of the Commissioners, dated 6th February 1963, he was asked to join his work immediately and was informed that if he defaulted in joining his work, disciplinary action would be taken (vide Ext. K). After this, on 7th February 1963, he again applied for leave on medical grounds without medical certificate (Ext. 1), but he was immediately told by a letter of the same date that his leave application had been ordered to be placed before a meeting of the Commisioners and he should join his duties immediately, failing which action would be taken against him (vide Ext. 3). He did not, however, join his duties. By a letter, dated 12th February 1963, he was again asked to join immediately (Ext. H). He did not, however, join his duties and next he made another application for leave, dated 4th March 1963, from Durgapur with a medical certificate (Ext. 4), but this application was rejected and he was asked by the Vice-Chairman to join immediately. As before, he did not join his duties. After all this, the Commissioners at a meeting held on 23rd March 1963, passed a resolution for asking the applicant to show cause why he should not be dismissed from service for repeatedly disobeying the orders of the Commissioners and the executive officers and causing dislocation in municipal work (Ext. J). This direction was communicated to him by letter of the Vice-Chairman, dated 1st April 1963 (Ext. 6). On receipt of this letter the applicant wrote a letter to the Vice-Chairman, dated 4th April 1963 (Ext. E), intimating his willingness to rejoin his duties, but the Municipality, by its letter, dated 16th April 1963 (Ext. D), informed him that in view of his previous conduct, he might be allowed to join his duties if he produced a medical certificate of fitness. This action of the Municipality has been strongly condemned as unjust, unfair and vindictive by the representative of the workmen before me. After having regard to all the aforesaid background facts and circumstances, I cannot say that the Municipality acted without reasonable justification and bona fide in asking for a medical certificate of fitness when he wanted to rejoin his duties after having absented himself from duty for a pretty long time without any sactioned leave on grounds of illness. After this, the applicant's case is that he actually came to join his duties on 10th May 1963 with a letter and a medical certificate of fitness [(Exts. 7 and 7(a)], but he was not allowed to rejoin his duties. His evidence is that he approached the Head Clerk, Shri Amal Biswas, with the letter and the medical certificate, but Shri Biswas did not allow him to join. The Municipality has totally denied that he came to join his duties on 10th May 1963 but was not allowed to join. Shri Amal Biswas has given evidence on behalf of the Municipality (O. P. W. 1) and has stated that on 10th May 1963, he was not Head Clerk of Santipur Municipality and in fact he was not an employee of that Municipality and he joined that Municipality as Head Clerk for the first time on 4th December 1963. In support of this, he has produced his Municipal Service Book (Ext. P), which shows that he for the first time joined the service of this Municipality as Head Clerk on 4th December 1963. I see no reason to disbelieve his statement and as between the conflicting statements of the applicant (P.W. 1) and this witness on this point, I prefer to believe the evidence of this witness. I hold, therefore, that it is not true that he actually came to join on 10th May 1963 but was not allowed to join. No doubt, he wrote a letter, dated 3rd June 1963 (Ext. 8), to the Chairman stating that he had filed an application for permission to rejoin his duties on 10th May 1963 but had not received any reply to that application. But, this cannot necessarily prove that he actually came to join on 10th May 1963. The fact remains, therefore, that after having reported back for duty on 4th February 1963, he actually did not do any work and his immediate superior officer, the Conservancy Overseer, having made such a report against him, he was asked to join his work immediately and then he made an application for leave on 7th February 1963 but was again asked to join immediately but he renewed his application for leave and he did not actually rejoin his duties and under these circumstances, the resolution of the Commissioners, dated 23rd March 1963, for asking him to show cause why he should not be dismissed was passed and this was communicated to him by the Vice-Chairman's letter, dated 1st April 1963, and the matter stands there but there has been no actual and final dismissal of the workman from service. The resolution of the Municipal Commissioners, dated 23rd March 1963, may quite reasonably and legally be constructed as a direction for issuing a charge-sheet against him proposing the punishment of dismissal for his previous disobedience of the orders of the Commissioners and the executives in the matter of his leave applications and it cannot certainly be construed as a final and effective order of dismissal. The correct legal position is that there is no legal and effective order of dismissal against him, though there is a direction for issue of charge-sheet section 33A, Industrial Disputes Act, unless there section 33A Industrial Disputes Act unless there has been actual and effective dismissal. That element is absolutely wanting in the present case. I have already indicate, above that it has not been proved that he really came to rejoin his duties on 10th May 1963 but was not allowed to rejoin his duties. So, he cannot also contend that the Municipality's refusal to permit him to rejoin his duties on 10th May 1963 amounted to his dismissal or removal from service for some misconduct without any enquiry according to the principles of natural justice. It necessarily follows that whatever other remedies may be open to him upon the facts found above, he is not entitled to maintain the present complaint under section 33A, Industrial Disputes Act, which can apply only when there is a dismissal for misconduct in contravention of a relevant provision of section 33. Here, the relevant provision of section 33 must be section 33(2)(b). But, as I have found that he was not actually and effectively dismissed by the Commissioners' resolution, dated 23rd March 1963, there can be no question of his dismissal in contravention of the provisions of section 33(2)(b), Industrial Disputes Act.

I have already disposed of the other complain regarding alteration in the conditions of hi service by transferring him from the post of Law Clerk to that of Conservancy Sub-overseer and have rejected that complaint.

It was lastly contended before me by the representative of the applicant that he has not receive any wages for the period during which he was making applications for leave. That is a matter which cannot be considered within the scope of the present application under section 33A, Industrial Disputes Act, and in fact, no such specific complaint is to be found in his application. His prayer in the application is for an award directing the Municipality to reinstate him in service as Law Clerk with retrospective effect paying full back wages for the relevant period as on earned leave. So, the claim for wages is nothing but ancillary to the prayer for reinstatement. Since there can be no question of reinstatement because it has been held that he has not yet been finally and effectively dismissed, no question of payment of back wages can arise. As this application does not fall strictly within the scope of section 33A, it cannot lie simply for recovery of arrear wages, if any.

On all the above decisions, this complaint under section 33A must fail. Accordingly, I dismiss the application on contest.

This is my award.

ie Government of West Bengal by its Labour rtment order No. 1661-I.R./IR/10L-31(A)/ lated the 10th May 1962, referred this dispute een Messrs. Krishnalal Thirani and Co. Ltd., einafter described as the Company), 125 B.T. l, Calcutta-25 and their workmen represented he Krishnalal Thirani and Co. Employees' n (hereinafter referred to as the Union), Rani Rashmani Road, Calcutta, to this Tri- l under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes for adjudication of the following issue: of the attached list referred to in the issue een marked Annexure 'A' to this award.

Whether refusal of employment to the workmen mentioned in the list attached is justified? To what relief, if any, are they entitled?

the written statement the case of the union, ort, is that the union has been all along fight- with the company for the legitimate claims of workmen but the company has been always g mala fide and doing great injustice. On August 1961, the company collected about nen from outside and kept them inside the ry. These men attacked the workmen and g the assault by these outsiders one of the men died on the spot and many of the work- received serious injuries. On the complaint e Manager of the factory the police arrested orkers. These workers after being released the custody of police and after the lifting of estrictions came to join their duties but they told that they had been served with charge- . Some of the workers were refused employ- after the incident of 2nd August 1961. The te case of the union at page 7 of the written ment is that the refusal of employment was on allegations of misconduct and that such l amounted to dismissal. It has been alleg- the union that the dismissal was affected ut charge-sheet, enquiry and without offering pportunity of defence and explanation to the ien. It has been clearly stated in the written statement that the dismissal was arbitrary and in violation of principles of natural justice. The prayer of the union is that the workers mentioned in the order of reference may be reinstated in service with all back wages.

The company has also filed written statement and stated its case. It has been alleged that the order of reference is illegal, that the union has no locus standi to represent the workmen of the company, that the present dispute is not an industrial dispute, that the Tribunal has no jurisdiction to decide the dispute in question, that the story of alleged refusal of employment is not correct and that on the pleadings of the union no case has been made out. Besides these preliminary points, the company has mentioned some facts. It has been alleged that at the instigation of the Secretary of the Union the workers of the company and some outsiders started a riot on 2nd August 1961, inside the factory. During that riot the Head Durwan of the company and a new would be recruit were killed and the General Manager received serious injury and some other members of the Watch & Ward staff received injuries of various description. A criminal case was started and some workers were convicted. About 70 or 75 workers of the factory were involved in the riot. Police arrested about 50 workers and some 10 others of the workers absconded. On 3rd August 1961, the company prepared charge-sheets against the workers who participated in the riot but in spite of various attempts made by the company on different dates, the charge-sheets could not be served upon 58 persons. The charge-sheeted persons refused charge-sheets. The union also refused to accept the charge-sheets on behalf of the workmen. When it was clear that the charge-sheeted persons would not accept the charge-sheets, the company arranged for holding enquiries and the charge-sheeted workers were asked to attend the enquiry through letters. The workmen, however, did not take part in the enquiries in spite of notice. The enquiries were made ex-parte. The conciliation officer suggested to the company for sending the charge-sheets to the delinquents through him and the company complied with that direction. But in the meantime the Government made the reference. The officers who conducted the ex-parte enquiries left the company without handing over the relevant papers of enquiries. The submission of the company is that the Tribunal will be satisfied on merit that the delinquents are liable to be dismissed. The 57 persons who were involved in the riot were the persons mentioned in Sl. Nos. 1 to 6, 8 to 12, 24 to 69 of the order of reference. Of these 57 persons again those named in Sl. Nos. 2, 5, 6, 10 and 11 had been charge-sheeted for some other misconduct before 2nd August 1961 and their enquiries were pending. However, all these persons did not attend the enquiries deliberately. Shri Vidyanand Dubey in Sl. No. 34 submitted his resignation in the meantime and took his final payment on 4th December 1962. With regard to Ram Raj Kurmi (Sl. No. 15), and Jakhu Ram Chohan (Sl. No. 16), it has been alleged by the company that they were charge-sheeted for their adoption of deliberate slow-down tactices and also for assaulting Shri Phudan Jha, a worker under the contractor and some other misdeeds. They submitted their explanation denying the charges. They were asked to attend their enquiries but they refused to attend. The company could not hold enquiry and dispose of the matter finally. Regarding Narendra Nath Kar (Sl. No. 7), it has been alleged that he submitted one leave application on the ground of his illness. The company informed him that leave for indefinite period could not be granted and Shri Kar was instructed to make a specific application. The company received no reply from Shri Kar. The company asked him to join his duties by 31st August 1961. No reply was received from Shri Kar again and another letter was written to him. The company wrote another letter asking him to join his duties by 18th September 1961, and the letter was received by Shri Kar. Shri Kar submitted another leave application making some false allegations. The company again asked him to resume his duties by 25th September 1961. Shri Kar again submitted another leave application on 24th September 1961. The company asked Shri Kar to make a specific application for leave but no reply was sent to the company. In these circumstances, the company removed his name from the Muster Roll on the ground that Shri Kar has abandoned the service of the company.

Regarding Ram Dewar Jadav (Sl. No. 13), it has been alleged by the company that he went on leave which was to expire on 23rd August 1961. He again applied for extension of leave up to 23rd September 1961. The company allowed the extension of leave. After the expiry of leave again Shri Jadav did not join his duties. The company waited about a fortnight and then drew the attention of Shri Jadav to the provisions of clause B(4)(A) of part C of the Certified Standing Orders of the company and his name was removed from the muster roll.

The name of Amindhar Jha (Sl. No. 14), does not appear in the muster roll of the company. There is no such employee. There was one employee whose name was Homindra. He worked up to 3rd June 1960. Thereafter he remained absent without leave. The company waited for him for the month of June 1960, and wrote a letter to him asking him to join his duties but still he did not come to attend the factory. In the circumstances, the company treated him as one who had left the service of the company.

Bhagwan Singh named in Sl. No. 17 was charge-sheeted for misconduct. Allegations were denied by him. He was directed to attend an enquiry. The enquiry was held and he was found guilty. The company decided to dismiss him. Ultimately, however, Shri Singh voluntarily resigned from his service. He has already withdrawn all his dues from the company.

Sl. No. 18 contains the name of Fagu Chohan. He was appointed on 6th March 1961. Thereafter there was a strike. From 22nd May 1961 to 10th July 1961, he remained absent during the strike period. From 12th July 1961, he ag started working. On 2nd August 1961, the took place. He was neither charge-sheeted suspended. On 7th August 1961, he expressed desire to leave the company by taking his payment. His desire was accepted by the c pany and he has been paid off. Shri Cho voluntarily left the service.

Birbal Mukherjee has been mentioned in No. 19. He started remaining absent from d from 20th July 1961, without intimation to company or obtaining leave. The company wa up to 31st July 1961, and as the company got information from Shri Mukherjee, his name removed from the Attendance Register treat him as deserter.

The name of Ram Krishna Jadav appears in No. 20. He was a temporary worker and he wo ed from time to time according to the requirem of the company. In the month of April 1961, company suffered due to the power shortage he was then found surplus. The company did require him and terminated his service along w other temporary workmen.

With regard to Nemai Chandra Das of Sl. 21, the company has stated that he was a cas worker from 1st June 1960 to 30th November 19 He was paid off on 12th October 1960, accord to the terms of engagement as his work was c pleted earlier.

Madan Singh (Sl. No. 22), is still working the factory and he has not been refused empl ment.

Ram Fer Jadav of Sl. No. 23 was involved an earlier case and his termination of service upheld by the Tribunal, and the award was p lished in the "Calcutta Gazette" on 16th Aug 1962.

At the time of opening of the case before recording of the evidence Shri Moitra on behalf the Company contended that in view of the pl ings of the union and the real facts of this the issue as framed by the Government in the or of reference was not maintainable. The subm sion of Shri Moitra was that, in fact, no dismi letter had been issued to any of the charge-shee persons mentioned in the order of reference. issue, as I find, relates to refusal of employment some persons. Shri Pandey on behalf of the union mitted that, in fact, the company had not iss any order of dismissal. Shri Pandey admitted t the present case was not a case of dismissal of workman or the termination of service. Shri P dey's contention as advanced by him is that delinquents were charge-sheeted as alleged by company and their suspension pending enquiry mala fide and improper. The argument of S Pendey is that this suspension pending enqu amounts to refusal of employment to the pers mentioned in the order of reference. Shri Moitr submission, on the other hand, is that all the p sons mentioned in the order of reference were charge-sheeted or dismissed as allaged by union. Some of them were, however, char sheeted and suspended pending enquiry accordi to the Standing Orders of the company. It has been argued that he order of suspension cannot be called refusal of employment. Ordinarily and popularly to "employ" a person in any firm or company means "to take him in service" of the firm or the company. Shri Pandey accepted this contention and, therefore, his argument before me is that refusal of employment in this particular case will mean suspensioin of the workmen by not giving him any work or allowing him to work. In particular cases, however, to "employ" means "to engage" or "to give work to". When the question of employment of any particular person arises with reference to any business it means taking one into the service of the business. The issue in the order of reference before me runs as follows :

From the plain reading of the language it is quite clear to me that he plain meaning is that this Tribunal has been asked to ascertain whether the refusal of service to the workmen in question is justified ? Had there been any question of suspension before the government, the issue would have been whether the suspension of the workmen by the company was justiified. This conclusion is further justified from the pleadings of the union. I have carefully gone through the written statement filed by the union and I am convinced that he case of the union in the written statement was hat the company refused to keep the workmen in ts service on the allegations of misconduct and hat this refusal of keeping workmen in employment or service amounted to dismissal. The clear ase of the union will appear at page 7 of its written statement. It has been stated that the dismissal of the workmen was effected without chargesheet and enquiry in violation of prnciples of natural justice. At the time of opening of the case, however, when Shri Pandey stated that he would only challenge the suspension of the workmen by he company on the ground that it amounted to refusal. On his prayer I allowed him to lead evilence to challenge the character of suspension. It vas agreed by the parties, however, that at the inal argument I would bear as his perils whether uspension amounted to refusal of employment and vhether the present reference is competent. On earing the parties on the point, I find that the present reference does not relate to the case of terination of service or dismissal or complete refual of employment. As indicated above, on the lain reading of the pleadings of the union due to he admitted fact that the charge-sheeted persons ad not been dismissed as yet, I am to hold that on he general issue framed by the government and n the ordinary meaning of the language used in he issue, the present reference is incompetent.

The next question arises whether I should accept he contetion of Shri Pandey that I shall give any articular meaning to the word 'refusal of the mployment' in this particular case, that is to say, vhether I should consider it the suspension of he harge-sheeted persons was justified. The word "suspend" means "deprive of office for a time" or "to debar from any privilege, office, emoluments etc. for a time". I have already indicated that in some cases the word "employ" means "to give work to". In case of suspension pending enquiry, the company admittedly did not allow the charge-sheeted persons to work or, rather, the company did not give any work to the charge-sheeted persons temporarily and, naturally, these persons were not engaged or employed in their ordinary duties during the period of suspension. In view of this wider meaning of the word "employment", I think I shall not be unjustified to enquire into the question as to whether the company refused total employment to the workmen in any manner in their service or whether it refused without any justification to give work to the workmen pending enquiry or otherwise. According to the widest meaning of the term "refusal of employment" suspension from work will be included in it. In pursuance of this view of the matter, I shall now proceed to consider the issue mentioned in the order of reference.

In the present case the union has examined 23 witnesses on its side while the company has examined three. Several documents have been exhibited on both the sides.

The first contention raised from the side of the company is that 10 persons out of 69 mentioned in the order of reference have already voluntarily resigned and left the service of the company. These persons have been mentioned in Sl. Nos. 7, 8, 12, 17, 32, 34, 37, 41, 46 and 67.

Narendra Nath Kar is in Sl. No. 7. Ext. AA/22 is the letter, dated 15th October 1963, written to this Tribunal by Shri Kar stating that he has resigned from the service of the company and settled his dispute with the company amicably out of the Court. A copy of the letter written to the company is enclosed with this letter and the said copy is marked Ext. AA/23. In this letter he has admitted his guilt and prayed for acceptances of his resignation. It has also been stated that he wants to withdraw the authority, if any, given to the union to represent his case before the Tribunal. The resignation of Shri Kar is to take effect from 2nd August 1961. Shri Kar has not been examined by the union to contradict his own statement made in this letter. Ext. AA/20 is the receipt granted by Shri Kar in full satisfaction of all his dues.

In Sl. No. 8 the name of Ganesh Dey appears. Ext. AA/18 is the letter written to this Tribunal stating that he has resigned from the service of the company and settled his dispute amicably. Ext. AA/17 is the receipt showing his final settlement with the company regarding his dues. Shri Dey has neither been examined in this case in support of the union.

Sangram Jadev appears in Sl. No. 12. Ext. AA/9 and Ext. AA/10 are two letters written by him. They show that Shri Jadev has already resigned. Ext. AA/8, a receipt, shows that Shri Jadev has received all his dues in full and final settlement. Shri Jadav has neither been examined by the union.

Bhagaban Singh appears in Sl. No. 17. The letters, Ext. X/2 and Ext. X/3 will show that Shri Singh has resigned from the service of the company voluntarily. The letters are dated 11th January 1962. Shri Singh has not been examined before me from the side of the union.

Rashanand is numbered 32 in the list of the workmen. Ext. AA/34 is the letter written by Rashanand to this Tribunal on 28th December 1964 stating that he has already resigned from the service of the company and settled his dispute with it amicably. Along with this latter he has submitted a copy of his letter written to the company stating that he knew the contents of the charge-sheet, dated 3rd August 1961, and that under the instructions of the Secretary of the Union he did not take any step in the matter. Rashanand has admitted in that letter that he is very sorry for the misdeed done by him in the morning of 2nd August 1961 as a result of which the Head Durwan of the factory and another new worker died. He has also admitted the allegations made in the charge-sheet. He wants to be excused and at the same time he tenders his resignation. This Rashanand has been examined as P. W. 19. During the evidence he has stated that he did not take any part in the assault on 2nd August 1961 and that he did not get any charge-sheet or letter of enquiry. It is curious to note that although Ext. AA/34 was taken in evidence before his examination, Rashanand does not challenge the correctness or genuiness of the said exhibit. The union had sufficient opportunity to get an explanation from Rashanand regarding Ext. AA/34 but no attempt was made for the same. The obvious reason is that Rashanand had no courage to challenge the correctness of the letter. During the evidence he wants to say that no charge-sheet was sent to the jail when he was there. Ext. AC/104 will show that the charge-sheet was sent to the jail while he was there and that it was refused by him. In the letter written to the company attached to the Ext. AA/34 he has admiitted his misconduct and that he knew about the contents of the charge-sheet. However, it would be sufficient to say that the evidence of Rashanand is most unsatisfactory and unreliable. It is clear to me that he has already tendered his resignation but subsequently he has come forward to support the union.

Vidyanand Dubey is 34 of the list of the workmen. Ext. AA/3 is the letter written by Shri Dubey to this Tribunal. In this letter he has stated about his resignation from the service of the company and settlement of his dispute with the company amicably. Ext. AA/4 is the copy of the letter sent to this Tribunal along with Ext. AA/3. In Ext. AA/4 Shri Dubey has tendered his resignation and expressed his regret for the misdeed done by him in the morning of 2nd August 1961. This workman has not been examined by the union in support of his case.

In Sl. No. 37 we get the name of Kailash Jadav. Ext. AA/12 and Ext. AA/13 clearly show that he has already resigned from his service. Ext. AA/12 further shows that he has settled his dispute with the company amicably. In Ext. AA/13 Shri Jadav expressed his regret for his misdeed. Shri Jadav has not been examined by the Union to challenge these exhibits. Ext. AA/11 shows that Shri Jadav has left the service after receiving all his dues in full and final settlement thereof.

The name of Ram Dutt Jadav appears in Sl. No. 41. Ext. AA/25 and Ext. AA/26 show that Shri Jadav has already resigned from the service of the company and that the dispute between him and the company has been amicably settled. Ext. AA/24 is the receipt showing that Shri Jadav has left the service after receiving all his dues from the company. Shri Jadav has not been examined to contradict these receipts and letters.

Baliraj Jadav has been named in Sl. 46. Ext. AA/6 is the letter written by Shri Jadav stating that he has resigned from the service of the company and that the dispute between him and the company has been settled out of the Court. Ext. AA/7 is the copy of the letter written to the company tendering his resignation. Ext. AA/5 is the receipt granted by Shri Jadav showing payment of all his dues by the company in full and final settlement. This workman has not been produced by the union to challenge these exhibits.

Nripat Rabidas is mentioned in Sl. No. 67. Ext. AA/15 and Ext. AA/16 show that he resigned and settled his dispute with the company amicably. Ext. AA/14 is the receipt granted by him showing payment of all his dues by the company in full and final settlement. Shri Rabidas has not come forward from the side of the Union to challenge the letter and receipt showing his resignation and settlement of his dues.

Shri Pandey on behalf of the union has made an attempt to argue that the resignation letters of the workmen mentioned above were obtained by coercion. This argument is futile. I have already stated that except Rashanand none of these workmen have come forward in support of the union to give evidence that the resignations were obtained by force or coercion or that they are not voluntary. Rashanand who is the only witness from amongst the persons who had already resigned does not state before me that the letter of resignation exhibited in this case has been obtained by fraud, coercion or by otherwise malpractice. He does not deny the genuineness of his letter already exhibited in this case. In these circumstances, I cannot hold that the resignations of these ten persons already mentioned by me are not genuine. I am convinced that all these persons tendered their resignation duly accepted by the company and that their disputes have been amicably settled. When once the personal disputes have been amicably settled, the union cannot have any justification to reagitate the matters. This Tribunal should not, in these circumstances, allow the union to espouse a matter already settled. This sort of the action on the part of the union, if encouraged, will bring about dis-harbony, unrest and mal-practice in the industrial atmosphere. In respect of these 10 persons no case has been made out by the union.

shall now consider the case of Amindhar Jha ntioned in Sl. No. 14 of the list of the em- yees attached to the order of reference. The pany wants to say that no person in the name Amindhar Jha was an employee of the com- y. It is, of course, admitted that one person the name of Homindra was a worker of the pany. Apparently, Amindhar is a clerical take for Homindra. The company wants to that Homindra attended his duty up to 3rd e 1960. He thereafter suddenly started re- ining absent without leave from duty in an un- horised manner. The company waited for the ire month of June 1960 but still Homindra did come to attend his duty. The Company reafter treated him as one who had left the ser- e. The company does not admit that he was rge-sheeted for the incident that occurred on August 1961. The union has not examined mindra to support his case. There is no evi- ce from the side of the union that he was re- ed employment. Homindra would have been best person to give evidence regarding him- f. In these circumstances I cannot accept the ry of the union regarding Homindra that he s refused employment by the company. Ext. contains the Standing Orders for the workmen the company. According to Clause (b) 4 of tion (C) at page 5 a workman who absents nself without permission for more than ten cal- ler days, shall be deemed to have left the ser- e of the company of his own accord. Homindra s not given any evidence before this Tribunal ainst the allegations made by the company in written statement. There is no evidence which an accept that Homindra was really refused ployment in any manner. No relief, therefore, be granted to this workman.

Madan Singh has been mentioned in serial . 22. O.P.W. 1, the General Manager of the pany, has stated that Shri Singh has all along en working in this company. Shri Singh has been examined by the union to challenge this tement. No refusal of employment has been ved in respect of this workman.

One Rampher Jadav has been in serial No. 23 P.W. 1 has stated in his evidence that with gard to this person there was a previous refer- ce before the Industrial Tribunal and that his mination of service was up-held by the ibunal. In support of this statement the union s filed the award in respect of the case. That s been marked Ext. 'A'. This award will show t there was a previous reference before this ibunal and in that reference the issue was ether the refusal of employment to several rkmen was justified? In that case one Ram- er Jadav was one of the workmen. The award ows that the issue award shows that the issue garding the refusal of employment by the com- ny in respect of Rampher was decided against e workman and in favour of the company. The mination of his service was found to be good the Tribunal. There has been no challenge garding the identity of Rampher and Rampher dav of the present reference. That Rampher is e same person as mentioned in serial No. 23 of e present reference has not been denied from the side of the union. In these circumstances the case of Rampher Jadav must be decided against him. He can get no relief in this case.

Ram Dewar Jadav is in serial No. 13. Ext. V/4 is a letter of Shri Jadav. Ext. V/5 is its translation. This is dated 18th August 1961. In this letter Shri Jadav wanted an extension of his leave by one month. The company gave a reply which is Ext. V/3. The translation is Ext. V/2. Shri Jadav was granted extension of leave till 23rd September 1961. He did not attend his duty after the expiry of leave. Therefore the company sent a letter to Shri Jadav informing him that his name had been struck off according to the Standing Orders of the Company. The letter is Ext. V, and the translation of the letter is Ext. V/1. It is to be noted that Shri Jadav has not come forward to lay his grievence. Exhibit A/G contains Standing Orders of the company clause (b)(4)(a) of section C says that any workmen who absents himself without permission for more than ten calender days, shall be deemed to have left the service of the Company of his own accord. I find that the company is justified in striking off the name of Shri Jadav. There is no case of refusal of employment to him. There is no evidence that Shri Jadav came to join his service and that he was refused employment.

Ram Raj Kurmi and Jakhu Ram Chohan have been mentioned in serial Nos. 15 and 16 respectively. O.P.W. 1 has stated that these two persons were charge-sheeted before the riot, that they received the charge-sheets, that they submitted explanations and that they received the notice of enquiry. The evidence of the witness is that the date of enquiry for these persons were fixed on 9th August 1961. O.P.W. 1 has stated that no enquiry could be held on account of the riot. We also get from this witness that thereafter fresh notices of enquiry were issued to these two persons. No enquiry could be held as they did not receive the notices. We also get that the company made attempts to serve notices on the charge-sheeted persons. These two persons were, however, suspended along with the charge-sheets. Exhibit P and Ext. P/1 will show that charge-sheets were received by these two persons. Exhibits Q and Q/1 are the replies given by the two workmen denying the allegations. The evidence shows that these two persons deliberately refused to accept the notice of enquiry in spite of the fact that the company made attempts to serve notice on them. In these circumstances, the company cannot be blamed. The management acted with all bona fide to hold the enquiry but on account of the non-co-operation of these two workmen the enquiries could not be held. Admittedly, these two workmen have not yet been dismissed. Their cases are still pending. While the company is eager to hold enquiry, these workmen are not all showing any interest in the matter. If the company had any ill motive they could have easily held ex-parte enquiry and dismissed them. The company is, however, still ready to hold enquiry against them. Shri Kurmi and Shri Chohan have not come forward to challenge the evidence adduced by the company. No case has been proved to show unjustified suspension or any refusal of employment to these persons without justification. These two persons cannot also get any relief in the present case.

In serial No. 18 we get Fagu Chawhan. The evidence does not prove that this person was charge-sheeted or suspended. The case of the company is that he left the service voluntarily. O.P.W. 1 has stated that Shri Chawhan left the company after the incident of 2nd August 1961 and all his dues were paid. Exhibit A/H, an entry in the Wage Register, shows payment of dues to Shri Chawhan. This supports the statement of O.P.W. 1. There has been no case of refusal of employment to Fagu Chawhan.

Shri Birlal Mukherjee is Sl. No. 19. O.P.W.1. has stated that Shri Mukherjee started absenting himself from work without intimation. He never came to the company thereafter. His evidence is that the name of Shri Mukherjee was struck off according to the Standing Orders after waiting for 10 days. This statement finds support from the Attendance Register, Ext. AD. Moreover, Shri Mukherjee has not come forward to challenge the evidence of O.P.W. 1. No case of refusal of employment to Shri Mukherjee has been proved.

With regard to Sl. No. 20, Ram Krishan Jadav, O.P.W. 1 has stated that he was a temporary workman of the company and that his service was terminated as he became surplus in April 1961 on account of electricity power crisis. Exts. AA/27, AA/28 and AA/29, three letters of the Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation Ltd., show that there was shortage of electricity power and that there was difficulty in production. Ext. AA/32, the letter of appointment given to Shri Jadav, shows that this appointment was purely casual. Shri Jadav has not been examined to speak about his grievance. No reason has been assigned by the union for non-examination of this important and necessary witness. There is no evidence either that he was charge-sheeted or that he was suspended. I am not satisfied that he has been refused employment as alleged by the union.

Nemai Ch. Das is Sl. No. 21 of the list of employees. Ext. AA/33 shows that he was a casual workman for five months with effect from 31st May 1960. O.P.W. 1 has stated that Shri Das was a temporary workman for a particular job in 1960 and that after the job had been finished, his service was terminated in 1960. Shri Das has not been examined by the union to contradict the evidence of O.P.W. 1. I find that there has been no refusal of employment to Nemai Chandra Das. There is no evidence that Shri Das was charge-sheeted or suspended.

Besides the particular cases mentioned above, the case of the company is that persons mentioned in Sl. Nos. 1 to 6, 8 to 12, 24 to 69 were charge-sheeted by the company for misconducts committed by them. It has been alleged that these persons were suspended pending enquiries against them. The company wants to say that it tried its best with all bona fides to serve charge-sheets and notices on them in different ways but these persons deliberately in order to harass the company avoided refused the charge-sheets and notices. The company really wanted that t charge-sheeted persons would be given sufficie opportunity for their defence. In spite of t attempts of the company in all directions, t present reference was made and, therefore, t company refrained from proceeding further wi the enquires during the pendency of the prese reference. Shri Pandey on behalf of the un has endeavoured to impress upon me that the w in which the company attempted to serve t notices and the charge-sheets upon the workn was illegal and mala fide and that the intenti of the company was to harass the workmen. T suspension of the workmen by the company w motivated.

The union has examined a large number witnesses. P.W. 1 is Rajpat Jadav Sl. No in the list of employees. He has admitted that received the charge-sheet on 22nd July 1961. also admits that he was suspended. From h evidence we also get that two months before t 2nd of July 1961, he was once charge-sheeted a suspended. His evidence is that he replied to t charge-sheet. This witness has stated that he w not aware about the incident that took place 2nd August 1961. Admittedly that incident important and in connection with that incident large number of employees were arrested. The is no dispute that there was a commotion after t incident. During the cross-examination he h admitted that he was involved in a riot case relating to the incident of 2nd August 1961. H further evidence is that he learnt about this c after a year. I cannot believe this witness wh he says that he had no knowledge about the in dent of 2nd August 1961 or that he came to kno this after a year. His evidence is that he surre dered before the Court. It is very reasonable hold that after the incident this man absconde for a long period and, therefore, it was not pos ble for the company to contact him. Exts. N a N/5 are the copies of the charge-sheets issued Rajpat Jadav. One is dated 22nd February 19 and the other is dated 22nd July 1961. These t charge-sheets relate to some misconducts alleg to have been committed by Shri Jadav before t riot of 2nd August 1961. Ext. AC/45 is a reg tered letter sent to Shri Jadav by the compan This is dated 3rd August 1961. This is a charg sheet in respect of the incident of 2nd Augu 1961. The letter was registered on 11th Decem ber 1961. It was sent to Shri Jadav, C/o, Pr sident of the Union. It has been returned wi the postal endorsement 'left'. In this letter it w stated by the company that Shri Jadav was ab conding and, therefore, this charge-sheet cou not be served upon him. The charge-sheet w being sent to the union because other charg sheeted workmen had been sending letters to t company from the union. I do not believe P.W 1 when he says that he is not aware of any inc dent of 2nd August 1961. I do not also belie his statement that he wanted to ascertain abo the charge-sheet or that he was not allowed to ent into the factory. He is not a straight forwa witness. P.W. 2 is Sreepat Jadav, Sl. No. 5 the list of employees. He says that the compan serve one charge-sheet on him in May 1961 a another on 22nd July 1961. He says that he was suspended on both the occasions. He wants to say that he replied to the second chargesheet. There is no reliable evidence that, in fact, he sent any reply. This witness has stated that he did not get any charge-sheet, dated 3rd August 1961. He has also admitted that he left the premises of the company on 3rd August 1961. P.W. 2 is mentioned in Sl. No. 65. From his evidence it appears that Sreepat Jadav absconded from 3rd August 1961 for a period and, therefore, the charge-sheet, dated 3rd August 1961, could not be served on him. Ext. AC/26 is a registered envelop containing the charge-sheet, dated 3rd August 1961. This cover was addressed to Shri Jadav, C/o. the Union. It was registered on 11th December 1961 and came back to the company with the postal endorsement 'left'. P.W. 3 is Bikarma Prasad of Sl. No. 38. He has stated that he was arrested on 2nd August 1961 in connection with the incident and that when he was released, he came for work. He says that he was not given any work. The evidence is most unconvincing when he says that after his release he came back for work but he was refused work. He does not say when, in fact, he approached the company for work. The evidence is most unsatisfactory. He says that he did not receive any charge-sheet. He has denied the suggestion that he was served with charge-sheet or that he refused it. Admittedly, Shri Prosad was in jail. Ext. AC/62 is a registered envelope sent to Shri Prosad through the Jailer, Barrackpur Sub-Jail. It was registered on 3rd August 1961 and the envelope contains the charge-sheet, dated 3rd August 1961. The envelope came back to the company with the postal endorsement 'refused'. The Sub-Jailer, Barrackpur Sub-Jail, has also made the remark 'refused'. It is clear therefore that the charge-sheet was refused by Shri Prosad and I disbelive him when he says that he did not receive the charge-sheet. P.W. 4, Jagdeo Rai, is Sl. No. 24 in the list of employees. He has stated that on 2nd August 1961, he was arrested by the police after 'maramari'. He remained in jail for two months and after that period he came to the factory, but he was refused entrance. He has denied that he received any charge-sheet. Ext. 7, AC/92, is the registered envelope containing the charge-sheet, dated 3rd August 1961. It bears the postal remark 'refused' duly endorsed by the Jail authority. P.W. 4 has no respect for truth. On the registered cover there is a note that it contains a charge-sheet and it is quite clear that the charge-sheeted person refused to accept it with deliberate intention to avoid any enquiry of proceeding. I disbelieve P. W. 4 when he says that he had been to the factory for work or that he was refused entrance. P. W. 5 is Ram Dayal Shaw mentioned in Sl. No. 57 of the list. He wants to say that he did not get any charge-sheet, dated 3rd August 1961. He has admitted that he was arrested and that he was detained in jail. He has, however, stated that after being released he wanted to do work but work was refused by the Manager. This workman is not a truthful witness as would be evident from Ext. AC/85, the registered cover containing the charge-sheet, dated 3rd August 1961, which shows that it was refused by Shri Shaw while in jail. I have no manner of doubt to hold that he did not come to the factory at all after the incident. I also believe that he was never refused work by the Manager or there was no occasion for Shri Shaw to go to the factory after the incident. P. W. 6 is Sheo Dutt Jadav of Sl. No. 58. This witness was also arrested by the police and detained in jail. He wants to say that he did not receive any charge-sheet, dated 3rd August 1961 and that when he went to the company for work after his release, he was refused work. His evidence is that he was staying in the company's quarters and after his arrest he was in jail custody. Ext. AC/70, the registered envelope containing the charge-sheet, dated 3rd August 1961, shows that he refused the charge-sheet while in jail. P.W. 6 is not a straight forward and reliable witness. P.W. 7 Badri Bari of Sl. No. 60 make a statement like that of P.W. 6. Ext. AC/101 shows that while he was in jail, he deliberately refused the charge-sheet, dated 3rd August 1961, sent to him under registered cover. P.W. 8, Chandra Dwip Prasad of Sl. No. 54, has stated that he was also arrested by police and detained in jail. After his release he came to the factory but he was not given any work. Ext. AC/103, the registered cover, will show that he refused the charge-sheet, dated 3rd August 1961, while he was in Barrackpur Sub-Jail. I do not accept his evidence that he ever came to the factory for work. P.W. 9, Sl. No. 33 in the list, is Canaur Shaw. He was arrested on 2nd March 1961. He has stated that after being released from jail he went to the factory for work. He has further stated that no charge-sheet was issued to him. Ext. AC/78, the registered cover, shows that the company acted with bona fide by sending the charge-sheet under registered cover to Shri Shaw who was then in jail custody. The evidence shows that after the incident the company did not get any other address of this person. I do not accept evidence of Shri Shaw that he went to the factory for work after the incident. P.W. 10, Suraj Tewary, is Sl. No. 29 of the list. He has stated that he was not given any charge-sheet and that after his release from the jail custody, he went to the factory for work. He has stated that the company refused him work. His evidence shows that before the incident he was staying at the Company's quarters but after release from hajat he was staying elsewhere. The company did not know his address. Ext. AC/68 shows that he refused the charge-sheet, dated 3rd August 1961, sent to him by the company while he was in jail. P.W. 11 is Bhola Rabi Das, Sl. No. 66 of the list. On the day of incident, namely, on 2nd August 1961, he was arrested by the police and he remained in hazat for two months. Subsequently, he came to the company for work and, according to him, he was refused work. The witness wants to say that he was not given any charge-sheet. The evidence shows that this witness after being released from jail custody lived elsewhere. It is quite natural that the company did not know the address of the workman. Ext. AC/83 shows that he refused the charge-sheet, dated 3rd August 1961, sent to him under registered cover while he was in jail custody. P.W. 12, Ful Chand Ram has been mentioned in Sl. No. 36 of the list. After his arrest on 2nd August 1961 he was detained in jail. He has denied to have received any charge-sheet. Ext. AC/71 shows that he refused the charge-sheet while he was in jail. P.W. 13, Dashai Jadav is Sl. No. 35. He was also arrested and kept in jail custody. Ext. AC/88 shows that while he was in jail custody, he refused the charge-sheet, dated 3rd August 1961. P.W. 14, Kalpu Ram Bari is in Sl. No. 59 of the list. He has stated that he did not get any charge-sheet. Ext. AC/106 clearly shows that he refused charge-sheet, dated 3rd August 1961, while he was in jail custody. This witness has made an attempt to say that after being released he attended the factory on several days and was assured that he would be given work. This story is unbelieveable. P.W. 15, Jogi Jadav, is numbered 44 in the list of reference. He has stated that he was not charge-sheeted by the company. Ext. AC/93 shows that he refused to accept the charge-sheet, dated 3rd August 1961, sent to him under registered cover while he was in jail hazat. P.W. 16, Sitaram Singh, is in Sl. No. 63. His evidence is that he was not charge-sheeted. Ext. AC/75 shows that the charge-sheet, dated 3rd August 1961, was sent to him under registered cover and that he has refused to receive the same. P.W. 17, is Fagu Chawhan of Sl. No. 18 of the list of the employees. His evidence is that on 2nd August 1961 at 1-30 p.m. he went to the factory to join his duty but the manager did not allow him to enter into the factory. He has further stated that on the following he worked in the factory and he continued working about 6 or 7 days thereafter. The case of this witness is that subsequently the manager wanted the witness to give evidence for him and on his refusal to give evidence or to give up the union, he was asked to go away after taking his dues. He has stated that he wanted to attend the factory but he was not allowed to work there. This particular case of P.W. 17, has not been especially pleaded in the written statement of the union. This witness has stated that he reported the matter to the union but there is no such evidence to support this statement. This witness has denied the suggestion that after the incident he voluntarily left the service and collected his dues on 7th August 1961. This witness has stated that he took the dues for the month of July 1961 and that he did not accept the dues for the month of August. Ext. AR, the Wage Register, shows that he received his dues for the month of August 1961 for his work done during the month. It is clear therefore that the statement of Shri Chawhan is far from truth and he is entitled to no relief. I have already dealt with his case earlier. There has been no case of refusal of work to him.

P.W. 18, is Bechai Jadav mentioned in Sl. No. 62 of the list. He has stated that he did not get any charge-sheet from the company but the Ext. AC/102 will show that while he was in jail custody, he did refuse the charge-sheet sent to him under registered cover. P.W. 19, Rashanand is Sl. No. 32 of the list. In spite of his denial Ext. AC/104 will show that he refused the charge-sheet sent by the company under registered cover while he was in jail. P.W. 20, Raja Ram Kharwar of Sl. No. 68 of the list, has stated that no charge-sheet was sent or issued to him. This statement is incorrect. Ext. AC/63 shows that the company sent the charge-sheet, dated 3rd August 1961, to him under the registered cover while he was kept in jail custody. This exhibit shows that Shri Kharwar refused to accept the charge-sheet. P.W. 21, Ram Narayan Jadav, is Sl. No. 40 of the list. His evidence is that no charge-sheet was issued to him. Ext. AC/72 says otherwise. This exhibit shows that the charge-sheet, dated 3rd August 1961, was sent to him under registered cover and that it was refused by Shri Jadav while he was in jail. P.W. 22, Bipin Behari Jadav, is in Sl. No. 48 of the list. In spite of his denial I hold that the company issued charge-sheet to him which was refused by him while in jail as would be evident by Ext. AC/98. The only other witness of the union is P.W. 23, Shri Chandra Sekhar Dey, mentioned in Sl. No. 69 of the list attached to the order of reference. His evidence is that he did not receive any charge-sheet but the Ext. AC/80 shows that the charge-sheet, dated 3rd August 1961, was, in fact, sent to him by the company under the registered cover and that he refused to receive the same.

The Company has examined O.P.W. 1, Shri Banowarilal Arokia, the General Manager. He has given evidence to prove how the company made several attempts to serve charge-sheets upon the delinquents by sending them to the jail where they were kept in hazat and how after their refusal the charge-sheets were again sent to the union who represented the workmen. The letters sent to the union came back unreceived. The witness has further stated that the company attempted to serve the notices on the charge-sheeted persons but they were not received by them. The authority thereafter saw the Labour Officer of the Government, Shri S. N. Ghosh, and his advise was to send the charge-sheets and letters of enquiry to him. He assured that he would try to serve them on the delinquents. The company then sent the chage-sheets to Shri Ghosh for service. In the meantime the case was referred to the Tribunal and that was why Shri Ghosh could not take any action for service. O.P.W. 1 has further stated that in the meantime the company, however, attempted to hold ex-parte enquiries. Shri A. S. Bhattacharya along with Sm. Bina Chakraborty were deputed to hold ex-parte enquiries. They held certain sitting but before they could complete the proceedings, they left the company without handing over any paper to the authority. The authority approached the government for holding fresh enquiry after obtaining the government help for service of the charge-sheets. O.P.W. 1 has stated that none of the charge-sheeted persons mentioned in the written statements have been dismissed. Ram Raj Kurmi and Jakhu Ram Chohan (Sl. Nos. 15 and 16) were previously charge-sheeted along with some others. The enquiry against these two persons was to be held on 2nd August 1961 when the workmen committed the riot. As a result the enquiry could not be held. We get from this witness that the company maintains the register of addresses of the charge-sheeted persons because they were in the Barrackpur Sub-jail according to the information. After their release, letters ere sent through the union. We also get from .P.W. 1 that most of the charge-sheeted persons ere living in the coolie lines but after the riot ey were not staying there. That is why the tters were sent to the union. The charge-shee- d persons did not return to their addresses. We lso get from this witness that some of the harge-sheeted persons wanted to say that they ad been attending the factory for work and tter to this effect were sent to the company by e union. The company, in these circumstan- es, addressed letters and charge-sheets to the nion. O.P.W. 2 is the Works Manager of the ompany. He has substantially supported the vidence of O.P.W. 1. From his evidence we lso find that the enquiry against Ram Raj Kur- i and Jakhu Ram Chohan were to be held on 2nd ugust 1961. On account of disturbance on that ay the enquiry could not be held. They did not ome to attend the enquiry. Fresh notice of en- uiry was issued but it was not served on them. s a result, the enquiry against them could not e completed. O.P.W. 3 is the durwan of the ompany. He has given evidence about the riot hat took place on 2nd August 1961. He has enied the suggestion that the workers came to he factory for work after the riot and that the ompany refused them employment. He has lso stated that the workers who lived in the abour lines did not come back after their arrest.

The admitted fact is that on 2nd August 1961 here was a disturbance in the factory in which a vorkman was killed. Admittedly again, that very lay many of the workers were arrested by police nd kept in jail hazat for long period. Even after the day of occurrence there had been some arrest nd workers were also detained in jail. There can e no doubt that there had been a reign of terror inside the factory and the innocent workers, not to speak of the disturbing elements, were afraid to go to the factory either for police or for apprehension f danger in other form. The company issued charge-sheets, dated 3rd August 1961. Some of the workers mentioned in the list of employees were previously charge-sheeted. This would be evident from Ext. N series. Even on the date of riot one enquiry was to be held regarding the persons mentioned in Serial Nos. 15 and 16. Naturally the enquiry could not be held due to distrubances. The evidence shows that the workmen who lived in the coolie lines did not come back even after the riot. The evidence shows that most of the charge-sheeted persons were detained in jail hazat. It is quite clear that the charge-sheeted persons were not residing at the addresses which were registered in the books of the company. Due to the abnormal situation the company could not immediately hold enquiries about the persons previously charge-sheeted. The evidence shows that after the riot notice could not be served upon them. In these circumstances of the case the company acted wisely in sending the charge-sheets to the delinquents who were kept in the jail hazat. It was no use sending charge-sheets to the addresses where they are not living after the riot. Almost all the charge-sheets sent to the delinquents who were kept in the jail came back refused. Those refused charge-sheets under registered cover have been filed before this Tribunal and many of those letters have been opened before this Tribunal in presence of the parties. It is to be noted that on the registered cover there was clear indication that charg-sheets were being sent to the delinquents. The act of refusal has been endorsed by the postman as well as the Sub-jailor. Some of the delinquents who have been examined in this case have denied that they got any charge-sheet. This denial is absolutely false. It is quite clear that when the charge-sheeted persons learnt from the registered covers that they containd charge-sheets, they deliberately avoided the same by refusal. Thereafter the company could have held ex-parte enquiry but the company did not proceed in that line. The evidence shows that some of the charge-sheeted persons made some allegations through the union. The company took an opportunity and treating the union as the representative body of the workmen sent again the charge-sheet to all the delinquents including those who were previously charge-sheeted through the union. Those letters came back undelivered with various endorsement, namely, 'left', and not available etc. This gesture of the company clearly shows that the authority was very much keen to offer an opportunity to the delinquents for their self-defence. The evidence further shows that in the meantime the company attempted to hold ex-parte enquiries and for the purpose one Shri A. S. Bhattacharya was authorised to hold ex-parte enquiry with the help of Sm. Bina Chakraborty. The evidence further shows that before they could complete the proceedings, they left the service of the company without handing over the papers to the authority. From the evidence I am also satisfied that the company thereafter approached the Government in this matter. The Labour Officer of the Government adviced the company to send the charge-sheets to him so that he might make an attempt to effect service on the delinquents. It took some time for the company to prepare the papers and when the papers were sent to Shri Ghosh, the Labour Officer of the Government, the company was informed that nothing could be done as in the meantime a reference had already been made to the Tribunal. All these facts clearly show without the least doubt that in spite of the disturbed atmosphere in the factory the company tried its best to offer all opportunities to the charge-sheeted persons for their self-defence at the enquiry to be held in their presence. I am satisfied that the delinquents acted improperly in refusing to receive the charge-sheets and to come forward for their self-defence. The union also did not act for the interest of the delinquents. I am, however, concerned to see whether there had been latches on the part of the company in the matter of charge-sheeting or suspending the workmen or in the matter of delay for holding enquiry. I have given my best consideration to the facts and circumstances of this case and I am convinced that the company acted with all bona fides in the matter of effecting service of charge-sheets and notices on delinquents in all possible and reasonable ways. The registered covers sent to the charge-sheeted persons which came back undelivered have been exhibited in Ext. AC series. There was delay in the matter of enquiry but that was inevitable. The company had no hand in the matter. The company tried its best to invite the charge-sheeted persons to enquiry or to offer their explanation but the workmen on their side refused to avail themselves of the opportunity or to co-operate with the company in the matter of arriving at a fair decision. The company even acted in compliance with the advice of the Labour Officer of the Government but unfortunately the matter had been referred to the Tribunal in the meantime. At the time of argument Shri Mottra on behalf of the company was agreeable to see that the enquiries could be finished as quickly as possible provided the workmen or the union receive the charge-sheets from the company, offer explanations or participate in the enquiries. Shri Pandey for the union refused to accept the offer. He submitted that the workmen were not going to attend any enquiry or to receive any charge-sheet. Whatever that may be, the fact remains that the company made all attempts to see that the charge-sheets and notices are received by the charge-sheeted persons. According to the Rule 4(b) of Appendix D at page 24 of Ext. A(i, the certified standing orders of the company, a workmen charged with major misdemeanour may be suspended forwith from duty for the alleged misconduct pending enquiry of final disposal of his case. In the present case the company is justified in suspending the charge-sheeted persons mentioned in the list of employees attached to the order of reference. If suspension of a workman is taken to be refusal of employment to him, in that case, I hold that in the present case the charge-sheeted persons have been duly suspended. There has been therefore no unreasonable and unjustified refusal of employment to the workmen in question. The company acted reasonably and with all bona fides.

The witnesses examined on behalf of the union gave evidence that after release from the jail hazat they came to the factory for joining their work and that they were not allowed to work. This story I totally disbelieve. There is no reliable and acceptable corroboration by dependable evidence in support of this story. Moreover, when it has been proved that the workers have been charge-sheeted and duly suspended, there can be no question of allowing them to work in spite of the order of suspension.

In the present case, as indicated above, taking the widest meaning of the words "refusal of employment" by including suspension, I do not find that there has been any case of refusal of employment to any of the workmen mentioned in the list attached to the order of reference. Of course, it should be mentioned that in the written statement filed by the union, no case of suspension was taken up, but at the time of actual hearing Shri Pandey wanted to challenge the suspension of the charge-sheeted persons on the ground that this suspension was improper and, therefore, there was improper refusal of employment. I find that all these persons who, according to the company, were charge-sheeted were properly dealt with by the company. The riot took place on 2nd August 1961 and the order of reference was made on 10th May 1962. The company made its best and bona fide endeavours to serve the charge-sheets and notices upon the delinquents during the period from the date of riot to the date of reference. The conduct of the company cannot be challenged. There ha been no unreasonable delay in the matter of holdin enquiries against the delinquents. It was ver reasonable for the company not to take any ste for enquiry after the reference was made to thi Tribunal. I should, rather, say that the workme and the union were responsible for the delay in th matter of enquiries against the charge-sheete persons. I have dealt with some particular case of the workmen regarding their resignation o abondonment of service or striking off their name from the roll of the company. My finding, there fore, is that in the present case there is no refusa of employment to the workmen as alleged by th union. The company is, however, at liberty t continue the proceedings arising out of the charge sheets against the delinquents according to the law. It is however desirable that if the company want to pursue the charge-sheet-proceedings against th workmen in question, the proceedings should b disposed of as quickly as possible.

In the result, the reference is decided against the workmen who are not entitled to any relief in this case.

Name of workmen.

(a) Jumratali, (b) Md. Munir, (c) Ashraf Hossain, (d) Rajpati, (e) Moinuddin, (f) Md. Quddooch, (g) Basirudding, (h) Abhash Chakraborty.

(3) Whether management was justified in declaring the Sundays as normal working days with rotational weekly off on normal working days? What relief, if any, are the workmen entitled to for working on Sundays?

(4) Whether all the drawers and reachers should be piece-rated workmen? What should be the conditions for transfer of the drawers and reacher to other Sections?

After the service of the usual notice, both the workmen represented by the Union, and the employer had filed their written statement. In the written statement filed on behalf of the workmen, it has been stated that the Calcutta Silk Manufacturing Co. Ltd., had started its business in 1936, and is producing silk, art silk, tafetas, acetate and terylene goods and is a highly prosperous concern, wherein about 500 workmen are employed in the different departments. The Company, however, commits unfair labour practices, and abuses its power to administer discipline, and since 1962, the Company had illegally kept suspended some of the then leaders of the Union for no reason. With regard to issues Nos. 1 and 2, it has been stated by the Union that Sarbashree Jumratali, Md. Munir, Ashraf Hossain, and Rajpati had been working as the drawers and Sarbashree Mainuddin, Md. Quddooch, Basiruddin, Abhash Chakraborty, Ugam Singh and Palkit Narayan Misra had been working as the reachers in the Company for a considerable time. Excepting Ugam Singh and Palkit Narayan Misra, the other workers had all along been attending their respective duties in the Preparatory department in 'A' shift i.e. from 6 a.m. to 11 a.m. and again from 2 p.m., to 5 p.m., since the date of their appointments, and working in 'A' shift is their condition of service. So far as the Preparatory department is concerned, there was no other shift, and therefore, none was ever transferred from one shift to another. The drawers and reachers of the Preparatory department are paid on the pice-rate basis. So far as Ugam Singh and Palkit Narayan Misra are concerned, they are working as reachers in the Weaving department on time-rate basis. It is further stated that at 6 a.m. on 9th May 1964 Jumratali, Munir, Ashraf Hossain, Rajpati, Moinuddin, Quddooch, Basiruddin and Abhash Chakraborty went to join their respective duties, but were stopped at the gate by the time-keeper without showing any reason or without serving any notice. Those workmen then sent written complaint individually to the Company on the same day requesting it to let them know the reason for such refusal of employment. 10th May 1964 was Sunday, and is the normal weekly day of rest. These persons were not allowed to join their duties on 11th May 1964, and on 12th May 1964. The Company had issued a notice and a charge-sheet making some false and malicious allegations. In fact, however, none except Jumratali was suspended. From the notice received on 12th May 1964, it appeared that Rajpati, Ashraf Hossain and Munir who were drawers, and Abhash Chakraborty, Quddooch and Moinuddin who were reachers were directed to work in the 'A' shift, and Jumratali and Basiruddin were directed work in the 'C' Shift. So far as the shift cha is concerned, it is stated that no notice under s tion 9A of the Industrial Disputes Act was serv on any one, or displayed in the notice board a there is also no reasonable cause for the sh change, and/or shift working. However, Ba ruddin and Quddooch reported for duty on 1 May 1964 and 12th May 1964 respectively as direction, but they were not allowed to resu their duties without mentioning any reas Ugam Singh who had working as reacher in Weaving department on daily rate basis was allowed to work in his usual place of work on 1 May 1964 at 9 a.m. He was called out by Weaving Master and confined wrongfully wit the factory premises till 2 p.m. on that d After that, he went to the Weaving Departm to join his duty, but he was not allowed to wo On 13th May 1964, Ugam Singh again repor for duty as usual, but he was not allowed to jo At about 2 p.m. his attendance card was remov and no work was allotted to him. Subsequent a charge-sheet was served upon him to which had submitted a reply on 14th May 1964. Si larly, Palkit Narayan Misra who was working a reacher on daily rate basis in the Weaving D partment was asked on 16th May 1964 by Weaving Master to work in the drawing sect on piece rate basis, but it was not stated wheth his loss in earning would be compensated or n Palkit Narayan Misra agreed to work in drawing section provided his loss in earning w compensated. The prayer, however, was acceded to by the Company which issued a charg sheet on him on the same day. Palkit Naray had replied to the charge-sheet. Both Ug Singh and Palkit Narayan had been reporting their duties regularly since 13th May 1964 18th May 1964, as they were not formerly suspe ded. It is also stated that the representation w submitted by the Union to the Assistant Labo Commissioner on 12th May 1964 alleging refu of employment to the concerned workmen, a copy of the same was sent to the Company. T Company, however, did not hold any enquiry o the allegation against Basiruddin, Quddooc Ugam Singh and Palkit Narayan who were n allowed to defend their cases, according to t principles of natural justice. When the Compa found that the allegations against them could n be proved, it had terminated their services il gally, and wrongfully on the plea of the alleg absence from duty during the pendency of con liation and tribunal proceeding, and had, the fore, contravened the provisions of section 33 the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947.

With regard to issue No. 3, it has been stat that the Company runs its factory for 6 days in week commencing from Monday to Saturday a keeps the factory closed on Sunday which is co sidered as the weekly rest day since the incepti of the Company. In view of the nature of pr ducts manufactured by the Company and the s stem of work in the process of manufacturing, t Company does not require continuous process working, and therefore, it is not necessary stagger the weekly rest day. In fact, there h been no staggering in the weekly rest day in t past. With regard to shift working, it is stat hat usually there are 2 shifts in the factory, and ccasionally three shift working is done in some f the departments. The drawers and reachers, owever, only work in the 'A' Shift. With re- ard to Sunday working, it is stated that the workmen only came to know on or after 12th May 1964 that the Company intended to run the draw- ing section of the Preparatory department of the factory on Sunday and wanted to give compensa- tory holidays for Sunday working. The work- men, however, did not know, as they had not received individual or general notice and as no notice under section 9A of the Industrial Disputes Act had been served on any one. Thereafter on 26th April 1964 the Union submitted a represen- tation to the Assistant Labour Commissioner, Barrackpore in respect of the change in the con- dition of service and copy of that representation was forwarded to the Company.

With regard to issue No. 4, it has been stated that the drawers and the reachers working in the drawing section of the Preparatory department are paid on the piece-rate basis, and the drawers and reachers working in the Weaving department work on daily-rate basis, that normally the ser- vices of the drawers and reachers are not trans- ferrable to other section in view of the nature and type of work unless bona fide cases are made out, that the Company did not transfer the drawers and reachers working in the Weaving department pany had directed Ugam Singh and Palkit Narayan who were working in the Weaving department to work in the Preparatory department with some ulterior motive of victimisation and that the con- ciliation proceedings held on 19th May 1964 and 25th May 1964 did not succeed due to the adamant attitude of the Company.

With regard to issue Nos. 1 and 2, the union had prayed that the action of the Company might be held to be wrongful, illegal and unjustified and the workmen might be granted full wages for the period of suspension and/or refusal of employment. The Union has further prayed that the Company may be directed to give employment to the work- men concerned with continuity of service. With regard to issue No. 3, it is stated that the Sunday has long been the weekly day of rest and the weekly day of rest should be uniform to all over the country and had prayed that it might be held that the management was not justified in declaring the Sundays as normal working days with rota- tional weekly off on normal working days. The Union had further prayed that the workmen should get double the normal daily wages for working on Sundays in view of the nature of product and the system of working in the Company.

With regard to issue No. 4, the Union had prayed that the drawers and reachers working in the Weaving department should be allowed to continue to receive payment on the daily-rate system and the drawers and reachers working in the Preparatory department should be paid in the piece-rate system.

In the written statement filed by the employer, it has been stated that the Government did not apply its mind properly before making the order of reference, as none of the persons mentioned in issue No. 1 were suspended at any point of time, and that the issues as framed by the Government in the case are untenable in law and fact. It has been further stated by the Company that there are various mis-statements and distortion of facts in the written statement submitted on behalf of the Union, that there has been no suspension at all of Basiruddin, Quddooch, Ugam Singh and Pulkit Narayan, that the written statement of the Union does not allege that there has been any suspension with regard to these workmen and that there is also no letter of the Union alleging sus- pension of those persons. It is therefore submit- ted that issued No. 1 is misconceived and is not tenable. With regard to Basiruddin, the Com- pany alleges that he had been working as a reacher in the Drawing section and was transferred from 'A' Shift to 'C' shift by notice, dated 4th May 1964. He had attended his duties on 9th May 1964 and then absented himself on 10th and 11th May 1964 and thereafter joined his duty on 13th May 1964. On 15th May 1964, he had written a false letter to the Company alleging that he was not allowed to work on 11th May 1964. The letter was replied to by the Company be registered letter, dated 22nd May 1964, in which it was pointed out that he was remaining absent from duty in an unauthorised manner with effect from 14th May 1964, and his allegation was baseless. Basiruddin was directed to join his duty immedi- ately and to explain his unauthorised absence from the duty. This registered letter, dated 22nd May 1964, was received by Basiruddin on 26th May 1964, and on that day, the Company wrote another letter drawing his attention to his un- authorised absence since 14th May 1964, and stated that if Basiruddin failed to resume his duty immediately, his name would be struck off from the muster roll and it would be treated that Basi- ruddin had left the services of the Company of his own accord. Basiruddin did not reply to this letter, and the Company then issued the letter, dated 3rd June 1964, to Basiruddin informing him that his name had been removed from the muster roll and he had been treated as being left the services of his own accord. This registered letter, dated 3rd June 1964, was received by Basiruddin on 6th June 1964 and Basiruddin did not send any reply. He is therefore not entitled to any relief from the tribunal. It is not correct that he was suspended or refused employment at any point of time. With regard to Md. Quddooch, it is stated that he started absenting himself from his duty from 9th May 1964, and the Company had issued the charge-sheet on 12th May 1964 for his absence from duty in an unauthorised manner since 10th May 1964. Quddooch had replied to the charge- sheet denying the charges. He was served with other charge-sheets on 18th May 1964, 25th May 1964 and 9th June 1964, for his refusal to work on Sunday in terms of the Company's notice issued from time to time. In the last charge-sheet, dated 9th June 1964, he was directed to attend his enquiry on 13th June 1964. Quddooch, however, did not attend the enquiry and did not send any letter to the Company, and the Company therefore concluded that Quddooch had left the services of the Company of his own accord. He was also not suspended or refused employment at any point of time. Regarding Palkit Narayan, it is stated that the charge-sheet was issued to him on 16th

May 1964 for his refusal to work as a reacher in the Drawing section and in that charge-sheet he was asked to explain within 3 days. Shri Misra, however, submitted his explanation only on 21st May 1964, denying the charges. He was informed by the Company that there would be an enquiry aginst his on 3rd June 1964. In the meanwhile, Shri Misra wrote another letter on 22nd May 1964 stating that he had not been allowed to join his duty on 18th May 1964. This letter was replied to by the Company by its letter, dated 25th May 1964, and in that letter it was made clear that Shri Misra remained absent from duty from 18th May 1964. It was further made clear to him that if he did not join his duty immediately, the Company would regard that Shri Misra is no longer interested in the service. Shri Misra wrote another letter on 5th June 1964, alleging falsely that the Labour Officer was not allowing him to join his duty. The Company replied by the letter, dated 9th June 1964, in which it was alleged that Shri Misra was not reporting to his duty and gave him 3 days' time to join his duty. The Company made it clear that if Shri Misra did not join his duty as directed, the Company will regard that Shri Misra has left his service of his own accord. The Company wrote a further letter on 22nd June 1964, directing Shri Mistra to join within 24 hours and making him clear that unless he joins, the Company would be compelled to conclude that Shri Misra is no longer interested in the service and had left the services of the Company of his own accord. In the reply to this letter Shri Misra admitted that due to the alleged change of service condition he is no longer able to join his duties. Therefore, so far as he was concerned, there was also no suspension or refusal of employment. So far as Ugam Singh is concerned, it is stated by the Company that the charge-sheet was issued to him on 13th May 1964, for refusal to work as a reacher in the Drawing department on 11th May 1964 and Shri Singh was asked to explain within 24 hours. Shri Singh replied denying the charges. Thereafter the Company issued the letter, dated 14th May 1964, asking Shri Singh to attend the enquiry on 23rd May 1964, at 2 p.m., but the said letter was returned by the post office with the remark 'left'. Thereafter, the copy of the letter was put up on the notice board. As nothing was heard from him, it was presumed that Shri Singh had left the service of the Company of his own accord. Therefore, so far as he was concerned, there was also neither suspension nor refusal of employment So far as issue No. 2 is concerned, it has been stated by the Company that by the notice, dated 7th May 1964, some of the workers were informed of changing of shifts, but those workers did not join their respective duties according to the shift change at the instigation of the Union. Subsequently, however, the Union and the workers understood their mistake and the workers had resumed their normal duties in 'B' and 'C' shifts respectively according to the notice of the Company. Beside the notice, dated 7th May 1964, the Company issued another notice on 12th May 1964, warning the workers that if they did not join their respective duties according to the shifts, they would be liable to disciplinary action. There is also provision regarding shift change in the standing orders of the Company. As the workmen mentioned in the order of reference did not join their being misguided by the Union, there is no question of refusal of employment by the Company. Regarding issue No. 3, it has been alleged by the Company that there was never any declaration at any point of time that Sunday will be the normal working day in the factory and that the practice of Sunday working according to the requirement of the factory is in vogue since the long time. There was never any objection of Sunday working by the Union. In fact, the Union once entered into an agreement with the Company agreeing to work on Sundays against some festival holidays but even apart from the agreement, the Sunday working is a normal feature of the factory. It is not correct to say that the factory always remained closed on Sunday and in this factory Sunday is considered as a weekly day of rest. Regarding Sunday working it is also stated that it enables the Company to get higher production to the tune of 15 per cent. to 20 per cent. of the usual production, that this is a very important fact for which almost all the Textile Mills in West Bengal work on Sunday with rotational rest day, that to meet the excise taxes, it has been found convenient and economical for all Textile Mills in West Bengal to work on Sunday and that it is not correct that Sunday as a day of rest is the condition of service to the drawers and reachers. The Company had notified on 2nd May 1964, that there would be Sunday working of the drawers and reachers on 10th May 1964, and a copy of the notice had been sent to the Inspector of Factories as required under the Factories Act. The Inspector of Factories had informed the Company that Sunday working as notified in the notice, dated 2nd May 1964, is quite in order. The allegation on behalf of the workmen that they only came to know about Sunday working on 12th May 1964, is false. The notice of 2nd May 1964, was duly pasted in the notice board in accordance with the provisions of the standing orders. It is further stated that no notice under section 9A of the Industrial Disputes Act is required, as there has been no change in the service condition of the workers, that even during the time when the drawers and reachers refused to work on Sunday, the workers of the other departments of the factory, viz., dyeing, warping, sizing and maintenance, were working on Sunday and the Union did not raise any objection regarding the Sunday working in those departments. As the drawers and reachers had been misguided by the Union, they by the letter, dated 26th May 1964, had threatened to strike and in fact, there was a token strike on 30th May 1964 and thereafter the strike continued from 18th June 1964. The Company gave several notices asking the workmen to join their duties and when those notices did not produce any effect, the Company by the letter, dated 2nd July 1964, gave the strikers a last chance to join within 24 hours and indicated that if they did not do so, the Company will record that those workers had left their services of their own accord.

Regarding issue No. 4, it has been alleged that it has never been the subject-matter of any conciliation proceeding, that there was no demand by the Union either to the Company or to the conciliation officer and that it is the management tion to decide whether the workers are to be on the piece-rate basis or time-rate basis or y-rate basis. However, regarding the drawers reachers, it is alleged that there are drawers reachers in the Drawing department and also he Weaving department, that their functions to prepare the beams by drawing ends and to e them ready for sending them to the Weav- department for the purpose of weaving by the vers, that in the Drawing department, the vers and reachers have a continuous flow of k and therefore they are paid on piece-rate s, and that as a result of such system of pay- t, the drawers and reachers can earn more and management can also get the usual quantity ork from them. In the Weaving department, ever, the nature of work is different. It is certain when the services of the drawers and hers of the Weaving department would be re- ed. It is also stated that when a cloth in the ess of manufacture gets damaged and the s of the cloth go out, then the services of the vers are required to draw the end and it is the tion of the reacher to reach the ends. For reason the drawers and reachers in the Weav- department are paid on time-rate basis. It is pointed out that so far as the system of pay- t of the drawers and reachers in the Drawing rtment and in the Weaving department is con- ed, the Union in the written statement had ed that the drawers and reachers in the Draw- department should be continued to be paid the daily-rate system and the drawers and hers in the Weaving department should be l on the daily-rate system. Regarding the ond part of issue No. 4, the Company has ted out in the written statement that there provision regarding the transfer in the ding orders of the Company, that the workers bound to obey the order of transfer if it does involve any loss of income and the work is of ilar nature. In the case of transfer by the pany, there had been no change of work. The pany has denied the allegation of the work- that the services of the drawers and reachers not transferable. In the circumstances, the pany prayed that all the claims of the Union be rejected.

Decision

ssue No. 1: At the time of opening, the ned Advocate Shri N. D. Srimani appearing the Union submitted that he did not press the e No. 1, inasmuch as, none of the workmen tioned in issue No. 1 had at all been suspended the Company. Even at the time of argument learned Advocate Shri Srimani made no sub- sion regarding issue No. 1. The learned ocate Shri K. K. Maitra appearing for the pany pointed out that there had been no alle- ion regarding suspension of these workmen in of the letters issued by the Union or in the tten statement submitted by the Union on alf of the workmen. It is not clear to me now the circumstances, the issue regarding suspen- n 4 workmen from certain dates could have been erred to this Tribunal for adjudication. How- r that may be, as there is really no dispute arding the alleged suspension, a no-dispute ard regarding issue No. 1 can only be passed. This issue is disposed of accordingly. I may add here, however, that I will have occasion to discuss the cases of these 4 workmen along with others while discussing issue No. 2, specially as the names of Quddooch and Basiruddin also appear in issue No. 2. This issue is disposed of in the light of what has been stated above.

Issue No. 2: The main submission which has been made by Shri Maitra appearing for the Company is that there has been really no refusal of employment of the concerned workmen whose names appear in issue No. 2, and therefore, the question of justification of the refusal of employment itself does not arise and the further question of relief of these workmen also does not arise. Shri Srimani appearing on behalf of the workmen, however, urged that in the facts and circumstances of the present case, it is quite clear that the workmen had been refused employment, inasmuch as those workmen had been refused entry into the factory premises from 9th May 1964. The learned Advocate further submitted that in the circumstances of the present case, the workmen concerned are entitled to get full wages for the period in question and are further entitled to a direction on the Company to give them employment with continuity of service. In order to appreciate the submissions made by the learned Advocates of the parties, it is neccessary to discuss the evidence as to what had happened shortly before 9th May 1964 and as to what had happened from 9th May 1964 to 12th May 1964. Before I discuss the evidence bearing on issue No. 2, I shall notice a submission which has been made by Shri Maitra appearing for the Company. Shri Maitra submitted that though evidence had been given for he period after 12th May 1964, the evidence, strictly speaking, is not relevant and the Tribunal is not entitled to give its decision eitherway regarding the events which had taken place after 12th May 1964. In support of his contention the learned Advocate Shri Maitra had referred me to the ruling reported in 1960(I) L.L.J., 808-A.I.R. 1960, (S.C.), 818 (U.P. Electric Supply Co Ltd., vs. the workers of Messrs. S. M. Choudhury). In that case, there was a dispute on four points, one of which was "non-abolition of the contract system". After failure of the conciliation proceedings, there was a reference to adjudication, the parties thereto being Messrs. S. M. Choudhury & Co., and their workmen. Messrs. S. M. Choudhury & Co. were the contractors to the U.P. Electric Supply Co. Ltd. The reference, however, was with regard to 3 points only and did not include the "non-abolition of the contract system". After about 2 months, another notification was issued by the U. P. Government by which the Electric Supply Co. was impleaded as a party, but the matters in dispute remained unamended. The Electric Supply Co. objected stating that the dispute, if any, was only between the Contractors and their employees, and the Electric Supply Co. was not a party at all to the dispute. The Tribunal after considering the evidence came to the conclusion that the workmen were, in fact, and in reality, the employees of the Company. It was argued before their Lordships of the Supreme Court that as the question whether the workmen were in the employment of the Company, or the Contractors, had not been referred for adjudication, the Tribunal had no jurisdiction to decide it. This argument was accepted by their Lordships of the Supreme Court, and their Lordships held that the order of the Tribunal by which it had held that these workmen were the workmen of the Company, was without jurisdiction. In the case referred to above, it was found that though there was a dispute regarding the non-abolition of the contract system, that dispute was never referred to adjudication. The question whether the workmen were the employees of the Company or of the Contractors was also not referred for adjudication. The facts therefore are different. In the present case, the question had been referred for adjudication. It appears to me that if it is necessary to do complete justice before the parties, the Tribunal can look into the latter events and that it can do so only for the purpose of coming to a proper conclusion regarding the question which had been referred for adjudication. As I understand the learned Advocate appearing for the workmen, he also did not urge that the events beyond 12th May 1964, can be considered for any other purpose. Incidentally, it may be pointed out that in the written statement of both the parties, various facts which are not strictly relevant to issue No. 2, had been alleged. I do not think, any award can be passed regarding the further facts which had been alleged in the written statement of the parties.

It is admitted on both sides that the Company purported to give the notice dated 7th May 1964 (Ext. Z-1). According to this notice, Jumiatali and Basiruddin who are the drawers and reachers respectively are to work in 'C' shift and Md. Munir, Ashraf Hossain and Rajpati who are the drawers and Moinuddin and Quddooch and Abbash Chakraborty who are reachers, are to work in the 'B' shift with effect from 9th May 1964. Regarding this notice, it has been stated (vide paragraphs 8 and 9 of the written statement of the Union) that no notice has actually been served, and no notice also had been displayed on the notice board. In paragraph dealing with the issue No. 2 at page 6 of the written statement of the Company, it has been stated that by notice dated 7th May 1964, some workers were informed of the changing of their shifts, and that the workers in the Company are governed by the standing orders which provide for shift working. In the written statement itself of the Company, it has not been stated that the notice had been displayed in the notice board of the Drawing department and also in the notice board closed to the time office near the gate of the factory. I shall presently discuss the evidence regarding the service of notice, but before I do so, I shall discuss the question whether the working in 'A' shift is the condition of service of the drawers and the reachers, as stated in paragraph 6(b) of the written statement of the Union. If really it is a condition of service of the drawers and the reachers that they are to work in 'A' shift all along, the Company certainly would have no right under the law to transfer them to any other shift. It may, however, be pointed out that in the written statement of the Union (vide paragraph 6(p), it has been stated that there was no shift working in this particular department, and consequently none was ever transferred from one shift to another. Therefore it appears to be case of the Union that as there was only one sh there was no change of shift. The learned Ad cate appearing for the workmen, however, ur that even clause 10 of the standing orders of Company does not contain any provision for cha of shift. In order to appreciate this conten it is necessary to refer to the terms of clause of the certified standing orders of the Compa It has been provided therein that shift work, eit on the interrupted or continuous shift basis, sh be regulated in accordance with the Factor Act, that more than one shift may be worked any department or departments or in a section any department at the discretion of the Compan that if more than one shift is worked, operati shall be liable to be transferred from one shift another and that shift working may be disco nued after putting up notice in the time-keepe office. The learned Advocate Shri Srimani argued that this clause applies only where the are more than one shifts in any department, a that if there are more than one shifts, then operatives may be transferred from one shift another. I do not think the argument can accepted. According to the provisions of clause of the standing orders the Company has discretion to start other shifts where there is on one shift and may transfer the operatives fr one shift to another. The mere fact that the was only one shift in the Drawing department the factory before 7th May 1964 is not sufficie ground for thinking that the Company could start the other shifts and could not direct operatives to work in different shifts from shifts in which they were working previously my opinion, it is a condition of service of workmen of the factory that they are to work different shifts, if more shifts than one are start and they are liable to be transferred from one sh to another according to the direction of the Com pany. In view of the provision of clause 10, I do not see how it can be urged that it was a condi tion of service of the workmen mentioned ab that they are to work in 'A' shift of the Drawi department. As I understand the learned Ad cate, Shri Srimani, had finally conceded th there could be shift working in accordance w the standing orders. He only had submitted th the workmen would have complied with the or for shift working if they had known. In opinion, the contention on behalf of the worku in paragraph 6(b) of the written statement mu be rejected.

I shall now turn to discuss the question rega ing the service of the notice dated 7th May 19 It has been provided in clause 5 of the standi orders of the Company that notices regarding matters concerning the operatives, shall be pas on the notice boards maintained for such purpos As I have mentioned earlier, it has not be stated in the written statement of the Compa that the notice dated 7th May 1964 was served affixing to the appropriate notice board and th it has only been stated that some workers we informed of the changing of their shifts by t notice dated 7th May 1964. There is no referen to clause 5 in the lengthy written statement whi has been put in on behalf of the Company, ev though there are reference to clauses 10 and 17 the standing orders. Regarding the notice, it would appear that the figure '8' underneath the figure '7' and certain other endorsements had been made by different hands. The Company had examined O.P.W. 2 Shri Prakash Chandra Gupta who is the departmental in-charge of the Preparatory department, O.P.W. 3 Shri S. K. Gupta who is the Manager, and O.P.W. 4 M.P. Agarwal who is the Supervisor of the Drawing department. O.P.W. 4 had said that he had prepared 3 copies of the notice under the direction of O.P.W. 2 and had affixed one copy of the notice to the departmental notice board, and had sent two other copies to the time office. It is his further evidence that he had called the workers of the Drawing department and had explained to them the contents of the notice which was to be effective from 9th May 1964. At the time of cross-examination O.P.W. 4 had said that the notice (Ext. Z-1) is the same notice which he had pasted on the notice board and which had taken out from the notice board. He had denied the suggestions that there are no notice boards in the department, that he did not verbally explain to the workmen the contents of the notice, and that it is not his duty to affix the notice to the notice board. The learned Advocate of the workmen pointed out that the other notices which, O.P.W. 4 had alleged, were fixed to the notice board of the Drawing department, had not been produced by him. He has further pointed out that according to the evidence in cross-examination of O.P.W. 4 there was only one original notice and there was one carbon copy. It was submitted by him that one copy of the notice must have been affixed to the notice board of the time office and that, that copy could have been produced to show that, in fact, the copy of the notice was affixed to the notice board of the time office. It is not clear why the other copy of the notice which is alleged to be a carbon copy, has not been produced and also why no-one from the time office had been examined to say that the notice was pasted on the notice board of the time office on 7th May 1964. The evidence of O.P.W. 2 is that there is a notice board in the Drawing department and on 7th May 1964 a notice was given in the notice board regarding the change of shift. His further evidence is that the notice was prepared by himself and was written by O.P.W. 4 Shri Agarwal and had been signed by him, that the notice was affixed to the notice board of the Drawing department by the Supervisor and he had found it there after affixation that he had personally communicated the substance of the notice to the drawers and reachers who might be affected by the shift change, that to his knowledge, Shri Agarwal also communicated the substance of the notice to those persons, that the same notice was displayed in front of the main gate of the factory and was also affixed to the notice board of the time office, that whenever a notice is displayed the workers persued the notice, that the practice regarding the notice in the factory is to display the notice on the notice board of the time office, and also in the individual department concerned and that Jumratali and others must have persued the notice. Regarding this evidence of O.P.W. 2, it may be pointed out that in the written statement itself, there is no allegation of affixation of the notice to the notice board of the Drawing department or in the notice board of the time office or regarding the affixation of the notice in the main gate of the factory. There is also no allegation in the written statement that the departmental in-charge (O.P.W. 2) had personally informed the workmen concerned about the contents of the notice. At the time of cross-examination, O.P.W. 2 had said that the notice was displayed on 7th May 1964, that there is no bye-date in the notice, that the date '8' mentioned in the top right-hand corner of the notice was not written by Shri Agarwal, that there is a signature of Shri Bansal but he cannot read the date underneath the signature, that the date might be 8th or 9th, that the notice was displayed on the notice board before Shri Bansal's signature and that Shri Bansal had signed the notice after it was affixed to the notice board. It is absolutely clear that someone other than Shri Agarwal had given a bye-date and that in view of this bye-date, the notice could not have been displayed in any of the notice board on 7th May 1964 as alleged by O.P.W. 2. The evidence of O.P.W. 2 further is that the shift change was to take effect from 9th May 1964, that the workers who are affected by the notice regarding the change came to the factory gate but did not attend to their duties as per the notice and that the workmen did not attend to their duties for 3/4 days from 9th May 1964. At the time of cross-examination O.P.W. 2 had stated that to his knowledge the workmen had submitted petitions on and from 9th May 1964 alleging that they were not being allowed to work and that either on the 9th or 10th, the company issued a warning notice which was affixed to the notice board, but he is unable to say if there is any copy of that notice. No copy or original of the notice affixed to the notice board on 9th or 10th May 1964 has been produced before this Tribunal. The earliest notice which has been produced by the Company is dated 12th May 1965 and is marked Ext. U (on admission). The learned Advocate for the Company was unable to explain why that alleged warning notice which is said to have been affixed to the notice board on 9th or 10th May 1964 has not been produced. The notice Ext. U recites that the drawers and reachers are not reporting to their duties in their respective shifts and are forcibly trying to come 'A' shift, that the Company would be compelled to take disciplinary action against them regarding their misconduct and that the workmen should come in the 'B' and 'C' shifts and should not enter forcibly in the other shifts. In a way, this letter of the Company itself shows that the workmen were coming to attend 'A' shift even after the alleged notice dated 7th May 1964. The only possible explanation of the conduct of the workmen would be that they had, in fact, not received any notice either on 7th May 1964 or on 8th May 1964 and were not also informed verbally as stated by O.P.W. 2. The receipt of the warning notice (Ext. U) is admitted by the workmen. It is further not clear why it is not stated in the notice (Ext. U) that in accordance with the notice dated 7th May 1964 those workmen were to attend to 'B' and 'C' shifts. Incidentally it may be pointed out that O.P.W. 2 does not say that these workmen were reporting forcibly in 'A' shift, and therefore, were guilty of the conduct subversive of discipline.

I shall now turn to discuss the evidence of O.P.W. 3 who is the Manager. He had said that the Company had issued the notice dated 7th May 1964 asking some drawers and reachers to work in 'B' and 'C' shifts and that excepting Basiruddin, the others did not report for duty as per direction. O.P.W. 3 has also referred to the notice dated 12th May 1964. There is, of course, some difference between the Company and the workmen as to whether Basiruddin has reported in 'A' shift or 'C' shift. I shall discuss this question later on when I discuss the case against Basiruddin. At the time of cross-examination O.P.W. 3 had said that on 7th May 1964 when the notice was issued, there were about 16 drawers and reachers in the drawing section, that by the notice regarding the change of shift, 8 workmen whose names appear in the order of reference were affected by the notice, that these 8 workmen had alleged refusal of employment from 9th May 1964 except Basiruddin who complained about refusal of employment from 10th May 1964 and that the notice was to be effective from 9th May 1964. The Manager himself does not give any definite evidence regarding the service of the notice. Presumably he had relied on O.P.Ws. 2 and 4 regarding the service of the notice dated 7th May 1964.

I shall now turn to discuss the evidence on the side of the workmen regarding the service of the notice. Out of the 8 workmen mentioned in issue No. 2, the Union had examined P.W. 3 Jumratali, P.W. 4—Quddooch, P.W. 5 Basiruddin. The evidence of P.W. 3 and P.W. 4 is that there was no notice on 7th May 1964 or latter regarding the change of shifts. P.W. 3 has also referred to the petition to the Company (Ext. 16). There is another letter to the Company (Ext. 15) and both these letters were written on 9th May 1964 in which complaint was made regarding the refusal to admit them into the factory, though they had reported for duty. The names of Rajpati, Jumratali, Md. Munir, Ashraf Hossain and Moinuddin appear in these two exhibits (Exts. 15 and 16). If really there had been the shift change by the notice dated 7th May 1964, there is absolutely no reason why these letters of complaint should have been sent by the workmen to the Company complaining of the refusal of employment on 9th May 1964. Regarding P.W. 5, it appears from his evidence that he had worked in 'A' shift in the factory on 9th May 1964, that he had also worked on 11th May 1964 and 12th May 1964 and that as 10th May 1964 was Sunday, there was no work to be done. P.W. 5 has also referred to the letter to the Company (Ext. 19) which is dated 12th May 1964. In that letter Basiruddin had said that he had been working in the 'A' shift, but had been prevented by the durwan from attending to his duties from 11th May 1961 and that his attendance on 11th May 1964 and 12th May 1964 may be recorded. Similar letters were written to the Mill Manager on 12th May 1964 by Jumratali and others (Ext. 17). It is also necessary to refer to some other letters (Exts. 4, 5, 7, 9 and 11 on admission) to Jumratali, Munir, Ashraf Hossain, Rajpati and Basiruddin. These letters appear to have been written by the Company to these workmen in reply to their letters to the Company. It has been stated therein that the departmental in-charge had informed them of the shift change on 8th May 64 and that this information was also sent to the time office, and therefore, there was no question of allowing these workmen to work in the 'A" shift. Even in these letters, there is no allegation that the notice dated 7th May 1964 had been displayed in the notice board of the Drawing department and in the notice board of the time office. It is not clear why the workmen would complain regarding the shift change and why they should be reporting for their duties for working in the 'A' shift, if really there had been proper service of notice regarding the shift change, as per the standing orders of the Company. I have carefully considered the evidence and the facts and circumstances of the present case and am of opinion that there is no evidence at all that the notice dated 7th May 1964 was really given to the workmen concerned either by displaying at the respective notice boards, or by personal intimation by the departmental in-charge.

The next question which arises for consideration is whether in the circumstances mentioned above, that is to say, in the absence of the service of the notice dated 7th May 1964 it could be said that these 8 workmen had been refused employment. The further question is whether, if those workmen had refused employment, they are entitled to get their normal wages for the period in question. The learned Advocate appearing for the Union had referred me to paragraph 26 of the Union's written statement and had submitted that in the circumstances of the present case, all the workmen are entitled to get full wages for the period during which there was refusal of employment by the Company. The learned Advocate appearing for the Company had argued, on the other hand, that there has been no refusal of employment and therefore, the concerned workmen are not entitled to get any relief from this Tribunal. It appears to me that though shift change is provided for in clause 10 of the certified standing orders of the Company (Ext. AA), the Company must give proper notice directing the concerned workmen to work in different shifts from a future date. I have already found that the notice dated 7th May 1964 has not been served. Therefore, the concerned workmen did not that they are no longer to work in 'A' shift from 9th May 1964 and to work in 'B' and 'C' shifts as per the notice. The evidence of the side of the workmen (vide the evidence of P. Ws 1 to 5) certainly shows that they were not aware of the notice and that excepting P.W. 5 Basiruddin, others were not allowed to work in 'A' shift from 9th May 1964. With regard to Basiruddin, it appears from the evidence of Basiruddin himself and the other evidence that actually Basiruddin had worked in 'A' shift on 9th May 1964. At the time of cross-examination of P.W. 5, the learned Advocate for the Company drew the attention of Basiruddin to Ext. D which is a letter from Basiruddin to the Company dated 16th May 1964. In that letter, Basiruddin had complained that though he had attended the duty in 'C' shift on and from 14th May 1964 as notified by the Company on 13th May 1964, he was not allowed to work. In view of the limited term of reference, it is not necessary to discuss in details what had happened after 12th May 1964, but this letter itself would show that the notification regarding the shift change was received by Basiruddin on 13th May 1964. The other documents regarding Basiruddin are Exts. E, E-1, F, F-1 and F-2. In view of the term of reference, it is not necessary for me to discuss in details these documents. Exts. G, G-1, G-2, G-3 and H are documents relating to Quddooch. For the reasons explained above, it is not necessary for me to discuss these documents or the documents relating to the alleged strike (Exts. W, Y, AE, AE-1, AE-2). It would appear that the Company had issued charge-sheets and had also suspended Jumratali. So far as the domestic enquiry is concerned, it does not appear that any Enquiring Officer was ever appointed and had taken evidence regarding the alleged misconduct of the workmen. In fact, O.P.W. 3 had said at the time of cross-examination that charge-sheets have been issued to all the 8 workmen mentioned in issue No. 2, that without looking into the records, he is unable to say that if the enquiry had been held against them, and that Jumratali had been suspended with effect from 12th May 1964. He has added that there should have been enquiries if the management intended to take action against them. If there had been really any enquiry into the alleged misconduct against the 8 workmen concerned, then certainly the enquiry proceedings and the reports of the enquiring officer would have been filed. The written statement filed by the Company itself shows that the Company regarded these workmen to have left their services of their own accord. In the circumstances, the Company possibly did not hold the enquiries though it had issued the charge-sheets against the 8 concerned workmen. It is not for me to say whether circumstances really show that the concerned workmen had really left their job of their own accord. I need only point out that there is some evidence to show that subsequently the concerned workmen are working according to the shifts allotted to them. I have already discussed the evidence indicating that the concerned workmen did appear from 9th May 1964 to 12th May 1964 and did not want to work in 'A' shift. There is the further evidence that they had been prevented from working in 'A' shift. As there has been no shift change in accordance with the law, the refusal by the Company to allow them to work as before, amounts, in my opinion, to refusal to employment during the period from 9th May 1964 to 12th May 1964. I have therefore come to the conclusion that all the concerned workmen except Basiruddin had been refused employment from 9th May 1964 to 12th May 1964 and Basiruddin had been refused employment on 11th May 1964 and 12th May 1964, 10th May 1964 being Sunday. With regard to the question of relief, it appears to me that in the facts and circumstances, these workmen except Basiruddin are entitled to get the normal wages for 9th May 1964, 11th May 1964 and 12th May 1964 and Basiruddin is entitled to get the normal wages for 11th May 1964 and 12th May 1964.

Before I conclude this discussion, I would refer to one matter to which my attention has been drawn and in respect of which some evidence has been given on the side of the Company. Before I discuss shortly this matter, I would point that I have already found that in accordance with the standing orders, the workmen employed in the factory are liable to work in different shifts. In view of this conclusion, it is not necessary to discuss in detail the evidence relating to the question whether there had been shift working previously. There is, no doubt, some evidence to show that there had been shift working previously, though, it may be pointed out that the previous notices regarding shift change had not been put in by the Company. In fact, O.P.W. 2 had said that he cannot say if the previous notices regarding shift changes had still been kept in the office. The question, however, need not be further pursued in view of the clear provision of the standing orders itself regarding shift working. In the result, I have come to the conclusion that there had been refusal of employment as mentioned above, and the concerned workmen are entitled to get their normal wages for the period which I have mentioned above, as Sunday (10th May 1964) was not a working day, and as the workmen are not paid unless they work. The question of payment for 10th May 1964 does not arise. The payment should be made within one month of publication of the award in the Calcutta Gazette. This issue is disposed of accordingly.

Issue No. 3: I shall not turn to discuss the question of justifiability in declaring the Sundays as normal working days with rotational weekly off on normal working days, and the further question regarding the relief to which the workmen are entitled for working on Sundays. Before I proceed to discuss this question, I shall notice a submission which has been made by Shri Maitra appearing for the Company. Shri Moitra submitted that the word 'declaration' as used in issue No. 3 is wrong, inasmuch as the Company never declared that Sunday should be the normal working day for the workmen. In my opinion, the criticism is to a certain extent justified. But though there is no specific declaration by the Company that Sundays should be the normal working days for the workmen, still the question would remain whether the Company is justified in asking the workmen to work on Sundays and give them substitutional holidays on normal working days. The reference appears to me to be in accordance with item 3 of the Third Schedule of the Industrial Disputes Act. In the Fourth Schedule, the same subject matter appears as item No. 4. It cannot be disputed that the Company can change the hours of work and rest intervals after complying with the provisions of section 9A of the Industrial Disputes Act. As I understand the learned Advocate appearing for the workmen, he also did not dispute this. The learned Advocate appearing for the workmen, however, had submitted that the justification should be justification both on points of fact and on points of law. He also contended that there can be Sunday working only in accordance with certain provisions of the Factories Act, 1948. I shall presently refer to those provisions of the Indian Factories Act, 1948. But before I do so, I would point that it has been provided, inter alia, in clause No. 7 of the standing orders that the holidays to be observed in the factory with or without pay should be notified in the notice board inside the factory, though there is no definite evidence on this point, I presume that the Company has complied with clause 7 of the standing orders and that the workmen have come to know about their holidays with or without pay from the notice displayed in the notice board. Shri Srimani appearing for the workmen had referred to sections 52 and 53 of the Factories Act, 1948. It has been provided, inter alia, in section 52 of the Factories Act that no adult worker shall be required to work in a factory on the 1st day of the week, unless he has or will have a holiday for a whole day on one of the 3 days immediately before or after the said day, and the Manager of the factory has, before the said day or substituted day, whichever is earlier, delivered a notice at the office of the Inspector of his intention to require the worker to work on the said day and of the day which is to be substituted and displayed a notice to that effect in the factory. There is a proviso which says that no substitution shall be made which will result in any worker working for more than 10 days consecutively without a holiday for a whole day. It has been provided in section 53 of the Factories Act that where, as a result of the passing of an order or the making of a rule under the provisions of this Act exempting a factory or the workers therein from the provisions of section 52, a worker is deprived of any of the weekly holidays for which provisions is made in section 52, he shall be allowed within the month in which the holidays were due to him, or within two months immediately following that month, compensatory holidays of equal number to the holidays so lost. It is further provided that the State Government may prescribe the manner in which the holidays for which provision is made in section 52 of the Act, shall be allowed. The term "week" has been defined in section 2(f) of the Factories Act to mean a period of 7 days beginning at midnight on Saturday night or such other night as may be approved in writing for a particular area by the Chief Inspector of Factories. It would, therefore, appear that from the provisions referred to above that Sunday is the normal holiday for the workers, but he can be required to work on Sundays after complying with the above provisions of the Factories Act. It has also been provided, inter alia, in section 61 of the Act that a notice of the periods of work of adults showing clearly for every day the periods during which the adult workers may be required to work must be displayed and correctly maintained in every factory in accordance with the provisions of section 108(2) of the Act, and that any proposed change in the system of work in a factory which will necessitate the change in the notice referred to earlier, shall be notified to the Inspector in triplicate before the change is made, and except with the previous sanction of the Inspector, no such change shall be made until a week has elapsed since the last change. It is also necessary to refer to certain rules which had been framed under section 112 of the Indian Factories Act (Calcutta Gazette Extraordinary June 18, 1958). Rule 78 makes provision for compensatory holidays and makes provision, inter alia, that the compensatory holidays to be allowed under sub-section 1 of section 53 of the Act, shall be so spaced that not more than 2 holidays are given in one week, that the Manager of the factory shall display, on or before the end of the month in which the holidays are lost, a notice in respect of the workers allowing compensatory holidays during the month in which they are due or the two subsequent months and the date thereof, at the place at which the notice of the period of work prescribed under section 61 is displayed and that the Manager is to maintain a register as nearly as possible in form No 10. The form No. 10 contains columns, inter alia, for the number of registered workers, name, group and relay number, number of exemption rule, or particular and date of the exempting order, year weekly rest days lost, due to exemption rule or exempting order in the different months of the year, and the dates of compensatory holidays given in the different months of the year. It is also necessary to refer to rule 82 and 84. Rule 82 provides for the notice of periods of work of adult workers as merely as possible in form Nos. 12 and 12A and 12B, as the case may be and rule 84 provides for the notice of periods of work for child workers as merely as may be in the same forms. The learned Advocate had submitted that in the present case, the alleged notice which is said to have been given to the Inspector of Factories is a wrong notice and is not a notice as required by rule 78 of the rules. I shall presently consider the submission which has been made by the learned Advocate Shri Srimani but before I do so, I shall discuss the rulings to which my attention has been drawn by the learned Advocate for the workmen. It would appear from the ruling reported in 1964 (II) L.L.J., 562 (Motor and Machinery Manufacturers Ltd., versus State of West Bengal) that the primary object of section 52 of the Factories Act is to provide for weekly holiday for the workers and such day was fixed to be the first day of the week i.e., Sunday, that if for any special reason, it becomes necessary to make Sunday the working day, a substitutional holiday is made compulsory, that the employers cannot at their sweetwill convert successive or all Sundays as working days and that if 3 days prior and 3 days after such Sundays are holidays, the employer can grant substitutional holiday on any other working day. The decision reported in 1962(II) L.L.J., 59 was reversed in the decision reported in 1964(II) L.L.J., 562. In the ruling reported in 1965 (I) L.L.J., 419 (S.C.) 1965 (10) F.L.R., 240 (J.D.K. Brown versus State of West Bengal). It has been held that where the workmen were made to work on a weekly holiday by the manager of the factory without complying with the provisions of section 52(1), the occupier of the factory could be prosecuted and punished under section 92 for contravening section 52 of the Act, even in a case without mens rea on his part that the prohibition is only shifted on compliance with clauses (a) and (b) of section 52(1) and that the provisions of section 52(1) imposed an obligation on the occupier as well as on the manager of the factory. In the ruling reported in A.I.R. 1964 (S.C.) 1893 (State of Gujarat versus K. Manilal). It has been held that under the rules framed by the Government, a departure from the provisions of sections 51, 52, 55 and 6 of the Factories Act can be made but only in ccordance with the rules framed and that a depar- ure from the hours of work laid down in sec- ion 61(2) can only be made in those cases in vhich the exempting provisions of the rules cover he case and not otherwise. It is therefore abso- utely clear that the provisions of the Factories Act regarding the working on Sundays must trictly be followed and if the provisions have not been followed, the action of the management in asking the workmen to work on Sunday must be held to be illegal. Shri Maitra appearing for the Company had referred me to the ruling reported n 1961 (1) L.L.J., 328 (S.C.) [Alembic Chemical Works Co. Ltd., vs. its workmen]. The learned Advocate had referred to the ruling principally in aid of his contention that the Tribunal should not make violent departure from the prevailing prac- ice and that the principle of industry-cum-region basis must be followed, and where in the same region there is Sunday working, the Tribunal should not declare the Sunday working to be illegal. I shall discuss later on the question as to whether there is really evidence of Sunday working in other factories in the same region, while I shall discuss the evidence in support of the contention that on fact a direction or notice to the workers to work on Sunday is justified. At this stage I would only point out that their Lordships of the Supreme Court had held that the Factories Act is a welfare legislation and in interpreting the Act, the principles of construc- tion of welfare legislation must be borne in mind and if two views are possible, the one, in favour of the workers for whose benefit the Factories Act 1948 was enacted, must be accepted. But as I have pointed out above, the only possible view having regard to the sections and the Act and the Rules mentioned above, is that except where there has been the exemption order after com- plying with the provisions, the Sunday must be the day of rest and that where Sunday is to be working day, then there must be the substitutional holiday in accordance with the Act and the Rules.

I shall now turn to discuss the submission of the learned Advocate for the workmen that the notice regarding the Sunday working is itself illegal. Exts. C and C-1 are the notices, dated 2nd May 1964, intimating that there would be Sunday working from 10th May 1964. In the notice Ext. C, the date, however, appears to be 11th May 1964, but I was told that the original is Ext. C-1 which shows the date to be 10th May 1964, and that in the carbon copy, a wrong date appears. There appears to be some over-writing over the figure '10' in Ext. C-1. I do not think, there is satisfactory explanation regarding the over-writing, but I am of opinion that nothing really important turns on the mistake regarding the date when the notice was to be effective, be- cause, it is not disputed that 10th May 1964 was a Sunday. However, that may be, section 52 of the Factories Act, inter alia, provides that the notice of the intention to require the worker to work on Sunday and of the date which is to be substituted, is to be delivered to the Inspector and another notice is to be displayed in the factory. The notices (Exts. C and C-1) do not show the substituted holiday and only show the proposed times of shift working in relays A, B and C. It no doubt appears that the notice was delivered in the office of the Inspector. Ext. V (on admission) is the reply of the Inspector of Factories, Barrackpore, to the Manager in which it has been stated that the proposed working periods as stated in the Manager's letter, dated 2nd May 1964 appear to be in order, but the notice of employment of workers on Sundays must be submitted to that office in accordance with the provision of section 52 of the Factories Act, 1948, and a copy thereof must be displayed in the factory in respect of every week. The learned Advocate Shri Maitra had argued that the notice was found to be in order by the Inspector of Factories, and therefore, the notice must be re- garded to be valid and legal. I am unable to agree with the learned Advocate. The letter of the Inspector of Factories, Barrackpore, itself shows that there was a defect regarding the notice and the Inspector of Factories required the Com- pany to comply with the provision of section 52 of the Factories Act. It does not appear that any notice was at all issued cancelling the notice dated 2nd May 1964, in accordance with section 52(2) of the Factories Act. The Company has also not produced register which is to be maintained as nearly as possible in form No. 10 as required by rule 78(4)(a) of the Factories Rules. It was not contended before me that the proviso to that Rule had been complied with. In any case there is no order in writing of the Chief Inspector of Facto- ries that the muster roll or register or return is to be treated as a register mentioned in that Rule. This register is to be maintained for a period of 3 years after the last entry therein under rule 78(4)(b) of the Rules, and therefore, it must be with the Company. I have already mentioned the different columns of that register and I need not repeat of what has already been stated. One of the columns is 'dates of compensatory holidays given in the different months'. If really a valid notice under section 52 had been issued, then surely the register would have been maintained. However, that may be, it appears to me that the notice (Exts. C and C-1) are not valid and in accordance with law. The workmen, therefore, are not bound to work on Sundays which under the Factories Act must be regarded to be a day of rest for the workmen. I have, therefore, come to the conclusion that the Company is not justified in law in asking the workmen to work on Sunday with substitutional holidays in place of Sundays. The learned Advocate Shri Srimani had also urged that the workmen cannot be asked to work on all the Sundays with substitutional holidays in place of those Sundays. In support of his con- tention, the learned Advocate had relied on the ruling reported in 1964 (II) L.L.J., 562 which I had referred to earlier. Their Lordships of the Calcutta High Court had observed, inter alia, that the employers cannot at their sweetwill con- vert successive or all Sundays as working days. As I have found that the notice is not valid and legal, this further contention regarding the work- ing on all Sundays, need not be further considered in this case. It will be sufficient to state that if the employer thinks that Sunday working is necessary for some special reasons, then the minimum number of Sundays really required should be carefully selected and the workmen may be asked to work on those Sundays only after complying with section 52 of the Factories Act. However, before I conclude the discussion regarding the legality and validity of the notice, I would point out that there is no cogent evidence that the notice under section 52 of the Factories Act was really displayed in the factory. On this point, O.P.W. 2 had said that the notice was affixed to the notice board of the department and also on the main notice board of the factory. At the time of cross-examination O.P.W. 2 had said that he does not know if the notice regarding Sunday working had been filed in this Tribunal, that Ext. C is the notice which was given by the Company, that notice was never affixed to the notice board but was sent to the Inspector of Factories, that there was another notice which was affixed to the notice board, but he cannot say if the notice displayed on the notice board has been filed, and that he cannot also say if any copy of that notice displayed on the notice board had been sent to the Inspector of Factories. The evidence of O.P.W 2 certainly does not show that the notice under section 52 had really been displayed on the notice board of the factory. O.P.W. 3 had not said anything regarding the display of notice, dated 2nd May 1964. He has merely spoken about the sending of the notice to the Inspector of Factories and about the letter received from the Inspector of Factories. He has no doubt also stated that the provisions of the Factories Act had been complied with and reply had been received from the Factory Inspector that the notice regarding Sunday working was in order. But the evidence certainly is otherwise. At the time of cross-examination O.P.W. 3 had stated that without checking records, he cannot say whether Ext. C-1 is the notice as required under section 52 of the Factories Act and whether the notice had been served on the Inspector of Factories, Barackpore. O.P.W. 4 had stated that Shri Poddar who is the head time keeper in the time office had prepared the notice regarding the Sunday working regarding the drawing department in triplicate and had made over one copy to him, that he had affixed one copy of the notice to the departmental notice board and that all the workmen had seen the notice which he had affixed to the notice board. and that one or two workmen had gone for the purpose of working on 10th May 1964. He refers to Ext. C-1 as the notice which he had received from the time office. I have already referred to the suggestion to him including the suggestion that there is no notice board in the department and that it is not his duty to affix notice to the notice board. On this point, it appears from pages 8 and 9 of the written statement of the Company that the notice regarding Sunday working of the drawers and reachers, dated 2nd May 1964, had been duly pasted on the notice board in accordance with the provision of clause 5 of the standing orders of the Company, and a copy of the same was sent to the Factory Inspector to fulfil the requirement of the provision of the Factories Act. If really, there was compliance of clause 5 of the standing orders as stated in the written statement of the Company, then the notice was displayed in the notice board inside the factory. It has not been stated in the written statement that the notice was displayed on the departmental notice board. On the side of the workmen, there is the evidence that before 12th May 1964, they did not have any notice that they are required to work on Sundays. There is no cogent reason for not accepting the evidence on the side of the workmen. Therefore, it appears to me that even the provision regarding displaying the notice in the notice board in the factory has not been complied with. As the requirements of the law had not been complied with, the management, therefore, is certainly not justified in asking them to work on Sunday.

I shall now shortly discuss the other question whether the management is justified on facts in asking the workmen to work on Sunday. In view of my decision regarding the question of law, it is strictly not necessary to decide this question. However, as some evidence has been given and as the learned Advocates had made the submission on that question, I shall only shortly refer to the evidence in order to find out whether in the circumstances of the present case, the Company is justified in asking the workmen to work on Sundays with substitutional holidays. At page 8 of the written statement of the Company, it has been stated, inter alia, that Sunday working is the usual practice, that Sunday working enables the Company to get higher production to the tune of 15 to 20 per cent. of the usual production and that to meet the excise taxes, it has been found convenient and economical for all Textile Mills in West Bengal to work on Sundays. The only evidence on this point on behalf of the Company is the evidence of O.P.W. 3. He has stated that the benefits of Sunday working are—

(1) it directly adds 16 to 17 per cent. of the production;

(2) it maintains continuity of working in many production sides where it is material;

(3) it helps to avoid certain nature of stoppages; and

(4) as the working of certain departments is inter-dependent, Sunday working will contribute to the efficiency of the work of the other departments.

All these reasons have not been stated in the written statement of the Company. Regarding the alleged higher production on Sundays, I do not think any light is thrown by Exts. AD and AD-1 to which reference has been made. According to the Company, there had been Sunday workings previously in 1960 and also sometime later. The entries in the attendance registers (Exts. AC to AC-20 and Exts. AC-21 to AC-25) and also the entries in the attendance reports (Exts. AB and AB-1) do not throw any light on the quantity of production at the time of previous Sunday workings. It appears to me that excepting the bare statement of O.P.W. 3, there is no evidence that Sunday working directly adds 16 to 17 per cent. to the production. The production manager Sri A. N. Soshi who would have been the most competent person to depose, had not been examined in this case. In my opinion, he ought to have been examined not only to prove the extra production as a result of Sunday working, but also to prove the maintenance of ntinuity of working in many production sides, e avoidance of certain nature of stoppages and e increased efficiency of the work in the other partments. As I understand the learned Adcate appearing for the workmen, he did not mself dispute that there might be some extra oduction on Sunday working and that there ight be some avoidance of stoppages of work in her departments as a result of Sunday working. 'hatever that might be, I do not think that there e sufficient facts to warrant the conclusion that nday working is really necessary for efficiency d better production. I have not overlooked the ct that in the present economic condition of our untry, better and higher production is really cessary, but facts must be established before e Tribunal to show that really Sunday workings d substantialy to the production. In my opion, the Company has failed to establish it.

I have not entered into the question whether ere were really Sunday workings pre- ously. I ve consulted many of the registers and it appears at there had been no work on Sunday in many the departments including sizing and maintence departments. I would only refer to the evince of O.P.W. 2 to the effect that the operars and helpers of the Sizing and Dyeing Departent work on Sunday and that the other workers not have to work on Sunday and that he had not en the workers of the drawing department to ork on Sunday excepting Sundays agreed to by e Union. Some of the entries in the registers doubt show that there had been working on me Sundays previously, but it is not clear from e evidence on what basis some of the workmen d worked on those Sundays. There is also the greement (Ext. A) between the Union of worken and the Company. It would appear that for particular time the workmen agreed to work on Sundays as there was a bonus dispute. If Sunay working was a normal practice previously there absolutely no reason why there should have en separate agreement for Sunday working on 0th September 1962 and there is also no sufficient ason why the Company had to issue that notice der section 52, of the Factories Act. The learnd Advocate appearing for the Union had suggestd to O.P.W. 2 that various mills nearabout the ctory of the Company do not work on Sundays. .P.W. 2 had stated that he does not know if the orkmen employed in those mills do not work on undays. In this connection, I would point out at the learned Advocate Shri Moitra principally lied on the principles of industry-cum-regions asis. The learned Advocate, however did not duce any reliable evidence that in any similar dustries, there had been Sunday working. I ve therefore come to the conclusion that in the cts and circumstances of the case, it cannot be id that the Company had succeeded on proving e justification of Sunday working. This conusion will not bar the Company in starting Sunay working in future, provided the minimum mber of Sundays are worked and provided also at there are good and valid reasons for Sunday orkings. Before the Sunday working is done by e workers, the provisions of section 52 of the actories Act must be complied with. The Learned dvocate Shri Srimany has submitted that even the direction for Sunday working is found to be stified the workmen are entitled to get at least 1½ times the normal wages for working on Sundays. In support of his contention, the learned Advocate had referred me to the rulings reported in 1956 (II) L.L.J., 196 (Bombay Port Trust Employee's Union, vs. Bombay Port Trust) and 1957 (I) L.L.J., 324 (Engineering Mazdur Sabha vs. Shaparia Dock and Steel Co. Ltd.) In the first case as a result of application of the provisions of the Minimum Wages Act to the industry, the staggering system of weekly day of rest was introduced. It was held that if the day on which the work is done happens to be the workman's day of rest, he should get an alternative day of rest and payment shall be made at 1½ times of the normal daily wages. In the other case, it was held that if there is substitutional holiday for weekly rest day, the payment should be made at 1½ times to the normal wage inclusive of D.A. I think reference may also be made to the rulings reported in 1960 (1) L.L.J., 192 and 1956 L.A.C. 172. However, in view of my above finding, it is not necessary to pursue this question any further. If I had held that in direction for Sunday working was justified then I would have certainly directed the Company to pay 1½ (one-half) times the normal wages of the workmen concerned. This payment should be made by the Company within the month of working. This issue is disposed of accordingly.

Issue No. 4: The learned Advocates appearing for the parties had made no submission regarding the first part of Issue No. 4. The learned Advocates are agreed that the drawers and reachers of the Drawing department should be paid on piece-rate basis, and the drawers and reachers of the Weaving department should be paid on the time-rate basis. There is therefore no dispute on this point. It does not appear that there was ever any dispute and that it was ever contended that all the reachers and drawers should be paid on the piece-rate basis. The drawers and reachers of the Drawing department have a continuous flow of work and it is to their advantage that they should be paid on the piece-rate basis. It is also to the advantage of the Company inasmuch the Company gets usual quantity of work from those drawers and reachers. With regard to the drawers and reachers of the Weaving department, they had to move from place to place, and have to attend to the work when there is work to be done. They are therefore paid on the time-rate basis. I think the system of payment is quite fair not only to the workers, but also to the management. In the circumstance, there is no need to charge the system of payment to the drawers and reachers in the Drawing department and the system of payment to the drawers and reachers in the Weaving department. The first part of issue No. 4 is disposed of accordingly.

Regarding the second part of issue No. 4, it is not very clear what is meant by the word "other sections" mentioned in the issue No. 4. The evidence of both sides show that the work of the drawers and the reachers in the Drawing department is similar to the work of the drawers and the reachers in the Weaving department. The drawers and reachers cannot obviously work in other sections, as the work in the other sections is dis-similar in nature. The learned Advocates appearing for the parties understood the expression 'other sections' to mean the transfer from the Weaving department to the Drawing department. With regard to the question of transfer it is contended by Shri Srimani that there had been previously no transfer from the Drawing department to the Weaving department of the drawers and reachers and there was also no transfer from the Weaving department to the Drawing department. I do not think this argument can be accepted. There has been transfer previously as would appear from the registers which had been put in by the management and the oral evidence adduced but this is not decisive of the question. The standing orders of the Company (vide clause 17) provide for transfer of operatives from one department to another and one machine to another. It is further provided therein that the management as far as possible will endeavour to effect such transfer without any loss in the earnings of the operatives of a similar nature and that all operatives are bound to accept such transfer made. The learned Advocate Shri Maitra had also referred to the case reported in F.L.R. 1961 Vol.-II, part 6, page 281. In the case, the learned Judge Shri S. K. Roy had held that the service of an industrial worker is transferable from one office to the another of the same employer concern provided that there is no condition to the contrary in the terms of employment, that the transfer does not affect serious alterations in his service conditions and does not affect his earnings adversely and that the transfer is not mala fide or done with ulterior motive. I think reference may also be made to the ruling reported in 1960(1) L.L.J., 556 (S.C.) wherein it has been held that the transfer is a management function, that the employer need not assign any reason for transfer and that the transfer can be affected orally. In the rulings reported in 1958 (1) L.L.J., 229 and 1956 L.A.C., 474, it has been held that if there is want of good faith or victimisation the transfer can be held under objection. Even in the written statement of the Union, it has been stated that there could be transfer for bona fide reasons. Therefore, the management has undoubtedly the right to transfer the operatives but so far as the drawers and reachers are concerned, it appears to me that there is not even an allegation that there has been any mala fide transfer. In the issue, however, it has been stated about the conditions of transfer of the drawers and reachers. The learned Advocate Sri Srimani had submitted that even if there is any transfer from the Drawing department to the Weaving department, there should be no loss of earning and there should also be no loss of status or degradation and the nature of work must be similar. I think these contentions are fair and should be the conditions of transfer of the drawers and the reachers from the Drawing department to the Weaving department and vice-versa. The learned Advocate Sri Srimani, however, urged that it would take at least a month for the drawers or the reachers of the Drawing department to get used to the type of work in the Weaving department, and therefore, during this interim period, those drawers and reachers ought to be paid some compensation for loss of earnnings. In this connection, the learned Advocate has drawn my attention to the evidence of O.P.W. 3. at the time of cross-examination had stated that there should not be any loss of earning provided, of course, the operatives concerned work with same diligence as previously. He has stated further that it might be that Pankit Narayan who was transferred from the Weaving department to the Drawing department was paid some wages by way of compensation by vouchers, and that in genuine cases where there is loss due to transfer, the management gives wages by way of compensation to the workmen concerned. In my opinion, the standing orders itself provide that there should not be any loss of earning as a result of transfer and that before transfer the management must consider whether there would be any loss of earning of the workmen concerned as a result of the transfer. The management, if it finds as a result of transfer, there has been loss of earning, that loss must be compensated by payment of wages to the workmen concerned. I am further of opinion that the transfer should be made only when necessary and no workman should be transferred unless the work is similar.

In the result, this issue is disposed of in the light of my above findings. This is my award.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between the C. R. O. Canteen Committee of Messrs. Imperial Chemical Industries (India), Private Ltd., 18 Strand Road, Calcutta, and their workmen represented by Shri Mrinal Kanti Bose and six others, Canteen Staff of I. C. I. (I) Private Ltd., 34 Chowringhee Road, Calcutta. (Govt. Order No. 6444-I.R., dated the 2nd December 1964). (VIII. 352/64.)

BEFORE THE FOURTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL, CALCUTTA

Present :

Shri R. BHATTACHARYA, M. A., LL. B., Judge,
Fourth Industrial Tribunal.

For the workmen : Shri P. K. Sanyal, Advocate, and Shri T. P. Chatterjee, Advocate.

For the Canteen Committee : Shri N. Das Gupta, Advocate, and Shri D. Das Gupta, Advocate.

This is a reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act sent by the Government of West Bengal to this Tribunal with the following issue :

Is the dismissal of Shri Ramananda Bose justified ? To what relief, if any, is he entitled ?

The parties are the C. R. O. Canteen Committee of Messrs. Imperial Chemical Industries (India) Pvt. Ltd., 18 Strand Road, Calcutta, and their workmen represented by Shri Mrinal Kanti Bose and six others, Canteen Staff of I. C. I. (I) Pvt. Ltd., 34 Chowringhee Road, Calcutta.

On 19th February 1965 an application was filed by Mrinal Kanti Bose and others praying for time to file written statement on the ground that in the meantime they would get the reference corrected by the government. They wanted to say that the representative of the workmen had not been correctly described. Time was granted but there had been no amendment in the reference. The workmen filed a written statement. The C. R. O. Canteen Committee of 18 Strand Road, Calcutta, also filed written statement challenging the jurisdiction of this Tribunal. It has been alleged by the Canteen Committee that Mrinal Kanti Bose and six others as mentioned in the order of reference belonging to the Canteen Staff of I. C. I. (I) Pvt. Ltd., 34 Chowringhee Road, Calcutta, are strangers and that they cannot represent the workmen of C. R. O. Canteen of 18 Strand Road. In short, the Canteen Committee wants to say that Mrinal Kanti Bose and six others have no authority to represent the workmen of the C. R.O Canteen of 18 Strand Road. It has been alleged that the present dispute is but an individual dispute, if there be any. On merits also the Canteen Committee has made several allegations. When the matter came up for hearing, both the parties agreed that the preliminary and jurisdictional points raised from the side of the C. R. O. Canteen Committee should be decided first and, if necessary the case may be heard subsequently on merits. Consequently, for the purpose of preliminary points both the parties submitted several documents which were marked exhibits. On the side of Mrinal Kanti Bose and others only one witness was examined as P. W. 1. The Canteen Committee, however, did not examine any witness.

The following preliminary points were raised from the side of the C. R. O. Canteen Committee :

(i) Whether the present dispute is an industrial dispute ;

(ii) Whether Mrinal Kanti Bose and six others as mentioned in the order of reference as alleged to be Canteen Staff of I. C. I. (I) Private Ltd., 34 Chowringhee Road, can represent the workmen of C. R. O. Canteen of 18 Strand Road, and

(iii) Whether the Tribunal has jurisdiction to decide the present reference.

For the sake of convenience I shall consider the three points together as they are very much connected with each other. P. W. 1 is Mrinal Kanti Bose. He is the Supervisor of the Head Office Canteen, viz., the canteen which is in the Head Office of Messrs. Imperial Chemical Industries (India) Private Ltd., situated at 34 Chowringhee Road, Calcutta. We get from this witness that there is another canteen at the Calcutta Regional Office which is otherwise known as C. R. O. Canteen at 18 Strand Road. P. W. 1 has stated that there was a joint meeting of the members of the two canteens, namely, the canteen at 18 Strand Road and the canteen at 34 Chowringhee Road. He wants to say that in a joint meeting a resolution was passed. According to P. W. 1 Ext. 6 is the resolution passed in that meeting. Out of the seven persons mentioned in Ext. 6, Mrinal Kanti Bose goes as to say, Ramananda Bose, the person involved in the present case, Amulya Roy, Sailen Das and Kalachand Dutta belong to the C. R. O. Canteen of 18 Strand Road. We also get from P. W. 1 that he and two others out of the said seven persons nominated belong to the Head Office Canteen of 34 Chowringhee Road. In this connection some documents filed by Mrinal Kanti Bose and others should be considered. Ext. 1 is the charge-sheet served on Ramapada Bose. This is signed by the Secretary, C. R. O. Canteen Committee "C. R. O. Canteen Committee" is written on the top of Ext. 1. Ext. 1 (a) is the reply given by Ramapada Bose to the Secretary, C. R. O. Canteen Committee of I. C. I. There are other letters filed by Mrinal Kanti Bose and others showing that there were communications between the secretary, I. C. I., C. R. O., Canteen Committee, 18 Strand Road and Ramapada Bose who called himself Supervisor of I. C. I., C. R. O. Canteen Committee, 18 Strand Road, Calcutta. Exts. 4 and 5 are also letters written by the Secretary, I. C. I. Calcutta Regional Office Canteen, 18 Strand Road, Calcutta. From the reading of the documentary evidence as well as oral evidence of P. W. 1, I hold that the C. R. O. Canteen of Messrs. Imperial Chemical Industries (India) Private Ltd., at 18 Strand Road, is quite distinct from the Head Office Canteen of Messrs. Imperial Chemical Industries (India) Private Ltd., at 34 Chowringhee Road. These two canteens or the canteen committees are not at all connected with each other, administratively or otherwise. An attempt was made by Shri Sannyal for Mrinal Kanti Bose and others to argue that as the Calcutta Regional Office of the Imperical Chemical Industries (India) Private Ltd., is connected with the Head Office at Chowringhee Road, the C. R. O. Canteen at 18 Strand Road should be taken as connected with the other canteen of the Head Office of the Imperial Chemical Industries (India) Private Ltd., at 34 Chowringhee Road. I have already found that the evidence of P. W. 1 and the other documentary evidence clearly prove that the C. R. O Canteen Committee at 18 Strand Road is independent and it has got no connection with the canteen in the Head Office of the Imperial Chemical Industries (India) Private Ltd., at 34 Chowringhee Road.

It has been next argued by Shri Sanyal for the workmen that Ext. 6, the resolution passed in the joint meeting of the workmen of both the canteens will show that the workmen of the C. R. O. Canteen at 18 Strand Road authorised seven persons, some belonging to the C. R. O. Canteen and some to the Head Office Canteen, to represent the workmen in their dispute. It is to be noted in this connection that except Mrinal Kanti Bose of the Head Office Canteen no other person belonging to the C. R. O. Canteen has come forward before this Tribunal to give evidence that, in fact, there was such a meeting, that such resolution was passed and that the workmen of the C. R. O. Canteen of 18 Strand Road authorised the seven persons mentioned in the resolution to deal with the present dispute. Mere filing a document containing some resolutions will not prove that any such resolutions were duly passed in a proper meeting or that the contents of the documents are all true. There is no important, necessary and reliable witness to support the statements of Mrinal Kanti Bose in this case. It is curious that none of the workmen of the C. R. O. Canteen have come forward to say that the seven persons mentioned in Ext. 6 or some other persons have been duly authorised to espouse the cause of the workmen of the C. R. O. Canteen. I must say that I have got no reliable evidence to accept that Ext. 6 contains as resolution duly passed in the meeting as alleged. There is another fact to be mentioned. Shri Sannyal has argued that Ext. 6 will prove that the workmen of the C. R. O. Canteen duly authorised the seven persons to espouse the cause of the workmen of the C. R. O. Canteen in the present case. I have read and re-read Ext. 6. The resolution mentioned in Ext. 6 relates to some other disputes which the workmen of Messrs. Imperial Chemical Industries (India) Private Ltd., employed in their canteens at the Head Office and the Calcutta regional office, left in the hands of seven persons. The items of disputes have been mentioned. The dispute mentioned in the present reference before me has not been included in the items clearly stated in Ext. 6. Again, according to Ext. 6, the said meeting was held on 16th June 1960. But according to the case of Mrinal Kanti Bose and others in the present reference, the present dispute relates to the dismissal of Ramananda Bose who had been illegally removed from service by a letter, dated 28th November 1960. How on earth could there be any authorisation by the workmen in respect of a dispute which was raised long after the date of authorisation ? It is futile to argue that Ext. 6 proves that the workmen of C. R. O. Canteen authorised Mrinal Kanti Bose and others to pursue the dispute relating to the dismissal of Ramananda Bose. From the evidence, facts and circumstnaces appearing in this case, I find that the workmen of the C. R. O. Canteen of Messrs. Imperial Chemical Industries (India) Private Ltd., at 18 Strand Road, Calcutta, did not espouse the cause of Ramananda Bose of C. R. O. Canteen, that these workmen did not authorise Sri Mrinal Kanti Bose and six others or any other person to take up or pursue the case of Shri Ramananda Bose, that Shri Mrinal Kanti Bose and six others as mentioned in the order of reference and in Ext. 6 have no authority to represent the workmen of C. R. O. Canteen, and that the dispute before me relating to the dismissal of Shri Bose is not an industrial dispute as defined by the Industrial Disputes Act. The workmen of the C. R. O. Canteen of the Imperial Chemical Industries (India) Private Ltd., of 18 Strand Road, are not interested in the present dispute. In view of my findings above, I must, therefore, hold that this Tribunal has no jurisdiction to decide the present reference.

When I have decided that this Tribunal has no jurisdiction to adjudicate upon the issue under reference, the question of merits relating to the dismissal of Ramamnanda Bose does not arise. The present reference, therefore, fails for its being incompetent and for want of jurisdiction of this Tribunal.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Bengal Medical Hall, 20 Aurobindo Road, Salkia, Howrah and their workmen represented by West Bengal Shops and Establishment Employees' Association, 12/13 Cowies Ghat Road, Sibpore, Howrah (Case No. VIII—295/64.)

Present:

Shri K. P. MUKHERJI, Judge,
Fifth Industrial Tribunal.

Present for the Company : Shri A. Sarkar, Labour Adviser of the Company.

Present for the Union : Shri S. R. Ghosh, Advocate.

The above industrial dispute was referred to this Tribunal under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 4534-I.R. IR 11L-139/64, dated 29th September 1964, for adjudication upon the following issue:

Issue

Whether the refusal of employment to Sarbasree Provat Kumar Bagchi, Nani Gopal Aich and Monoranjan Hazra is justified? To what relief, if any, are they entitled?

After receipt of the reference from Government on 3rd October 1964, usual notices were issued to the parties concerned fixing 14th November 1964 for their appearance and for filing written statement by the Union. Both parties entered appearance on 14th November 1964 and the Union filed its written statement on that date, and 30th November 1964 was fixed for filing written statement by the Company. On 30th November 1964 the Company filed a petition for further time for filing its written statement, and time was allowed till 21st December 1964 for the purpose. The Company again took time thrice for filing written statement and ultimately filed its written statement on 15th February 1965. The case was fixed for hearing on 26th July 1965, and after several adjournments it was fixed for hearing on 1st September 1965. On that date the parties filed a joint petition of compromise stating therein that the dispute between the parties had been settled amicably out of Court on terms set-forth in the petition of compromise, and prayed that a compromise award might be made in terms of the petition of compromise filed. The terms of compromise appear to be quite fair and reasonable and I am satisfied that there has been a bona fide settlement of the dispute between the parties. The petition of compromise is accepted and I pass a "no dispute" award as prayed for. The petition of compromise is made a part of the award as Annexure A.

This is my award.

BEFORE THE SIXTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri P. BASU, Bar-at-law, Judge.

AWARD

The Government of West Bengal, by order No. 1975-I.R./IR/11L-118/65, dated the 2nd June 1965, had referred the following industrial dispute between Messrs. Joseph Herberts & Co. (hereinafter referred to as the Company) and their workmen represented by West Bengal Shops and Establishment Employees' Association (hereinafter referred to as the Association), to this Tribunal for its adjudication.

Issue

Whether dismissal of Shri Gokul Chandra Laha is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

After the service of the notice, the Company had put in a written statement. The Association, however, had taken several dates for filing the written statement after the filing of the written statement by the Company and on 2nd September 1965 which was the last date fixed for filing the written statement, the Association did not take any step. The Tribunal granted time suo moto till 17th September 1965 for filing the written statement. As the matter has been settled, it is not necessary to state in detail the defences in the written statement filed by the Company. It has been stated, inter alia, that Shri Gokul Chandra Laha (hereinafter referred to as Shri Laha) was working as an Officer-in-charge and used to control and supervise all the works of the Company, that therefore Shri Laha is not a workman and the reference is invalid in law, that the Association mentioned in the order of reference is not competent to raise the industrial dispute on behalf of Shri Laha, that Shri Laha had taken Rs. 100 on 12th October 1963 in the name of Cuttak Cycle Stores, Dumhatta, Cuttack and that inspite of repeated request by the cashier, Shri Laha did not submit any account. It is further stated that on enquiry, the proprietor came to know that there was really no Company in the name of Cuttack Cycle Stores and accordingly charge-sheet was issued to Shri Laha, who submitted his explanation on 22nd July 1964. After the explanation was submitted, the proprietor had scrutinised all the documents and papers and found the explanation to be unsatisfactory, and therefore, had fixed the date of enquiry on 31st August 1964. At the enquiry Shri Laha was present but did not give any evidence and did not also cross-examine the witnesses of the Company. After completing the enquiry, the enquiring officer submitted his findings, and thereafter Shri Laha was dismissed by the letter, dated 19th September 1964. It is submitted that the dismissal of Shri Laha is therefore justified.

As mentioned earlier, the Association had not filed any written statement. This day, a petition of compromise has been filed, signed by the Advocate Shri S. R. Ghosh on behalf of the Association, by Shri Sibnath Chatterjee who is the Secretary of the Association and by Shri Rabin Mazumdar who is the Advocate for the Company. It would appear that the Company had paid a sum of Rs. 147 to the Secretary of the Association in full and final settlement of the dispute and that no further dispute is pending. I have heard the learned Advocates and also the Secretary. It appears to me that the terms are reasonable, bona fide, legal and should be given effect to. Accordingly an award is passed in terms of the petition of compromise making the petition of compromise an annexure to the award. This is my award.

BEFORE THE SECOND INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri AMBIKA PADA BHATTACHARYA, Judge,
Second Industrial Tribunal.

By order No. 6424-I.R./IR/11L-398/64, dated Calcutta, the 1st December, 1964, Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, referred an Industrial dispute between Messrs. Wool Combers of India Ltd., P.O. Jagatdal, and their workmen represented by Issac Holdens (India) Ltd. Workers' Union for adjudication regarding the only issue contained in the order of reference.

Issue

Whether the dismissal of the following workmen is justified? What relief, if any, are they entitled to?

1. Shri Bagey Singh,
2. Shri Jugal Kishore,
3. Shri Ramprosad,
4. Shri Sukram Jadav,
5. Shri Joseph Singhral alias Arjun.

This is a reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act. The reference was received on 28th December 1964. It involves an issue of dismissal of five workmen. Both parties filed their respective written statements. The Union in their written statement stated that this company is a biggest concern in Wool Combing Industry dealing with wool, rayon, nylon, etc. The five workmen Bagey, Jugal Kishore, Ramprosad, Sukram and Joseph Singhral alias Arjun, were permanent workmen of the company. They were charge-sheeted for riotous and disorderly conduct to which they submitted their replies. The replies were in respect of an incident, dated 23rd June 1964, in the recess period from 10 a.m. to 10-30 a.m. The Union states that the workmen were taking their tiffin in the recess period. Jugal Kishore while taking his tiffin felt a lump in his chest and he was in need of water. He went to find water from a tap (wrongly described as tube-well) beyond the pantry. He was passing through the pantry for that purpose. When he was entering the pantry Jagadish caught hold of him and pushed him on the ground. The other workmen rendered help to Jugal. Nothing held thereafter. According to the workmen no durwan was posted at the pantry. The charge alleged against the workmen is false. The management did not hold any proper enquiry. The principles of natural justice were violated. The enquiry was perfunctory. On 31st August 1964, the workmen were dismissed. The dismissal is challenged as illegal and mala fide.

The company filed a written statement wherein they admitted that the five workmen were charge-sheeted. They were guilty of riotous and disorderly conduct subversive of discipline. on 23rd June 1964, at about 10-20 a.m. Shri Jadadish durwan who was on duty at the canteen found Jugal Kishore entering the pantry of the canteen. He was prevented by the durwan. He forcibly entered the pantry. Durwan dragged him out of the pantry. Thereafter Jugal Kishore and Ramprosad assaulted the durwan Jagadish while the other three workmen Bagey, Sukram and Arjun instigated them in the assault. All the five persons were accordingly charge-sheeted under clause (viii) of section 13 of the certified Standing Orders of the company.

Sukram had another charge-sheet for an inci-nt on 27th June 1964, at 1-45 p.m. While Shri K. Ghosh, Labour Officer, was explaining the rge-sheet to Sukram he was abused in filthy guage by Sukram and also threatened with dire sequence. Enquiries had been made into all three charge-sheets and all the five workmen re found guilty of the charge of rioting and orderly conduct.

Sukram was found guilty of the further charge absenting and threatening the labour officer. those findings letters of dismissals were issued all of them. The dismissal is justified.

Appearances of the parties are as follows:—

For the Company: Shri Pankoj Ghosh, Advocate.

Decision

All the five workmen are admittedly permanent rkmen of the company. They were charge-eted on 27th June 1964. The charge-sheets are rked Ext. A series. The charge is the same inst all the five workmen. They were charged h disorderly behaviour and act subversive of cipline. The Standing Orders have also been oted in the charge-sheets. The incident alle-l is that on 23rd June 1964, at 10-20 a.m. Jaga-h durwan who was on duty at the canteen was aulted by Jugal Kishore and Ramprosad and the said act they were instigated by other three rkmen, namely, Bagey, Sukram and Arjun. e Standing Orders which is said to have been lated is clause (vii), section VIII. The certi-l copy of Standing Orders is filed and marked t. M. If the incident as alleged is proved then act of the guilty persons would amount to lation of clause (viii) of the said Standing lers which provide that—> "Drunkenness, intoxication, riotous or dis-orderly behaviour during working hours at the establishment or any act, sub-versive of discipline.....".

The workmen received the charge-sheets. They mitted explanations which are Exts. B series. mittedly there had been enquiries held pursuant service of notice of enquiry. In the notice of quiry the workmen was directed to be present h his witnesses as well on the date of enquiry. will now turn to the enquiry proceedings. In written statement of the Union the only llenge thrown against the enquiry is that "it s not a proper enquiry and the principles of ural justice were violated". There is no speci-mention of any of the infirmities which are vassed before me at the time of argument. The tten statement is in vague and in general terms. enquiry proceedings against Jugal Kishore is t. D(3) and the enquiring officers were Mr. A. Guha and Mr. A. K. Ghosh. Ext. D(1) is the quiry proceedings in respect of the charge inst Ramprosad. Shri A. B. Guha and Shri K. Ghosh were the enquiring officers. Ext. 2) is the enquiry proceedings against Bagey gh, Joseph Singhral alias Arjun and Sukram and the enquiring officers were Shri A. B. Guha and Shri T. Lynch. These are the enquiry proceedings in respect of the charge-sheets over the incident of 23rd June 1964. Shri Guha or Shri Linch was not examined. Shri A. K. Ghosh was examined and he proved the enquiry proceed-ings in respect of which he was a member. In the enquiry proceedings against Sukram he was present and this will appear from the proceeding of enquiry. He is therefore a competent witness to prove the enquiry proceedings. The enquiry pro-ceeding are challenged before me at the time of argument on several grounds. The first ground of attack is that the enquiring officer himself asked questions to the witnesses. This procedure is objec-ted to. I have perused the records very carefully; it would be the duty of the enquiring officer to ask questions to the witnesses. It cannot be ex-pected in domestic enquiry that the management would appoint a prosecutor to conduct the case on their side. It would be the duty of the enquiring officer to elicit truth from the witnesses by putting questions to them. He is even entitled to cross-examine the witnesses for the purpose of eliciting the truth and for the purpose of veracity of the witness. I cannot therefore blame the enquiring officers on that ground and stigmatise his conduct as bias. This is not a question of bias at all. Leading questions is also permissible at domestic enquiries. The enquiry proceeding was generally conducted in this manner. Witnesses for the management was examined one after another, after the charge-sheeted person was given oppor-tunity of explaining the charge. As soon as a witness was examined the charge-sheeted persons were given opportunities of cross-examining him. It is in evidence that Probhunath Singh was present at the enquiry to represent the interest of the workmen. In all the proceedings it is men-tioned that his name was suggested by the work-men concerned. The proceeding was held openly in presence of the workmen and their selected re-presentative Shri Probhunath Singh. In this manner the record of evidence of witnesses was made. In conclusion the charge-sheeted persons were asked questions and thereby they were afforded opportunities of making statements. Then the witnesses produced by charge-sheeted persons were examined one after another. At the end of each sheet Shri Guha himself signed and the witnesses also gave their signature below the respective statements. It is the evidence of Shri Ghosh, Labour Officer, as well as that of other witnesses of the company that the evidence was read over and explained to the witnesses in pre-sence of the accused. As to the procedure of re-cording of the statement at the proceedings, the evidence is that one Jamini Babu, a clerk of Anglo Indian Jute Mill, which is a sister concern, took down the statements in long hand and there was a typist present at the proceeding who typed them immediately after. This was the procedure followed and the typed sheets were signed by the enquiring officer as well as the witnesses. Shri Roy appearing for the Union takes serious excep-tion to this procedure and demands that the ori-ginal record of Jamini Babu ought to have been produced. I cannot appreciate this objection. The proceeding was openly held in presence of the workmen and their representative. The state-ments were made by witnesses and they were taken down in long hand by Jamini Babu and on that very spot they were typed by typist immediately the writing was over. These typed sheets form the original record because they were signed not only by the enquiry officer Mr. Guha but also by the witnesses. I cannot therefore say that the writing of Jamini Babu would form the original record. The operation of writing in long hand by Jamini Babu and typing proceeded at the same sitting and before the hearing was concluded the records were made ready. There cannot be any reasonable objection. It must be held that all the typed copies do form the original record. This is not a detect on which I can pronounce that the proceeding was vitiated. I have perused the record and from the same I cannot say that it is a dishonest rendering of actual statement of witnesses. That is not the case of the Union anywhere in the written statement. The Union urges before me on the evidence of Shri Bagey Singh and other workmen that the recorded proceeding was not explained in Hindi to them. This is obviously an afterthought. It is not in the written statement. Even if I accept the contention that the record was not explained in Hindi I must say that it is not the bounden duty of the enquiry officer to read over and explain the statements after they were recorded in an open proceeding. Even if there is any such detect it will not vitiate the enquiry proceeding nor would it be an infirmity which can be characterised as vital or opposed to the principles of natural justice. It is significant to note that the workmen never ventilated their grievances on this point by addressing any letter through their Union to the management. There is no complaint even to the Union by the workmen on this ground. It is obviously therefore an afterthought. In my considered opinion the proceeding was fairly conducted and the workmen had been given every opportunity of defending themselves. As a matter of fact, they tendered witnesses whose statements were duly recorded by the enquiry officer. The enquiry was not opposed to the principles of natural justice and it was a fair and proper enquiry. The enquiry proceedings were concluded and separate findings were recorded. The findings are Ext. F series. The enquiring officer found the workmen guilty of the charge for reasons given in the findings. Thereafter letters of dismissal, Ext. G serise, were issued. Now the question is whether the charge had been proved at the enquiry. There is ample evidence on which the enquiring officer reasonably rely. Durwan Jagadish who was assaulted was examined. He stated that he was on duty at the pantry and Jugal Kishore was entering it though admission to the pantry was not permissible. Durwan pulled him out. The durwan Jagadish and Jugal Kishore both went to the Labour Office. The Labour Officer Shri A. K. Guha was away from the office. Jay Mongal Prosad, Prosad Singh, clerks of Labour Office came towards the canteen where in their presence he was assaulted by Jugal Kishore and Ramprosad at the instigation of Bagey Singh, Sukram and Arjun. At the enquiry Jay Mongal Prosad, Prosad Singh, Jagadish durwan and other witnesses were examined. There was therefore cogent evidence before the domestic Tribunal for coming to the conclusion that the durwan was assaulted by Jugal ; others, following the intervention of the dur when Jugal Kishore attempted to enter pantry. The pantry was out of bounds to workmen. The jurisdiction of the Tribunal limited to the enquiry as to whether a pr facie case has been made out by the emplo against the employee. On the evidence le the enquiry it was certainly possible for the quiring officer to arrive at the conclusion in qu tion. It is not necessary for the Tribunal to whether that would be the only conclusion. that is a possible conclusion, the Tribunal will fuse to interfere. The Tribunal will however terfere if there is victimisation or unfair lab practice. There is no evidence of victimisat or unfair labour practice in this case. Ba wanted to say that there are two Unions, on Communist Union and another I. N. T. U Bagey Singh and others were members of I T. U. C. which was not favoured by the compa This is the evidence of Bagey Singh. On beh of the company Shri A. K. Ghosh, Labour Offi denies the allegation. There may be Unions among the workmen but there is noth to show that the company favours one partic Union. That is merely an allegation which is proved by any cogent evidence. There is no son why the company would victimise five wo men out of 1,000 workmen in this concern.

Even if it is held that the enquiry proceed was not fair and proper the company has produ before the Tribunal abundant evidence on wh the conclusion of guilt can be reached. Char are proved before the Tribunal as well on the dence of O. P. W. 2 Shri Jay Mongal Prosad clerk of the Labour Office who was an eye w ness of the occurrence, O. P. W. 3 Shri Ja dish durwan who was the victim of assault, O W. 5 Mundrika Ram O. P. W. 6 Ramesw Pandey and O. P. W. 7 Shri Ram Ajodh The durwan was on duty at the canteen. It w appear from the duty roster Ext. H Entry into the pantry attached to the cant hall was forbidden to the workers. Ju Kishore forced to enter by pushing the durw the durwan pulled him, altercation followed, t came the assault on the durwan. The assault w made by Jugal and Ramprosad. Bagey Sing Sukram and Arjun shouted "Maro Sal Dekha Jai Ga". This is a clear instigati The charges are accordingly proved.

Before the Tribunal there is an additio charge against Sukram. It is an incident w the Labour Officer himself. He abused Labour Officer in filthy language on 27th Ju 1964. There was an enquiry in respect of t charge separately held by Shri A. B. Guha Shri T. Lynch. Ext. D is the enquiry proceedin Witnesses at the enquiry were Shri A. K. Gho Labour Officer, Shri S. M. Hauhari, Secur Officer, who was an eye witness. There are ot witnesses such as Jaymongal Prosad, Pro Singh, etc. The enquiring officer relied upon evidence before him and came to the finding t Sukram abused the Labour Officer in filthy lan age and this is act subversive of discipline which dismissal is the appropriate punishme

The enquiry was fair and the findings are supported by cogent evidence. It cannot be characterised as perverse. Even if the enquiry is condemn, the matter was at large before the Tribunal. I have no reason to disbelieve the evidence of Shri S. M. Hauhari, Security Officer, who was present there and which corroborates the evidence of Shri Ghosh, Labour Officer, who was abused and insulted. Actual words used by Sukram are quoted in the evidence by Mr. Hauhari. Sukram threatened the Labour Officer by saying "Dekho Sala Ghosh Samalo". He had also uttered very filthy language such as "Ham Sala Sab Madar Chod Ko Dekh Lenga". These are extremely insulting and filthy language which a worker should not dare to utter before a superior officer. This is an act which is certainly subversive of discipline and only punishment should be dismissal.

Having analysed the evidence before me I hold that the enquiry against all the five workmen had been fairly conducted and the findings are not perverse. There is no victimisation of unfair labour practice. That being so, the Tribunal will refuse to interfere.

Coming to the merits of the case the management has succeeded in proving the charges to the hilt by producing evidence before the Tribunal as well I hold accordingly that the dismissal of the five workmen is justified. They are not entitled to any relief.

Before I conclude I should mention that the Union in their argument stated before me that Shri Ghosh participated in the enquiry against Sukram and Shri Ghosh being himself the principal witness in the second charge-sheet should not have done so. In this connection Shri Ghosh (O. P. W. 4) in his evidence before the Tribunal made the following statement in cross-examination.

> "In the enquiry of Jugal and Ramprosad I was in the Enquiry Committee. Enquiry proceeding was written by Jamini Babu. When the enquiry of other three workers were held I was present at the request of three workers. I did not talk to the workers. The workers told me that they wanted me to be present..... The workers demanded my presence as member of the Enquiry Committee. So I attended the enquiry of three workers. I acted as a member of the Enquiry Committee".

On this evidence it is commented that since Shri Ghosh was a member of the Enquiry Committee against Sukram, the enquiry is vitiated at least against Sukram. In this connection the enquiry proceedings Ext. D (2) may be referred to. It is the enquiry proceedings in respect of the common charge against three persons including Sukram At page 2 the following note is made.

> "Mr. Guha at this stage advised Mr. Ghosh, Labour Officer, not to be present at this enquiry because Mr. Ghosh has some connection with another charge-sheet issued against Sukram which is linked to the present one. But all the three persons including Sukram said they wanted that Mr. Ghosh being the Labour Officer of this mill, should be present at the enquiry throughout and as such it was decided by the enquiry committee that on the request of the three persons Mr. Ghosh be present at the enquiry".

In this enquiry proceeding Mr. Guha and Mr. T. Lynch were the members of the enquiry committee and Mr. Ghosh was not. It is obvious that Mr. Ghosh is making a confusion. He was a member of the Enquiry Committee in respect of the other two workmen but not in respect of the enquiry against Sukram and two others held jointly. The evidence of Mr. Ghosh as well as the comment in the enquiry proceeding Ext. D (1) which I have quoted in extenso will conclusively prove that fact that Mr. Ghosh was present at the request of the workers themselves, not as a member of the Enquiry Committee but being the Labour Officer his presence was wanted by the workmen. The evidence of Mr. Ghosh is palpably a confused one. The enquiry proceeding Ext. D (2) is not therefore vitiated so far as Sukram is concerned. The workers, as I have already stated are not entitled to any relief.

This is my award.

By order No. 3106 IR./IR./7L-17/64, dated Calcutta, the 9th July 1965, Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, referred an industrial dispute between Messrs. Probartak Jute Mills and their workmen represented by Probartak Jute Mill Mazdoor Union for adjudication regarding the issue contained in the order of reference.

Issue

Whether the termination of employment of Shri Susil Kumar Ghosh is justified ? To what relief, if any, is he entitled ?

This is a reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act. The termination of employment of Shri Susil Kumar Ghosh was the issue referred. Before any of the parties filed written statement after service notice of reference the parties appeared and on 14th September 1965 an application was filed on behalf of the Union stating that the dismissed employee had been employed in another concern and he had received payment of his dues from this company and as such the Union was no more interested in persueing the dispute. A "no dispute" award is accordingly made.

The two cases are taken up together for analogous aring on the prayer of the parties for the sake of venience, as common questions and facts of law re involved in both the cases, and this award shall overn both the cases.

After service of notices to the parties concerned, hey entered appearance and filed their respective ritten statements. The case of the Union, so far as he first reference, dated the 30th September 1963, is oncerned, shortly stated, is as follows :

Messrs. East Bengal Engineering Works, hereinfter referred to as the Company, is a highly prosperous ngineering concern. It employs about 400 workmen ncluding a large number of workmen as contract abourers. The workmen are extremely low paid nd the workmen are exploited by the Company in arious ways. The workmen, with the object of collective bargaining formed a Union, and the Union took p the cause of the workmen and tried to redress their rievances. But it failed to do anything for them on ccount of the unsympathetic attitude on the part of he management. The Union wrote to the management demanding that 32 workmen should be made ermanent as they are employed in regular jobs of permanent nature. While the Union was pressing for permaency of the 32 workmen mentioned in the Annexure to the written statement, the Company suddenly etrenched 12 of the workmen and subsequently terminated the services of 3 more workmen during the conciliation proceedings. That of the 15 workmen whose ervices were terminated, a reference has been made by he Government in respect of 6 workmen for adjudication egarding the justifiability of their discharge. The ischarge of these workmen is said to be unjustified nd mala fide, and was actuated by a motive of unfair abour practice on the part of the Company. The Union has prayed for directing the Company to make ermanent the 28 workmen mentioned in issue No. 1 o the reference and also to reinstate the 6 workmen n issue No. 2 with full back wages for the period of heir forced non-employment.

The case of the Union, so far as the second order of eference, dated 25th April 1964, is concerned, shortly tated, is as follows : The Union by a letter written o the Managing Director on 16th April 1963 demanded that 32 workmen mentioned in the list attached to the letter should be made permanent as they were employed in regular job of a permanent nature. That while the Union was pressing for permanency of the workmen mentioned in Annexure A-1 to the written statement, the Company suddenly retrenched 12 of the workmen and during the pendency of the conciliation proceedings, terminated the services of 4 more of the workmen. The State Government has referred the cases of only 10 workmen mentioned in issue No. 2 for adjudication regarding the justifiability of the termination of their services. It is alleged that there was no dearth of work for the 16 workmen who were discharged, and their discharge is said to be unjustified and mala fide. So far as the workman Bijoy Gopal Roy is concerned, he was an employee of the Company for about 10 years and he was also a member of the Executive Committee of the Union. He was given a charge-sheet and after a so-called enquiry into the charge-sheet, he was dismissed from service, and in dismissing him the Company was actuated by a motive of victimisation and unfair labour practice. The Union has prayed for reinstatement of the workmen in issue No. 2 of the order of reference with full back wages for the period of their non-employment, and for permanency of the workmen mentioned in issue No. 1 to the order of reference.

The Company has filed separate written statements in both the cases in reply to the writtten statement filed by the Union. The case of the Company, so far as the first reference is concerned, is as follows :

The Company was primarily established for the purpose of repairing vessels and other boats belonging to the parent Company known as East Bengal River Steam Services. In course of time the Company also undertook repair works and also construction of new vessels for other concerns as the repair works of vessels belonging to the parent Company was neither constant nor regular. The Company, in course of its business of repair works, employed about 250 permanent workmen of different categories, and it also employed temporary workers as and when occasions arose due to pressure of work. The workers mentioned in issue No. 1 to this reference who have claimed for being made permanent, were either employed temporarily or were employed for casual work. Out of the 28 persons mentioned in issue No. 1, ten persons are no longer in service of the Company, and the workman Narayan Chandra Roy has also started working as independent contractor and, as such, the question of making them permanent does not arise. The workmen mentioned in issue No. 1 were appointed on a temporary basis as and when necessity arose, and on completion of their job they were discharged, and some of them were again later on re-employed according to necessity. These workmen were never in continuous service of the Company from the date of their appointment and, as such, their claim for being made permanent is liable to be rejected.

As regards the workmen mentioned in issue No. 2 it is stated that they were employed on a temporary basis and on completion of their work, their services were terminated. Five of the workmen were re-employed after their discharge when work became available for them and were again discharged when they could not be provided with works. These five workmen are still working on temporary basis. As such the question of their taking back does not arise, and the claim of the Union is liable to be rejected, so far as these workmen are concerned.

The case of the Company, so far as the second reference, dated 25th April 1964, is concerned may, shortly, be stated as follows :

The 4 workmen named in issue No. 1 to the reference were employed on temporay basis, and on completion of their work for which they were employed, their services were terminated. The question of making them permanent, therefore, does not arise. As regards the workmen mentioned in issue No. 2 in the reference, all of them except Bijoy Gopal Roy were appointed on temporary basis, and their services were terminated as soon as the work for which they were employed was completed. So far as the workman Bijoy Gopal Roy is concerned, he was given a charge-sheet for misconduct, and he submitted a reply to the same. Thereafter an enquiry was held into the charge-sheet issued against him, and he was dismissed from service as the enquiring officer found him guilty of the charge brought against him. It is denied that the dismissal of Bijoy Gopal Roy was actuated by any spirit of victimisation for his trade union activities. The claims of the Union for permanency of the workmen mentioned in issue No. 1, and for reinstatement of the workmen mentioned in issue No. 2 to the reference are liable to be rejected, and these workmen are not entitled to any of the reliefs claimed.

Decision

Issue No. 7 (in both the references)

Both parties adduced oral evidence and also produced documents in support of their respective cases. Issue No. 1 in both the references are taken up together for consideration for the sake of convenience as the question involved in the issue is substantially the same. In issue No. 1 of the earlier reference, dated the 30th September 1963, the number of workmen involved as per list attached thereto is 28 and the workmen involved in issue No. 1 of the later reference, dated the 25th April 1964, are 4 in number. Out of the 28 workmen involved in issue No. 1 of the first reference, the Union did not press the claim of 12 workmen, viz., serial Nos. 4, 11, 12, 14, 16, 18 and 21 to 26 in the list attached to the order of reference, and confined its claim only to the remaining 16 workmen. At the hearing the Union pressed the claim of these 16 workmen, and the 4 other workmen mentioned in issue No. 1 in the second reference. Thus the total number of workmen whose claim was pressed by the Union at the hearing is 20. Out of the 16 workmen in issue No. 1 in the first reference whose claim was pressed by the Union at the hearing, a joint petition of compromise was filed by 12 workmen and the management. In that joint petition of compromise, dated 28th May 1965, workmen Narayan Chandra Debnath (S1·28), Manindra Nath Sharma (S1·7), Santudas (S1·27), Bijoy Jana (S1·6), Ganesh Maity (S1·8), Brindaban Bora (S1·13), Monoranjan Das (S1·19), Sudhir Karmakar (wrongly described as Sudhir Kumar Kar) (S1·3), Bhusan Chandra Ghosh, (S1·5), Sambhunath Ghosh (S1·2), Rakhal Chandra Maity (S1·9) and Ranjit Das (S1·10) and two of the workmen named in issue No. 1 in the second reference, namely, Bharat Kumar Kuril (S1·d) and Babadin (S filed a joint petition of compromise. In this joint tion of compromise, dated 28th May 1965, it is st that the dispute between the Company and t workmen, so far as issue No. 1 in both the refere is concerned, has been amicably settled between t out of Court on terms contained in paragraph 3 o petition. A copy of this petition was served on Union on record. Subsequently 2 other work namely, Sheikh Goultan in issue No. 1 of the se reference, and Gopal Das in issue No. 2 of the reference, and the Company filed a joint petitio compromise stating therein that the dispute bet them had been amicably settled and a con mise award might be made so far as they are conce A copy of this petition was also served on the U on record. The Secretary of the Union filed a pet objecting to the acceptance of the compromise pet inter alia on the grounds that the signatures o workmen were obtained on compromise peti on false representations made to them and by exer undue influence on them. No petition denying allegation was made on behalf of the Company. amongst the workmen whose signatures appear on petition of compromise, namely, Sambhu G Sudhir Karmakar, Bhusan Chandra Ghosh, Bijoy Manindra Sharma, Ganesh Maity, Rakhal Cha Maity and Sheikh Goultan, appeared before me all of them except Bijoy Jana stated that they put signatures on the petitions without knowing the con thereof, at the instance of the Labour Officer o Company who held out false promises to them. of these workmen, viz., Ganesh Maity, Sheikh Gou and Bijoy Jana, have also taken oaths. Ga Maity and Sheikh Goultan have stated that they their signatures on the petitions of compromise a Labour Officer promised to take them back in ser but they did not know the contents thereof. Jana has, however, stated that Ganesh Maity s the petition with full knowledge of its contents. Th thus oath against oath, so far as Ganesh Maity is cerned, and as regards the others none on behalf o Company has pledged his oath to deny that the w men put their signatures on the petition of compro with full knowledge of the contents thereof. The w men who are interested in the dispute and who denied knowledge of the terms of compromise, sh not be held bound by the petitions of compro So far as the other workmen who are parties to the promise and who have not come to deny the compro there is no reason to suppose that they did not the terms of the compromise and, so far as they concerned, I am satisfied that there has been fide settlement of the dispute between them and Company on terms which appear to be fair and re able, and they must be held bound by the compro I accordingly accept the petition of compromis far as the workmen Narayan Debnath, Bharat K Kuril, Santu Das, Bijoy Jana, Brindaban Bera, M ranajn Das, Babadin and Ranjit Das are conce and make a 'no dispute' award in respect of t As regards the remaining workmen involved in No. 1 in the first reference, namely, Gunadhar Sambhu Ghosh, Sudhir Karmakar, Bhusan G Manindra Sharma, Ganesh Maity, Rakhal M Gopal Das, and in the second reference, Sheikh Go and Nandalal Adak, it is to be considered wh their claim for permanency is justified. The of the Union is that these workmen have put in se varying between 2½ years and 6 years, as shown in Annexure-A1 to the Union's written statement, and by reason of their long and continuous service they should be made permanent. The claim of the Union has been resisted by the Company on several grounds. It is urged in the first place that these workmen were appointed either as temporary or casual workers, and their claim for being made permanent is not justified by reason of fluctuation in the volume of business carried on by the Company. The Company carries on business in repairing vessels and boats and also in building up of ships. The evidence of O.P.W 1 P. R. Roy, the Labour Welfare Officer of the Company is that the Ship-repairing department is under the direct management of the Company and it employs about 225 workmen in that department, and out of these employees about 160 are permanent, 20 temporary and others are casual workmen. His further evidence is that the number of casual workers varies from 20 to 50 as the volume of business of the Company fluctuates. He also has stated that sometimes two boats are brought for repairs and sometimes as many as 18 boats are brought for the same purpose. He has produced the docking and lunching book (Ext. L) showing movements of the ships and also the daily work reports regarding repairs of vessels for the period from April 1960 to October 1963 which have been marked Ext. M. These reports show that the number of boats brought for repairs varied, and the evidence of O.P.W. 1 on this point is fully corroborated by Exts. L and M. P.W. 3 could not deny this fact, and his evidence is that the work done by the Company is more or less constant without any appreciable increase or decrease. But in view of the oral evidence of O.P.W. 1 coupled with Exts. L and M, the evidence of P.W. 3 cannot be accepted. The claim of the Union that these workmen should be made permanent is to be considered keeping in mind the fact that the volume of business done by the Company is not constant and fluctuates considerably. The Comapny has produced records to show the nature of appointment of these workmen and there is also oral evidence of O.P.W. 1 on this point. The evidence of O.P.W. 1 is that out of the 28 workmen mentioned in the list to the first reference, Gunadhar Bera, Sambhu Ghosh, Sudhir Karmakar, Gopal Das and six others some of whom have settled their dispute with the Company and some whose claims are not pressed by the Union, are temporary workmen and the rest of the workmen in the list are casual employees. So far as Gunadhar Bera is concerned, it is stated in the written statement filed by the Company inparagraph 4-A(iii) that Gunadhar Bera and 9 others whose cases were not pressed by the Union, have left the service of the Company. This fact has not been denied by the Secretary of the Union, P. W. 2, and Gunadhar Bera has also not been examined to deny this fact. This workman having left the service of the Company his case should be left out of consideration as he is no longer interested in the dispute. So far as the other workmen are concerned, the Union has filed a chart (Ext. 1) showing the date of appointment and also the period of service of these workmen. O. P. W. 1 has stated that this chart does not represent the true state of things and is not correct as it does not show the break in service of the workmen mentioned in it. The Company has filed a detailed chart showing the designations, dates of appointment and discharge of these workmen, and the evidence of O. P. W. 1 is that this chart has been prepared from the attendance register of the workmen concerned in the first reference. Th i chart has been marked Ext. K. The Company ha also filed the attendance registers of the permanen and temporary workmen from November 1961 and also the attendance registers of casual workers for the period from September 1960 to December 1964. These attendance registers have been marked Exts. J to J-7. All these workmen have been shown either as temporary or casual in the attendance registers and also in the chart Ext. K. This chart shows that all these workmen worked intermittently and not continuously as shown in the chart Ext. 1. On behalf of the Union the only workman examined on the point involved in issue No. 1 in both the references is Bijoy Kumar Jana (P. W. 3). He has admitted that he was appointed as a daily-rated worker on temporary basis and, having worked as such for about a year and 3 months, he was treated as a casual workman; and he has been working as such since then. He has not stated anything about the nature of appointment of the other workers involved. The Company has produced the counterfoils of the appointment letters which were issued to some of these workmen, and the books containing the counterfoils have been marked Ext. N. It appears from this Ext. N that Sambhu Ghosh, Sudhir Karmakar and Gopal Das and some others who have compromised the case, or whose case was not pressed by the Union, were given temporary appointments. There is no reason to suspect the genuineness of the attendance registers, Ext. J series, or Ext. N, and the chart Ext. K which has been prepared with reference to attendance registers, Ext J series, should be taken as correct. The Standing Orders of the Company clearly provides for 3 categories of workmen, viz., permanent, temporary and casual, and the Company cannot be accused of any mal-practice in appointing temporary and casual workers according to its needs, as the business of the Company is not constant and fluctuates greatly. It is true that some of these workmen have been working for a pretty long time, and it is in evidence that the temporary workmen also enjoy the benefits of leave, holidays and also Provident Fund Scheme prevailing in the Company. As these workmen were appointed as temporary workmen or as casual workmen they cannot claim to be made permanent as it has not been proved that they have been working continuously without any break and, as such, their claim for being made permanent is not reasonable and justified. These workmen were appointed and worked intermittently with occasional breaks, and in the letters extending their temporary services and also in the letters of discharge, they were described as temporary workers. In view of the fact that these workers were appointed either as temporary or casual workers by the Company and the business of the Company is not constant but fluctuating, I see no justification for the claim of the Union for forcing the Company to keep a permanent labour force in excess of its requirement. The evidence of O. P. W. 1 is that in case of permanent vacancy, it is filled up by promotion from temporary workmen. The Company should stick to this principle in filling up permanent vacancies when such vacancies occur. I accordingly hold on a consideration of the facts and circumstances of the case and the materials on record that the claim of these workmen for being made permanent is not justified. This issue in both the references is thus disposed of.

viz., Sarbasri Abhiram Das, Subodh Das, Sheik Goultan, Nandalal Adak, Babadin and Bharat Kumar Kuril, and issue No. 2 in the second reference, dated 25th April 1964, relates to the termination of services of Panchanan Ghosal, Gopal Das, Narayan Debnath, Gunadhar Bera, Brindaban Bera, Ollai Polai, Parimal, Saha, Promotha Das, Phani Das and Bijoygopal Roy. Thus the total number of workmen involved in issue No. 2 in the two references is 16. The Union, however, did not press the claim of Parimal Saha and Promotha Das, and out of the remaining 14 workmen involved, Gopal Das, Narayan Debnath, Brindaban Bera, Babadin and Bharat Kumar Kuril have settled their dispute amicably with the Company and they signed the petitions of compromise. The number of workmen whose cases remain to be considered comes down to 9. I shall take up the case of Bijoygopal Roy first as his case stands on a different footing from the other workmen. He was given a charge-sheet on 9th April 1963 and after a domestic enquiry into the charge-sheet issued to him he was dismissed from service with effect from 8th June 1963. In paragraph 29 of the written statement filed by the Union in the second reference, it is stated that the enquiry against Shri Bijoy Gopal Roy was clearly in violation of the principles of natural justice, and the finding of the enquiring officer is perverse. It is an undisputed fact that the workmen was present at the domestic enquiry which was held by Shri P. Roy, O. P. W. 1, the Labour Welfare Officer of the Company. It is also admitted by the workmen that he cross-examined the witnesses examined by the Company and he also examined his own witnesses. The proceedings of the enquiry have been proved and marked Ext I. The workman put his signature on the proceedings of the enquiry, and he also does not say that he was not given full opportunity to defend himself at the enquiry. The proceedings of the enquiry clearly show that the workman was given full opportunity to defend himself at the enquiry and the enquiry was held in accordance with the principles of natural justice. On behalf of the Company 5 witnesses were examined, and the workmen cross-examined each of the witnesses. The enquiring officer considered the evidence adduced by the Company and also by the charge-sheeted workman. The evidence adduced by the Company established the charge brought against the workmen and it cannot be said that the finding of the enquiring officer is in any way perverse. It has been urged that the workman has been dismissed from service by way of victimisation for his trade union activities. This fact, however, has been denied by O. P. W. 1, and except the bare statement of the workman himself, there is nothing to show that the action of the Company in dismissing the workman was not bona fide. He was paid one month's wages in lieu of notice. The dismissal of the workman is therefore fully justified.

As regards the other workmen who have been discharged or whose services have been terminated, none of them has examined himself to prove the nature of his appointment or the length of service. P. W. 2, the Secretary of the Union, has also stated that the chart Ext. 1 shows the number of days the workmen who have been described as casual workers or temporary workers by the Company, have worked. The correctness of this chart has been disputed by O. P. W. 1 as it does not show the breaks in service of the workmen named in it. The chart submitted by the Company, Ext. K. which has been prepared from the relevant documents and which have been filed by the Company, viz., attendance registers, etc., appears to be correct and it represents the true state of things. On a reference to this chart, Ext.K, it is seen that some of the workmen, namely, Abhiram Das, Subodh Das, Sheik Goultan, Nanda Lal Adak, Panchanan Ghosal, Ollai Pollai and Phani Das were casual workers. These workers, it appears, worked intermittently with occasional breaks in their services. The evidence of O. P. W. 1 is that casual workers are appointed on the basis of requisitions from the departments/parties, and he has also produced the requisition forms which have been collectively marked Ext. Q. His further evidence is that casual workers are daily appointed and discharged at the end of the day, and they are paid their wages fortnightly. The evidence of this witness on this point stands unchallenged and I see no reason to disbelieve him. The fact that none of the workmen involved has also come forward to support his case, also goes to indicate that they were casual workers, and they have no grievance on account of their discharge. As these workmen were appointed as casual workers and worked intermittently, their termination of service appears to be justified and it cannot be said that the Company was actuated by any unfair labour practice in terminating their services. I accordingly hold that the discharge of these workmen is justified and they are entitled to no relief. These two issues are accordingly disposed of.

This is my award.

5. Housing facilities/House-rent allowance.

This is a reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, and in the said reference five issues have been referred to the Tribunal for adjudication. Both parties filed respective written statements on the aforesaid issues. The union in their written statement stated that the company employs about 2,200 workmen at its factory at Titagarh. There is a canteen for the workmen of that factory. The company pays their wages but the wages are far below the scales laid down in the Third Major Engineering Tribunal. The workmen being employed in the factory in connection with work of factory should come under the purview of the said award. The company was a party to the Third Engineering Omnibus Tribunal award. All engineering establishments own cheap canteens on subsidized basis. In this company there is a canteen but meal that is supplied is fully charged. The company even charges the wages of canteen employees against the meal. In fact there is no subsidy. The Union claims that the canteen should serve four chattaks of rice, one chatak of Dal, vegetable curry, fish, meat and chatni. The charges for the meal should also be very low. The wages and dearness allowances of employees of the canteen should be in terms of the Third Major Engineering award. This is the Union's written statement in respect of issues 1 and 2.

With regard to Issue No. 3, the union claims that the company pays Puja bonus equivalent to one month's basic wages at the time of Puja. This is payable in proportion to attendance. In the year 1961 the Puja bonus was paid but the company deducted 1/12th from one month's basic wages declared as Puja bonus. This the company did by way of penalising the workers for the period of lock-out from 3rd to 28th of January 1961. The deduction at the rate of 1/12th from bonus in the aforesaid period for the hourly-rated workers was enforced. The hourly-rated workers suffered loss of four days' wages in respect of bonus. With regard to the monthly-rated workers, they also suffered a loss of four days' wages on account of bonus by deduction of 1/12th of bonus payable in 1961.

With regard to issue No. 4, the workmen stated that the 'C' shift workers (night shift) are entitled to 8 hours' wages for 7½ hours' duty. They are denied this privilege. This amounts to loss of wages for three hours in a week.

With regard to issue No. 5, the Union submits that some of the workers are being accommodated under the Industrial Housing Scheme and they are receiving subsidies from the company. In fact the workers are charged at the rate of 1.25 P. per quarters. This facility should be extended to all the workers. In lieu of accommodation house rent allowance is claimed.

The company filed a written statement replying to that of the union wherein it is stated that the company is running a cheap canteen for its workmen. The canteen is subsidized. It supplies tea and snacks to the workmen at subsidized rate. The canteen employees are not included in the award of the Third Engineering Omnibus Tribunal. The canteen did not belong to any of the categories of operatives mentioned in the award. There is no meal canteen for the workmen because the workmen live in the neighbourhood of the factory and they prefer to take their meals at home. This is with regard to issue Nos. 1 and 2.

With regard to issue No. 3, the company submits that one month's basic wages has been paid as bonus to the workmen in the year 1961. On 3rd January 1961 there had been a stay-in-strike by the workmen. The company had no other alternative but to declare a lock-out for the safety of its plants and personnel and the said lock-out continued up to 29th January 1961. During that period the hourly-rated workmen did not put in any service to the company and therefore their proportionate deduction was made in respect of bonus payable to them. That period is counted as period of absence without leave for the purpose of bonus payment. The basis of calculation is as follows: Up to 7 days' absence is condoned. From 8 days to 22 days workmen are considered as on unauthorised absence for half month. Absence from 22 days to 30 days is considered as unauthorised absence for one month. The absence of the workmen from work from 3rd January to 29th therefore entail a deduction in respect of one month, i.e., 1/12th.

With regard to issue No. 4, the company submits that the 'C' shift workers are getting 7½ hours' wages for 7½ hours' work. The workmen work in the three shifts, viz., A.B.C. in rotation. A and B shift workers get 8 hours' wages for 7½ hours' work but when he works in C shift he gets wages for the actual hours work with an allowance of 25 per cent. of the basic wages. This is a special allowance for night shift workers. It is not therefore correct to say that 'C' shift workers loose half-an-hour's wages per day i.e., a total of three hours per week.

With regard to last issue, i.e., issue No. 5, the company does not provide accommodation to its workmen as a matter of scheme. Some obsolete structures adjacent to the boundary wall of the company were being occupied by a few workers. When the management took over those structure thereby dislodging the workmen accommodating therein. Alternative accommodation was provided for them under the Industrial Housing Scheme at Patulia by the company. Those workers used to pay to the company a very low rate of rent, i.e., Rs. 1.25 P. for one room quarters. Under the Industrial Housing Scheme they are to pay a higher rent but the company is paying the balance and the workmen are charged at the old rates. This is a special provision for those workmen who were dislodged. The other workmen are not entitled to any house rent allowance.

Appearances of the parties is as follows:

For the Company: Shri J. N. Chatterjee Deputy Legal Adviser of Indian Engineering Association.

For the Union: Shri Jagannath Pandey.

I will take the issues seriatim.

Issue No. 1: The claim is in respect of wage and dearness allowance of the canteen employees. The principle on which the claim is founded is that since the workmen employed in the canteen are company's employees and they are accordingly entitled to the wages prescribed in the Third Omnibus Engineering Tribunal award. The canteen employees according to the union come within the mischief of the award. Amongst the various categories employed in canteen there is mention about cooks who are described as skilled, vendors, plate washers and cleaners are described as semi-skilled. For the cooks a grade is claimed ranging from Rs. 62—2—105. For the rest the claim is Rs. 40—1—65. The first question accordingly is whether the Engineering Award covers the canteen employees. Canteen is a statutory liability under the Indian Factories Act. Section 46 provides that all factories having more than 250 workers shall have a canteen for the use of the workers. The rules prescribe the details. The company is maintaining a canteen in terms of the act and the rules. On a perusal of the rules I find that the Manager of the factory shall be in over-all charge of the canteen. Rule 72 provides that the Manager shall consult the Canteen Managing Committee from time to time on certain matters but clause (d) will indicate that the Manager is to consult the body as he may find necessary for the purpose of efficient administration of the canteen. Thus the management is responsible for the running of the canteen. The canteen employees are to be paid by the management. Further the question is whether for the purpose of Factories Act they are workers as defined in section 2 of clause L. In order to be a worker within the meaning of the Factories Act a person must be employed directly or through an agency in any manufacturing process or in cleaning any part of the machinery or premises used for a manufacturing process or in any other kind of work incidental to or connected with the manufacturing process or the subject of the manufacturing process. The canteen is established for catering food to the workers at cheap rates. It is not connected in any way in manufacturing process or any other kind of work incidental to or connected with such process. That being so, the canteen employees cannot be brought within the mischief of the definition of worker as given in the Factories Act, 1948. I will now turn to the Engineering Award which is before me. It was published in the "Calcutta Gazette" on 5th November 1958. I have gone through the award exhaustively but I cannot find anywhere that the Learned Tribunal adjudicated upon the employees of the canteen. At page 5434 of the relevant Gazette, Part i, it will appear that there are four grades, A, B, C and D for workmen who are called operatives in the Engineering Industry. The canteen employees do not call themselves operatives in the Engineering Industry. They have nothing to do with operation of machines. At page 5436 there is provision for clerical section, supervisory section and the following categories: peons and bearers, durwans and drivers, lorry drivers. There is accordingly no provision in the award for canteen employees. The canteen employees are certainly workmen within the defintion of the Industrial Disputes Act as defined in section 2(s) but in my considered opinion they are not workers within the definition given in the Factories Act The argument advanced by the learned representative of the union that the canteen employees are entitled to the benefit of the award must therefore be turned down. Now let us consider whether there is any other material on which I should interfere with the wages of cooks, vendors, etc., employed in the canteen. Obviously all engineering concerns and other concerns in the region maintain canteen with their own. The loss that is suffered by the company on account of running of the canteen for supply of cheap meal to the workers would certainly go towards the cost of production. That being so, the principle of region-cum-industry should be applied in fixing the wages for canteen staff. Let us see if the union has been successful in producing before me relevant dates for application of that principle. The company pays wages to the canteen staff detailed in Ext. D. The cook is paid Rs. 60 per month; Manager Rs. 90, vendors Rs. 70, 60 and 45, Tea man Rs. 60, helper Rs. 35. The union must prove that this wage structure is very low compared to the wages paid to canteen employees of canteen of similar industry in that region. There is no document produced before me in proving the same. The union examined a few witnesses, P.W. 2. Shri Kunjan Singh of Saxby & Farmer who only states that the wages are paid in terms of Engineering award. This is a vague evidence on which no reliance can be placed. P.W. 3 Shri Animesh Chakraborty is from Messrs. Stewarts & Lloyds. According to him the minimum wage is Rs. 90. P.W. 4, Shri Chandi Prosad Mukherjee is from Asbestos Cement. He speaks about wages of canteen staff and adds that the wages are higher than that provided in the award. This is the entire evidence. The evidence of all these witnesses were challenged. The mere fact of payment of higher wages to the canteen staff of those companies will not do. The Union ought to have produced evidence that those industries were comparable units. Their financial position, volume of work and various other factors which are incidental for investigation in application of the principle of industry-cum-region are wanting in this case should have been placed before the Tribunal. In absence of the same I am unable to say that the wages paid to the canteen staff are low and the prevailing rates of wages of cooks and servants are much higher in similar concerns of that region. The idea of a regular scale for cooks and vendors are unthinkable at this stage. They are not skilled or semi-skilled employees. They are ordinary manual hands and the art of cooking for workers would be a simple art and it does not involve any special knowledge of cooking. The claim of the canteen staff is turned down.

Issue No. 2: The union's claim is that there should be a meal canteen duly subsidized by the company. By the use of the word meal canteen it is remarked that rice, dal, vegetables, etc., should be served to the workers at cheap rates. It is undisputed that at present there is a canteen run by the management but the articles of food supplied therefrom are snaks and tea. It is not a full meal canteen. Union claims a canteen which should supply full meal to them. Now let us consider whether such claim is well founded and justified. There is a statutory obligation on the management to run a canteen and rules are framed describing details of such canteen. Rules 67 to 73 prescribe all the details of the canteen. The utensils, furniture, etc., are to be provided by the management. Tiffin hall is to be provided by the management. With regard to the price of food to be charged, the canteen to be run on a non-profit basis and the prices charged should be subject to the approval of the Canteen Managing Committee. Canteen Managing Committee is to be elected from workers' representatives and nominated by the management in terms of section 46 of the Factories Act. Under Rule 72 the Manager (Factory Manager or any other officer on behalf of the management) shall consult Canteen Managing Committee from time to time as to—

(a) the quality and quantity of foodstuffs to be served in the canteen;

(b) the arrangement of the menus;

(c) times of meals in the canteen; and

(d) any other mattter as may be found necessary for the purpose of efficient administration of the canteen.

Sub-clause (2) of rule 72 provides that the Canteen Managing Committee shall consist of an equal number of persons nominated by the Manager and elected by the workers. In the instant case the canteen is managed by O.P.W. 1 Shri Kamalesh Sengupta, Cost Accountant of the company since January 1963. A meal canteen was started in the middle of 1961 and closed down in October 1962. It was run by the Canteen Managing Committee. The Canteen Managing Committee closed it down. Evidence of Shri Sengupta further is that the Canteen Managing Committee failed to discharge their duties properly. So the company took over the management in January 1963. It therefore appears that the management is going without a Canteen Managing Committee.

At present tea and snacks are served from the company. There is no system of meal namely rice, dal, etc. I have already perused the rules which shows that the price of meal should be approved by the Canteen Managing Committee and the Canteen Managing Committee shall be consulted by the manager in respect of the type of foodstuff which is to be served to the workers. Rule 72 provides for the same. It would not be proper for the Tribunal to decide the menu or the quantity and quality of the foodstuff to be supplied from the canteen. It is the duty of management to provide for a canteen which is to supply wholesome and substantial food to the workmen at cheap rates. That is being done and there is no complain that the foodstuff that is supplied is unsatisfactory or of inferior quality. With regard to the arrangement of menu or the quality or quantity of the foodstuff no hard and fast rule should be laid down by the Tribunal. Canteen Managing Committee shall advice the Manager on this matter. Still however the Tribunal would have interfered and introduced the system of meal canteen for supply or rice, dal, curry, etc., to the workers provided the union succeed in proving that it is convenient for the workers to take their principal meal from the canteen instead of at their respective houses and that similar meal canteens are provided in industry in that region. The region should get priority in deciding this matter. The union examined a few witnesses, such as Singh, from Saxby & Farmer. He works at 17 Convent Road. It is in Calcutta. Region is not the same. Another witness is Shri Chakraborty of Stewarts and Lloyds of factory at Hide Road, i.e., also in Calcutta. One Shri Mukherjee of Asbestos Cement spokes about the meal canteen but he does not say where the factory is located. The workers reside in the vicinity of the factory of Britannia Engineering Co., Ltd., at Titagarh. It is only probable that the workers in the 'A' shift would take their meal after the shift was over and those of the 'B' shift before the shift begins. 'C' shift workers would have their principal meal before their shift begins. In such circumstances it is only likely that the workers should prefer to take their principal meals at home instead of at the canteen. There is no evidence as to what is the extent of demand among the workers for taking principal meals in the canteen. During the recess of half-an-hour it would be convenient for workers to take tea and snaks from the canteen to refresh themselves. The convenience of a meal canteen does not impress me in the aforesaid circumstances. Having regard to the fact that there is no evidence that in that region meal canteen is popular among workers in the same industry or in other industry of that region, I am unable to accept the union's contention that meal canteen should be thrust upon the management in order to replace the snacks which are at present supplied from the canteen. The management maintains a subsidized canteen and as such the requirement of law is fulfilled. In the present circumstances social justice does not demand that a full meal canteen must necessarily be started by the management or that would be popular among the workers. If a considerable number of workers are interested in the meal canteen they would be in a position to place their demand through the Canteen Managing Committee after it is elected and if such a demand is turned down by the management a case for interference by the Industrial Tribunal will certainly arise. At present there are no materials on which the Tribunal should introduce a meal canteen. The union is not entitled to any relief in this issue.

Issue No. 3: This issue has come up before the Tribunal in this way. There had been a strike and consequent lock-out in the factory for the period from 3rd January to 29th January. The total number of days being 27 days. We are not concerned with the question whether the strike or the lock-out was justified. The fact remains that there have been such strike and lock-out. In the year 1961 the company declared bonus. The bonus notice is dated 2nd October 1961. It runs thus.—

"Office Order No. 279

Date 2nd October 1961.

The management has pleasure in declaring payment of "Puja Bonus" to all workmen and staff within a salary range of rupees five hundred, on the following basis. It will, however, be paid only to those who have been in continuous service of the Company for the last six months or more.

(A) An hourly rated employee:

1/12 × his basic hourly rate × 208 hrs. × number of months of his continuous service between 1-9-60 and 31-8-61.

(B) A monthly rated employee:

1/12 × his basic salary in August 1961 × number of months of his continuous service between 1-9-60 and 31-8-61.

Sanctioned leave and sick leave will be accounted as service but absence without leave during the abovementioned period will be deducted from the period of service.

Arranagement is being made to pay this as early as possible but not later than the 10th instant."

According to the above bonus notice sanctioned leave and sick leave can be counted as service but absence without leave during the period would be deducted from the period of service. The company accordingly deducted 1/12th of one month's basic wage declared as Puja bonus in 1961 and absence of 27 days being the period of strike and lock-out during which there was no work treated as absence without leave. Now the question is whether that period should be treated as absence without leave or as sanctioned leave within the meaning of the bonus notice. I have perused the Standing Orders of the company. There is no clear provision for any particular type of leave. There are only provisions as to how the leave should be applied for. According to the bonus notice only sanctioned leave and sick leave would be counted as service. Now the period of absence during strike and lock-out cannot in any view be considered as sanctioned leave or sick leave. It must be considered as absence without leave but the said absence was condoned by the management and was not treated as breach in service. I will now turn to the memorandum of settlement under which the lock-out was called off. It is Ext. F, dated 28th January 1961. The terms of settlement will be found in paragraph 5. Work would be resumed from 30th January 1961. Clause (c) runs thus:—

> "In view of the expression of regret and assurance as above the management agree that no workmen will be victimised for the strike on 3rd January 1961 and for any action incidental thereto and as a gesture of goodwill they further agree to set aside all charge-sheets issued in connection thereto."

The learned representative of the union submits that since the management agreed not to victimise any workman for the strike on 3rd January 1961, the deduction towards Puja bonus should not be allowed and such deduction should be treated as an act of victimisation in violation of the undertaking in the settlement. I cannot accept this argument. The management undertook not to victimise any workman and the nature of victimisation had been described, namely, that the charge-sheets issued against the workmen would be withdrawn. This is the victimisation which the management undertook not to resort to. The period during which the workmen did not work has been deducted for the purpose of calculation of the bonus. The absence of the workmen during the period of strike and lock-out cannot be treated as sanctioned leave, or sick leave and as such this was rightly treated by the management as a period of no work for which the workmen were not entitled to any bonus. The deduction of 1/12th is accordingly justified. The workmen are not entitled to any relief on this issue.

Issue No. 4: The work in the factory is carried on in three shifts, namely, from 6 a.m. to 2 p.m. with a break of half-an-hour, from 2 p.m. to 10 p.m. with a break of half-an-hour and from 10 p.m. to 6 a.m. with similar break of half-an-hour. On Saturdays there is half-day work. These are known respectively as A, B and C shift, C shift is the night shift. It was introduced in 1956. Previous to its introduction there had been night shift but hours of work were altogether different namely 7 p.m. to 11 p.m. and 12 p.m. to 5 a.m. It is the case of the union that A and B shift workers are getting wages for 8 hours though in fact they work for 7½ hours, i.e., the break period of half-an-hour is also paid for. With regard to C shift workers they work for 7½ hours but they are paid wages for 7½ hours instead of 8 hours. This had been the prevailing rates of payment since the introduction of C shift in 1956. The workers work in three shifts, A, B and C by rotation. Every worker has therefore to work once in A shift, once again in B shift and then in the C shift. There is therefore no discrimination against any particular group of workers. All the workers by rotation work in the C shift and get 7½ hours' wages for 7½ hours' work. Union claims 8 hours' wages for 7½ hours' work. Now the question is whether this is justified. It is in evidence that C shift workers are getting 25 per cent. of their basic wage in addition to their normal wages. This is paid owing to the particular stress of work during the night. This is an extra allowances to night shift workers for their extra strain of night work. This is a matter which should not influence the normal wages for working hours. The Union claims that since A and B shift workers are getting 8 hours' wages for the 7½ hours' work, on the same treatment the C shift workers should also get 8 hours' wages for 7½ hours' work. This is not sound reasoning. All along since the introduction of C shift in 1956 the workers had been paid 7½ hours' wages for 7½ hours' work. A and B shift workers had been enjoying special privilege of 8 hours' wages for 7½ hours' work. There is normally no reason to extend the same privilege to C shift workers who did not enjoy the said privilege at any point of time. The normal principle would be that if similar industry in that region is paying 8 hours' wages for 7½ hours' work to C shift workers, the claim of the union may receive consideration. The principle of region-cum-industry would come into operation. The union must accordingly show that in similar other industries in the region the workers are getting 8 hours' wages for 7½ hours' work in the C shift. There is only one witness P.W. 2, of Saxby & Farmar who states that C shift workers get 8 hours' wages. The witness was not summoned through its employer nor any authentic record of that firm is coming before the Tribunal. It would be unsafe to place any reliance upon the oral testimony of Shri Singh, in coming to the conclusion that C shift workers are getting 8 hours' wages. We should not overlook the principle of similar industry in that region. It was open to the union to show that those industries are paying 8 hours' wages for 7½ hours work to the C shift workers. In the absence of any such evidence the existing arrangement of wage should not be disturbed. If I disturb the wages of the C shift workers in this particular company it would have repercussion upon the other industries of that region leading to unrest in the realm of industry. I accordingly hold that the workmen in the C shift will not get 8 hours' wages for 7½ hours' work. The existing arrangement of wages shall continue.

Issue No. 5: The union claims housing facilities or house rent allowance for the industrial workers of this company situated at Titagarh. It is not a rural area but an urban area. In urban area the management is not under any obligation to provide accommodation for the workers. Housing facilities or house rent allowance cannot be claimed as a matter of right. It has transpired in evidence that a small group of workers used to occupy some structures belonging to the company for a long time. Those structures were included inside the factory and those workers were dislodged. They used to pay a very low rate of rent to the company. Under the Industrial Housing Schedule at Patulia those workmen had been accommodated and the company is paying their rent at the rates prescribed by the Government while the workers are paying their old rates to the company. This is a special privilege which have been given to only a group of workers in lieu of their established claim to accommodation by the company. If the company withdrew the particular facility which the workmen had been enjoying, there would be unrest. To avoid that, the company is accommodating those workmen only in the housing scheme. The other industrial workers of this company are also entitled to accommodation in the said housing scheme. They cannot however claim subsidy on that account or any house rent allowance on that head. The claim for housing facilities or house rent allowance stands disallowed.

In the result, the workmen are not entitled to any relief in any of the issues.

This is my award.

BEFORE THE SEVENTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri S. K. RAY, Judge.

Seventh Industrial Tribunal.

AWARD

This is an application under section 33A, Industrial Disputes Act, made by five workmen of Budge Budge Municipality complaining of alleged illegal and wrongful termination of their service in contravention of relevant provisions of section 33, Industrial Disputes Act, during the pendency of the adjudication proceedings of another dispute between the Municipality and its workmen, referred to this Tribunal by G.O. No. 3623-I.R., dated 19th July 1960.

The Municipality appeared and filed its written statement in reply to the application. After necessary preliminary proceedings and some adjournments, the case was finally fixed for hearing on 20th November 1965. But, in the meantime, on 4th September 1965, Shri B. Chatterji, General Secretary of West Bengal Municipal Employees' Federation, who is specifically named as the authorised representative of the applicant workmen in the application itself, filed a petition praying for permission to withdraw the application on the ground that the dispute between the parties had been amicably settled. The terms of settlement are given in the petition for withdrawal. I find from the record that previously on 14th August 1965, three of the concerned workmen filed a petition before this Tribunal stating that they had settled their disputes amicably with the Municipality and so, they did not want to proceed with their complaint.

After hearing Shri B. Chatterji, I am satisfied the entire dispute between the parties to the present proceeding has been amicably settled and in view of the settlement, the application want to withdraw their complaint. Accordingly, I would allow the prayer for withdrawal.

In the result, I allow the applicants' prayer for withdrawal of their application under section 33A, Industrial Disputes Act, and dispose of the case as settled and withdrawn.

This is my award.

Seventh Industrial Tribunal.

AWARD

This proceeding arises out of an application under section 33A, Industrial Disputes Act, made by Shri Srimanta Charan Karmakar, an employee of Budge Budge Municipality, complaining of his alleged illegal, unjust and wrongful removal from service with effect from 1st June 1963 by the Municipality during the pendency of the adjudication proceedings of another dispute between the Municipality and its workmen, referred to this Tribunal by G.O. No. 3623-I.R. dated 19th July 1960, and in contravention of the relevant provisions of section 33, Industrial Disputes Act.

The Municipality appeared and filed its written statement in reply to the application.

The case was finally fixed for hearing on 18th September 1965. On that date, the applicant filed a petition stating that his dispute with the Municipality had been amicably settled and so, he did not want to proceed further with the application and praying that the complaint might be disposed of as settled.

In view of the aforesaid application of the applicant, I dispose of the complaint under section 33A Industrial Disputes Act, as settled and so not proceeded with.

This is my award.

BEFORE THE SEVENTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri S. K. RAY, Judge,
Seventh Industrial Tribunal.

For the Union: Shri Ramen Banerjee, Advocate.

For the Company: Shri Arun Dutta, Advocate, assisted by Shri D. K. Das Gupta, Advocate.

AWARD

The above dispute over the issues specified in the order of reference and reproduced below was referred for adjudication to this Tribunal by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 6493-I.R./IR/4L-48(A)/62, dated the 21st November 1962.

Issues

1. Scales and grades of pay.
2. Dearness allowance.
3. Bonus for the accounting years ended on March 31, 1962.

In response to notices issued by this Tribunal, the parties appeared and filed their respective written statements in due course. After the case became ready for hearing on conclusion of the necessary preliminary proceedings, a talk of compromise was initiated by the parties themselves and the parties took quite a number of adjournments for carrying on the negotiations and settling the terms. On 22nd April 1965 the parties filed a joint petition of compromise only in respect of issue No. 3 (bonus for the accounting year ended on March 31, 1962), and prayed for a compromise award in respect of this issue in terms of settlement contained in that petition. At the same time, they continued their negotiations for amicable settlement of issues Nos. 1 and 2 relating to scales and grades of pay and dearness allowance respectively. After very long negotiations, they finally amicably settled their disputes in respect of these two issues also and filed a joint petition of compromise in respect of these two issues on 14th September 1965, giving therein the terms of settlement relating to these two issues and praying for a compromise award in those terms in respect of these two issues also. No doubt the parties took a very long time in coming to a final settlement of the entire dispute covered by the present reference. But having been satisfied about the bona fides of the parties in their attempt at reaching an amicable settlement of the dispute, this Tribunal gave them adjournments for the purpose at their prayer. Shri Ramen Banerjee, Advocate for the Union, and Shri Arun Dutta, Advocate for the Company, took very keen and sustained interest in carrying on the negotiations and it was mainly through their efforts that the entire dispute was amicably settled to the satisfaction of both parties.

I have considered the terms of settlement in respect of issue No. 3 (bonus) contained in the joint petition of the parties filed on 22nd April 1965, and the terms of settlement in respect of issues 1 and 2 (wages and dearness allowance) contained in the joint petition filed on 14th September 1965. I have also heard the learned Advocates appearing on both sides regarding the terms of settlement. The terms of settlement appear to me to be quite fair and lawful and I am fully satisfied that there has been a complete and bona fide settlement of the entire dispute on the terms contained in the two aforesaid joint petitions of compromise. Accordingly, I would make a compromise award in respect of issue No. 3 in terms of the joint petition of compromise filed on 22nd April 1965, and in respect of issues Nos. 1 and 2 in terms of the joint petition of compromise filed on 14th September 1965, making copies of the aforesaid petitions a part of the award.

In the result, I make a compromise award in the case in terms of the joint petition of the parties, dated 22nd April 1965, in respect of issue No. 3 and in terms of the joint petition of parties, dated 14th September 1965, in respect of issues 1 and 2, copies of the said joint petitions of compromise are made a part of the award as Annexures A and B.

Re: Issue No. 3—Bonus for the accounting year ended 31st March 1962

The Company contends that on the trading results for the year ending 31st March 1962 the workmen are not entitled to any profit-sharing bonus. The workmen do not press their claim for such bonus. The Company in these circumstances and in view of the request made by the workmen through their Union in order to create better relationship, agrees not to recover the advance made by it in terms of settlement, dated 24th October 1962, and shall treat the same as an ex-gratia payment of bonus for the said year.

It is expressly understood that this settlement will not be considered as a precedent and will be without prejudice to the rights and contentions of the parties in any proceedings or in respect of other subsequent years.

The notice in Form D-1 was served on the employer and also on the Secretary, Burrabazar Zamadar Sangh, sometime in June 1965. On 8th July 1965 which was returnable date fixed for appearances of the parties and also for filing written statement by the Union. Messrs. Khatian & Co., Solicitors, and Shri N. C. Shah, Advocate, appeared and filed power. There was no appearance on behalf of the Union and no written statement was filed. The Union was directed to put in the written statement by 24th July 1965. On that date also no appearance and no written statement was filed. Accordingly, the written statement was directed to be filed by 5th August 1965. The record was actually put up on 6th August 1965 and even then, there was no appearance and there was also no filing of written statement. An intimation was sent to the Union to put in the written statement by 23rd August 1965, but none appeared. Accordinly another intimation was sent to Md. Mansoor Sardar whose name appears in the list. Md. Mansoor had appeared today and had given a statement before me. It would appear therefrom that there is no Union called Burrabazar Zamadar Sangh, that there is no dispute regarding the bonus for the year 1963 and that, in fact, there is no dispute between the workmen and the Transport Corporation of India.

In view of the facts and circumstances which I have stated above, it appears to me that there is no dispute at all between the employer and the workmen, and therefore, a "no dispute" award should be passed in the present case.

This is my award.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Shri Girish Ch. Debnath, Proprietor of Powerloom Factory, Barabazar, P.O. Ranaghat, Nadia, and his workmen represented by Nadia Zilla Tant Karmi Sangha, Mission Road, P.O. Ranaghat, Nadia. (Govt. Order No. 2617-I.R., dated 26th June 1965.) (VIII—157/65.)

BEFORE THE FOURTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri R. BHATTACHARYYA, M.A. LL.B., Judge, Fourth Industrial Tribunal.

For the Union: Shri Nikhil Ch. Roy, Advocate.
For the employer: Shri S. K. Banerjee, Advocate.

The present reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act arises out of the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 2617-I.R./IR/8L-27/65, dated 26th June 1965. The parties are Shri Girish Ch. Debnath, Proprietor of Powerloom Factory, Barabazar, P.O. Ranaghat, Nadia, and his workmen represented by Nadia Zilla Tant Karmi Sangha, Mission Road, P.O. Ranaghat, Nadia. The issue in the order of reference is as follows:

> Is the management justified in terminating the services of Shri Natabar Sarkar? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

Both the parties appeared in this case and submitted their written statements. In short, the case of the Nadia Zilla Tant Karmi Sangha (hereinafter described as the Union) is that Natabar Sarkar was a permanent workman in the Powerloom Factory of Shri Girish Chandra Debnath. Shri Sarkar was an active member of the Union and, therefore, the employer was annoyed with him and threatened him. The employer without any justification terminated the service of Shri Sarkar with effect from 24th November 1964, without any charge-sheet. It has been submitted by the Union that the act of the employer has been wholly unjust, unfair and mala fide. It was an act of victimisation.

Shri Girish Ch. Debnath, in his written statement, has stated that there is no industrial dispute. The service of Shri Sarkar has not been terminated and his name is in the pay-roll as an absentee since 23rd November 1964. It has been alleged that Shri Sarkar took two advances amounting to Rs. 300 on two dates. The total sum of Rs. 60 was adjusted against his wages on different dates leaving a balance of Rs. 240 payable by Shri Sarkar to Shri Debnath. Shri Sarkar has been remaining absent on and from 23rd November 1964. Shri Debnath is very keen to keep Shri Sarkar in service especially for realisation of his dues from him. The employer wants that Shri Sarkar joins his duty in the factory as early as possible.

Several documents have been exhibited on both the sides. On the side of the Union Shri Sarkar and another witness have been examined. The employer has examined himself and his manager.

The main question is whether Shri Sarkar has been removed from service by Shri Debnath. The Union wants to say that he has been dismissed whereas Shri Debnath says that Shri Sarkar has been remaining absent deliberately in order to avoid payment of his dues to him. The employer says that he is still in service and he is welcome to work in the factory. P.W. 1 is Shri Sarkar. He says that he was dismissed from service from 24th November 1964. When he went to join his duty on 24th November 1964, he was informed by the mistry about his dismissal. Thereafter he saw the proprietor who told him that he would not be given any work as he had joined the Union. The Union wants to say that the proprietor out of ill-will terminated the service of Shri Sarkar because the latter was an active member of the Union. There is no evidence before me that Shri Sarkar was, in fact, an active member of the Union. On the other hand, Shri Sarkar himself has admitted that other workers of the factory were members of the Union and that they were not dismissed by the proprietor. Why should the proprietor bear any especial grudge against Shri Sarkar when other workers are members of the Union? No answer has been given by the Union. There is nothing to corroborate that Shri Sarkar came to the factory for work on 24th November 1964 or that he was informed that he had been dismissed by the proprietor. Should I accept the uncorroborated testimony of Shri Sarkar? Yes, I can accept his testimony if I am convinced that he is a reliable and straight-forward witness. From the evidence I find that Shri Sarkar is an untruthful witness on which I cannot rely. The employer filed two vouchers showing advances made to Shri Sarkar bearing his signatures on stamp. Shri Roy, learned advocate for the Union, had no objection to those documents being exhibited without formal proof. During evidence Shri Sarkar denied his signature on those two vouchars, Exts. A and A/1. It struck me and I myself placed the two vouchers before him showing the signatures on the stamp and asked him whether these signatures were his. Shri Sarkar lastly admitted his signature on the stamp in Ext. A/1. He has further admitted at that he got the amount of bill. Thereafter he further denied his signature on Ext. A. The of the Union is that Shri Sarkar wrote a letter the Union and thereafter the Union took up the e. That letter has been marked Ext. 3 contain- the signature of Shri Sarkar. Shri Sarkar has denied his own signature in Ext. 3 and he says t he did not send any letter to the Union. I have marked the demeanour of the witness and I thoroughly convinced that Shri Sarkar is an un- athful witness and his evidence should not be cepted. He is not at all a straight-forward and nest witness. P.W. 2, however, does not give y material evidence regarding the dismissal of ri Sarkar.

On the side of Shri Debnath we get the evidence the manager, O.P.W. 2. Shri Debnath, it is ar, has left the management of the business to Manager. O.P.W. 2 has denied the allegation at Shri Sarkar had been removed from service. e says that Shri Sarkar is still in service. He s stated that the management did not know that ri Sarkar was a member of the Union. He has ven evidence in support of the vouchers, Exts. A d A 1, and has stated that he made the payment d obtained the signatures of Shri Sarkar. In pport of the evidence of O.P.W. 1 we get the tendance Register showing that Shri Sarkar was rked absent from 23rd November 1964 to the d of that month. From the following month, of urse, his name was not entered in the Attendence gister. The Attendence Register is marked .t. B. Pay-roll is Ext. C. This book shows that e name of Shri Sarkar was carried to the end of cember 1964 showing that Shri Sarkar was sent and that a sum of Rs. 19.50 paise was due to n towards his wages. I believe that Exts. B and are genuine and I accept that evidence of the nagar, O.P.W. 2 as reliable. I hold that Shri rkar has not been dismissed or otherwise removed om service of Shri Debnath in his factory and that is still in service. I further find that from 23rd ovember 1964 Shri Sarkar has been absenting nself deliberately without any justification. ri Banerjee, learned advocate for the employer, bmits that Shri Sarkar is welcome in the factory. should immediately join his duties there. The nduct on the part of Shri Debnath is bona fide d the story set up by the Union before this ibunal is unacceptable. The issue framed in the ler of reference is therefore decided against the rkman and in favour of the employer. Natabar rkar shall get no relief in this case. His service d not been terminated and he is at liberty to join duties.

Before I part with this award, I should mention at at the opening of the case the employer wanted say that it was not an industrial dispute and that is Tribunal had no jurisdiction to decide the case. t in view of the evidence that the workers of the tory were all members of the Union, this point s not been pressed at the time of argument. I ve, however, found that this is an industrial dispute and this Tribunal has jurisdiction to determine the issue in question.

BEFORE THE SECOND INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri AMBICA PADA BHATTACHARYA, Judge, Second Industrial Tribunal.

By order No. 6334-I.R./IR/10L-139(A)/64, dated, Calcutta, the 27th November 1964, Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, referred an industrial dispute between Messrs. American Refrigerator Company Limited and their workmen represented by the Kidderpore Engineering Sramik Union for adjudication regarding the issues contained in the order of reference.

Issues

(1) Bonus for the year 1963-64.

(2) Whether the management was justified in declaring a lock-out with effect from 4th October 1964? What relief, if any, the workmen are entitled to for the lock-out period?

This is a reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act. This reference was received on 28th December 1964. The parties filed their respective written statements on both the issues referred therein. Issue No. 1 is in respect of bonus while issue No. 2 is in respect of the lock-out. During the pendency of the reference Bonus Ordinance was enacted. Parties were given to understand that the issue of bonus should be decided in terms of Bonus Ordinance. Admittedly conciliation was pending before the Labour Directorate on the issue of bonus before 2nd September, 1964. Section 33 of the Bonus Ordinance published on 29th of May, 1965, accordingly applies. The bonus is in respect of the year 1963-64 and the financial year of the company ends on 30th of April, 1964. Section 33 of the Bonus Ordinance in terms apply to the instant reference and the issue of bonus accordingly would be decided according to the Bonus Ordinance and both parties were directed to submit their cases accordingly.

Now I will turn to the written statement of the Union. The Union states that Messrs. American Refrigerator Co., Ltd., is a prosperous concern engaging about 500 workmen. The financial condition of the company is very sound. The company earned 10 lacs of profit in the financial year 1963-64. In the preceding financial year the profit was 3.78 lacs. The workmen claim bonus equivalent to three months' wages for the year 1963-64 but the company did not agree. The talk of bonus was under negotiation but the company suddenly declared a lock-out with effect from 4th October 1963. This was a mala fide lock-out intended to circumvent the issue of bonus. The lock-out was illegal and unjustified. The workmen accordingly claim full wages for the lock-out period, namely, for the period from 4th October 1963 to 21st November 1964.

The company submitted a written statement wherein the claim for three months' wages as bonus is challenged. The financial year of the company is from 1st May to 30th April. The relevant year accordingly ends on 30th April, 1964. The trading results of the company for the year 1963-64 do not warrant payment of any bonus. Still however the company as a gesture of good-will declared 1/12th of the consolidated wages as bonus to all workmen in that year. There is no available surplus on the basis of calculation under the Full Bench Formula. Subsequent to the original written statement the company filed further calculation according to the Bonus Ordinance and it is contended by the company that no bonus is payable on such calculation as well.

With regard to the question of lock-out company's case is that while the demand for b us was receiving attention of the management the matter was pending in conciliation pro dings, the workers resorted to unlawful str No settlement could be arrived at on the ques of bonus and the company with a view to a further delay declared a quantum of bonus t paid for the year 1963-64, on 29th Septe 1964. On that day workmen formed a unla assembly and prevented the staff and officers leaving the factory until they could be esc by the police. On 30th September 1964 workers punched their cards in time but squ near the punching clock without doing any This was illegal stay-in-strike, at a time proceedings were pending before the Trib Several notices were issued but the workme not pay heed to it. On 1st October 1964 the puty Labour Commissioner informed the tary of the Union that the management h orted to them about the illegal strike. had been conciliation on 3rd October 1964 failed. The situation in the factory becam tremely alarming and the company appre danger to the life and property and had t face a lock-out with effect from 4th October The lock-out was lifted on 20th November 19 the intervention of the Labour Commis The lock-out was in consequence of an illegal unjustified strike by the workmen. That so, the workmen are not entitled to any for the lock-out period.

Appearances of the parties are as follows:

For the Company: Shri J. N. Chatterjee, Adviser of Indian Engineering Associa

For the Union: Shri Patit Paban Pathak Kali Charan Banerjee, Advocate.

I will take up issue No. 2 first. It is a ad ted fact that there have been lock-out in th tory from 4th October 1964 and the lock-ou lifted on 20th November 1964. The questi whether this lock-out was justified. I have forth the respective cases of the parties. lock-out notice is Ext A(9). It was issue 4th October 1964. It mentions that the wo resorted to illegal and unjustified strike and pite of the management's offer to call off strike the workers continued in the said act as such the management have no other alt tive but to declare a lock-out. According to management the workers resorted to illegal s on 30th September 1964, 1st October 1964 3rd October 1964. 2nd October 1964 was Sun Now if the lock-out was in consequence of an gal and unjustified strike by the workmen it be held to be a justified one. That is an blished principle with which none of the pa has any controversy. Let us accordingly see workers resorted to an illegal and unjus strike. On the point of legality or illegali the strike the case of the management is th reference has been pending before the Sev Industrial Tribunal where the workmen of company are parties. It is G.O. No. 3537- dated 6th August 1962. It is an i bus reference which is admittedly pending fore the Seventh Industrial Tribunal. Item 226 is this particular company. If the workers resorted to strike on 30th April, 1964 it was in violation of the provisions of section 23 of the Industrial Disputes Act. Section 23 clause (b) prohibits the workers from going on strike during the pendency of a proceedings before the Industrial Tribunal. If in fact there had been strike, then it must be characterised as illegal. The fact of strike is denied by the workmen. I will presently enter into the facts of the case. There had been negotiations in respect of the workers' demand for bonus for the year 1963-64. The workers were demanding three months' wages as bonus. The negotiation failed On 29th September, 1964 towards the evening the company declared bonus of 1 12th of total annual average wages ex-parte as mutual discussion of bonus fell through.

The declaration was made at about 5 p.m. This is the evidence of O.P.W. 1. Shri H. Kishore, Personnel Officer of the company. His evidence however is that the workers thereafter assembled at the gate and prevented the staff from leaving the factory. With the help of police the staff had to be rescued out. The declaration of bonus is Ext. A. The evidence of Shri Kishore further is that on 30th the workers turned up, punched their cards but did not join work. They indulged in stay-in-strike. In support of the said evidence the notice Ext A(5) is filed. It was a notice issued on 30th September, 1964. It speaks about the stay-in-strike which is condemned as illegal and unjustified. A request was extended in the notice to the workers to resume work. Copy of the notice was sent to the Labour Commissioner and other authorities. It is Ext. A(6). Shri Kishore further adds that on 1st October 1964 as well the workers continued the strike. A notice was issued on 1st October 1964 Ext A(7). It complains about the stay-in-strike near the time clock. The workers were invited to resume duties. On that very day a letter was addressed to the Deputy Labour Commissioner Shri H. N. Ghosh by the Management Ext A(8). The management reported about the illegal strike during the pendency of the Omnibus Engineering Tribunal proceeding, to which the workmen were parties. 2nd October 1964 was a holiday On 3rd October, 1964, the workers continued the illegal strike and on that day the company wrote to the Office Commanding, South Port Police Station, Garden Reach, complaining about the illegal strike. The company declared a lock-out on 4th October, 1964. Thereafter the matter was took up in conciliation and after protracted discussion the lock-out came to an end on 28th November 1964. The correspondence in this respect are Exts. A(18) to A(24). The Labour Commissioner's letter Exts. G, G(1) and G(2) also bear upon the same subject. If the correspondences are relied on there had been a strike resorted to by the workers on the issue of bonus during the pendency of the proceeding before the Omnibus Engineering Tribunal. The Union examined a worker of the company, namely, P.W. 1. Shri Manish Kumar Kar who denies the fact of strike. He admits in cross examination that police had to interfere on 29th or 30th September, 1964. On 29th police came in the night. He further admits that on 29th there was a mass of workers in front of the gate after working hours. Police was certainly not called for the purpose of conciliation. The evidence of O.P.W. 1 Shri Kishore that police had to be called on 29th for rescueing the officers should be believed against the background of the evidence of P.W. 1 P.W. 1 wants to add that on 30th September, 1964, the workers worked in the factory. The company relies upon several documents which they have filed in proving the fact that the workers did not work on any of the days, i.e., 30th September, 1st October and 3rd October, 1964. I will presently refer to those registers. The attendance register is Ext. C. All the registers have been proved by O.P.W. 1 Shri Kishore. I have scrutinised the attendance register in respect of the dates in question, i.e., on the 30th September, 1st October, and 3rd October, 1964. The register shows that on 30th September, 1964, some attendance was recorded but they were struck off, of course the records shows the attendance of a few workers. Most of them were absent. On 1st October also only a few workers attended while the rest did not. There is no attendance on 3rd. It is regretable that the company resorted to striking off the record of attendance in some cases. On a careful scrunity of the entire record I should accept the contention of the company that only a few workers attended the factory and in general the workers did not attend. I should not rest in any conclusion upon the attendance register alone. I will turn to the other registers which were filed. The production register is Ext. H. It is in respect of one or two items of production. No production is recorded during the period 30th September 1964 to 23rd November 1964. The workers resumed work on 20th November 1964. So after the lock-out was lifted on 21st November 1964 production is noted on 24th November 1964. The fact that there was no production during this period will corroborate the evidence of Shri Kishore that there had been a strike on 30th September 1964, 1st October 1964 and 3rd October 1964. The lock-out was started on 4th October 1964.

Next I will turn to the Packing register Ext. D which also shows that after 29th September 1964 there was no work of packing up to 27th November 1964. The absence of work for the period from 30th September 1964 to 3rd October 1964 can only be ascribed to strike because the lock-out started on 4th October 1964. Gate pass book is Ext. E. It is to be signed by Inspector of Central Excise when finished goods pass out of the gate. Ext E will show that on 2nd October 1964 the gate pass was signed in respect of some articles. There is no entry in the gate pass book on 30th September 1964, 1st October 1964 or 3rd October 1964. Next entry is 23rd November 1964. Next book is material return slip book Ext. F. It also shows that there was no entry in the material return book on 30th September 1st October and 3rd October 1964. All these records cumulatively would go to corroborate the evidence of Shri Kishore that there had been a stay-in-strike by workers on 30th of September, 1st of October and 3rd October. The notices which have been to be inserted proved and the correspondences would conclusively prove the fact that there had been a stay-in-strike by the workers, in consequence of which the company declared a lock-out. The company declared bonus on 29th. There is no earthly reason why the company would declare a lock-out on 4th of October 1964 all on a sudden if there had been normal work going on up to that date. The circumstances would go to prove that the workers were very much agitated over the declaration of bonus with which they were not satisfied and they resorted to stay-in-strike in order to enforce their demand. On the evidence before me it can be safely concluded that there had been a stay-in-strike by the workers which resulted in the lock-out. If the stay-in-strike continued for three days it was natural for the management to apprehend danger to life and property and in that case the closing down of the place of business was very legitimately resorted to by them. The stay-in-strike was illegal being in contravention of the provisions of section 23 of the Industrial Disputes Act. The stay-in-strike was also unjustified in view of the fact that the company declared bonus of one month's wages. If the workmen were not satisfied with the same the matter could have been persued in conciliation. They had no reason to resort to an illegal strike. The strike must be called unjustified as well. That being the position the lock-out was justified. Once it is held that the lock-out is justified the workmen are not entitled to get wages for the lock-out period unless it can be shown that the lock-out period was unreasonably extended. On a perusal of the correspondence which is before me I am unable to say that the management was indulged in an adamant attitude in lifting the lock-out. As soon as the matter was settled through the intervention of the Labour Commissioner himself on 20th of November 1964 the lock-out was lifted. There is no unreasonable attitude on the part of the management for the lock-out.

The union claims that as the lock-out was for a considerable period the workmen should be paid part of the wages for the said period of apportionment of blame between the workmen and the management. This argument is built upon a case reported in 1963, 1, L.L.J, Supreme Court, page 122 (India Marine Service (P) Ltd. versus their workmen). In that case over bonus issue there was a dispute. There was an agreement in respect of bonus for a particular year. The union made a demand for 7 days' bonus over and above the stipulated period of 37 days. There had been a token strike by the workmen on 30th November 1958. The company declared a lock-out on that very day and the lock-out continued till 5th of January 1959, i.e., for 53 days. In that case the Hon'ble Supreme Court considered the question of strike and the lock-out and came to the finding that the object of the strike was to circumvent settlement in an amicable manner and was unjustified. It was further held that since the strike was unjustified, the lock-out when it was ordered on 13th November 1958 was justified. Normally in such cases wages are not payable but the Hon'ble Supreme Court held that though the lock-out was justified at its commencement its continuance for 53 days was wholly unreasonable and therefore unjustified. It is significant to note that in the reported case the workers resorted to a token strike for one day, i.e., 13th of November 1953. In the instant case there had been stay-in-strike which continued for some days when the company decided to declare a lock-out. In such circumstances the continuance of the lock-out for 47 days was justified. The facts of the reported case do not apply to our present facts. The workers are not therefore entitled to any wages for the lock-out period and there is no question of apportionment of the blame. There is no evidence before me that the lock-out could have been lifted earlier.

The dispute is in regard to bonus for the year 1963-64. The trading year of the company admittedly is from 1st May 1963 to 30th April 1964 i.e., bonus year 1963-64 in respect of which I will direct my findings. The workers claimed bonus equivalent to three months' total wages. The company declared bonus of 1/12th of total wages, i.e., equivalent to one month's total wages but the workers are not satisfied with it. Both sides conceded that Bonus Ordinance which have been enacted in the year 1965 would have application to the trading year in question. There is no controversy over it. Though the written statement of both parties were not specifically directed to the issue bearing upon the calculations according to the Bonus Ordinance, still the parties submit their respective calculations and made their submissions in the light of evidence adduced with special bearing upon the Bonus Ordinance In the instant case the calculation of gross profit derived by the employer shall be based upon second schedule in terms of the provisions of section 4, clause (b). I will now turn to second schedule which is before me. The net profit is to be taken. It will appear in the balance sheet and there is no controversy over the same. It is Rs. 9,67,535. This will appear from the profit and loss account of the year ended 30th April 1964. The balance sheet is Ext. B. There is a presumption of correctness with regard to the statements and particulars contained in the balance sheet and profit and loss account in terms provided in section 23 of the Bonus Ordinance. It is duly audited by auditors duly qualified to act as Auditors of Company. The Tribunal can therefore presume that the statement and particulars contained in such balance sheet and profit and loss account to be accurate and it shall not be necessary for the corporation of the company to prove the accuracy of such statements and particulars. Only when the Tribunal considers that the said statements and particulars are not accurate, it is open to the Tribunal to take such as it think necessary to find out the accuracy of such statements and particulars. In clause (b) it is provided that on application by the trade union who is party to the dispute, the Tribunal may order for clarification and may direct the company to furnish such clarification as the Tribunal may direct. This is the clear provision of section 23 of the Bonus Ordinance.

After obtaining the net profit from the balance sheet certain items are to be added back as provided in the second schedule. Provision for bonus is one of the items to be added back. Let see what is the amount of provision for bonus. the profit and loss account there is a heading lary, wages and bonus" and the total figure vided is Rs. 20,41,170. The company broke the figure for bonus out of it at Rs. 1,08,993. is the provision for bonus for the trading according to the company. It is challenged the side of the union. The union claims that company paid bonus in October 1963 (as dis- ed in evidence) which was due to the workers the trading year 1962-63 and that figure is in- orated in Rs. 20 lacs and odd. The union mpts to split up that figure at Rs. 1,57,013. I not at all appreciate the manner of calculation he union. 1/13th of the total figure of 20 and odd had been taken for the purpose. re is no exact data for the same. The entire re of 20 lacs does not constitute wages. It ades salary, wages, bonus and as clarified by Accountant of the company, Shri Amarjit gh, rent allowance of the staff together with time wages and other items. The rough and y calculation of the bonus paid in October was to the tune of Rs. 1,57,000 is bound to wrong calculation. Moreover the union is ing a serious mistake in asking me to accept the figure 20 lacs and odd includes the unt of bonus which have been paid for the 1962-63 in October 1963. That is not ect. I will presently refer to the evidence of .W. 2, Shri Amarjit Singh, the Chief ountant of the company. He has clarified in evidence that the amount of Rs. 20 lacs debi- in the profit and loss account under the ling salary, wages and bonus include the e of Rs. 1,08,992 which is the provision for rs in that particular trading year. He has gorically stated that Rs. 20 lacs and odd do include the figure of actual payment of bonus ctober 1963 that was liability of the previous unting year. He has produced the ledgers registers before the Tribunal which were ed to be inspected by the representatives of union Shri Pathak and his assistant. On the al prayer I directed for clarification and ed the union representative opportunities examining the ledgers, etc. After the said ination O.P. W. 2, Shri Singh, was allowed e further cross examination in detail by the ed representative for the union. With re- to the bonus paid in October 1963 Shri h states that the payment of bonus in Octo- 1963 related to the year ending 30th April . On such payment the liability is debited as had been provisions for bonus in 1962-63. burden of his evidence is that certain amount ovided for bonus in the trading year and that ision is included in the heading salary, wages bonus. That was an expense provided on the of bonus for the trading year in question is the amount to be added back. The pay- in October 1963 was bonus for the preceding and this had been debited to the liability for ear 1962-63. This has not come into the pro- d loss account for the trading year. It is ficant to note that in the second schedule is another item '3' where the bonus paid in et of previous year is also to be added back. the evidence of Shri Singh and from the lcation he gave by production of ledgers, it will appear that the bonus paid in respect of the previous accounting year does not appear in the profit and loss account of the year and as such no question of adding back of the same arises. In my considered opinion what would be added back is the provision for bonus of a sum of Rs. 1,08,993.

There is no dispute that there is another item to be added back depreciation and there is no controversy about the figure as well. It is Rs. 1,92,453. Then there is another item to be added back, namely, Development Rebate Reserve. The amount is not in controversy; it is Rs. 55,000. The total amount after adding back comes to Rs. 3,56,446. Added to the net profit the total amount comes to Rs. 13,23,981.

Next we come to the question of deductions. The company wants to deduct Rs. 94,314 which is described as subsidy from the Government and body corporate in clause (g) of item No. 6, of the second schedule. Clause (g) runs thus:—

> Subsidy, if any, received from Government or from any body corporate established by any law for the time being in force.

The subsidy has nowhere been defined. We should go by the dictionary meaning of the word "subsidy" in its ordinary connotion. The definition given in Chambers Dictionary is not at all suggestive. Webster's New International Dictionary, Volume I, defines subsidy and besides said grant of money it connotes any gift of money or property made by one person to another by way of financial aid. This definition of subsidy should be considered and its ordinary connotion as grant of money by way of financial aid received from the Government or any body corporate. The balance-sheet nowhere shows the income on the head subsidy. There is no such head of account. The Chief Accountant, Shri Singh, has clarified his evidence as to how the amount of subsidy is to be separated from the balance sheet. His evidence is that a sum of Rs. 48,988 is the subsidy which the company received on export trade under the Export Incentive Scheme of the Government of India. Shri Singh in his cross examination added that the heading in the ledger for subsidy is Export Pool Incentive. The ledgers have been produced. The balance sheet may not contain all the headings and the mere absence of a heading of subsidy in the balance sheet will not be a bar in claiming the exact amount which had been received by the company as subsidy under the Export Pool Incentive. Shri Singh further explained that certain goods are to be exported at a price much lower than their selling price in this country. They are exported outside for earning foreign exchange at lower rate. This is under a special scheme of the Government of India for promotion of foreign trade. The Government pays some amount as subsidy. Obviously to compensate the loss incurred by the company in export part of their product and selling them at a lower price. The amount was received must be called subsidy from the Government. The figure given by Shri Singh, i.e., Rs. 48,988 is supported by the ledgers and cannot be challenged successfully by the Union. Shri Singh added that in the profit and loss account it is credited. Sales

(net) and the amount of Rs. 48,988 is included in the figure Rs. 85,51,757 under the heading by Sales (net). This clarification must be accepted.

Shri Singh had further clarified that the heading "Miscellaneous income" in the profit and loss account credits a sum of Rs. 62,301, out of which Rs. 45,325 are received by the company from E.M.C. which is a body corporate as subsidy. This is how Shri Singh has explained the heading of miscellaneous income in the profit and loss account. Shri Singh's evidence further is that the company is engaged in certain processes in which E.M.C. Ltd. is interested. Some documents are produced to explain the evidence of Shri Singh. They are Ext. J series proved by him. Exts. J, J(1), J(2) are three bills which show that certain sums were received in November and December 1963 as well as in January 1964 as amounts due from E.M.C. for loss on research on fabrication process. One item is of Rs. 19,000, another Rs. 20,000, another of Rs. 5,000. They are not exhaustive but illustrative. They clearly say that the receipts are mere a body corporate and it was payment to compensate the loss on research on fabrication process undertaken by this company on behalf of a body corporate. Such payment cannot but be subsidy and as such the amount on this head of Rs 45,325 are to be added back. In this connexion I may pointed out that Exts. J(3), J(4), J(5) and J(6) are received from the Air Conditioning and Refrigerator Industry Export Pool during that trading year. They are also not exhaustive but illustrative. From all the documents mentioned above as clarified by Shri Singh in his evidence it can be safely concluded that the amount of Rs. 94,314 should be deducted as subsidy from the Government or body corporate. There is some other items to be deducted; depreciation is one of the items. The figure is not in controversy; it is Rs. 1,92,453. The Development Rebate is also to be deducted. It is Rs. 73,300. This is not also in controversy. The next item of controversy is deduction on acount of direct tax which is claimed by the company for a sum of Rs. 6 lacs provided in the balance-sheet for taxation. The union claimed that this is an exaggerated figure. In this connexion we should look into the provision of section 6, clause (c), which runs thus:—

> "..... direct tax which the employer is liable to pay for the accounting year in respect of his income, profits and gains during that year is to be deducted".

The direct tax for which the company is liable for the accounting year should be deducted. The accounting year is on the 1st of May 1963 to 30th of April 1964. The income tax year would be 1965-66. The Finance Act of 1965 would accordingly apply in determining the income tax liability. Shri Singh in his evidence stated that the auditors in the certified accounts approved the provision for taxation at Rs. 6 lacs. Unless that was the amount of liability the Auditors would not have certified it. It is undoubtedly true when the accounts have been certified by the qualified Auditors, the provisions for taxation at Rs. 6 lacs in the profit and loss appropriation account for the year in question was made on a calc tion of the liability for the year. The union not ask for any clarification in respect of this vision for taxation. It is significant to note the actual liability cannot be ascertained b assessment which would be made some after. The liability for taxation is to be est ted at this stage. The rate of taxation for relevant year is 80 per cent. Rebate is calcul at 30 per cent. Roughly 50 per cent. would be rate of tax. The tax is to be assessed on the profit of Rs. 9,67,535 calculated at 50 per roughly the taxation liability would amoun Rs. 4,88,787.

The company has filed a calculation showing the estimated tax calculated on above data I have verified it with referenc the Finance Act of 1965. The company woul liable for all direct taxes including sur tax. company is liable to pay sur tax and the c lation of sur tax has been given according law. That calculation will show that from amount of profit as per profit and loss accoun come tax is to be deducted. There would further deduction of 10 per cent. on capital reserves. That amount is also calculate Ext. I(3). On the balance, i.e., Rs. 2,5 Sur Tax is payable at 40 per cent. The am of Sur Tax accordingly is roughly one The total amount of tax liability come Rs. 5,99,419. It includes dividend tax at the of 7.5 per cent. on the dividend prop That amount is Rs. 15,478. The total amou tax liability has been estimated correctly lacs. In this connexion I may turn to the c lation sheet filed on behalf of the union Ex It is not a correct assesment. Rebate of 3 cent have been taken without any basis. Va rebates have been taken into consideratio glagrant violation of the provisions of secti of the Bonus Ordinance. Section 7 lays dow calculation of direct tax payable by the empl In calculating such tax the clause (a) to (c to be taken into consideration. In (e) clearly provided that no account shall be tak any rebate or credit or relief or deduction payment of any direct tax allowed under any for the time being in force relating to direct or under the relevant annual Finance Act fo development of any industry. Rebates are left out of the account.

It is however significant to note that the mony of Shri Singh was not challenged in re of this item of taxation. I would accord accept the contention of the company that sion for taxation of 6 lacs is the tax liabilit the year in question for the purpose of bonu culation.

It is undisputed that 8.5 per cent. on pai capital at the commencement of the accou year would be deducted in respect of an acc of a corporation. It appears in the third sched (Item No. 3 of the Bonus Ordinance). The com has calculated the sum of Rs. 1,75,000 rou This calculation is not challenged by the U

The next question is about deduction of cent. on reserves unuder section 6(d) of the B Ordinance. The sums to be deducted under se 6, clause(d), are specified in schedule 3. In re of corporation 6 per cent. of its reserves are to be deducted. The language used in schedule C runs thus:—

> Six per cent. of its reserves, if any, shown in its balance-sheet as at the commencement of the accounting year, including any profits carried forward from the previous accounting year.

Shri Singh, Chief Accountant, states in his evidence that the provision for income tax brought forward at the commencement of the year was 4,79,422. This is shown as current liability and provision on the liability side. To this was added provisions for taxation for the year, i.e., Rs. 6 lacs which I have already mentioned. The evidence of Shri Singh further is that at the beginning of the year Rs. 4,79,422 was the amount of provision for income tax which had been brought forward and out of it during the year advance payment of income tax had been made for a sum of Rs. 3,46,024. This is shown under the heading current assets, loans and advance in item No. 4. The difference between the two, i.e., a sum of Rs. 1,33,398 was available to the company in the form of reserve of which the company is entitled to 6 per cent. As to other reserve there is no dispute, namely, on Rs. 70,000, Rs, 1,60,000, Rs. 34,000, and Rs. 14,426 which is the balance of profit and loss account of the preceding year as shown in the appropriation account. Regarding the other reserve there is no dispute. That 6 per cent. is available to the company. The additional reserve of Rs. 1,33,398 on which the company claimed 6 per cent is challenged by the Union on the plea that it is not shown as reserve in the balance sheet. It is true that the said amount is not shown in the balance as a reserve but I may refer to the Text Book on accountancy by William Pickles, second edition, at page 192 and 193, there is a discussion about reserves and provision. At page 193 the following appears:—

It follows therefore that:—

(1) Any amount set aside for the purposes described in (2) (a) and (b) above in excess of estimated requirements must be regarded as a reserve.

(b) referred to runs thus: "Any known liabilities of which the amount can be determined with substantial accuracy".

Tax liability is a known liability which cannot be determined with substantial accuracy. So a provision is made in excess. The balance of Rs. 1,33,000 must be considered as a reserve in the light of the above observations. The company is entitled to 6 per cent. on the said sum. On calculation of 6 per cent. on the total amount of reserve is given at Rs. 24,41,000. The company is entitled to 6 per cent. on this amount is reserve at the beginning of the year. The calculation sheet of the company shows that 6 per cent. on reserves comes to Rs. 24,410,00. I accordingly rely upon the calculation sheet Ext. 1 as given by the company. The position stands thus:

Net Profit		Rs. 9,67,535
Add back
Bonus	Rs. 1,08,993
Depreciation	1,92,453
Development Rebate Reserve	55,000	3,56,446
	3,56,446	13,23,981
Deduct
Subsidy: The amount of subsidy to be deducted		94,314
		12,29,667
	Rs.
Depreciation ...	1,92,453
Development rebate ..	73,300
Direct Tax	6,00,000
8.5 per cent. on capital	1,75,089
6 per cent. on reserves	24,410
	10,65,252	10,65,252
	Available surplus	1,64,415

The amount of surplus accordingly is Rs. 1,64,415. Sixty per cent.. of it is allocable surplus. The amount is Rs. 98,649. The company has declared one month's total wages as bonus. The amount of allocable surplus do not fully cover even one month's wages. That being the position, the union's claim for three months' bonus cannot be succeeded. The union is not entitled to any further relief on account of bonus for the year ending 30th April 1964.

This is my award.

BEFORE THE FOURTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL, CALCUTTA.

Present:

Shri R. BHATTACHARYA, M.A. LL.B, Judge, Fourth Industrial Tribunal.

For the workmen: None

For the Employers: Shri S. K. Roy, Advocate.

The present reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act arises out of the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 2907-I.R./IR/4L-23/65, dated 3rd July 1965. The parties are (1) Shri S. N. Bose, owner of Bus No. WBR-14, 37/2 Russa Road, Calcutta-26 and (2) Shri Tularam Agarwala, Lessee owner of Bus No. WBR-14, Bowbazar, P.O. Titaghur, 24-Parganas, on the one hand and their workmen represented by Barrackpore Bus Employees' Union, B. T. Road, P.O. Khardah, 24-Parganas, on the other. The issue has been framed as follows:

> Whether the termination of service of Sri Badal Lal Singh and Sri Sunil Kumar Sarkar is justified? To what relief, if any, are they entitled?

After due service of notices, the employers appeared and filed written statement. The union has not filed any written statement in spite of service of notice. Shri S. Banerjee, learned Advocate, appeared one day on behalf of the union and prayed for time to file written statement. Shri Banerjee, however, has not filed any authority to represent the workmen. Time was granted. On the next day no step was taken by the union for filing written statement and as a result, today was fixed for ex-parte hearing.

In the absence of the union or the workmen, the matter has been heard ex-parte today. The case of the employer is that this is not an industrial dispute, that the other workmen have not espoused the cause of Badal Lal Singh and Sunil Kumar Sarkar, that the employer never terminated the service of these two persons and that Shri Singh and Shri Sarkar who were employees on the basis of no work no pay, voluntarily failed to turn up to attend their duties after 13th May 1964. On the side of the employer Shri S. N. Basu has examined himself as O.P.W. 1. His evidence is that he is the owner of Bus No. WBR-14, that Shri Tularam Agarwala is not the Lessee owner, that Shri Agarwala manages his business, that Shri Singh and Shri Sarkar were employees on the basis of no work no pay, that their services were not terminated from the side of the employer, that up to 13th May 1964 they worked and thereafter they did not turn up for their duties. This witness has further stated that other workers of his business have not espoused the cause of these two persons and that they did not authorise the Barrackpore Bus Employees' Union to represent the workmen. The union has not come forward to support the claim of the workmen, Shri Sarkar and Shri Singh. I reply upon the evidence of O.P.W. 1 and I find that this is not an industrial dispute and that the story of termination of service of Shri Singh and Shri Sarkar by the employer is not true. As there is no industrial dispute in the present case, the reference is not maintainable and this Tribunal has no jurisdiction to deal with this case. Shri Singh and Shri Sarkar cannot get any relief.

BEFORE THE SIXTH INDUSTRAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri P. BASU, Bar-at-Law, Judge.

The Government of West Bengal, by order No. 3348-I.R./IR/11L-178/65, dated the 2nd August 1965, has referred the following industrial dispute between Messrs. Stewarts and Lloyds of India Private Ltd., C/o. IISCO Ltd., P.O. Burnpur, Burdwan and their workmen represented by United Contractors' Workers' Union, Bari Smriti Bhawan, Subhashpally, P.O. Burnpur, Burdwan, to this Tribunal for adjudication.

Issue

Whether the termination of service of Shri Balkissan is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

After the service of the usual notice to the parties, a petition of compromise signed by two Officers of the Company and Balkissan, the workmen concerned and one Shri Chakraborty who is the Regional Labour Officer, posted at Asansol and also by Shri Kalyan Roy, who is the Joint Secretary of the Union, was submitted on 14th September 1965. As the relevant authority was not filed along with the petition, the matter was put up on 20th September 1965 for orders. On that date Shri J. N. Chatterjee appeared for the Company and filed an authority. One Mr. Pasricha also appeared with Mr. Chatterjee and h told me that the amount as per terms of settlement had been paid to the concerned workman, and that Shri Kalyan Roy who is the Joint Secretary of the Union is expected to appear before this Tribunal on 21st September 1965. Accordingly the record was put up on 21st September 1965 for orders. On that date Shri Pallab Kumar Chatterjee who was also present on 20th September 1965, appeared but Shri Kalyan Kumar Roy did not appear. Acordingly no order could be passed on 21st September 1965. This day both Shri Pallab Kumar Chatterjee who is the Personnel Officer of the Company and Shri Kalyan Roy appeared. I have heard both of them and I am satisfied that the terms of settlement are legal, bona fide and fair and should be given effect to. It would appear that the sum of Rs. 2,867 (Rupees Two thousand and eight hundred and sixty-seven only) had been paid in full satisfaction of all the claims of Shri Balkissan and that there is no dispute pending between the Company and the workman represented by the Union. I accordingly pass a "No-dispute" award making this petition of compromise as an annexure to this award.

This is my award.

In the matter of an industrial dispute between M/s. Shalimar Paints Ltd., P.O. Botanic Garden, Howrah, and their clerical and subordinate staff represented by Shalimar Paint Employees' Union, 5 Dakshin Baksara Lane, Andul Road, P.O. Botanic Garden, Howrah. (G.O. BEFORE THE FOURTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL, CALCUTTA

Present:

Shri R. BHATTACHARYA, M.A. LL.B., Judge, Fourth Industrial Tribunal

For the Union: Shri N. Dutta Majumder, Counsel, Shri J. Banerjee, Advocate.

For the Company: Shri P. P. Ginwalla, Counsel.

The present reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act over a dispute between M/s. Shalimar Paints Ltd., P.O. Botanic Garden, Howrah, and their clerical and subordinate staff represented by the Shalimar Paint Employees' Union, 5 Dakshin Baksara Lane, Andul Road, P.O. Botanic Garden, Howrah, arises out of the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 4404-I.R./IR/11L-295(B)/64, dated, 19th September 1964. According to the order of reference this Tribunal is to ascertain the proper designation of eighty workmen mentioned. A list of those eighty persons is marked Annexure 'A' to this award.

The Shalimar Paints Emloyees' Union, (hereinafter described as the Union), has filed its written statement. In short, the case of the union is that the Shalimar Paints Ltd. mentioned in the order of reference (hereinafter described as the company), has described the eighty persons mentioned in the list as clerks. According to the union these persons have not been properly designated, but they have been classified in a very general way without justification and without reference to their actual jobs. It has been submitted by the union that for not giving proper designation to these persons, they cannot be properly classified for fixation of pay structure and increment, for future promotion, and for several other purposes. The union wants to say that the company did not properly designate the workers being prompted by ulterior motive to deprive them of all benefits arising out of service. The union has submitted a list attached to the written statement mentioning the designation claimed for the workmen.

The company has also submitted its written statement denying the material allegations made by the union. Briefly speaking, the company has stated that there has been no wrong description of the designations of the workmen. The designations of the workmen have been correctly given by the company. The workmen who are doing the clerical jobs have been designated as such. No special skill or training is required for the clerks. The classification of clerks is not arbitrary and it has not deprived the employees of any benefit of service. The company has made a general denial of the allegations of the union and the submission of the company is that the workmen are not entitled to any relief.

Several documents have been admitted in evidence on both the sides. The union has examined 12 witnesses on its side whereas the company has examined only one.

At the begining of the argument Shri Ginwalla for the company contended that the Industrial Tribunal has no jurisdiction to consider the question of designation of the workmen and, therefore, the dispute relating to the designation, if there be any, cannot be an industrial dispute. His submission was that in the schedules to the Industrial Disputes Act there is no provision for any dispute regarding designation of the workmen. On the other hand, Shri Dutta Majumder, learned counsel for the union, submitted that the question of designation of the workmen was very much connected with the service conditions and gradations and scales of pay. According to him, this was an industrial dispute. In the third schedule of the Industrial Disputes Act, the item No. 7 relates to classification of grades. This item does not, however, relates to designation. Item No. 6 of the second schedule relates to all matters other than those specified in the third schedule. This item No. 6, therefore, covers all other relevant disputes not especially mentioned in the third schedule. Item No. 6 of the second schedule is very much exhaustive. Ext. 6 is the copy of an agreement between the company's office at Calcutta and their workmen relating to the scales of pay of the clerical staff, subordinate staff and some other matters. Regarding the scales of pay of the clerical staff the company agreed to allow especial benefits to Stenographers, Comptometer-Operators, Accounting Machine Operators. It is clear, therefore, that the company recognised the designations of Stenographer, etc., for fixation of their pay in the clerical staff. The designations, therefore, are very much relevant and important also for the purpose of gradation of the clerical staff. It is also desirable that the workmen should be given designation as far as practicable. I have no doubt that the question of designation of the workmen, if disputed by the workmen, is an industrial dispute. This tribunal has, therefore, jurisdiction to consider the issue mentioned in the order of reference.

The first matter that arises for consideration relates to the definition of the word 'clerk'. First of all, it is to be noted that there has been no judicial pronouncement defining exhaustively what is meant by the word 'clerk'. From the side of the company I have been referred to the case of Shri Vinaya Nath Narain Sinha & Ors. vs. Bihar Jaurnals Ltd. & ors. reported in 1954 A.I.R. Patna High Court, page 1, for the definition of the word 'clerk'. I have gone through the case and I find that the definition of clerk has not been exhaustively given. Only a general aspect of the nature of a clerk's duty has been mentioned. My attention has also been drawn to the case of Shri Sudarsan Banerjee and Ors.

vs. M/s. McLeod & Co. Ltd., reported in 1953, L.A.C. at page 702. Shri Ginwalla for the company wanted to say that the clerks would have at best, been divided in four categories, viz., Stenographer, Typist, general clerk and Sarkar. In this case again the word 'clerk' has not been exhaustively defined. Moreover, the category 'general clerk' has, again, not been properly described. The duties of the general clerks have not been stated. The question is whether the subdivisions of the clerical staff in four categories should be applied in all industries and enterprises. I think subdivisions or designations depend upon the primary and actual duties and nature of work of the workmen concerned. One industry may have some clerks doing some particular duties whereas another may engage a large number of clerks doing various and numerous clerical duties of different nature. The question of designation of workmen should therefore be decided with reference to particular facts and circumstances prevailing in the particular business or industry in question. The Labour Appellate Tribunal, therefore, mentioned the four sub-divisions in the case of Sudarsan Banerjee and others with reference to the particular facts of the case.

On perusal of the Oxford Dictionary, Chambers Dictionary and the Webster Dictionary we may have a general idea as to what the word 'clerk' implies. It is not possible to define 'clerk' quite exhaustively and with exactitude. For a general definition for all practical purposes, however, by the word 'clerk' we mean one employed in the office or shop or any establishment whose duty is mainly connected with writing or copying or account-keeping or record-keeping or maintaining correspondences.

In the case before me, the union wants to say that in some cases although the workmen do not do any clerical duty, they have been described as clerks. It has also been submitted that although there are some workmen who are in the category of clerks, they should have been given especial designation because of their especial and skilful works. I am not to classify the workmen of the company for the purpose of grades and scales of pay or otherwise. I am to give suitable designation to the workmen mentioned in the order of reference with reference to their work, if found necessary. Twelve workmen of the company have been examined before me. P.W. 1 is Ganesh Chandra Banerjee. He says that he is a Punching Operator of the company's factory. His duty is to punch cards according to the issue of chits with the help of the machine known as Power-Samas. He says that although his designation is Tally-clerk, he has been working as Punching Operator for the last 12 years. His evidence shows that up to 1962 he was a daily paid clerk. In 1962 he was designated as Tally-clerk so that he could enjoy the benefits of the permanent hands. His duty is to punch the cards according to the code number given in the issue chits. Thereafter he is to file the issue chits. From his evidence we also get that before coming to the Punching Machine he had been doing the general duties. O.P.W. 1 who is the Works Manager of the company has given evidence. He says that the person who is to operate the Punching Machine, operates the machine to perform calculations pertaining to stores, accounts and general office works. He is to punch upon some piece of paper with reference to records. The machine is a sort of type-writer. The operator is to punch column acording to issue chits. The service card exhibited in this case shows that he is a Tally-clerk. The nature of duties performed by P.W. 1 also that he is a clerk. He wants designation 'Punching Operator'. For the purpose of classification of workmen and also for the purpose of grades and scales of pay, P.W. 1 Shri Banerjee, mentioned in Sl. No. 10 in the order of reference, is a clerk no doubt as mentioned in the service-card. But considering the nature of work, he is mainly concerned with, I have no hesitation to designate him as Punching Machine Operator. The operation of the machine in course of duty is, of course, a part of clerical duty.

P.W. 2 is the person mentioned in Sl. No. 13 in the order of reference. His evidence is that he has been working as Comptist, that is to say a Comptometer Machine Operator for the last 11 years. He says that comptometer is an adding machine. The Works Manager in his evidence has stated that comptometer is a hand-operating calculating machine. The operator presses levers which resemble keys of type-writers and additions are automatically done. There is no doubt that P.W. 2 has been doing the works of clerical nature connected with accounts and records. According to the service card, however, he has been rightly described as clerk. Considering that he operates on comptometer in course of his duties, I am inclined to designate him as Comptometer Operator.

P.W. 3 is Krishna Kumar Majumder named in Sl. No. 1 in the order of reference. His evidence is that he has been working in the company as a Stenographer from 1946. He has also filed a certificate of a previous office Manager and the same has been marked Ext. 1. This certificate shows that Shri Majumder worked as personal stenographer of the Manager for about 12 years. The certificate further shows that he is a good Stenographer and excellent clerk. On consideration of the evidence on records, I find that P.W. 3 has been rightly designated as clerk for classification of the workmen but with reference to the nature of work, he may be designated as Stenographer.

P.W. 4 is Ratan Ch. Paul named in Sl. No. 22 in the order of reference. In the service card he has been described as Tally-clerk. His evidence shows that he is a Roneo Operator for the last 16 or 17 years. This witness has read up to Class X. Compositions are made by type and set in machine and thereafter printing is done. Before coming to work on Roneo Machine, P.W. 4 used to keep accounts of the shed cards and to help Roneo Operator. From the evidence of the Works Manager, we get that Roneo is a small hand operating printing machine. Types are set in the machine and labels are printed. There can be no doubt that for the purpose of classification of workmen he has been rightly described as clerk but considering the facts that he operates in the machine, he should be designated as Roneo Operator.

P.W. 5 is Asutosh Karmakar of Sl. No. 21 in the order of reference. He wants to say that he is draftsman of the company and that he has been acting as such for 19 or 20 years. From his evidence we get that he was designated 'Babu' by the company. He has filed his certificate showing that he has passed draftmanship. We get from him that he was appointed as Babu in 1939. The word 'Babu' implies clerk. He is now working in the Engineering Department. After his appointment he used to do general clerical duties for about two years. He wants to say that at present he is not doing the work of general clerical duties but he has admitted that in absence of any clerk he does the job. The witness says that he is to do the machinery and survey drawing and that he prepares drawings of the broken parts of the machineries. He also makes drawing of foundation of machineries for installation purposes. In short, the witness says that he is occupied during the whole-day with the works of draftsman. Of course, he has admitted that he prepares bills. Sometimes he checks bills. He has admitted that these are his main duties. He is to check the bills of factory painting, and quotations for buildings. O.P.W. 1 has stated during evidence that Shri Karmakar does certain amount of clerical work and certain amount of drawing work. According to him Shri Karmakar did 17 simple drawings and 4 tracings in 1964. He has further stated that Shri Karmakar does clerical work every day and does the drawing jobs according to the necessity. Mr Churchil, O.P.W. 1, has stated that Shri Karmakar spends 1/6th of his time in drawing. During cross-examination he has asserted that he has got personal knowledge about the works done by Shri Karmakar. It is clear that Shri Karmakar was appointed as a clerk. Subsequently, he was transferred in the Engineering Department and there he has to do the clerical duties. Of course, in connection with his duties he has to prepare drawings and do some works of draftsmanship. There is no doubt that Shri Karmakar has certificate showing his proficiency, but this does not prove that Shri Karmakar has been appoined as a draftsman or that he has been working as a drafsman under the company. It may be that he is to do some work of drawing, tracing and other works of draftsmanship but his principal duty is to do the clerical job in preparing bills, checking the bills, etc. The service card exhibited in this case shows that Shri Karmakar has been designated as clerk and I cannot hold that he should be designated as a draftsman as claimed.

P.W. 6 is Jnanendra Nath Mukherjee mentioned in Sl. No. 5 in the order of reference. His evidence is that he is a Typist, and he has been doing the work of a Typist for the last 20 years. Admittedly, he is designated as clerk. Rather, he has been described as clerk for the purpose of classification. Admittedly again, he is now placed in 'D' grade, the top-most grade of the clerks. His evidence shows that he does not do any general clerical job in addition to typing. He types out correspondences and returns and sends them to the respective department. I am satisfied that P.W. 6 though rightly called a clerk for the purpose of classification of workmen, is a Typist, and that he should be designated as Typist.

P.W. 7, is Samir Kumar Chatterjee mentioned in Sl. No. 45 in the order of reference. He has stated that he has been working as a Ball-mill Operator for the last six years. Paint-mixture is prepared in Ball-mills. He says that he is to prepare paint-mixture according to formula. His evidence is that he is a clerk. From his cross examination we get that he agreed to be employed as Babu which means a clerk. His duty is to collect materials or, rather, to get material issued according to the formula by issuing requisition slips. When these materials are collected, they are placed into the machine by labourers. The materials are mixed up in the machine which is run by the machine-man. He keeps watch on the metre and in case of difficulty he calls the Chemist. The witness has further stated that he gets the sample of the mixture and watches the consistencies. If there is any trouble in the sample, he requires the help of a Chemist. He has further stated that his duty is to see that right materials have come. O.P.W. has stated that the person who wants to be designated as Ball-mill Operator makes up the issue chits for necessary raw materials and supervise their loading into the ball-mill. The machine attendants start and stop the machines. Chemist and the Mill foremen supervise the quality and ingredients of the ball-mills. The service card of this witness has been marked an exhibit. He has been described as a clerk. There is no convincing evidence that P.W. 7 runs or handles the ball-mill. The machine is handled by other persons but the duty of P.W. 7 is to issue chits and to collect materials for getting them into the ball-machines. He is not directly connected with the operation of the ball-mill. He has been rightly designated as clerk. He cannot be called ball-mill Operator.

Haradhan Bhuiya will appear in Sl. No. 35 in the order of reference. He has been examined as P.W. 8. He wants to describe himself as a technical assistant. From his evidence we get that his duty is to match colour, adjust the viscosity and specific gravity and check the drying. He has taken training in the Industrial Research Laboratory under the Directorate of Industries Government of West Bengal. His certificate has been marked Ext. 3. This man has to match colour according to cards or samples and to compare the colour by looking at them. If there is any difference, he is to adjust the colour by addition of colour. The company has admittedly employed several persons like P.W. 8 and these persons are classified as clerks. The Works Manager says that Tintar is a person who brings the colour to the correct degree required, add colour to the paints to bring them to the correct degree of shades. This person cannot by any imagination be classified or designated as clerk, because, practically speaking, he has no clerical duty to perform.

O.P.W. 1 has admitted that 90 per cent. work. of Tintars is not clerical in nature. He has further stated that in all other countries of the world these persons are classed as Paint Factory Labourers. We get from the evidence of O.P. W. 1 that the company has, however, up-grated these persons by treating them as clerks. It may be that as a matter of grace or otherwise the company has given monetary help to the Tintars by up-grading them and by calling them clerks but still I am to decide whether proper designation has been given according to their works. For the purpose of pay and other emoluments the company might have classified the Tintars as clerks but I must call them Tintars for their designation with reference to their duties and works.

P.W. 9. is Sushil Chandra Chakraborty mentioned in Sl. No. 34 in the order of reference. He has been designated by the company as clerk. His evidence shows that he has the same duties as in the case of Haradhan Bhuiya. Shri Chakraborty should be designated as Tintar on the same ground.

Phiroj Ahmed is P.W. 10. His name appears in Sl. No. 2 of the order of reference. He has been admittedly classified in the category of clerk. This witness wants the designation of a Stenographer. From his evidence we get that he has been doing the work of Stenographer since his appointment. The Works Manager has stated in his evidence that Shri Ahmed should, rather, be described as a clerk-cum-typist although he occassionally does the work of Stenographer. I have no reason to disbelieve the evidence of P.W. 10 when he says that he has been doing the works of Stenographer since his appointment. He should be designated as a Stenographer although he may be classified as a clerk.

P.W. 11 Haran Chandra Mondal has been mentioned in Sl. No. 34 in the order in reference. By the company he has been classified as a clerk. His service card shows that he is a Tally-clerk. His evidence shows that he works with Multilith-machine. It is driven by electric power. Admittedly it is a duplicating machine. Master copies are sent from various branches of the company and they are put in the machine with other sheets of paper. When the switch is pressed by the operator, the machine automatically duplicates or copies the master copy placed in the machine. The job of this witness is clerical no-doubt but as he works with the aid of Multilith machine, he should be properly designated as Multilith Operator.

P.W. 12 is the General Secretary of the Union. His name is Harisankar Ghosh. Admittedly, he is a clerk. At first he worked as a clerk in the Order Department and thereafter he was working as a clerk in the Accounts Department. At present, however, he is working as a Despatch clerk in the Despatch Section. From the evidence of this witness we get the policy of the union is not to oppose any transfer from one department to another having the same job. The witness says that the union will have no objection if a clerk is transferred from the Order Department to the Despatching Department to do the same job. The union in its written statement wants that the clerks should be sub-divided into accounts clerk, graduate clerk, graduate accounts clerk, etc. This sort of sub-division of category of workmen cannot be considered or done in the present reference. I am to see whether such designation can be given. P.W. 12 has stated that he is not aware of any designation as graduate accounts clerk or graduate clerk in any other concern. He says that by mistake he failed to claim the privilege of getting the designation of graduate accounts clerk. From his evidence we find that ordinary clerks can do accounts work. This witness has been rightly described as clerk in the service card and I do not think that any other especial designation should be given to this witness.

Except the twelve persons mentioned above, no other workman of the list mentioned in the order of reference has been examined before me to give evidence regarding his duties and jobs for ascertaining his designation. Workmen's service cards have been exhibited in this case. Of these remaining persons, Bhagabati Prasanna Banerjee (Sl. No. 73) has been designated as Compounder in the service card. This designation has been claimed by the union. But with regard to the other persons who have not been examined before me, there is no evidence as to the nature of their works or duties and in the absence of such evidence, I cannot give any special designation to them as claimed by the union in the Annexure 'A' to its written statement.

On perusal of the service cards of the workmen exhibited in this case, I have no doubt that the workmen have been classified as mentioned therein for the purpose of grades and scales of pay and, therefore, the designation I have assigned to the workmen above, will not in any way cause any prejudice to the company. I believe that the company will do well in future by giving proper designations to the workmen in the line indicated above and with reference to the actual works done by the workmen.

This is my award.

> Whether the suspension of Shri Dulal Ch Daw for four days is justified? What relief, if any, is he entitled to?

After due notices the parties filed their respecve written statements. In short, the case of ie Glass Factory Mazdoor Union (hereinafter illed the union), is that Shri Dulal Ch. Daw has een working in the R. P. Tank Department of ie Hindusthan Pilkington Glass Works Ltd., ereinafter referred to as the company). It has been alleged rther that the enquiry held by the company fended the principles of natural justice and no asonable opportunity was given to Shri Daw for is self-defence. The company after finding hri Daw guilty of the charges, suspended him for ur days and this order of suspension has been aracterised by the union as mala fide.

From his evidenI am satisfied that Shri Daw was duly served ith charge-sheet, that he submitted his exanation, that a fair enquiry was held giving all portunities to Shri Daw that Shri Daw attended the enquiry, that the finding of the enquiring officer regarding the guilt of Shri Daw is very reasonable and not at all perverse, that there has been no basic error of fact and that the enquiry and the order of suspension were reasonable, bona fide, justified and legal. Present:

Shri S. K. RAY,
Judge, Seventh Industrial Tribunal.

For the Company : Shri D. N. Varma, Labour Officer, E.A.I.

For the Workman : None.

AWARD

This proceeding arises out of an application under section 33A Industrial Disputes Act by Shri Sahadev Rout, complaining of alleged refusal of employment to him and consequent dismissal from service with effect from 24th October 1964 without any charge-sheet and enquiry and without any reason whatsoever. It is alleged that this discharge or dismissal was effected during the pendency of the adjudication proceedings of another dispute between the Company and its workmen, referred to this Tribunal by G.O. No. 3537-I.R., dated 6th August 1962.

The Company O.P. appeared and filed its written statement. The main and substantial plea taken by the Company is that this workman was not discharged or dismissed, as alleged, but he voluntarily resigned from service on 24th October 1964 by a letter and thereafter he took payment of all his outstanding dues under a receipted voucher in full and final settlement of all his claims.

After necessary preliminary proceedings and some adjournments, the case was fixed for hearing on 22nd September 1965. On that date, the Company's representative was present and ready for hearing, but there was no appearance by or on behalf of the workman and no step was taken on his behalf. Instead of proceeding ex-parte at once on that date, the Tribunal suo moto adjourned the case till 25th September 1965. On 25th September 1965 again, the Company's representative was present and ready, but there was no appearance by on or behalf of the workman and no step was taken on his behalf. In these circumstances, the case was taken up for hearing under rule 21 of the West Bengal Industrial Disputes Rules.

The Company produced its evidence in support of the plea that there was no dismissal or discharge of the workman but he voluntarily resigned from service by a letter and was subsequently paid all his outstanding dues and he accepted the payment in full and final settlement of his claim. O.P.W. 1 Shri Ram Ballav Shroff gave evidence and he proved the resignation letter, Ext. A, and the receipted voucher, Ext. B. There is no evidence on the side of the applicant workman to prove his case that he was dismissed or discharged. I accept the evidence produced on behalf of the Company and hold thereon that there was no dismissal or discharge of the workman, as complained, but he voluntarily resigned from service and then took payment of all his outstanding dues in full and final settlement of his claim. Accordingly, his complaint must stand rejected.

In the result, I reject the complaint made by the workman about his alleged discharge or dismissal from service and find on the contrary that he voluntarily resigned from service, and so, he is not entitled to any relief.

I award accordingly.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Metropolitan Printing and Publishing House (P) Ltd., 7 Chowringhee Road, Calcutta-13 and their workmen represented by the Press Employees' Association 249B Bepin Behari Canguly Street, Calcutta-12 (Case No. 30 of 1965).

The above industrial dispute was referred to this Tribunal under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, by Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 638-I.R. IR/13L-44/63, dated the 13th February 1965, for adjudication upon the only issue which is as follows:

Issue

Bonus for the year 1963-64 payable in 1964.

After receipt of the reference from Government on 16th February 1965 usual notices were issued to the parties concerned fixing 16th March 1965 for their appearance and for filing written statement by the union. The union entered appearance on 16th March 1965 and filed its written statement on 17th April 1965. The Company filed its written statement on 3rd May 1965. The parties were directed to file their documents by 15th June 1965, and the Company filed its audited balance-sheet and profit and loss accounts for the year ending 31st March 1964. The case was fixed for hearing on 10th September 1965. On that date the parties prayed for an adjournment, and the case was adjourned till 17th September 1965 for hearing. On that date a joint petition for time was filed by the parties stating that the dispute was likely to be settled amicably out of Court. The case was adjourned to 20th September 1965 to give the parties an opportunity to effect the settlement of the dispute amicably. On that date the parties filed a joint petition of compromise stating therein that the dispute between them relating to bonus for the year 1963-64 which was referred to this Tribunal for adjudication had been amicably settled. It is further stated that they also amicably settled the question of payment of bonus for the year 1964-65 although this was not referred to for adjudication. The terms of settlement contained in the joint petition of compromise appear to be quite reasonable and fair, and I am satisfied that there has been a bone fide settlement of the dispute between the parties on terms set forth in the petition of compromise. The petition of compromise is accepted and I pass a "no dispute" award in terms of the petition of compromise which do form a part of the award.

AWARD

The Government of West Bengal by order No. 6533-I.R./IR/11L-242/64, dated the 9th December 1964, had previously referred certain industrial disputes between Messrs. Gobinda Bhaban Karyalaya and their workmen represented by Calcutta Leather Workers' Union to the First Industrial Tribunal for adjudication.

Issues

1. Wages.

2. Whether the lockout is justified ? What relief, if any, the workmen are entitled to ?

Subsequently that reference was withdrawn and a reference on the similar term was made to this Tribunal for adjudication by order No. 3403-I-R./IR/11L-242/64, dated the 9th August 1965.

After the receipt of the fresh reference to this Tribunal notice was issued to the parties and the Union was directed to put in the written statement by 10th September 1965. On that date Union prayed for time and time was allowed till 25th September 1965 for filing the written statement. On that date the Union did not take any step and I was given to understand that the matter might be settled. Hence the record was ordered to be put up on 27th September 1965. This date a petition of settlement signed by the Assistant Secretaries, President and the Secretary of the Union and two learned Advocates of two sides had been put in before me. It would appear that all the disputes between the parties had been settled outside the tribunal and that there is no dispute pending between them at present. I have considered the terms of settlement which appear to be fair, bona fide and legal and should be given effect to. I therefore pass a "no dispute" award making the petition of compromise an annexure to the award. This is my award.

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Ganges Manufacturing Co. Ltd., Bansberia, Hooghly and their workmen represented by Bansberia Jute Mills Labour Union, Bansberia, Hooghly (G.O. No. 1074-IR, dated 13th March 1965). (VIII—53/65).

Judge, Fourth Industrial Tribunal.

For the workmen : Shri P. K. Sanyal, Advocate and Shri N. Roy, Advocate.

For the Company : Shri J. K. Ghosh, Advocate, Orr Dignam & Co.

The present industrial dispute between Messrs. Ganges Manufacturing Co. Ltd., Bansberia, Hooghly, and their workmen represented by Bansberia Jute Mills Labour Union, Bansberia, Hooghly, has been referred to this Tribunal for adjudication under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act by the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 1074-I.R./IR/7L-9/65, dated 13th March 1965. The issue for decision is as follows :

> If the management is justified in calling workmen to work on Sunday which is weekly day of rest by giving them a day off in lieu thereof as at present? To what relief, if any, are the workmen entitled?

The parties appeared in this case and submitted their respective written statements. 13th September 1965 was fixed for hearing of the case but on that day both the parties filed petitions for adjournment of the hearing. That day I asked the parties to see if there was any chance for compromise especially in view of the war emergency in the country. Today was fixed for hearing.

Shri Sannyal on behalf of the union informs me that the workmen have decided not to proceed with the present dispute during this emergency period and they, of course, reserve their right to raise the present dispute in future. To this effect the workmen file a petition and pray for an award in terms thereof. A copy of the petition is served on the other side and Shri J. K. Ghosh, learned Advocate for the company, submits on behalf of his client that he has no objection to the prayer of the workmen and agrees that an award may be passed in terms of the petition filed by the workmen. On hearing the learned Advocates of both the sides it has become clear that the workmen like to give the highest production to the mill in view of the difficult days of the country when there is an aggression from outside. This attitude of the workmen is highly commendable. Consent or no consent from the side of the company, the present circumstances demand that the prayer of the union should be allowed. However, in the present case Shri Sannyal and Shri Ghosh, Advocates of the Union and the Company respectively, agree that the petition filed by the union may be a part of the award.

I, therefore, pass an award in terms of the petition filed by the workmen today which shall form part thereof as Annexure 'A'.

For the Union: Shri D. L. Sen Gupta, Advocate.
For the Company: Shri P. B. Ginwalla, Counsel, Shri J. K. Ghosh, Advocate, Orr Dignam & Co.

Originally the Government of West Bengal by its Labour Department, order No. 6812-I.R./IR/11L-372/59, dated 10th December 1959, sent the present reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act to this Tribunal for adjudication of the issue relating to additional bonus for the years ended 31st December 1957 and 31st December 1958. The parties were Messrs. Indian Tube Company (1953) Ltd. and Tata S. & L. Sales Ltd., 41 Chowringhee Road, Calcutta, and their workmen represented by the Indian Tube Employees' Union, 35-B Wellington Street, Calcutta. Subsequently, however, the Government of West Bengal by its Labour Department Corrigendum No. 1448-I.R./IR/11L-372/59, dated 2nd April 1960, for the issue mentioned in the original reference substituted the following issue:

After service of notices the parties appeared and submitted their written statements. The Indian Tube Employees' Union (hereinafter described as the union) filed the written statement on 2nd January 1960. In short, the case of the union is that during the Indian Tube Company Limited was started in 1937 it used to manufacture tubes from imported skelp. The company had to suspend its operation for sometime and in 1946-47 it resumed its operation for a short time but then it was closed down for good. The Indian Tube Co. (1953) Limited is a different enterprise registered in 1954. At about the same time the Tata S. & L. Sales Private Ltd., was also formed to sell and distribute the tubes. The registered offices of Messrs. Stewarts & Lloyds of India Private Ltd., Messrs. Indian Tube Company (1953) Ltd. (hereinafter referred to as the Tube Company) and Messrs. Tata S. & L. Sales Private Ltd. (hereinafter described as the Sales Company) are all located at 41 Chowringhee Road, Calcutta-16. It has been alleged that all these three companies have the same person as their Managing Director, the same person as their Secretary and virtually the same person as their principal officer in the Head Office. It is also stated that many of the Directors are also common to these three companies. It is stated by the union that the clerical and the subordinate staffs of Messrs. Stewarts and Lloyds of India Private Ltd. used to do all clerical jobs of the Sales Company up to 31st December 1955 and those of the Tube Company up to 31st May 1956. Some of the clerical and subordinate staffs were transfered from the muster roll of the Stewarts & Lloyds of India Private Ltd. to that of the Sales Company with effect from 1st January 1956. These employees were again transferred from the muster roll of the Sales Company to that of the Tube Company with effect from 1st June 1956. The present dispute, according to the union, relates to these workmen who were transferred to the Tube Company. It has been stated by the union that these transfers were book transfers and not physical or bona fide transfers. Most of these employees continued to do the same job as they had been doing prior to their transfer. It is submitted in the written statement that most of the clerical and subordinate staffs have to do work of all these three companies though their names appear in the muster roll of this company or that paragraph 14 of the written statement the union has stated that the three companies ought to have pooled their profits of the years in question in order to ascertain bonus to which the workmen were entitled because it is not possible to ascertain and apportion the contribution of each individual workman concerned to the prosperity of each of these companies. According to union Messrs. Stewarts and Lloyds of India Private Ltd. paid to the workmen on its muster roll certain bonus. The Tube Company paid to the workmen on its muster roll some bonus but the Sales Office has not paid any bonus at all. The amount of bonus paid by the Stewarts & Lloyds of India Ltd. and those paid by the Tube Company were not same, and the union has stated that this was a case of discrimination. The union approached the management and demanded that the same quantum of bonus should be paid by the three companies but the demand was not paid heed to. Ultimately, however, the union approached the Government and as a result, the present reference has been sent to this Tribunal for decision. In the prayer portion the union has prayed for a direction to pay as bonus half of the basic earnings of the years 1956, 1957 and 1958. After the corrigendum the union has filed an additional written statement. In this written statement it has been stated that for the year 1956 the workmen are eligible to bonus from the Sales Company for the period from 1st January 1956 to 31st May 1956 and from the Tube Company for the period from 1st June 1956 to 31st December 1956. It has been stated that the companies are liable both individually and collectively to pay bonus as stated. In this subsequent written statement the previous written statement has been adopted.

In short, the case of the Tube Company and the Sales Company is that the reference is ultra vires and invalid and that the Tribunal has no jurisdiction to adjudicate upon the dispute in question. It has been stated that the Sales Company does not employ any workman at all and that no workman of that company is represented by the union. It is also stated that there cannot be a single industrial dispute between several employers and their respective workmen, if any, on issue or on claims for bonus for the years in question. It is also submitted that a dispute relating to bonus claimed from the combind profit of two or more companies is incapable of being an industrial dispute. According to the companies the financial year of the Tube Company is from the 1st of January to the 31st December in each year and that the financial year of the Sales Company is from 1st October to 30th September following. According to the companies, the Tube Company has no available surplus according to the Full Bench Formula for payment of bonus. For maintaining industrial peace some ex-gratia amounts were paid to the workmen. In March 1933 the Indian Tube Co. Ltd. was started and in the year 1954 the name of the said company was changed to the Tata S. & L. Sales (Private) Ltd. This company under its former name owned and operated a plant at Shalimar in Howrah but the manufacturing activities of the company were however discontinued long ago and its activities became limited to purchasing and selling of goods of the same nature as it had previously manufactured. In respect of the financial years ending 30th September 1957 and 1958, the company's activities were confined to fulfilling outstanding contracts and/or importing and selling against licences which had already been obtained and which it was desired to utilise. The company's activities resulted in a trading loss in each of the years in question and there was no avilable surplus for payment of bonus. The Sales Company has no employees of its own and it entered into an agreement with the Tube Company under which the latter performed through its employees in terms of the agreement, works of clerical nature that required to be done for the Sales Company. In consideration of the Tube Company, undertaking to have such work performed for the Sales Company, the latter sold the goods to the Tube Company at cost, so that the trading profits that the Sales Company would otherwise have made was actually made by the Tube Company. Consequently the employees of the Tube Company who carried out the clerical works of the Sales Company were enable to share in the available surplus of profits attributable to such work when there was any such available surplus. It has been admitted from the side of the companies that Tube Company is an entirely different entity from the company formerly known as the Indian Tube Company Ltd., now known as the Sales Company after the change of name. It has been further admitted that the Stewarts and Lloyds India Private Ltd., the Tube Company and the Sales Company all have their registered offices at 41 Chowringhee Road, Calcutta, having the same person as their Managing Director or Direct-in-charge and the same person as their Assistant Secretary. It is denied that the three companies have the same persons as their principal officers except the Managing Director and the Assistant Secretary as already stated. It has been further stated that each of the companies has many Directors and only about two of them are common to all the companies. The companies have denied the allegations of discrimination mentioned by the union. It has been further denied by the company that the workmen have any right to claim any share in the profits either of the companies and it has been asserted that there was no available surplus of profits for payment of bonus.

The companies filed additional written statement after the corrigendum of the Government. They took objection to the jurisdiction of this Tribunal and challenged the maintainability of the reference on the ground mentioned in the original written statement. It has been further asserted that the corrigendum, dated 2nd April 1960, was invalid and ultra vires. It has been admitted by the companies that certain persons employed by the Sales Company from 1st January 1956 to 31st May 1956 became the employees of the Tube Company on 1st June 1956. It has been submitted that for the year ending 31st December 1956, the Tube Company paid a bonus to its workmen at Jamshedpur at the rate of one month's basic salary, in spite of the fact that there was no available surplus for payment of bonus. The Sales Company did not pay any bonus to its previous employees in respect of the year ended 30th September 1956 because it had ceased to have any employee at its Head Office when the financial year ended and the accounts were closed. The Tube Company, however, paid bonus to its employees at Calcutta who were previously employed by the Sales Company at the rate of 1½ months' basic salary in respect of its financial year ending 31st December 1956. The amount of bonus was larger than the amount of bonus paid to Jamshedpur workers because of the fact that the said employees had worked for a portion of the year for the Sales Company. Of course, no available surplues was there for payment of any bonus.

This reference was heard and decided by an award made by Shri K. K. Mitra, my predecessor in office, on 7th December 1960. The award was made in favour of the workmen and against that award the Tube Company filed a petition before the Hon'ble High Court under Article 226 of the Constitution. That matter was ultimately decided by Mr. Justice Sinha on September 20, 1961. Before the Hon'ble High Court the jurisdictional point and the question of merit were raised by the company. The Hon'ble Court on the question of calculation of bonus found that the decision was not correct and on that decision alone the award of the Tribunal was set aside and quashed for fresh decision of the reference by the Tribunal according to law. As the calculations were found wrong and the award was set aside, Mr. Justice Sinha did not think it necessary to go into the question of jurisdiction and all such points were left open for determination by the Tribunal. After the return of the records from the Hon'ble High Court, the company filed a petition for further evidence. At the time of hearing of that application the union submitted that it has no objection of further evidence but the relevency, propriety and usefulness of the evidence might be considered at the time of argument. The company adduced further evidence regarding the merits of the case and the hearing has ultimately been concluded.

At the very beginning of the argument Shri Ginwalla for the company raised several points of law challenging the jurisdiction of this Tribunal to decide this case and questioning the maintainability of the reference sent by the Government in the present form. The points are very interesting and require considerable attention.

The first point urged by Shri Ginwalla on behalf of the companies is that disputes between the employer and that employees in respect of seperate and distinct industries, business for enterprises, more than one cannot be referred to an Industrial Tribunal in one reference or case. Or in other words, Shri Ginwalla wanted to say that in one reference disputes between two employers or more and their respective workmen cannot be consolidated into or treated as one industrial dispute. In order to appreciate the argument advanced by Shri Ginwalla it is necessary to ascertain the facts of the present case. In the reference before me, the parties to the dispute are "Messrs. Indian Tube Company (1953) Limited and Tata S. & L. Sales Limited', 41 Chowringhee Road, Calcutta and their workmen represented by India Tube Employees' Union, 25/B Wellington Street, Calcutta". From the reading of the written statement filed by the union, specially, the alligations made in paragraphs 4 and 8 it will be clear that according to the union the Tube Company and the Sales Company are entirely different and seperate business units having distinct legal entity. P.W.1 Shri S. C. Das is the only witness examined on the side of the Union. His evidence shows that originally he entered in the service of the Stewarts and Lloyds Company. He was however transferred to Messrs. Tata S. & L. Limited on 1st January 1956 and again his name was transferred to the Tube Company on 1st June 1956. Similarly all other workmen involved in the present reference were transferred to the Tube Company. The witness has stated that at present no register for the Tata S. & L. Private Limited as maintained. Considering the entire evidence of P.W. 1 with reference to exhibits A, A/1, B and B/1, there can be no doubt that the Tube Company and the Sales Company are two seperate and independent concerns and that the workmen though originally belonged to Messrs. Stewarts & Lloyds of India Private Ltd. were taken over by the Sales Company on 1st January 1956 and again on 1st June 1956 they were taken over by the Tube Company as their employees. On and from 1st January 1956 they ceased to be workmen of Messrs. Stewarts & Lloyds of India Private Limited and they became employees of the Sales Company. Similarly they became employees of the Tube Company exlusively from 1st June 1956. According to the pleading of the companies and the evidence of O.P.W. 1, Ashok Banerjee, the Sales Company had its workmen up to 31st May 1956. The selling agency of the Sales Company with the Indian Tube Company was terminated at about that time. To avoid the discharge of the redundant and surplus workmen of the Sales Company the Tube Company offered to take on their muster roll the workmen of the Sales Company. O.P.W. 1 has stated that the companies were completely separate and distinguishable. The evidence further shows that after the termination of the selling agency some amount of sales continued to be effected by the Sales Company regarding the products of the Tube Company, and these products were purchased from the Tube Company at selling prices in view of the fact that the Tube Company did the Sales Company's work free. In these circumstances no profit accrued to the Sales Company; but the sale profit accrued to the Tube Company and the staff of the Tube Company got corresponding benefit by the arrangement. According to evidence this much has been proved that the Sales Company and the Tube Company are distinct, that for the period from 1st January 1956 to 31st May 1956 the Sales Company had some employees and that from 1st June 1956 these workmen of the Sales Company became employees of the Tube Company having no connection with the Sales Company.

At the time of argument, it was submitted from the side of the union that the workmen whose names were recorded in the muster roll of the Tube Company did clerical work for the Sales Company as the employees of the latter, and consequently they are entitled to claim for bonus from the said company. I do not accept the contention of the union that these workmen were employees of the Sales Company after 1st June 1956. Even if, for the sake of argument, it is assumed that the workmen were employees of the Sales Company simply because they did some clerical work for the said company according to some agreement entered into by and between the Sales Company and the Tube Company, let us now see what the position would be according to law? It has been proved that the Sales Company and the Tube Company are distinct and separate concerns. According to the union the workmen in question are employees of the Tube Company and at the same time they claim to be employees of the Sales Company, a different business concern. Clearly, therefore, the workmen have two disputes regarding bonus—one with the Sales Company and another with the Tube Company.

Now, according to Shri Ginwalla, the question arises, whether two distinct disputes can be referred to the Tribunal in one reference case and whether two disputes between the employers of two different concerns and their respective employees can be consolidated and combind into one industrial dispute. The parties could not cite any case law on this point. This point appeared to be very important and interesting and as such, I have personally searched for case law but I could not find any. I have also spent much time and given my best and long consideration on this point and I believe that the contention raised by Shri Ginwalla has substance. The industrial dispute has been defined in section 2(k) of the Industrial Disputes Act. The word 'any' in the definition refers to nature or number of dispute. The word 'dispute or difference', 'employer', 'employers' and 'workmen mentioned in the said definition clearly indicate that they relate to 'an' or 'a' particular industry and not to different and distinch industries taken together. It would be preposterous to think that a dispute between employers of two different industries or one among workmen of several industries is an industrial dispute. Section 2(k) referred to above does not say that more than one dispute between the employer and the workmen in respect of different industries may constitute an industrial dispute. Industry has been defined in section 2(j) and it includes business, trade, etc., mentioned therein. Of course, several establishments, interdefendent and connected with each other under a common management may constitute an industry but in that case these establishments must not be entirely separate and distinct entities.

In connection with section 2(k) we should consider section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act which says when and how reference of disputes to Boards, Courts or Tribunals is made. On a careful reading of this section including several sub-sections, it will be clear that in cases industrial dispute or disputes in respect of an or a particular industry, the Government may refer the same to Boards, Courts or Tribunals but there is no indication. I have no hesitation to hold that dispute or industries may be sent under the same reference the Boards, Courts or Tribunals under section 10 of the Act. It was argued, of course, from the side of the union that sub-section 5 of section 10 empowers the Government to add any number of industries as parties in a particular reference and, therefore, if more than one industrial disputes relating to different industries are sent to the Tribunal in one particular reference impleading several industries as parties, there can be no objection in law. I am sorry, I cannot accept this contention. I have no hesitation to hold that dispute or disputes as mentioned in section 2(k) in respect of one industry can be referred to the Tribunal under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act. Of course, an industry, according to the Act, may include several inter-dependent and inter-connected and not entirely independent establishments as indicated earlier by me. There may be cases of industrial disputes touching a particular industry, the issue whereof is of such a nature that the decision of the same may affect other industries of the same nature and if the Government is of opinion that other industries may be interested in or affected by the decision the said industrial dispute, it may include in the reference the industries likely to be affected by the decision as parties. In the reference before me, no such case has been made out. The Tube Company is not interested in or affected by the decision regarding the bonus if payable by the Sales Company and vice-versa. The reason is that these two companies are separte and they have their own balance-sheet doing separate business. In this case, therefore, sub-section (5) of section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act does not apply. It should be noted in this connection that at the very outset of the argument, after Shri Ginwalla had finished his argument, the union conceded that as the liability of the workmen with the same service conditions had been taken over by the Tube Company, the Union did not claim any bonus from the Sales Company. However, in the case before me, two distinct industrial disputes in respect of two distinct industries have been sent to this Tribunal in one reference for adjudication against the provision of law and this is wholly unwarranted. Again two disputes have been amalgamated or consolidated into one single industrial dispute which has become an illegality and absurdity. There is no provision of law for such consolidation. In the instant reference, in the very first line it is stated "whereas an industrial dispute exists" and throughout the body of the reference the word "dispute" has been clearly used in singular number. Moreover, the language of the reference shows that the dispute lies between the Tube Company and the Sales Company on the one hand and their workmen on the other. It has not been stated that the disputes are between the two companies and their respective workmen in these circumstances, it is clear that the Government sent only one dispute treating the two companies as one industry and the workmen as belonging to both. This is against the evidence and the law.

Connected with the foregoing point crops up another question. In this case admittedly the financial year of the Tube Company runs from the 1st of July to the 31st of December each year whereas the financial year of the Sales Company is from 1st October to 30th September following. Assuming that the two distinct industrial disputes of different industries have been properly consolidated into one dispute, will it be possible to determine the issue relating to the bonus for the years in question? The answer, I believe, must be in the negative. For the determination of the bonus, the accounts and the balance-sheets of the industry have got to be considered according to its financial year. The issue of bonus in the present reference relates clearly "for the years ended 31st December 1956, 31st December 1957 and 31st December 1958". In this case in the two different industries the financial years were different. The financial year of the Sales Company is from 1st October to 30th September of the following calander year. This Tribunal's jurisdiction has been created by the reference and it cannot go beyond the issue of reference. This Tribunal therefore cannot consider the question of bonus to the Sales Company.

The next pertinant question arises "Can this Tribunal split up one single consolidated dispute of two different industries mentioned jointly in the reference? My view is that inevitable answer would be "No". The Government has sent one single dispute by the reference and this Tribunal will be acting illegally and without jurisdiction if it splits up one dispute into two parts and determine one such part, leaving the decision of the other part as without jurisdiction. The reference of the Government should be taken as a whole and if any particular issue in question is found without jurisdiction, it should be left untouched. The Tribunal has no business or jurisdiction to split up the joint and consolidated parties or issues mentioned and change the character of the reference in question. In the present case, therefore, when this Tribunal has no jurisdiction to determine the bonus regarding the Sales Company having a financial year different from the one mentioned by the Government, the entire reference becomes bad and this Tribunal cannot determine the question of bonus in respect of the Tube Company alone by spliting up the parties and the issue under the reference.

Another point was raised by Shri Ginwalla from the side of the companies. It was contended that at the time when the bonus dispute was raised and the reference was made, the Sales Company had no workmen and the workmen in question had already been absorbed in the service of the Tube Company. In view of this fact there can be no industrial dispute. "Workman" has been defined in section 2(s) of the Industrial Disputes Act and according to this definition the workmen had ceased to be workmen of the Sales Company at the relevant time. There can be no industrial dispute relating to the Sales Company. Again as indicated earlier, if there is no industrial dispute regarding the Sales Company, the Tribunal cannot split up the reference and proceed to decide the question of bonus in respect of the Tube Company, one of the two industries mentioned jointly in the reference. That endeavour would be highly illegal. The language of the reference clearly shows that the two industries taken jointly have been regarded as a single unit involved in one single dispute. This Tribunal cannot hold that the reference has two distinct industrial disputes for adjudication and take out for itself one such dispute and decide it holding that the other dispute is not an industrial dispute and that it has no jurisdiction to adjudicate on it.

Lastly, the corrigendum notification, dated 2nd April 1960, issued by the Government in this case has struck me. The companies challenged the validity of this notification in paragraph 2 of their additional written statement. In the original reference the issue was as follows:

"Additional bonus for the years ended 31st December 1957 and 31st December 1958". The corrigendum has been isued in the following words:

In the issue mentioned in the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 6812-I.R./IR/11L-372/59, dated the 10th December 1959, for the words and figures "Additional bonus for the years ended 31st December 1957 and 31st December 1958" substitute the following:

"Additional bonus for the years ended 31st December 1956, 31st December 1957 and 31st December 1958".

The Government by this corrigendum wanted to add an additional issue for bonus for the year ended 31st December 1956 besides the bonus issue for the years mentioned in the original reference. The question is whether the Government had authority to add an issue in the original reference by a corrigendum notice. This is vertually modification or amendment of the original reference. Two authoritative decisions are to be noted in this connection. The first case is State of Bihar vs. D. N. Ganguly decided by the Supreme Court and reported in A.I.R. 1958, S.C. 1013. The other case is Kesoram Cotton Mills Ltd. vs. Second Labour Court decided by our Calcutta High Court. This case has been reported in A.I.R. 1963, Calcutta 348 The principles adopted in these cases make the position clear. The Industrial Disputes Act does not expressly confer any authority on the Government to cancel or supersede a reference under section 10 of the Act. The Government cannot also modify the original reference by a corrigendum notification for adding a fresh issue or for amending the original issue so as to insert some new issue or new dispute. If the Government wants that additional or fresh issue between the parties be adjudicated upon, it can easily make fresh or further reference to the Tribunal following the prescribed procedure under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act. Both the original and the subsequent reference can be heard and decided anologously by the Tribunal if they are sent to the same forum. The corrigendum notification should be validly resorted to only to correct or rectify an apparent mistake in the original reference. Section 21 of the General Clauses Act cannot be extended to the provision of section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act. In the case, before me, therefore, the cirrigendum notification, dated 2nd April 1960, is invalid and without jurisdiction.

In view of my above findings, I hold that the original reference, dated 10th December 1959, and the corrigendum notification, dated 2nd April 1960, are invalid in law, and that this Tribunal has not jurisdiction to decide the present reference which is void and illegal. As I have found that this Tribunal has no jurisdiction to adjudicate upon the issue of the present reference and that the reference itself is ultra vires, I should not go into the merits of the case regarding available surplus and bonus calculation. Moreover if I come to any finding on merit, that may cause prejudice to either of the parties is future.

In the result, the present reference fails being illegal and without jurisdiction and the workmen shall get no relief in this case.

BEFORE THE SECOND INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri AMBICA PADA BHATTACHARYA, Judge,
Second Industrial Tribunal.

By order No. 6803-I.R./IR/11L-404/64, dated Calcutta, the 29th December 1964, Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, referred an industrial dispute between Messrs. National Optical Co., and their Head Office and their workmen represented by the Optical Workers' Association for adjudication regarding the issues contained in the order of reference.

Issues

1. Grades and scales of pay.
2. Dearness allowance.
3. Gratuity for the period not covered by Provident Fund.
4. Whether the retrenchment of Shri S.C. Ghatak and Shri K. C. Das is justified? To what relief, if any, are they entitled?

This is a reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act. Four issues were referred to the Tribunal. There had been charter of demand and conciliation thereon without any success. Hence this reference.

This dispute is raised by the workmen of Messrs. National Optical Co., working in the Factory for manufacturing of frames at No. 1, Gariahat Road and their Head Office at 31 Mission Row Extension, where also grinding of lens is done. The Gariahat Road factory is originally known as M. K. Industries. It is manufacturing optical lens all along for a considerable number of years. The industry is a prosperous and flourishing one. It is a family business of Mehras. The wages paid to the workmen are very low even below the subsistence level. The workmen became members of the Optical Workers' Association. The Management is not pleased with the activities of the union. The union submitted a charter of demands on 12th August 1963 following which there was a bi-partite agreement on 23rd September 1963. The Union placed another charter of demands for the workmen of 31 Mission Row Extension. K. P. Mehra was the proprietor and recently his sons Shri A. K. Mehra and B. K. Mehra took over the management they disfavoured the union activities of the workmen and retrenched 7 or 8 workmen illegally including Shri K. C. Das and Shri S. C. Ghatak who were clerks in the Head Office. The union claims grades and scales of pay, dearness allowance and gratuity scheme for the workmen. The retrenchment of Sarbasri S. C. Ghatak and K. C. Das are also challenged by the union as unjustified.

The company filed written statement wherein they challenged the statement of the union that the company is a flourishing and prosperous one. It is a small manufacturing concern employing less than 50 workers in the two factories. There is keen competition in the market for manufacturing of optical frames and lens. Due to import restriction the industry is also adversely affected. The sale position of the company shows a steady decline. The company is earning lesser profit every year. The company pleads financial inability to bear the burden of any pay scale dearness allowance or gratuity scheme. The trading position does not justify it. Moreover the other industries in the Calcutta region do not have any scale, scheme of D.A. and gratuity.

On the issue of retrenchment the company stated that Sarbasri Ghatak and Das were found surplus owing to shortage of work in the company. The principle of last come first go was applied in the said retrenchment.

The workmen were tendered retrenchment compensation according to law but they refused to accept it.

Appearances of the parties is as follows:

For the Company: Shri S. B. Chakraborty, Industrial Relation Officer.

For the Union: Shri Hiralal Roy, Advocate.

Decision

Issue Nos. 1 and 2: There are four issues before me. I will take up the issues seriatim. Issue No. 1 is in respect of the union's claim for a regular grades and scales of workers in Optical Glass and Frame Manufacturing Industry. In paragraph 19 of the written statement the claim is embodied as follows:—

Senior clerks—Rs. 125—10—225—15—504

Junior clerks—Rs. 90—8—260

Durwans, Peons, etc.—Rs. 60—3—120

Mistries of various departments—Rs. 70—7—210. This is the pay structure categorywise. There are two important questions involved in introducing a grade and scale among the workmen of this company where there is none. The actual rates of wages are tabled in Ext. C. There are 33 names appear in this list. Difference rates of daily-rated workers and monthly-rated workers are shown. It will appear from P.W. 1 Shamsher Singh, an employee of this company, that the lowest wage paid to a workman in this company was Rs. 2-8-0 per day. Most of the workmen are daily-rated. There are just a few monthly-rated workers. There was no grade and scale in this company. The union has not placed before me any evidence whatsoever to prove that Optical Industry in the Calcutta Region has grade and scale in any of the undertaking. The question of industry-cum-region formula is of paramount consideration in introducing a grade and scale. The union should have produced evidence on the point that similar concerns of this industry in the Calcutta region had grade and scale for their workers, namely, operatives both for manufacturing of frames and for grinding of lens. In the absence of any such evidence I cannot introduce a grade and scale in this company which would put financial burden on this company which will be adversely affected. The selling price of articles have been produced by them. It would load to unhealthy competition in the industry as well as have repercussion upon other companies leading to unrest in the field of labour.

There is another point to be considered whether the company has financial capacity to have the burden of a grade and scale. The Union did not give me any calculation to show what would be the extent of burden upon the company if scales and grades are introduced as prayed for. The company filed an audited balance-sheet for the year ending 31st March 1964. It shows a net profit of Rs. 4,734. A profit of Rs. 4,734 will not satisfy the need of the Union in this respect. Burden of grade and scale would far exceed the sum of Rs. 4,734. Moreover the capital should gave a share of the profits. Recently there had been import restrictions which adversely affected the industry. The company would not be in a position finally to shoulder the burden of a grade and scale as claimed by the union. The claim for grade and scale is therefore nagatived on the above two considerations alone.

Next I turn to Issue No. 2. The company has no separate scheme of D.A. Obviously the wages include dearness allowance according to the company. The claim of dearness allowance as made by the Union is fantastic having regard to the financial position of the company. The Union claims Rs. 50 and Rs. 75 as rates of dearness allowance on ad-hoc basis. This, the industry can hardly pay. It is again the duty of the Union to prove that separate dearness allowance are paid to the workmen of this industry on the basic principle of region-cum-industry. No evidence on that line has been brought before me. It is significant to note that the company had entered into a bi-partite agreement from time to time. It had been paying some increment upon the consolidated wages for several years. The last agreement was with the then proprietor Shri K. P. Mehra and the Union. It was a tri-partite agreement. It is Ext. 4, dated 16th August 1960. The workmen were given increment of 4 annas for one year and 2 annas for the next year. Full time monthly-rated workers were given increment of Rs. 6-8-0 to their consolidated monthly wages for the year and of Rs. 3-4-0 for the next year. It will appear from the chart Ext. C that increment had been given up to 1963. In 1964 and 1965 there was no increment to the workmen. In that context the learned representative of the union claims that some increments should be given to the workmen in the form of D.A. in view of the fact that the living index is going high every day. It is undisputed that the cost of living index had a sharp rise during the last two years and the workmen who had been getting some increments every year according to the bi-partite agreement are adversely affected by the cost of living index. In order to mitigate the condition of the workers, I am inclined to grant one increment of 4 annas to the daily-rated workers and consolidated increment of Rs. 5 per month to the monthly-rated workers. This is not a relief by way of dearness allowance but this is a relief which is granted in answer to issue No. 1, i.e., Unions claim of grade and scale. In this connection I may add that the financial burden of this increment will not be very much on the company to shoulder it. The evidence is that there are 45 workers in all. The financial burden per day would not exceed Rs. 10, i.e., Rs. 300 per month. A total burden would not in any event exceed Rs. 3,600. This is a burden which the company can bear. It will have effect from 1st of September 1965. My answer to issue Nos. 1 and 2 accordingly is that the claim of the Union for grade and scale stands dismissed but all the workers would have an increase in their daily wages of 4 annas per day with effect from 1st September 1965 and the monthly-rated at Rs. 5 with effect from the same date. Claim for separate D.A. is disallowed.

Issue No. 3: It raises a claim for gratuity scheme. The scheme of gratuity is judged on the same principle of region-cum-industry. There is no evidence before me to prove that other optical workers of the Calcutta Region have any scheme of gratuity. Gratuity is a long-term matter like grades and scales. The perspective of the industry must be very sound and the financial condition very secured before any such claim can be entertained. The claim for gratuity for the period not covered by Provident Fund is not justified.

Issue No. 4: It raises the question of retrenchment of two workmen, namely, Ghatak and Das. Those two workmen gave evidence before me. P.W. 2 is Shri S. C. Ghatak and P.W. 3 is Shri K. C. Das. Their services have been retrenched. The retrenchment notices are Exts. 3 and 3(a). Other workmen were also retrenched along with them. They did not raise any dispute. There is no evidence that Sarbasri Ghatak and Das had been singled out for victimisation. The retrenchment cannot be said to be by way of victimisation of the two workmen. The management has no special grudge against them. It is not also a case of unfair labour practice. The question of justification of the retrenchment is however before me and the retrenchment is challenged as mala fide. The retrenchment notice runs thus:

> "The undersigned deeply regrets that he is unable to utilise your services further due to slackness in business. Kindly collect your dues on the 3rd of this month at this office."

Now let us see if the slackness stated in the letter is a fact. Retrenchment has been defined in section 2, clause (00). Retrenchment means the termination by the employer of the service of a workman for any reason whatsoever, otherwise than as a punishment inflicted by way of disciplinary action, but does not include..... If therefore the termination was for slackness in business and not by way of punishment, it is a proper retrenchment. I will now look into the records of the company to see if there is slackness in the business. One of the partners Shri B. K. Mehra gave evidence before me. He is O.P.W. 1. He has proved certain records as well. Exts. A is a compilation of figure from the company's records duly certified by B. Mehra. The comparative sale figure and figure of net profit is shown. There is a steady fall in the sale figure. From 3,15,000 it came down to Rs. 1,72,000, the profits were 18,000 in 1958-59, it came down to Rs. 4,000 and odd in 1963-64. Those figures show a steady decline in business. Ext. A(1) is a comparative chart of salary, wages and expenses. The wages account shows doubling up during the last 7 years. The expense also shows an upward trend. Ext. B will show that the import license shows a steady and sharp decline. The audited balance-sheet for the last financial year of the company shows a profit of Rs. 4,000 and odd. The overall picture accordingly is one of decline. Slackness may be presumed from the proved facts. Moreover Shri Mehra stated in his evidence that he and his brother took over the management and both the brothers are working themselves in the factory. B. Mehra is looking to the technical side, he having gathered technical knowledge in Germany for some years. His brother is looking into the accounts. That is unchallenged testimony. Ghatak was working in the Sales Department while Das was working in the process of grinding of lens. It is the evidence of Shri Mehra that he himself is looking the work which was done by Shri Das, namely, work of checking of lens and that he is also working in place of Ghatak in checking invoices. The necessity of Das and Ghatak in their respective positions came to an end. Having regard to the slackness in the business as proved from the records and having regard to the fact that B. K. Mehra who is a young man trained in Germany is looking after the checking of lens in place of Shri Das and is also looking the invoices which was the work of Ghatak. Both the employees became surplus and their services were no longer required. They were accordingly retrenched. The retrenchment is justified in that sense. It is significant to note that retrenchment compensation had been offered to both the workmen under section 25F of the Industrial Disputes Act. One month's wages had been offered in lieu of notice and the workmen were offered at the time of retrenchment compensation equivalent to 15 days average pay for every completed year of service. This is admitted by Shri Das in his evidence and Shri Ghatak does not deny it.

The learned representative of the union asked me to hold the retrenchment as illegal on the ground that the notice of retrenchment was not issued in terms of rule 77 of the rules framed under the Industrial Disputes Act and further that the notice was in form 'P' as prescribed in rule 77. It must be conceded that the notice was not in form 'P' and there is no evidence that the copy of the notice had been sent to the Labour Commissioner. Rule 77 enjoins that when an employer retrenches any workman with minimum effect by paying him wages in lieu of notice (as in this case) such employer shall immediately after such retrenchment, give notice thereto to the Labour Commissioner and to the Conciliation Officer concerned in form 'P'. It seems that this mandatory provision was not complied with. Now the question is whether for this defect I can hold that the retrenchment was not justified. In this connection I may point out that rule 79 lays down the penalty for any breach of these Rules. Breach is punishment with fine not exceeding Rs. 50. These are no doubt mandatory provision but if the employer violated the same they are liable for breaching and punishable with fine but that would not be a ground for holding that the retrenchment itself was not justified. It is a matter of form and does not touch the merits of retrenchment this way or that. I hold in the case that the retrenchment of Shri Ghatak and Shri K. C. Das is justified. They are not entitled to any relief in this case.

This is my award. The operative portion of the award is to be implemented within 30 days of its publication in the "Calcutta Gazette".

AWARD

The Government of West Bengal, by order No. 1485-I.R./IR/8L-12/65, dated 23rd April 1965, had referred the following Industrial Dispute between Messrs. Joyma Durga Hosiery, and their workmen to this Tribunal for adjudication.

Issue

Whether termination of service of Shri Chandrika Prosad Shaw is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

After the service of notice the employer at first filed the written statement on 15th May 1965 and thereafter on 13th September 1965 had filed an additional written statement. In reply to the first written statement filed by the employer the Union had put in the written statement on 6th July 1965. As the matter has been settled it is not necessary to state in great detail the allegations in these written statements. The substantial allegation in the first written statement of the employer is that the workmen concerned had worked temporarily from time to time on a monthly salary of Rs. 70 and that as he was attacked with Beriberi, he was unable to work and his service was dispensed with on 13th Bhadra, 1371 B.S. In the additional written statement it has been alleged, inter alia, that the dispute is not an Industrial dispute inasmuch as the workers do not own any allegiance to the Hosiery Workingmen's Union, and that before the Labour Officer Shri S. Ghosh, the employer explained the circumstances under which the service of Shri Shaw was dispensed with. In the written statement filed on behalf of the workmen it has been alleged inter alia, that the employer employs about 12 workmen, that Shri Shaw was appointed in the month of May 1963 and that his service was verbally terminated on 19th September 1964 without showing any reason or serving any notice. It is further alleged that a representation was made by the Joint Secretary of the Union on 23rd September 1964, claiming for reinstatement of Shri Shaw, that a copy was sent to the Labour Commissioner, West Bengal and that the conciliation proceeding held on 10th November 1964, 16th November 1964, 27th November 1964 and 2nd January 1965 proved abortive due to the adament and uncompromising attitude of the employer. The Union prayed for reinstatement of Shri Shaw with all back wages.

The case was taken up for hearing on 25th September 1965 and the evidence of P. W. I Shri Hari Pada Kundu who is the employer was recorded and certain documents had been marked as exhibits on both sides. Today the parties had filed a joint petition of compromise. It would appear that the management had agreed to reinstate Shri Shaw with effect from 1st Kartick 1372 B. S., corresponding to 18th October 1965. It further appears that the management had agreed to give one month's wages to Shri Shaw. The receipt showing payment of Rs. 70 was shown to me by the learned Advocates. I consider the terms of settlement to be bona fide, fair and legal and am of opinion that the terms should be given effect to. I therefore pass a "no dispute" award making the petition of settlement and annexure hereto.

This is my award.

AWARD

This is an application under section 33A, Industrial Disputes Act, by Shri Gama Chowdhury complaining of alleged illegal and wrongful termination of his service by the Company opposite party by way of punishment on 16th July 1965 during the pendency of the adjudication proceedings of another dispute between the Company and its workmen, referred to this Tribunal by G.O. No. 3537-I.R., dated 6th August 1962, and in contravention of the relevant provisions of section 33, Industrial Disputes Act. He has claimed, inter alia, reinstatement to service with back wages.

Notice of the application was issued to the Company O.P. fixing 23rd September 1965 for appearance and filing its written statement. The notice was duly served and the Company appeared on that date and filed its written statement. On the same date, the applicant workman filed a petition praying for permitting him to withdraw his application for the reasons stated in the petition. On that date too, he also filed an authority in favour of Shri N. Mukherji, Advocate. The Company's representative was also present on that date. I heard the workman himself, who was personally present and his Advocate and also the Company's representative.

I am satisfied after hearing the workman and his Advocate that his petition for withdrawing the application under section 33A, Industrial Disputes Act, is bona fide. As the applicant himself wants to withdraw his application, his prayer should be allowed and the case should be disposed of accordingly.

In the result, I allow the applicant to withdraw his application under section 33A, Industrial Disputes Act and dispose of the case as withdrawn.

This is my award.
